

Trux Street Still Causes Contention

Mud Holes and Bumps Make Motorists Lose Religion and Autos.

Much consternation was caused among several motorists Saturday afternoon when their machines became fast in mudholes on Trux street.

Bill Lasee of Shelby almost "spore" the street when the rear springs of his Chandler car collapsed as the machine fell into one of the "dug-outs." Mr. Lasee is out of the price of new springs and his attitude toward Plymouth and Trux street is not very kindly.

Soon after this mishap some one placed the old standby sign: "Road Closed, Travel at your own Risk." Of course this shifts the responsibility of the town—but it does not help improve the street.

A few citizens from Shelby are "looking down on Plymouth for letting such a condition exist, when a little scraping and rolling will put the street in a passable condition until the Highway Department takes some action.

"One Plymouth citizen says the best thing to do is to organize a "pick and shovel brigade," and give just a little relief to those who have to travel over this piece of "shell town" road.

Let's hope that the village will not wait for the state to take action on this road, but that some effort will be made to give those who are forced to use this road a little peace of mind.

Kitten Ball Game Scheduled Today

Much talk has been going around the Square the past few days about the kitten ball game which will be pulled off this afternoon at the Ellis Field when a team from the north side of the county line will meet a team from the south side. The lineup for the game could not be obtained but we learned that Scrafeld and Clark are batteries for the south-side while Miller and Thomas will go in action for the northers.

This is an initial game and it is hoped that enough interest will be stimulated for an organization of a league.

The game will start at six, and no doubt will draw a large crowd, for it is said to be a hilarious event. Karl Webber may be selected as umpire.

Successful Nine-Day Mission At St. Joseph's

A very successful nine days Mission at St. Joseph's Catholic church closed Monday a.m., July 4th. The elaborate ceremonies were highly edifying and inspiring. The altar was furnished according to the sacrificial law, with the Benediction Candles, seven each (Benedictus). The church was filled to its capacity morning and evening. The very able missionary orator, Rev. Fr. Joseph L. Williams of the Toledo diocese delivered the sermons on the following subjects: "Life," "Death," "Prayer," "The Necessity of Christian Education," "Vocations," and "Eternity."

Father Williams was the guest of the Dorian family during his stay in Plymouth.

Busy Days Along This Rural Route

AUTO KILLINGS

The number of deaths resulting from automobile accidents is considerably less last month than it was last year at this time. In fact only about 21 persons out of every 100,000 were killed by automobiles in June, whereas 23 out of the same number lost their lives in 1926.

Farmers Make Most of Fourth By Cutting Hay

The farmers in this section showed a real spirit of patriotism the Fourth, when, with their various implements, went about their business of feeding the nation.

Cutting and loading hay was the days' program for most of the "tillers of the soil," and the sweet smell of clover certainly would make one desire to be a farmer.

From Plymouth to New Haven and east into Greenwiche the fields of hay showed signs of the farmers' work. And on down to Shenandoah—the result was the same—a beautiful day. The crops ready to harvest—and the thrifty farmer did harvest.

Dog Ordinance Is Very Drastic

A new ruling appears this week in an ordinance governing dogs in town, and it will be well for all owners to read them over and get acquainted with the requirements which will soon become effective.

The dog nuisance in Plymouth has been somewhat of a problem, especially with loose animals running over the entire town at all times of the year. Complaint after complaint from various parts of town have been made to the authorities, and it has been found necessary to remedy this evil. So turn over and read the ruling and pay a little more attention to your hound.

GRANDSON DIES

Rev. Gibson, wife and grand-daughter, left Saturday afternoon for Toledo called by the death of their grandson, Robert Conser.

Master Robert was three and a half years old and has been sick since early spring. He was taken to the hospital where an operation was performed but other complications set in, and while everything possible was done, he passed from this life Saturday morning at ten o'clock.

His suffering was intense but with it all, he had a cheery smile for all who attended him.

He is survived by his parents, one sister and grandparents. Having visited here on numerous occasions he made many friends who will regret to learn of his death and sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

Mrs. Ida Lofland Is Called by Death

PASSES AWAY TUESDAY AT HER HOME AFTER LONG ILLNESS

A lingering illness of two years resulted in the death Tuesday of Mrs. Ida Lofland, a life-long resident of this community. Mrs. Lofland quietly passed away at her home east of town at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The deceased was 56 years, two months and nine days old. She was born in Shiloh and had made this community her home all her life.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home Thursday afternoon at 2:30 with Rev. J. W. Stutler officiating. Arrangements are in charge of Chas. G. Miller. Burial was made in Greenwiche cemetery.

Mrs. Lofland was a woman of a lovable disposition and was admired for her many womanly charms. She was held in high esteem by a host of friends who will regret to learn of her death.

Bank Holds Semi-Annual Meeting

The Peoples National Bank held their usual Semi-Annual meeting, June 30th and declared the usual 1% Semi-Annual dividend, besides carrying a nice balance to the profit and loss account. The officers' report a very successful six months and prospects look bright for the remaining six.

The number of the dividend declared is 44 which means that our local bank has been paying dividends to it's stockholders consecutively for 44 times or in other words for 22 years. This stock pays at the rate of 8% and is non-taxable.

PARLOR TALK

Friend Wife: Henry, I thought I'd hang your X-ray pictures in the living room over the mantel. They'd look nice there along with the X-ray pictures of Uncle George's neck. Don't you think we ought to get a crayon enlargement of that?

I haven't decided where to put the vase my tonsils are in! How would it look on the dining room table. I think Grandma's speen would look nice in that corner and I'm going to put my varicose in that set of Aunt Jane's appendix veins.

Where shall I put little Fredrick's underside? Henry, take my gall stones away from the baby—they're playing marbles with them. Give him your teeth to play with while I arrange Uncle Adolph's tapeworm.

PEOPLE WILL SMOKE

It requires more labor to raise an acre of tobacco than any other major crop. An acre of Burley tobacco yielding from 800 to 1000 pounds requires for growing, preparing for market, and marketing from 350 to 400 hours of labor. Cotton can be raised with about half of the amount of labor, and 2000 of Irish potatoes will take less than 100 hours of labor per acre.

Gun Shoot Proved Great Attraction

About twenty-five sportsmen gathered at the Ellis Field Monday for trap shooting, and the event proved an interesting one in every respect. The try-out was held previous to a meeting which will be held tonight for the organization of a gun club here.

Out of 625 targets 268 hits were scored. Gar Reed and Postmaster Johns registered high marks. Clayton Dick, however, may have something to say about the score, but we know that Clayton didn't let these two amateurs outshoot him.

HIGHWAY DEPT. GIVES OUT DATES

COLUMBUS, O.—After an eight months period of inactivity except for routine maintenance work, the State Highway Department announces the following dates on which bids will be opened for new construction and widening: July 29th, August 19, September 9, October 7, October 28, November 18, December 9, December 30. G. F. Schlesinger, director of highways stated that the projects on which bids will be asked in July would be for maintenance work and federal aid roads. After August 9th the funds derived from the extra cent gasoline tax for construction purposes will become available, and it is the intention of the state department to get as much as possible under way this year.

The new road construction placed under contract this year will be financed jointly by the state and counties, as such co-operation is largely prohibited after January 1, 1928. Schlesinger further stated that the new construction work will be closely watched and that only such sections or parts will be torn up as may be expected to be completed this year in order that the winter will be open for travel during the winter months.

COUNCIL MEETS

Village council convened Tuesday night for the regular monthly meeting at which all were present with exception of Ritter and Snyder. Wm. Lasee, of Shelby, who had the misfortune of breaking the rear springs of his auto on Trux street was present, and made application for a refund for the damage done the car. Regular routine business received attention after which the meeting closed.

HOW LONG CAN IT LAST

Farmers and business men of the United States are confronted with a staggering burden of local taxation administered too frequently under an unsound system which makes it easy to get into debt and difficult to control expenditure. Figures recently prepared show that we are spending for taxes annually a sum equal to half our savings banks deposits. Taxes cost us an amount greater than the value of all crops raised on our 6,500,000 farms using 310,000,000 acres of land.

Our annual wheat crop, the largest in the world if turned over to our State Governments, would just about meet their expenditures for one year. While we are the largest producers of foodstuffs and cotton in the world, the value of both crops, if turned over to the local subdivisions of the states, cities, towns, counties and townships, would not meet their revenue requirements for last year.

We lead all nations in industrial production, but the net income of our Country is not equal to the combined expenditure of state and local governments. Neither would all the money in circulation in the United States pay their bills for last year.

Contract Is Let For New Tank

Chicago Firm Was Successful Bidder For Erection of Big Tank Here.

The Chicago Bridge and Iron Works was awarded the successful bid Tuesday night by the Board of Public Affairs when bids were opened for the construction of a water tank.

The new tank will replace the old one now in use, and will have a capacity of 50,000 gallons. A new feature of the tank will be an 18-inch riser pipe, and an outlet for draining all sediment of the bottom. The larger pipe will add materially in filling the tank quickly and will have a tendency of preventing sediment from forming at the bottom.

Fabrication of the new tank will begin immediately at the plant of the Chicago firm, and will probably be around the first part of August before delivery is made. It will require about three weeks to assemble and install the new tank.

GREENWICH HOME TALENT CHAUTAUQUA STARTS JULY 14

The Chautauqua will open with a community church service Sunday morning in charge of the various church pastors. The other sessions will be held in the evenings and will include the Greenwiche Band, Victor Goodner's orchestra, Harry Williams and his plays, a speaker and an operetta directed by Mrs. Gladys Tempier and Mrs. Ruth Tempier.

The arrangements have been made by a committee of interested citizens.

The testator gives to each of his children, John Sherman Oates, A. Catherine Elizabeth Oates and Robert Edward Oates $250. The mother is authorized to pay these sums to each of the children when they are 21 years old.

The will is dated at Shelby, June 6, 1916.

The number of marriage licenses issued in June, 1927, exceeded the number issued last year by 13 in Richland county. The number issued this year was 81. The number issued last year was 68.

LOCAL BOY ARRIVES SAFELY

Many friends of Robert McIntire were interested in knowing that he landed in Plymouth, England Sunday, the 3rd of his tour of Europe. After visiting in London this week he will go to Scotland for the scenic beauty and historical spots for which this country is known.

In a letter to his parents, Robert states that the sea was very calm, and that he is thoroughly enjoying him self every minute. He is making the trip with his schoolmate, and they will take in many other countries while abroad.

Elevator Receiving Much Old Whent

The Plymouth Elevator continues to receive good shipments of old whent. Tuesday morning a car was loaded for the Wooster Milling Co., at Wooster, and the owners expect to make other shipments over the week.

C. Dinsinger, who resides south of town, brought in 500 bushels of whent Thursday.

Ice Cream Plant Sold

Messrs. Floyd and Raymond Steele Took Over Operations Monday.

A business deal which caused a little ripple in Plymouth this week was the purchase of the Brevier Brothers Ice Cream plant by Messrs. Raymond and Floyd Steele. These gentlemen took possession last Monday and promise to continue the making of the high class cream which the Breviers have been noted for the past six years.

Starting in just a small way, Grover and George Brevier opened up an industry in Plymouth sixteen years ago, which many people at that time had doubts as to its success. But by the Messrs. Steele are well known in their products these two men built one of the best ice cream plants in this section of the state and today this firm is enjoying a patronage that takes the entire output of its capacity.

The Messrs. Steele are well known in the community and every wish for their continued success is being extended them by their many friends. They will occupy the same building and will continue to make the same high quality ice cream that the public has been accustomed to.

Mr. Grover Brevier has not made known his plan for the future, as he has several propositions in line for consideration.

Bootlegger Arrested

Wet Hole in Shiloh Cleaned up by Mayor Witchee and County Officials.

SHILOH—Monday afternoon during the ball game the Baker brothers, who live southeast of town, and who were under the influence of liquor, caused considerable disturbance on account of their quarrelsome attitude and were placed under arrest by Marshal Dickerson.

On Tuesday, Mayor Witchee with his characteristic adeptness succeeded in obtaining from these men the source of their liquor supply. In a very quiet manner he summoned the sheriff who came to Shiloh, searched the quarters of Chas. Jacobs and found plenty of evidence.

Ernest Getselman was placed under arrest, and charged with possession of intoxicants. He was tried Wednesday in Mansfield and fined $100 and costs.

Getselman lives in Cleveland but keeps his private old home which he seems to be using for the illegal making of intoxicating drink.

The raid on Jacobs' place will no doubt break up the source of supply which Shiloh has contended with for a long time.

CALLED LIARS
Most everyone had been called a liar at one time or another, but we believe that editors are given this classification more frequently than any other class of persons.

Sometimes we, as do most other editors, feel like the West Texas editor who, wearied of being called a liar, announced in one of his issues in wrath:

"A lot of people in this town fall out with the editor and brand him a liar when the ordinary mistakes of life show up in the paper. You have a charity and follow feeling for every man in town but your editor. You claim you want facts and d-d if we don't get them to you. Read the next issue of this sheet and you will see facts with the bark off.

"I admit that I have been a liar—an editorial liar—ever since I have been editing this sheet, but I have never printed a lie in these columns except to keep somebody's feelings from being hurt. I am not afraid of any of you and I'll be ashamed if I don't print the truth from now on or until some of you get out of the habit of calling me a liar every time I make some unavoidable typographical errors. Now watch my smoke!"

Here are some of the paragraphs out of the next issue:

John Benzin, the laziest man in town, made a trip to Bellevue yesterday.

Rev. Sty preached last Sunday at local church. His sermon was punk and uninteresting except some stuff he quoted from Bob Ingersoll, for which he failed to give Bob any credit. He also cited passages from one of William Gilbert Munsey's sermons and had the unlimited gall to palm it off as his own.

Tom Spardin married Miss Caroline Meadows last trades day at the county seat. It isn't generally known, but the marriage was brought about mainly by a Remington shot gun manipulated by the bride's father. Tom concluded that marriage was the best thing he could do until other arrangements could be made.

Regan Lloyd, cashier of the State Bank of Willow Grove, died last Wednesday and was buried by the Odd Fellows at Pleasant Mount cemetery. He had been taking the paper for several years and had not paid us a cent. We thought that, being a banker, he would certainly pay some time. We will sell the account for two bits' worth of groceries.

Married—Miss Susie Serugas and Horace Greifer. The bride is a very ordinary girl who flirts with every traveling man she meets and never helped her mother three days in her life all put together. She is anything but a beauty, resembling a gravel pit in the feet, and walks like a duck. The groom is a natural born loafer and bum. He never did a lick of work until his step-dad ran him off from home last fall. He went to the county seat, and, rather than starve to death, accepted a job as chambermaid in a livery stable. As soon as his ma found out where he was she went up and got him and brought his home. They now reside at the home of his wife's father and he had not definite plans for the future. Susie will have a hard row to hoe.

MORE MONEY FOR FARMERS
The Department of Agriculture, studying the problem of getting more money for the farmers, has discovered that about 345,000,000 meals are eaten every day in the United States. This means 125,325,000,000 a year. If you have a fancy for impressive figures.

Almost all the ingredients of these meals have to be shipped by rail, steamship and highway to fill 115,000,000 American stomachs three times daily. Now the farmers are finding that a great deal of what people eat is shipped in from some place else, when it might as well have been supplied from nearby farms.

The incomes of thousands of farmers would be increased several percent if they could sell for nearby consumption instead of for distant shipment. The cost of the haul has to come either out of the farmer's pocket or the consumer's pocket, or both. To assist farmers who are interested in their local opportunities for serving nearby markets, as urged by the government's agricultural experts, the magazine Farm and Fireside has inaugurated a Selling Service which will probably be widely adopted and imitated by the rural press throughout the country. It aims to show the farmer, practically and definitely, how imported food supplies in every community can be replaced by the same products locally produced, and also how home-grown foods of one kind can be sold to take the place of shipped-in products of other kinds. The opportunity is undoubtedly there, and the result will be as profitable as the farmers of the country desire to make it.

Many a town family has for Sunday dinner a packing-house roast which has been shipped hundreds of miles; when a tasty chicken from a nearby farm would have suited them much better. Perhaps the day is coming when they can have what they want.

WILL GIVE VOCAL RECITAL

Sunday's game between Crestline and Shiloh resulted in favor of Shiloh, the score standing 7 to 4.
 Monday's game resulted in a victory for the O. S. R. boys, the score being 7 to 11.
 Shiloh Kittenballers won the third successive game from Shelby Christian, Friday.
 The game was fast and interesting from start to finish, but Trechant's steady pitching saved the situation on several occasions. Paul Ruckman's homer in the last of the 8th prevented the game from being tied in the 9th.

LOCATING THE FINANCIAL LEAKS THAT TAKE THE PROFITS OUT OF FARMING

By DAN H. OTIS

Director Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association

INDUSTRIAL lines suffer because of inefficient farms, whose officers cling to old methods and place goods on the market, even at a loss, to compete with the more efficient institutions. Agriculture, too, has this problem to face. We find farmers who fight new methods. They retard the prosperity of other farmers by throwing on the market poor quality products, frequently produced at a loss.

The nature of the banker's business places him in a position to help this type of farmer as well as the more progressive farmer. At the same time the banker can assure himself of good loans based on the farm as a going concern.

A study of the investments, sources of income and expenses of the successful farmers in his community will give the banker a measuring stick by which to gauge the hazard entailed in furnishing loans to other farmers. This study is readily accomplished through the use of summaries of farm records. In the absence of good records, survey blanks which can be obtained from the agricultural colleges, may be used.

A banker in a dairy district would use data similar to Farmer A's summary in the following table as a measuring stick to judge the condition of Farmer B:

	Farmer A	Farmer B
Farm receipts	$2,465	$1,214
Farm expenses	2,122	1,079
Receipts above expenses	$343	$135
Interest on total investment	1,570	819
Net income after deducting interest	12,212	1,146
Assets	121,460	129,712
Total investment	$1,460	$1,175
Operating capital (including machinery, livestock, equipment)	6,852	4,473
Investment in cows	32,302	31,255

The total investment of Farmer A is moderate with a large percentage (27 per cent) of operating working capital. Farmer B is low in operating capital. The number of cows is also low, which is reflected in the farm receipts, these being $253 less than those of Farmer A. The expenses of Farmer B, although about one-half of those of Farmer A, are, nevertheless, high in the ratio to receipts. The only way to safeguard a loan to Farmer B is to consider assets and not income. Before any loan should be considered by either the banker and the farmer should go over the situation, uncover the leaks and outline a definite program of improvement.

Diversity of Business Good Sign

	Farmer A	Farmer B
Income from crops	$1,976	$552
From dairy products	733	753
From livestock (including interest)	1,556	281
From other sources	52	130
Total	$4,317	$1,716

A good diversity of income serves to protect the farmer against over-production of any one farm product. Farmer A has a good diver-

FORMER PLYMOUTH WOMAN DIES AT OBERLIN

Mrs. George E. Smith passed into eternal life from her late residence, 124 Woodland avenue, Wednesday morning June 29, aged 83 years. Her funeral was held last Thursday afternoon with interment in Westwood cemetery.

Sarah Brinkerhoff Smith was the last of the eleven children of General Henry R. and Sarah Swartzwart Brinkerhoff. She was born on a farm near Auburn, New York, in 1832. When five years of age she moved with the family to Plymouth, Ohio, where her girlhood was spent.

In 1862 she was united in marriage to Dr. George E. Smith. During the war he served as surgeon in the 76th Ohio Volunteer Infantry. He was taken desperately ill and undoubtedly would have died at the Memphis Officers' hospital had not his wife discharged all discouraging reports and reached her sick son to her sick husband. She was fortunate enough to fall in with an army nurse who vouches for her loyalty and succeeded in passing her through the lines. Had it not been for her indomitable will, her police and presence, her efforts to reach her husband must have failed. She nursed him back to health and brought him north on a Mississippi river steambot.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Smith were prominent in church and social life and were a host of friends in their former homes in Hillsdale, Mich., Fremont, Ohio; and at Oberlin. Three of their four children survive their mother: Isabel S., for twenty-five years professor of biology at Illinois College, Jacksonville, Ill.; Josephine M., who has cared for the aged and tenderly cared for her aged mother; and Rosell B., who for the past seventeen years has been secretary of the New York State Committee of Y. M. C. A. Alice Gertrude Loveland died in 1908.

Mrs. Smith shared her home with nephews and nieces and her aged mother who lived with her until her death. Old-fashioned hospitality dominated the home, while her interest in public affairs, current literature, and her versatility stimulated young life.

For the last few years advanced age prevented her from taking part in the things that especially interested her, but her love for friends, her church, and nature lasted to the end.

Since 1891 Mrs. Smith had been a resident of Oberlin. She united with the First Congregational church as soon as she moved to Oberlin and was able to attend the reception given in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Van der Pyl last Saturday, week. Dr. Smith died in 1905.

Mrs. Smith was well known in Plymouth, having spent most of her girlhood days here and her many friends will regret to hear of her passing. Mr. Jackson Bevier and Miss Connelia Bevier attended the funeral which was held at Oberlin last Thursday afternoon.

"EVERYBODY'S ACTING" HAS HUMAN FLAVOR

Marshall Nellan, whose latest Paramount production, "Everybody's Acting," will be shown at the Castamba, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. It is a human and humorous little picture that tells a straightforward story with smoothness, sincerity and a wealth of colorful atmosphere.

Nellan really deserves a double-barreled salvo of applause, for he not only directed the photoplay, but wrote the story as well. Its background is that of the theatre, and in the unfolding of the plot, we are given vivid, intimate glimpses of the backstage life of the average traveling stock company.

Whether or not, as has been rumored, Nellan based his story on a real life episode matters little. Certainly the various incidents well within the realm of possibility and the characters true to life.

The author-director, incidentally, showed rare judgment in the choice of his players. Seldom has such a collection of seasoned favorites been assembled in one production. Betty Brown is ideally cast as the wistful little orphan who is adopted by five god-fathers. She is charmingly natural as a girl of eight and just naturally charming later on as a miss of eighteen.

Ford Sterling, Raymond Hitchcock, Henry Westhall, Stuart Hines and Edward Martindel accent themselves with distinction in the roles of the fathers. Lawrence Gray makes a manly and romantic taxi cab driver; and Louise Dresser is splendid as Larry's mother who divides her time between running her home and managing a big business organization.

The plot revolves around Betty who grows up under the loving care of her foster fathers, knowing nothing of the tragic circumstances surrounding her parentage. It is Miss Dresser, who, in an effort to break up the romance between Betty and Larry, uncovers the unpleasant fact that Betty's father murdered her mother and was hanged for the crime. The ending is both logical and satisfying.

DIRECTOR OF FILM "HELD BY THE LAW" IS VERSATILE MAN

One of the most versatile directors of the screen is Edward Laemmle, whose latest production, a Universal Jewel, "Held By The Law," comes to the Castamba, Shelby, in Friday. Laemmle turns from one form of story to another from picture to pie-blems taken from operative labour, but refer to that intellectual, moral and spiritual labour, which is so much needed if we shall build a temple that shall outlast the ravages of time, eternally in the heavens. The true spirit of Masonry can not be bought, for it is a thing of the heart, not of the pocketbook. You might become a teacher of mathematics by the purchase of volumes based upon the sciences, but you can never become a mason by taking the degrees, only the blind attempts to do this, and from the depth of our heart we pity the blind. Masonic objects are clear, the range of its activity covers the entire realm of the practical, including the mental, moral and religious. Care therefore, must be exercised in the quality of its membership, if we shall follow the outlines of our patron saints.

ture, turning out excellent productions no matter what the nature of his plot may be. He has always studiously avoided being associated with any type of picture, as so many of his fellow directors have been.

"Held By The Law," from the story by Bayard Veiller, is a gripping melodrama containing a murder trial, a conviction on manufactured evidence and the subsequent attempts to cheat the gallows by finding facts which will fix blame for the murder on the guilty man.

Laemmle's previous picture was "The Whole Town's Talking," a hilarious farce comedy featuring Edward Everett Horton, and before this was "The Still Alarm," a spectacular freeman. He has also made "A Woman's Faith," "The Man in Blue," and other pictures, all widely varied in theme.

"Held By The Law" has Marguerite de Motté and Johnnie Walker in the featured roles, with Robert Ober, Ralph Lewis, E. J. Ratcliffe and others in support.

BOZO BEAR TRAFFIC COP

"The Friendly Road," by David Grayson, which is well-known to many lovers of nature, depicts incidents and friendliness of people along country roads and in the rural districts. There is, however, a road in the Canadian Rockies the friendliness of which is not due to mortals as in Grayson's book, but to the friendliness of animals. Animals turned wild, but in this instance a word that cannot be applied to those on the Banff-Windermere Highway. There is possibly no more beautiful road than this which runs from Banff to Lake Windermere, in the Columbia River Valley. The distance of 104 miles is spectacular and the scenes are constantly changing. The views from the high passes looking down into valleys, thousands of feet below, tiny lakes surrounded by alpine meadows, rivers crossed and recrossed, and glimpses of cascades tumbling down slopes from dizzy heights are intriguing and beautiful. To this natural beauty is added that of seeing the animals in their natural haunts. Rocky Mountain sheep are seen on the road along Vermilion Lakes not far from Banff. They are so tame that often motorists have to slow down as they will persist, almost to the point of danger, in standing in the middle of the highway. Bozo, a black bear, is a friend to many motorists on the Banff-Windermere road. He comes out on the highway as if he had sole right to it. He does not resent these invaders to the least and really wishes to show his friendliness. Sometimes he has lumps handed to him and the remarks of "nice old chap, fine old fellow," please him tremendously, and he will try to come even nearer. Bozo no doubt had many dreams during the winter of summer tourists, and possibly has figured out a true bear fashion just how to get the most out of the tourist season. Deer are seen, also, on this famous highway, though not as often as other animals. They are regular visitors to Banff, and are frequently seen on the streets of the village. There are hundreds of miles of smooth motor roads through the Canadian Rockies, and devotees of the open road are visiting this region in increasing numbers annually.

Saving wood in great Holland is the job the Kalber got. He is worth of nothing better. His past has not been forgotten.

If he lived in great America, Where rogues wear a crown, People would then praise him, Not speak of him with a frown.

He would get a good pension, And never suffer any loss, Because he ruled a nation, Of everything he was boss.

The Germans see things different, Honor to whom honor is due, Not measured by what you attempt, But results when you are through.

Why not have a U. S. wood pile, Put our high crooks to work, Coal would be so much cheaper, If from duty they did not shrink.

We could save the usual pension, Cost of great monuments, too, They might prove some benefit, For some work they did do.

I have tried bills, and direct mail advertising, but there is nothing that reaches the public like the HOME TOWN paper. I am sure that my advertising pays for I have found many incidents where specials have been used and customers would call for them as "advertised in the paper."

Results cannot be obtained from one-time advertising, but by continuously presenting to the people the merchandise one has to sell, a good volume of trade can be worked up. There is nothing like truthful advertising and when we describe and price an article in our advertisements you can feel safe that it is true in every detail and that the customer gets just what the advertisement states.

Ford Celebrates With Three Most Famous Automobiles

Production of Fifteen Month Ford Car Marks Another Chapter in American Motor History.

EVERY day is a big day in the life of Henry Ford, but three of his days in particular have been tremendously important historically to all the rest of the world. There was that day away back in the early 'nineties, when he chugged forth upon the streets of Detroit with his first "horseless buggy."

Yesterday and today in motor car history? Lower picture shows the three most famous Ford cars—the first built, built by Henry Ford in 1908, the first Model T, built in 1908, and the fifteen month Ford. In insert, Henry and Edsel Ford.

There was the day in 1908 when he introduced the first of the Model T Fords.

Then there was that day—just a few days ago—when, with his son Edsel at the wheel, he rode the fifteen-month Ford automobile off the assembly line at the great Highland Park plant.

The true significance of the first of these three days was apparent to no one at the time. To be sure, the noisy jerky little horseless carriage was the first automobile Detroit had seen and, for that matter, one of the first three the world had seen. But to observers it was but a curious sort of freak vehicle—no more. Even Henry Ford himself had not yet dreamed of the tremendous development of automobiles that was to follow in its wake.

Likewise, the world was unaware of the importance of that day in 1908 which saw the advent of the Model T Ford car. Automobile manufacturers were multiplying by that time; the automobile already had passed the plaything stage and was showing promise of becoming a motor transportation. But only Henry Ford and a few of his closest est associates foresaw that the long line of descendants of that first Model T Ford would revolutionize automobile manufacture, and perhaps more than anything else in the development of paved roads, and place the automobile within the reach of almost every family in America.

But on that late spring day in 1927, when the fifteen-month Ford car came off the assembly line, the whole world knew it was a day of days in the history of the automobile and of American industry and life in general.

On the day before, the Ford Motor Company had issued an official announcement that a new Ford automobile "superior in design and performance to any now available in the low-priced, light car field," would be introduced during the present summer. The announcement meant that the fifteen-month Ford marked the beginning of another long line which may play an even greater part in providing improved transportation for the masses.

The completion of the fifteen-month car was the occasion for a celebration in the Ford organization. Eight of the men who helped to build the first Model T motor and who are now executives of high rank in the organization supervised the assembling of the fifteen-month motor and stamped upon the motor block the numbers "15,000,000."

When the entire car had been assembled, Henry Ford and his son Edsel, who is president of the Ford Motor Company, drove it from the Highland Park plant to the administration building of the company at Dearborn. There it was met by Mr. Ford's first automobile, the old "horseless carriage" and by the first of the long line of model T Fords.

While news and motion-picture cameras clicked, Henry Ford drove his little gas buggy of the early nineties around the area where the three most-famous motor cars in history had met. Also he talked in his characteristic manner to newspapermen and others who had gathered.

Mostly he talked of that little old first car. "I was proud of that car," he said, "but almost everybody else in Detroit either laughed at it or ran for it. I remember one day a family party jumped out of a buggy and ran as I approached with my car. The horse wasn't afraid, though. While the family were scampering up the road, he snorted off to the side of the road and began to graze."

Last week the Shelby Gum Company received a rush order from the company's New England representative for a shipment of blow gum, which is sweeping the country. C. C. WHY WIDOWS ARE THE SPECIAL PREY OF CONFIDENCE MEN

By W. R. MOREHOUSE

Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

WOMEN are often easy victims for the high-pressure promoter. Widows are especially sought out by the confidence men. Even before the decease of their husbands and counselors are buried, the wolves of high finance are waiting outside their doors. They know the defenseless widows will be easy prey. Many a woman today is penniless as a result of making poor investments. "Getting rich quick" for the widow without investment experience is in reality getting poor quick. Once a sharp promoter gets the confidence of a rich widow he has a "Bonanza" as he calls it. Eventually he gets the estate and the widow gets the experience. Widows with estates should be on guard every minute. They are marked persons, with promotion crooks hot on their trail. The best thing that every woman investor can do is to consult her banker before investing.

W. R. MOREHOUSE

Properly cut and set, crystals sparkle in realistic imitation of diamonds. The same is true in the field of finance. There is that which is fraudulent parading as the genuine. Don't buy investments simply because they sparkle. In the realm of wildcat financing, fictitious credentials, testimonials, and references are employed to give setting and a genuine appearance. Some are such rank imitations that they are easily recognized, but others defy detection except on the closest investigation by an expert. The only safe procedure is to investigate under competent advice. Literally millions of dollars are lost to American savers annually as the outcome of buying into something—a fraudulent farm promotion, a business or a job that is nothing more or less than a set-up to catch suckers.

Often the savings of a lifetime are lost by buying unimproved farm lands with the understanding that the seller, or a service company promoted by him, will plant the farm to trees or vines, care for them, market the crop and turn the profits, which it is promised, will be big over to the owner. But this dream never comes true. The so-called guaranteed big profits are never realized. If people would only stop long enough to consider all angles of an offer like that before investing they would see the folly of plunging blindly into such a proposition. The farmer himself usually only makes a profit. If it is true that the

WILLARD ELECTRIC RATE IS REDUCED

At present a discount of 10 percent is allowed on bills paid by the 20th. Under the new rates a consumer using 50 kw a month will pay but $3.60, whereas under the present rates he will pay $4.50, or $4.05 if before the discount time, it is explained.
