

AUDITOR BLOOMER SUEB BY HIS WIFE.

Mrs. Bloomer Seeks Alimony and Files Startling Allegations With Court.

A decided sensation was created today, says the Norwalk Daily Reflector of Tuesday, on the streets when it became known that County Auditor Charles D. Bloomer has been made defendant in a suit filed in common pleas court by his wife, Ida E. Bloomer, asking for alimony for the sustenance of herself and children, and setting forth startling allegations of alleged cruelty and intemperance on the part of her husband. Her attorney is P. D. Frickham. Divorce is not asked for.

Mr. Bloomer has been county auditor for two terms, was a candidate for a third term at the August election, being beaten by Wallace H. Griffin, the nominee at today's election.

In her petition, Mrs. Bloomer says she married the defendant in M. in 1889, and that there are three children, Gladys, Reuben and Winnie, all of whom are of age.

For the past ten years, Mrs. Bloomer says, her husband has been consistently cruel and brutal in his treatment of her, with the result that her health has failed, and she must now either be given relief or collapse.

Mr. Bloomer has absolutely refused on several occasions to provide for the necessities of life for his family, Mrs. Bloomer swears, and he has never been a generous husband. A year ago, she states, he refused to buy a stove for cooking purposes, and the purchase was eventually made by his daughter, Gladys, who used her own money. He refused on another occasion to buy necessary rugs for the dining room and parlors, and his daughter was again obliged to purchase these articles.

He refused, Mrs. Bloomer states, to install a bath room in their home, although it was absolutely necessary, until the children insisted upon it so firmly that he was compelled to yield.

The complainant says he has never given her a just allowance for clothing and has purchased practically none of her wearing apparel for the past three years. At one time, Mrs. Bloomer says, he allowed her $2 a week for her clothes, but that was several years ago.

On one occasion when a Mrs. Brown was doing some work at the house, Mrs. Bloomer says her husband refused to pay the woman and ordered his wife to get out and earn the money for the work. He has repeatedly informed her, she says, that if he will support her no longer, and in one instance the complainant says, he threatened to "fix her and fix her for good."

Several years ago and on one occasion not so long since, she says, he had choked her. Mrs. Bloomer states and she reiterates that he has threatened her with physical injury on several occasions.

Mrs. Bloomer alleges that her husband owns a building lot in the city valued at $5,000, and has a large amount of money invested in real estate bonds and other property, the extent of which she is not aware. She claims he is financially able to support her comfortably, at the rate of salary of $2,695 a year as county auditor, and has other sources of income which would bring the total to at least $3,000 yearly.

Married in Plymouth Forty Years Ago.

An echo of a Plymouth wedding of many years ago occurred Monday evening, Oct. 30, 1916, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Brinkhoff, at Riverside, Calif., when they celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary.

The decorations were roses, chrysanthemums and carnations. On the bride's cake was the legend "1876-1916."

Their marriage took place in Plymouth, Oct. 30, 1876, at the residence of J. M. Beelman on the occasion of the tenth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Beelman, with an attendance of fifty people, and a very joyful event, which will be recalled by all the Plymouth people who were present. The only person now living in California, besides the bride and groom, is Mrs. Bradley B. Taylor, now over 85 years old, hale and hearty, and living with her daughter, Mrs. S. L. Loney, at Santa Monica, Calif. Mrs. Taylor has a copy of the Advertiser of that week which contains a column description of the double wedding at the Beelman home.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Stough, then pastor of the Lutheran church at Plymouth. The bride and groom were born and raised in Plymouth, and their friends hereabouts hope they may be spared to celebrate many more wedding anniversaries.

Messrs. J. M. and J. Frank Beelman were then publishers of the Advertiser.

Live Stock Production and the Stock Show.

If public interest in the International Live Stock Exposition was ever justified, this is the moment. Not only is commercial live stock production profitable on an unprecedented degree, but the task of rehabilitating the industry must be vigorously prosecuted if the nation is to be assured of an adequate supply of meat.

Improvement of live stock is the need of the hour. As cost of production increases, breeders and feeders cannot achieve maximum results with the inferior and mediocre grades of cattle available today. A large percentage of the stuff now reaching market.

It is an accepted axiom that the profit is in the skin. It corresponds with the motto of Transportation Specialists that the money is in the straps, meaning passengers who are not furnished seats.

Profit in handling scrub line stock is questionable and possible only during periods of abnormally high prices. If cattle raising is to be placed on a permanently staple basis, the present system must be abandoned.

The management of the International Live Stock Exposition is exploiting an idea that is slowly gaining ground. Education is a proverbially safe process and progress is attained only by persistent endeavor.

To insure maximum profits at minimum cost in the sphere of meat production is the mission of the International Live Stock Exposition. That mission is primarily designed to benefit the producer, incidentally it will work to the advantage of the carrier, the manufacturer and consumer, consequently its success is desirable from many angles.

But a fundamental standpoint the International Live Stock Exposition, which will this year be held from December 2 to 9, stands in the front rank of the world's educational institutions and no farmer or stockman can afford to stay away.

Watch for Bands on Wild Ducks.

If you kill or capture a wild duck bearing an aluminum band around one leg, having a number or one side and on the other side a statement requesting that the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. be notified, you are requested to send this band at once to the Bureau of Biological Survey, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. This band, if accompanied by a statement as to date, place, and circumstances under which the bird was taken, will be attached to a considerable number of wild ducks of several species which have been cured of the duck sickness prevalent around Great Salt Lake, and there released. The department is particularly anxious to secure reports from these birds to determine their comparative mortality, and the number of wild ducks of several species which have been cured of the duck sickness prevalent around Great Salt Lake, and there released.

The largest type of mortar ever made—and the least destructive one, for it has never been fired—is the "Zari Puschka" at Moscow. It is 1148 centimeters caliber and weighs 33,000 kilograms. It was cast in bronze by Andreas Tschachoff in 1856.

Twilight is considered to last until the sun is 18 degrees below the horizon and to begin when the sun reaches a similar point in the morning, or 18 degrees before sunrise. When the line on which this position is measured is shortest, then twilight will be the shortest, and vice versa. This causes the shortest twilight to occur in the winter months in northern latitudes and longest in summer. In other words, the difference in the duration of summer and winter twilight is due to the relative positions of the earth and the sun.

OBERLIN BUSINESS COLLEGE

Having Greatest Prosperity in Its History.

The Business College at Oberlin is in the midst of the most prosperous year in its history. The attendance of full course students is larger than ever before, while the demand for its graduates is so great that only a small part of the class can be filled. The second Fall Term began Nov. 1, with new students from all parts of the state. Five young men left Oberlin last week to accept positions with the Goodyear Co., at Akron, while a number of others went to Cleveland, Lorain and Ashland. State recognition gives this school a standing which is of great value to its graduates.

SOME OLD MONSTER GUNS.

A Curiously Constructed Mortar Was "Mad Meg of Ghent."

The ancestors of the monster gun of today were performing their deadly work at least five centuries ago, says Die Welt der Technik. The barrels of the early guns were made of cast iron, wrapped with forged iron rings to strengthen them. Later the guns were cast in bronze.

One of the first mortars that astonished the world was "Mad Meg" of Ghent, which was made in 1382. The gun is still preserved in Ghent. It was made in two parts, which screw together. The front part, which is really the barrel, is composed of thirty-two forged iron strips, held together by forty-one rings, like an ordinary looped barrel. It is screwed to the back part, which contains the chamber for the powder. That has twenty rings round it. The caliber of the gun is 79.5 centimeters, which is almost double that of the greatest howitzer of today, the 42 centimeter. The chamber held sixty kilograms of powder and shot about 310 kilograms of stone, pieces of iron and glass. It is thought that "Mad Meg" had her christening in the siege of Oudenarde.

Another famous gun was mounted at Edinburgh castle. That was not very successful. In the first place it was so heavy that its weight nearly wrecked the bridge that led over the castle moat, and one of the first discharges from the gun lodged a great piece of shot on the sides of the barrel, and it took forty-eight hours to extract it. When the gun finally succeeded in discharging the gun shot went so high over the enemy's heads that it did no damage. Eventually it was used for firing salutes until one day the recoil sank it so deep into the earth that it was put out of commission. The old gun was finally melted up.

Fifty years later a Greek cannon founder who worked for Sultan Mohammed II, made a giant gun which that performed good service in the siege of Byzantium in 1453. Urtlan, who had his foundry at Adrianople, took three months to make the gun. It required sixty weeks to finish to draw the gun to Byzantium. The caliber was 90 centimeters. The gun ended its existence by bursting and killing its maker.

Then came the gun of Mohammed II, which was cast in Germany by Mimir Alir and later given as a present to England by Sultan Abdul-Aziz and preserved in Woolwich. It was a 79.5 caliber gun and weighed 7,500 kilograms (eight tons).

The largest type of mortar ever made—and the least destructive one, for it has never been fired—is the "Zari Puschka" at Moscow. It is 1148 centimeters caliber and weighs 33,000 kilograms. It was cast in bronze by Andreas Tschachoff in 1856.

Butchering Tools.

Fast and economy in butchering on the farm depends a good deal upon the tools used. The most important tool of all is a five or six inch skinning knife. The curve blade cuts more easily than the ordinary butcher knife and is especially handy when killing cattle. A ten inch steak knife and a narrow six inch boring knife will be found very convenient though not as necessary as the skinning knife. A bell-shaped hog skinner costs about twenty cents and will prove invaluable in cleaning the hog. A twenty-two inch saw is plenty long enough and when used with an eight or nine inch clever it will split even a beef carcass very easily. Two iron kettles with a capacity of 20 gallons each, a combination lard press and sausage stuffer, meat grinder and sharpening steel will also be needed. An old singletree may be used for a hog gambrel and a four-foot oak beam for a beef tree. These with a block and tackle, barrel and an ax will make a very cheap and efficient set of butchering tools.

West Pointers May Go. Class of 1917 May Be Graduated at Once to Supply Officers. Embarrassed by a shortage of regular army officers at this time, members of the general staff considered the possibility of promoting graduates of West Point who ordinarily would graduate in June, 1917. In the event of war some officials hold Secretary Baker, such a step would be necessary.

Precedent for such action occurred during the Spanish American war, when first class men at the Military Academy were graduated in February instead of June, 1898, and the class that would have graduated in 1890 was graduated in June, 1898.

THE RELIABLE SURE MAN

THE STILL BALANCE
Closest Presidential Race in 32 Years Depends on Results in California and New Mexico

FIVE STATES ARE DOUBTFUL

Contents Possible in Several States Because of Narrow Pluralities; Within Claims Election; California Center of Interest.

At 3 o'clock Thursday morning the drift in the neck-and-neck race for the presidency was encouraging Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate.

Hughes not only appeared to be cutting down the Wilson advantage in western states such as California and Minnesota, necessary to carry control of the electoral college for either candidate, but also appeared to be threatening the Wilson lead in one or two other states which up to midnight appeared certainly in the Wilson column.

On the basis of returns up to 2 a. m., Hughes appeared certain of 247 electoral votes and Wilson 251. In the Wilson list, however, were two or three states in which the margin of advantage was exceedingly slight. With the incomplete returns showing very small but apparently consistent gains for Hughes, California, Minnesota, North Dakota and New Mexico, with a total of 33 electoral votes, remained in the doubtful column.

New York, Nov. 9.—At midnight Wednesday the closest presidential election in 32 years appeared to have been won by the result in the states of California and New Mexico.

Wilson, leading in both these states, had secured the necessary 270 votes to win, in the event of his carrying them with his combined total of 16. He had been gaining steadily in California from 1 o'clock in the morning, when he took the lead over Hughes in the returns. On the face of the scattering returns received from New Mexico Mr. Wilson appeared to have far the better chance in that state.

In addition to California and New Mexico, Minnesota with 13 votes, New Hampshire with four and West Virginia, with eight still remained in the doubtful column.

Furthermore, it was announced by Hugh H. Cummings, Democratic candidate for United States senator in Connecticut, that he intended to file a contest against the casting of the electoral votes for Hughes on the ground of irregularities.

Will Require Official Count.—In New Hampshire the unofficial count gave Hughes a plurality of 153. This will be contested and the official count will be required to decide who has won the state.

The outstanding feature of the remarkable contest was that, though Wilson had decidedly the better of it on the face of the returns, there was still absolutely no justification for a definite forecast of victory for either candidate. Claims of the election by narrow pluralities were put forth by both.

President Wilson, through his secretary, claimed his election on the strength of his apparent lead in California and Minnesota. Secretaries multiply said: "We are now certain of the president's election by a safe majority in the electoral college. We are certain of California and Minnesota. Besides these, North Dakota, Kansas, New Mexico, New Hampshire and West Virginia are ours. The Republican vote is not strong in any of the west of the Mississippi river except Iowa, which they carried by a greatly reduced plurality."

The president and the official family have spent 24 sleepless hours in seeking some conclusive proof that Mr. Wilson has safely won. The proof, while it appeared to satisfy the demands of Shadow Lawn, was admittedly not as complete as they could have wished.

All leaders and candidates were irated almost beyond endurance when it was announced over the wire that in Los Angeles, whose vote was still in doubt, the result in the pivotal state of California, the counters had quit work and would not resume their tremendously important task till morning.

Sensor Chilton greatly cheered the presidential party by a "pledge that the results, which were in doubt, is sure to swing for Wilson.

At 4 o'clock Wilson had enough votes to carry his list for the acquisition of California and New Mexico, and New Hampshire sufficient to eliminate as a possibility, going to Hughes by 7,000, New Hampshire, by reason of a close result, went into the doubtful column, where it must remain till the official count.

This left California and New Mexico divided and in both states Wilson had a decided lead.

In both the count was exasperatingly slow. California, by reason of many constitutional amendments, counted almost by returns from remote mountain counties were slow to come in.

New Mexico, a mountain and desert state, naturally gave slow returns, and at midnight neither could be counted for sure by either side.

Latest Claims of Chairman.—Chairman of the Republican national committee, claiming 550 electoral votes for Hughes. In giving out the figures he said: "The returns from the states which have been counted are coming slowly. Delay appears to be caused by the time required to get in reports from rural counties."

The latest returns clearly indicate that Minnesota, North Dakota, New Mexico, Oregon and probably California have gone for Mr. Hughes. These additions to the states already certain give him 250 electoral votes.

"Even if all or some of the electoral votes of the states which are in doubt at midnight neither could be counted for sure by either side."

"Every precaution must be taken to secure an honest count of the ballots in every county state. Anybody who intimates that Charles Evans Hughes will permit any man or group of men to change or steal the returns for him is contemptible scoundrel and know it."

"I say further, with the whole sense of responsibility to the American people that any man or group of men who attempt to steal the presidency from Mr. Hughes will do so at their peril. We will not stand for any such thing, and we are going to have."

Chairman McCormick of the Democratic national committee, issued the following statement at 1:30 Thursday morning from Democratic national headquarters: "President Wilson is leading in every state which has been counted."

The president and his managers will try to secure the election through fraud is worthy of the best traditions of the Republican party.

"The public has had a chance to judge the conduct of the campaigns of the two candidates, and I am perfectly willing to let the people decide which side will resort to desperate methods."

REPUBLICANS KILLED BY EXPLOSION OF BOMB

Accident Occurred While Men Were in Air; Machine Broken in Two; Fall Into River.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Following a spectacular experiment with a new type aeroplane bomb at Indian Head, Md., Naval Lieutenants Clarence K. Brown and Luther Welsh were instantly killed.

The plane, flying at an altitude of 1,000 feet, the bomb exploded instantly beneath the aeroplane, breaking it in two. Brown, pilot of the machine, and Welsh, who had just buried the bomb, fell together with parts of the aeroplane into the Potomac river.

Experiments with the new aeroplane bomb were being conducted under the supervision of Lieut. Wilkinson and other experts from the bureau of ordnance. The explosive with which the bomb was charged was said to be one of the most powerful ever experimented with, but the secret of its composition is guarded by the navy department.

The official account of the accident was given out by the navy department as follows: "Lieut. Luther Welsh and Lieut. C. K. Brown were killed this afternoon by the premature explosion of an aeroplane bomb during experimental work in testing bombs for use against vessels."

The bomb detonated immediately beneath the aeroplane. It was being launched by Lieut. Welsh and apparently struck some part of the aeroplane. It was said to detonate, and the aeroplane broke into two and fell into the river. Hardly any trace of aeroplane or passengers has been located yet. A portion of a human stomach was recovered from the river, but that is all.

Lieut. Wilkinson later informed the department that a search party had proceeded at once to the scene of the accident and dragged the river. Nothing additional was recovered, however, except a portion of one seat of the aeroplane and a part of the tail.

MAN AND WIFE DEAD

BODIES FOUND IN HOME; CORONER BELIEVES THEM VICTIMS OF MURDERER.

Springfield, O., Nov. 9.—Following the finding of the dead bodies of Antonio Silvestri and his wife at their home here, coroner Austin advanced the theory of double murder. Police first announced that the man had murdered wife and committed suicide.

After examining the wound in the man's head, coroner Austin said some one else must have shot both the wife and himself. No trace for the crime has been advanced.

FLOOR PLANT BURNS

Cleveland, Nov. 9.—Fire caused a loss of $80,000 when the Big Four Milling Co.'s elevator was destroyed and many tons of grain burned.

The elevator, a wooden structure 100 feet high, was five stories high. The flames confined to the burning interior, shot 100 feet into the air.

A. B. Stanley, one of the owners of the Big Four Co.'s plant, said the structure and stock contained therein was worth $80,000. He said it was amply protected by insurance on building and contents.

The Ladies Aid Society met with Mrs. Chas. Hutchinson on last Friday afternoon. Mrs. McClintchey and Mrs. Helmut assisted in the luncheon. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent by the goodly number present. Mr. Einsel very kindly took one auto load, the remaining ladies going on the electric. The young ladies of the Westminster Guild spent a very profitable mission study hour Tuesday eve, Nov. 7, on the American continent. Miss Helen Benedict directed the questions. Each lady responded with the name of an Indian tribe at roll call. A very dainty lunch was served by the Misses Major, Whittier and Thompson.

The W. F. S. C. E. held a very successful meeting at the church parlors Wednesday evening. The games were numerous and the refreshments substantial. Miss Lucile Helmut and Mr. Floyd Major acted on the committee to make the evening a success.

The Standard Bearers held their first meeting for the winter at the parsonage on Wednesday evening.

There is still a chance to join the Teacher Training class which meets every Thursday evening at 7.30.

The Sunday School will soon be singing in the new song books.

The attendance at our Sunday services considered from the standpoint of the number of members is fairly good; considered from the standpoint of the population of our town it is not so good. The regular services will be held on Monday.

Unless you attend elsewhere you are invited.

Darn Quoter.

The lonser I linger the more I discern that this world of ours is a darn queer concern. It's a crime to pick pockets, but it's perfectly right to pick a man's pockets on Saturday night for the laws are constructed wherever I've been, that the work-ers are made for the raffers and the skin. If you try to be honest you don't stand a chance; you are sure to be known by the patch on your pants. If you steal a few millions you're a person of note; if you steal a ham bone the police get your goat. If you run around naked you're sent to the pen; if you swipe someone's clothing you go there again. If you murder in war then your valor is sung; if you privately murder then you're doomed to be hung. If a La-urel sells her virtues she's branded as vile, but the rooster who bought it is met with a smile. If a man tells the truth then the people sneer; if he tells them a myth, why they say he's inspired. It's a funny old world wherever you turn; it's a devilish twist and a darn queer concern. It's badly balled up and all out of tune, and must be a sight to the mar in the moon. -Henry M. Tichenor in the Hip Saw.

Pine-Tar Relieves a Cold.

Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey contains all the soothing elements of the pine forest. It heals the irritated membrane, and by its antiseptic properties loosens the phlegm, you breathe easier, and what promised to be a severe cold has been broken up. For that stuffed-up feeling, tight chest, or sore throat, take a dose of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey and prevent a wearing, hacking cough dragging through the winter. At your drug-gist, 25c.

In the rain all day is generally followed by painful twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Sloan's Liniment will give you quick relief and prevent the twinges from becoming torture. It quickly penetrates through rubbing and soothes the sore and aching joints. For sore, stiff, exhausted muscles that ache and throb from overwork, Sloan's Liniment affords quick relief. Bruises, sprains, strains and other minor injuries to children are quickly soothed by Sloan's Liniment. Get bottle today at your Druggist's, 25c.

Big Increase in Oats Crop.

An increase of 73,000 bushels of oats, valued at $29,229 was obtained this year due to the treatment of oats for rust in seven counties where the agricultural agents conducted demonstrations. The fields treated yielded 26.544 acres. Estimating the cost of treatment at approximately 5 cents an acre, or at $322, the total net gain is $27,906. In addition to these results, the county agents have appeared with a number of farmers who received increased yields but from whom no data could be obtained.

Announcing

A Money Saving Service to All Auto Owners.

THERE has opened up in Plymouth a shop where any kind of a pneumatic tire, in almost any condition can be put back in running order—good for more miles of hard road service.
And if the tire isn't worth repairing, we tell you so—if it is and we fix it—that repairs it.

Unconditionally Guaranteed

The plant which we have installed is the best make that money can buy—it is designed to repair successfully any "fixable" injury on any kind of tire—from 23-in. motorcycle to 54-in. auto tires. And our workmen have learned the tire repair business in the local shops of the manufacturers. The best equipment that we can get and the best practical training to be had, put us in a position to produce the best tire work that can be done.
Remember! We guarantee every nickel's worth of work we do.
