Opinions expressed under this heading are those of the contributors, not of The Advertiser.

In reply to the article by Clifton in last week's Advertiser who tries to make it appear that the street commissioner is responsible for the present condition of Bell street, and in justice to myself and for the information of those interested, permit me to say that I am not asleep or dead on my feet.

An arrangement was made some time ago with the Baltes equipment to roll and scrape the street, but the operator of this equipment says that he cannot get on the street with his machinery until weather conditions change, and as soon as possible he will try to do this work. Has Clifton anything to offer to improve the conditions? For the benefit of those wishing to ride the street commissioner, I wish to say that I now have a saddle to make it easier for those wishing to ride.

NO EXTENSION ON 1928 LICENSE TAGS

Clarence J. Brown, secretary of state, informs the public that all cars operating upon the public highways of Ohio must be equipped with 1928 license tags on and after midnight December 31st, and that time it will be illegal to operate a motor vehicle in Ohio with 1927 tags. There will be no extension of time for the use of 1927 tags as December 31st will be the positive and absolute dead line on their use.

In past years there have been extensions made from time to time until all could be supplied with the new tags. This year the 1928 license tags were placed on sale December 1st and the officials believe this sufficient time for every motor vehicle owner to supply himself with the necessary tags.

Editorial-News And Comment On National Happenings

All big men of the nation are quite assured that 1928 is going to be a very prosperous year. Virgil Jordan, chief economist for the national industrial board, goes a step farther and tells his countrymen what to do with it. He argues that conditions in the United States are favorable to an unprecedented expansion of business which may make 1928 and 1929 look like a depression by comparison, and which, if it comes, is likely to strain our transportation facilities and credit resources to the limit and out the self-control of business men and the powers of the federal reserve system to a real test to prevent serious inflation and subsequent slump. To this suggestion he adds the prophecy that it is just as necessary to prepare for prosperity as it is for hard times. If this is all the obligation that attends the advent of a prosperity special let it come. The nation will know how to manage sustained good fortune without a set of regulations to which no one will give the least regard.

Hard to Get Started

Plymouth's new water tank tested perfect and those in charge of its erection had to wait over to the village as a completed job. No leaks were found in the test.

A wreck in which figured two automobiles and a wagon caused quite a bit of talk in town Tuesday afternoon as to the miraculous escape of the parties. Frank Vansdale of New Haven was driving a log wagon into Plymouth when a woman in a Chevrolet let started around a Vansdale, so reports state, striking Ed Shields as he was on his way home in Willard. It is said that the front wheels of the two machines locked, causing the Shields to overturn, breaking through the glass. The Chevrolet car, driven by the woman, swerved into the wagon, doing considerable damage to the machine and also breaking the axle of the wagon. No one was injured. The accident occurred in front of the Ed Sherman home.

Shiloh Takes High Honors

Shiloh High School defeated the Plymouth boys Friday night in a fast and furious game. The final score was: Shiloh 27, Plymouth 15. However, the difference in the two teams is not as great as the score would indicate. Our boys held them at a standstill and were most of the time in the lead for three periods of the game. Only when Barber, Hills, and Cramer were taken out because of four personal fouls each did Shiloh have any advantage. The game was marred by many fouls, one Shiloh man and three Plymouth men going out because of personals.

Summary: Shiloh—27 G. P. T. P. Ruckman, c 1 0 2 Brumbach, f 1 1 7 D. Ruckman, f 2 5 9 King, g 0 2 2 D. Ruckman, g 0 0 0 Dick, c 3 1 7

Plymouth—15 G. P. T. Cramer, c 1 0 2 Barber, f 1 1 3 Hills, f 3 0 6 Root, g 1 0 2 Schuch, c 0 2 2 D. Bachrach, f 0 0 0 Myers, f 0 0 0 J. Bachrach, g 0 0 0

The girls' basketball team of P. H. S. was defeated after a very hard fought game with Shiloh last Friday evening. Although our girls tried very hard they seemed to be stopped by Shiloh's fast team.

Plymouth—25 Shiloh—30 Himes, C. R. F. Moser, T. Becker, M. L. F. Dick, D. Schuch, A. C. G. F. Fritzsche, J. Hale, A. G. G. G. Griffith, M. Anderson, M. R. G. Clinker, F. Anderson, C. L. G. Swartz, M. Suba—Moore for Himes. Fate for Becker, Moore for Straub, Straub for Anderson M.

Tobias Reynolds CALLED TO REST
Tobias Reynolds, about 68 years old a resident of Shiloh, passed away very suddenly at his home Tuesday evening at 11 o'clock. Although he has been suffering with heart trouble, death came rather unexpectedly, as he had been able to be about the house all day, as usual, lying down a short while in the evening, conversing with the housekeeper, and at this time he raised up, being unable to get his breath and soon passed away.

Is It Well With The Lad?

By DR. G. R. MENTE.

Do you meet him with a smile or a frown? Do you know the value of comradeship? Make him see the bright side of life while young and undefiled and rest assured he will see the dark side soon enough; help him to gather roses along life's high way, for he will soon enough come in personal touch with the briars by the way. If you place the right kind of value upon the lad you will teach him to set his face always toward the light. It is easier to travel in the sunlight than in the dark; that lad does not yet understand that the future holds out to him a choice between discontent and contentment, misery and happiness, success and failure; the lad will listen to your counsel if he has once learned to trust you and believes you are really interested in his temporal as well as spiritual welfare; sacred history records the story of a man high in the councils of a nation, emphatically declaring that a deed once committed must stand, when he said to the assembled Pharisees: "What I Have Written I Have Written" impress this recorded truth upon the conscience of the lad, every day adds a page in his life's history, never to be changed; every day is like the closing of a door, how much the closing of a door may mean to the family life, how many hearts smothered with tear stained eyes have listened to the closing of the door that told her of the going forth of the lad to face the mad rush of life, battle with opportunities and temptations, face life's pitfalls! See yonder heartbroken mother, watch her as she wrings her hands as she in pain, listen to her anguish as she cries out: "My God shall the lad succeed or shall he return the prodigal? Shall he be able to breast the storm outside the breakers, bringing his boat into quiet and peaceful moorings, or shall he suffer shipwreck and be lost upon the coast of a barren and friendless world? Parents! Teachers! Ministers of God! Hear me! The future of the lad depends upon the early teaching in the home, the lessons taught in childhood in the school room or under

G. H. Maynard and wife of Norwalk were Friday evening guests of Ripley relatives and attended the chicken supper and Bazaar at the church.

Miss Laura Etta Bare has taken charge of the Janitorship of the Delphi church. She has had experience in days gone by. We are glad she has taken the position. There is no freeze nor chill of spirit with Etta at the helm. The furnace is always in tune and heat and warmth are in abundance.

Mrs. Catlin is in Mansfield assisting in the care of a sick sister.

Earl Crosch and Ray Chandler are spreading a week among the hills of Pa. hunting wild game.
