

Fails to Act on Franchise

OHIO POWER COMPANY FAILS TO SECURE LEASE; REGULAR BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS.

The regular meeting of the council was held last night after a two-week delay owing to members of this body being out of town. Regular routine matters took up the major portion of the session, and all bills were also voted to be paid at this time.

No discussion of the water question was brought up, and it is presumed that this affair will take its own course.

The ordinance of the Ohio Power company was presented to the body for action, but after a heated discussion it was finally decided to defer action until the next regular meeting. The power company wants a 50-year franchise for the privilege of lighting and supplying power to the village. A representatives was scheduled to be present but failed to show up.

A tile drain will be laid on Spring Mill street connecting with the end of the present drain and running into West branch. This will aid in doing away with a collection of undesirable rubbish that accumulates at this point from time to time. Work will be started immediately.

Only four members of the council were present: A. C. Brumback, Chas. Wentz, Geo. Snyder and W. C. McFadden.

The Public Forum

Opinions expressed under this heading are those of the contributors, not of The Advertiser.

STRANGE, BUT TRUE—

In last week's issue, the writer noticed a lengthy item in reference to people rationing small children. In reply to this article, I wish to say that if the people of Plymouth would hire some more outlaws to come into the town, at fifty dollars a week, and then hire guards to keep them there at ten dollars more, perhaps people would not go out of town to buy.

When a town has lowered its morals to the extent of bringing convicts and applauding them, instead of giving that fifty dollars to the repair of the town or streets, and having the business men use the Golden Rule, as their business slogan, then what can the town expect?

Begg Speaks In Cleveland Hurt In Auto Accident

In addressing the twelfth annual convention of the American Industrial Leaders association at Cleveland Friday night, Congressman J. T. Begg chose for his subject: "Law and Governmental Stability," stating that this was not an untimely subject to discuss because in nearly every edition of the daily papers and the magazines one reads today he finds some individual or group of individuals offering some new scheme of government as an amendment to our basic law.

Prohibition Is Almost Perfect

Irving Fisher Puts Drink- ing at 10 Per Cent. of Pre-Dry Rate.

NEW YORK.—Prohibition has cut drinking 90 per cent. in the United States, and enforcement would be worth $1,000,000,000 as an economic investment, in the opinion of Irving Fisher, professor of economics at Yale university, given in New York "prohibition at its worst," just off the press of the MacMillan Co.

Using treasury and other figures Mr. Fisher comes to the conclusion that present beverage consumption of alcohol is "certainly less than 10 per cent., probably less than 10 per cent., and possibly less than 5 per cent. of pre-prohibition consumption."

He also concludes that "the present situation of imperfect enforcement is intolerable," although "conditions are not as bad as commonly represented."

He declares the only solution to the problem is to enforce the law, and claims that enforcement is a practical possibility.

MORE OPPORTUNITIES

This week the Want Ad column offers more than ever opportunities of description. A house for sale, a home for rent, and other items that will appeal to you, although "conditions are not as bad as commonly represented."

He declares the only solution to the problem is to enforce the law, and claims that enforcement is a practical possibility.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Mr. Harry Griffith underwent an operation at the Mansfield General Hospital for gall stone and appendicitis. Her condition was considered serious for a time, but is no doubt improved the past day or two. No late word has been received from the hospital. Friends here wish her a speedy recovery.

FAIRFIELD BOY KILLED WHEN HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

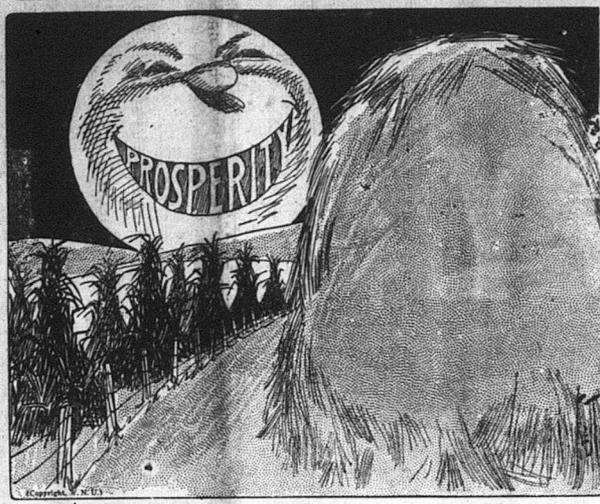

Bill just south of the business section here, Charles Sniely, age 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sniely of N. Fairfield was hit by an automobile and killed last Wednesday, Sept. 15. With two companions he was riding down the hill going south. It is said that Charles Sniely was on the left side of the road and his two companions were on the right side. This was about 5:30 p.m. as a Ford car driven by Lloyd Signs, of Fairfield approached them from the opposite direction the boy attempted to cross the road to the right where his companions were, but the car struck him, causing death within a few minutes. It is reported that Signs was driving about 27 or 28 miles per hour. The body was taken to the home of the parents. The funeral services were held at the Church of Christ at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon with Rev. H. R. Robertson officiating.

SERIOUSLY ILL

Mr. Earl Lebold, Portner street, is in a very serious condition. About ten days ago Mr. Lebold suffered an attack of heart trouble, and it is said that his condition is grave. His many friends will regret to know that he is ill.

Forty percent of the people in four rural communities paid all the bills in the community for medical, optical, or dental care, according to a health survey by the department of rural sociology at the Ohio State University.

Smile of the Harvest Moon

Takes Up New Duties

AS TEACHER IN TUCSON, ARIZ.; TELLS OF WESTERN TRIP IN LETTER TO FRIEND.

A letter was recently received by Miss Jessie Cole from Miss Nellie Carson, former high school principal, telling of her trip to the west, and to Tucson, Ariz., where she will teach in a mission school there.

Miss Carson was employed here for six years, and her many friends will be interested in the following letter: "I received your letter before I left home. I am not sure whether I wrote a card to you on my way here or not. I know I intended to but I did not keep a record and am not quite sure.

"Now I suppose you are back 'in the harness,' and soon will nearly forget school closed at all.

"It will be somewhat different with me, for I shall find my work very different in many ways. As I think I told you, school does not open until Monday. We have all been helping with the house cleaning this week, getting acquainted, and adjusting ourselves to our new surroundings.

"As you said, I have not found the climate so trying as the same temperature at home. I have not watched the thermometer but I know it has been pretty high during the day. It has rained a few times in the evening. It has been quite comfortable at night, at least when I am sleeping. Four of us sleep on the upper front porch. Just outside our own doors or French windows. We have a broad expanse of sky and the Santa Catalina mountains in front of us. The university is four or five blocks away, north. We can see from three or four red brick red-roofed buildings. Nearly all the homes between are bungalows with rather low trees or shrubbery. While we can see very high mountains, the green predominates here in the city.

"Three of us took a long drive last Monday with a woman who used to be here. She had started to take up a claim about 45 or 50 miles from here several years ago. She wants to investigate to see if it would be worth while to prove up on it. We drove on a good road 35 miles to Red Rock. Along this road we found some fine farms well irrigated—some of the finest cotton that I have ever seen, other fields were corn and maize. Then we turned on the main road. We were soon out in the desert, much as I had seen from the train in this state and in New Mexico. We found one stretch where they had evidently had a heavy rain that had washed the sand into the tracks. We could scarcely find the way on tracks. It was certainly desolate no signs of life except an occasional jack rabbit. There was an abundance of grass weed, mesquite and various forms of cacti. It was all so interesting to me. Miss Richards found that

WOOSTER DRAWS BIG ENROLLMENT

WOOSTER.—Enrollment figures at Wooster College for the first semester given out by Dr. Charles Compton registrar show that the Freshman class numbers 306 and the school enrollment at $77. This is Wooster's largest Freshman class and the largest enrollment the college has ever had.

The department of education at Wooster has been completely reorganized for the year. Prof. George C. Fracker, formerly of the University of Arkansas came to Wooster to head the department. Associated with him will be Prof. E. W. Stoneburner, former superintendent of schools at Chagrin Falls who will be in charge of the department of teachers training.

The annual sack race, between the Fresh and Sophs is booked for Friday afternoon and will be the first of four public contests between the two classes.

Musical By Choir

Presbyterian Organization to Render Splendid Program Sunday Evening.

A splendid musical program has been arranged by the Presbyterian choir and will be given Sunday evening at 7:30 at the Presbyterian church. Mr. E. E. Baldwin, director, has worked untiringly to make this presentation paramount in every way, and those attending are assured of a splendid evening's entertainment. The program, to which the public is invited, is as follows:

"Opening sentence, 'The Lord is in His Holy Temple' invocation.
Hymn, 'Day is Dying in the West,' Scripture reading.
Prayer.
Response, 'Show Me Thy Ways,' Anthem, 'The Lord is Exalted,' J. E. West.
Anthem, 'Crossing the Bar,' Joseph Barnby.
Male Chorus, 'Jesus Came to Save,' Chas. K. Langley.
Anthem, 'Still, Still With Thee,' S. G. Pease.
Offertory.

Solo, Selected by Miss Beamer.
Anthem, 'Radiant Morn' H. H. Woodward.
Anthem, 'Shepherd Divine' J. Hayden Morris.
Anthem, 'Praise the Lord, O My Soul,' Henry Lahee.
Benediction by the Choir, 'The Lord Bless Thee,' C. B. Ingham.

Ohio made an all-time record this year. The average estimate for the state wheat yield is 22 1/2 bushels per acre. Never before has it been so high.

Death Takes Aged Woman

Mrs. J. B. Long, Mother of Mrs. G. A. Artz, Died Suddenly Saturday.

Mrs. J. B. Long, of Loudonville, died suddenly Saturday morning in an automobile while enroute to her home from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. G. A. Artz.

Mrs. Long was in her usual state of health Saturday morning when she left the Artz home where she had been visiting for several days, and was highly pleased that she was on her way to Loudonville.

In the automobile with her were: Mr. and Mrs. Artz and when about three miles from Plymouth it was noticed that Mrs. Long was suffering and gasped for breath. Everything possible was done under the circumstances but death resulted a few moments later.

Mrs. Long was the widow of the late J. B. Long, who was engaged in the shoe business in Loudonville for many years. Last August 31, Mrs. Long celebrated her ninetieth birthday anniversary which was highly enjoyed by the venerable woman.

She is survived by eight children, three daughters, and five sons. Miller's funeral car conveyed the remains to Loudonville Sunday morning. Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon.

FINE APPLES

Mr. J. W. Pape brought in a fine display of apples of the Rambo and Banana species. The apples are unusually fine in appearance and flavor. Mr. Pape has a tree of each in his yard. The apples will be on display for today only.

FISHING GOOD

Messrs. Carl Lofand and W. C. McFadden returned last Sunday after a stay of two weeks in Minnesota, where they enjoyed fishing in the fullest. Several nice catches were reported and the boys brought home sufficient evidence. One plie weighed 17 pounds, and gave a real thrill.

GREENWICH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL RESIGNS

GREENWICH.—Due to ill health, Clarence Ingersoll has resigned as principal of the Greenwich central school. Mrs. Ingersoll filled the position the first week of school, but has gone to Cleveland to resume her duties in school there. Mrs. Fannie Pope has been obtained to fill the position.

Sittler Gives Strong Talk

"CAUSE OF CRIME" WAS ABLY DISCUSSED BY REFORMATORY CHAPLAIN.

Rev. Louis A. Sittler, Chaplain of the Ohio State Reformatory held his audience spellbound with his address on "The Cause of Crime," at the regular monthly dinner of the Chamber of Commerce at their rooms, Tuesday evening. He said the three greatest factors in the prevention of crime are the Home, the School and the State, 75% of the inmates of the Reformatory come from broken homes, that is home separated by divorce.

Only about 40 boys in that institution are high school graduates and only about 250 finished the grade schools. The average mental age is about 10 years or the fifth grade in school.

The Alpha class of the Lutheran Sunday school served an excellent dinner to 48 hungry men. The menu was:

- Escalloped Potatoes
 - Swiss Steak
 - Jelly Bread and Butter
 - Apple Pie a la Mode
 - Coffee
- Music was furnished by the Lutheran Sunday school orchestra. Rev. A. J. Sims, president of the Parent-Teachers Association urged the men to become members of the organization and 33 enrolled their names and paid their dues.

RETURN FROM HUNTING TRIP

After enjoying a week of excellent hunting near Greer, Ohio, Mr. "Flopper" Frome and Dr. H. I. Kindinger returned home Sunday, and they are telling some real sport stories. The hunters killed twenty-three gray squirrels, which is considered very good.

AT CONFERENCE

Dr. W. H. Gibson, pastor of the First Methodist church, left Tuesday morning for the Northeast Ohio Conference of the Methodist church. Mr. Gibson will turn in the report of the Plymouth church at this time. The conference is said to be an unusually busy one this year as matters of vital importance will come before this body.

PROVEN FACTS

The post office here has enjoyed a good patronage during the summer. The fact is proven by Mr. Geo. Henshler, an employee who states that he has lost ten pounds in weight. Geo. is wondering how much he'll lose when the Christmas rush comes.

H. RAY SYKES IS MAKING GOOD IN THE QUEEN CITY

Since taking up his duties as general manager of the Mid-West Locomotive works, H. Ray Sykes has made rapid strides in the industrial section of Cincinnati, and is being recognized for his ability in that field.

The Cincinnati Post has the following to say concerning a recent demonstration of the gasoline locomotive held in Cincinnati:

"Representatives of a number of Cincinnati industries attended a demonstration Thursday of a gasoline switching engine, recently constructed by the Mid-West Locomotive Works, Spring Grove and Alabama avenues.

"With Ray C. Doll, 4507 Rapid Runpike, plant superintendent, at the throttle, the gasoline locomotive hauled a string of freight cars weighing 225 tons and down a siding of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road near the locomotive works.

"The engine on exhibition, according to H. R. Sykes, general manager of the Mid-West works, is a small one weighing eight tons and equipped with a motor developing 85 horsepower.

"Sykes asserts tendencies in transportation and moving industrial freight are toward gasoline power.

"The locomotive used in the demonstration is built for standard gauge rails. Company officials say locomotives on the same basis design could be built for any gauge and up to 25 tons in weight."

Mr. Sykes is a former resident of Plymouth and has many friends who are glad to know that he is gaining much popularity in his new home at Cincinnati.

COLLEEN MOORE FINDS IT HARD TO PORTRAY AS STAR

It's not so easy to do as to say. That's what Colleen Moore says to people who ask her if it isn't very simple for her to enact her latest role, that of a slavery who becomes a great movie star. The natural impression is that all Colleen has to do to play the last half, the sequence as a star, is to act natural.

But that is not true. For Colleen interprets not her own life, but that of another girl, with a character far different from her own. This definition is very subtle, and hard to follow.

The actress can't act like herself, but must act like another girl acting as an actress. Now it's as clear as mud, but that covers the ground.

With Miss Moore in "Ella Cinders," appear Lloyd Hughes, Vera Lewis, Doris Baker, Emily Gerdes, and many other well known players. Alfred E. Green directed. Mervyn LeRoy injected "funny business."

MORE APPLES FOR BESSIE LOVE

If an apple a day really keeps the doctor away Bessie Love is safe from doctors for a long time to come.

Bessie had to eat while working in "Lovely Mary," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture directed by King Baggot. The apple eating was a "gag" that had to be timed from three or four different angles and each time it was photographed Bessie had to eat a whole apple at high speed. The last apple almost gorged her.

"I never was very fond of apples," said Bessie, when she had finished, "and if I ever see one again I'll collapse."

Bessie has the title role in "Lovely Mary," with William Haines as her leading man, and the cast includes Simpson, Sunshine Hart, Martha Mattox and others.

WARNER BAXTER HAS HIS SAY

Warner Baxter refuses to be a motion picture star.

To show that he is not fooling about it he has a clause to that effect in his long term contract as a Paramount leading man.

"I'm not egotistical about it," Baxter says. "Perhaps no one will ever want to star me. But it is just possible I'll be fortunate in obtaining roles that prove popular. In that event I want to be protected against being starred."

"The professional lives of screen stars are all too brief. The public elevates its favorites to dizzy heights and brings them tumbling down twice as fast. And after a star takes a nose dive like that—when a couple of his pictures fail to meet popular favor—he's as dead as the well known pickled herring."

"As a leading man I hope to enjoy success in motion pictures for many years. I like this work more than anything else I have ever done and I'm merely trying to insure my staying in it."

Baxter plays the role of a young Kentucky mountaineer in "The Runaway," William de Mille's newest production for Paramount. Clara Bow plays the leading feminine role.

DIVIDENDS SMALL ON COOP STOCKS

Many cooperatives have been too easy to get into or have failed to appreciate the individual financial responsibility.

"Primarily," writes C. G. McBride, professor of marketing at the Ohio State University, in a new bulletin outlining the duties of members, directors, and managers of cooperative corporations, "the cooperative venture is not set up to return high dividends upon stock. It is built to effect savings that will reflect in other ways than stock dividends."

"Members conduct the reputation of the association for grades and grading largely through the quality of the commodity they produce. The corporation can market only what its members deliver."

Benefits of organized marketing, continues Mr. McBride, often come from small sacrifices and adjustments on the part of the producers. Cooperation cannot be built on a point of view illustrated in this incident, which is said to have occurred in Italy.

"A birthday party was being held for a parish priest. Word had been quietly passed around that each parishioner should bring a quart of his very best wine to the party and empty it, before entering the house, in a cask under a tree in the yard. At the proper point in the festivities the cask was brought in. The committee set it on the table and drew only pure water from the cask.

"Each man had calculated that his neighbors had done as they were told that he, without anyone being the wiser, could slip in a bottle of water. It is not easy, concludes Mr. McBride, for a member to stick against all sorts of pressure. It is, however, the price of cooperative success."

BALTIMORE AND OHIO R. R. INAUGURATES NEW SYSTEM

America's oldest railroad, The Baltimore and Ohio, demonstrated the newest idea in railroading recently when a special trainload of passengers were transferred by motor buses from Jersey City, over the ferry and through New York traffic to its two new stations in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and the Pershing Square building.

In the future all Baltimore and Ohio passengers will be taken over this route to New York.

Oldest M. E. Minister Reaches Age of 102

MALDEN, MASS.—The world's oldest Methodist minister has just celebrated his 102nd birthday.

In 1824, the Reverend, Edward Stewart Best was born. The whole of his life has been dedicated to his ministerial calling.

His birthday was quietly observed at his home, where the venerable pastor was visited by Mrs. J. W. Cunningham and Rosamund Best, his daughter, two grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

A nephew, Henry Farnham, resides in Chicago.

1927 BUICK DESIGNED TO ELIMINATE NOISE

The Buick for 1927 was designed according to the Buick engineering department, to eliminate all objectionable noises and vibration so common in most automobiles.

In developing the car, all engine noises of an objectionable character were overcome. Noise in the transmission has also been minimized.

This was accomplished by designing an entirely new transmission for all models which gives smooth and silent operation at all speeds. These results were obtained through several different improvements.

Larger gears are used, which reduce the pressure on the teeth. New tooth forms were designed, which have more teeth in contact giving a smooth, rolling action and eliminating gear chatter. The transmission case was designed especially to dampen gear hum. The counter gears are forged in one piece, adding to the quietness of operation.

A large and positive pivot gives correct alignment between the engine and transmission. The transmission bell housing and Byrnes housing have been strongly reinforced. The result is positive alignment among all units, which eliminates clutch rattle, clutch release bearing noise and gear noise.

FIRE BELL TO PASS AFTER 40 YEARS OF DUTY AT SPRINGS

Girl Scout News

At the last meeting of the Girl Scouts the time was changed to Friday evening at 7:30 p.m., as school work is interfering with the afternoon hour. The next meeting will be held on Friday evening and as this is the first meeting for the new year it is hoped that all members will be present, as this will count for attendance stars.

Some of the girls had a nearly perfect attendance from the time the troop was formed here last winter, but as the registration was not made until August 1st., the attendance could not be counted, and it was deemed best to wait until the school year began, before starting the regular Scout meetings, although the girls wished to keep up meetings during the summer months. Several girls are working for second class badges and before next week I think I can report one as having passed. Different members of the troop are beginning to think of merit badges, and as soon as the second class test is passed any member is eligible to try for these badges.

I hope that other girls will take up this work as Scouts and I will welcome any girl between the ages of ten and eighteen who is desirous of becoming a Scout. To the younger girls I will say that if your tenth birthday is before January 1st. you may join now if you wish to.

WILLARD GROWERS WIN

CLEVELAND, OHIO—Three Ohio growers won the Woodruff celery contest at the meeting of the Vegetable Growers Association in convention here. They were Herman Kehl, Louisville, Ohio; Buckingham and Miller Company, Willard, Ohio; and A. H. Heinrich, Brooklyn Station, Cleveland.

A STORY

Here is a story. It is for you in the course of life we persuade it concerns me most when it is I We know not why, We know not why.

We are living here on probation Life at longest is short duration. Many of us are called soon to die We wonder why we wonder why.

We daily mingle as I said before We often part to meet no more. To dear friends we bid good by We wonder why we wonder why.

We all must go. So I am told Our bodies decay. Go back to mould. All creatures living, soon will die. We wonder why we wonder why.

We are placed on earth. Orders given We are told of a Hell. And of Heaven. A place we go when we all die We wonder why we wonder why.

No fault of ours we are on earth We are simply here, we came by birth Here for some purpose, we must try A great problem before us, wonder why.

Neither will save us, silver or gold Your Day will come to leave the field Don't kill time as it goes swiftly by It is value to you, we do know why.

Problems of life is as hard to solve As the rock's of Gibraltar is to Dissolve We do our best. Let the rest go by We have done our duty, we are ready to die.

By W. H. Fetters.

DELPHI NEWS

Wheat sowing seems to be the order of the day.

Rev. L. E. Smith is off for Conference this week in Elyria with request for his return.

Ann and Ruth Shade of Cleveland and Youngstown were last week guests of their sister Mrs. G. K. Young and husband.

I. M. Smith has built a corn crib to take care of the crop of corn growing on the Lord Tisdler place.

Frank Seydel is building or setting a metallic silo for L. A. Goon.

Erlie Wicks and wife and Thos. Campbell of Cleveland, Earl Crushaw and Ray Chandler and family of Willard were planned for a chicken dinner at the Campbell home in Delphi last Sunday.

Melvin Howard of Tiffin is building a cistern for Ella Blackmore. Mrs. Minnie DeWitt and son Adrian were last Sunday guests of friends in Delphi.

Mrs. Melvin Howard and son Oliver and daughter Sylvia were in Delphi last Sunday.

WARDROBE BUDGET SHOPPING POINTERS.

It is a very common saying that all good things come to Delphi. The writer is calling it "The Orchestral Union" composed of members of the orchestras of Plymouth, Ganges, Delphi, and some from Norwalk will meet in the Delphi church next Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. Sunday Sept. 26. Talk about the Popular U. S. Marine Band soon coming to our county seat. They will have nothing on the 25 or 30 musicians in Delphi next Sunday afternoon. This gathering is offered free to the public interested in good music. FREE FREE Come and sit and listen. The only requirement is good order on the part of the audience.

Pointers in economical shopping for the clothing budget have been suggested by clothing specialists at the Ohio State University.

Where the budget allows only a limited amount for a purchase it is more satisfactory to purchase a good grade of a cheaper material than to take the poor quality of a finer one.

Better values, Edna Callahan, extension specialist in clothing at the University observes, "are usually to be found in the lower grade goods of the more expensive store than in the high priced goods of cheap store."

"There are no standard sizes in coats, dresses or shoes. Various brands differ in sizes. Unusual proportions are most easily fitted in higher priced garments. Cheap garments do not take the large number of variations in human proportions into account in either design or construction."

Very little money is saved in making cotton garments at home. The total cost of a house dress, this summer dress, slip, gingham dress, apron, and gown when made at home was found to be about $12.75, according to Miss Callahan. This did not include labor.

The same six garments could have been bought in the same quality material for less than $15.25, a saving of approximately $2.50 not counting labor. The skilled seamstress, however, will have a better looking, better fitting, longer wearing, and generally more satisfactory group of garments.

One-third of our entire wheat crop is ordinarily exported. Half of the export wheat is shipped to the United Kingdom.

LUTHERAN CHURCH
REV. A. M. HIMES, Pastor
Sunday, September 26, 1926.

10:00 a.m. Sunday School.
11:00 a.m. Morning Worship. "Jesus at the Feast."
Last Sunday was Rally Day and we more than reached our goal. Instead of 200 we had 213 present. At that, we can count a dozen or more who were unable to be there. This seems to prove that we should have a regular attendance of about 200 hundred. Let us continue our efforts toward a large attendance that we may make a good showing in the County Wide Rally Day on October 3. Reports are being made to the county organization each week. Look for ours in the papers.

We are also over the top in our Benevolence Campaign. Last Sunday more than enough was pledged to meet our deficit of .193. This response was magnificent and will make our Benevolence work of next year much easier.

Important Meetings

Junior Aid to Meet

Members of Friendship Class Have Good Meeting

The regular social meeting of the Friendship class was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Alan Norris. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. L'Amoureux, Mrs. Scott and Jessie Cole. A most delightful social time was enjoyed, sewing was done for the Worthington home, and messages from Miss Carson, now in Arizona were eagerly enjoyed and appreciated.

For the year ahead, Dulny refreshments were served by the hostesses, and the guests departed vowing Mrs. Norris' home an excellent place for a meeting of the Friendship class.

Visitors at the Danner Home

Guests in the home of D. W. Danner, on North street from Saturday until Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Danner of Angola, Ind., Mrs. Cora Howe, Mrs. Arilla Udell and son for Edna and daughter of Plymouth, Blanche Meyers for her faithful work as president of the class, Miss Ruth L'Amoureux was elected president for the coming year and Mrs. Scott treasurer. A live business session resulted in well formulated plans being set for the year ahead. Dulny refreshments were served by the hostesses, and the guests departed vowing Mrs. Norris' home an excellent place for a meeting of the Friendship class.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Roy Mumaw of Ashland and Mr. W. R. Marmion of near Ganges, were completely surprised when about 23 members of the family, gathered at the home of Mrs. Earl Cline, near Ganges, last Sunday. The church will be open so that anyone wishing to leave them the evening of the class meeting may do so.

Pleasant Affair at Overlook

A very pleasant affair was held at Overlook, the home of Mrs. Wm. Caldwell, Friday afternoon when a number of ladies from Willard motored over. A delicious pot luck dinner was served at six o'clock and the evening was spent in telling school day stories.

An old fashioned quadrille was danced with Glenn DeWitt at the piano. Some fancy step dancing was given by Mrs. F. J. Truxell, two coronet solos by Willard Caldwell.

Those present were Miss Nell Wiegler of Cleveland, Mrs. Chas. Mansson of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Isaac De Witt and son, Mrs. B. J. Jackson, Mrs. L. Nagle, Mrs. F. Amen, Mr. J. M. Wray, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Caldwell, and son Willard.

Clothing Store Enhanced By Attractive Windows

The display windows in the N. B. Rule clothing store are being considerably improved, and when completed will give an added attraction to the store front. The effectiveness of show windows is a material aid in making direct appeal to the public.

Men's furnishings this year are to be varied, and the doubt of the schemes that have existed during the past summer will remain popular through the winter months. Sweaters, shirts, ties and socks are the items of apparel that will mingle with the many hues. A shipment of sweaters just received by this store is evidence of the fact that color will predominate in men's wear.

Another popular feature that has been added to the line of clothing at Rule's is the $22.50 grade of suits. This is a popular price for men's suits, and the quality of materials, style and fabrics are an exception.

Cattle pasturing in the farm woodlot are reducing Ohio's hardwood forest to a mere relic of the once virgin hardwood forests.

The Junior High Saddle Shoulders a New Term

The white child's burden of school work is made lighter by cheerful frocks of bright-colored flannel and wool crepes. All the reds are smart from those that are frankly scarlet to the deepest and more glowing ember, chimney and wine shades. Navy blue with canary, jade or Nattier blue is always 100 per cent., and dark spinach green with a lighter Paris green gets a high mark in French. For the grammar-school ages that are still new to ink and blackboards, many mothers prefer to make these one-piece frocks of check gingham, rayon alpaca, cotton broadcloth and other tub materials. Serge is always useful and the checked light-weight wools are smart.

Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Clady.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Reed and son Billie of Toledo are enjoying their vacation at the W. H. Reed home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sykes of Cincinnati were Thursday and Friday visitors in Plymouth.

It does seem odd, doesn't it that a man like Stephen Foster, who wrote such haunting, heart-touching melodies as "The Swannee River," "My Old Kentucky Home," and "Massa in de Cold Cold Ground," could slip into a life of degeneracy, that a man with a soul that could feel and express such sentiments could permit himself to drift into a life of delinquency. Yet, Foster abandoned his wife and child, lived with a vagabond, and finally died ignominiously, having cut his neck on a pitcher that he broke when he fell down.

There was Hart Pease Danks, who wrote that well-loved romantic song, "Silver Threads among the Gold," which expresses a sentiment that seemingly could come only from one to whom his mate and his married life were the greatest things in the world; yet Danks and his wife made a mess of their marital matters and split up.

And there was Oscar Wilde, who was passionately fond of the beautiful life, and things aesthetic. One would naturally have expected him always to have his eyes turned well toward high ground. But Oscar Wilde went to prison a couple of years for grave offense against morality.

Why are these things? The reason is simple. Listen. It may put you on your guard and keep you on your guard.

The step between decency and indecency is a very short one. The line of demarcation between morality and immorality is not a wide one. The partition between things that are worth while and things that are not worth while is very thin and very frail.

The difference in a name at the bottom of a check is the difference between genuineness and forgery. The slant of an eye or a turn of the head is the difference between fidelity and infidelity. The twist of a knob is the difference between honesty and dishonesty.

A shred of garment is the difference between propriety and impropriety. A piece of soap is the difference between cleanliness and uncleanness.

Every man, no matter how great he is or how good he is, stands with his toes sticking out over the edge of the greased slide that leads to the glue pit. A slight move in the wrong direction and zip! he's gone.

MORE RAINBOW PROFITS

The town of Jacksonville, Florida, has been advertised far and wide as a city operating a very profitable electric light and power plant.

The magazine, "Public Relations," has investigated the situation and finds, first, that no allowance was made for a bond interest amounting to $38,458 a year; second, there was no deduction for retirement fund, which at only four per cent would have amounted to $186,048 a year; third, no taxes were paid, which, according to the rate charged to private utility, would have amounted to $145,475 a year. These three items would turn Jacksonville's advertised annual profit from its light plant of $313,642 a year, into an annual deficit of $54,339.

In Jacksonville, all property, whether it uses the electric service or not, must make up the $145,000 lost annually in taxes. Also, it must eventually rebuild and maintain the plant and put up the bond interest if it is not included in the rate income of the plant. This is in addition to electric rates charged.

It is stated the city now faces a jump of 35 per cent in assessed values, a proceeding necessary to make a $4,000,000 municipal bond issue recently authorized, marketable.

According to a survey made by the National Industrial Conference Board, living costs in Seattle, Detroit, Jacksonville, Cleveland and San Francisco are the highest in the United States. These cities are all heavily involved in municipally owned undertakings which reduce taxable assets and increase tax levies.

IS THE BOY TO BLAME

Said the son to the father: "I would like a new aluminum roadster. I need three new suits of clothes, a new set of golf clubs, some new sport shoes, a couple of hats and a new fishing outfit to go on my vacation."

"Sure," said the father, "go down town and buy these things and charge them to me."

The following month the bills came in together with a "few" others, which were necessary to round out the boy's equipment for his holiday. The father raised the roof with his complaints. Naturally he got no sympathy as the wise ones said it was his own fault for encouraging his family in such extravaganzas.

Along comes an election and candidates for office or proponents of special measures tell us, as taxpayers, that they would like a few thousand dollars for this office, a million or two for a new commission, ten million or 100 million for some state enterprise, a few more motor cars for that bureau and dozens of extra jobs to pay political debts, not to mention several hundred new laws to be passed by the state legislature.

We say, "Sure, that's all right," and vote for the program. A year later the tax bill comes in and then we raise the roof about the increasing cost of government.

But do we deserve any sympathy? Are we any different from the indulgent father?

Don't blame the boy, and don't blame the office holder too much, for the father is responsible for the actions of his children and his family expense, while we, as taxpayers, are responsible for the men we elect to office and our public expense.

SOMETHING FOR WORKMEN TO CONSIDER

Press dispatches from England state that British trade is relying upon its ability to secure a $5,000,000 loan from the Continent, through the Amsterdam International, in order to regress the misfortune occasioned by the general strike. Unless this loan is obtained, the labor movement is doomed to a serious setback.

Even though the loan is secured in Europe or America, of what benefit will it be? It will simply put the workman deeper in debt, and unless the English laborer has learned that increased production per man is the only way to permanently increase wages, he will simply be worse off than ever when he gets the loan.

Writing to the Boston News Bureau from London, Herbert N. Saxon brings to light some astonishing facts in regard to British union accounts following the great coal strike. One union spent $190,000 to distribute $17,000 in benefits. The Railwayman's Union last year, with a revenue of $2,300,000, paid out only $750,000 in benefits; all the rest went for salaries, expenses and politics. The electrical workers received $250,000, and spent $220,000 in salaries and expenses. British trade unions have 10,000 paid officers, who form a practically powerful bureaucracy to promote their own personal and political interests.

American workmen can profit greatly, if they will heed the object lessons seen today in all parts of the world, where efforts are made to pay off debts or increasing wages by every method under the sun except honest toil and increased production by man.

FOUNTAIN PENS

Even styles of fountain pens have changed and there is a relief from the dull black in the attractive shades that have appeared on the new pen barrels. The use of pyralin as the material used to manufacture the barrels of fountain pens has furnished the varieties of colors. Fountain pens now have just as much of a snappy appearance as new automobiles or smocks, with all of their pleasant hues. Some of the largest fountain pen manufacturers in the country are now using this pyroxilin plastic. Extraordinary tests have been made to show its ability to withstand rough usage. In one case a manufacturer ran a heavy fire truck over a barrel and cap made of pyralin without cracking it. Other tests have been made such as dropping the material from a great height. The new material which is used for caps and barrels has a resistance, it is aimed of 800 pounds per square inch.

several who had taken out claims when she did had proved up but had since deserted them. They had found it too expensive to pump sufficient water to really secure a crop. In that locality they had to go so deep to get water at all and then not in very large quantity. We saw some of these abandoned ranches. For the most part the roads on trails through the desert were good, but occasionally we were stalled in the mud. In that locality we had to cross little gullies. I had no notion of trying to take out a claim for myself. I am not so fond of solitude.

"I enjoyed my trip here so much I had a good visit with my college friend in Remont. I enjoyed the drive to Pikes Peak—a 60 miles auto drive combined with the "circle drive" to South Cheyenne Canyon Garden of the Gods, Cave of the Winds, and various other points of interest about Manitou and Colorado Springs. I was there nearly 12 hours leaving there at six in the evening. I was badly sunburned that day.

"I stayed a day and a half at Albuquerque because a Spanish worker's Conference was in session. It was interdenominational but largely Presbyterian. It was held at our Harwood School for Girls. I also visited our Tubercular Hospital outlying at Harwood. It is under the same Bureau Secretary as this school.

"Next I stopped at El Paso, and spent one full day (24 hrs) with George Barton and his wife. He had stayed at our house when in college and was sick with tuberculosis before he left Delaware. He has been in bed for 7 years. He and May are quite hopeful that he will finally recover. It was a real blessing to visit them.

"We have a very pleasant location here at least semi-Spanish, having a large central room (parlor) which is open to the third story cupola which is surrounded by glass, part of which can be opened.

The hall way on the second floor is nearly five feet wide around this central opening. All rooms open on this which furnishes good ventilation. I have a pleasant small room alone as I wished.

"Our front yard is grassy and has a number of trees and shrubs—two date palms, poplar trees one cedar, China myrtle, pomegranate, crepe myrtle and some others.

"Write me all the news.
"With love,

Plans are being made to make Oct. 3rd the biggest day for a number of years in both the church and Sunday School, with the Rally Day at the Sunday School and Harvest Home Service in the Church, observed with a special sermon in the morning and a PAGEANT in the evening at 7:30. More details of the program will be given next week but the public is invited to these services.

Seattle Woman Renews Advertiser Subscription

It is said that distance lends to enchantment, and so we are pleased to receive a card from Mrs. M. M. Hough of Seattle, Wash., renewing her subscription.

In a short note Mrs. Hough stated that on Monday, Sept. 13, she celebrated her 55th anniversary, and at that age she is very much interested in her old hometown—Plymouth. The primary election was held on Sept. 11 in Washington and Mrs. Hough stated that she had her "READY DAY" tie pat on the eighteenth amendment and law enforcement.

Mrs. Hough moved out to Washington some 30 or 35 years ago. Quite a number of her friends will be glad to learn that she still is interested in them.

Brothers Meet After 36-Year Separation

CLEVELAND—Two brothers, separated for 36 years are celebrating their reunion in this city at the home of the younger brother, Samuel N. Katz a barber.

Recently Solomon Katz, of Manchester, England, walked into Samuel's barber shop and asked for a haircut. He did not introduce himself.

"You remind me a great deal of my father," said Samuel as he snipped away. "What is your name?"

"My name is Owens," replied Solomon and left the shop without revealing his identity.

When Samuel went home he found his late customer chatting with the family.

"I'm Solomon," said the long lost brother; and "I'm happy," said Samuel.

The family formerly lived in Kovna, Russia. Solomon moved to Manchester and established himself as a diamond merchant; Samuel came to Cleveland; and another brother, Joseph went to Pittsburgh. The parents remained in Kovna and died during the World war. Solomon traced his brother through the aid of a rabbi in Kovna and two months ago communicated with them.

DINNER GUESTS
A very delightful repast was served Monday evening at the Judson home by Mrs. J. H. Donaldson, Miss Lillian Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Donaldson, son Robert of New Washington. A social time was enjoyed.

Visits Here After Period of 45 Years

A modern Rip Van Winkle was re-nacted last Saturday when James M. Taylor, successful New York business man, paid a visit to Plymouth after a period of absence totalling forty five years.

As a boy Mr. Taylor roamed the wooded areas nearby, and over valley and dale. Leaving Plymouth at an early age, unforeseen things have prevented his returning to the old town time after time. However, while enroute from his home in California to New York, he stopped over Saturday and Sunday to greet his friends whom he knew in boyhood days, and they proved very few.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob McDonough, Robert Nimmons, Ed Willett, F. D. Gunzallus and a few more greeted Mr. Taylor with old time stories and discussed the happenings of the past 45 years.

Mr. Taylor marveled at the gardens in Celeryville and predicted that some day the entire marsh land would be on an equally productive plan. When asked what he thought of Plymouth, he stated that it was somewhat disappointed for it was the same town he had left, with the exception of a few paved streets.

As Vice-president and treasurer of the Standard Lumbering Co. of New York Mr. Taylor has proved quite a successful man in industry, and is still very active in his work.

Ohio had 745 farmers' institutes last year. There were almost 3500 sessions attended by 647,000 people.

Tragedies of the Storm

The palatial Miami Beach home of Harvey S. Firestone, the manufacturer, was the scene of a pitched battle yesterday, when looters attempted to carry off a large amount of furnishings. Blue jackets on guard near the residence drove the men off.

The famous James Whitcomb Riley oak tree, set out by the Hooper post several years ago at the intersection of Collins avenue and Lincoln road, two main thoroughfares of Miami Beach, was uprooted by the storm.

C. G. Rhodes, a Fort Lauderdale millionaire, withdrew $10,000 from a bank yesterday and passed bills of large denominations to distribute persons on the streets.

Seeing his dog floating down the street in a deluge of water, a Sebring man plunged into the flood in an attempted rescue. Man and dog died together.

A Miami Beach druggist, clad only in a bathing suit, for three days, has dispensed drugs and soft drinks from the soda fountain of his store, unroofed and demolished by the hurricane.

When flood waters of Lake Okechobee swept over Moorhaven, F. W. Bowman clucked at a tree to which he clung until rescued more than twelve hours later. His wife and two daughters were drowned.

Joseph Alton, Fort Lauderdale barge man, carried Chuck Lewis on his back from Hollywood to Miami, a distance of 18 miles, for medical treatment.

Caught in the deluge which Lake Okechobee burst its dykes, at Moorhaven, a mother lashed her three children to her with inflated automobile tubes. Struggling desperately, she reached the roof of a floating house and as she crawled on to the wet boards, all three were swept from her. She was rescued alone.

A woman relief worker at Sebring appealed to newspaper men last night for belts. "We have a quantity of trousers for men," she said, "but no belts to hold them up. Please issue an appeal for belt at once."

No casualties were reported among the Seminole Indians at Miami. The witty subjects of Chief Tony Tommie, taking note of a bit of Indian lore retired to the fastness of the Everglades several days before the storm, when they noticed the blooming of the saw grass. "Mean much rain, may be big storm," said one brave.

An Associated Press correspondent driving yesterday was hailed by a farmer who had an iron spike driven through his left cheek. He was taken to Fort Lauderdale, where a doctor sewed up the wound.

During the height of the Moorhaven flood, a young negro boy stood on a bridge over a drainage canal and rescued eight white and twelve negro children as they were swept along in the flood beneath him.
