RECEPTION HELD FOR DR. S. S. HOLTZ

To few it is given to round out fifty full years of a continuous service. But one of the few is our beloved Dr. S. S. Holtz, for whom a surprise was given on Monday evening, when a large number of friends gathered at his office with crutches, canes and bottles, and in about every conceivable way, formed a group of needy patients who were in such desperate straits that the Doctor was hastily summoned, and upon entering, was manifestly embarrassed at the large patronage that for a time it was feared he would be like the boy with stage-fright. But he soon rallied, when he found these patients needed but a little "social perscription," so were soon hurried off to the Chamber of Commerce rooms, where he received the greetings of the friends there gathered. When the guests, numbering over 200, were comfortably seated, the following fine program of music was furnished by members of the company consisting of orchestra, vocal and piano soloists in quite a variety: Ladies Quartette—Methodist church. Lutheran orchestra. Old Fashioned Music—Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Morse. Vocal Solo—Lucille Henry. Piano Solo—Mary Becker.

Mr. Robert Nimmons then took the floor and called the Doctor to account for a certain letter that had arrived and fallen into hands other than for whom it was intended. Since this was a public occasion, a public exposure was in order, and the letter read. It was found to be a greeting from a lady with whom the doctor had gone to school during the years of 1872 and '73.

RECORDS BROKEN HERE

Cold weather records were shattered around Plymouth Saturday morning when the thermometer registered around zero. Saturday night the mercury dropped to ten below with a gradual rise Sunday to two above.

Let's help to keep the fires of the P.T.A. smouldering and some day Plymouth will be adorned by a new school building.

ONE OF OHIO'S WEALTHIEST WOMEN DIES

Mrs. Ella S. Laird, 76, one of the richest women in the state, died at her home in Tiffin Thursday. She was reputed to be worth $100,000.00. Mrs. Laird was the widow of William H. Laird, Winona, Minn., lumber dealer and real estate operator. Before her marriage to Laird, she was Mrs. R. W. Shawman.

Tiffin's $200,000 Y. M. C. A. was a gift from Mrs. Laird, as also was a $40,000 science building at Heidelberg University.

There are no children surviving.

"MOTHER" OF W. C. T. U. DIES

Mrs. Marietta Enoch Kinney, known as "Mother" of the Women's Christian Temperance union and one of the founders of the Women's Crusaders of Ohio, died Saturday at her home in Springfield. She was 85 years of age. Mrs. Kinney had been connected with temperance enterprises since 1864 when she organized the Women's Crusade with 42 followers. She presided at the meeting in Springfield at which the name of the crusaders was changed to the Women's Christian Temperance union. Since that time the name has spread to all parts of the country. The doctor. One more word would be in place, however. When asked by a man, why, when prices of all other things had advanced, how come that the reply was, "If I advanced the price, there are people that would have to do without need medicine or at least some of it. This seems characteristic of the MAN. So, with all joining in his best wishes for health and happiness in his service, we subscribe ourselves, A. PATRON GUEST

New School Discussed at P.T.A. Meet

Joint Meeting is Held by Township and Village Boards.

If the enthusiasm shown at the Parent-Teachers meeting last Thursday night is kept smouldering, it will not be long before definite steps will be taken to secure a new school for Plymouth. The P.T.A. meeting was one of the most inspirational ones ever held and there is no organization that can accomplish more for the schools and its patrons than this body of interested men and women. In his talk before those present Thursday night, J. E. Nimmons, a member of the local board of education, pointed out that the board was working on various plans for a new building and that it was the desire of the board to work harmoniously on any project agreed upon. He stated that the Plymouth and the making School board had invited the local board of education to meet with them to discuss the situation and that the joint meeting was a most favorable one. It is the general opinion that Plymouth school building, and the sentiment is so strong that several citizens have made the statement that they would be willing to contribute to help furnish a new building. Let's help to keep the fires of the P.T.A. smouldering and some day Plymouth will be adorned by a new school building.

"FAMILY UPSTAIRS" A CHARMING STORY OF GREAT APPEAL

"The Family Upstairs," Fox Films version of Harry Dell's great comedy success, will be seen at the Temple Theatre, Willard, Ohio next Sunday.

This photoplay, directed by J. G. Blystone, is packed with humor, but there are some pathetic moments, and J. Farrel MacDonald makes the most of these.

Virginia Valli, in the leading feminine role, is seen opposite Allan Simpson, a New York stage favorite who is making an enviable name for himself in the motion picture world.

Lillian Elliott, celebrated for her characterizations in "Able's Irish Rose," and other legitimate hits, is cast as the meddlesome but well-meaning mother. Others in the cast are Cecille Evans, Jacqueline Wells, Edward Piel, Jr., and numerous other screen favorites. The story centers around the love affair of Louise Heller. She is a quiet little bookkeeper in a vegetable market and has never had a love affair. Then the bank teller comes courting. Her mother, eager to launch her upon the matrimonial sea, is the innocent cause of endless trouble. "Ma" Heller, talking about the prosperity and social standing of the Hellers, gives Louise's sweetheart the impression that the girl is far above him. "Pa" Heller is kept busy trying to square the blunders made by the mother.

Simpson, playing the part of Charles Grant, finally goes away—bit when Louise disappears he follows her. How they are united at Coney Island forms the basis of a satisfactory but hilarious climax. This is Blystone's thirty-eighth production for Fox Films and it is said to be his best. Adaptation is by L. G. Rigby.

"WHOLE TOWN'S TALKING" HITS PEAK OF MIRTH

"The Whole Town's Talking," the Edward Laemmle production of the John Emerson-Anna Loos stage comedy, at the Shelby Opera House on Wednesday, has certainly made a deep impression on motion picture patrons.

Have a photoplay without snatches, without great crowds or massive settings; without sensationalism or bits of acting yet it keeps the audience on the edge of its seats throughout the entire showing by the sheer

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

Southern Boy Plans to Cash In on Alabama

TOMMY CHRISTIAN

Tommy Christian Says His State Has Reputation on Broadway

New York City.—Tommy Christian had come to New York to capitalize the advertising which his native state, Alabama, has received as a jazz center. Christian is an orchestra leader and all-around musician. "I thought it was time somebody made some money out of our reputation," he declared in his soft Southern drawl. "You know jazz is supposed to have originated right down in my section. "In all the books they write about jazz and even in Europe we get the credit, or maybe you have been able to find out, there isn't a single orchestra leader except me on Broadway who has come on from Alabama to cash in

"Some demon statistician has estimated that there have been in the last five years at least a hundred thousand Alabama mammy songs. Of course, a lot of them never got published, but enough of them did so that nobody could be in any doubt about where 300 go when you're homesick, blue or broke. You go back to your dear old mammy in A-ls-ham-bammy. "I don't know that there are any statistics to show that Alabama sings those songs. Maybe that's what's wrong. Perhaps that's why we don't turn out orchestra leaders. Anyway, I'm the pioneer of the new school. I have found that Broadway likes its music straight from headquarters—likes soft, tender, Southern bits like 'The Green So Lonesome' 'Thinking of You,' sung with a real Southern accent. I have already written the fo'ks back home that the rich'd's are good.' First thing you know, there'll be as many of us as there are of our people."

masterly acting under this directorial genius. The plot is simple, the characters few but perfectly played. The subtle touch of aristocracy is seen throughout. Edward Everett Horton, Virginia Lee Corbin, Otis Harlan and Trisie Francis have the four principal roles. To them and to Laemmle goes the credit for a perfectly presented comedy, full of fine acting and good direction. The acting is not the vigorous hand-and-cheek type but is the more delicate and more amusing type which depends on the raising of an eye, the moving of a hand, the turning of a head for its laughs.

DIX WINS REPUTATION AS "ONE SQUARE GUY"

He's the fairest man we ever worked with.

Such seems to be the consensus of opinion of those players who appear in Richard Dix' latest Paramount comedy, "Say It Again," which comes to the Temple Theatre, Willard, Ohio, on Saturday.

"Mr. Dix never tries to 'hog' all the close-ups," said one sweet young thing. "If there was ever a chance to let some one be 'regretted,' he asked Director La Carra to give it to them."

Well—there's a reason for this. Not so many years ago, Dix was playing small bits in a St. Paul stock company. He admits having been "in bad" with the leading man. Each time, he, (Richard) would appear on the stage, a group of friends made it their business to give him a big hand. This always seemed to pique the other gentlemen's feelings.

"I sensed Mr. Blank's emotions," says Dix, "and then there came up to my mind, that if ever I should reach the starry heights, the other fellow would always get a square deal and a chance to 'do things.' "So there you are, Richard's "one square guy."

DIRECTOR DWAN HAS FACULTY OF GETTING SPONTANEITY FROM CAST

Because he stimulates them to their best creative efforts, both stage and screen actors like to work under the direction of Allan Dwan.

Mr. Dwan's skill in securing spontaneous action from his artists was well demonstrated by the brilliant cast with which he produced "Summer Bachelors" for Fox Films from the novel by Warner Fabian. The film is to be seen at the Temple Theatre, Willard, Ohio, on Monday and and Otto Tell is the genial part-time wife of Winniger. Lella Hyams and Clifford Holland have the secondary leads. With such experienced players Director Dwan only had to suggest what he wanted. He did not have to give minute instructions for each scene. As he came to each sequence, he outlined the circumstances to the players and let them work out their own ideas. Mr. Dwan put the parts together, and if the result was what he wanted, he filmed the scene. The result was a convincing spontaneity.

Fox Films, living up to their promise of showing the beauty spots of America in all their productions where it may be consistently done, filmed many sequences of "The Canyon of Light," which comes to the Shelby Opera House on Saturday. The result is a picture not only with an absorbing story, but a scenic of rare beauty. Tom Mix is cast in the stellar role of Tom Mills, the ranchman who at the opening of the World War, goes to France, where he serves as a dispatch bearer. But before and after this event he is the hero in a series of episodes all of which are a part of a finely developed and motivated story that is replete with thrills, excitement and suspense. Tony, his wonder horse, has a prominent part and the beautiful Dorothy Dwan is cast in the leading feminine role. Probably one of the most heart-stirring scenes that can be imagined is the wrecking of an old boom town in the western mountains. In this scene, Tom, in a fight with a gang of desperadoes, wrecks the entire "ghost city." Building after building collapses during the battle and how the actors manage to keep from being seriously injured is a miracle, for obviously no trick photography is employed in this scene. Hero and bandits alike are seen falling amid the wreckage of buildings and even the most sophisticated movie patron is bound to thrill to the excitement.

Girl Scout News

We tried our best to have our last meeting in our new rooms, but a stopped flue was too much for us, and we had to adjourn across the street as the smoke was so dense. We hope by next week to be in better shape.

Our rooms are coming along nicely. Mr. Garland Reed did our electrical work for us without charge, and we have three lights installed.

The meeting was enthusiastic in spite of the cramped quarters and the lack of chairs. Three new members reported, Dorothy Fetters, Edith Mae Hackett, and Rhea Kendig. Margaret Phillips had attended the previous meeting as a visitor and also attended at this meeting. The new members were given to some of the older members to train for their tenderfoot test. Jane Bachrach was reported as having passed all of her second class test and can now wear the second class badge, as well as the patrol leader chevrons, which she has just acquired. Ruth Root has also been appointed patrol leader as the troop is getting so large that we have reorganized most of the patrols.

We hope to give a complete report of the patrols and officers next week. Elise Shaver has won the pathfinder merit badge. "There were twenty-three scouts present, three officers and five visitors."

We need a large table to use as a work table, most of all, also a cupboard to hold supplies and unfinished work. We hope in the near future to begin making fancy articles for our bazaar.

THE SOUL OF BUSINESS It is a common practice to accuse industries of destroying the beauty of nature. In some instances the charge is justified. But on the other hand, many great corporations beautify property and wasteland. As an illustration, take our great hydroelectric plants. The dams and buildings which they construct are works of art, and as substantial in their character as the canyons and river banks which surround them.

We have a recent illustration in Philadelphia where the United Gas Improvement Company in adding to its office building, found that it had to tear down a house in which was written that famous hymn, "He Leadeth Me." Most individuals would have torn down the house, used it for kindling wood and thought no more about it.

TRY OTHER REMEDIES FIRST Experience has proven that grade crossing accidents can be prevented by requiring automobile drivers to stop, look and listen before crossing a railroad track. This being so, it is a matter of sound economy and good sense to use this remedy, instead of burdening the people with taxation for grade changes.

666 is a prescription for Colds, Grippe, Flu, Dengue, Bilious Fever and Malaria. It kills the germs requiring him to stop, look and listen. Let us tighten up on conditions governing the issuance of licenses so that persons incompetent to drive from any cause—whether because of impaired hearing or vision, physical imperfections or immature judgment—shall not be licensed. Let us do these things first which cost nothing, before launching a movement for grade changes that will burden taxpayers and property almost to point of confiscation.

God's Most Neglected People

THE FIRST NOTABLE WORK IN BEHALF OF INSANE IN THIS COUNTRY WAS STARTED IN 1840 Editor's Note.—This is the third of a series of articles that will appear each week in this newspaper dealing with Ohio's problem of increasing insanity. These articles are sponsored by the Ohio Association for the Welfare of the Mentally Sick, which has but one objective, namely, more scientific and more humane treatment of mentally sick patients in state hospitals and the rapid rehabilitation of these unfortunates.

Following the work of Pinel in France and Tuke in England, we see the plight of the mentally sick improved, so far as actually being put to death was concerned, but made more severe in some instances, because now they were placed in almshouses and jails, where the confinement caused them to be jeered at and otherwise degraded by the rabble, who would twist, tease and torment in every conceivable way.

The first religious sect to take cognizance whatsoever of the plight of these most miserable people were the Quakers in Philadelphia. The institution in Philadelphia was the first in the United States to be erected for the sympathetic care of insane persons.

The first state institution for the care of the mentally sick was erected in Williamsburg, Va., copying after the work done in Philadelphia by the Quakers.

Dorothy L. Dix's Work In the year 1890 there was born in New England a woman, who was EXPLAIN INDICATORS MAKING HOG VALUES Factors determining the price of hogs cause the price to run in cycles that reach their height once every three to six years. They average about four years. Guy W. Miller, extension specialist in rural economics at the Ohio State University, observes. Market indicators and to some extent price makers are found in the production of hogs or market receipts, the price of lard or lard substitutes, and the amount of pork and other meats in storage. The December pig survey of the United States Department of Agriculture shows that 4% more pigs were saved in the corn belt this fall than last. The number of sows intended to be bred for spring farrowing has also increased 4%.

Careless driving and accidents are not confined to grade crossings. Nine-tenths of the accidents occur on the streets and highways. Grade changes will not prevent these, but prudence in the issuance of licenses as above indicated, and proper policing of practices will prevent most, if not all of them. Remedies involving additional tax burdens should be restored to only when other remedies have been tried and proven ineffective.

God's Most Neglected People

eventually to field public opinion in favor of a much more humanitarian attitude toward the mentally sick. Beginning her work in 1840 Dorothy Lynn Dix accomplished in 20 years more than had ever been accomplished in this field. During those 20 years she labored almost constantly in behalf of the welfare of the insane. She was business-like, she was adroit, she was capable. As new institutions were built she looked upon them as her children. The first was erected in Trenton, N. J., the second only few months later, in Harrisburg, Pa. In her memoirs she referred to them "nearly before twilight." Altogether during these 20 years she was able to influence the legislatures of 22 states to do their duty in providing refuge for the mentally sick.

Not A Disgrace Miss Dix believed that the mentally sick were as much "God's people" as are those who are physically sick. She appreciated that they were human, that they were ill and that they need sympathetic, kindly treatment at all times.

One can more readily appreciate the full meaning behind this woman's work in reviewing just one state made in one of the legislatures in a province of Canada in 1849, as follows: "It is time that people should have learned that to be insane is not to be disgraced, that insanity is not to be feared, and that the need of a vast majority of the cases of mental sickness is due to mere bodily ills."

The Ohio Association for the Welfare of the Mentally Sick is endowed largely with that great spirit which was first manifested in Dorothy Lynn Dix. This association is attempting to carry out and amplify the work which Dorothy Lynn Dix started. (To Be Continued Next Week)

STARDOM NEAR FOR BEN LYON From a neutral vantage point there seems to be nothing to prevent Ben Lyon from attaining stardom in a very short time. Five years ago Ben was unknown in pictures. Today he is forging rapidly to the front. It was in support of Colleen Moore in "Bo Bye" that the actor had his first real opportunity. After a number of engagements opposite Gloria Swanson, Pola Negri and Barbara La Marr, so great was his success that he was featured with Anna Nilsson in "One Way Street" for First National.

Interesting News From Shiloh

TENTH ANNUAL INSTITUTE PROVES VERY INSTRUCTIVE

The tenth annual farmers' institute convened Wednesday morning at the school auditorium with President R. Howard and secretary H. W. Huddleston officiating.

The opening song "America," which was sung heartily by the pupils of the schools, which largely filled the room, was appropriate to the rallying incentive on the program read:

"The Winds of Heaven never fanned,
The circling sunlight never spanned,
The borders of a better land,
Than Dear Old Richland County."

After the invocation by Rev. McCord, Cranberry school was represented by three girls and one boy in a playlet "Entertaining the Minister."

The primary room of Shiloh had an exercise introducing nursery rhymes, and London school, a recitation by Thelma Wilson.

Exercises by 3, 4, 5, and 6 grades were very pleasing.

President Howard then introduced the first State Speaker, C. R. Snyder, of Bucyrus, who operates 260 acres of land, having only thoroughbred stock and using only certified seed.

In his address on "Taking advantage of our Opportunities," he urged instructors and parents to mingle with boys and girls, learn their minds and find out their possibilities, analyze their desires, and the kind of mentality, with a view of seeing them guided toward their proper sphere in life. He emphasized politeness and the clean cut youth rather than the cigar smoke stack. His illustrations were of great merit; studios activities. He urged the pupils before him not to be a misfit in life, it's a tragedy. This talk was well received by the pupils and those fortunate to be at the morning session on time.

Mrs. Kyle of Somerset, was then introduced by the president and she brought a beautiful lesson to the pupils who were intensely interested. She called their attention to lazy eyes, lazy ears, lazy mouth, lazy hands and lazy feet. She urged them to be good, to "hear no evil, see no evil, think no evil." To use clean hands, money a handicap, also lack of gratitude to parents and to God a handicap to success.

Wednesday afternoon the boys elite club furnished music for entertainment, also a vocal solo by Miss Lorrimer, a splendid reading by Miss Griffith and a piano solo by Jeanette Firestone which showed artistic rendition.

Mrs. Kyle's talk on "The Power of Words," was uniquely given, making her hearers keenly interested in the matter. She cited the use of single words, such as "no," "yes," then the combination of words, the words used as dangerous weapons, the comforting words, and then your name, what does it stand for in your community? Her illustrations were fine; one which called attention to the carpenter who was careful to have his tool chest filled with the best of tools was compared to the mind as a tool chest for the best of words for building beautiful structures in conversation and writing. She closed with a word picture, which was followed closely word for word by her audience.

Dr. C. D. Barrett, county health commissioner, favored the institute with an interesting talk on the subject of health. He said the health board were not doing all they could do, or what they would like to do on account of the lack of finances. He talked of our need of more thorough work among the children and more cooperation among the parents and cited the health examination among the boys preparatory for war service. He said out of 4,000,000, one third were unfit for army life. Health development, he said, consisted in a thorough system of health education. And they were looking forward to the teaching of health along with other text books. His statistics were practiced and well worth remembering. The cost of the health development outside of Mansfield and Shelby is $14,000 a year. $3400 comes from county taxes and $2000 from the state subsidy. A large private subscription is also received from Mansfield people for work outside the city. He urged for all a thorough examination and not superficial inspection.

Mr. Snyder in his address said organization on general condition as it exists among farmers in Ohio is weak. Agriculture is on the decline; there is a recognized condition based on facts "In union there is strength," strength used in that sense is good judgment. Every profession is organized and farmers should meet the competition, for progressive farm interests. The farmer should be educated to see the necessity of organization. When farmers break away, prejudices and stand should be to shoulder then agriculture will live. It's patriotic, it's true Americanism to protect the farm and farmer. He gave splendid illustrations, such as tariff, Muscle Shoals and overhead expenses. According to the consensus of opinion among thinking men the farmer must solve his own problems.

He called also for a greater need among farmers, that of organization for the making of citizenship not alone for dollars.

Wednesday evening, the large audience was entertained by the school orchestra with Rush Rosenberry and family. This music was enjoyed and appreciated by all, as was evidenced by the ringing applause.

Mrs. Kyle also furnished some splendid solos and led the community singing.

Mr. Snyder in his subject on "Using the Material We Have," laid emphasis on getting something out of life. He said, "the one that puts the most in life gets the most out of life," that the predominant characteristics of success were energy, enthusiasm and enterprise. Hard work conscientiously done has its reward. Morality and religion materials on which to build success.

Mrs. Kyle then spoke on "Stewards of God's Own." The advantage from a heritage of a good clean father and mother. Taking care of the unknown quantity of a four square child by co-operating with the health authorities, and give mental stimulant with bible stories. She urged the right kind of reading material in the home and teaching the social and moral development of a perfect soul.

Miss Leola Hammon then entertained with a pleasing reading in her usual pleasing manner.

Thursday morning the Girls Glee Club furnished the music. Miss Doris Clark a vocal solo, Miss Margaret Swartz a piano solo, Miss Madge Wells a reading and a vocal duet by the Huddleston sisters in costume were all appreciated by the audience.

Mrs. Kyle asked the question, "What is Life?" Life is what I make it. Most people see life through occupation classes or pleasure glasses and give the definition of what it is to them. LIFE can be made an even one unless shared with the two middle strata which has been the stumbling block in many lives. Play the game of constructiveness and win in the finish. The philosophy of life is to serve.

Community leadership was then discussed by Mr. Snyder.

In the first place we should build the proper community spirit. Rural America holds an important place in the social development of our country, although only 27% of our population is agriculturist.

Community work is just beginning and when developed will make on if the most ideal places on earth to live; and where they will be able to solve all social, educational and social problems. In fact all economic questions settled by communities will have State influence.

J. R. Gilkey of the county farm bureau who never disappoints his hearers, and this time he brought his farm charts showing actual progress, "Wheat and productiveness in good farm practices such as proper drainage, crop rotation and fertilization."

Thursday afternoon the nominating committee presented the following report: President, R. B. Huddleston, secretary, O. E. Wells, following president, Mrs. G. G. Griffith, secretary, treasurer, H. W. Huddleston. The report was adopted.

Marketing farm products was the subject of an address by Mrs. Snyder, who stated that she had never been so serious economic conditions in agricultural history as exists at the present time; a farmer is almost penalized on account of conditions. He emphasized the cost of production and the poor marketing problems. "I do not believe in government monopoly but urges the farmers to work out their own difficulties by getting together and understand each other, and learn to stabilize, to have an agency to store and sell farm products, and a fund to finance this project. Make agriculture the happiest of pursuits."

County Auditor J. A. Howard gave an interesting talk on "How we were taxed and what becomes of taxes." The amount required for the soldiers' bonus, the amount given for charity, such as the children's home, the county hospital and the jail, also the amount for labor and wages.

A. C. Kemmel county game warden, came so near to the close of the afternoon program that he made his remarks were practical, very short. Mr. Kemmel has been game warden for 15 years and is thoroughly master of his work. It is the hope of this community that he can return some time and devote the evening to instruction in nature study, as the audience was much impressed with Mr. Kemmel's remarks.

The music for the afternoon was furnished by the Junior High Quartet a vocal solo by Miss Beatrice Howard, who also responded to an enthusiastic encore, and a beautiful solo by Rev. McCord.

The last state instructor on the program was Mrs. Kyle and as the hour was late she only left a few golden thoughts, on "Mother's Love." What nobler mission could there be? God brings the workman but carries on his work. How true that is of motherhood. Really great men have acknowledged that they owe their greatness to the early teaching of their mothers. Mother's place in creation is near the Creator. Mother's greatest honor is the good life of a son or daughter. The people of the community were very much pleased with the State instructor. Mrs. Snyder's talks showed concentrated thought and farm study, by high mental material, finely balanced, and the sincerity expressed made him a real progressive instructor in farm problems and Christian citizenship.

Mrs. Kyle had the happy faculty of reaching the hearts of her audience through her gracious manner, and fascinating style which exposed the teacher, the writer and the thinker Mr. Snyder in his farm used only certified seed. Mrs. Kyle used and urged only certified words and thoughts.

The poultry exhibits were under the experienced direction of Mr. Geo. W. Page and splendid birds were shown which proves that this community is co-operating in making our poultry the finest in the state.

The products display conducted by Mr. J. B. Zeigler and Prof. J. H. Bacon resulted in the following receiving the prizes: Apples—O. E. Wells and Iora Bloom; potatoes—Mrs. H. S. Manning and Geo. W. Page; corn—Robert Brown and George Dick; yellow corn—John Cunniff.

The live stock judging teams composed of 3 from each school of the The Smith-High vocational boys from High, Lucas High and Shiloh High judged the poultry at Shiloh during the institute and also brood sows at Lebanon stock farm the same day. Shiloh teams won 1st in both events. Also George Dick won 1st in an hog judging in the county. The Shiloh teams were composed of the following boys: Poultry team—George Dick won 1st, Elwood Kuhn, Robert Brown, and George Dick. Hog team—1st, George Dick, 3rd, and Harry Downing, 4th.

Their combined score made the winning team.

The vocational department of these four schools did a fine job of the year winning in a series of judging contests. These judging contests combine horses, cattle, sheep, swine, and poultry. The winning team of the poultry team was composed of the following boys: George Dick, 1st, Elwood Kuhn, Robert Brown, and George Dick. This boys' expenses paid to the State fair.

Concrete Streets, Like Concrete Roads, are a good investment—not an expense

Defiance County Farmers Enter New Era of Prosperity Via Concrete Roads

Twelve years ago the farmers of Defiance County, Ohio, were suffering big losses as a result of bad roads.

After heavy rains, many of these roads became seas of mud, and it was impossible for days at a time to get to market at all.

But in 1914 Defiance County began to build concrete roads, and today has almost a mile of this firm, rigid, unyielding type.

Farmers in every section of the county can now deliver their poultry, eggs, milk and other perishable products in prime condition—no matter what the state of the weather.

Nor is the farmer the only one who has benefited by the coming of concrete roads. Prosperity has steadily increased all along the line.

For example, the City of Defiance has developed into an important produce center, where several nationally known produce houses have opened receiving stations doing an annual business which runs into the millions.

The simple truth is that concrete roads soon pay for themselves, and they continue to return dividends in the form of greater all-around prosperity year after year—with practically no expense for maintenance.

SHILOH EQUITY

SHILOH, FORWARD!

Yes, Shiloh community is a good place in which to live with its good schools, good churches, good schools and other wide-awake activities to interest those who feel inclined to share in what they have to offer.

All this is well, but there is another angle to be considered. Every activity requires sufficient and adequate to sustain its people and give them opportunity to better their condition. While material things alone cannot nourish the life of a community, it is true that without them no people can go forward without their presence.

As we look around and see other sections with no better people and certainly no better institutions in general, prospering to a degree away from you, it is any wonder that we should wonder why this is a fact.

When we search to find why this is so, we see that other communities are banded together in a business way to stand together and work for their own interests. They have found that they

Men's Meeting of P. T. A. Was Decided Success

The Men's meeting of the P. T. A. was a decided success. Owing to weather conditions many could not attend who proposed doing so.

The meeting opened with a number of folk and familiar songs led by E. E. Balfour. After the singing and before the business meeting the children were taken to a down-stairs room and entertained with stories and music by Mrs. Jenkins and Miss Hamman. Mr. Nimmons, a member of the School Board, said that the board was considering a new school building in the no distant future and would consult the state concerning the requirements of same. They will also consider the propriety of taking in additional territory. The location problem and many others with a view to putting a bond issue before the voters next November.

The Men's Chorus composed of 11 men led by Mr. Balfour, sang two very excellent selections. Miss Sears, a Richland county nurse, with some very appropriate remarks, and a timely fairy story, presented the Health Cup to the Plymouth schools for the third time.

It now becomes the property of Plymouth schools. We ask all to help us with the new 1927 Health Cup.

Rev. Himes thanked the Health Board for the cup and also for the opportunity which it gave the pupils of forming health habits more lasting than the cup itself. Messrs. Himes, Derr, Berry, Brown, Nimmons and Kendig entertained with a humorous pantomime. (Wife Wanted.) It was certainly laughable and the men are to be complimented. The president asked for suggestions for a February program. Supt. Berry suggested a contest between the Huron and Richland County sides, each side trying to have the most present at the meetings and furnish the best entertainment. The losing side to banquet the winners.

The President appointed the following Huron county ladies on the February committee: Mrs. Grover Bevier, Eldon Nimmons and W. W. Trimmer. The next meeting will be held on February 10. Get out and boost for your side.

LOVING CUP GIVEN SCHOOL

Award Made to Plymouth School for Record in Health Projects. Two members of the health department, Miss Sears and Miss Emma Sells Keiras, were in Plymouth Thursday evening at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association.

At that time a silver loving cup was presented to the school because for the past three years its record in health has been of such caliber that it has been outstanding in the county schools. Other schools in the county also participating in the health work are Shiloh, Lucas, Lexington, Belleville and Plymouth. The cup must be won for three successive years to be a permanent possession.

With an approximate enrollment of 300 pupils there were 165 blue ribbon children in the Plymouth schools included serving a hot lunch each day; first aid kit in school rooms, 100 per cent. of the visiting nurses for smallpox, children's vision and teeth corrected, daily inspection, normal weights, physical examinations for the boys and girls by the family physicians.

By rating high in all these various health points, Plymouth obtained the cup, which was presented by Miss Sears, head of the Visiting Nurses Association. This cup was won after three years of constant effort.

LIKES PLYMOUTH

Among the farmers who like to come to our town is Mr. George Dawson, who resides a short distance southwest of Willard. Mr. Dawson braved the snow Tuesday and came over for a visit with his friends.

The writer happened to meet this amiable farmer in Myers' Harness shop where the discussion centered around Charlie Crum and a few other notables in our midst.

Mr. Dawson began farming when a lad of 18 and has made his home on the farm to the present time and he says that he still likes it.

He is listed among a few other subscribers who have been reading the Advertiser for over forty years.

Our Weekly Sermonette

(By Dr. G. R. Mente)

Ye Shall be Witnesses Unto Me, Even Unto the Uttermost Parts Of the Earth. Acts. 1:8.

This positive command or rather prophecy was uttered by the divine teacher not only to the little band of disciples, who had seen his wonderful work among all classes of men and witnessed his solicitude for the welfare of the human race, but I firmly believe, were intended for all those who would take up their cross and follow his footsteps.

In accordance with the primitive program, outlined by Jesus himself the early church explained under the inspired teaching of the men and women who had experienced a true regeneration.

The question often is asked why was the world at that far away day so much interested in this new religion and no other reason can possibly be given, but it was because of this new faith were entirely in opposition to the old Jewish doctrines that thinking men could not help but become converts to its principles. From the giving of the moral law, the devotee of God was a being far removed from the presence of the worshipper, a God who was angry at the transgression of his people and who could not be appeased except by the shedding of blood upon the altars of Judaism. Now came a teacher declaring that salvation could only be obtained by regeneration thru faith and this work. But what is salvation you may ask? I am strictly orthodox when I declare that no man is going to be saved from the wrath of Jehovah, for the God in whom I have been taught to believe is a God of Love.

We are not to be saved from the penalty of sin, for the true transgression of divine law brings in its wake a penalty. We are to be saved from the power of sin, saved from our self and transplanted into the Christ likeness, which removes the wild ass's bridle of sin, and will sustain the Holy will of God. Salvation means emancipation from self love and consecration of that beautiful attitude of the soul which compels us to love that which God loves and to hate that which is contrary to divine law. Trust in Gods great Love will not save us, but it will open a way whereby we can be assured that our knocking at the door will be answered by our blessed Redeemer, for did he not declare: Knock and it shall be Opened Unto You? Seek and You Shall Find; Find Peace and Pardon at the Foot of the Cross; This is salvation from self, salvation unto usefulness in the name of our Common Redeemer. Are you saved by this Unfailing Rule? If not why not?

Year in and year out hogs are worth one-fifth more in September than in December, economists at the College of Agriculture point out.

LET FARMERS' WEEK SERVE AS YOUR TONIC

"It's worth going just to be in with a crowd of 6000 people all bent on better farming and a better farm life." Dean Alfred Vivian of the college of agriculture at the Ohio State University, when interviewed expressly for the weekly newspapers of Ohio, made that statement as one that has been forwarded to him repeatedly in recent years by Ohio farmers who had attended Farmers' Week at Columbus.

"It is time," Dean Vivian continued, "that visitors at Farmers' Week can pick up information and ideas that eventually increase their cash income. Not long ago I met a sheep man who said he learned one thing at Farmers' Week a year or so ago that had already paid his expenses to Columbus for as many Farmers' Weeks as he'll live to see."

"But what is equally important, it seems to me, is that visitors at Farmers' Week get as much from each other, in inspiration and in exchange of ideas, as from the formal program."

"When the first Farmers' Week was over, back in 1912, and only 146 had been present," Dean Vivian said,

"come at the college felt that Ohio farmers never would take to the Farmers' Week idea. No one feels that way now."

"After all, to be in a good-natured crowd of neighborly people is the best sort of tonic when things have not gone any too well. And a Farmers' Week crowd is the best natured crowd I know of."
