

Reckless Autoists Hit by High Court.

Reckless automobile drivers came under the ban recently when the Ohio supreme court handed down a decision that holds every driver of a car who meets with an accident, where personal injuries result, must face squarely the results of the accident.

It strengthens the criminal side of the law covering accidents so that a driver, wholly within the limits of the locality, still may be guilty of manslaughter.

Every automobile must be driven with reasonable regard to the safety of others. Violation of that reasonable regard makes the driver answerable to criminal charges.

Every case stands alone, and the facts as to reasonable regard are questions for the jury in each case. The decision clears up a situation that has been in doubt and makes plain the meaning of laws that have been in question. The decision was written by Judge R. M. Wanamaker and concurred in by nearly the entire court.

"While the railroad locomotive has killed its hundreds, the automobile is killing its thousands," said Judge Wanamaker in his opinion.

"The day has long been here when the authorities should exercise every power under every law of the state to protect the public. The life of the humblest citizen must be placed under the gratification of the motor maniac who would turn the public highway into a race course. Five-dollar fines is a joke in most cases."

The court called attention to the fact that there are more than 200,000 automobiles in the state today as compared with 18,000 when the first statistics were available in 1906.

"Statisticians have calculated that when you veer the average man with large power, you make either a tyrant or a fool out of 10 per cent of them," Judge Wanamaker says in his opinion.

"The estimate is very conservative. Indeed, if it is true, it is upon the ground that it is too low, and it may be doubted if it is appreciably reduced in the case of putting 200,000 automobiles into the state.

"Ten per cent of the 200,000 automobiles would make 20,000 that are in the hands of tyrants, fools or incompetents, speed maniacs that are a constant menace to the danger to the other safe and conservative 90 per cent of automobile drivers and the millions of foot passengers and other vehicle drivers."

Obituary.

Virgil, the third son of Emmons and Daisy Rose, was born October 15th, 1896, in Auburn township, Crawford county, Ohio, and came to Ripley with his parents in 1903, where he has spent his young boyhood. After an illness of a few months, he passed into the life beyond April 15th, 1917, aged 20 years, 6 months and 1 day.

His was a promising young life, and it is hard for the loving parents, brothers and sisters to give him up, but we bow in submission to the will of our Heavenly Father, knowing he doeth all things well.

He was a member of the Ripley Congregational Sunday School, and his winning many friends proves that.

"We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths; in feelings, not in figures on a dial; We should count time by heart throbs; He most lives who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best."

We loved him, yes we loved him. But the angels loved him more; And they have sweetly galed him. To yonder shining shore.

The glided gates were open. A gentle voice said "Come." And when he bowed his head, He calmly entered home.

A father and mother, five brothers and two sisters, have the sympathy of their many friends and neighbors in this hour of bereavement.

The funeral was conducted at the home by the Rev. Chas. F. Mott, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Thursday afternoon, April 19, and the burial was in the family lot, where two other members of the family already lie, in Greenlawn cemetery.

Gard of Thanks.

We wish to thank Gerald's classmates for the beautiful memoriam published in last week's paper, in memory of our dear boy, who departed this life two years ago, this month, April 16th.

It is two sad years since he left us. When we loved and cherished dear Gerald we had but few fond memories. When his voice we do not hear, He is gone but not forgotten. And there dwains another year In the lonely hours of thinking Thoughts of him as always near.

Father and Mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. Howell.

Methodist Notes.

The Communion service was fittingly observed last Sunday morning. A goodly number were present and the occasion was an impressive and inspiring one.

District Superintendent Gallimore met with the quarterly conference on Monday morning. The report showed progress on the charge, and with the exception of the Plymouth church the finances are in good shape.

There are more dry voters in Plymouth than gathered at the Lutheran church Sunday evening.

The pastor will preach morning and evening next Sunday. Tuesday evening he will appear on the program of the District Conference at East Townsend, and remain for the efficient Conference at the same place on Wednesday.

The Efficiency Conference at East Townsend next Wednesday afternoon and evening is planned especially for our charge and a few others grouped with it. Every official member of the church is urged to attend.

Notice to Farmers.

A movement is now on to assist the farmers of this community during the harvest time. Men of Plymouth are being solicited to give a portion of their time during harvest to these farmers as may suggest their kind of help, and to receive in turn the prevailing wages. A committee will be in charge of the list, and any one wanting help may report to the committee. Further statement will be published when the matter is more perfectly organized.

TESTED AND PROVEN.

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well Earned Reputation.

For months Plymouth readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. What other remedy should be considered such convincing proof of merit?

T. P. Neely, farmer, Park St., Plymouth, says: "I had a lame back and pains through my limbs. My kidneys were weak and I had to get up five or six times at night on account of their getting too frequently. Four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the kidney weakness and pains in my back."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the name that Mr. Neely had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

New Election Laws.

Ohio's new election law, the Mooney act, goes into operation May 1, 1918. It provides for sample ballots printed on pink paper, reduces the county election board from four to two members; doubles the compensation of election judges and clerks; all deadlocks on the reduced board will be decided by the state election supervisor; voters moving from country to city shall not have a right to vote for twenty days after removal; August primaries are done away with and are set for the second Saturday in September; polls open at 5:30 a. m. and close at 5 p. m., a half hour earlier than formerly; judges and clerks, now receiving three dollars a day will receive six dollars a day after May 1, 1918; election precincts hereafter must be divided if they contain over 450 voters; heretofore the limit was 300 voters.

Five Indicted by Grand Jury.

After a four day session in which seven cases were investigated and 32 witnesses examined the Huron county grand jury reported late last week Thursday afternoon and returned five indictments.

Three of the indictments returned were for men who are now serving in the county jail. These men are as follows: Jacob From of Plymouth, charged with stealing canned goods from the Smith hotel, Ohio Taylor of Bellevue, charged with failure to support his minor children, and Ira Tutor, charged with burglarizing a drug store at Chicago Junction.

The other two are sub rosa indictments and will not be made public until the accused are arrested. The cases dismissed were the one against Leo Brown of Havana, charged with manslaughter, and J. J. Lumbright, charged with burglary, both covered from the mayor's court on a charge of stealing wheat.

Public Sale.

1 sorrel horse, 1 three-year-old mare, broke couple, and 1 two-year-old colt.

1 Guernsey cow, 1 calf, par Jersey and part Guernsey, 2 horses, weights about 125 lbs. each.

2 farm wagons, wagon box, set single harness, set double harness, market wagon, single wagon, bob sled, tin springs, celery tank, one Green House, glazed hot bed shed, plow, barrow, and other farm and gardening tools, fertilizer in sacks, 4,000 feet of lumber for celery bleaching, large table, new cream can, 2 10-gallon jars, and many other articles.

ALBERT OUDERKERK, Administrator of the Estate of Stoffer Kruger, Geo. Cole Agent, Chas. Brown, Clerk.

Profitable to Market Young Cockerels Early.

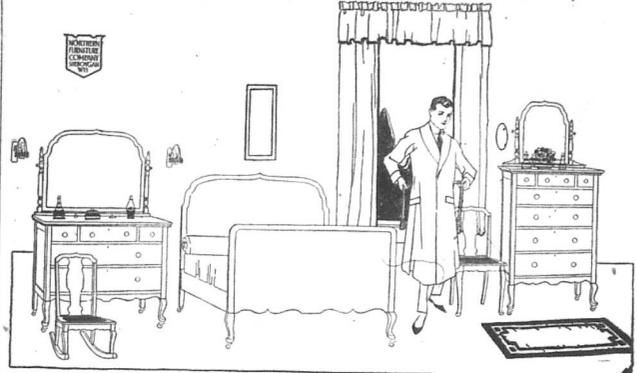

Unless cockerels are wanted for breeding purposes, it will be more profitable to fatten the male birds of the lighter breeds directly for the market, according to M. C. Kilpatrick, poultry specialist for the College of Agriculture. Cockerets of the Leghorn and similar breeds should be sent to market when they weigh from 11 to 12 pounds each, at this weight they bring as much as broilers as when they weigh from 3 to 4 pounds and are sold for roasters. There is a saving of feed for 100 or 120 days is effected and more attention can be given toward pushing the pullets for egg production.

There is a growing demand for canons and most prod. cers will make a great profit by canoning the cockerels of the larger breeds and fattening them until after the holidays.

A Huron county farmer suggests that the hourly bulletins issued on extravaganly and wastefully should be addressed to the loafers and not to farmers. Work the year round is a stern necessity to all good farmers and they do not need a horde of swivel chair officeholders to lash them to greater efforts than they are capable of.

Have always been accustomed to it if the farmers have to stop and read every bulletin that a hired press agent conjures up every thirty minutes, the sons of the plow and respect stand to lose most valuable time. The most pathetic thing these war lords should do is to give away their bulletins and messages to chase the loafers out of the city parks and state house yards who sit on the benches in the park and discuss the high cost of sugar and gasoline.

Everybody can be loyal and prove it. The old man of wealth can give of his abundance to help supply the sinews of war. Woman at all times has shown that she can be a very tower of strength and comfort to the men in the camp. She has been a ministering angel in many ways to contribute to the welfare of the boys in the field.

Ohio utilities commission Tuesday virtually laid down a principle that gas companies shall be entitled to a return of 10 per cent on their investments. In a ruling on a north-eastern Ohio rate case the commissioners set a precedent which likely will be held when a readjustment of gas rates throughout the state will be made.

Congress proposes to place newspapers in the luxury class. They are a luxury—for those who own them. They want to tax them along with tobacco, beer and other luxuries to pay for the war cost. By all means tax the newspapers and other luxuries, and let such necessities as stock brokers, stock exchanges, mail order houses, etc., go free.

The disposition already shown by some men to make the exigencies of war contribute to their own excessive profit by a cornering of food products cannot, any too soon, be curbed by the hand of the government. The man who would use the misery or want of his fellowmen in time of war to line his own pockets beyond the dreams of avarice does not deserve to have a country.

Railroad paymasters are busy discharging pay which occurred since January 1, under the terms of the Adamson law. The Chicago & North-western, and Burlington and Quincy roads it is reported began back payments the past week. It is calculated that all roads of the country will have started procedure to clear up these items, estimated to aggregate $87,000,000 for the railroads of the United States by April 30th.

Forty days to go Fourteen Miles.

The steel door frames, which are to be used in the Mansfield General hospital arrived this morning, says the Mansfield News of Monday, and are being hauled to the hospital site. Work on the hospital has been delayed somewhat by the failure of these frames to arrive. The frames were manufactured at Shelby, and were shipped from the factory on March 14. Although Shelby is only 15 miles from Mansfield, the car was lost and 40 days were required to have it come through when it should have come through in less than a day.

Expert Advice Offered on City Gardening.

The Ohio Branch, Council of National Defense has arranged to send to the different cities of the state, trained expert gardeners to address evening gatherings of farmers and vacant lot gardeners on different phases of garden management, including soil preparation, varieties and amounts of seed necessary, depths of planting different crops, cultivation, intercropping, etc., and if schedule permits the expert can remain over to make personal visits. Those interested should immediately get in touch with the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, or with the Mayor and ask their arrangements to be made for a visit from one of these experts.

Sowing Oats for Hay.

When clover meadows have been damaged by winter killing and an extra crop of hay is desired, oats is one of the best temporary hay crops. Oats and field peas are sometimes planted together and produce hay of an excellent quality, the peas raising the protein content of the mixture. When planted together, 2 bushels of oats and 2 pecks peas make a good combination. The rank growing varieties of oats, such as Silver Mine, Swedish Select and alder oats now at the rate of 3 bushels to the acre make a large yield. Oats seem to make the best hay when cut just as they are coming into the dough stage. The crop can be cured more easily if allowed to get ripper although the straw will not be so palatable. When cut toward the dough stage, just as the lower leaves are turning yellow, yields of two tons to the acre can be secured.

Why We Need a New School Building.

In last week's issue of the Plymouth Advertiser we gave an outline of the plans for the school improvement under consideration. This week we wish to explain why this improvement is necessary.

There are enrolled in the grades 225 pupils or an average of over 38 pupils to the grade. This necessitates one room for each grade. At the present time the third and fourth grades and the sixth and seventh grades are not separated. This unequal distribution of pupils works over as a burden to the teacher and pupil alike. The parents of children in these rooms have a just grievance against the schools in that their children are not receiving the same attention from the schools that are given to the children of other grades, in fact less than half of the time and attention that could be given to a room of half of the number of pupils.

Then the teachers of these grades are subjected to unjust criticism and unfair comparisons with teachers of single grades. With half of the pupils and twice the time for each pupil entirely different results could be obtained.

Policy: Give every pupil and every teacher the same chance. Rebuild eight grade rooms a necessary. We have a high school of 75 pupils in a town of this size the number should not be under 100, and will soon grow to that number if maintained at a high standard.

The law demands that every community provide means whereby every child of the community may obtain a first grade high school education at public expense. If no such school is maintained in a community, the tuition and transportation of such pupils must be met by the community to a school of that character elsewhere.

A re-organization of our first grade charter was removed and it was only upon a promise that the deficiencies of our high school would be remedied that it would be restored.

We do not meet the requirements of a first grade high school in the following particulars: Our library and reference books are deficient in both number and kind; our course of study is not diversified enough to meet the demands of the different types of students and to meet these demands the teaching force is inadequate; we have neither room nor equipment for the laboratory work required in the teaching of the sciences.

The children of this community demand advantages equal to those of other communities, none deserve them more! Shall we leave it to Chicago Junction, Shelby or Norwalk to do for the children of Plymouth what we refuse to do for them ourselves?

Mr. Citizen: Your first duty as a citizen is to provide the best possible environment and advantages for the children. Don't be a slacker! Do your duty! Do it now!

Before many weeks, unless there is a big change in market quotations, the famous ice cream soda, will cost a dime. The increased cost of sugar, used extensively in syrups, cream, "dope" is given as the main reason for the increase. Fruits also have taken a jump. In addition to this, ice costs more now and so does everything else that comes from the fountain, the dispensers of long, cooling drinks say.

F. Marion Savder, Mansfield well driller, who is connected with the Shelby Oil & Gas company, went to Chicago yesterday and will begin operations today on the sinking of the first oil well on the Pike farm west of Shelby. The first well will be put down as a test, and if it proves a producer others will be sunk. The company has about 6,000 acres of land leased in that section. —Mansfield News.

The hundreds of young men who rushed to the marriage license bureaus when it was learned that married men were to be exempted from military duty are to have their plans for nothing. The war department has ruled that all men who have been married since the declaration that a state of war existed will be liable to military duty just as single men are. The ruling came from the department after receipts of reports from all parts of the United States which said the men undoubtedly were rushing into marriage in order to escape the military service.

Huron county farmers are to be excused from jury duty this spring in order that they may devote their time to work on the farm. This is a ruling that has been handed down by Judge Young of common pleas court. This action is in line with that taken in practically every county throughout the state. Governor Cox has requested that all farmers be excused from jury duty so that they may increase their farm production and thereby eliminate a possible food shortage next winter. Judge Young feels that this request is a fair one as the presence of every farmer is needed at home during the present season of the year.

We wish to thank the kind neighbors and friends who rendered assistance during the sickness and death of our son and brother, also those who sent flowers, also the centralized school for their beautiful floral offering.

The qualified electors of the Plymouth Village Special School District of Plymouth, Ohio, will take notice that a special election will be held in said District on the 15th day of May 1917, for the purpose of voting on a general bond issue for said District, authorizing the Board of Education to sell bonds not to exceed the sum of $500,000 FIFTY Thousand Dollars, covering a period of not more than forty years for the purpose of paying for the cost of repairs to the present building and to erect, furnish and equip an addition thereto, and that said election will be held in the usual place and time for holding regular elections. For more particular information said electors are referred by the resolution adopted by the Board of Education, April 18, 1917, now on file with the Clerk of said Board, Dr. C. S. Walker. From that place he ran away, coming to his home in Shiloh Friday night. He fired the shot into his right temple, and the bullet imbedded itself in his brain. The voters of Plymouth Special School District will be called upon May 15 to decide a question of much vital importance to both our town and schools—that of issuing bonds in the sum of $50,000 to enlarge and remodel our present school building as well as place the same in a more safe and sanitary condition. The question is not one of whether we wish to not a case of absolute necessity to comply with the school laws of Ohio. All grades are overcrowded, not only during two rooming in the winter but during the remaining an additional expense and much inconvenience, and inasmuch as those improvements must be made soon or later, there is no seeming reason why it should not be done at once and save this outside additional rent, which in the long run is just that much money thrown away. A town with good school facilities is looked upon as wide awake and progressive and when heads of families desire to locate in order to educate their children, and that town where they offer the best is usually the place where they locate. Remember the improvements are not optional, but demanded by the State, and inasmuch as they must be made, why not vote the bonds and start the work as early as possible?

ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS Given to Ohio Farm Boys in Battle for Meat and Bread.

War is hell painted red. We are chained to the Bread Line. The belly must be fed. In army and navy the biggest gun is a meat ticket.

The Ohio Macadam Association will give $1,000 to encourage boys to stay on the farm and grow better grain and live stock. Prize fighters have had more applause than bread and farmers.

At the game and horse race heroes get the Spotlight while pig and calf growers get back seats. It is time to applaud the hero of the field and farm.

The Ohio Macadam Association will help send 100 boys to the Chesago Stock Show in December. The thrill of travel appeals to a boy. A free trip has greater value to a boy than its cost in money.

Ohio State University conducts stock judging contests at County Fairs. To induce more boys to enter, the Ohio Macadam Association will pay $10 toward sending the winner boy to Chicago, if the Fair Board will pay the rest. If no stock judging contest is held then the Fair Board may select some other contest, such as showing best pig, calf, sheep, sample of corn or wheat, to give the winner for Ohioans. Lure of the city seems irresistible. The lonely, mud-road country home is being deserted. Scarcity of farm labor is a national menace. Faded streets, white lights, short hours, and high wages swell the city and shrink the army of producers on the farm.

The plow feeds the sky-scraper. The cow suckles the city. Let Chambers of Commerce, industrial organizations join in giving reward to boys and girls who do something in the way of growing meat tickets. The great need of Ohio today is more and better live stock. Meat makes the blood red. The Ohio Macadam Association is ready with One Thousand Dollars, Good Money, to help in the Battle for Meat and Bread. Those interested should address a letter to No. 405 Hartman Building, Columbus, Ohio. Do it now.
