

A Noble Life Ended.

The hearts of the people of this whole community were made sad when the word went out Sunday forenoon that Mary Alice Sibbett was gone. She was the eldest of seven children born to T. H. C. and Maggie Noble Sibbett, and was born near Lexington, Richland county, Ohio, March 15, 1856.

They moved to Ripley in 1865. She united with the M. E. church in early childhood, and has ever since been a faithful christian worker, not only in the church but wherever she could do a kind deed. Her first thought was always for others, never thinking of self. Even on her death-bed her thoughtfulness was shown by giving some of her beautiful flowers or fruit that had been given her to some sick friend saying she would give him more if some one shared with her.

She attended school at Delphi, and later at Mansfield and began teaching when she was sixteen years old. The autumn of 1882 she began teaching in the Public Schools of Plymouth, Ohio, being particularly adapted to Primary work. She continued in this position for twenty-nine years, when she left the school room to care for her aged parents. The last years of her teaching together with the anxiety and work at home had nearly overtaxed her strength. Then for another year and a half she devoted herself almost entirely to the comfort and care of her mother during her remaining days, and no child was ever more devoted nor self-sacrificing for the pleasure and comfort of their parent than was Mary.

She left her home and moved to Boughtonville, in December 1913, where she has since lived with her brother Harry, who has been much devoted to one another, and where she put forth every effort to make this a happy home, and made every one welcome who came into the home, especially the pastors and church workers.

Although ill health seemed fast approaching, still the Church and Sunday School, with the Women's Foreign Missionary society claimed her efforts, and she planned and worked with the same spirit of sacrifice as she had been wont to do, and her passing has shed a lustrous honor on this church and this community, for blessed indeed is any church or people who have living in their midst such cheerful self-sacrificing spirits and whose lives are eminent in their measure of unselfishness and beauty in their devoted ministry of love and service for the comfort and happiness of others.

She departed this life in the early morning of Sunday, February 25, 1917, aged 60 years, 11 months, and 7 days. She is survived by three brothers and one sister, with many relatives and friends who mourn her death. All who knew her will miss her and although dead her works will follow her. Even now we hear her say:

Do not bear O Friends of mine,
Faint not when sorrow comes,
The summits of these hills of earth,
To touch the blue skies of home,
So many burdens come here,
Close tending by thy side,
Assist, encourage, comfort them,
For two have died and one is near.
Be strong to love dear ones of mine,
Live not for self alone,
But find in blessing other lives,
For many times this one has seen
Seek every hungering heart to feed
Each saddened heart to cheer,
When your trials seem so great
Remember God is near.
Let, hope like summer's rainbow bright
Scatter thy falling tears,
And God's love and promises,
Dispel thy anxious fears.
For every grief a joy will come,
For every toil a rest,
So hope, so love, so patient heart—
God doeth all things best."

The funeral services were held at the M. E. church, Delphi, conducted by her pastor, Rev. Brown, who spoke words of comfort and consolation to a crowd of sorrowing friends. The quartette sang some of her favorite songs, after which she was taken to Plymouth for burial, and a service of Plymouth friends to whom she had endeared herself by so many years of loving service they stopped at the M. E. church at Plymouth, where a most fitting and beautiful memorial service was held by the school, churches, and citizens of that place, and as a token of respect all business houses were closed during the hour of the funeral, and the people with one accord turned aside to give expression to their grief and lovingly testify to the memory of her worth as a soul, and a friend.

Mr. Sol Spear, a Mr. Louis Shield, the Pastors of the Methodist church, of Plymouth, Rev. Huchez, of Silioh, and Rev. Brown of Ripley and North Fairfield, gave beautiful tributes to her life, her work and her service for others. The choir sang some beautiful songs and as about 200 of her former pupils marched around to take a last look at their beloved friend and laid carnations on the casket, the organ played, "He Leadeth Me," "Sweet Bye and Bye," and "Farewell," they all sang, "Lead Kindly Light."

Her remains were then taken to Greenlawn cemetery for burial and there her grave is banked with beautiful flowers given by sympathizing friends.

CARD.

We herewith desire to express our sincere thanks to friends, neighbors, and all for the many kind acts extended us during the sickness and death of our sister. Th-ir thoughtfulness and deeds of kindness will always be cherished.

IN MEMORIAM.

The world may live as those to duty wed,
Whose deeds both great and small
Are close-knit strands of an unbroken thread
Where love ennobles all.
The world may sound no trumpets,
ring no bells;
The book of life the shining record led.

Mary Alice Sibbett, with her many school and church duties, and other work that claimed her attention, also found time for social pleasures. She was a charter member of the Tourist Club, and was an active and efficient member for many years. In all the club work, both social and literary, she did well. Her papers were a character, being instructive and witty, in the social entertainments she took a great interest and helped to make them a success, and the windows of her soul were ever open to let the joys and hopes that crowd along life's pathway.

She loved the beautiful in nature, the trees and flowers. She loved the beautiful in literature, in poetry and in song. Few women are capable of making for themselves so prominent a place among the people who come in contact with. Her life was as fragrant and beautiful as the carnations, which the school children so lovingly strewed on her casket.

Drop a tear. This day has marked a parting of the ways for us and one we held most dear.

Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our earth by death, our beloved sister, Miss Mary Sibbett, and

When March Came in Like a Lamb.

"What's the occasion?" asked the Wayfarer.

Yippie looked in the direction the other jerked his thumb and said after a moment's hesitation, "I don't know what it is, but it is not a She-tan—a—that is, been."

They speculated on the lighted lantern hung outside the door and after they very decorously looked through the window and saw the prodigals of American flags the Wayfarer mused, "Recruiting Station?"

"I wouldn't say it was that," Yippie replied after a pause, "I see only one of these fellows here. After gazing on the pleasant scene for a few moments the Wayfarer very thoughtfully said, "I saw a man in Shelby today who is still voting for Jackson, could it be that these ladies—" Yippie caught the drift!

"Not on your life! Old Man, Lady Duff Gordon has nothing on any of these when it comes to downright lack of thing out.

This is some kind of a 'function' no doubt and I figure 'tis the Touristie place among the people who come in contact with. Her life was as fragrant and beautiful as the carnations, which the school children so lovingly strewed on her casket.

Drop a tear. This day has marked a parting of the ways for us and one we held most dear.

Have You Seen The Twins?

Is to have two complete pedestals to each table

The reasons for this are many. Pedestal Tables have for years been constructed with a single pedestal but their shortcomings are numerous, for instance:

Gap or stand open at bottom in time, Overcome by the "Twin" way.

A troublesome crack—continual adjusting, Overcome by the "Twin" way.

One Pedestal, cut in half so as to divide, Overcome by the "Twin" way.

Unightly and unfinished when extended, Overcome by the "Twin" way.

A table lasts a lifetime and therefore it is wise to look into its merits purchasing "Twins" designs and finishes, purse. Call and inspect them.

LADIES Harken To This

Stop taking the dangerous headache powders and tablets. Headache remedies are all right if taken in the right way, at the right time, but dangerous when taken as the general public takes them.

The vast majority of headaches come from the stomach. Use a little care. Realize that the only safe treatment, if you are subject to headache, is the preventive treatment.

A safe and sane way to stop headache tendency—to prevent sick, nervous and painful headaches—is to get down to the main cause. Prevent the cause and you prevent the headache.

Pepsinco will do this very thing. It takes care of the stomach in such a way that headaches are almost impossible, especially the so-called stomach headache. Moreover, Pepsinco is positively harmless; it can't hurt you and it is just as positively effective.

If you would be rid of headaches, stop at the drug store and get a twenty-five cent package of those wonderful little tablets Pepsinco. Take one after each meal for two or three days and we will guarantee you'll not get a sign of a headache. Be sure to ask for Pepsinco. The New England Company, Wapakoneta, Ohio.

Chas. Rocks looks as though he had been mixed up with the German U boats; but however, his patched up condition is from wounds received on land and on this side of the pond. While in town Saturday with his team, and just in the act of starting for home, he observed one of the checks down, and crawled out on the tongue to replace the same. The horses then took fright at a passing farm tractor, and started, throwing Charles to the ground, with the result that sustained several scalp wounds, several shrapnel of the right hand as well as an injury to his left foot, on which it is supposed one of the horses stepped, all of which makes him look like a battle scarred veteran.

Perseverance, practice and a stiff upper lip are bound to win, or so at least it is held by the high school basketball team, who have lost every game played so far this season, true may be narrow margins up until Friday evening's game, when they broke the hoodoo, and in a fast and hotly contested game defeated Greenwell high school team by a score of 22 to 12. Now that they have the ice broken they expect to win many more games to their credit before the close of the season.

While driving across the tracks of the Northern Ohio railroad at North Ashburn Thursday afternoon, Wm. He was brought to his home here in an automobile, and while it is not early to fully determine the extent of his injuries it is not thought they will result seriously.

Several of our young men about town who are in the habit of making regular Sunday evening visits to Shiloh, where they have lady friends, are considering matrimony as the easiest way out of it since their experience of Sunday evening is more properly speaking, Monday morning. Several went out in autos after the evening and after being pleasantly entertained by their friends for a few hours finally departed for their homes, not aware of the huge snow drifts that had piled up during the time they were being entertained in the parlor by the side of a cherry tree. After proceeding a short distance on the way, bank went the machine into a big snow drift and despite all efforts the machine could not be extricated, not even after the occupants had more or less and wobbled around in snow up to their necks and the marrow in their bones chilled and their teeth rattled incessantly. Two other machines which followed, met the same fate, but by the united efforts of all finally dug themselves out and reached town just as the sun was peeping over the eastern horizon.

Camp Fire Girls
Our last year's birthday celebration proved so successful, be assured, that we are planning for the first time in our history, to all concentrated on doing the same thing for some one else. The inspiration was wonderful!

Camp Fire Girls from all over the United States sent thousands of baby kites, toys and clothes to Europe, and many were the letters of appreciation and thanks received from mothers and children in Belgium. This year we are going to do something for somebody. It may be for the poor and needy of our own country, but be sure it will be for someone who needs it.

Plymouth Camp Fire Girls are learning to go without candy, cigars and chewing gum. If we see these things for sale, we are to buy them for ourselves. Let us try to help others to help. We kindly ask your help and encouragement at our annual Birthday Party, Saturday, March 17, in the school building. All articles for sale 10c. A missionist free.

OHIO ADULT BIBLE CLASS CONVENTION.

Lancaster Getting Ready—Delegates to be Entertained.

Great interest is being manifested throughout the State in the coming State Adult Bible Class convention to be held at Lancaster March 27th and 28th.

Miss Margaret L. Matheny, 3 years old, is to whistle for the convention. She whistles sacred tunes with rare sweetness and captivates her audience. Among the special leaders who have been secured are:

Dr. John J. Benson of Detroit, one of America's greatest Evangelistic and Social Service leaders. He has been called to Illinois for the third consecutive year to speak to their Sunday School workers.

Mr. G. Pearce, International Adult Bible Class Superintendent, who has done more than any other leader to make the Adult Movement sweep the country like a prairie fire.
