

Huron County Grand Jury In Busy Session

The Huron county grand jury up to Saturday returned eleven indictments after a three day session. Charges against five persons were ignored, and a number of secret indictments were returned. A total of seventy-one eyewitnesses were examined. Saturday's Reflector-Herald gives the following concerning the findings of the grand jury at Norwalk:

"Many seen pleased that the charges of automobile theft placed against Charles Wall and Clarence Wilcox of Norwalk, were ignored. The young men asserted that they drove the car in question with consent of the owner."
"Coyle Virie Fitzgerald, indicted on the charge of taking $40 worth of goods from a trunk on transit on a B. & O. train out of Willard was turned over to Weeks, a Deputy United States marshal and taken to Toledo for a hearing in federal court. This means the prisoner has been removed from the jurisdiction of the local court. Fitzgerald, it is said, was on his run, as an assistant baggage master when he opened a trunk owned by Olive Shannon, and removed a large number of articles of feminine wearing apparel, including dresses, a pair of bloomers, neckties, handkerchiefs and other articles, in addition to a box of Martha Washington chocolates."
"Young Ranck, who was charged with stealing an automobile, pleaded guilty and probably will be arraigned."

"The indictment of Perry Hayes of Monroeville, former sheriff, and Willis Parkins, of near this city, followed their arrest on the charge of taking hides from a slaughter house near Willard."
"Most of the men indicted, however, are in jail for some time. The following is a list of the indictments and the charges:

Charles Horn, Fred Moore and William Swanson, petit larceny; accused of robbing home of Tillie Tape.
"Willard Ranck, charged with stealing car of E. D. Simon.
"Perry Hayes and Willis Trumbull, robbery of slaughter house of Brown and Landfield, Willard.
"Coyle Virie Fitzgerald, petit larceny, charged with taking $40 worth of goods from trunk on B. & O. train.
"Tracy Swanson, grand larceny.
"Lee Parker, Willard, selling mortgaged goods.
"C. J. Spencer, Willard, assault and battery, prosecuting witness, J. R. Corbin.
"Ignores Charges
"Charges were ignored in the following cases:
"State vs. Chas. Wall and Clarence Wilcox from Norwalk mayor's court; State vs. F. Schoenacker from court of A. M. Little; State vs. Joseph, State vs. W. Helman from court of F. A. Powers, Justice; State vs. Beg Filton, from court of Major J. E. Derr of Plymouth."
"Saturday morning the following men, indicted on Friday, pleaded not guilty before Judge J. R. Carpenter: Perry Hayes, Lee Parker, Willis Trumbull, Fred Moore, Charles Kemp and C. J. Spencer.
"Following pleaded guilty: Willard Ranck, Charles Horn, William Lawson, Merritt Hyde and Earl Perkins."

SUTTON SUES J. E. NIMMONS

NORWALK—Melvin C. Sutton is plaintiff in a lawsuit commenced here through his attorney Rowley & Carpenter against J. E. Nimmons, executor of the estate of the late Agnes Beelman of Plymouth. A judgment of $5,588 is petitioned for on the grounds that the plaintiff received service in that amount in behalf of Miss Beelman for some time before her death. Sutton mentions care being given upon the opposing team being out, and if it hadn't been for the ball glancing over Scrafield's ballhead or the pitcher's arm, the game would have undoubtedly been won. The box score always tells the story and so we're putting it in as the game was played."

Farmers Hold Fine Meeting

SHILOH—The Farm Bureau of Cass and Bloomingrove townships held an interesting meeting on the spacious lawn at Shiloh Tuesday evening. Through the courtesy of merchants, County Farm Agent Gilkey was able to purchase a moving picture machine which he brought with him, and not only entertained, but instructed, as it made existing conditions plain to all observers. "The devastating effect of the corn borer was splendidly illustrated and the need of more seeds and stock for the perpetuity of farm life were uplifting lessons needed in all communities.
We have never seen a class more interested and attentive than the farm bureau members and their friends during the evening program. Mr. Gilkey is recognized as a reliable citizen and official of our country and the progressive farmers are trying to give him loyal support.
The president Ronald Howard introduced our new Smith-Hughes man, Prof. Hetrick who made a short talk, expressing a desire to become acquainted with all the farmers, and making their hearty co-operation in his work the coming year. At the close of his talk the Farm bureau showed the true community spirit by making Prof. Hetrick a member of their bureau.
Clarence Mowery of Springfield township, then gave an interesting talk urging the cooperative progressive farm project, and gave several reasons why this should be done.
Mr. Mowery gave a short but convincing talk on the church and its relation to community life. Robert Sauter of Springfield township was invited to give a talk but on account of the late hour he only corroborated the statements made by the previous speakers.
It was decided to have a truck in this township for the purpose of analyzing and it will here Wednesday, August 17.
A pleasant surprise from the Farm Bureau was the serving of light refreshments."

Two Roads Will Receive Improvement

Improvements on two main highways leading through Tiro will give this village good roads to nearby towns and will make traveling much easier. The Tiro World has the following to say about the roads which will interest many residents in this community:
"New comes official information that the highway clear through Vernon township from its old southern boundary to its northern boundary, a distance of six miles will be improved and placed in good condition by the county commissioners before noon Friday. The commissioners will also improve three miles and one hundred road of the same highway through Auburn township.
"The completion of these two stretches of highway will form a continuous well improved road leading through Tiro, Crestline, Galion and New Washington.
"The expense of this improvement is to be borne by the county, the township and it is understood a portion by the abutting property owners.
"Any rate, the early realization of this much needed improvement is at hand, and most welcomed. The county commissioners have seen the need of improving sections of the fact it forms an important school route, also a mail route and besides being traveled by the fact that several of them will be transported to a far greater extent in the future than it has in the past, because of the improvement.
"Another highway, the Bucyrus-Plymouth state route clear through Plymouth to Bucyrus, it is officially declared will be completed before snow flies. Work is progressing rapidly. Large forces of men are at grading and grading sections where there has been no improvement in the past. A sample of this may be found at the intersection of the two highways.
"One of the greatest aids to this course and local system of road improvement is the fact that several school routes will be placed in good condition. Last winter the board of education experienced an era of trouble in operating its fleet of motor trucks. Numerous break downs were reported. Special sessions of the board were held. Mr. Galt, president of the board to thresh out the problems as they came up, and it was finally decided that the minimum amount of confusion in getting the school bus to school over the mud-farrows roads.

Games Becoming More Interesting

Managers Scrafield and Brown announce another game this afternoon. If weather permits, and if today's game is as tight as last week's there will be a close contest. The game will be between the two town teams.
The lineup is incomplete but it is probable the following team will have a possible change in the field.
The attendance was good, and it is said the defeated team is rounding up players for the opposing team. And can't the southside residents come to the game, the northerners will need an hour's entertainment free of charge, you had better stay away. It is reported on the north side that the Square that Joe Lash is going to drink a bottle of "Lucky Tiger" hair oil after he has entered the pitchers box this afternoon."

The kitten ball game last Thursday afternoon proved a big entertainment for the onlookers and a sore disappointment for the players the day after. However, the same was a tight one and both sides played good ball. The northerners took highest score, 6 to 5, while the southsiders made a stiff fight to get ahead. Only the kitten ball and unique action of Loftand, Miller, Willet and Reynolds were responsible for the winning of the game. Rule and Derr were the star players, each making two runs for their team, while Loftand and Reynolds each scored a single.
There's not much to say about the southsiders except they had the pitcher of the opposing team hanging out, and if it hadn't been for the ball glancing over Scrafield's ballhead or the pitcher's arm, the game would have undoubtedly been won. The box score always tells the story and so we're putting it in as the game was played."

FARMERS AS WORLD POWER
It has long been a tradition in American politics that the farmer is the most important single unit in the development of sound democracy. But now it is beginning to appear that the farmer is also a key to world peace and the development of good will with international relations.

The League of Nations is now laying great stress on the education of agricultural populations in the fundamentals of world affairs, and a recent report to the League on American philanthropy in eastern Europe asserts that "the most important part of the educational work of the Near East Relief is in its agricultural schools and farm demonstration centers."

In studying the work of these American schools for the peasants of Armenia and Greece, the League's observer states that this educational program is probably the soundest possible way of creating in the minds of any people a recognition of the international brotherhood of man. Education is not enough,—this is the primary cause of the failure of the Greek and Roman Empires. American philanthropy, in its work in Europe and Asia, has recognized that education is effective only as it reaches every class of the population.

A great majority of the graduates from the American schools in America and Greece go into the agricultural pursuits of their countries. Therefore every child is required to become familiar with the elementary processes of producing food and the necessities of life. The children are not trained to become "white collar" men and women. They are not educated out of their environment. This is a new and sane development in education, which will be watched with keen interest by students of international affairs.

THE SOUTH EXPANDS
Prosperity of the nation must be synchronized by the prosperity of all its sections. The East, the North, the West have utilized their natural resources and built their industries to empire. Many of us not yet in the serene and yellow remember the days when the industry of the South was represented chiefly by cotton and tobacco; and in 1870 the total capital invested in manufacturing in this section was something like $150,000,000.

But to-day we see a different South—a new South growing greater day by day and year by year, steadily, substantially, through the renaissance of industry that set about in 1900 and received great impetus following the World War.

Figures are not always good hot weather reading, but here are just a few that will illustrate the great expansion of the South.

In the thirty years from 1870 to 1900 the South, mostly through its natural increase in cotton and tobacco, but with the addition of new industries close to natural resources, developed its capital invested in manufacturing to $1,184,183,490. In the same year the total capital invested in manufacturing in the United States was $5,975,256,495 with production valued at $11,404,926,761. The Willard. satisfactory drying temperature. By using air at the low temperature of 135 degrees the clothes could not burn if left in the dryer for hours and they also come out without the hot or "burned" smell generally characteristic of laundry dried clothes, it stated.

Following the announcement a year or two ago that the laundry would do rough dry washings, the demand for the equipment and the laundry had to curtail the work. The service can now be given to an almost unlimited number of customers, it is stated. The new machine recently added, gives the Ideal Laundry the latest equipment in practically everything that has been developed by the laundry machinery manufacturers.

100,000-Mile Oakland Finishes Record Trip

Exactly five months after the 100,000-mile Oakland sedan left the Oakland factories at Pontiac, Mich., it returned from a grueling road trip of more than 21,000 additional miles through 37 states and 500 cities and towns in the United States besides trips into Mexico and Canada.

The car, which left Pontiac on January 31, returned at noon on June 30 to the factory where thousands of employees joined the mayor of Pontiac and the executives of the Oakland Motor Car Company in a ceremony of welcome at the main office building.

The car was first run on a treadmill for 100,000 miles in the showroom of the Richards-Oakland Company, Detroit, and then was sent on a great swing throughout the country, the route resembling a gigantic figure eight. The eastern loop was made first and then the western loop. When the Oakland had reached Chicago on the home swing, it was decided to make still another loop of 5,000 miles which kept the car in the southeast for an additional month.

The car was met with bands and participated in parades in nearly every city of any size in the United States. The demonstration proved the stamina built into cars today, as the mileage run up would have taken at least 10 years in the hands of an average driver. Every kind of climate and every condition of road was encountered during the five months the Oakland was on tour.

GREAT SOCIAL EVENT

An ideal place with ideal decorative surroundings was chosen where the men representing the homes of the members of the Get-to-Other Club entertained, Thursday evening, and as one of the ladies expressed it, "royally."

ally and surprisingly done." The grounds and gardens at the A. J. Willet home were lighted with lanterns hung from the trees.

The Fritz sisters of Mansfield had been secured to furnish music for the entire evening which they did to the pleasure of each one present. Mrs. Willet had moved the piano to the door and with the orchestra seated on the veranda with shrubbery and flowers on both sides and the lawn resembling a deep blue green carpet, a picture was completed which was very beautiful.

The color scheme was green and white frosted cakes, with the club number 187 in green on the cakes. Lemonade and the favors, small white cups filled with candy. The napkins were plain white with letters in green across the corner. "We are for you."

There was about eighty present to enjoy this elaborate evening entertainment.

A vote of thanks was given the men for their co-operative spirit and encouragement.

The honored committee in charge of the plans for the evening were: George Wolever, George Clark, Floyd Downend, Harold Pains and A. J. Willet.

Next month there will be an all day meeting and picnic dinner at the home of Mrs. Alice Steel of Boughtonville.

MT. HOPE LUTHERAN CHURCH

Lehr A. McCord, Pastor
Sixth Sunday after Trinity, July 24, to a m. Sunday school, R. B. Howard, Supt. Special music is to be furnished by Ethel Copeland and Panchon Rader.

11 a. m. Morning worship with sermon by the pastor.

There will be no morning service, only Sunday school on July 31 and Aug. 7. The pastor will be out of town on each of these Sunday on his annual vacation. The Sunday school will be held as usual.

The ball team sponsored by the Sunday school was a rather loosely played kitenball game from the Shelby U. B. team Monday evening by a somewhat lopsided score, the exact dimensions of which we are not sure. It looked as though we had a pretty good team even though the opposition did "blow up" at intervals and had a basket full of albino, rook, had and indifferent. A little more local interest in this entertaining twilight sport will produce good results. Why not back it?

The Light Brigade Missionary Society met last Wednesday with the leader, Mrs. Clarence Forsyth, who had invited them to her country home for an all-day meeting and picnic. She served a fine dinner to the 15 members in addition to the visitors present and after the program in the afternoon, ice cream and also enjoyed. Mrs. Forsyth and Mrs. McCord assisted with the program in which the members are showing a real interest. All the youthful members were agreed that they had had a fine time when they returned to the home late in the afternoon.

KITTEN BALL GAME

Shiloh Kittenballers won two games from the Shelby U. B. team Monday evening. Shiloh led 3-2 at the end of the third inning. Shiloh team made two runs in the fourth and three in the sixth, getting seven runs. Shelby made no runs in the seventh and eighth, but added two in the ninth. Techant's pitching in the pinches and this almost airtight support after three innings were features of the game.

ATTENTION: WHEAT FARMERS

$34.70 EXTRA

Profit per Acre

Woodburn, Ky. July 16, 1926

The American Agricultural Chemical Company, Cincinnati, Ohio

Sirs:

I am highly pleased with the results obtained from the use of "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers and will continue to use them. With 57 bushels per acre, I have doubled my yield of wheat with them and they are the best drillers I ever saw.

Very truly yours,

SHELBY THOMAS

Here are facts, not claims. Not an exceptional case, either. One of 1739 reported. This $34.70 extra profit per acre is fifteen times the cost of fertilizer!

"AA QUALITY" Fertilizers produce these outstanding results because only the best sources of materials are used. They are scientifically compounded and blended to provide properly balanced, readily available plant foods continuously from seeding to maturity. Perfect mechanical condition insures easy and even distribution.

OBITUARY

Creastie, Alexander Smith born at Oreston, July 12, 1867, died at Erie, Pa. July 13, 1927, aged sixty years and one day.
These bare dates span a life that was lived to the fullest. A span of sixty years filled with good; a man whom to know was to love. One who made friends wherever he went among people of all ages and all walks of life. Men from the humblest stations as well as those high in civic and industrial life were proud to call him friend, and his friends he made he kept till the day of his death. His good deeds were many and varied and no one will ever be able to compile a chart of these because not even those closest to him were fully aware of his charities. These were performed out of the goodness of a heart that was always filled with a love of his fellowmen. Men whose hair is white with the snows of many winters bow their heads in grief at his passing remembering only the love they bore him.

Out of town friends who attended the funeral of Mr. Smith were Mrs. O. A. Smith, Erie, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Briner and children, Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar J. Smith, Erie, Pa.; Mrs. Albert Kaufman of Erie, Pa.; Mrs. Ada Ludwig, Will Ludwig, Mrs. Julia Busse and son George of Beaver Falls, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Griffith and daughter Ruth of Crestline, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Opatky, Mrs. E. THAT OLD BUCKET
The old oaken bucket
That once hung in a well,
Has lost the ball and bottom,
The rest I need not tell.

It served a noble purpose.
For years it was the best.
Time has changed so different,
I need not say the rest.

Have we gone one better,
With the system of today,
As we close the open well,
And get the bucket away?

The dear old song is good,
It makes us stop to think,
Out of this old bucket,
We often wish a drink.

Many of our great people,
Who fought for us and fell,
Have quenched their thirst,
From a bucket of this love.

This song has no monument,
I am sure it is none the worse,
If you sing it long enough,
It will make you a thirst.

The old oaken bucket,
No doubt is all rotten,
If it were not for the song,
It would soon be forgotten.

The old oaken bucket,
That served its race so well,
Has been now replaced,
By modern pumps in the well.

BEVIER SEEKING $3,020 DAMAGES
The vanishing dust and the hurrying gravel are linked together in accident recited in a petition filed in common pleas court by Isaac BeVier, who says a car driven by Walter Thrush struck plaintiff's buggy, throwing him out and dragging him 40 feet. BeVier says one heel caught between the spokes on his buggy and the horse dragged him 40 feet before the horse stopped. He claims he has never fully recovered from the injury as he received.

Another complaint made by BeVier that his horse, which was gentle before this accident, has been rendered nervous. He estimates the damages to his buggy at $20. The plaintiff claims the defendant was driving 50 miles an hour when the accident occurred on the Plymouth-Bucyrus road on April 9, 1927.

BeVier, by his attorneys Charles A. Sellar and T. R. Robison asks for damages in the sum of $3,020.

CENOL

Fly Destroyer

General Information

Flies are now classed amongst the dangerous insect pests. Medical science has demonstrated that they are disease carriers and therefore a menace to health.

This, in addition to the annoyance they cause, means that their destruction not only to avoid being bothered with them, but also as a preventative health measure, should become a duty in every home, store, office, factory, or wherever flies are found.

"Cenol Fly Destroyer" is a preparation easy and safe to use, that kills flies by the wholesale, and the time spent for this purpose and the effort expended to get rid of flies, will prove a safeguard to health and an added means of comfort.

Excavation Starts on New Theatre Made Gala Event: Mayor Throws First Dirt

Mayor J. Earl Ports last Wednesday at noon turned the first shovelful of dirt to officially dedicate the ground on Park avenue west as the site for the construction of Mansfield's new $50,000 theater building project.

Directors of various Mansfield luncheon clubs, S. N. Vaughn, Chamber of Commerce Secretary, Fire Chief William H. Remy, Police Chief H. E. McClure and a group of interested spectators were gathered for the occasion and welcomed by Harry Brown, Jr., manager of the Opera House and Majestic theaters and future manager of Mansfield's new playhouse.

In introducing the city's chief executive, Manager Brown first expressed the appreciation of the various Amusement, Inc. for the cooperation and encouragement given the new project locally, and promised Mansfielders the best there is available in stage and screen talent upon completion of the new theater.

Mayor Ports was presented with a bronze-tipped shovel, which was decorated with a large blue ribbon, by Manager Brown. An expression of faith in the new theater enterprise was voiced by Mayor Ports and he proceeded to dig the first shovelful of dirt.

It was a gala event. Balloons of varied colors were shot high into the air by the explosions of miniature bombs and people applauded heartily as the mayor turned the first official shovelful of ground.

Prior to the celebration, the group of city officials, civic and service club representatives and newspaper men were photographed. Huge steam shovels formed the background of the picture.

Girl Scout News

The Plymouth troop has been taking a vacation during the warm weather and will not begin meeting until September. During the summer we are making plans for the coming winter and are also looking for a first lieutenant.

Will any one in Plymouth volunteer to take the place of first lieutenant for the coming winter? I must have someone who will not desert during the year, as the task of planning and directing the activities of thirty or more girls is one that is more than I can cope with. While the Scout laws demand that the position must be filled by someone at least 18 years old, I would like to add at least ten years to that, as girls of 18 are apt to be "one of the crowd," and I must have someone who can enforce obedience if it is necessary. I believe that the past year the Scouts have shown a little of what can be accomplished, if I have taught only the outer edges of Scouting, for it was necessary for us to find new quarters in the middle of

DISCONTINUES HIGH SCHOOL

The school board of Greenwich township has decided to discontinue the High School Department. The school will now only be a graded institution. The action was made necessary by the state department in refusing the township school a charter. Students will now have to attend the Greenwich Village high school, which is already overcrowded, and is on the verge of losing its first grade charter, so reports say. It is said that a drive for a new school building will be made this fall.

WOMEN'S COSTUMES IN "VALLEY OF HELL" PLEASES CONTRAST TO THOSE OF TODAY

A pleasing and interesting contrast to the present boyish styles for girls are the costumes of today, worn by Edna Murphy, Francis McDonald's leading lady in his first western stage vehicle for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, "The Valley of Hell," showing at the Shelby Oastmas, Saturday.

The story, an original by Isidore Bernstein, who also supervised this picturesque drama, is laid about the 1860-1870 period, and Miss Murphy, in years in pretty gowns of the crinoline type, not really of a hoopskirt nature, but bordering upon that extreme style.

It seems that never in the history of the world has a feminine costume been devised which seemed so different from the present, refinement and femininity have quite so effectively as the costumes of that particular period. No wonder that some of the world's greatest romances were written during that period of time, and no wonder that motion-picture producers so frequently choose that for the time of a picturesque effort.

Miss Murphy is a petite blonde, with a certain winsomeness which is very appealing. In contrast of the swarthy appearance of the debonaire

Francis McDonald, the star, she makes a perfect foil.

The picture was directed by Cliff Smith, famous for his work with William S. Hart.

SPANISH FIESTA A GAY SCENE IN 'PRAIRIE KING'

A Spanish fiesta is one of the interesting sequences of "The Prairie King" starring Hoot Gibson, which comes to the Gasamba Friday, at Shelby.

Beaves Eason, the director, made the novel and colorful Spanish scenes on one of the largest stages on the Universal lot. It was lavishly decorated in the spirit of a genuine Castilian celebration. Miles of streamers festooned every nook and corner of the huge set and the players were supplied with enough collected to cover the floor to a depth of several inches.

Another new twist, never before seen in a western film drama, is a masked knife duel, in which the contestants, one of whom is Hoot Gibson, are compelled to go through the ticklish business of trying to puncture each other with their freedom of movement restricted by means of a four foot rope, one end of which was tied to an ankle of each duelist.

Beautiful Eason Worth lends her charming screen personality to the production, the rest of the cast including Charles Sellon, Rosa Gore, Robert Prisco, Sidney Jarvis and George Periolat.

FORMER POLLIES DANCER MAKES SCREEN DEBUT

The movies just seem to pursue Mary Mulhern.

When Paramount was forming its school for actors and actresses, Miss Mulhern, at that time a dancer in Ziegfeld's Follies, was among the lucky few to be selected out of the thousands of applicants. However, her Follies contract made it impossible for her to enter the school and she was obliged to forego the opportunity for a screen career.

When the latest edition of the Follies closed, Miss Mulhern became a specialty dancer at a well known New York night club, Edward Sutherland, director of "Love, Greed and Mislike," in which Josephine Dunn and Iris Gray, graduates of the picture school, had leading parts, and Miss Mulhern and engaged her to dance in the night club scenes in his production.
