

Lyceum Here Next Tuesday

This is the number we have all been looking forward to with such great interest for it is then that Brush the Great will entertain young and old with his tricks and magic. Watch things disappear before your eyes, where do they go? Where do the other things come from that are taken out of the air? The children will be delighted at his mysticisms, and none of us really outgrow that phase of child hood in which we are interested in the seemingly unreal, or magic.

Everyone be at Hamilton Hall Tuesday Jan. 18th at 8 p.m. ready to see Brush the Great perform his mystifying feats. Admission, Adults 50c, children 25c.

Correction of LAST WEEK'S AN NOUNCEMENT. As—Jan. 17, 1927 to Jan. 18, 1927.

ENJOY PARTY

God's Most Neglected People

Editor's Note—This is the second of a series of articles that will appear each week in this newspaper dealing with Ohio's problem of increasing insanity. These articles are sponsored by the Ohio Association for the Welfare of the Mentally Sick, which has but one objective, namely, more scientific and more humane treatment of mentally sick patients in state hospitals and the rapid rehabilitation of these unfortunate.

The word "lunatic" came from the Latin and implied that the man of woman who had peculiar ideas or peculiar actions had been unfavorably influenced by the moon.

The word was coined at a time when the people believed the earth to be flat. We still, however, use the term "lunatic" as our official language in court records. It is not a medical term.

In the beginning of written history we find that the people then existing on earth had but very little information on certain lines.

The general subject of medicine had a very lowly beginning. The general treatment of sickness usually rested in the hands of religious leaders. The physically sick had a mighty poor chance of getting well unless their resistance proved greater than the advice they were given by those who knew nothing about what they were advising.

Doomed Because of the Moon
Often the mentally sick were doomed because they had permitted the moon to have so unwholesome an influence upon them. In other instances they were worshipped because they were thought to be especially blessed by the gods.

In many countries the so-called lunatics were thought of as being possessed with devils and that God-fearing people should have nothing to do with them, but should lock them in dungeons, with chains about their necks, wrists and arms, in solitary confinement, that the clank of chains might be a constant reminder of their permitting the devil to gain possession of their souls. Others were put to death, some by the rack, some by the guillotine, some by hanging, others by drowning.

One of the great outstanding institutions in the old world today, the old Bethlehem hospital in London, inflicted some of the most hideous forms of treatment on lunatics. This institution, in its earlier days, was nothing more than an ordinary zoological garden where the raving maniac was chained to the floor in his cell while visitors would pass through to behold him, paying an admission charge.

The First Forward Step immediately following the French revolution, and in the days when society seemed most dark, we see a forward step being taken. Two great moves started about the same time, one in Paris and the other in London, the former under Dr. Phillip Pinel, while the latter was headed by William Tuke.

Both men did great work. Pinel banished the insane madman, then confined in the Bicetre, the institution for insane just outside of Paris, to be taken out of the dungeons, the iron hands taken from their arms, wrists and ankles and to be set at liberty within the confines of the institution. Many of these patients had not seen sunlight for many years. The insane were no longer put to death after Pinel's time.

Methods Are Unscientific

The mere fact that society, within few years could change its ideas so radically in the proper appreciation of mental sickness can be looked upon as a most favorable sign, for it was possible for society to change from the belief that it was perfectly right to put the insane to death, to the belief that they should not be put to death because they were irresponsible human beings, then it is possible for society of today to change its views relative to the present-day unscientific care of those who are mentally sick. The Ohio Association for the Welfare of the Mentally Sick is sponsoring a movement for a more sympathetic and more scientific handling of the great problem of insanity.

COASTING PARTY

A number of boys and girls from the 7th, and 8th, grades in New Haven school were invited to a coasting party Friday night at the home of Miss Lucille Lofland. After coasting for some time they enjoyed a delicious lunch which Mrs. Lofland had prepared for them.

Funeral Services Held for Brother of Mrs. A. Becker

News of the death of Fred R. Long was received last Friday morning here with much regret by his many friends. Mr. Long died at his home in Ashland Friday morning. He was a former resident of Plymouth, having conducted a livery barn here for a number of years. About 22 years ago he moved to Ashland where he lived until his death.

Funeral services were held at Ashland Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and the remains were brought to New Haven where interment was made. The deceased is survived by one son, Cordie Long of New Haven, and one sister, Mrs. Alton Becker of Sandusky street.

One Killed In Wreck Here

New Washington Young Men Hit by A. C. & Y. Train Friday.

Lee Rothchild aged 23 years, of New Washington was fatally injured, and Lloyd Carson, aged 38, had his left leg fractured and sustained serious injuries when the automobile in which they were seated was struck by an A. C. & Y. westbound combination train at Plymouth Friday afternoon as they were leaving Plymouth for Shiloh.

Rothchild died at 3 o'clock at Shelby hospital where both men were removed following the crash. The automobile was carried several hundred feet on the pilot of the engine and was almost a total wreck. Both men were still in the car when the train crew reached them.

Rothchild was in an unconscious condition and remained in that state until he died as the result of a skull fracture, sustained by the impact with the engine. His relatives were summoned from New Washington and arrived at the hospital a few minutes after he died.

Rothchild is survived by his father, Charles Rothchild, a councilman of New Washington, two brothers, Jacob and Claude, four sisters, Helen and Evelyn at home Mrs. E. M. Myers all of New Washington, and Mrs. Roy Kibbet of Shelby.

Carson is the son of Marshal John Carson of New Washington and has been employed in cutting wood with Rothchild for some time.

The body was removed to his late home at New Washington late Friday where funeral services were held.

Was It Worth It?

CHICAGO—Sentenced to fourteen years' imprisonment for stealing a kiss is to much punishment Julius Kessler decided today and appealed to the state supreme court for a rehearing of the case which was brought by Miss Josephine Murphy, 25, a former Kessler's girl, who kissed her against her will.

News Notes From the Capital

COLUMBUS—Vic Donahay of New Philadelphia was inaugurated governor for the third time Monday. The oath was administered in the presence of a court of 11 judges, presided over by Supreme Court Justice Marshall. The ceremony was witnessed by the governor's three grandchildren, one of whom, however, is only three weeks old. She did not seem to comprehend just what all the fuss was about.

Optometrists, the men who examine eyes without the use of drugs, are making big preparations for the state convention, which is to be held in Dayton in the Spring. National speakers are being engaged. One of the features of the convention will be a free airplane trip over the city. It is expected several hundred persons will attend the gathering.

Governor Donahay and the general assembly seem to be agreed that the state must raise more money by tax. Young Hicks is a former Plymouth boy and has many friends in this vicinity who will be interested in the outcome of the race which is to be held Saturday, Jan. 15.

CONDITION IMPROVED

The condition of James Deveney who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks with a severe attack of pneumonia, is reported to be slowly improving. This news will be received with much delight by his many friends here. It is hoped that he will soon enjoy a complete recovery.

GREENWICH COMPANY

The Ohio Metal Utensil Co. has made an assignment in the court of Probate Judge J. M. Bechtel. Deed of assignment has been filed by C. C. Debut of Greenwich, who as assignee has filed a bond of $12,000. Some time ago, Jacob Hartman, a former executive of the firm was returned a verdict of $1700 against the Ohio Metal Utensil Co., and last week, the state supreme court refused to review the case on motion of the defendant.

Bureau Commission man of the sheep department at Cleveland shows his principle.

Last week V. C. Mosher, trucked a load of lambs for me to Cleveland last week. Lambs that had been fed on a self feeder for 60 days and averaged 75 pounds.

I consigned these lambs to the Produce Cooperative Commission Association, selling live stock for the Farm Bureau.

After dinner we returned to the yard to see if the lambs had been sold. The manager of this department stated that he could not sell them for 10c. Taking us to the pen of lambs, we found three buyers looking them over. This so called Farm Bureau Commission man stated in a very loud tone so that every one could hear him, "These lambs are nothing but a bunch of culls and they are worth 10c a head. Now if you want to sell them I will ask 10c cents and see what these men will offer me."

I informed him that he could not do business for me. Opening the pen I have them out and consigned them to the Produce Commission Co. where they sold for 11 cents. Had I not interfered with the Producer I would have had a loss of $40.00 or more.

REMOVED HOME

Lester Shields, who underwent an operation at the Shelby Hospital, was removed to his home Monday. His many friends will be glad to know that he is doing nicely.

At The Churches
METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH
W. H. GIBSON, Minister

Last week we announced tentatively, the coming of "The Jonathan Glee Club," of Central M. E. Church, Mansfield, of which Paul Shepherd, a former resident here, is a member. We are now advised they will be here on Sunday evening, Jan. 23, at 7:30 p.m. This club travels under the auspices of their teacher, a layman in Central Church. Fine reports of their singing have been given from places where they have been, and we can assure our people a time of enjoyment and worship during this evening program.

A silver offering will be taken which money is used for mission work by this fine class of young men.

Severe illness prevented many from attending the Week of Prayer that was held last week. We are very sorry so many were ill, and we glad most all are much better at this writing. Mrs. L. Z. Davis has not improved as we could wish. Mrs. Halndel is still laid up, suffering now from the "flu."

Mrs. John Beelman has a heavy cold. Quite a fine turnout of ladies of the AMI society gathered at the home of Ira Ross Tuesday, for an all day meeting, and sewing. Mrs. Ross served a sumptuous dinner to the company, and they report a delightful time.

"How to spell Hell with five letters" was a sermon we heard announced some years ago, and it developed into "Habit," as the subject used. We admit Habit does declare the doom of many, but when it is rightly formed, it likewise declares the salvation of the individual. For good habits are as easily formed as are bad ones. The habit of Prayer, exercise of Faith, Kindness, love of best things, Church attendance and Worship are habits that grow with the years, and for which none will ever blush to own. These habits will cause our friends to admire us, our enemies to respect us, and God to love and in the END will assure us a triumphant entrance into the Land of Perfect Day. The habit of family worship, of parents admitting their responsibility for the rearing of children, sending them out into life without the handicap that many have, of no religious training, unless they accidentally fall under the influence of some Christian man or woman, gives the young person an advantage in meeting the responsibilities of life in which he is NINETY per cent more likely to succeed than if he had these advantages of training.

We wonder if it would not be well for parents to think of these things when we are assured by those who have investigated, that but few of the convicts in our prisons ever had any religious training.

IS YOUR CHRIST A POSSESSION, or but a mere PROFESSION? Is your Religion of enough importance to you to be worth passing on to OTHERS?

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
J. W. Miller, M. A., Minister
Sunday, January 16, 1927

When you sum up the aggregate of the happenings of life that are transpiring, that come to pass and are passing or have already passed, you will be astonished to see how little there is left. IT CAME TO PASS will be the theme next Sunday, 11 a.m. The men's chorus will sing. The Bible School with the enthusiasm of last Sunday's program carried over, at 10 a.m. The Junior Boosters will sing.

Sunday evening, God services for young people. Ray Keller will lead the Senior Group.

WHO IS IT?
There is a man on the street I wonder if you can guess, He drives a one horse wagon Which carries the EXPRESS.

He is always on the job As any one must say, Whoa! Back up, honey, Maria, A finer day, A finer day.

Always has a word to say To those he chance to meet, You can always locate him If at all upon the street.

He will advertise business This will help you to sell, Don't believe in secrets Listen! And he will tell,

We would miss the little wagon If it would stop, I would say, Would miss the voice we hear As it says "a finer day."

He is always ready to help And do that which is right, His charges for his service Is never out of sight.

Now since you have guessed The name we need not say, No difference about weather It is always "a finer day."

Of course, Bebe gets off on the wrong foot. How she changes and causes an ocean of laughs.

Heading the hand-picked cast we find Charlie Paddock of cinderpath fame. He displays fine acting potentialities and should go far in his new field of action. James Hall and El Brendel, respectively, take care of the love and comedy interests. Joan Standing, Gilbert Roland, Irma Kornea and Jocelyn Lee are also in the cast.

TOM MEIGHAN WAKES

ALL HIS NEIGHBORS
Great Neck, New York, police and fire headquarters were swamped with telephone calls one eventful evening. Everybody wanted to know where the fire was and why an alarm hadn't been rung. No information was forthcoming until a motorcycle policeman investigated. He reported that Thomas Meighan and Renee Aadore were saying goodbye to each other under the trees of the Kensington estate.

The excitement was caused by the shooting of a scene for "Tin Gods." Mr. Meighan's new Paramount picture which arrives at the Shelby Opera House next Tuesday. The story's script calls for Miss Aadore to leave Tom's cabin by walking down a hill through the trees.

To get the proper effect, Director Allan Dwan ordered a battery of lights from the Long Island Studio and a gang of men to hold magnesium flares. Sun arcs were turned toward low-hanging clouds to reflect the proper amount of light. Others were used in creating moon shadows. The effect from a distance was surprising to say the least.

"FOR ALIMONY ONLY"

CAST IS EXPENSIVE
The smallest cast yet filmed on the DeMille lot! But—it is one of the most expensive.

There are only five members of importance in the cast of the Lenoxville Coffe original screen play, "For Alimony Only," which was directed by William de Mille, and which comes to Shelby Opera House on Wednesday, but the combined salaries of the players amounts to as much as that of a larger cast.

Leatrice Joy plays the starring role of Mary Martin Williams; Clive Brooks supports Miss Joy as Peter Williams; Lilyan Tashman has the second feminine lead as Narcissa Williams; Bertie Warring is played by Casson Ferguson and Toby Claude in the maid.

It's an old adage that "good goods comes in small packages," which applies to "For Alimony Only," apparently.

DOG RACING TOWN

HEADQUARTERS OF "STORM PRISONERS"
McCall, Idaho, a city chiefly famous for its annual dog races and its summer resort at Payette Lake, was the headquarters for the Universal company while it was on location to film "Prisoners of the Storm," the House Peters starring production which comes to the Shelby Opera House Saturday.

The trip to the northern city was made during the middle of winter, and the entire region was cloaked in a heavy blanket of ice and snow.

Every hotel and rooming house was filled by members of the company, and the entire group waited for days for the weather to clear sufficiently to shoot the necessary scenes.

Despite its inaccessibility—there being but one train in and one out of McCall every 24 hours—that district is a favorite location spot for motion picture companies from Hollywood. Across the divide a short distance from the town is a wasteland of ice and snow, which has appeared on the screen as Alaska, northern Canada, Iceland, Siberia, and a score of other places which it is not.

"Prisoners of the Storm" was directed by Lynn Reynolds, and in addition to Peters, the star, the cast includes Peggy Montgomery, Walter McGrail, Harry Todd, Fred DeSilver, Lillian Nicholson and others.

Charles A. Logie adapted the story from James Oliver Curwood's novel, "The Quest of Joan."

"FLAMING FOREST"
A STIRRING EPIC OF MOUNTED POLICE

Too much cannot be said in praise of "The Flaming Forest," the Cosmopolitan screen adaptation of James Oliver Curwood's celebrated novel of the same name, which opened last night at the Temple Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

The picture clearly shows that it was filmed only after the most elaborate preparation, the result of which must have been highly satisfactory both to Cosmopolitan and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, the latter having made the picture at their Culver City studio.

The work of Antonio Moreno and Renee Aadore was little short of absolute perfection. Though they have never appeared before in the same production they were perfectly timed in action and worked in unison throughout the entire picture.

Moreno, who for many years confined his interpretations to Latin roles, has proved conclusively that he makes as good an Irishman as though his name had been Kelly and he had been born on the Emerald Isle. Tom has been forging rapidly to the front during the last year with his good work in "The Temptress," "Love's Blindness," and other productions, but he has never had a role so suited to his type as that of Sergeant Carigan of the Northwest Mounted.

Miss Aadore has even eclipsed her work in "The Big Parade," if such is possible. "The Flaming Forest" has given her a role with a wide range of possibilities and she has successfully met each one of them. It seems that she has justified the much favorable criticism which she received for her good work with John Gilbert in "The Big Parade" and with Lillian Gish in "La Boheme."

BEBE'S COMEDY
ALLED SPEEDY

If you want a college education in the course of an hour—a mere dole of study, yet teaching the latest thing in laughs—get down to the Temple Theatre, toute de suite! Sunday.

The reason? Bebe Daniels! She's back again—the same vivaciously dashing bit of femininity who romps through Paramount comedies to the accompaniment of a thousand laughs. This time, they're all dressed up and steeped in college atmosphere. "The Campus Flirt," written by Louise Long and Lloyd Corrigan was directed by Clarence Badger.

Bebe is cast as a "milsent"—a girl who is sent to an American co-educational college because it is her father's alma mater. He feels that his daughter's snobbish, arrogant ways are merely a veneer through which the girl's true character will come shining after a period of shoulder-rubbing with other students.

Girl Scout News

Anyone who was up town Saturday afternoon probably wondered what was going on, up over the Advertiser. It was a busy place for about twenty active Girl Scouts, assisted by Bob Bachrach were cleaning up the room preparatory to moving in. The first sweep swept up the dirt which had been left after potatoes were stored there, the second swept with corn meal, and the third mopped the floor. Some carried water, and others took the rubbish and paper down stairs where it was burned by our young man helper. We washed the windows, and the woodwork, and now feel fairly clean. I was afraid that some of the mothers would think that their daughters had been exchanged for little Africans, but probably a visit to the bathtub cleared up their doubts as well as complexions. Mrs. Storck has loaned us a soft coal stove for the rooms, and we have chairs and stands promised to help us furnish. If anyone has a long narrow table that we can use we will be a great help. Also some sort of a cupboard for supplies and material will be appreciated. Monday evening the troop met at the home of Mrs. Sellar for their reg-

It was reported that Ruth St. Clair, Louise Ross and Ellen Anderson had passed their tenderfoot tests, while Jane Bachrach has passed on Flag History, Table Setting, Fire Prevention Study, Ruth Roth has passed Flag History, Fire Prevention, and Nature History, Compass, and Observation Tests. Mills King has passed Fire Prevention. Work was commenced on Signalling by the entire troop, and the girls learned the signals for the first three letters of the alphabet. Three letters will be taken up every meeting, with the symbols for them, to do not miss a meeting, as this is an excellent opportunity to learn the most difficult test of the second class work.

Plans are on foot now to teach basket making, sewing and talks will be given every week on some interesting subject. We hope to teach stencilling and lamp shade making, and other fancy articles, and later there will be a bazaar held to raise funds to keep up the expenses of the troop.

Any girl who will be ten years old this year may join the troop. The dues are 5c a week, and are paid weekly. Any mother who is interested in this movement may call me and I will be glad to give them information on the subject.

DELPHI NEWS

Good sleighing and plenty of snow is with us. The thermometer lingers around zero during the night season. R. R. Black and wife and the writer enjoyed the courtesies of some of the people of Willard Saturday night. Chas Howard of Norwalk is agent at the home of Lyman and Clara L. Wakeman.

G. T. Cuptl and wife and Ella Blackmore were shoppers in Greenwich, Saturday.

Clifford Ewing and family returned on a Holiday visit with their parents in Indiana, last Friday. Orrville Corbin of Willard was among the boys in the young people's class in the Delphi Sunday School last Sunday. Clifford Campbell was the teacher.

Clarence Howard and F. W. Knight were selling beat quarters to their neighbors last week.

Walter Smith of New Haven was the guest of his parents last Sunday.

George Young narrowly escaped a very serious accident last week when a fractious colt he was leading from water, jerked him across a rack throwing him to the ground and stepping on his forehead, giving him a pair black eyes for the balance of the week.

Mrs. Hattie VanBaskirk was hurried to the Shelby Hospital last Friday for an operation for internal troubles. Her husband taking treatment at Magnetic Springs for rheumatism was given a hurry up phone call of the sad event. The last report was that the patient was resting easier and gaining strength for the operation.

Mrs. Ethel Guess is among the patient sufferers in the vicinity and it is hoped by all her many friends the dress cancerous malady may be conquered. Every thing is being done that is possible for her relief.

Our Weekly Sermonette

(By Dr. G. R. Mente)

Our Social Duties

"In as much as you have done these acts of kindness unto one of the least of mine, ye have done it unto me," these words uttered by the Divine Teacher many centuries ago. But these very words should become the foundation and ground-work of the social and church life in this complex century, and unless we live ourselves into the spirit of this message, we fall miserably in our conception of the spirit of Christianity. A little while ago the writer was told by some otherwise sincere people, that a city church was falling down on its job to preach Christ crucified in attending too much on so called community work.

The Master in using the text of this little sermon undoubtedly foresaw the condition of our age, and attempts to paint a picture of the need of encouraging words as well as kindly needs, by pronouncing upon the donor of these, the blessings of heaven.

When the home falls to function and do its duty, the church of Christ must of necessity, step in and supplement the home, for the home, that is, the church. This is one of the main reasons why the writer believes in the institutional church in our great business centers. Now do not misunderstand me, for I do not claim the institutional church should supplant the home, but become a part of the same, but I firmly believe it should and will build up the home, and restore the broken links of family affection and family life.

Take our great centers of population and the institutional church is not only a blessing in disguise, but a need that cannot be supplied by any other agency. Of course, to carry on this work, requires organization and training for leaders, for special training is needed, especially among the foreign or alien part of our republic, if the very best results shall be obtained.

Go into the congested tenement districts of our great cities and you will discover very soon women and children, along side of men, who are the victims of vice, intemperance, poverty and crime. Taking for granted that many of these dwellers are abnormal in mentality, having perhaps gone down under the heavy strain of social and industrial demands of the city. Still it cannot be denied that a majority of these poor degraded creatures, made of the same clay as the best of us here, have had a fair chance. Especially is this true of the children of these districts.

As a general rule the fashionable church has removed its influence from such neighborhoods, to move into more favored parts of the great throbbing city. And if churches still remain in some ancient year, they maintain type of worship that does not appeal to nor attract these unfortunate, hence the institutional church has sprung into existence and is attempting to solve this knotty problem.

With the advent of the past year, came the introduction of the Pontiac Six. So great was the demand it created, that in six months Pontiac Six production had exceeded the greatest full year record previously scored by a new make of car. And by the end of the year, with Pontiac production reaching 76,523 cars, that record had been surpassed by more than 100%! In July came the Greater Oakland Six with 77 refinements, featured by that epochal engineering development—the Rubber-

Now, with its position securely established, Oakland-Pontiac bids for new and greater heights—for over fifteen millions of dollars are being invested to provide for greater production. In the strictest sense, this huge investment represents more than an expression of confidence by General Motors in Oakland principles of design, manufacture and distribution.

It stands as a tangible pledge to the public at large that in fundamental goodness and fundamental value the Oakland and Pontiac Six will continue supreme in their fields!

PROBE ACTIVITIES OF "COLLECTION AGENT"

WILLARD, Jan. 7.—(Special Postoffice inspectors arrived in Willard late today to take charge of an investigation into the purported activities of a man styling himself agent for a Chicago collecting agency, who is believed to have forged lists of "creditors" with a result that during the last week, "debtors" of the city have been "sunned" for accounts not incurred.

According to merchants here the man, said to have had only one arm and to have been uncouth in appearance, called upon them some time ago and argued they turn over to him, all their accounts for collection.

Majority refused, although several are said to have sought his "assistance."

During the last several days, however, residents have been receiving notices from a collection agency, demanding prompt settlement of accounts, in some cases threatening suit, it is said.

Merchants have been "called to task" by their customers. It is presumed that, failing to secure more "co-operation" from business men, the "agent," who received mail here under the name of D. Smith, compiled lists of names from the city directory.

Civic clubs of the community have been co-operating in the investigation of the matter, which is in charge of G. F. Uch, postoffice inspector, of Cincinnati, and Postmaster Frank R. James.

The same scheme was pulled off in Plymouth. Mr. N. J. McBride received a dun or two for articles never purchased.

Fords Lose to Blue Jackets

Miss Agnes Beelman Dies At Her Home Here

A small floor almost no out-of-bounds was the undoing of the local Ford Basket Ball Team when it journeyed to Mansfield last Thursday evening to meet the Mansfield Blue Jackets on the Friendly House floor. A timely spurt and some lucky long shots in the final quarter enabled the Mansfield team to overcome Plymouth's lead and send the game in their favor with a score of 32 to 30. The game looked like five simultaneous wrestling matches with sporadic efforts to throw a big leather ball through a jungle of arms and legs. Somehow it brought back the rhythm of the immortal "Charge of the Light Brigade" something like this:
"Players to the right of them.
Players to left of them.
Roared through the hall.
Some game they played
But not—not basket ball."

PARTY

Last Friday evening the Bible Class surprised Rev. and Mrs. S. Struyk and family by a party given in their honor in the church parlors. There were 37 present.

Several games were played, and all entered into the fun with heart and soul. Lunch was served by the girls which consisted of coffee, sandwiches, pickles and fruit salad. Mr. Billie Newmeyer was the head waiter, and also gave his services in the kitchen.

Following the lunch was the program. Nick Moll made the presentation speech and Rev. Struyk made a very fitting reply. He was presented with a pecuniary gift to be used in purchasing a watch.

A well acted dialogue was given by the Misses Anna Cok, Bouwena Burma, Matje Cok and Henrica Cok. The Van Zoest brothers, Ben and Fred, kept the group entertained for a few minutes with their jokes. Mrs. Henry Burma presented a reading to have been given by a small boy, but as he was not present she filled the small boys shoes. The parting knell came at 1:30 o'clock.

Tom Shaarda, Cooney Burma, Buns Newmeyer and Jack Burma motored to Bellvue Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hothouse were Saturday evening visitors of Henry Newmeyer.

Mrs. Sam Postema and Mrs. Nick Moll are on the sick list. Mrs. G. Wiers, Mrs. Tom Shaarda, and Miss Grae Newmeyer were Tuesday evening visitors of Mrs. J. S. Shaarda.

Mrs. Sam Danhoff and Mrs. Ed Wiers were Tuesday afternoon guests of Miss Lena Workman.

Mr. DeWitt and daughter Dorothy of New Haven, were Sunday visitors of Wm. Newmeyer and family.

Sam Danhoff was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Shaarda.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Danhoff and family were Friday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Van Loos.

Mrs. Odella Wolfe and son Russell of Attica were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Vogel and Mr. and Mrs. Furl Buckingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Moll were Sunday afternoon and evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burma.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hothouse were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. J. Postema.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Cok and family were Mr. and Mrs. J. Cok and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fransens and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cok and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vogel and family were Sunday afternoon and evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Wiers. People Burma, Trina Postema, Evelyn Sharpless and Maria Struyk were the watch guards at the home of Nick Moll last Friday evening.

LADIES AID ENJOY ALL DAY SESSION

An all day session was enjoyed by the members of the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ira Ross on the Bucyrus Road. Means of conveyance for all those who wished to go was secured and a goodly number responded. Sewing occupied the women for the most part of the day and a social time was enjoyed.

At noon Mrs. Ross served a bounteous dinner to which full justice was done.

ENTERTAINS CHOIR

Mr. E. E. Balduf proved a very able host to members of the Presbyterian Choir Wednesday evening at his home on Plymouth street. The affair was in the nature of a surprise party for Mr. William Harris of Mansfield, who has so willingly and capably aided the choir. Also living in Mansfield, the choir has been a faithful member, and contributed much to the choir's success. Games, music and contests entertained the guests and a delicious luncheon served by Mrs. Balduf and daughter. A goodly number turned out for the occasion.

SUNDAY GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ross and sons were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Lowmiller of Shelby.

SLEIGH PARTY

An old fashioned bob sled party was enjoyed Friday evening by the R. C. Blake employees of Willard, and their families and friends. The weather was ideal and the sleighing fine.

The party journeyed to Plymouth and terminated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Miller of North street, where the remainder of the evening was spent. A general good time followed and a splendid lunch enjoyed.

Fords Even With Lucas

The Russell and Reynolds Ford Basket Ball squared accounts with the O. O. F. team of Lucas by defeating them in a hard fought game at Hamilton Hall on Tuesday evening with a score of 36 to 31. The Ford team did most of its scoring in the first half which was very one sided. The Lucas team had things their own way in the second half reports. The Ladies' Aid Society had a busy and prosperous year. It paid for the new furnace, for the parsonage and gave $100 toward the decorating bill besides many other things. The Unity class reports 231 members and a contribution of $100 toward decorating the church. The Alpha Class has already contributed $100 toward the decorating bill and expects to have another like amount soon. The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society has contributed about $211 to missions during the year. The Young Women's Missionary Society reports 29 members. The Treasurer of the church reported a total disbursement of $5,765 and a balance in the treasury.

LUTHERAN CHURCH HAS GOOD YEAR

The Lutheran church had a nice family gathering on Monday evening when they met for their annual congregational meeting. Before the meeting was formally opened the Lutheran Orchestra gave several pleasing numbers. All the organizations of the church made reports. The Ladies' Aid Society had a busy and prosperous year. It paid for the new furnace, for the parsonage and gave $100 toward the decorating bill besides many other things. The Unity class reports 231 members and a contribution of $100 toward decorating the church. The Alpha Class has already contributed $100 toward the decorating bill and expects to have another like amount soon. The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society has contributed about $211 to missions during the year. The Young Women's Missionary Society reports 29 members. The Treasurer of the church reported a total disbursement of $5,765 and a balance in the treasury.

The pastor reported that during the year he had conducted 18 funeral services, solemnized 5 weddings, baptized 2 infants and received 21 new members into the church. The election resulted in the choice of Matthias Dallas as Elder, W. W. Trimmer as Deacon, E. K. Tranger, Secretary and Mrs. J. E. Nimmons, Treasurer.

Prominent Shelby Man Passes Away Last Thursday

Frank Elwood McKellogg, prominent clothing merchant of Shelby and well known all over the state, having been engaged in business in a score of Ohio cities, passed away at the family home in Shelby Thursday. Mr. McKellogg had a stroke Sunday morning and during the remainder of the day was partially conscious at times but Monday became worse and was practically unconscious from then on until death. Mr. McKellogg sustained a slight stroke about a year ago and since that time had gradually declined in health.

He had been engaged in the clothing business in the city for the past ten years and besides had business interests in Oberlin, Ashland, Millersburg and other cities, but preferred to make his home in Shelby. He was well known and highly respected throughout this community.

He was a son of Clinton and Eveline Mead McKellogg and was born near Fitchville, Oct. 9, 1857 and being 69 years of age. His boyhood days were spent on a farm near North Fairfield. Later he attended school. In 1875 he opened a general store at Wakeman. This was the beginning of the clothing business which today bears his name. In 1906 the store and family moved to Oberlin removing to Shelby about ten years ago.

Mr. McKellogg was a member of the Second Congregational Church of Wakeman, having united with that church many years ago and remaining a member up to the time of his death. During his residence here he attended services at the First Lutheran Church.

In 1880 he married Miss Julia Stone Browning of Belpe, and to this union were born three sons and two daughters. One daughter, Florence, died at the age of 16 months. Surviving are his wife, Clarence of Ashland, Carl E. of Willard, Clifford E. and Mrs. Clyde Ross of Shelby; one sister, Mrs. William Gibson of Cleveland and six grandchildren.

Short funeral services were held at the home in Shelby Friday morning and following the service the body was taken to Wakeman for burial.
