

Old Looks?

Persons suffering from too much uric acid in the system frequently look older than they should. They are apt to have the appearance of gray hair or balding head in early years, is indeed, often a sign of uric acid. The face appears lean and haggard, the wrinkles appearing in young men or women.

HOME FOLKS TESTIFY

Cleveland, Ohio.—"We years I suffered with rheumatism. I would have it in my shoulder, then it would shift into my feet and cause my lower limbs to ache. At times it would leave all other parts of my body and center in my knees. When it did this I could scarcely walk. I tried many remedies, but the doctor, but never could find anything that would relieve me of this condition. A short time ago I learned of Anuric. I have only taken one box, but it has given me great relief, nearly all my pains have left me and I feel better than I have in many years. I am going to continue its use for I know I have at last found the cause of my trouble. Anuric, 4613 Tillman Ave. If you wish to send a sample of your letter to Invalide Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and describe your symptoms, same will be examined without any expense to you, and Dr. Pierce or his staff will inform you truthfully.

Hero of Ticonderoga

With one impulse the volunteer turned to arms, with one spirit they plunged for the extreme 'event' with an air of 'Liberty or Death.'—George Bancroft.

The bloody encounter at Lexington in 1770 fired the blood of the patriots and filled them with burning desire to do some heroic deed in the defense of the colonies. The word reached Gen. Braddock and he raised the Green Mountain boys and if possible they would take the fortress of Ticonderoga.

He who loathes war, and will do everything in his power to avert it, but who will do the last, and the most extreme, encounter its perils, from love of country, will not hesitate to sacrifice himself, and all that he holds dear in life, to promote the well-being of his fellowmen, will ever receive a worthy homage.—Abbott.

THIS MOTHER GAVE HER ALL

The touching incident of sacrifice on the Altar of Her Country's Need.

One of the touching incidents of General Lyons' march to Wilson creek was that a Tennessee mother bringing her little boy to the captain's tent and offering him for the service of his country. The boy's father had been killed in battle and the mother and her boy were alone in the world.

Eager for such exploit he rallied 200 of the militia on the sixth day of May, 1775, succeeded in getting a few boats and transported 85 men across the lake, and sent the boats back for the rest of the men. But day now dawned and Colonel Allen realized that if the attempt against the fort were to succeed he and his daring expedition must act at once.

Nothing daunted by the fact that their force was so few, and making up in patriotic devotion what they lacked in numbers, Colonel Allen called for volunteers for the perilous venture. "I do not urge any to enter on this enterprise contrary to what you wish, but it is a desperate attempt, which none but the bravest of men dare undertake," cried Colonel Allen. "You that wish to distinguish yourselves, please your freelock." Everman poised his firelock.

He immediately formed them into line and at their head he advanced to the gate of the fortress. The sentry snapped his fuse at the colonel and then retreated to the parade within the garden. Allen and his men quickly followed and formed in the parade. The garrison was asleep—but the sentries who did not fully sense what the intention was, and his men gave three buzzes, and one of the sentries made a pass at one of the men with a charged bayonet and slightly wounded him.

Allen was about to run him through with his sword but thought better of it and only slightly wounded him on the head and he dropped his gun and begged for quarter. Allen ordered he showed Colonel Allen of the officers' quarters whether the intrepid commander rushed and compelled the commander, Captain Delaplace, to come forth and deliver over the entire garrison on threat of putting the sentry force to death.

"By what authority?" demanded Captain Delaplace. "In the name of the Great Jehovah and of the Continental Congress," thundered Allen, as he raised his sword over Delaplace's head. In the meantime the Green Mountain boys had not been idle but had beaten down all the barracks' doors and had opened a trail of the garrison prisoners. With stutted expropriation the commander forthwith submitted and the fort was completely in the hands of Colonel Allen, who in his own account of the exploit says:

"The sun seemed to rise that morning with an augmented lustre, and Ticonderoga and its dependencies smiled on its conquerors."

DYING FOR ONE'S COUNTRY

"Death Never Comes Too Soon, if Necessary in Defense of Our Country."—Story.

It was Nathan Hale who said, "I regret that I have but one life to lose for my country." And it is Horace that makes one of his heroes say: "It is sweet and glorious to die for one's country." There have been many and striking illustrations of this in our country's history. It is said that the untimely fate of Col. Owen Roberts, who fell at Stono, was cause of universal regret. He was an inflexible patriot, an excellent disciplinarian, and enthusiastic in pursuit of military fame. His son, who was in the ranks, hearing of his misfortune, hastened to him. The exulting veteran perceiving in his countryman the liveliest sorrow, addressed him with great composure: "I rejoice, my boy, once again to see and to embrace you. Receive this sword, which has never been tarnished by dirt, and which is not to be inactive while the liberty of our country is endangered. Take my sentiments, accept my blessings, and return to your duty."

THE SWORD OF WASHINGTON

The sword of Washington. The staff of Franklin. Oh, sir, what associations are linked with these names! Washington's sword was given as a friend has said, was never drawn but in the cause of his country, and never sheathed when wielded in his country's cause. Franklin's sword is the emblem of the thunderbolt, the plating press, and the plow share.—John Quincy Adams.

To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace.—Washington.

EXTRAORDINARY INDUCEMENTS BEING OFFERED.

Previous articles have dealt with the matter of growing extra quantities of food to feed the world during this stress of high consumption and paucity of production. Instead of attempting to improve it is growing worse, and unless drastic and immediate action is taken, prices will continue to climb higher. It is hoped by the Canadian government that by offering extra inducements to secure a household of 100 acres of excellent land in the homesteading areas of Western Canada with the combined effort of the farmer its extraordinary production of tillage and bigger wages than that of Western Canada, with the assistance of the Dominion Government, may produce a greater amount of surplus than that ever in the past. The farm laborer can now secure a home before. All the response to this offer for a Western Canadian farmer during 1917, after he makes his entry of his homestead, he can secure a home with two additional years' residence before getting title to a piece of land worth $1,000. The response to this offer has been wonderful, and hundreds have already taken advantage of it.

The climate of Western Canada is one of the best in the world, with its buoyancy, and with the soil that the country possesses, no greater aspect could be desired. The country is past the pioneer stage, and the crops that grow all the smaller grains better than any other portion of the continent has been proven so often that it seems almost a truism to say that the high name that has been given the country in the splendid class of live stock that it raises, has placed it in the high column of the products of the nation. And then social conditions, something that every housewife asks about, are as nearly perfect as could be wished for. The distance of miles of telephone line connect the remotest hamlet with the principal cities of the country and continent, miles of excellent graded roads, with the perfect natural beauty of the prairie, make driving and hauling easy. Gridironed as these provinces are with railway lines, and with the great waterways of the Pacific or United States markets, mail delivery brings the settler still closer to the homes abroad. Rural education is considered everywhere, and are easily adjusted to the colleges and universities, which are said to be among the best in the continent.

"Taxation light, and only applied on the farm land, cattle, implements, etc., on the farm being exempt. Many farmers, having realized sufficient from their crop of wheat to pay for their own necessities, have had their own electric light and heating plants, have their automobiles and many luxuries they would not have possessed on their homes abroad. Life is comfortable and existence enjoyable in Western Canada. In no country there a greater percentage of contented farmers, and no part of the continent is farming easier or more profitable.

"The land will produce 30 bushels of wheat to the acre while there are many cases where the yield was higher, as high as 70 bushels. What this means to the farm laborer does not need to be put on the surface. He will get good wages, he can secure a homestead worth at the end of three years about $1,000, while working for wages he can put in residence dates, and can also look around, and find a good location.

Besides the homesteading attraction of Western Canada there remains the other fact that other lands can be purchased at from $15 to $30 while improved farms may be had at reasonable prices. The desire to have a piece of land of one's own is a natural instinct in the heart of every properly developed man and woman. In earlier years, on account of the great areas of land available in the United States, no great difficulty was experienced by any ambitious settler of that country who wished to become his own landholder, but the rapid increase in population, combined with the corresponding rise in the price of land, has completely changed this condition. Land, which a generation ago might have been had for the homesteading, now commands prices ranging to $100 an acre and over. At such prices it is quite hopeless for the tenant farmer or the small farmer to buy land from the speculator, or the city man with limited capital, to attempt to buy a farm of his own. To pay for it becomes a tall task, and the probability is that he will never do more than meet the interest charges. If he is serious in his desire to secure a farm home, he must look to countries where there is still abundant fertile land available at moderate cost, and where these lands are to be purchased on terms which will enable him to get started with small capital to become a farm owner as the result of a few years' labor. He will also want land in a country where the people are similar to those to which he has been accustomed; a country with the same language, same religion, same general habits of life, with laws, currency, weights and measures, etc., based on the same principles as those with which he is familiar. He wants a country where the land is worth from $100 to $300.00 an acre, which will produce as big or bigger crops as those he has been accustomed to from lands at $100.00 an acre. He wants this land where social conditions will be attractive to him, and his family, and where he can look forward with confidence to being in a few years independent, and well started on the road to financial success.

All these conditions he will find in Western Canada, and nowhere else. The land is here; it is of the kind he wants; the conditions are as nearly ideal as is possible, and the prices and terms are such that the moderate capital has an opportunity not available to him elsewhere.—Advertisement.

She Qualified It.

The fortune-teller was sending cold streams of horror down her victim's back as she predicted the bad things in store for him in the immediate future.

"You will die in a year!" she hissed, at last. "This line in your palm tells me so."

"Help!" gasped the victim. "It surely cannot be as bad as that?"

"As I said," continued the seer, "you will die in a year—but in what year I cannot say."

WOMEN! IT IS MAGIC! LIFT OUT ANY CORN. Apply a few drops then lift corns or calluses off with fingers—no pain.

Just think! You can lift off any corn or callus without pain or soreness. A Cincinnati man discovered this either compound and named it Freezone. Any druggist will sell a tin. The druggist will sell a tin of Freezone, like here shown, for very little cost. You apply a few drops directly upon a tender corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it right off.

Freezone is wonderful. It dries instantly. It doesn't rest away the corn or callus, but shrivels it up without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Hard corns or corns between the toes, as well as painful calluses, lift right off. There is no pain before or afterwards. If your druggist hasn't Freezone, tell him to order a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house.—adv.

No Eggs, Milk or Butter

The following recipe shows how an appetizing, wholesome cake can be made without expensive ingredients. In many other recipes the number of eggs may be reduced one-half or more by using an additional quantity of ROYAL Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted.

EGGLESS, MILKLESS, BUTTERLESS CAKE. 1 cup brown sugar, 1/4 cup water, 1 cup sifted raisins, 5 ounces citric, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup Royal Baking Powder. The old method (fruit cake) called for 2 eggs.

DIRECTIONS.—Put the first eight ingredients into saucepan and boil three minutes. When cool add the remaining powder which was not added together; mix well. Bake in moderate oven in loaf pan (insert tin with hole in center in heat) for 45 or 60 minutes. Ice with white icing. Baskets of recipes which economize in eggs and other expensive ingredients mailed free. Address Royal Baking Powder Co., Worcester, Mass., U.S.A.

Elephants have come up so in price that few persons can any longer afford them. The same is true of the blue-nosed spees and the rare one-horned tapir. Country birds have gone up from $2.75 apiece all the way to $12. However, the bottom has dropped out of the goldfish market. You can buy all the goldfish you want for five cents apiece, but the cost of the upkeep, food and glass bowls has risen to the clouds.

The bachelors of Virginia who have received liquor since the state went dry are to be prosecuted for violating the law. The point is that only heads of families or those living with their parents, can bring liquor into the state and so the poor bachelors living at boarding houses, hotels and in rooms are barred. It is a provision which had been overlooked and now some 3,000 bachelors are liable to be prosecuted. Whether this will increase the marriage licenses remains to be seen.

On the brink of war, the United States faces one of its worst problems in the present dearth of farmers, according to assertions of farm and farm authorities at Chicago at a meeting of the Illinois Farmers Institute. "The farms," said J. F. Mason of Elgin, "are undermanned and are producing not more than one-half of their capacity. In case of war the sudden demand upon the country's food supply would find the farmer unprepared. The fault lies with the tendency of farmers to leave the farm for the city."

Wild garlic has been reported to the Ohio Experiment Station from 78 counties in Ohio this year. Spraying with fuel oil from April 15 to May 1, before the plants begin to form heads, has been found by the experiment station most satisfactory to kill this weed. The spray should be applied on a warm, calm day, about 75 gallons per acre being required. In Ohio 342 districts and 892 farmers troubled with this pest have been reported this year. When not controlled wild garlic becomes serious in grain fields and pastures. It is often erroneously called wild onion.

Potatoes may be divided into two general classes, the Sweet and the Irish. The latter class is the national fruit of Ireland and derive their name from the inhabitants of that country. The former were invented by the Indians and were served with ashes in the Revolutionary war. Potatoes are rapidly taking the place of jewelry and fancy institutions for the rich. Time was when potatoes rolled down the chute into the bin every fall but now they are kept in the safe along with eggs and valuables. Potatoes may be cooked in various ways, German fried, French fried, or if you are neutral, Saratoga chips. The tubers were once the main dish on the table, but now they are served only when the preacher comes to dinner.

On account of not notifying the sexton, when the body of John Hillborn and funeral cortege arrived here for burial last week Saturday it was found that no grave had been dug. The body was placed in the vault until Monday, when interment was made.

Not that the people are less loyal here than elsewhere, but not a single person here has volunteered his services to his country. Perhaps they think by remaining at home raising food for the army they are doing as much service to their country as in joining the ranks.

For Rent—Five rooms on Porter street. Inquire of Harriet Fortner, phone 115.

Got your tax listing blank? Remember you save money by being good and Johnny-on-the-spot.

Never mind, you'll forget all about the cool spell just as soon as the ice bills begin to fall due.

With wheat at $2.00 and better it is quite evident the size of bread loaves will shrink accordingly.

It even costs more now to be patriotic than ever. Flags have become so plentiful in price and even hard to get at that.

Sale on Corsets—A ten per cent discount will be offered on all corsets, Saturday, April 14th, at Mrs. Geo. Singler's Millinery Parlors.

The Willett bakery, which was closed the first of last week on account of the illness of Mrs. Willett, was re-opened Thursday morning.

Charles Howell, road contractor, moved his equipment to the vicinity of North Fairfield the first of the week to resume work where he left off last fall.

Frank Sourwine and family moved from their country home into their newly purchased town property Wednesday and are now full-fledged residents of Plymouth.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will collect magazines and papers in May. Any person wishing to give please notify Mrs. Chappell, phone 170.

Crackers have taken another two cent advance in the local market. If they keep on going up it will be necessary for dealers to break one in two in order to give exact weight.

The two things most in demand just now are flags and Bibles. The public wants the flags to show its patriotism and the Bibles to find out whether the war means the end of the world or not.

Many people won't work in the garden mornings because they will have so much more time in the evening, and they won't work there evenings because they will be so much fresher mornings.

Rather discouraging for those who planned to make early garden in order to reduce the high cost of living. However, if you can't invest money in seeds perhaps you can in coal to tide over the cool spell.

The local Order of Eastern Stars had an extremely busy session of it Wednesday evening, when they held inspection, initiated three candidates and entertained forty members from their sister lodge at North Fairfield.

The French nurseries of Clyde, made a nice delivery of stock on re this week. Farmers and others are paying more attention than ever to fruit growing, and in a few years hence there should be an abundance hereabouts.

Charlie Chaplin gets seven hundred fifty thousand dollars a year and the average teacher of our schools about seven hundred and fifty dollars, and yet some people wonder why the coming generation doesn't know any more.

County roads, especially the dirt ones are in a very bad shape this spring, caused from the frequent rains. Road supervisors should lose no time this spring in giving them attention and put them in passable condition as early as possible.

American physicians who have been engaged in hospital work in Europe contend that the food shortage has operated to improve the health of the people. They could have learned that much at home among newspaper men are noted for health and longevity.

Eight cases of small-pox in one house is pretty near a record, but that is just the situation existing at the Pearl residence on Sheekler street, Bucyrus, where the case appeared a couple of weeks ago. Five men, two women and a three-week-old baby are the victims.

Mrs. L. Robinson, at a party given at her home in Ulica, April 5th, announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Helen Bredert, teacher in our public schools, and Mr. Ralph Hoffman, of this city, an office employee of the J. D. Fate Co. Miss Helen Shield was one of the many guests at the party.

A new auto service, running between North Fairfield and Greenview, will be put into service on Monday, April 16. This will be taken daily, including Sundays, and machines will meet every S. N. & M. car at North Fairfield. This new service should prove quite a convenience to Huron county people.

Our maritime relations with Holland have been practically cut off since the inauguration of the ruthless campaign and we heard one notable woman observe, with a sigh of satisfaction yesterday, that it was a mighty good thing that the grocer seemed to have laid in a good supply of Old Dutch Cleanser in advance.

After a service of nearly all his life with various railroads, the last of which was the Iron Mountain, headquarters at St. Louis, A. G. Bodley, the veteran conductor, has given up active service, and with his estimable wife have returned to Plymouth to make their future home, having moved into the suite of rooms at the Mrs. Warrant property on Plymouth street. Their many friends here gladly welcome them back again.

The graduating exercises of Plymouth School this year will occur one week later than usual and the class will be smaller than for several years, numbering only five, namely: Diana DeWore, Lois Gertrude Willett, Alverda B. Monteith, Oliver A. Donnerwirth and Ezra Smith Ward.

The Twentieth Century Circle met at the home of Miss Wilda Dronbeger, April 2nd. The following program was given. Reading—Goethe's "Faust", Miss Jessie Trauger. Magic of the Movies, Mrs. Criswell. The Nation's Underdeveloped Resources, Mrs. Postle. Original poem—Finale, Mrs. Seville. Twenty-three members responded to roll call, after which the Circle sang "O Be With You 'Till We Meet Again."

Any one having a vacant garden or strip of ground that they do not intend to cultivate this spring should notify Sam Kerrier, who has organized the school boys into a gardening squad and will look after all the gardens they can secure. Rather than let the gardens lay waste and grow up to weeds let the boys have them and become of some use, for every inch of cultivated space helps to lessen the cost of living. Just dig a trench and at the same time cultivate an industrious trait in the boys.

Members of the Ohio State Board of Health were here Wednesday in conference with Mayor Kirtland and the city council and board of public affairs in regard to our filtration plant. The plans and specifications were gone over thoroughly and after a few alterations by the State Board the plans were approved and it is now likely that bonds will be ordered sold and the construction work started as early as possible. This matter has been a long drawn out one and every one will feel happy when the plant is installed and in operation.

Another business change took place here Monday afternoon when the Shiloh Equity Exchange Union, through its directors, took over the Shiloh Milling Company of W. H. Fritz for the sum of $4,500. The company was given an option on the mill until the first of April and the option closed Monday when the directors, John Stead, Lloyd Nelson, J. F. Fair, Frank Fackler and C. L. Bloom met and bought the business. They will begin operating next Monday, giving Mr. Fritz a chance to dispose of his stock which part the company did not want to handle. We wish the new company success in its undertaking—Shiloh Review.

The city council of Plymouth, in a petition filed in the common pleas court of Huron county Wednesday morning, makes application to transfer $800 from the sinking fund of the village to the service fund. In this petition it is stated that necessary and legitimate expenses of the service department have made assistance to the service fund necessary before the next settlement period. It is further claimed that there is at present $4,970 14 in the sinking fund and that should $800 be transferred from the fund, there would still be a sufficient amount remaining to pay all bonds which might mature during the year.

The Norwalk Reflector of Tuesday, in speaking of the coming sale of the S. N. & M., says "Tomorrow in the federal court, in Cleveland, before Judge Killee, the last of the litigation will be cleaned up that will permit an early sale of the S. N. & M. electric line, the litigation being between the S. N. & M. and the P. S. & M., or the Plymouth extension. Mr. Taylor will go over the morning. It doubtless means an early sale and rehabilitation of the line. There are rumors that a new company will be formed to take over the entire line between here and Mansfield and arrange a working agreement to run through cars from Sandusky to Mansfield.

A marriage license was issued in the Richland county probate court Saturday, to Paul M. Hedrick of Chicago Junction and Miss Fern Shepard of this city, the Rev. E. M. McMillen of Mansfield, being named as the officiating clergyman. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Shepard, of High street, a lady with a large circle of friends, who, much admired, and who has also gained considerable renown by her whistling ability. The groom is one of Chicago Junction's sterling young men and much thought of in his home town and bears a large acquaintance in Plymouth. The young couple will take up their home at Chicago Junction into which they will carry the well wishes of their many Plymouth and Chicago Junction friends.

A marriage license was issued Tuesday from the probate court of Richland county for the marriage of Benjamin H. Bargett and Miss Edith May Statler, both of Shelby. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. L. Jenney, of Mansfield. Both young people are well known in Shelby and they have the best wishes of their many friends for a happy married life. The bride has been a resident of Shelby for several years, being employed as a stenographer at the office of the Shelby electric company and more recently at the office of the Metcalf Printing company. The groom has just returned from the border having been a member of the Company M, of Mansfield—Shelby Globe. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Statler, residing south of Plymouth, and their friends here extend hearty congratulations.
