THE HEARSES

Anita Stewart in Leading Role
Scott Welch plays his third screen detective role in "Whispering Wires", Fox Films version of Kate McLaughlin's stage play which thrilled millions of theatre patrons. It will be shown at the Castamba Friday and Saturday at 7:00 and 8:30. Anita Stewart and Edmund Burns have the leads.

Welch has the role of Tricky Drew, private detective who is summoned by Miss Cartwright, secretary to a stockbroker, when mysterious threats against her employer's life begin to come over the wires.

Drew tries to solve the mystery and to make certain that the broker is not killed, locks himself in the library with him and waits until midnight, the hour set for the assassination. The slayer kills their victim by telephone and Drew is arrested as the suspected slayer.

Welch had the role of strong arm Dillon, lieutenant of police detectives who trailed the master mind "Wild Oats Lane". He also played Rubber Heels O'Sullivan, the detective, in "Bills of Life". These two roles of "fixed screen sleuths on Tels and "Whispering Wires" came next.

In the photo-dramatic version of "Stella Dallas," the three types of women follow their patterns exactly as created by the author in the widely read book.

Belle Bennett, the choice after seventy-two applicants were discarded, plays the title role of Stella. Alice Joyce plays the aristocratic and Louis Moran, the unsophisticated and modernized child wonder, plays Laurel, daughter of Stella.

In the film, Stella is the generous-hearted, unrefined mill-town maid, in whom romance rises with tumult and hope. The conventional and amenities of life puzzle her. Her clothes are gaudy, her jewelry garish her manner outspoken, harmless and tactless; yet withal her outward display, she has splendid capacity for great love and devotion.

Mrs. Morrison, on the other hand, has been accustomed to the finer things of life. She is kind, considerate, reserved—a lady in the highest expression of the term, a flower born and bred to thrive in society.

Laurel is a strangely beautiful child. She is a mystery to Stella, who cannot fathom the sweet simplicity of her own child.

The production which is the initial effort of Sarnel Goldwyn for the United Artists Corporation release and called his most ambitious project as an independent producer, comes to the Temple Theatre, at Willard, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 12-13-14.

George Kelly in the "Show-Off" Have you a little show-off in your home? Or "peep" in your home town? Of course you have!

Then you are sure to enjoy Paramount's new comedy, "The Show-Off" which opens at the Opera House next Monday and Tuesday at 7:00 and 8:30, because this film version of the famous stage play by George Kelly dramatizes this familiar American individual in satiric style and with striking fidelity.

According to Malcolm St. Clair, who directed the picture with Ford Sterling in the title role, Aubrey Piper, the show-off, is the most typical American character the screen has ever known.

"Essentially," emphasized St. Clair, "the show-off is an American creation like baseball, skyscrapers and Broadway, but he is by no means an exclusive U. S. A. product. You will find his counterparts the world over—in Europe, Asia and darkest Africa."

"There are all kinds of show-offs female as well as male. As a matter of fact, there's a little of the show-off in everyone's nature. When we look around a bit, it is surprising how many Aubrey Pipers we can recognize in one form or another. The fact that they abound so plentiful in real life is the main reason why people get a 'kick' out of seeing them on the stage or screen."

Love Universal Language He gets a whole army to help him make love!

That's what Richard Dix does in his latest Paramount comedy, "Say It Again," which comes to the Opera House, Sunday, 2:30, 7:30 and 9:00.

Our hero, mistaken as the Crown Prince of Spozonia, discovers that the beautiful Princess is the girl he has traveled over half the world to find the "standing army" of nineteen men, being well versed in the arts of love and war, go through their maneuvers for him.

Therefore, when he goes to visit his lady love, they go out on the castle balcony, and at a given command, Dix's henchmen start shouting "their stuff." First, a heart is warmed, then the sentence, "I love you" is spelt out, and so on. It means that he, only speaking English, and the Princess, knowing nothing but Spozonian, has adopted what he believes to be a universal language—that of the heart.

And believe it or not—it worked!

Scenes of Great Beauty "The Country Beyond," Fox Films adaptation of James Oliver Curwood's widely-read novel, is announced as the feature attraction at the Opera House Saturday 7:00 and 8:30.

Olive Borden, noted Virginia beauty and Fox Films star, heads the specially selected cast which was directed by Irving Cummings with remarkable artistry.

The exteriors for "The Country Beyond" were made in Jasper National Park, Alberta, mostly on the shores of Lake Malinche and Mount Edith Cavell. In order to shoot the scenes at the first named location it was necessary for the company to travel two full days on horseback over the arduous trails of the Canadian Rockies. And to Fox Films goes the unique honor of having filmed the first motion picture scenes in that wonderfully picturesque region.

In fact, according to advance reports on the picture, it would seem that it is amply suited to qualify as a "scene" of inspiring beauty. A. Fried, chief cinematographer, is said to have won new laurels for his already generous wealth of successful and positively brilliant photography as evidenced in numerous Fox Films productions in the past.

Love Life of Typical Girl "Stella Dallas," the Samuel Goldwyn production directed by Henry King from Olive Higgins Prouty's famous novel which portrays with romantic realism the love life of a typical American girl is also a picture of womanly contrasts.

Frances Marion, adept at disclosing these things which throw light on the inner workings of the weaker sex, has contrived in her scenario to place the three main feminine characters in direct contrast with each other by means of comparison and conflict.

In the photo-dramatic version of "Stella Dallas," the three types of women follow their patterns exactly as created by the author in the widely read book.

Belle Bennett, the choice after seventy-two applicants were discarded, plays the title role of Stella. Alice Joyce plays the aristocratic and Louis Moran, the unsophisticated and modernized child wonder, plays Laurel, daughter of Stella.

In the film, Stella is the generous-hearted, unrefined mill-town maid, in whom romance rises with tumult and hope. The conventional and amenities of life puzzle her. Her clothes are gaudy, her jewelry garish her manner outspoken, harmless and tactless; yet withal her outward display, she has splendid capacity for great love and devotion.

The production which is the initial effort of Sarnel Goldwyn for the United Artists Corporation release and called his most ambitious project as an independent producer, comes to the Temple Theatre, at Willard, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 12-13-14.

"The Non-Stop Flight" The magnificent drama and epochal triumph of the famous P. N. 9 in its hop to Hawaii, has been immortalized by Emory Johnson in his latest and most spectacular melodrama, "The Non-Stop Flight," which comes to the Temple Theatre for a 2 day engagement on Friday and Saturday.

Great young producer-director has ever touched has produced such a rich source of entertainment as this Emile Johnson, who wrote the story, has woven around the exploits of the gallant navy crew a remarkable tale of glorious Adventure. A lovely romance, and some of the best comedy seen in a long time, has been injected into the story, and the P. N. 9 itself is seen in the picture. Furthermore, Director Johnson has received the support of the whole Pacific Battle Fleet of the U. H. Navy, and he has made the most of this tremendous material in the biggest picture he has ever turned out for F. B. O.

"The Third Alarm," "In the Name of the Law," "The Last Edition" and all his previous successes take second opinion of qualified critics who have seen the picture.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CIRCLE The members of the 20th C. C. met at the home of Mrs. Walker on Dec. 6. The rooms were beautiful with their Christmas decoration of red and green.

The topic for the evening was a "Night With the Bible," Mrs. Willet read a poem, "A Girl Who Wrote the Bible," also a ser. monette "The Last Drop," appropriate to the close of the year.

Miss Rilla Trauger read an article "The Christmas Trill" telling of a trip through the Holy Land at Christmas time.

Mrs. Grace Dick's article "The Spread of the Holy Land at Christmas time." Roll call was responded to by "Bays of Jesus."

The members then went into another room where the Christmas gifts were piled high and chosen. As they thought they had the steadiness of nerve to carry, passed into the dining room where they found a delicious lunch awaiting them.

The Circle will meet with Mrs. Luella Wilson on Jan. 3.

NEW HAVEN SCHOOL NEWS

Gertrude Watts has returned to school after a week's absence on account of illness. Anna Mato has also returned. Henry Chapman and Pauline Fox are still absent.

The various grades and the High School drew names for the annual Christmas "swap".

Clarence Vogel is having an enforced vacation on account of trouble with his eyes. He is spending the time visiting other high schools.

Miss Dowd, teacher of third and fourth grades is afflicted with a sore hand. Mrs. McKelvey is teaching in her place. The seventh and eighth grades are having contests in spelling and in the sale of Christmas seals. At present the eighth grade median in spelling is 100 and the seventh grade 92. In seal sales the eighth grade is fifteen points ahead.

Miss Allyn visited the school last Wednesday. The county nurse, Mrs. Hunt, was here Thursday.

In the primary room the walls are decorated with a Christmas calendar and seasonal decorations.

Tour Abroad

In a desperate effort to reach the logg country where officials were ripping open trunks and bags and piling lingerie upon every available space on the big room floor.

The City That Butter and Eggs Built Esbjerg is one of the newest cities of the old world. It is one of Denmark's largest seaports. Only 35 years old, it boasts a population of 39,000 and 90 per cent of its population is engaged in shipping and fishing. Its waterfront is fringed with a motley collection of fishing craft and so hazardous is that calling on the treacherous waters of the North Sea that relatives still observe the custom of collecting on the shore when a falling fleet goes down to the sea on an extended cruise. But through this little port passes a large volume of the butter and eggs and bacon Denmark shops to the western world markets.

Danish butter even finds its way to the fashionable restaurants and eating places in New York where it commands a fancy price. The Dane's system of co-operative marketing is so perfect that he is able to pay the high American tariff and undersell by two cents a pound the best American butter on American markets. He finds a market for his bacon in England and France where he undersells the New Zealand and Australian but a substantial margin. But I will tell you more about the Dane's system of producing and marketing in a later article. From here I am going to the country where I will have among the farmers and small town people and follow the butter, for which Denmark is famous, from the cow to the consumer.

Admitting Visitors Free Denmark is glad for the outside world to come and see what it is doing for agriculture, and visitors from America are received with open arms. It is one of the few European nations that admits visitors free. Visas are required but the usual fee of $10 is not charged. I found the customs of officials very polite and attentive. Americans in Denmark are almost as scarce as democrats in a republican cabinet and I fancy the Dane is making a bid for American tourists. So far as I have been able to observe on short acquaintance the Dane is very much like the American. The city of Esbjerg is more American than European in physical appearance. Advertisements of many American made goods, including popular priced automobiles, plaster the public places at every turn. The store windows are typically American. The men are so polite they bow like Chesterfields and pull their hats to each other across the street. The first discordant note I have heard was at a flour mill. Gloom was spread all over the proprietor's features. The trouble was cheap American wheat. The American manufacturer was shipping flour across the Atlantic and underselling the Dane in his own country. He was crying for a protective tariff and his government would not get it to him. Sixty-five per cent of the members of the Danish Ridsdag or congress are farmers.

NEW HAVEN

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kiser and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan and son of Toledo spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Alton Snyder.

Miss Pauline Fox has been on the sick list the past few days with La-grippe.

Our Weekly Sermonette

(By Dr. G. R. Mente)

Remember Now Thy Creator in The Days of Thy Youth. Eccl. 12:1.

What wonderful words, uttered centuries ago by the Man of wisdom, words that have been confirmed by the world at large, for it is a recognized fact that the best safeguard to honor, character and success is to remember God in the Morning of Life.

Four questions are suggested by these prophetic words of Solomon. We are to remember whom? Remember How? Remember when and why?

The text suggests its own answers, for it is definite in its declaration to remember "The Creator" from this we are assured that man has a Creator, for this would have made necessary an action before existence; God created all things, and man is superior to all in creation, because God made him just a little lower than the angels. No wonder the ancient philosopher said: "When I lay My Hand on a Human Body, I am Reminded of the Powers of the Infinite. There is an old saying: 'Toll me your Company and I will Tell You Who You Are.' I go a little further by saying: 'Toll Me what your Thoughts are when you are communing in your soul, and I can determine your Heart's destiny, which we admire, and as our Creator is a Living Reality, A Person, we shall become more and more like Him in our fellowship with men, as we continue in fellowship with God.'

It was the Shepherd King who so beautifully portrays the longing of the soul for God, as he exclaims, "The Wicked may Trust in Charlots and Hoemes, but we will remember the Lord our God.

How often we neglect to call attention of the child in our home of the need of trust in God. A beautiful incident occurred some time ago in a christian home, which is worthy of our consideration. A bright little fellow of 10 took the big family Bible from the center table at his fathers home, and turning its dusty pages asked innocently, "Mother Dear, is this God's Book? Certainly was the reply. Well, mother dear, don't you think we had better send it back to God, for we don't use it here, said the little fellow. I am afraid this is a fair picture of many a home and the way the word of God is treated by many parents. Too often the center table Bible is a place for peltes, family records, poetry and other things. Forgotten is the fact that this Blessed Volume of Truth should cause us to meditate upon its value day and night, for the scriptures are sufficient to make us wise unto salvation.

CHURCH BAZAAR
The Ladies Aid of the Lutheran Church will hold a bazaar in the church parlor on the afternoon and evening of Dec. 14. Everyone is welcome.

LUNCHEON WILL BE SERVED
The second division of the Ladies Aid of the Lutheran Church will serve a luncheon at twelve o'clock on Dec. 14, to which the public is cordially invited.

THANK OFFERING
A church full of people enjoyed the Thank Offering Program at the Lutheran Church last Sunday evening. The first Parent, "Babes in all Lands," showed mothers and children from various lands in costume. A vested Boys' Choir gave the musical background. The second Parent, "Where Does It Go," used a total of about 60 people all beautifully costumed. There were Hindu mediums, Japanese tots, mountaineer girls and many others. The singing of "Jesus Loves Me" in Japanese (?) was especially interesting. Miss Mary Beck or played a beautiful Pipe organ Solo. The total of the women's Thank Offering and the offering of the congregation which all goes to Missions was over $76.

TIMELY SENTIMENT
The Biting of Plymouth, as observed by all old residents, marks the passing of the Kappenberg Meat Market into new hands. The only enterprises in town now which have been established fifty years and more are the Bachrach Bro's. Meat Market and Mrs. D. Hanick's Millinery Store. THE ALPHA GUILD PARTY

On Tuesday night the members of the Alpha Guild gathered at the church parlors for their annual Christmas party. In spite of inclement weather there was a very good attendance.

The rooms were decorated with Christmas green and garlands and every one enjoyed the beautifully decorated Christmas tree which was surrounded by candy figures of Santa Claus.

After the devotional and business meeting Mrs. Rogers gave charge of the meeting to Miss Jessie Trauger and her entertainment committee. Mrs. Scott read the Christmas story from Luke 2:1-20; Sewille led the class in the singing of Christmas carols and hymns. Mrs. Trimmer presented a contest and Mrs. Gaskill read a poem.

The distribution of gifts was managed in a novel way by the entertainment committee. These the hostesses of the evening, Mrs. Trimmer Mrs. Donnemirth and Miss Rilla Trauger, served delicious refreshments.

The Guild was very glad to greet a former resident, Mrs. George Snyder, who made the trip from Shelby for the meeting.

After a social hour the members departed, each hoping to be able to enjoy many more parties of the Alpha Guild.

GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY

On Golden Rule Sunday, December 5, those who contributed to the Near East Relief, through the Golden Rule Envelopes, joined with Calvin Coolidge in the White House. Vice Donohy in the Executive Mansion and the rulers of fifty six officially cooperating countries, overseas, together with thousands upon thousands of folks in every walk of life here in America, in observing the INTERNATIONAL GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY. Golden Rule Sunday endeavors to put into practical application throughout the world, the Golden Rule, "Whatever you would that Others should Do unto You, Do ye even so to Them."

Forty thousand orphan children, in the Near East—they have no breakfast, no dinner awaits them. They are cold, wretched, hungry; they have no home, no fire to warm them, no food to strengthen them. They do not ask for much—only a bit of bread and a place to sleep.

The amount contributed by homes in Plymouth, through the Golden Rule envelopes is $53.50

Last Sunday afternoon, a committee of eight young people, going out, two by two, gathered up the three hundred envelopes that had previously been placed in the different homes. The Chairman and Committee desire to thank all those who contributed, for their kind responses. The amount collected for this worthy object, was sent through the local bank to Headquarters at Cleveland.

FABRIKOID OR LEATHER SUBSTITUTE

An important use for cotton has been noted in the manufacture of leather substitute since both the fabric base and the pyrolox coating of the principal substitute of this kind, known as Fabrikoid, is cotton—excepting a very small content of coloring pigment, residual solvents and softeners. Being all cotton the material is moth-proof, insect-proof, and vermin-proof. Cotton with a pyrolox coating wholly discourages the most destructive species of roaches and ants. Turning cotton into leather substitute is one of chemistry's remarkable triumphs. The base of Fabrikoid and similar materials is always a woven cotton fabric, gray goods, of which manufacturers in this industry purchase well over thirty million yards a year. After careful inspection of the gray goods they select a color approximating that which the face of the material is to be when finished. Then follow processes of drying; and further inspections for color and strength. The shrinkage in both dyeing and drying is purposely made as great as possible so that the finished material will be immune to shrinking and sagging in service.

FAMILY TROUBLE

The Washington Administration is having a peck of trouble with Mexico, but this is regarded as a sort of a family affair. Secretary of State Kellogg is trying to repeat the performances of his predecessors, and if he is successful he will spank the naughty Mexican brat.

RAILROADS VS GREAT LAKES

The question of lower freight rates on grain and grain products from Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth to the East is under consideration before the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington. The Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad and the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railroad propose to reduce their freight rates on grain to Eastern points by six cents per 100 pounds. The roads do not claim to be philanthropic, and they state that their object is to regain some of the traffic which they lost to the water routes from Duluth to Buffalo.

People of the Northwest ought to sit up and take notice of this proposal because it is an admission by railroad interests that they are trying to make railroad rates low enough so that the Great Lakes may be beaten in the game of competition.

Meanwhile Washington continues to get favorable engineering reports of the deep waterways project through the St. Lawrence to the Atlantic Ocean. Powerful financial and railroad interests of the country have successfully fought Great Lakes navy ation for half a century. At least, two railroads are out in the open! Undoubtedly other railroad interests have been working under cover against the Great Lakes for many years.

THE MISHAPS OF LIFE

Diplomat turned felicitous anecdotist, Henry Morganthau recently visited the White House on an errand for one of the practical philanthropies in which he and President Coolidge are interested. One of the best of his anecdotes dealt with Mrs. Rockefeller and Jacob Schiff. Mr. Morganthau said: "I recently attended a dinner in honor of Dr. Henry Pratt Judson, president of Chicago University, who had just returned from visiting Persia on behalf of the Near East Relief. Mrs. Rockefeller attended, and was seated beside Jacob Schiff, eminent for good works outside of Wall Street even as for great financial feats inside.

"Come a waiter serving coffee, unnoticed by the financier, who inadvertently jostled the serving arm, spilling a liquid stream across Mrs. Rockefeller's gown. Mr. Schiff in a moment of embarrassment, while the lady tactfully assured him that he must regard the incident as too trivial for concern.

"But Mr. Schiff mourned, and remembered. A week later he showed me with great satisfaction a note from Mrs. Rockefeller, accepting a place card which he had sent her with the hope that it might cover the spot on her gown."

Mr. Morganthau cited the incident as proving that the biggest of men will devote themselves to straightening out even the little mishaps of life. But there's a neater charm in the implication of millionaire example, in what Mr. Morganthau heard Mrs. Rockefeller say as the coffee landed on her gown: "It won't do any great harm," she remarked, "This dress has been cleaned before, and can be cleaned again as often as necessary."

GOLD AND SILVER

A statement given at the Washington show that the World's gold production has been slowly increasing during the past six or seven years. In 1924 it amounted to $389,169,700. The old world seems to be pretty slow as Henry Ford, all by himself, done just about as well in twenty-five years. The value of the silver produced in the world in 1924 amounted to $160,175,800. The United States and Canada furnished 36 per cent of it. World production has decreased in recent years.

For Experience and Variety in P. H. S. Post

A variation has been introduced into the Staff of the P. H. S. Post, to give experience to all members of the staff and also for variety. During one week, in perhaps every four, one member of the group, exchanging position with the Editor, taking up the full line of work. From this arrangement, there will be a better understanding between Editor and assistants. The temporary chief for this week is Betty B, the next on record—Weldon Cornell.

Geometry Notebooks Will Prove Beneficial

The First-Year Geometry Class have since school began, been preparing note books, containing all interesting or complex propositions they have encountered so far in this semester's work. If one judged by the content of these books, the extent of the student's knowledge in geometry, it could be said we boast master mathematicians.

However, this method of study is beneficial to the pupil, as it enables him to remember the material longer. But we will say this—that one book, picked up in the Freshmen Room, was not a great deal better than a book. Barring all mistakes, this work is certainly good practice, and will prove worth while, in the Senior year, in regard to Physics's note books.

PEP RALLY

The students of P. H. S. did their bit in helping to score one victory, by the cheers and songs at the pep rally Friday afternoon. We have two good cheer leaders, Eunice Henry and Wade Lebold and there is no reason why these meeting should not be peppy.

The Junior High students were present at this rally and surely did their best. This is the only way P. H. S. can show its appreciation of the work of the teams so let's get it. May each pep rally be more enthusiastic than the last! Let's all join in!

Final Exam Wednesday For History Class

In spite of the fact that it was decided that all students having an average of B plus in grades were exempt from final semester exams, students in history classes have decided this week they took their final exam over one-third of the American History text, in order to ease the work for those required to submit to half-year tests in January. Altho, the students do not favor this action, it is acknowledged that it will be of some worth later on. Material considered covered from growth of Sectional Interest before Civil War—to end of Pres. Cleveland's Administration.

Instructor Changes Style of Hairdressing

On Thursday morning Mr. Jenkins appeared with his cheveu parted, as usual, in the exact center. On Friday morning he exhibited a new cut—side part. This change was not due to vanity but to necessity. For the night before, his head was injured in a basketball game and he was forced to use this style of hairdressing as a consequence. The change was greatly admired.

Hard Work on Debate For Occupations

As a culmination of the research work of the Occupations class, a debate is soon to be staged. The question is "Which is of the most use to the world, Art or Science?" Work on this debate has been going on for some time and some interesting and unusual arguments are being advanced. Notice will be given concerning the time and circumstances of the climax to this work, the debate itself.

EAGLES AT FREMONT

The famous American bald eagles that lived near Vermillion for several years, and whose nest was twice destroyed within thirteen months, have begun their new home north of Fremont, so says Urban A. Myers, on whose farm the nest is located. Myers said he first observed the male bird in the woods a month ago when the old fellow appeared to be quite tame and flew over my house. The eagles live mostly off of fish.

Overdoing!

Hurry, Worry and Overwork Bring Heavy Strains.

MODERN life thrusts a heavy burden on our bodily machinery. The eliminative organs, especially the kidneys, are apt to become sluggish. Retention of uric acid and other poisonous waste often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, to backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning perfectly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of excretions. More and more people are learning to assist their kidneys by the occasional use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Ask your neighbor!

The Music Box

The Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs have both been working steadily on the try out for the contest, which will take place next spring. Mr. Berry announced last Monday that he would soon pick out two girls' octettes, and get them started on the contest music. Most of this music has already arrived and has been handed out to the contestants.

We do not, as yet, have the names of all of the solo contestants. However the following people have entered: Arline Straub, violin solo; Dorothy Straub, piano solo; Marguerite Boardman, piano solo; Betty Bachrach, piano solo; Ruth Baltzer, vocal solo.

We would be very much pleased to see some of the boys enter the vocal solo for boys, as the girls are overshadowing them, so far. Come on, boys! —CRESCENDO

Literary Programs

Are Improving

A Clonian literary program was given last Friday, December 3. This program was an improvement over the former ones, and the school spirit manifested was especially commendable. The oration by Betty Bachrach was very well prepared and also very well presented.

The program was especially appropriate as the first basketball game of the season was played Friday night and the program was built around school spirit. The papers on "How to Accept Victory" and "How to Accept Defeat" left good impressions on the minds of the students of P. H. S. and the feeling of good will was carried over and displayed at the game.

We are sure that such a program as this is possible through co-operation and serious effort, so let's keep it up.

Any Information on Terms "Sound" and "Hearing"

There has been much discussion in the Senior Physics class of P. H. S., during the past week in regard to the relation, and distinction, between sound and hearing. With the assistance of the class, the instructor is endeavoring to come to some conclusion satisfactory to all. Several theories of the leading Physicists have been studied and analyzed, but as yet nothing definite has been decided. Research work is also being carried on by interested participants and the Professors at the head of the Physics departments of Miami, Northern, Wesleyan and Western Reserve Universities have been questioned on the subject. If anyone has any information on either subject, it would be appreciated by either Betty Bachrach or Mr. T. N. Jenkins.

Victory and Defeat for P. H. S.

Last Friday evening the P. H. S. basketball team battled valiantly against the team of Tiro High but were forced to admit defeat in a 27-12 score.

A large crowd assembled to see the opening games of the High School basketball season. As the teams lined up before the game there was much hustle and excitement for a close game was expected.

Only once was P. H. S. in the lead; but they followed closely until in the last half, the Tiro team gradually drew away, and ended the game with the score 27-12. The P. H. S. line-up was as follows:

- Capt. Willard Caldwell, c.
Ross Hills, f.
Morley Stark, rf.
John Root, lf.
Raymond Hatch, rg.

Those who substituted later in the game were Myers, Cramer and Lebold.

Altho the boys were defeated the girls came out ahead with a 14-12 score. This game aroused more excitement than the boys'. First one team and then the other was in the lead. In the last quarter the score stood 12-11 in favor of Tiro. Then when everything seemed lost, Capt. Becker shot a foul, which tied the score; and during the last minute of play, Frome made a field goal giving P. H. S. 14 points, leaving Tiro to be satisfied with 12.

- The lineup:
Emeline Fete, rf.
Mildred Sheely, lf.
Edna Frome, c.
Capt. Helen Becker, cg.
Alveta Hale, rg.
Elietha Steele, lg.

In the third quarter Emeline Fete was taken out, and the line-up was changed: Straub, guard, Becker, center.

News of Junior High

We all know there has been a contest going on between the English class which was divided up into two groups namely, Michigan and Ohio State. Michigan being the losers had the privilege of entertaining Ohio State. It was arranged as a kid's party, therefore the guests were dressed like kids and had the eats of a kid's dining. The party was held in the Home Economics department, Saturday evening and they later played games in the Hamilton Hall.

Lunch was as follows:—Sandwiches pickles, cocoa, cookies, candy, animal crackers suckers and apples.

Library Notes

A box of books came from Mansfield the last of November. They are all adult books and there are a number of very good stories among them. Last May the Tourist Club joined "The Book of the Month Club." Each month a group of eminent writers selects the book they consider the best book published that month. This book is mailed to add club members. The Tourist Club, after passing the books to the members is presenting them to the library. The first of these books, "Teeftalloy" by T. S. Strubbing, is now in the library. Through the kindness of Mrs. P. H. Root the magazine, Child Life, is to come to the library for another year. I know there are a number of children who will be delighted by this announcement.

The regular hours for the library are Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights from 7:00 to 9:00 and Wednesday afternoon from 3:00 to 4:30. In as much as Christmas eve and New Years eve both come on Friday the library will not be open on Friday Dec. 24 nor on Friday Dec. 31.

MRS. H. L. JEFFREY, Librarian
MRS. G. E. HERSHISER, Assistant

Girl Scout News

The regular meeting of the troop will be held on Friday evening and after the formation and business meeting the troop will go to the home of Mrs. Selter for the final practice for the Christmas carols. On Monday evening the troop will meet at the rooms at 7:15 p.m. or if more convenient, at the home of Mary Gebert, and we will go in a body to the home of Mrs. Walker, where the entire troop has been invited for the Christmas party of the Tourist Club.

Please be on time both for the Friday evening meeting as we are to sing some carols Monday night and this is the last opportunity we will have for practice.

A group of Xmas Handkerchiefs for women, men and children, in fancy gift boxes each especially priced at 25c. The boxes are white, with color printed borders. These handkerchiefs are in linen, Swiss, georgette, crepe de chine and voile. The childrens handkerchiefs are cleverly arranged in boxes with pencils, crayon and note books, in basket bags, and form the gift on small wooden boats. Very attractive gifts for children.—The Lerch Hat Shoppe.

NOTICE

H. L. VanHorn of Tiro, Ohio, who has operated the Plymouth Hitchcock Co. for years in this county, is now a resident of our city, living on Portar Street. He expects to operate the Hatchery again the coming season and any one having pure-bred hatching eggs to sell, should call phone A-52.

FRIENDSHIP CLASS DATE CHANGED

All members of the Friendship Class at the E. H. Hays please take notice that its regular meeting date has been changed and will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 14th, 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Dr. Holz. There will be the annual exchange of presents and all are urged to come. Roll call will respond with appropriate Xmas verse.

HOURS CHANGED

In the new telephone directories just issued, the hours appearing in the Chase Selter ad, page 1 are in error and should read from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. As it is no longer possible to be compelled to stay up all night to conform with the ad, so the public's attention is called to the correct hours.

ENTERTAINERS CLUB

Mrs. Alex Bachrach was hostess last Friday afternoon to members of her bridge club. Three fables of bridge were in play and an enjoyable time followed. At the conclusion of the afternoon, Miss Ruby Nelson was holder of high score and received first prize while Miss Elizabeth Weber received the booby prize. A delicious lunch was served.

GARAGE BURNS

Fire Saturday morning wiped out the Coale garage on Seminary St., and damaged three other buildings that are located on Benedict ave. back of the court house at Norwalk. The total loss may amount to $15,000. The fire threatened to burn down several additional buildings, but by excellent teamwork of the fire department the flames were withheld to its area of origin.

Young Wife Atraid To Eat Anything

"I was afraid to eat because I always had stomach trouble afterwards. Since taking Adierks I can eat and feel fine." (quoted) Mrs. A. Howard. ONE spoonful Adierks removes GAS and often brings surprising relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Removes old waste matter from intestines which you never thought was in your system. Excellent for obstinate constipation. KARL WEBBER, Druggist.

Let The new HOOVER help her to be happy

And rest assured it will! For this amazing New Hoover is more than twice as efficient as former Hoovers—will remove 131 per cent more dirt from a rug, in extraordinary cleaning time! That's because while it mops and air-cleans, it also BEATS, by means of POSITIVE AGITATION—the only cleaning method which removes the deeply embedded grit.

So this Christmas, give her a Hoover! Give her the golden hours to be happy. Take away the handicap of inefficient, old-fashioned tools against which she is striving day after day to make home the happy haven both of you want it to be!

Remember, too, you'll be conserving your Christmas cash, for you need pay but $6.25 down—the balance split so you'll fixidly sense it. Won't you stop at our Demonstration Booth and let us show you?
