MAD DOG ATTACKS

NEW HAVEN CHILD

After attacking one of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Phillips of New Haven, a dog, said to be infected with rabies was killed Friday afternoon and the head sent into Columbus Saturday morning by Dr. C. W. Babcock. The child was given the Pasteur treatment in Willard by Dr. McCreight.

A dog of the same description was in the neighborhood of F. M. Gleason, and it is presumed that on his way to New Haven the canine attacked several other dogs or possibly livestock. Warnings have been issued here for dog owners to muzzle or tie up dogs for a period of six weeks.

This is the first mad-dog scare experienced here for some time, and it is hoped by authorities to keep down the epidemic, which proved very troublesome during 1926.

Aid For Refugees to Be Solicited Here Sunday

Sunday morning in the M. E. church at the suggestion of Postmaster John members will be asked to respond generously to the appeal of the Red Cross and of President Coolidge for Mississippi river food relief funds.

The Red Cross officials are not making a direct campaign, but the need is so acute and the number of food refugees increasing every hour, they feel citizens will willingly give for such a worthy cause.

Anyone in the village desiring to contribute to the relief can do so either by sending their donations to the People's National Bank or to the M. E. church officials where the funds will be taken care of.

Mother's Day

Next Sunday is Mother's Day. Plan to attend church somewhere. Read Rev. Miller's announcement on Mother's Day Service. You will find it in the Presbyterian church announcements. Rev. Miller did not use his name in his announcements. He has a title or two at the end of his name, but he never uses them. He has had a couple of years of travel and study in the old world, including extensive travel in Egypt and Palestine, but he seldom mentions himself in connection with these experiences. He once told the editor of the Advertiser that he wanted his message, rather than his name, to be most prominent. The writer is quite sure that Rev. Miller will make prominent the "Mother's of Today and To-Morrow" in his message next Sunday. If you do not attend church elsewhere, go and hear him.

New Haven Juniors Fete Seniors-Faculty

The Juniors of New Haven High School delightfully entertained the Seniors and Faculty members at their annual reception Friday evening in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms, Plymouth.

The guests were greeted and escorted into the parlors which were decorated in blue and white, the Junior Class colors, with large bouquets of pink carnations.

The banquet hall was even better decorated. The two large tables gave the suggestion of royalty. A delicious four course banquet was served by dainty waitresses, with tiny blue and silver aprons and caps.

Following this was an entertaining program of toasts and musical numbers.

The high school faculty spoke on the following topics:
"On the Line"—Miss Harris.
"Take Aim"—Miss Cole.
"Go"—Mr. Mulholland.
"Go"—Supt. Porter.
The toastmaster Clarence Durkin, cleverly introduced those who took part in the program and his remarks added much to the pleasure of the evening.

The reception will long be remembered by those present as the best ever attended and the Juniors are to be complimented on its huge success.

Sister of L. C. May Passes Away

Hannah Jane Adams passed away at her home in Jackson township Monday morning at 1:45 o'clock. She was 70 years of age and is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Glen Hartman and one grand-daughter, also two sisters Mrs. Sarah Harter, and Mrs. Nettie Adams both of Mansfield. Two brothers Levi May of Plymouth and Frank May of Shelby. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock conducted by Rev. W. C. B. Harris of Mansfield. Burial in the Oakland cemetery.

Officers Elected By Council

SHILOH, O.—The church school convention of Cass township convened at 2 p.m. at Mt. Hope with president A. O. Morton presiding.

After the congregational singing led by Ronald Howard, a very pleasing solo by Mrs. McBroom and the invocation by Rev. McBroom, a business session was conducted at which time it was decided by vote to have a Cass-Plymouth Council of Religious Education and the president appointed a nominating committee composed of members from both towns.

After music by the congregation and a duet by Misses Copeland and Rader addresses were made by H. W. Koelscher of Mansfield and J. A. Garber of Ashland.

Mr. Koelscher discussed the problem of holding the attendance at the church school during the summer season when all out doors were drawing them away and closed with the appeal for church people to be soldiers that enlisting for Christ means whole service.

Mr. Garber said the church school was an inseparable part of the church and that the great human problems were religious problems that could only be worked out through the home training. That the process of religious education in the church was to stimulate the boys and girls to become Christian citizens.

The evening service was much enjoyed with the splendid orchestra under the direction of Rev. Himes, the congregational singing led by Mr. Balduff and the beautiful duet by Miss Clarice Beamer and Mr. Balduff. All were appreciated.

On account of the absence of the speakers for the evening Rev. Himes and Rev. McCord both gave some good thoughts for their audience. The report of the nominating committee was given and accepted, and the following officers were elected:
President—C. C. Swartz.
Vice President—J. E. Nimmons.
Sec. - Treas.—Miss Margaret Bush.
Assistant Sec. Treas.—Leola Hamman.
Supt. Young Peoples Division—Miss Pearl Darling.
Supt. Adult Division—Miss Frances Shaffer.
Supt. Educational Division—Mrs. J. W. Miller.
Supt. Primary Division—Mrs. Ralph Hoffman.
Supt. Administrative Division—Mrs. Jean Seville.

COUNCIL ATTENDS TO MUCH BUSINESS

Council met at 6:30 early meeting being called on account of volume of business to transact. After routine business was taken up, the rest of the evening was given over to Mr. R. A. Glasgow, engineer from Shiloh, who made his report on the McLaughlin-ditch improvement and the Bell street sewer. His report was accepted by the council and work on these improvements will likely start in the near future.

The council also voted to contribute to the band concert this summer a liberal amount. Complete arrangements have not been made yet on the band concert, but it is likely that this will be attended to within the next week or so. A committee composed of Geo. Snider, Trent and VanWagner was appointed to look after the details.

Representatives from the North street road district were present asking that the village improve their part of the road within the incorporate limits, provided that the New Haven township trustees improve their portion of the road. It is not known just how far east this improvement will go. Council met with New Haven trustees at Willard Wednesday night and it was decided at the meeting to have the county surveyor make an estimated cost of the improvement of this road in the incorporate limits.

K. of P. Dance

Campaign to Start

Everything's all set. Let's go. Monday, May 9, is designated as the beginning of the clean-up campaign for Plymouth. Citizens are asked to cooperate in every way possible in collecting rubbish and placing it where it can be easily taken away by the city truck.
The clean-up campaign this year is under the supervision of the fire department and various sections of the town has been divided among members of the squad who will be responsible for seeing that all rubbish is collected at the street curb.

Band Cancels Engagement

Jenkins Says Reformatory Band Can't Give Concerts Here.

Word was received this week to the effect that the Reformatory Band, which had been engaged for the summer concerts, would be unable to fulfill its engagements for various reasons, which are printed in a letter below, from T. C. Jenkins, superintendent of the Reformatory.

No doubt this will cause much disappointment to many citizens and admirers of this organization. However, no definite information can be given at this time as to whether Plymouth will have its band concert this summer or not.

The letter from Mr. Jenkins follows:

APRIL 30, 1927
Dear Sir:
I appreciate this letter will be a disappointment to you and the splendid people in your community who have in the past been so enthusiastic about our band, but we have talked this matter over on a number of occasions and have finally decided that in as much as we cannot supply any considerable number of the requests made for our band, we must in fairness to all decline all invitations and requests.

The transportation problem is a difficult one for us to solve. We cannot hope with the number of trucks we have here at the institution to transport the band here, there and yonder, as would be required of us and for you to arrange transportation would be expensive for you and would not be satisfactory from our standpoint, as the question of custody is always an outstanding one with us.

We should like to have our Camps, we are compelled to supply is taking every available boy, even to the extent of drawing some from the band. This means that we cannot keep a band to the standard that would be necessary to furnish satisfactory music.

We should like to have our Camps, we are compelled to supply is taking every available boy, even to the extent of drawing some from the band. This means that we cannot keep a band to the standard that would be necessary to furnish satisfactory music.

Great as our disappointment may be, I hope you will give us credit for wanting to do the right thing and be fair to the institution and all concerned.

Very truly yours,
T. C. JENKINS
Superintendent

Barret, health commissioner made a fine report of the activities of the council during the past year in the county. Survey of health work in Richland county for 1925-26 school year.

DESERTING THE FARMS

In every section of the country the farms are being deserted. The farm population has diminished steadily in New England, the Middle Atlantic States, the East Central and the West North States. The same is true in the South Atlantic, East South Central, West South Central, and the Mountain and the Pacific States. In the grand total the United States Department of Agriculture shows that the farm population of the country dropped 649,000 last year. On January 1, 1927, the farms contained a population of 27,892,000 against 28,541,000 on January 1, 1926.

There has been a great movement from the farms to the cities in recent years and the only consolation in the figures is shown by the fact that a large number of people are now beginning to move from the cities to the farms. If this latter movement should keep up it may be that in time there will be enough disillusioned city dwellers to re-populate some of the neglected and deserted farms.

JUDGE CARPENTER AIMS BLOW AT DEMON DIVORCE

Judge Irving Carpenter has decided to clamp down the lid on easy divorce in Huron county.

Last month, 14 divorce petitions were filed in the county and only 16 marriage licenses were taken out.

Judge Carpenter hears the cases patiently. But he is slow to act. To be able to talk turkey so to speak to divorce litigants, Judge Carpenter, has the court stenographer, Rex Bracy, take a thorough account of the proceedings in short hand. This will prevent husbands or wives from denying things they said in the court room. It is said that recently a woman who obtained a divorce, bragged of the fact she had put some things over on the court.

After hearing divorce cases, patients of Judge Carpenter make a personal investigation. He checks up and finds if the litigants have been telling the truth and that if the plaintiff has grounds for divorce action.

Oakland Conquers the Perilous Box Canyon

Nerve, backbone, daring have usually been regarded the traditional heritage of man. That may be so, or it may be that women, through the ages, have seldom had the opportunity to learn whether or not they possessed these qualities. Certainly in the last decade women, through their many daring exploits in industrial occupations and sports, have challenged the theory.

Miss Billy Twist of Tulsa, Oklahoma, recently challenged the idea with a thrill all her own when she startled natives of Colorado by driving her Oakland Six Sport Roadster down the precipitous mule trail to the bottom of Box Canyon, a popular scenic spot near Manitou. According to old settlers, this car was the only one ever seen on the floor of Box Canyon.

The drive down the tortuous, twisting mule trail, a route used by tourists and thrill-seekers on mule back, required half a day. The return was even more difficult than the descent. Miss Twist says:

"I was surprised when I was told by a man, whom his acquaintances said was a hermit, that my car was the first one he ever saw at the bottom," she said. "Even then I didn't know for several days that I was the only person who ever made the drive. Others had attempted, they told me, but gave it up before they reached half way."

The drive was dangerous in spots, the Tulsa girl admits, but said she was not afraid because her brother, Ed Twist, also of Tulsa, and a boy friend from Ada accompanied her. "They spent most of their time building bridges and removing huge boulders," she explained. "I suppose my car has as much ground clearance as any other, but the rocks at times were so big it was impossible to go over them."

"There had been a rain a few days before we made the descent and deep ditches were washed out along the narrow trail. Sometimes, when the small stream beds ran at right angles to the trail, it was necessary to construct temporary bridges."

"The boys did the work. They threw some logs or old branches across and then we drove slowly. In fact, they were working most of the time, either removing rocks or brush or building a make-shift bridge."

The exact distance from the top of the canyon to the floor is slightly less than a half mile and is estimated at 2,550 feet. At times the rim of the trail was a scant three inches from the side of the trees and the driver continually hugged the canyon wall, she says. Practically all the drive was made in low gear because of the rough and pitted trail.

Taking into consideration the winding trail, Miss Twist believes her car traveled eight or nine miles in the round trip. She did not gauge the mileage, but is thrilled to know her Oakland Six has traveled to one spot no other car has ever reached.

BAD ACCIDENT

While visiting with her cousin at Pavonia last week, Miss Vera Dick met with what easily could have been a fatal accident. Both of the fifth wheels riding on the dog ran back over in the front of the pony Miss Vera was riding, causing the pony to fall and throwing the rider with great force on her face.

The accident happened Tuesday afternoon and at first it was considered a case of simple concussion. However, when the patient was removed to the General Hospital in Mansfield, she was found to have been dangerously hurt, and every effort was made to alleviate her suffering. At present she shows improvement.

DERELICT---

Anyone Can Be Sorry

Derelicts on the sea of finance have only themselves to blame. 'Tis human to have an alibi—and blame conditions over which we think we have no control. But in the last analysis, this is not true. Every man in his heart knows we speak the truth.

The first rule of thrift is to keep the outgo always within the limits of income. Failure to do this results in shipwreck. The best anchor in time of storm is money—and money to fulfill its full purpose should be busy at all times. Your modern bank makes this possible—paying interest on savings and dividends on good and sound investments.

The firm, family, or man who comes safely thru all storms is the one which has learned this lesson well and regulates its affairs accordingly.

Ceremony of Interest

A ceremony of interest and most impressive was that known as "capping" which was the chief feature of the meeting of the probation class held in the Nurses Home of Mansfield General Hospital, Tuesday evening. The members of the class who received the caps and took the Florence

Nightingale pledge were Misses Helen and Warva Fry, Olive Kaler, Leah Bachrach of Plymouth, Misses Velma Trudens and Beesie Elkson of Mansfield, Martha Williams of Lexington, May Hayward of Loudonville and Roselle Pretz of Nakomis, Ill.

Following the ceremony a program of readings and music was beautifully given, and enjoyed by a large gathering of relatives and friends of this class.

Those from Plymouth to enjoy this occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bachrach, daughter Caroline and son Junior, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Miller and daughter Mary Louise, and nephew Ward Miller of Ada, Ohio, Mrs. John A. Root and Mrs. J. Howard Smith.

CHILD HEALTH DAY AT MANSFIELD

While the pomp and elaborate preparations that attended the Child Health parade last year were missing in the parade of the children Saturday afternoon at Mansfield, there was fully as much spirit and enthusiasm shown by the 3,500 Richland county children who were eligible for the parade.

The entire route and preparations for the parade were prepared by Harry J. Dotson, principal of the Brinkerhoff school. Through his outlines and orders, the parade started promptly at 2 o'clock going east on Park avenue to Main street, around Central park and down Main street to Fourth street, south on Mulberry street to Park avenue and east to Central park where the children disbanded.

Carry Special Flags
The majority of the children marched in the parade, carrying small blue flags to distinguish them as "Blue Ribbon children," while many of the small ones rode in cart furnished by citizens. It is estimated that 2,300 children, from Mansfield and 1,200 from the county, marched Saturday.

Heading the parade was the Ohio Brass company band on one of the factory trucks, followed by the various schools and musical organizations.

Plans had been made to have Dr. J. E. Moner, state director of health, give an address in Central park immediately after the parade. Dr. Moner was present in the city early Saturday, but was unable to remain long enough to make the address, being pressed by time in organizing a group of workers to be dispatched to the Mississippi flood zone.

Secretary Herbert Hoover also sent his regards at not being able to be present for the occasion.

Celebrates Anniversary

The United Dollar Store of Shelby this week is celebrating its second anniversary. While this store bears a chain-store name, yet it is individually owned by Shelby residents. The buying power is so tremendous of The Dollar Store Chain until great savings are accorded by using this name for the store.

This week the management is offering unusual values for this occasion and the thrifty shopper will not hesitate to attend this sale during the last three days, today, Friday and Saturday. Announcement of the specials may be found in an advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

Clothing to Be Collected

The local organization of the American Rescue Workers, of Shelby, will collect clothing, shoes and bedding in Plymouth for the food sufferers. All washable clothing should be laundered, buttons sewed on, ready for wear. We can use clothing of all descriptions, children and adults, cloaks, wraps and overcoats.

Bring articles of clothing to the Girl Scout Rooms on Public Square. Room will be opened all next week, from Tuesday on, from 2 to 5.

We are urging the ministers of all churches of Plymouth to make this announcement in all services. The clothing will be sent direct from here to the Red Cross at Memphis, Tennessee.

Launch Drive

Chamber of Commerce will launch a membership drive next week. Letters will be sent out by the secretary asking your support of this worthy institution for another year. A membership card will be enclosed, which will be your receipt, which you are to keep. Make your remittance to Mr. C. M. Lofland, treasurer, or to any other officer of the organization. Plymouth needs the Chamber of Commerce and $5.00 per year. Is a small assessment.

NEW SONGS FOR OLD

If anyone bewails the passing of the old songs, let him hold his tears, for they are still being written. The national capita has just honored two young men who are today the foremost singers of old-time songs—Vernon Dalhart, born in Jefferson, Texas, and Carson J. Robison, from Chetopa, Kansas.

It was the "Prisoner's Song" that brought them together, according to Farm and Fireside, which features their story in its May issue. The success of this song carried them to fame together. Dalhart was the first to sing it. Robison was brought in to play the accompaniment. Now they are partners, riding the crest of public demand for old songs.

"They sell their wares and their talents to the phonograph companies," writes the biographer, "and the phonograph companies make recordings of these new-old melodies and in turn sell them to the public. If you don't believe it, go to your nearest dealer and ask to hear some of the old songs sung by this pair. It need not matter much which make of record the dealer sells, for they make records for nine companies."

It isn't all accident that Dalhart and Robison are out-standing in this practically new business of writing and singing new songs for old. They were born to it. The real old songs come from folks who lived close to the soil and both of these singers were born of such folks and grew up among them.

Dalhart used to think he was an opera singer. For seven years he sang opera turns to Thomas A. Edison, only to be turned down every time. Then one day he forgot all his highfalutin ideas of singing and, going back to his southern accent, sang "Can't You Hear Me Callin', Caroline" into Mr. Edison's ear trumpet. He has been making records for Mr. Edison ever since.

Our Weekly Sermonette

(By Dr. G. R. Mente)

GOD IS CALLING

Acts 14:17

The text carries the mind back to the days of Paul and Barnabas at Lystra, where they were preaching the gospel of life. There being no synagogue at this little city they proclaimed the story of salvation in the market place and upon the streets. What a lesson for us in this little story, to speak for God any place and any time, wherever men are willing to listen. Thus we notice all through the history of the christian church that God has been calling men and has not left himself without witness. But some on asks "Are those witnesses effective to-day?" or "Has the progress of civilization and the passing of centuries annulled their testimony?" For a few moments let us examine some of those witnesses briefly and satisfy our questioning mind.

Let us consider the words of revelation, carrying with them a definite call to man, challenging witnesses indeed to the greatness as well as the majesty and love of God. But perhaps you would rather leave God out of your life. You do not care about answering his call, as he says to you in the language of Eden "Where art thou?"

But let me assure you that though you may neglect to read the revealed word of God, as intelligent beings, you can not refuse to listen to the testimony it brings, for the issues are eternal.

Let us consider the origin and history of the church, as a witness for God; opposed again and again, persecuted by fire and sword, nothing could quench its dauntless spirit and to-day it points men everywhere to the mercy seat. But perhaps you do not care for the church. You live too far away to attend. There are too many in his fellowship that do not live up to their profession. Never mind, every one shall give an account for the deeds done in the individual body. I think the reason men and women desert the church is simply on account of the loud voice of God, calling unto them to be prepared to meet their God. Yes, I am persuaded that the church bears witness to God, and issues a call to everybody to listen to the voice of conscience and obey the divine commands. Again, I firmly believe God is calling man through the spirit. The writer tells us that God has put a new song in his mouth, ever praises to our God, that he has brought him out of the miry clay and set his feet upon rock. If a man has such a witness, coming from an honest heart and conviction, it commands attention of the world, and like in the days of David, many shall see it, and fear and shall trust the Lord. And last of all, God calls men to be the witness of man himself. No matter where we may live we are either witnessing for God or against Him. The unconverted world reads our lives though it may never waste a moment time to read the Bible. Have we heard the call? Are we ready to witness for God? If not, why not?

Girl Scout News

Plymouth Girl Scouts held their weekly meeting on Monday evening with twenty-seven present, and one visitor, Betty Brown. After the court of honor and formation, sewing was done until 8:15, when two bean bags held the place of honor, until it was time to sing a Scout song, and Taps to close the meeting.

As the captain was unable to lead the hike last Saturday, on account of illness, it was postponed until the coming Saturday, when the girls will meet at 2 p.m. at the Scout rooms. E. M. SEILZER, Captain.

MUST SUBMIT NEW APPLICATION FOR GREEN LAW FUNDS

Counties which have not received money may be given first consideration.

If this county desires funds for the improvement of its county roads under the provisions of the Green law, it will be necessary to file a new application on file with the state fund holds out $1,000 may be apportioned to each township in the state for county highway improvements. The state appropriation bill carries $500,000 for this purpose. Inasmuch as there are approximately 1400 townships in the state, however, not all of them can be provided with funds. The appropriation made by the General Assembly two years ago for county highway improvement was soon exhausted and many applications are pending in the office of the auditor of state. However, new applications will have to be filed July 1.

It is reported that in the making of new allotments of funds under the Green law, those counties which have not yet received any money under the provisions of the county highway system act will be given first consideration.

Miami and Union counties were the last two counties in the state to qualify under the provisions of the Green act through the filing of maps and other data with the state highway department and auditor of state.

The proposed highway improvement campaign in Union county calls for the improvement of about 37 miles of highways in the 14 townships of the county, at a total cost of $75,000. All of the construction is to be of the macadam type. The county system consists of 100.7 miles.

MERELY ONE BORER

MAY SPOIL A SALE

It takes only one corn borer in an acre to convince a buyer that sweet corn after all isn't such a tasty dish. Market gardeners near Boston discovered the truth of that a few years ago when the European corn borer made such heavy inroads in sweet corn in eastern Massachusetts, according to entomologists at the Ohio State University.

in an ear of sweet corn destroys it for market. This is largely due to the feeding habits of the insect," the entomologists explain.

"Damage to the kernels is not confined to the tip of the ear, as is usual with the corn ear-worm. A borer may be concealed in the cob of an apparently sound ear, and in this position not be dislodged until the ear is placed in the heated water for cooking. One such experience is enough for the average purchaser."

Time of planting determines the degree of injury to sweet corn by the borer; the entomologists say. Parent stalks and lay eggs on the leaves of corn during June and July. Early planted corn is then far enough developed to receive the eggs and furnish suitable food for the young borers.

Dates-of-planting experiments were made weekly from April 29 to June 15, 1925, by the Ohio Experiment Station at Bond, Lucas County. Stalk infestation on these plants in September ranged from 20 to 35 percent in corn that had been planted before May 15. Infestation in corn planted after May 15 decreased, until it became negligible in corn planted after June 8.

POLITICAL BLOCS

There has been a good deal of active political work in Washington recently, in connection with urging Republican voters to return to "old fashioned two-party lines." The Republican State Voters' Association has held a big gathering in Washington and particular stress was laid to the need of wiping up and wiping out the "blobs" within the Republican party. There was lots of applause in the meetings—and applause, too. Needless to say it was not joined in by representatives from a few States whose Senators and Representative lead the "blob"—farm bloc, and other things.

THE MISSISSIPPI FLOODS

The American people always rally to the cry of distress in cases like that of the Mississippi River floods. It is doubtful whether the American Government or the American Red Cross ever moved forward more speed-ly than during the past week or two. President Coolidge has kept in constant touch with the situation and the resources of the Government have never been more fully available for relief work than during the present emergency.

THE AIRPLANE

The tragic death of Lieutenant Commander Noel Davis and Lieutenant S. H. Woodson, who were to have attempted the flight to Paris in the giant biplane "The American Legion" has renewed the discussion among Government aviation experts concerning the principles of airplane construction. The percentage of deaths among aviators does not seem to decrease and perhaps that is the reason why the art of flying has not been more rapidly developed in the United States.

MARTIN PLANS ALPENA TRIP TO PAY $500 REWARD

Prosecutor E. G. Martin probably will find it necessary to go to Alpena, Mich., to straighten out the tangled affair brought about by the offering of a reward of $1,000 for the arrest of the Lyon brothers in connection with the murder of Frank E. McGrath. So many claims have been made for the reward that the county commissioners slated they would not make a full statement until the claimants in Alpena county came to an agreement as to shares. Some time ago, the Huron county commissioners gave $500 of the reward to Chief Dougal McKenzie of Alpena, who got a bullet in his neck when he stopped the Lyons at Alpena for an examination the day of their arrest. The other claimants have not come to an agreement over the splitting of the remaining $500.

WARTIME INSURANCE

The yearly renewal of the term of wartime insurance expires on July 1, 1927, and officers and enlisted men who desire to continue insurance protection with the Government must convert their wartime insurance into one or more of the seven plans of the level premium insurance issued by the Government before that time. If they do not do so their rights will be lost to them.

ECHOES FROM THE BORER BATTLE

THERE IS, first of all, that Cleveland girl whose ignorance of the European corn borer was colossal. Employed in an office which handles pictures for distribution to newspapers, more and more the corn borer was forced upon her attention. Finally she admitted to her manager, "Why, until today I always thought the corn borer was a farm implement."

AND THEN there is the printer somewhere in the Federal Government's employ who likewise must need more information on the corn borer. He printed identification cards for local corn borer inspectors that read, "Corn Borer Inspector."

IT IS the firm conviction of one western Ohio farmer, name withheld for good and sufficient reasons, that this corn borer control campaign won't be a success unless a certain neighbor of his is made to clean up his corn fields. His sons escaped the draft for the World War, husky they were; now he's trying to get out of cleaning up his corn fields. This farmer, the one who had already cleaned up, summed up his neighbor this way: "About the only way you'd get that fellow to clean up his fields would be to put a quarter of a cent on every corn borer's tail."

QUEER methods have been proposed for the control of the corn borer. One of the choicest, suggested to a farm paper editor, was that every farmer in the infested area equip himself with a foot-sized swatter, about 8 to 10 inches, made of quarter-inch mesh galvanized wire, and fastened to a pole or broom handle. Then, said the inventor, let them swat every corn borer moth they see with it. A flashlight should have been added to the swatter, for the moths fly only at night.
