

SEDIWIOUS LITERATURE

Under the Gorb, Christianity.

The following is a clipping from Tuesday's Plain Dealer:

THREE CHARGED WITH OBSCURING PASTOR RUSSELL VOLUMES.

Scranton, Pa. March 4.—Charged with circulating millions of literature in the form of books published by the Pastor Russell Society, said by the prosecution to be filled with anti-war suggestions.

Reading, Pa.; Gilbert Bellow of Meadway, Pa., and Maurice L. Herr of Brooklyn, N. Y., were today held for federal court Monday. Further arrests are expected.

A few days ago a volume of this Russell literature was placed in my hands for examination and purchase in Studies in the Scriptures, Series VII. A Helping Hand (for Bible Students. Such is its striking and pretentious title.

That the reader may judge for himself of the true patriotic character of parts of this book we will quote with page references some passages from it.

"War is an open and utter violation of Christianity. If war is right, then Christianity is wrong, false, a lie. If Christianity is right, then war is wrong, false, a lie. The God revealed by Jesus, and by every spiritual leader of the race, is the God of battles. He lifts no sword. He asks to sacrifice human blood."

"If you tell me that this war is fought for the integrity of international law, I must ask you why it is directed only against Germany and not also against England, which is an equal, although far less terrible, violator of covenants between nations? If you say it is fought on behalf of the rights of neutrals, I must ask you where, when and by what belligerent the rights of neutrals have been conserved in this war, and what guarantee you can offer that, after all our expenditure of blood and money for the defense, these rights will not be similarly violated all over again in the next war by any nation which is battling for its life."

"If you say that it is fought for the security of American property and lives, I must ask you how and by what extent it will be safer for our citizens to cross the sea after the declaration of war than it was before?" Page 250.

"If you say it is a war of defense against maraud and intolerable aggression, I must reply that every blow which we have endured has been primarily a blow directed not against ourselves but against England and that it has not been proved that Germany has any intention or desire of attacking us." Page 251.

"In its ultimate causes, this war is the natural product of our unchristian civilization. Its armed men are grown from the dragon's teeth of secret diplomacy, imperialistic ambition, dynastic pride, greedy commercialism, economic exploitation at home and abroad."

"The war itself is wrong. Its prosecution will be a crime. There is not a question raised, an issue involved, a cause at stake, which is worth the life of one of the five billion of the sea or one kid-cot in the trenches." Page 251.

"Charge the responsibility of all this against the sects and creeds of Christendom. Two hundred thousand professed ministers of God and of Christ are standing before the world today telling the legends of the Dark Ages and seeking to hinder the people from coming to a knowledge of the truth, meanwhile receiving the peoples money and reverence." Does not such hypocrisy, such blasphemy against God, such deception of the people, such keeping of them in darkness, deserve a great punishment, and is it not right?" Page 252.

Here now is a piece of his prophetic wisdom: The frog issuing from the false prophet (the image of the beast) is the doctrine of immortality. These deluded souls actually believe this error, and will be able to prove it to the satisfaction of the dragon." Page 253.

I find on many of the book-shelves in the homes of Plymouth sets of these books (Studies in the Scriptures.) You will be doing yourself a religious service and the country a loyal patriotic service by burning them at once. They are utterly destructive of all loyalty and fidelity to the Church of Christ. Two hundred thousand ministers of various sects and denominations and Pastor Russell is a saint and a wise man. He is dead now. Died recently.

A man from Mansfield comes to us here and tells us on Friday afternoon peddling and teaching this stuff. G. C. SMITH.

That you may know Of the Awakening.

Our reunion of old subscribers continued last week up to the hour when we were compelled to waddle to press in order to make the mails.

We planned to furnish refreshments this week but the hydrant water is not piped into our upstairs quarters, besides we were compelled to send our office towel to the laundry and this exhausted our supply of linen.

"When we get down into our new downstairs room we intend to buy an extra towel and this will enable us to make quite a spread."

Speaking of towels, did you ever notice that the average Plymouth housewife has anywhere from ten to fifty towels that the man of the house knows not of?

"He dries his horny hands and troubles his mind on the same little thread bare towel from day to day, while in the linen closet or bureau drawer are dozens of new towels, crabs and otherwise, with pretty transverse borders, and with embroidered ends."

They come out when company comes and disappear into their dark hiding places when the guests leave. We knew a man once who wanted better towels for family use so he bought the best kind of a full dozen as a birthday remembrance. The good woman was tickled pink over her husband's kindness for she now has just a new towel, and she said to last her until her next birthday. Three years later he caught a glimpse of two of these towels. A neighbor's wife's aunt stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Six months later he caught another glimpse of the same towels when he came home unexpectedly and found one of his wife's aunt's stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Getting back to our reunion—John A. Hatch is a pretty nice sort of a fellow. He had heard about the new paper that is to be, and he came for a frost sea fight up against the music.

Mr. Tomp's must have bumped into Hatch on the stair way for we hadn't time to get out of our chair when he blundered into the door with the money in his hand. He's reading his paper now instead of ours.

Postmaster Eannest, whose christian name is Olive Shannon, wanted us to understand that he didn't have to pick an Advertiser out of a box over at the postoffice in order to get the news. His good and lawful money is hereby acknowledged.

Riley Zigler, drainage expert, ex-marshall and useful in many ways, is a new subscriber. That's the kind we like to make a fuss over. Of course we like the ninety and nine that stick, but the one that drops Saturday night was back to us and fold makes a bit with the shepherd.

C. W. Ebert, whose domicile is south of Plymouth on the Shelby pike, sent word by our Mr. Bottenfield that he wanted on the list with the new man. That means another to our organization. He's the son-in-law of the father of Carl Ebert, a young fellow that has made Plymouth proud by entering the navy and working up to the position of Ensign, and is now wearing gold braid at $200 per month.

We couldn't sleep nights, if we didn't express our thanks to A. W. Fullager for coming up from the rear with a speed that carries us into 1918. That isn't all we did it with grace and good nature that excited our admiration.

You remember we said last week that the ladies were always very punctual in paying subscriptions. We are now thinking of Miss Egan. We'll be sure to pay them in advance and her well wishes for the future success of the Advertiser.

Likewise Mrs. J. W. Taylor had our receipt for arrearages and a full year in advance, and with the receipt we at our promise to make the Advertiser worth twice the sum charged.

For an all-round good fellow come up to Ned Lond. He attended our Saturday session and seemed to enjoy it. Anyhow he paid his admission fee of $1.00 into the church treasury, and for the wife we've contracted to throw a ray of sunshine across the Leland threshold for the next fifty-two weeks.

The first man in Monday morning was Dick Hart, Dick, seller of Reliable foot wear, round on Broadway.

That you may know Of the Awakening.

Our reunion of old subscribers continued last week up to the hour when we were compelled to waddle to press in order to make the mails.

We planned to furnish refreshments this week but the hydrant water is not piped into our upstairs quarters, besides we were compelled to send our office towel to the laundry and this exhausted our supply of linen.

"When we get down into our new downstairs room we intend to buy an extra towel and this will enable us to make quite a spread."

Speaking of towels, did you ever notice that the average Plymouth housewife has anywhere from ten to fifty towels that the man of the house knows not of?

"He dries his horny hands and troubles his mind on the same little thread bare towel from day to day, while in the linen closet or bureau drawer are dozens of new towels, crabs and otherwise, with pretty transverse borders, and with embroidered ends."

They come out when company comes and disappear into their dark hiding places when the guests leave. We knew a man once who wanted better towels for family use so he bought the best kind of a full dozen as a birthday remembrance. The good woman was tickled pink over her husband's kindness for she now has just a new towel, and she said to last her until her next birthday. Three years later he caught a glimpse of two of these towels. A neighbor's wife's aunt stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Six months later he caught another glimpse of the same towels when he came home unexpectedly and found one of his wife's aunt's stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Getting back to our reunion—John A. Hatch is a pretty nice sort of a fellow. He had heard about the new paper that is to be, and he came for a frost sea fight up against the music.

Mr. Tomp's must have bumped into Hatch on the stair way for we hadn't time to get out of our chair when he blundered into the door with the money in his hand. He's reading his paper now instead of ours.

Postmaster Eannest, whose christian name is Olive Shannon, wanted us to understand that he didn't have to pick an Advertiser out of a box over at the postoffice in order to get the news. His good and lawful money is hereby acknowledged.

Riley Zigler, drainage expert, ex-marshall and useful in many ways, is a new subscriber. That's the kind we like to make a fuss over. Of course we like the ninety and nine that stick, but the one that drops Saturday night was back to us and fold makes a bit with the shepherd.

C. W. Ebert, whose domicile is south of Plymouth on the Shelby pike, sent word by our Mr. Bottenfield that he wanted on the list with the new man. That means another to our organization. He's the son-in-law of the father of Carl Ebert, a young fellow that has made Plymouth proud by entering the navy and working up to the position of Ensign, and is now wearing gold braid at $200 per month.

We couldn't sleep nights, if we didn't express our thanks to A. W. Fullager for coming up from the rear with a speed that carries us into 1918. That isn't all we did it with grace and good nature that excited our admiration.

You remember we said last week that the ladies were always very punctual in paying subscriptions. We are now thinking of Miss Egan. We'll be sure to pay them in advance and her well wishes for the future success of the Advertiser.

Likewise Mrs. J. W. Taylor had our receipt for arrearages and a full year in advance, and with the receipt we at our promise to make the Advertiser worth twice the sum charged.

For an all-round good fellow come up to Ned Lond. He attended our Saturday session and seemed to enjoy it. Anyhow he paid his admission fee of $1.00 into the church treasury, and for the wife we've contracted to throw a ray of sunshine across the Leland threshold for the next fifty-two weeks.

The first man in Monday morning was Dick Hart, Dick, seller of Reliable foot wear, round on Broadway.

That you may know Of the Awakening.

Our reunion of old subscribers continued last week up to the hour when we were compelled to waddle to press in order to make the mails.

We planned to furnish refreshments this week but the hydrant water is not piped into our upstairs quarters, besides we were compelled to send our office towel to the laundry and this exhausted our supply of linen.

"When we get down into our new downstairs room we intend to buy an extra towel and this will enable us to make quite a spread."

Speaking of towels, did you ever notice that the average Plymouth housewife has anywhere from ten to fifty towels that the man of the house knows not of?

"He dries his horny hands and troubles his mind on the same little thread bare towel from day to day, while in the linen closet or bureau drawer are dozens of new towels, crabs and otherwise, with pretty transverse borders, and with embroidered ends."

They come out when company comes and disappear into their dark hiding places when the guests leave. We knew a man once who wanted better towels for family use so he bought the best kind of a full dozen as a birthday remembrance. The good woman was tickled pink over her husband's kindness for she now has just a new towel, and she said to last her until her next birthday. Three years later he caught a glimpse of two of these towels. A neighbor's wife's aunt stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Six months later he caught another glimpse of the same towels when he came home unexpectedly and found one of his wife's aunt's stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Getting back to our reunion—John A. Hatch is a pretty nice sort of a fellow. He had heard about the new paper that is to be, and he came for a frost sea fight up against the music.

Mr. Tomp's must have bumped into Hatch on the stair way for we hadn't time to get out of our chair when he blundered into the door with the money in his hand. He's reading his paper now instead of ours.

Postmaster Eannest, whose christian name is Olive Shannon, wanted us to understand that he didn't have to pick an Advertiser out of a box over at the postoffice in order to get the news. His good and lawful money is hereby acknowledged.

Riley Zigler, drainage expert, ex-marshall and useful in many ways, is a new subscriber. That's the kind we like to make a fuss over. Of course we like the ninety and nine that stick, but the one that drops Saturday night was back to us and fold makes a bit with the shepherd.

C. W. Ebert, whose domicile is south of Plymouth on the Shelby pike, sent word by our Mr. Bottenfield that he wanted on the list with the new man. That means another to our organization. He's the son-in-law of the father of Carl Ebert, a young fellow that has made Plymouth proud by entering the navy and working up to the position of Ensign, and is now wearing gold braid at $200 per month.

We couldn't sleep nights, if we didn't express our thanks to A. W. Fullager for coming up from the rear with a speed that carries us into 1918. That isn't all we did it with grace and good nature that excited our admiration.

You remember we said last week that the ladies were always very punctual in paying subscriptions. We are now thinking of Miss Egan. We'll be sure to pay them in advance and her well wishes for the future success of the Advertiser.

Likewise Mrs. J. W. Taylor had our receipt for arrearages and a full year in advance, and with the receipt we at our promise to make the Advertiser worth twice the sum charged.

For an all-round good fellow come up to Ned Lond. He attended our Saturday session and seemed to enjoy it. Anyhow he paid his admission fee of $1.00 into the church treasury, and for the wife we've contracted to throw a ray of sunshine across the Leland threshold for the next fifty-two weeks.

The first man in Monday morning was Dick Hart, Dick, seller of Reliable foot wear, round on Broadway.

That you may know Of the Awakening.

Our reunion of old subscribers continued last week up to the hour when we were compelled to waddle to press in order to make the mails.

We planned to furnish refreshments this week but the hydrant water is not piped into our upstairs quarters, besides we were compelled to send our office towel to the laundry and this exhausted our supply of linen.

"When we get down into our new downstairs room we intend to buy an extra towel and this will enable us to make quite a spread."

Speaking of towels, did you ever notice that the average Plymouth housewife has anywhere from ten to fifty towels that the man of the house knows not of?

"He dries his horny hands and troubles his mind on the same little thread bare towel from day to day, while in the linen closet or bureau drawer are dozens of new towels, crabs and otherwise, with pretty transverse borders, and with embroidered ends."

They come out when company comes and disappear into their dark hiding places when the guests leave. We knew a man once who wanted better towels for family use so he bought the best kind of a full dozen as a birthday remembrance. The good woman was tickled pink over her husband's kindness for she now has just a new towel, and she said to last her until her next birthday. Three years later he caught a glimpse of two of these towels. A neighbor's wife's aunt stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Six months later he caught another glimpse of the same towels when he came home unexpectedly and found one of his wife's aunt's stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Getting back to our reunion—John A. Hatch is a pretty nice sort of a fellow. He had heard about the new paper that is to be, and he came for a frost sea fight up against the music.

Mr. Tomp's must have bumped into Hatch on the stair way for we hadn't time to get out of our chair when he blundered into the door with the money in his hand. He's reading his paper now instead of ours.

Postmaster Eannest, whose christian name is Olive Shannon, wanted us to understand that he didn't have to pick an Advertiser out of a box over at the postoffice in order to get the news. His good and lawful money is hereby acknowledged.

Riley Zigler, drainage expert, ex-marshall and useful in many ways, is a new subscriber. That's the kind we like to make a fuss over. Of course we like the ninety and nine that stick, but the one that drops Saturday night was back to us and fold makes a bit with the shepherd.

C. W. Ebert, whose domicile is south of Plymouth on the Shelby pike, sent word by our Mr. Bottenfield that he wanted on the list with the new man. That means another to our organization. He's the son-in-law of the father of Carl Ebert, a young fellow that has made Plymouth proud by entering the navy and working up to the position of Ensign, and is now wearing gold braid at $200 per month.

We couldn't sleep nights, if we didn't express our thanks to A. W. Fullager for coming up from the rear with a speed that carries us into 1918. That isn't all we did it with grace and good nature that excited our admiration.

You remember we said last week that the ladies were always very punctual in paying subscriptions. We are now thinking of Miss Egan. We'll be sure to pay them in advance and her well wishes for the future success of the Advertiser.

Likewise Mrs. J. W. Taylor had our receipt for arrearages and a full year in advance, and with the receipt we at our promise to make the Advertiser worth twice the sum charged.

For an all-round good fellow come up to Ned Lond. He attended our Saturday session and seemed to enjoy it. Anyhow he paid his admission fee of $1.00 into the church treasury, and for the wife we've contracted to throw a ray of sunshine across the Leland threshold for the next fifty-two weeks.

The first man in Monday morning was Dick Hart, Dick, seller of Reliable foot wear, round on Broadway.

That you may know Of the Awakening.

Our reunion of old subscribers continued last week up to the hour when we were compelled to waddle to press in order to make the mails.

We planned to furnish refreshments this week but the hydrant water is not piped into our upstairs quarters, besides we were compelled to send our office towel to the laundry and this exhausted our supply of linen.

"When we get down into our new downstairs room we intend to buy an extra towel and this will enable us to make quite a spread."

Speaking of towels, did you ever notice that the average Plymouth housewife has anywhere from ten to fifty towels that the man of the house knows not of?

"He dries his horny hands and troubles his mind on the same little thread bare towel from day to day, while in the linen closet or bureau drawer are dozens of new towels, crabs and otherwise, with pretty transverse borders, and with embroidered ends."

They come out when company comes and disappear into their dark hiding places when the guests leave. We knew a man once who wanted better towels for family use so he bought the best kind of a full dozen as a birthday remembrance. The good woman was tickled pink over her husband's kindness for she now has just a new towel, and she said to last her until her next birthday. Three years later he caught a glimpse of two of these towels. A neighbor's wife's aunt stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Six months later he caught another glimpse of the same towels when he came home unexpectedly and found one of his wife's aunt's stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Getting back to our reunion—John A. Hatch is a pretty nice sort of a fellow. He had heard about the new paper that is to be, and he came for a frost sea fight up against the music.

Mr. Tomp's must have bumped into Hatch on the stair way for we hadn't time to get out of our chair when he blundered into the door with the money in his hand. He's reading his paper now instead of ours.

Postmaster Eannest, whose christian name is Olive Shannon, wanted us to understand that he didn't have to pick an Advertiser out of a box over at the postoffice in order to get the news. His good and lawful money is hereby acknowledged.

Riley Zigler, drainage expert, ex-marshall and useful in many ways, is a new subscriber. That's the kind we like to make a fuss over. Of course we like the ninety and nine that stick, but the one that drops Saturday night was back to us and fold makes a bit with the shepherd.

C. W. Ebert, whose domicile is south of Plymouth on the Shelby pike, sent word by our Mr. Bottenfield that he wanted on the list with the new man. That means another to our organization. He's the son-in-law of the father of Carl Ebert, a young fellow that has made Plymouth proud by entering the navy and working up to the position of Ensign, and is now wearing gold braid at $200 per month.

We couldn't sleep nights, if we didn't express our thanks to A. W. Fullager for coming up from the rear with a speed that carries us into 1918. That isn't all we did it with grace and good nature that excited our admiration.

You remember we said last week that the ladies were always very punctual in paying subscriptions. We are now thinking of Miss Egan. We'll be sure to pay them in advance and her well wishes for the future success of the Advertiser.

Likewise Mrs. J. W. Taylor had our receipt for arrearages and a full year in advance, and with the receipt we at our promise to make the Advertiser worth twice the sum charged.

For an all-round good fellow come up to Ned Lond. He attended our Saturday session and seemed to enjoy it. Anyhow he paid his admission fee of $1.00 into the church treasury, and for the wife we've contracted to throw a ray of sunshine across the Leland threshold for the next fifty-two weeks.

The first man in Monday morning was Dick Hart, Dick, seller of Reliable foot wear, round on Broadway.

That you may know Of the Awakening.

Our reunion of old subscribers continued last week up to the hour when we were compelled to waddle to press in order to make the mails.

We planned to furnish refreshments this week but the hydrant water is not piped into our upstairs quarters, besides we were compelled to send our office towel to the laundry and this exhausted our supply of linen.

"When we get down into our new downstairs room we intend to buy an extra towel and this will enable us to make quite a spread."

Speaking of towels, did you ever notice that the average Plymouth housewife has anywhere from ten to fifty towels that the man of the house knows not of?

"He dries his horny hands and troubles his mind on the same little thread bare towel from day to day, while in the linen closet or bureau drawer are dozens of new towels, crabs and otherwise, with pretty transverse borders, and with embroidered ends."

They come out when company comes and disappear into their dark hiding places when the guests leave. We knew a man once who wanted better towels for family use so he bought the best kind of a full dozen as a birthday remembrance. The good woman was tickled pink over her husband's kindness for she now has just a new towel, and she said to last her until her next birthday. Three years later he caught a glimpse of two of these towels. A neighbor's wife's aunt stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Six months later he caught another glimpse of the same towels when he came home unexpectedly and found one of his wife's aunt's stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

That you may know Of the Awakening.

Our reunion of old subscribers continued last week up to the hour when we were compelled to waddle to press in order to make the mails.

We planned to furnish refreshments this week but the hydrant water is not piped into our upstairs quarters, besides we were compelled to send our office towel to the laundry and this exhausted our supply of linen.

"When we get down into our new downstairs room we intend to buy an extra towel and this will enable us to make quite a spread."

Speaking of towels, did you ever notice that the average Plymouth housewife has anywhere from ten to fifty towels that the man of the house knows not of?

"He dries his horny hands and troubles his mind on the same little thread bare towel from day to day, while in the linen closet or bureau drawer are dozens of new towels, crabs and otherwise, with pretty transverse borders, and with embroidered ends."

They come out when company comes and disappear into their dark hiding places when the guests leave. We knew a man once who wanted better towels for family use so he bought the best kind of a full dozen as a birthday remembrance. The good woman was tickled pink over her husband's kindness for she now has just a new towel, and she said to last her until her next birthday. Three years later he caught a glimpse of two of these towels. A neighbor's wife's aunt stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Six months later he caught another glimpse of the same towels when he came home unexpectedly and found one of his wife's aunt's stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

That you may know Of the Awakening.

Our reunion of old subscribers continued last week up to the hour when we were compelled to waddle to press in order to make the mails.

We planned to furnish refreshments this week but the hydrant water is not piped into our upstairs quarters, besides we were compelled to send our office towel to the laundry and this exhausted our supply of linen.

"When we get down into our new downstairs room we intend to buy an extra towel and this will enable us to make quite a spread."

Speaking of towels, did you ever notice that the average Plymouth housewife has anywhere from ten to fifty towels that the man of the house knows not of?

"He dries his horny hands and troubles his mind on the same little thread bare towel from day to day, while in the linen closet or bureau drawer are dozens of new towels, crabs and otherwise, with pretty transverse borders, and with embroidered ends."

They come out when company comes and disappear into their dark hiding places when the guests leave. We knew a man once who wanted better towels for family use so he bought the best kind of a full dozen as a birthday remembrance. The good woman was tickled pink over her husband's kindness for she now has just a new towel, and she said to last her until her next birthday. Three years later he caught a glimpse of two of these towels. A neighbor's wife's aunt stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Six months later he caught another glimpse of the same towels when he came home unexpectedly and found one of his wife's aunt's stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

That you may know Of the Awakening.

Our reunion of old subscribers continued last week up to the hour when we were compelled to waddle to press in order to make the mails.

We planned to furnish refreshments this week but the hydrant water is not piped into our upstairs quarters, besides we were compelled to send our office towel to the laundry and this exhausted our supply of linen.

"When we get down into our new downstairs room we intend to buy an extra towel and this will enable us to make quite a spread."

Speaking of towels, did you ever notice that the average Plymouth housewife has anywhere from ten to fifty towels that the man of the house knows not of?

"He dries his horny hands and troubles his mind on the same little thread bare towel from day to day, while in the linen closet or bureau drawer are dozens of new towels, crabs and otherwise, with pretty transverse borders, and with embroidered ends."

They come out when company comes and disappear into their dark hiding places when the guests leave. We knew a man once who wanted better towels for family use so he bought the best kind of a full dozen as a birthday remembrance. The good woman was tickled pink over her husband's kindness for she now has just a new towel, and she said to last her until her next birthday. Three years later he caught a glimpse of two of these towels. A neighbor's wife's aunt stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Six months later he caught another glimpse of the same towels when he came home unexpectedly and found one of his wife's aunt's stayed overnight in his home, and on the rack over the lavatory hung one with a blue and another one with a red rose border. He was bidding the guest goodbye the wife excused herself and hurried the towels into the wash.

Getting back to our reunion—John A. Hatch is a pretty nice sort of a fellow. He had heard about the new paper that is to be, and he came for a frost sea fight up against the music.

Mr. Tomp's must have bumped into Hatch on the stair way for we hadn't time to get out of our chair when he blundered into the door with the money in his hand. He's reading his paper now instead of ours.

Postmaster Eannest, whose christian name is Olive Shannon, wanted us to understand that he didn't have to pick an Advertiser out of a box over at the postoffice in order to get the news. His good and lawful money is hereby acknowledged.

Riley Zigler, drainage expert, ex-marshall and useful in many ways, is a new subscriber. That's the kind we like to make a fuss over. Of course we like the ninety and nine that stick, but the one that drops Saturday night was back to us and fold makes a bit with the shepherd.

C. W

Plymouth Advertiser.
PLYMOUTH, OHIO.

O. A. WHITE, Ed. and Mgr.

Published at the Postoffice, Plymouth, Ohio, a second class matter.

TELEPHONE No 99

Terms of Subscription.

One Year (in advance).....$1.00
Six Months......50c
If not paid within three months. 1.25

Ripley Items.

Box Social at the Ripley High School this week Friday night. All invited.

Jay McCullough is arranging for a housekeeper and will keep his children with him in place of keeping them in the home.

Mrs. Nettie Dellavere of Tiro, is visiting her father, D. Truxell, and other relatives in Ripley at present.

Mrs. Georgia Boardman of Plymouth, was an over Sunday guest at the Boardman home.

Lucius Simmons, Ripley's tallest boy, will till the soil and help win the war by living in Ripley on the Farke Miller farm.

Mrs. Jeanney, aunt of, G. W. Brinson and Althea King, has been seriously ill at the Brinson home, where she has been spending the winter.

W. G. Blackmore, S. E. Gleason, H. H. Sibbett, C. E. Stotts, F. E. Craig, M. L. Maynard, A. D. Maynard and others, attended the Hillis lecture in Norwalk Sunday afternoon.

Epoworth League next Sunday eve in the Delphi church.

A new Edison was purchased by our school pupils and is now a splendid entertainment at the noon banquet hour for the pupils. It will have something to do at the High School social Friday eve at the high school house.

Class Three of the Delphi Sunday School held a social in the parlors of the church a week ago Wednesday.

W. B. Ross and Henry Luterman and family will soon bid adieu to their pleasant homes on our busy pike road and new neighbors will take their place.

Freeman Leonard is the loser of one of the best bronze turks in this community. They think spending several days looking for him that someone has lifted him from his roosting place.

May 6th, the first Sunday, is announced as the annual Thanksgiving meeting of the W. E. M. S.

Ashbrook Honored.

Representative W. A. Ashbrook has been elected without opposition to a place on the national democratic congressional committee. Unanimous recommendation was made by the Ohio delegation.

REXALL'S

Mentholine Balm

A soothing, healing anti-septic application highly beneficial for all skin affections, burns, scalds and wounds. It relieves pain, allays inflammation, and promotes rapid healing. Price 25c at J. L. JUDSON'S, The Rexall Store.

Soy Beans

Medium Green.

They never fail. Don't worry about winter killing or the summer drought. Sow in June, harvest in September. Always a ready market. The department of agriculture wants you to do your bit. We have now seed highly germinated. If you think of growing this good and profitable crop place your order direct with the producer. AND NO TRAVEL. Only a limited amount left. For sale by

O. L. BISHOP,
New Washington, Ohio
Local Phone 156

Wanted BEES

1 to 100 Colonies

N. B. QUIREN

BELLEVUE, OHIO

R. D. No. 7

St. Patrick's

Dance

Hamilton's Hall

Plymouth, O.

Monday Eve,

March 18, '18

ROBERTS' ORCHESTRA

Public Sale.

W. A. High, of New Washington, Ohio, as Administrator of the Pear J. Hillis estate and as agent of Mary E. Hillis will sell the Hillis farm, consisting of 100 acres, and located northeast of Tiro in Ashburn township, Crawford county, Ohio, at public auction on the 16th day of March, 1918, at 2 o'clock p. m., on the premises.

The terms of the sale are, one third cash, one third in one year, and one third in two years, deferred payments to be secured by mortgage and to bear interest. The purchaser, however, to have the privilege of paying all cash if he so desires. This is a good farm and will make a desirable piece of property for most any person.

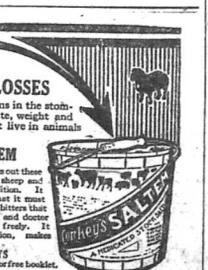

Young Mothers

Reserve strength for motherhood is of two-fold importance and thoughtful women before and after maternity take

SCOTT'S EMULSION

It supplies pure cod liver oil for rich blood and contains lime and soda with medicinal glycerine, all important ingredients for strengthening the nervous system and furnishing abundant nourishment.

It is free from alcohol. Insist on the genuine. The Norwegian cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is now made in our own American laboratories which makes it pure and palatable. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

KUHN DRUG CO.,
Shelby, Ohio.

W. S. STAMP CANVASS TO COVER THE STATE

"Blue Post Card" Solicitors Will Visit Every Home.

Columbus, O.—(Special).—Solicitors for United States War Savings and Thrift Stamps will canvass every house in every section of the state under operation of plans being worked out by local War Savings organizations through the state committee. These solicitors will be enrolled locally from volunteers among school children, mail carriers, boy scouts, insurance agents, women's organizations, labor unions, churches and all War Savings societies.

Use is being made of the government's "Blue Post Card" in conducting the house-to-house canvass. It is, in effect, a call on delivery plan.

These cards bear, on one side, an order on postmasters to have letter carriers deliver to the subscriber, on any specified date, whatever amount of War Savings or Thrift Stamps may be desired. Delivery and collection will be made by the mail carriers.

Those who are so solicited are informed by saying nothing to the solicitors, but to have the money ready to deliver to the postman when the stamps are presented. After the "Blue Post Card" order has been executed, the order cards will be turned over to the county chairman by the postmaster, thus furnishing an accurate record of the sales made in a given community in this manner.

Volunteer your dollars, let they be directed by the Kaiser. Buy War Savings Stamps.

DAILY W. S. STAMP QUOTA $290,400

If Ohio is to "Go Over," Distribution Must Equal $3.53 Per Second.

Columbus, O.—(Special).—Ohioans must buy United States War Savings and Thrift Stamps at the rate of approximately $3.53 per second during all of 1918. If the $100,000,000 quota for the state is to be passed, daily sales must equal $290,400 or the state will fall short of its allotment.

With a per capita quota of $29, it is obvious that every man, woman and child in the state must put forth some particular effort to insure the success of the government's campaign in Ohio, the Ohio War Savings committee explains. Some individuals will be forced to buy more than his proportion of stamps to meet the deficit occasioned when his neighbor fails to respond to the nation's request.

Reduced to hourly terms War Savings and Thrift Stamps worth $12,194 must be sold each 60 minutes of 1918; every cent of the nation's basis on your watch must see sales amounting to $202.

Leads in W. S. S. Agencies. Lima, O.—(Special).—With one authorized sales agency to every 72 of population, Allen county holds the state record for number of agencies accepting responsibility for distribution of War Savings and Thrift Stamps. The treasury department has asked that one authorized agent be established for every 300 of population.

Help buy a shell, do your part and do it well. Buy War Savings Stamps.

Boy Scouts Buy W. S. S. Woodstock, O.—(Special).—In one month members of the Boy Scouts War Savings society of this city bought $62,475 worth of War Savings and Thrift Stamps. This society is the first of its character organized in Ohio by Boy Scouts.

A THRIFT LOAN IS NOT A GIFT.

When you buy a War Savings Stamp what you do is to forego for the present the use of the money it costs. That money comes back to you in five years with interest at 4 per cent compounded quarterly. You do not give your money away; you simply place it at the disposal of your government in an hour of need. And, remember, these stamps when attached to a War Savings Certificate are precisely like the bonds of biggest depositories—they are secured by the whole resources of the United States. There is no safer security in the world.

W. S. STAMP
SAVE AND SERVE BUY WAR SAVINGS STAMPS
With us for a better Adventure!

NOTICE.

No treats to debtors.—Commencing March 5, 1918, there will no more treating by the creditors when credit customers pay their accounts. Stores will be open Monday and Saturday evening until further notice. Signed F. B. Lofland, Clark Bros., R. T. Chappell.

Farm to Exchange.

Will exchange my 110 acre farm, 1 mile north of Plymouth, on pike, car line stop 65, large bank barn, wagon house, fine chicken house, tool house, smoke house, good fences, and well drained land. Fine residence and no nicer place around on which to live. Shelby, Plymouth, Willard or other nearby city real estate accepted as down payment. No cash needed. Long time on balance. Phone or visit immediately. F. D. GUNSAULLUS, Plymouth, Ohio.

Anyone needing chestnut or egg anthracite coal for incubator or brooder purposes should book their orders with C. R. Eisele at once, who will supply their needs.

Good house, suitable for two families, well located, on good street and near the public square. Good sized lot and garden, small barn on lot. Price reasonable. Inquire of E. K. Trauger.

For Sale—Seven room house with extra lot, with cistern and gas. Clear title at 1624 N. Broadway, Shelby, Phone 4 at 734, Shelby, Ohio.

Wanted—Second hand one horse wagon. Call phone 3B-194.

Farmers—See me for your spring fertilizers. Price right. S. Bottenfield.

For Sale—Premo Elinse gas range, good as new. Inquire phone A 153.

For Sale—Range cook stove, brass coal, wood or gas. Call at store of M. Rogers.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Hollett, Tuesday, March 12.

For Sale.

My residence on Plymouth street, one block south of the square, containing 11 rooms, exclusive of closet and bathroom. Good location. Price at a bargain, if sold soon. Call on or address, Frank Sheely.

Notice of Appointment.

Estate of Wells Rogers, Deceased. Notice is hereby given that Mack Rogers has been appointed and qualified as Executor of the estate of Wells Rogers, late of Huron County, Ohio, deceased. All persons having claims against said estate will present them, duly authenticated, to said executor for allowance. ARTHUR E. ROWLEY, Probate Judge, Norwalk, Ohio, Jan. 19, 1918.

Legal Notice.

Estate of John W. Taylor, Deceased. Notice is hereby given that Catharine Taylor has been appointed and qualified as executrix of the estate of John W. Taylor, late of Huron County, Ohio, deceased. All persons having claims against said estate will present them, duly authenticated, to said executrix for allowance. ARTHUR E. ROWLEY, Probate Judge, Norwalk, Ohio Feb. 27, 1918.

Legal Notice

Estate of Ross Cuykendall, Deceased. Notice is hereby given that Fred Cuykendall has been appointed and qualified as executor of the estate of Ross Cuykendall, late of Huron County, Ohio, deceased. All persons having claims against said estate will present them, duly authenticated, to said executor for allowance. ARTHUR E. ROWLEY, Probate Judge, Norwalk, Ohio, Feb. 8, 1918.

Mary's Raised 800 Chickens in That Brooder
Quite some contract, wasn't it? But why? She didn't have a bit of trouble and hardly lost a chick. The STANDARD COLONY BROODER. Patented. It is a wonder. Makes three chicks grow where one grew before, cuts expenses out and operating expense to less than half, and takes less than one-fourth the time and labor required by other brooders. Don't look to see one, but order the "Standard" to do all your brooding. It will raise you a lot of extra profit in less than a month. Used by 50,000 poultry raisers everywhere. Write for circular, price 10c to 25c. Name and address on envelope.

SOL SPEAR Agt.
We guarantee the "Standard" and you must see the guarantee to suit yourself. Isn't that so?

March Specials
A lot of New Silks, 1 yd wide, suitable for Waists or Skirts, $1.50 per yd
CURTAIN MATERIALS
At last year's prices. Special lot at 12c yd
Linen Curtain edges at 5c yd
WHITE GOODS
25c values at 19c yd
New Cretonnes New Neckwear
NEW SHRUNK COTTONS
Pink, Old Rose, Blue, Tan and Green, 1 yd wide, Mercerized finish—fully as pretty as linen—price, 50c yd
FANCY BUCKLES
Now so popular for trimming. A nice variety of shapes and colors.
LOOKERS ALWAYS WELCOME.

Elnora Taylor

Everything
In footwear you would care to wear. None of the UNDESIRABLES
Styles suitable for town or country—Office or Reception Room. For the man who is particular.
DICK BROTHERS.

Efficiency in Banking
We take pride in the way our bank is run. Our depositors include the biggest men in town.
Each individual account is given special attention.
We are opening new accounts daily. Come in and talk over your banking with us. Our officers will be glad to meet you.
It is the man with cash in bank whose voice is heard.
Checking and savings accounts.
THE PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
E. K. TRAUGER, Attorney, Notary Public, Real Estate and Collections.
F. D. GUNSAULLUS, PLYMOUTH OHIO, Attorney and Counselor at Law.
Officers—2nd Floor Clark Block
W. A. CLARK, DREHLEIN, Real Estate, Fire Insurance, & PLYMOUTH, OHIO.

STOP YOUR WORM LOSSES
Animals troubled with worms in the stomach and bowels lose appetite, weight and tone.—These worms can't live in animals treated with
CONKEY'S SALT-EM
A medicated stock salt that drives out these worms and puts horses, cattle, sheep and dogs in healthy, vigorous condition. It supplies the mineral with salt that is most lacking. They, combined with tonics and biters that are decidedly beneficial. Animals like it and doctor themselves if they can't get it and doctor increases appetite, improves digestion, makes horses healthy and positive.
TRY IT 30-60-90 DAYS
Money back if not satisfied. Ask for free booklet.
40 lbs., $2.25
100 lbs., $5
200 lbs., $8
KUHN DRUG CO.,
Shelby, Ohio.

As Plymouth Comes And Goes.

Ted McClinchey spent Monday in Tiro and Shelby transacting business.

P. H. Root left Thursday for Cleveland, where he will spend a few days.

Mrs. Clarence Ferguson and Mrs. Nellie Kendall spent Saturday in Mansfield.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wyant spent Sunday and Monday with friends in Mt. Vernon.

Mrs. Geo. Lofland spent Wednesday with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Hansen, of Willard.

W. M. Reed and Kenneth Reed of Toledo, are visitors at the home of Mrs. Rosa L. Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Howell and Mrs. A. H. Ashley were guests of relatives near Shiloh Sunday.

Mrs. Guy Boyers of Toledo, is spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. Christine Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McFadden motored to Shelby Thursday, spending the day with friends.

Miss Pearl Eder, of Canton, was over Sunday guest of her sister, Mrs. P. H. Root, Portner street.

Mrs. Mary B. Drennan and niece, Mrs. William Coyle, are visiting in Mansfield and Galion this week.

Mrs. D. Blosser attended the funeral of her mother, Mrs. B. G. Ford, last week Thursday, at Rushmore, O.

Mr. Alvah Tubbs of Kansas City, Mo., arrived in Plymouth Thursday, to attend the funeral of his brother, J. C. Tubbs.

Miss Florence Reynolds has returned and will resume her position as trimmer in Mrs. Geo. Sinsinger's millinery store.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Ford motored to Rushmore, O. Wednesday to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. B. G. Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Snyder and daughter, Phyllis, of North Fairfield, were recent guests of her parents, J. W. Page.

Mrs. Geo. Sinsinger spent the first of the week in Cleveland attending the Millinery Openings of the different wholesale houses.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Mills returned to their home at Milan, O. Tuesday, after spending two months with Mrs. Wm. Lofland.

Mr. Jasper Fraick and Miss Florence Reynolds of Sulphur Springs, were Saturday and Sunday guests of the Blackford and Ross families.

Chas. Wolford has sold his insurance business in Owosso, Mich., and will make Plymouth his home and probably engage in business here.

Mrs. W. C. Coyle returned to her home in Greenville, South Carolina, today, having spent the past month with her aunt, Mrs. Mary Drennan.

Mrs. O. A. White and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Munk and daughter, Eleanor, of Mt. Gilead, spent a few hours in Plymouth Sunday.

Mrs. Roy B. Hatch and little daughter, Doris June, left Tuesday for Bucyrus, where she will spend a few days with friends and relatives of that city.

Miss Beulah Cottrell, trimmer in the M. M. Lerch millinery shop, attended a private dance given by Prof. Schuler, Jn. Shelby, Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hannel and three children, of Havana, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hough of Willard, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hough, Sunday.

Mrs. D. S. French and daughter, Jane, returned to New York Sunday, and will await the renting of a suitable home in Plymouth, before transferring to it household goods.

LOCAL MARKET REPORT

Eggs (cash)	32
Butter	28 to 40
Wheat	2 to 10
Oats	20

Sensible Millinery

I have purchased my new stock of Spring Millinery, and am showing pretty and very sensible patterns that will prevail for spring and summer wear.

THE LEADING STYLES ARE

POKES, CHIN-CHINS, TURBANS, SAILORS

CHILDREN'S HATS IN VARIETY.

MRS. GEORGE SINSINGER

Glottias McCormack.

Chas. M. Brown spent Sunday in Cleveland with his daughter, Mrs. A. T. Jump and attended the big John McCormack concert at the Hippodrome given in the interest of the Red Cross.

Mr. Brown reports the event as one of the biggest ever given in Cleveland, the ticket sale netting above $11,000. Records were sold, the lowest bringing $50 and the highest $75. Six hundred people were given honorary positions on the stage at five dollars each.

Mr. McCormack has pledged one hundred thousand dollars to the Red Cross, and says he hopes to reach that sum in ten concerts. He accepts nothing for his service and every aid rendered is performed without compensation, thus allowing every penny paid at the box office to go direct to the big fund.

Hard Coal For Brooders.

When C. R. Einzel asked for hard coal for brooders the fuel man was in doubt, but Mr. Einzel came back with the statement that no hard coal meant no broilers this summer and no eggs next winter. Then the fuel man told Mr. Einzel he could have three cars and the coal is enroute.

It's up to the hatcheries to come in when the coal arrives and make sure of their supply.

Obituary.

William B. Hoover was born in New Haven, August 24, 1852, and passed away at the home of his nephew, Earl Frost, at Toledo, Ohio, March 4. He was the son of Benjamin and Catherine Hoover.

He was a life long resident of New Haven, Ohio, and leaves to mourn his loss, his niece, Mrs. Frank Roth, and two nephews, Earl and William Frost, and a large circle of friends. The funeral was held at New Haven M. E. church on Monday, Wednesday, Rev. W. E. Hollett conducting the service.

Masonic Notice.

A regular communication of Richmond Lodge No. 201 F. & A. M. will be held at their Hall on Monday evening, March 11th. Business of importance for consideration. A full attendance is desired.

Solomon Sp ar, Sec'y.

Methodist Notes.

Rev. W. E. Hollett's subject next Sunday morning will be "Upon this Rock I will Build my Church." The evening subject, "The Simplicity of the Gospel a Stumbling Block to Some."

Sunday School 9:30 a. m.
Morning Worship 10:30 a. m.
Eoworth League 6 p. m.
Lecturial invitation is extended to all to attend all services.

Lutheran Church.

The subject for the sermon the coming Lord's Day morning will be, "The Motive of a True Christian and worship the Lord with us and learn of Him. Time 10:30.

Sunday School 9:30 a. m.
Luther League 6:00 p. m.
Everybody welcome.

Deisler Theatre

Saturday Night

THE TEXAS SPINX
2 reel Bison.
L. KO Comedy - in 2 reels
SOAPSUDS & SIRENS.
Animated News 10. 30.

Sunday Night

Mutual - Signal Feature in five reels.
"THE DIAMOND RUNNERS"
A Detective Drama, with
"Helen Holmes"

Wednesday Night

BUTTERFLY - Comedy Drama
JOHN ERMINE OF YELLOWSTONE
with Jack Ford.
TICKETS 10c. - TICKET TAX - 1c

Births.

To Mr. and Mrs. Orville J. Lybarger, Monday, March 4, 1918, an 7 1/2 pound son, which has been christened Vincent Deansion.

To Mr. and Mrs. Wayne R. Allen, a daughter, Feb. 25, 1918, christened, Gertrude May.

To Mr. and Mrs. Trude C. Carrick, a daughter, Feb. 25, 1918.

To Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Roberts, a son, March 3, 1918, christened, Bradley, Jr.

Will Banquet Maccabees.

The flourishing order of Maccabees of Plymouth will be entertained at their hall on next Monday evening at a banquet to be given by Grand Record Keeper of Ohio, Geo. H. Scott. Oysters will be the great drawing card for the assembly, and a good time is anticipated by the Sir Knights and their ladies.

Get Your Coal.

I have a car load of nice Kentucky coal on track at the Northern Ohio yards. Get your orders in at once. E. I. Wilson.

Throughout New Year

Our Motto Remains As of Old,

"The Best Only"

YOURS SHOULD be the same, especially when in need of

SMART TOGS

Our Line of Men's and Boy's Furnishings, from which to select your Clothing

will be complete

Come and See

M. SHIELD & SON

Plymouth's Men's and Boy's Outfitters

TONIGHT

The Honor System

Plymouth never saw a bigger Drama and it will be a long time before a more touching story is told on the screen.

The Deisler Theatre

Friday Evening, Mar. 8

Two Shows, 6:30-8:30, 8:30-10:30

Don't stay away. Pack the house. It will be the talk of the town next day.

ADMISSION, 10c and 20c

NO WAR TAX

R. T. CHAPPELL'S STORE NEWS

Head Lettuce
Leaf Lettuce
Radishes
Celery
Bananas
Lemons
Oranges

We have a full line of Scratch Feed, Chick Feed, Oyster Shell, Grit and Charcoal.

Our Grocery Stock is Fresh and Complete

R. T. Chappell

The Early Pullet Lays the Early Egg

And the early egg, say late November and the good money is yours. Start a

BUCKEYE INCUBATOR

In March or early April, raise the major chicks you'll hatch in a coal-burning Standard Colony Brooder, and the good money is yours. Start a

SOL SPEAR, Agent

Public Sales.

Chas. M. Brown will hold a public sale on his farm one and one-half miles west of Plymouth, Tuesday, March 12, 1918, beginning at ten o'clock a. m. Geo. Cole will be the auctioneer and E. H. Ervin, clerk. He will offer four good horses, 3 head of cattle, 13 head of coarse wool ewes, with lambs by side, 24 full blood White Wyandott pullets, a few gallons of apple butter, hay by the ton, and by the bushel, and complete line of farm tools and implements. See bills.

Marvin Bradford will sell at public auction on the Ed Dewitt farm, Plymouth and Bucyrus road, Friday, March 15, at one o'clock, wagon, harness, household articles, Brussels rug, one lot of best posts and many other useful items. G. E. Ervin will act as auctioneer. Remember the day and the hour.

Fred R. Bevier will hold a public sale at his farm residence, one mile north of Shiloh, on the Gambell street road, Thursday March 14, 1918, beginning at 10 o'clock.

He will sell horses, cattle, hogs, and an unusually large list of farm implements in excellent condition, also 2 sets of team harness, good as new.

Terms, $5.00 and under cash. Twelve months time will be given on sums exceeding $5.00, with interest at 6 per cent, but interest will be deducted if note is paid promptly when due.

Mrs. Harold Ruckman, entertained at the home of her parents, the C. C. and Wednesday evening. The evening passed pleasantly in knitting and sewing, also vocal and instrumental music. Dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Ralph Hoffman was guest of the club. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Grover Keiver, March 14th.

