Obituary

Miss Minnie May Cheeman was born September 4th, 1831, and died Sunday morning, September 24, 1916, at the age of thirty-five years and twenty days. Born in Crawford county the whole life was spent in the two counties. Crawford and Huron. She graduated from the Plymouth High School in the class of 1901, and since 1902 has been a successful school teacher, having spent many summers in diligent study for better preparation. Her success as a teacher was due to her thoroughness and faithfulness and kindly interest in every pupil.

In 1890 under the leadership of the Rev. Milo G. Kessler, she was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal church, of which church she has since been a faithful member. She was a faithful and devoted daughter, a loving and helpful sister, and a loyal and conscientious friend. Heaven is richer and earth is poorer because of her going. She has gone to join mother and sister in the glory world, while a father and brothers and two sisters await the summons here.

The funeral was conducted at the home two miles west of Plymouth by the Rev. Chas. F. Kirtland, Friday afternoon and the burial was in Greenlawn cemetery.

GARDEN NOTES FOR OCTOBER.

Hotbeds may be started in week to grow a holiday crop of lettuce. The root crops such as beets and celeriac may be harvested and piled up in small heaps upon high ground and covered with a slight protection of straw or other coarse litter and the weeds should be done when the roots are free from surface moisture in order to prevent decay in storage.

There is still time to sow rye upon all available space which is not desired for early spring crops. Not much growth will be made this fall, but it will be in good shape for early spring growth and can be plowed under with good results for the main season crops.

It is not yet too late to make sowings of button radishes in cold frames and made to develop good cuttings before severe winter weather. By giving protection with warm manure around the frames and covering over the sash during the severe freezing weather this crop may be produced through the winter.

Celery which is to be field blanched by means of soil should now be pretty well earthed up preparatory to the final covering in case of severe freezing weather. However, it will be better to trench that portion of the crop not desired for immediate use. But do not store the crop until late this month or early in November unless severe freezing weather threatens.

"WHERE ARE MY CHILDREN?"

"Where are My Children?" the greatest of all photo plays, with a brilliant cast headed by Cleo Laine, is one of the exciting attractions at the Masonic Temple Theatre, Chicago Junction, on Tuesday, Oct. 3rd. This superb silent production has created a sensation in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Dayton, Toledo, and other cities in which it has been shown. This unusual play is the first of the subject of "Birth Control" in which it shows the irony of the situation; it is said that while the story is told in a daring and amusing way at no time becomes offensive in its namerization. The producers, before placing this document of life before the public, secured the most real facts. The uncountable crimes of premeditated murder of the unborn should and must be stopped.

The realism of the picture creates an everlasting impression, so much so that it becomes the moral duty of every man and woman, married or single, to see this forced drama.

It is announced that all children under the age of sixteen will not be admitted.

"WHERE ARE MY CHILDREN?"

One of the season's biggest attractions "Where Are My Children?" the peer of all screen dramas is booked at the Masonic Temple Theatre for an early presentation. This silent voice play has created a furor wherever it has been presented; it deals with a subject that gives one food for thought, and the story is told in a straight from the shoulder manner without offense.

Judge Badroe of Dayton, Ohio, after seeing the first of the extraordinary play stated, "That it was important for every mother and daughter to see 'Where Are My Children?' as it is so good to church, and that its presentation throughout the world would do more good than a whole regiment of Billy Sunday's."

The play is said to be founded on bitter facts and truths, and for fear that it may be misconstrued by those not old enough to understand, all children under 16 years of age will not be admitted.

A cat can turn completely over and land on its paws in a fall of fifteen inches.

PROPERTY OWNERS!

It would be impossible to keep Plymouth from becoming one of the liveliest places in Ohio if every reader would give the local dealer the preference, all the time.

Business property owner: If one half of your local dealer's trade goes to big cities of other states, then your store building is worth nothing. In sending away you destroy the value of your own property, often paying more for inferior goods. Right advertising is good news and truth, placed in good newspapers. Here is the list of live business firms who prosper by selling the best, for less, all the time. Give these firms your trade and prosper with them.

Name of State Must Be Spelled

Out on Letters.

A new ruling of the postoffice department, notice of which will probably be received soon at the local postoffice, makes it necessary for the sender of a piece of mail to be more careful in writing the address.

In the future all states must be spelled out instead of abbreviated.

When that is done there will be no danger of sending Colorado mail to California or vice versa on account of "Col." and "Cal." This order has been issued with the view of cutting down the amount of mail that has landed in the dead letter office. Thousands of letters are misent every year because the sender is careless in addressing the envelope.

MUST BELIEVE IT.

Well-Known Plymouth People

Tell It So Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Plymouth, the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony.

Every sufferer of kidney backache, every man, woman or child with kidney trouble will do well to read the following:

H. C. Lofland, retired farmer, Sandusky St., Plymouth, says: "I had a severe attack of lumbago and for several days could hardly get around. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured the attack. I have used Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally since, when my back has been lame and my kidneys haven't been acting regularly. I have always had prompt relief."

Price 50c., at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Lofland had. Foster-McBurr Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Circle adjourned to meet with Mrs. McClintock, Monday evening, Oct. 9th, after which a social hour was spent and dainty refreshments were served.

Surely all will welcome the reopening of our church next Sunday with all activities of every department again on the move and with a swiftness that has never before after the long rest.

Come early to Sunday School at 9:30 and stay to preaching service. Special music by the choir.

C. E. service at 6 o'clock, followed by the evening preaching service.

Prayer meeting next Thursday evening.

Rally Day Oct. 9. Keep this in mind. Everyone come, all are welcome.

Methodist Notes.

Good congregations were present morning and evening of the first Sunday of the new Conference year.

A large crowd attended the reception to the pastor and wife on Tuesday evening. The program consisted of words of greeting from Mr. Geo. Schriener, Mrs. Stotts, Miss L'Amoureux, Mrs. Boardman and Miss Howard, each representing a different organization in the church with the choir, Miss Stotts and Miss Howard, and readings by Leenona McKee and Mrs. S. Brokaw. Dainty refreshments were served and a most delightful evening enjoyed.

The regular services will be held next Sunday. On Sunday, Oct. 9, the Communion services will be held in the morning and the District Superintendent will preach in the evening.

This will be in connection with the first quarterly conference which will be held Monday morning at nine o'clock, Oct. 9.

Rye As A Cover Crop.

Rye is regarded as one of the best cover crops for Ohio, because it can withstand the winter better than any other crop used for this purpose.

Land to be devoted to this crop should be seeded now.

Cover crops keep soil from washing and prevent plant food from leaching away. They take up the plant food and store it in a form that succeeding crops can use quickly. A large amount of humus is added whenever a cover crop is plowed under.

Rye may be seeded as late as October 10, in northern Ohio or even a week later in the southern part of the State. At the Ohio Experiment Station it is seeded like wheat at the rate of two bushels to the acre. It is plowed under in the spring for corn or soybeans.

Charged With Extortion at New York. Hood him with the extortion. That He Was Prisoner of the Blackmailers.

New York City.—The first member of the octopus "blackmail syndicate" to receive the penalty of the law, William Butler, was sentenced by Judge Martin P. Stanton to 18 months in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

Conviction Speedy.

The conviction of Butler in such summary manner is taken by the authorities as a precedent for the construction of the gang. In their frequent clashes with the law, he has been able to defy the authorities.

Butler was brought to New York under two indictments. One charged him with conspiracy to fraudulently represent a government officer. The other charged with the extortion of $555 from Mrs. Regina S. Kilpper of Philadelphia.

Chicago, Ill.—Secret service men have made two more arrests in their Chicago roundup of the blackmail "syndicate" and charged against the prisoners the extortion of $15,000 from a wealthy New York couple.

Peed as Federal Officers.

On top of this charge, the department of justice claims that the extortionists, posing as federal officers, brought their wealthy victim and a woman with whom he was found in a New York hotel, to Chicago and here kept them prisoners for more than a week in a Loop hotel.

The men arrested are Homer T. French, alias "Jack" French, and James Christian, alias "Jimmie" Cross.

French, who admitted he was unable to secure the required $10,000 bonds, was taken to the county jail and is still there.

The latest and most sensational of all the government's charges against the "syndicate" concerns the alleged blackmailing of a prominent New York business man and a young matron residing also in New York.

HOLD MAN AND WIFE ON MURDER CHARGE

Detectives Find Body of Boarder in Grave in Back Yard; Woman Admits Killing.

Akron, O.—With the arrest here of Mike and Annie Zilichman on charges of first degree murder, police began the investigation of one of the most gruesome murders that has occurred here in years.

Annie Zilichman, her husband, Mike, are charged with killing John Mraz, 40, a boarder at their home, last Saturday and burying his body in the back yard of their residence.

Mraz's body was unearthed by Detectives Eckerman and McDonnell. It was clad in underclothing.

The first clue to the affair was brought to police when several friends of Mraz came to headquarters and said Mraz had been missing several days and they suspected foul play.

McDonnell and Eckerman went to the boarding house on the case. Questions put to the Zilichman woman availed nothing.

The light of a place where the ground was dug up attracted their attention. In a few minutes one of the men was uncovered. When the whole body was disinterred the head was found severely bruised and cuts were on other parts of the body.

Confronted with this evidence, police say, the Zilichman woman told a story of having been insulted by Mraz Saturday evening. She said she first kicked him and then seized a stick of wood and beat him to death over the head. Mike Zilichman told the same story, police say.

They are said to have described to Detectives Eckerman and McDonnell then how they dragged the body into the yard and buried it. It was late at night and no one saw them, they said.

IS PUT TO TEST BY FARMERS STATE

LAND BANK BOARD AND MCAADO IN COLUMBUS AND GIVE OHIOANS HEARING.

FARMERS FROM ALL SECTIONS

Columbus, Canton, Toledo and Cincinnati Compete for Location of Farm Bank.

Western Union Newspaper News Service, Columbus, O.—Following are questions raised by the farm loan board and Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, which visited Columbus in its tour of the United States last week.

What are the prevailing interest rates on farm loans? Are commissions charged? Do farmers have difficulty in getting extensions?

Are Ohio farms undeveloped because of a lack of cheap credit? Is there an increasing percentage of tenantry because renters are unable to finance their farms?

Have the farmers of Ohio demonstrated inclination and capacity for organization and co-operation?

The commission, consisting of Gov. W. R. Smith, Herbert Quick, Capt. W. S. A. Smith and Charles E. Lpboldt, spent a day in Columbus taking testimony from farmers and representatives of farm organizations from all parts of the state. The commission heard the petitions of Columbus, Canton, Toledo and Cincinnati for the bank location.

Frank R. Wilson, chief of the bureau of information on rural credit of the United States treasury department, arrived in Columbus several days in advance and arranged the hearing, which was held in the Columbus office of the Commercial Auditor. Farmers, representatives of farm organizations and persons with a knowledge of farm conditions in Ohio were present.

Mr. Wilson outlined the salient features of the farm loan act, which he said would enable the American farmer to get cheap money on long-time loans to develop his land. "Federal land banks will be established, each with a capital of $750,000," he said, "and the public will be given the first opportunity to buy the stock, but the government will purchase all that remains unsold at the end of 30 days.

Farmers to borrow money from the bank must form themselves into groups of 10 or more. These associations borrow in bulk from the federal bank and give mortgages on their farms, but the farmers of each group are not liable for the loans of the other members except up to 10 per cent. When the bank has lent $50,000 to farmers it issues bonds against the mortgages it has taken, and this process is repeated until the capital stock of the bank is turned over 20 times. Each farmer who borrows money buys stock in the bank to the amount of 5 per cent of the loan, so when the stock is turned over 20 times the farmers own all of the stock of the bank from which they borrow. When they pay off their loans, they keep the stock or cash it in at par.

TOWN GOES BACK TO WORK

Bethesda, O.—The only kind of factories this town has is stogie factories, and practically all the adult residents, who work in these factories. The stogie makers went on strike for an increase of 25 cents per 100 cigars. The stogie factory owners refused the demands and Bethesda was idle. The increased demand has just been granted by the employees and the town is back on the job.

FARMERS AND DEALERS AGREE.

Retailers announced that the price of milk to consumers will be 4 cents instead of 5 cents a quart hereafter.

NEW TYPE MILITARY AIRSHIP

Flight From Akron to Washington C. H. Without Motive Power.

Washington C. H., O.—A military kite balloon, observed by thousands of persons in this part of the state, landed near here after a flight from Akron, O., a distance of about 120 miles. The balloon was piloted by C. H. Both and C. A. Wollen, of Akron. It made the trip in three hours and 45 minutes. The balloon was of the dirigible type in shape, being like a large cigar, but carried no motive power. It was steered by means of planes, and the trip was made for the purpose of testing the steering, elevating and lowering planes to demonstrate their availability for practical purposes.

It was the first time that a trip in such a balloon has been attempted in this country and that the idea is new and undeveloped one in Europe. The fast time and perfect control maintained over the airship proved the contention as to the practical worth of the planes for their purposes in handling a lighter-than-air machine without motive power.

LINE PULLS UP TO

Eighth Buckeye Regiment to Relieve Michigan Men Along the Border

Pay Rolls of Fifth Regiment Are Lost in the Mails—Measles Cases Are Reported.

Special Western Newspaper Union Service.

El Paso.—Approximately 900 Ohioans will be distributed along the Mexican border for patrol duty, according to an order issued to Lieut. Col. C. W. Weybrecht of the 5th Ohio Regiment by division headquarters. The order calls for the 8th Ohio to relieve the 32d Michigan regiment, now patrolling from Las Cruces, N. M., to Fort Hancock, Tex. Thirteen companies from the 8th will remain here. Col. Edward Vollrath, who still is in the hospital with a broken arm, expects to resume command. Rations for 20 days will be taken by train. Troops began mustered, bread and ice will be delivered to the men every other day. Those going to Fort Hancock and Las Cruces will be taken by train, those going to other points making the trip by motor truck. Figures on regimental tests announced Friday gave the 5th Ohio 75 and the 8th 75. The 8th Ohio's tests are being figured. Brigade tests have already been started. The 5th has concluded its target practice.

Ohioans Given Mounted Drill. The August pay rolls of the 5th are reported lost in the mails between El Paso and camp, so they will be made by a military truck load of regular army pay roll experts. The 5th's clerks had to make the pay rolls out properly. It may be several days before the Clevelanders get their August pay. The Ohio guard has been detailed for duty with the 17th United States cavalry, under Col. A. H. Hibbard. The Ohioans were given their first mounted drill. The regulars recently Hoped of an early return home were given a walk when the Massachusetts organization, which expected to be sent to the north soon, were ordered to remain here. Discovery of two cases of measles in the 5th at Akron of the Ohio artillery led to the isolation of held along the border.

Ohio Regiments Not Affected. The 8th Ohio at El Paso will not be affected at this time by the order of General Funston sending home one regiment with the arrival of a new one. He will send the 8th to be returned. Because the Ohio troops have only been at the border a short time, it is not expected that they will be ordered home for some time yet. The Fourth regiment has had its first rifle practice. A range has been fitted up at the base of Mount Franklin, some 10 miles, half miles out in the desert from camp, and under the instruction of regular army sergeants the various companies are improving their marksmanship at this range. The soldiers use their 35-caliber rifles. Private Scott of Company B of Columbus has been promoted to artificer by success Levisay, recently discharged because he had dependent relatives. Corporal Roberts has recovered from a cut on the foot received accidentally at Camp Willis.

Mexicans Desire Loan. The Mexicans remain silent as to the success of their negotiations for a big loan. From sources close to the commissioners, it was learned, however, they feel they ultimately can get more financial encouragement from this country. The importance of this phase of the developments was more emphasized today with the commission plans calling for a straightforward showdown on the question of foreign claims against Mexico. In addition to discussing that, the commission expected shortly will have to come down on the Mexican treatment of foreigners, many of whom have been driven by decree of the defunct government to President Carr. The secretary of State Lansing already have told the commissioners openly they have no expectations to have American support as must see to it that foreign rights are respected.

History Enacted.

El Paso.—A piece of military history was enacted when 25,000 Ohio troops, forming the first war strength division sent in the country since the Civil war, were reviewed by Maj. Gen. C. M. Clemens of Pennsylvania. The procession was seven hours long, was commanded by Brig. Gen. Charles G. Morton, 11.5 miles long.

May Cut Communications Line.

El Paso.—Belief that Villa will soon cut the Carranza line of communication between Chihuahua, City and Juarez, if he has not already done so, was suggested by Maj. Gen. Funston after he had read a report on Villa's Chihuahua campaign received from Brig. Gen. Bell at El Paso. The report said that Villa's force was estimated at from 600 to 1,700 men. Gen. Funston said that the force was near the Chihuahua battle. He said the logical step to take would be the severing of the line of communications between Chihuahua and Juarez.

MAKING the FARM PAY By PROF. P. G. HOLDEN, Former Dean of the Iowa Agricultural College.

Two Good Silos, Well Located.

BILLIONS WASTED ON FARMS

Many of us fall to appreciate our real blessings, because we regard them as just common everyday things. If some mysterious power were to suddenly change winter into summer, it would be recorded as a miracle. It really, this is what the silo does—change winter into summer. The silo makes June grass out of the waste products of the farm. Silage is the winter pasture for the farm animals. The silo is the cow's kraut barrel. No man can get the best out of his means of farming without a silo. It combines more good things and brings greater profits than any other building on the farm; it provides a cheap and convenient place to store all of the crop; helps utilize cheap roughage, makes it possible to keep more stock on the farm, which means more manure for the land. The silo insures sufficient feed in the winter and in dry spells when pastures fail; provides a balanced ration when fed with alfalfa, clover, bran, cottonseed meal and other protein or muscle-building foods. The silo takes care of the crop and clears the land for early fall plowing, prevents waste in feeding, keeps stock in good condition, makes cheap beef and milk.

Prove Value of Silo.

A good proof of the value of the silo is a record of some work done in a co-testing association at Albert Lea, Minn., under the direction of the United States department of agriculture. In this association 12 herds, or 230 cows were fed silage and 16 herds, or 230 cows were fed dry silage. It seems to me that when a man will examine the results of his silo, he will find that he is the loser if he does not have a silo. The results show that it cost $8.22 more per cow to feed the silage herd than it did to feed the herd which had no silage, but the silage-fed cows produced 50 pounds more butterfat per cow, giving a net profit of $10.04 more.

Waste With Corn Crop.

The greatest waste in any one industry in America occurs with the corn crop. The grain of the corn crop of the United States every year is worth about $1,700,000,000. 90 per cent of the feed value in matured corn is contained in the kernels, and 80 per cent in the stalk and leaves. With the grain worth nearly three-

Fodder or Silage.

At the Nebraska experiment station two groups of calves nine months old were fed from March 25 to August 15. In this silage ration produced 88.7 pounds of milk and 5.08 pounds of butterfat per 100 pounds of dry matter.

The cow fed the grain ration produced 81.3 pounds of milk and 2.9 pounds of butterfat per 100 pounds of dry matter.

The average net profit per cow per month over cost of feed was $5.38 with the silage ration and $2.40 with the grain ration.

Silage Makes Cheap Beef.

Quarters of a billion dollars, the feed value of the rest of the crop is nearly a billion dollars. At least 30 per cent of the feed value of the stalk is entirely under the present system of farm management—a waste with this crop alone of a billion dollars annually. No other business but farming could stand such an enormous loss. The present management—waste with this crop alone of a billion dollars annually.

MISSOURI FOUND CORN ENsilAGE WORTH 31 PER CENT MORE THAN CORN FODDER WHEN ALL COSTS WERE CONSIDERED. THE MISSOURI STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE FOUND THAT IT COULD PRODUCE BUTTER 9 CENTS CHEAPER PER POUND THAN THE OTHER FEED.

There was a time when silage was considered entirely as a detestable food. It is just as good for the production of beef. One experiment may be quoted, though hundreds have been made with practically the same result. At the Indiana experiment station four lots of steers were fed as follows:

Lot 1—Shelled corn, cottonseed meal, clover hay and silage. Average profit per head when sold, $33.77.

Lot 2—Shelled corn, cottonseed meal, clover hay, alfalfa and silage. Profit per head, $10.51.

Lot 3—Shelled corn, cottonseed meal, and all the clover hay and silage they could eat. Under this method of feeding the steers ate ten times as much silage as clover hay. Profit per head, $13.90.

Lot 4—Shelled corn, cottonseed meal and silage only. Profit per head, $20.96. The Missouri state board of agriculture asked 200 farmers this question: "By feeding silage to your steers, how many feed bills?" Out of the 200 farmers 150 answered "Yes"; four said they didn't know.

found corn ensilage to be worth from $5.50 to $6.50 per ton when fed to fattening steers and sheep. This is in the light of the fact that corn ensilage will cost the farmer more than $2 a ton and should be convincing argument.

Pennsylvania station found good results in feeding steers silage and raised a value of $42.20 a ton when used in this way. They also found silage superior to hay and much more economical in the raising of young stock.

Ontario experiment station found they could save $83 on every $200 invested in feed if they used corn ensilage in preference to hay in feeding cattle.

Kansas experiment station not only produced beef cheaper with ensilage in the ration but also the silage-fed steers sold at a higher price on the market than did the dry-fodder steers. They found corn ensilage when put in the silo would keep for five and six years and retain its feeding value.

Michigan experiment station has been using silos since 1881, and has found in several experiments ensilage to be the most economic form of feeding the corn plant in live stock.

Silage, when fed in conjunction with alfalfa, produced mutton more cheaply than when hay was used.

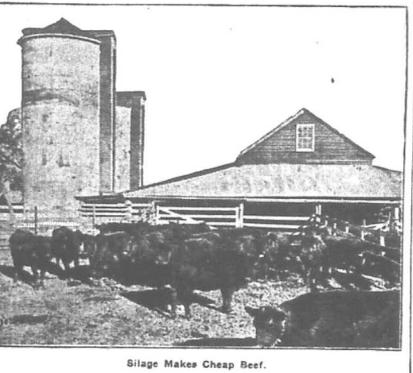

Many other stations have tested out the economic use of the silo, and all have indorsed it as a practical, economic equipment for the stock farmer.

Thousands of farmers and stockmen all over the country have been demonstrating for the last quarter of a century the economic use of the silo, and all have indorsed it as a practical, strong in its praise.

Ensilage vs. Grain.

In a test conducted recently the Ohio experiment station endeavored to answer the question, "Can ensilage be made to take the place of a considerable portion of the grain ration usually fed to stock?"

Ten cows, representing five different breeds, were fed these rations from

per cow than the cows receiving no silage. This means that on 29 cows we are losing enough in one year to put up a silo.

Great Value of Silo.

The results of hundreds of feeding experiments conducted in the past ten years with silage as a part of the ration gives proof of the great value of the silo to the farmer. There will always be 25 per cent of the corn crop shocked in the field, but corn left exposed to the weather loses the greater part of its feeding value. Why condemn the crop after you have grown it, when you can put it in a silo and preserve it with all its succulence? Have a silo—no matter what kind—it has one advantage over all other silos. You may say that you cannot afford

TEXAS RANGERS

FOR WAR STRENGTH

Four Companies Composed of Men Who Do Things.

MANY FROM THE RANGES.

Are Used to Rough Life and Are Familiar With Every Foot of Border Territory—Drinking, Gambling and Profanity Are Banned—All Are Crack Shots and Hardened Troopers.

For the first time in more than forty years the Texas ranger force has been recruited to its full strength of eighty-two men and officers. When Governor Ferguson issued an order recently that the organization be raised to "war" strength the office of Adjutant General Hutchings was immediately flooded with applications for enlistment. Many muscular, keen eyed men, each bearing the distinguishing marks of the ranch and open spaces in his mind and general aspect, went to Austin in person and made every possible effort to get into the service. General Hutchings says he could have easily formed a regiment within a few days.

Practically all of the ranger recruits come from the ranches. In most instances they are perfectly familiar with the border region. Besides being proficient in the frontier language, they know the Mexican character and habits. The rangers do not follow any defined military tactics or rules of campaign. They simply go out and "get" their man. The fact that they are usually dead when he is brought back makes the very name "ranger" a terror to evil-doers on the border.

Strenuous Requirements.

It has always been a requirement of the ranger force that he shall be an expert shot with pistol and rifle, a good rider, of perfect physical fitness and proved during and bravery. To these essentials there has been added in comparatively recent years the requirements that the ranger must not be addicted to gambling. And it is easy to find plenty of men who measure up. Because a ranger shoots to kill in performance of his duty is no reason why he may not be a good church member.

Captain John R. Hughes, who served for more than a quarter of a century in the ranger service and retired a year or so ago, was of the mild mannered, churchgoing type, who in his Sunday school and mount his horse and go on a chase after criminals, perhaps killing an outlaw or two on the expedition. Drinking, gambling and profanity were absolutely barred among the men comprising his company.

The ranger force as now organized consists of four separate companies of mounted men, each company consisting of a captain, one first sergeant and twenty privates.

Their Equipment.

The pay of the captain is $100 each a month; sergeant, $80; private, $40. The term of enlistment is two years, subject to disbandment of all or any part of the force at any time. Each officer, noncommissioned officer, private is required to furnish himself with a suitable horse, saddle, bridle and clothing. The state must pay for the horse if it is killed in action. The carbine and pistol are furnished by the state, but the cost is deducted from the wages of the ranger on the first pay day. The state furnishes cravens, camp equipage, ammunition and forage.

Paid For the Advices.

Old Hunka (meeting a physician at the club)—Doc, what ought a man to do when he has an all over feeling as if he were going to have an attack of the grip? Crusty M. D.—He ought to consult a good physician about it. Old Hunka—Well, that advice ought to be worth a dollar anyway. Here it is, I'll go and hunt him up.—Chicago Tribune.

After nearly 21 years of almost continuous confinement behind prison bars, Otis Hurley, known as the "prison demon" was released from the penitentiary through expiration of his sentence for stealing a bicycle when he was 19 years old. He has been a model prisoner during his last sentence of five years for horse stealing. Previous to that his career had been one of sensational escapes, prison riots, fights and cutting scrapes.

Voters in Ohio this year will choose the presidential electors as a whole instead of as individual electors as they did heretofore. This will be a boon to the election officials, who will not be required to count the vote for each elector, but to be governed by the first name and return a name only. In printing the ballots the little block will not be at the left of the names. It is said Ohio is the first state to decide the electors are to be voted for as a unit. There will be no chance then for a division of the electoral vote. In 1854 one democratic elector, James W. Seay, of Mansfield, and 21 republicans were chosen.

Where to Store Seed Corn

One of the best places to store seed corn is in the loft of an open implement shed or above the driveway of a covered double corn crib, says the Agricultural Extension Service of the Ohio State University. A kitchen attic is also recommended. Corn stored in hay mows, granaries containing sweating grain, or other damp and ill-ventilated places have a lower percent of germination. When the seed is once dry there need be no fear of the winter temperatures of Ohio.

PLANT CROCUS BULBS NOW.

The dainty crocus is the first flower to appear under cultivation, often coming up underneath the snow. The best effects are obtained from this flower by scattering it about the lawn. Lift the sod, set the bulb three inches deep and pack the sod back around it. These bulbs are cheap and well worth while.

TIME TO PLANT PEONY ROOTS.

Peony roots should be planted right now for good results. Set them in a fertile soil with the buds or crowns about two inches below the surface. A little winter protection in the way of leaves or straw to be removed early in the spring, is advisable.—Agricultural Extension Service, Ohio State University.
