

Facts About I. W. League

The Isaak Walton League is an organization with a true altruistic spirit. It has no commercial interests, no political alliances or religious affiliations. No officer or director receives a salary.

The league is directing a practical aggressive campaign of education against the further pollution of our waters, the drainage of our marshes and the indiscriminate destruction of our fast disappearing forests. The league is arousing the present generation to a realization of the value of these areas to health, happiness and character of future generations.

Through our North America there are over two thousand Chapter units, made up of men and women, with a vision, from all walks of life. These people are actively interested in the preservation of America's recreation areas. For what purpose is all this interest and enthusiasm?

Plank fourteen of the Isaak Walton League Platform gives the answer:

That outdoor recreation as a major part of the life, education and spiritual development of the American youth be nurtured.

"A clean shirt does not give a man a clean heart," says the critic. Very true, but does not one enjoy a higher type of religious life when surrounded by pure, wholesome environment?

The poet was right when he said: Look on this beautiful world, and read the truth in her fair page; see, every season brings New change, to her, of everlasting youth; Still the green soil, with joyous living things, swarms, the wide air is full of joyous winds. And, myriads, still, are happy in the sleep Of ocean's azure gulls, and where he flings The restless surge. Eternal Love doth keep In his complacent arms, the earth, the air, the deep.

William Cullen Bryant gave very practical advice when he said in one of his poems:

"Go forth, under the open sky, and let To Nature's teachings."

At the meeting of the Local Chapter of Isaak Walton League of America, held last Friday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Pres.—Stanley Brown; Vice Pres.—Rev. J. W. Miller; Secretary and Treasurer—C. M. Lotland. The members of the local chapter look forward with a vision for larger and better things for the organization. March marks the end makes no difference how much of storm, wind and snow there is. Spring is "just around the corner," and the Isaak Walton League is growing and bearing fruit.

In the language of Ewert Werthing Ross, one may well say, "When I trail on the fane of fame's decrees, sonorous tribute, flowers, even tears, mean not a thing, I only hope they say 'He lived a sportsman and as one he died.'" He tried to preserve the best in Nature and Human Nature.

Contest Lost By 1 Point

Only One Point Needed to Bring Home Cup From County Musical Meet

Plymouth High school lost to Lucas in the county musical contest, last Friday night at Lexington by one point, the score being 32 in favor of Lucas and 31 for Plymouth.

Miss Anna Brauer of the conservatory of Ashland college was the judge.

County Superintendent L. C. Martin made up to the program by numbers so that it could not be charged any school or any pupil was being favored. The Judge did not know the name of contest of the school he or she represented.

Miss Helen Rimmel won first in the piano solo for Lucas. Miss Betty Bachrach of Plymouth won second and Miss Jeanette Firestone was 3rd for Shiloh. Plymouth girls won first in the sextette. Lucas second and Shiloh third. Plymouth won first in the boys quartet and Lucas got second place.

Miss Arlene Strubbe of Plymouth, was awarded first prize in the violin solo contest. Miss Rhea Ankler of Madison township high school was awarded second place.

The next part of the program was the vocal contest. In the boys' contest, John Root of Plymouth was adjudged the best singer of the county, Andrew Bright of Lucas, second, and Roscoe Shatzer of Shiloh was third.

Next came the girl vocalists, Miss Mary Stewart of Lucas was allotted first place; Miss Ruth Baldwin, of Plymouth, second, and Miss-Mildred Melick, of Shiloh, third place.

Lucas won first prize in the orchestra, plarige and Buster second. Counting by points, Lucas' won first place in the first annual county wide spelling contest. The opera house at Lexington was crowded. A nice sum of money was cleared for the school.

The superintendents of the different high schools met with the county superintendent Saturday to make plans for other county wide events that will bring all the high schools into competition.

Council Plan Adopted By New Haven Students

NEW HAVEN—Monday morning the student form of government went into effect with the satisfaction of faculty and student, and only time is needed to get everything into running order. A careful test is being given this week, and next week a better plan will be adopted and a program laid out for the remainder of the year.

The Council, as provided in the Constitution, has been divided into four departments, activities, conduct, finance and faculty and the latter's report improvements have been advised and will be considered. The honor room will be adopted and constantly expressed.

The Council is the official representative of "The High School Student Association" and the latter's purpose as stated in Art. 1 of the Constitution is First: To promote the best sort of school spirit.

Second: To aid in the development of co-operation among the students, faculty and faculty and the latter's faculty, in matters of school government.

Third: To originate and further activities for the betterment of our school and school life.

Fourth preparation was spent by the Council and faculty in formulating the Constitution. It was accepted by the students by a large majority. The student government has been received favorably and we hope that it shall always be by parents, faculty and students. The co-operation of all three is essential to make it a success.

Song Books Not to Have Face Lifted; New Ordered

The old need of new song books for P. H. S. has been met this week by the student body in ordering new copies. The prevalent desire of women around the age of forty-five is to have their faces lifted in order that they may appear young again. Our books, in the past few years have had their "face lifted" by adhesive tape, new covers, and binding. This time it will be different.

The expense is to be covered by securing a small amount of money from each Glee Club and five cents from each individual.

The decision of which two copies was to be ordered, was close, but the books of last year secured a majority of votes. "The Voice" seems more satisfactory because of the number of optimistic and peppy songs it contains. Besides, it is more advanced.

The new editions are expected soon.

Problems About P. H. S.

1. The knotty problem of the back window strings are yet to be solved.
2. If the pair tree in Plymouth Hill is permanent.
3. If students of P. H. S. have brains or merely reference books.

Physics Experiment Proves Interesting - Socially

Some of our Senior girls became so enthusiastic over an experiment in physics that they declared that they would give a party, and try it out. It was a very mysterious affair—to those invited; especially, when the guests were called for in coaster-wagons. The suspicious guests soon lost their fear, for the dear Seniors had tried an experiment in making ice cream and had invited their guests to help eat it. And it was good!

X-Ray, Appendices, Cancer Inspected by Nursing Class

Miss Keim and her students in Home Economics took a trip to Mansfield to visit the General Hospital. The expedition was very interesting, we are told. A thorough inspection of the hospital building and the Nurses' Home was made. The experiment room proved especially interesting in some; and for the first time the Nursing Class had the opportunity of seeing pickled appendices. Unfortunately, a few of the travelers were nearly compelled to remain at the institution because of becoming faint. Nothing more serious occurred and the patients soon recovered; so the trip was considered very successful.

Orythian to Attempt Evening of Literary Score

The second literary program of the contest will be given by the two societies on Friday afternoon, April 1. At this program the White of the Clonians society will compete with the Red of the Orythian. The talent of the societies seems to be evenly divided and the Orythians are trying hard to divide up the honors, as the Red of the Clonians won the first program.

Much interest is being shown between the societies, and any outsider who is interested, is invited to attend. The program is as follows:

- CLONIAN—WHITE:
1. Quartet—Mary E. Hines, Lucille Henry, Edna Farsel, Ethel Steele
 2. Short Story—Alice Ritter
 3. Debate—Aft—Mary Sheely, Raymond Hatch
 4. Stunt—Cleo Anderson, Reginald Ervin, Wayne Sommerlott, Madalira McQueen
 5. Oration—Helen Donnerwirth
 6. Impersonation—Grace Dickson
 7. Essay—Harrist Cornell
 8. Solo—Bill Caldwell
 9. Sketch—Carl Sponseller
- ORYTHIAN—RED:

Plymouth High Makes Splendid Showing in Music Contest Friday

Although we won first place in four of the seven events and second place in two others, we were compelled to take the little end of a 13:31 score with Lucas. In this contest the winning orchestra and sextet, counted 10 points for the winner, and six points for second place. The other events including the Boys' and Girls' vocal solos, the violin solo, the piano solo, and the Boys' quartet counted five points for first place, three points for second and one for third place. In all, our points totaled 31 while Lucas had 22 points, and followed by Shiloh with 20 Butler 6, Madison 2, while Lexington, Bellville, Adario and Weller got nothing.

I am sure that had the points been given only to the winners, where they should have been given, we would have had an easy majority; but as it was the losers were given almost as many points as the winners. Therefore, it was not because of the lack of talent that we lost, nor was it through excessive talent that Lucas won.

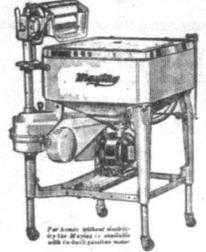

Much credit is due for winners of the P. H. S. who sacrificed their leisure time for the good of the school. The county winners of P. H. S. are as follows: Girls' sextette, composed of Dorothy Sams, Ruth Hain, Marguerite Boardman, Emeline Fate, Alverta Hale, and Arline Straub; the Boys' quartet composed of John Root, Willard Caldwell, Weldon Cornell and Deryl Cramer; the violin solo by Arlene Straub and the Boys' vocal solo by John Root.

the Easiest way of all!

THINK of "wash-day" as a SINGLE HOUR—when big bulky are washed in 3 to 7 minutes. When your whole week's washing—50 pounds of clothes (dry weight) is finished. When everything—even the grimy edges of collars and cuffs are washed spotlessly clean without hand-rubbing. When a heat-retaining cast-aluminum tub keeps water hot for an entire washing. When the tub cleans itself in 30 seconds after the washing is done.

Phone the Maytag dealer. Have a Maytag "wash-Accur" in your home next wash-day. You will really enjoy every one of the 60 minutes. You will be thoroughly impressed with the unusual cleanliness of your clothes. Remember, there is no obligation or expense, if the Maytag doesn't sell itself, don't keep it.

Good Elimination is Essential to Good Health.

THE kidneys are the blood filters. If they fail to function properly there is apt to be a retention of toxic poisons in the blood. A dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic headaches, headaches, and dizziness are symptoms of this condition. Further evidence of improper kidney function is often found in burning or scanty passage of secretions. Each year more and more people are learning the value of Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, in this condition. Scarcely a nook or hamlet anywhere but has many enthusiastic users. Ask your neighbor!

Be Consistent

Many arguments have been advanced in favor of compulsory liability insurance. While everybody will concede that all possible steps should be taken to reduce automobile accidents and protect the public from injury and death, there is a vast difference of opinion as to whether compulsory insurance will improve the situation. Insurance is a social scheme, not a police auxiliary.

Our laws already make a man liable for injury which he carelessly inflicts upon another's person or property. Simply making these laws not enforced, is no good reason for passing more laws to further reduce individual responsibility.

There is just as good an argument for compulsory fire and life insurance as there is for compulsory automobile insurance. A man may fire and leave a family destitute, or relative or the state to care for. In fact this happens much oftener than cases where a person or family is left destitute because of an accident caused by an irresponsible automobile driver. The same situation applies in fire and life insurance. At present our enforcement of laws is so lax that a man can carelessly burn down your house and burn up your family and be gone scot free—the city even spending large sums to put out carelessly started fires, without an attempt to collect for the cost of its work from the guilty party.

If we have compulsory automobile liability insurance, why not compulsory fire and life insurance, as the interests at stake are many times greater than in the case of automobiles?

Carlisle Furniture Co. Is Forced to Vacate Store On Account of High Rent

The many Plymouth friends and patrons of the Carlisle Furniture Company of Mansfield will regret to learn that because of high rent they must vacate their present quarters at the corner of Fourth and Walnut streets. Their lease has expired and the owners of the building demanded three times as much rent; repeated negotiations failing to effect a satisfactory adjustment, the officials decided that the only thing left to do is to hunt new quarters.

The efficient committee consisting of Mesdames P. H. Root, Walker, Webber, Shaffer, Sherman and Knight had planned a delicious meal after which Bridge was played. Prizes were awarded Miss Elizabeth Weber, Mr. Sam Bachrach and consolation to Mrs. Ralph Hoffman and Mr. Eldon Nimmons.

Carlisle's have one of the largest stocks of furniture in this section of the state and this entire stock must be sold before moving into a new location. The tremendous cost of moving, such a large stock, and the damage that would ensue to the furniture itself, caused the officials of the company to give their customers the advantage of prices which are forced sales prices.

The special sale started last Saturday and is now in full swing. The store has been a busy place since the first announcement was made and hundreds of people are securing the special discounts and savings. With more than $125,000.00 worth of furniture, rugs and stoves to be sold in a short space of time, the company is offering savings in prices that will quickly dispose of the entire stock.

No definite announcement of the new location can be made at this time but there seems to be little question that the company will continue to do business in Mansfield.

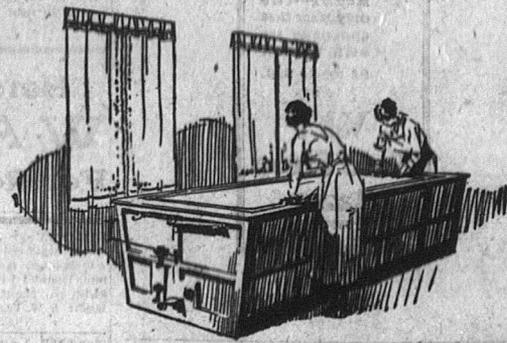

Mrs. J. M. Garbet of Mansfield spent Thursday guest of her aunt, Mrs. Sarah Lee.

Our curtain dryer makes them hang true

Even after you spend a hard day washing your curtains and drying them on the floor or an old-fashioned curtain stretcher, they so often lack that smooth finish and even "hang" that they had when new. Let our curtain dryer take the tiresome job off your hands. We measure every curtain before it is washed, and dry it exactly to its original size. The edges are padded down on the carding material at the sides of the dryer, and come out straight and true, without pin or hook marks. And both in washing and drying, your finest curtains are handled gently and carefully.

You'll never wash your curtains at home again after you know our quality work and low prices. Phone and let us tell you more about it.

Filming of "The Four Horsemen" Gigantic Task

To the vast multitude of theatergoers who are witnessing the picture-ization of the immortal story of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," a Rex Ingram production for Metro-Goldwyn with Rudolph Valentino and Alice Terry in the leading roles, its magnitude and costliness can be only partially appreciated. This triumphant return to this screen epic picture is now being celebrated at the Temple Theatre at Willard next Monday and Tuesday.

In thus transferring this historical romance to the screen from the pages of the world-famous novel of Vicente Blasco Ibañez, whose 166 editions have thrilled more than 20,000,000 readers, Director Ingram undertook an artistic task whose gigantic nature was apparent even before the opening scene was "shot." In making this million dollar cinema premiere as adapted by June Mathis, practically every known record of the motion picture industry was broken. New York, Chicago and Los Angeles, three key cities, representative of the middle and coastal sections of the country, immediately acclaimed "The Four Horsemen" as the greatest of cinema productions rivaling in dramatic power and intensity the best offerings of the speaking stage. (The popular verdict of these three widely separated cities is being just as emphatically endorsed by other great municipalities where it is being presented.)

A total of 12,500 men and women of the adult population of a city of 60,000, participated in the filming of the picture, either before the camera or as workers on the big sets. The cast interpreting the roles in the most widely read book of all time, excepting the Bible, contains two dozen principals, who in other productions would be rated as stars.

The greatest buy of the year—100 sheets and 50 envelopes. Latest monograms and French type.

"Why Is Zane Grey Such A Success?" Asks Waters

People ask why Zane Grey is so popular," said John Waters, director of Paramount's new production, "Man of the Forest," featuring Jack Holt and El Brendel, which comes to the Temple Theatre, Willard, Friday and Saturday of this week. Fifteen million copies of his books have been sold in all the English-speaking portions of the world and pictureizations have been exhibited wherever films are shown.

"Having directed three Zane Grey films—"Born to the West," "Forslors River," and now "Man of the Forest," and knowing him personally, I think I am in a position to explain.

Briefly, it's because he knows what he writes about. His work carries truth and conviction. Grey knows his characters, their ways and environment. His romances are the result of years of first hand study.

"After his youth in Ohio, where he was noted as a baseball player, Grey went to Arizona with Colonel C. J. (Buffalo) Jones, with whom he crossed the "Painted Desert in a Mormon caravan, lived at Kanab, Utah; hunted mountain lions, chased wild horses and had his first taste of the wild country about which he was destined to write.

"Grey's next venture was into southern New Mexico, Arizona and northern Sonora. Then half of the following ten years were devoted to Cuba, Yucatan, and Mexico, a cruise to a lonely coral reef in the Caribbean Sea and a wild exploring journey down an unknown river in the Sierra Caliente. He spent one period along the Rio Grande, meeting Texas rangers and learning about their lives.

"Places that match Grey's description of the country that inspires him were those selected as locations for "Man of the Forest." The picture was made in the California Sierras, and our camera captured some of the most awe-inspiring vistas ever photographed."

Famous Author's Greatest Work to Be Seen On Screen

The best is the last! This phrase came weirdly true in the case of Gene Stratton-Porter, the noted novelist who met her death in a tragic automobile accident in Los Angeles some two years ago.

Early in 1924, the famous writer planned a novel that would outstrip all her previous well-beloved books, such as "Laddie," "The Girl of the Limberlost," "The Harvester," "Freckles," and "Michael O'Halloran," the combined sales of which had mounted into an impressive number of millions. This new effort was to be an ethereal romance, of a different type from her former works, with a basic theme of a childhood love-affair persisting through the years.

Slowly it grew and developed; the first draft was finished early in the fall, and the final version was completed and the last page of type on December first. Her comment was that this was her best novel.

And then, five days later, while motoring through town, a street-car crashed into her machine—and she was instantly killed.

But her story lived on. Appearing in McCallie magazine in serial form last winter, and with the publication of the book by Doubleday, Page and Company, "The Magic Garden" made an instantaneous hit with his immense public, and attracted more wide-spread attention than any of her previous works. PBO's magnificent screen version of the book directed by the late writer's son-in-law, J. Leo Meehan, is responsible for much of the interest in the new story, as it is a remarkably faithful reproduction of the atmosphere and characters of the book. The picture will appear at the Shelby Opera House, Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Advice to the Lovelorn

Gentlemen prefer 'em', so we are told: Because of their hair, they say that: It's gold!

But, as Adolphe Menjou finds out in his latest Paramount starring vehicle "Blonde of Paris" anything that merely looks like gold, costs money. You see, as the hero of this sprightly Parisian farce, Monsieur Menjou loves with, laughs at and actually marries a blonde miss. And that's not all. Their marriage isn't a success, so he tries married life with a brunette and Ariette Marchal is the second lady; Greeta Nissen the first. Yet they say movie stars are unlucky! In addition to these two, Adolphe also has the advantage of Richard Rosson's intelligent direction, John McDermott's screen play and a capable supporting cast. Paramount's latest comes to the Temple Theatre, Willard, on Sunday. It was adapted from "An Angel Passes," the continental success.

A RARE TREAT
Those who were fortunate to hear the Duo music entertainers Thursday evening were enthusiastic in their praise of the clean and complete entertainment from the beginning to the close.
It was an artistic presentation of piano, violin and impregnation, and the applause that greeted each number evidenced the direct appeal they made.
They possessed the merits of vocal art and comprehension and with their exquisite taste produced an uplifting impression on their audience.

NEW HAVEN SCHOOL NEWS

FRESHMAN PARTY

The Freshman are to be commended for their ability of planning good times. It proves that Freshmen have more "guts" and vigor than the three upper classes combined. They were out to give a good time and to have one themselves. Games were played which were well chosen. Green was the prominent color and was selected on account of the goodness of St. Patrick's Day and also that it is a Freshman party. The only thing foreign was green lettuce leaves between the sandwiches. Cocoa, sandwiches, pickles and ice cream with milkshakes were served on a table artistically decorated in green and white. A few were unable to be there and we wish to say to them that they missed the best time of the school year.

DELPHI NEWS

Revel meetings are in progress. Nearly every night finds someone at the altar.

People on mud roads are surely having a muddy time of it and are suffering a great inconvenience.

Miss Alma Badman of the Cleveland Bible Institute is of great help to the pastor and people in getting people saved in the old fashioned way. We are of the opinion that we are having one of the most sensible campaigns put on for souls that we know of. No schemes, traps or tricks used to catch converts.

Every body is welcome. Greenwich and North Fairfield have been well represented.

The series will close this coming Sunday night.

The baby girl, Madaline, of Rev. Smith has been seriously ill for the past week.

Miss Alma Badman, the singing evangelist, was entertained last week by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Boardman. This week she will be with Mr. and Mrs. George Young, save being feasted on chicken dinners by neighbors.

A. Messinger and Supt. Palne and family of North Fairfield attended the meeting a part of last week.

Rev. Rife of Greenwich preached in Delphi last Thursday night. He had for his escorts Willis Shira and wife and M. Lynn of his church.

Girl Scout News

Plymouth troop assembled for their regular meeting Monday evening with thirty-one present. One scout was unavoidably absent. Formation was held at 5:15 sharp, followed by the usual business meeting and talk. At the last meeting each scout was asked to give some sign of spring which she had noticed, and it was interesting to hear the various things mentioned.

After the business meeting part of the troop was excused to attend the last attraction of the Lyceum course, while two groups of the scouts under the direction of Mrs. Schreck and Mrs. Kendig sewed on aprons and hot dish holders.

A scout council will be formed in the near future composed of the following ladies: Mrs. John Fleming, Mrs. Sam Bachrach, Mrs. Percy Root, Mrs. J. Schreck and Mrs. Edw. Curpen. The scout movement here has grown so rapidly that I feel that I must have help in planning and carrying on the work, and these ladies have consented to form an advisory council which will meet at stated times to talk over problems and plans.

Plans are now in foot to hold a court of honor, when each patrol leader will hold a meeting with her own patrol, getting their ideas and wishes, and then holding a meeting with the officers for council. In this way each girl will have a voice and opinion about the trend of the work and plan and begin her training for future executive work for herself.

Former Resident Writes to Friend

Time Has Made Many Changes Since Mrs. Clara Cook Moved From Here.

Extracts from the following letter from Mrs. Clara Clark Cook Culbertson, of 1418 East 61st St., Los Angeles, Calif., to Mrs. Carrie Allen of Shelby, O., will be of interest to her many Plymouth friends, as Mrs. Cook was a former resident, having left Plymouth over thirty years ago. Her home being located where the Smith Hotel now stands.

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 27, 1927.

Mrs. Carrie Allen—

My dear friend:— I received your very interesting letter, also, the clippings you were kind enough to send me. The clippings came the day I was starting for Ontario, and I found the letter waiting for me when I got back from a stay of a week in Ontario, where I have lived for so many years, it is 40 miles from Los Angeles, quite a long drive but we have fine roads in California.

I want to stay a day or two, and I was married and stayed some time. We had four days of steady rain and the streets were flooded and bridges washed away and Harvey, (my son) could not get out for me. I never saw so much rain at once in my life. But the ranchers are all happy to guess it is all rain.

I was glad to hear of Edna's children, (who will be remembered as Edna Westfall Rabold.) In what capacity is Nellie employed by the government in Honolulu? The last I heard of the girls they had both taken up their training. Edna is one thing she was born after I left Shelby, and Dan is a clothing merchant in Shelby. Their grandmother, (my sister), died a year ago the 23rd of February, she was 75 years of age. She lived with her youngest daughter, Mrs. E. V. Harvey in Ontario. That is one thing about life that we are all engaged in, that of growing old. I try to do it gracefully, but I don't know!

I was glad to hear about my old Plymouth friends, Mrs. Grace Kirkpatrick, and son, John, who called on me in Ontario several years ago when he was in California for a trip. Mrs. Sarah Hills of Cleveland and the Flemix family.

March 4.—You see I had this letter neatly started when some company came in and so I had to lay it aside. We are having another spell of weather. It rained all day yesterday, last night, and so far all day today.

Sunday, Harvey drove me over to see Goldie Clark Beader, (a former Plymouth girl), she is Uncle Ike's only girl. He had several boys. They have lived in Los Angeles for several years, coming here from Denver, Colorado. She has very poor health.

I wonder if you could tell me anything about Anna Moore. She lived with me and took care of Harvey when I lived in Shelby. Her mother was Fannie Beelman Moore, sister of Kate Beelman Bevier.

Mills Dronberger and Josephine McClanhey used to write me such sorry letters, but since they are both gone, I don't hear much only when Francis Dronberger of Cleveland sends me a paper. WIDA used to think so much of Francis and his son, Oh, I suppose if I could have a face to face talk with you, (Carrie), you would be lame, which I got through asking questions.

Well, I must thank both you and Francis for being so kind in writing to me, and I surely appreciate it. Yours was such a nice, fat letter, it reminded me of those I used to get from WIDA and Josephine. How many children have you?

You know, I suppose, Georgia Ward Boardman. She visited me a day or two in Ontario, several years ago, and had her little girl six or eight years old with her. She used to go to school to me and there was another sister, after English.

It is clouding up, so I'll close and I shall be glad to hear from you any time and as often as you have time to write.

Your friend,
CLARA CULBERTSON.

OBITUARY

SARAH KING MCINTIRE

Sarah A. Nigg was born in 1848 in Holmes County, Ohio, October 14, 1848, and departed this life on Sunday evening, March 20, 1927, aged 77 years, 5 months and 6 days. She was married to William McIntire, of Wooster, O., on October 22, 1868, and lived at Wooster all their married life.

To this couple were born two sons, Warren W. McIntire, formerly of Norwood, now deceased, and Jacob W. of Plymouth, Ohio, who with 5 grand children and 5 great-grand children survive.

Mrs. McIntire was one of a large family, of whom the only surviving member is one sister, Mrs. W. B. Moyer of Wilmot, Ohio, who is attending the service at this time.

Mrs. McIntire was a faithful and consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal church, where it was her delight to be at all the services. On the icy Sunday in December, she walked to the church and sat in her accustomed place. On being cautioned about the dangerous walk she remarked that she was so fat and would get along all right when on Monday she sustained the fall that was perhaps the immediate cause of her death, having broken her hip. She was taken to Shelby Hospital, where she received all the care that medical skill and good nursing could provide, but all the time her desire was to come home, which desire was granted as soon as consistent, and with all that tenderness and love could accomplish, and despite the strong desire to keep her with us, while longer, she beautifully fell on sleep on the evening of her beloved day, Sunday, to be with those whom she had loved and lost awhile.

Funeral services were conducted by her pastor, W. H. Gibson, at the late home, on Tuesday evening, last Wednesday morning, for Wooster, where the body was laid beside the husband in the beautiful cemetery there.

Radio Message from Mrs. Frances P.

March 16, 1927, at the age of 89 years, 11 months and 6 days.

She was the daughter of George and Catherine Senger, being one of a family of 10 children. In 1851, the family including the deceased came to Crawford County, Ohio. The mother died in 1870 and the father in 1892. She was united in marriage March 27, 1855, to Christian Kurtz, which has made her a resident at New Haven for 71 years. Mr. Kurtz preceded her to the great beyond in 1886. To this union were born 5 children. She had 12 grand children and 23 great-grand-children. She united with the M. E. church when a young girl and spoke constantly of her Saviour as the one who helped bear her pain and suffering.

Mrs. Kurtz had been a shut-in for several years caused by a stroke of paralysis. She bore her affliction without a complaint ever uttered of those about her, only the all wise one understands how much she had suffered through those years. She was cared for carefully all those weeks and days. The doctors tried to be obedient and to look on the bright side—when friends asked for her health she usually replied "fast fine." Even at the advanced age—nearly 90 years—it is hard to part with mother and grandmother for the sake of her best in true loyal service to her was her duty and true was her vision. She leaves also to mourn her loss an aged sister, Mrs. Sarah Jones of Sycamore, Ohio, and a host of relatives and friends. She has finished her labors of love and devotion, the light slowly burned down and out and she was with her God.

Sleep on, mother—the sleep of the faithful. Dear mother, your labor on earth was well done. And down through the years will go your fond message—To those who come after, your praise will be sung. To those who are left to mourn and to miss you will comfort in great comfort, to enlighten the lost; You have entered the rest of the good and the faithful. At peace with the world, you have laid down the cross.

Card of Thanks
We desire to express our appreciation to the neighbors and friends for the sympathy and kindness shown us during the illness and death of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. E. Kurtz.

Printzess Coats

Choose a Printzess top coat for smartness. These are clever styles for sports, street and general utility wear. All modishly correct and tailored after the manner of Printzess distinction in dress.

Fabrics are novelty herringbone, checks, plaids and ombre. Furs include summer squirrel, lapin, Patagonian fox and Lizardine. Leather and combination trimming are important decorative details. Patch pockets, inverted plaits, bandings and belts are used in new ways to give added character.

Let us say a few words of caution—Printzess offerings invariably are well received. It is practically impossible for us to keep our assortments intact. Unusually attractive prices still further, the importance of attending our showing early.

"POSITIVE AGITATION"

—the tremendous difference it makes!

The new Hoover cleans deeper and faster and easier because it has what no other cleaner ever has had—the revolutionary cleaning principle, "Positive Agitation."

So important and indispensable is this principle to the thorough and effortless cleaning of rugs, that the new Hoover surpasses even the standard design Hoover in these particulars:

- 1 For the first time, it makes possible "Positive Agitation" of floor coverings.
 - 2 By actual tests, in the ordinary cleaning time, it beats out and sweeps up from carpeting an average of 13% more dirt.
 - 3 It is an even greater rug-saver; the softer a carpet is cleaned with a Hoover the longer that carpet will wear.
 - 4 It is virtually self-proof, every part, including the new motor, requiring no oiling.
 - 5 It increases the efficiency of its remarkable dusting tubes because of its 50% stronger suction.
 - 6 Its exclusive new bag is made of the most efficient dust-and-guns-filtering cloth yet devised.
 - 7 Its form and finish are of sterling beauty; and every new feature insures greater operating ease.
