Mrs. Eliza Tinker Dies at Age of 90

Was Notable Worker in Christian Scientist Activities.

Word was received last week by Mrs. M. F. Dick announcing the death of her aunt, Mrs. Eliza Tinker, which occurred at her home in Detroit, Wednesday night. Mrs. Dick attended the funeral services at Detroit last Friday.

Mrs. Tinker is well-known in and about Plymouth, as she had many relatives and friends. She was well-known throughout the state of Michigan, having been an active worker in Christian Scientist activities. Last Thursday's issue of The Detroit Free Press has the following to say of Mrs. Tinker's notable life and of her passing on:

"Mrs. Eliza Tinker, 90 years old, a resident of Detroit for 60 years and one of the charter members of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, here, died last night in her home, 4013 Fourth avenue. She had lived for more than 47 years in the house in which she died."

"Mrs. Tinker was born in Seneca Falls, N. Y., 30 years ago last month. She came to Detroit after her marriage to Alon H. Tinker, well known in Detroit mercantile circles of the last century. He died 20 years ago."

"Mrs. Tinker was active in the founding of the Christian Scientist church here and as a practitioner, traveled widely throughout the state 30 years ago. She retired from activity a few years ago. She is survived by a daughter, Miss Eva O. Tinker."

The funeral will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday, under the auspices of the Christian Science church, from the chapel of the William R. Hamilton company, Cass and Alexandrine avenues. Burial will be in Woodmere cemetery. The body will lie in state at the chapel until the funeral."

Reception at New Haven for Teachers

Equipment Purchased for Domestic Science Department.

A bright and cheery outlook is provided for the New Haven schools this year, and judging from the reception given the school staff by the P. T. association, there's going to be cooperation and everything that goes with it from all sides.

The P. T. association last Friday entertained the teachers at the town hall, where a short program was rendered. After the program, an "open house" session was held in which everyone participated. The association this year tried out a new plan at the meeting. Instead of the teachers making an address or talk, they formed a line, and each one present had the opportunity of personally meeting the new and old teachers. It is believed that this proved a better way of getting acquainted.

At an appropriate hour, delightful refreshments were served and everyone had an enjoyable evening. The officers this year for the P. T. association are: President—Mrs. W. E. Duffy; Secretary—Mrs. Long; Entertainment Committee—Mrs. Smith. The enrollment at New Haven this year will number 150. A new plan is being adopted in order that the school will be in line for a Junior High, which will likely be possible in a few years. Each high school teacher has arranged for a subject in the sixth and seventh grades, and this will be a great help to the pupils in these grades.

The Domestic Science Department will be enlarged this year to a great extent. In the past, sewing has been the only subject given. However, equipment for cooking in the department has been purchased and competent instructors will teach the young woman the culinary art in its finest degree. This subject no doubt will have an unusual attraction for the high school girls.

Activities this year are under the direction of Supt. Black and Chas. Crouch, who are planning to have some active teams to represent the school this season. Already a kitenball schedule has been completed with nearby towns, and the school this year is to boast a fast basketball outfit.

All in all, New Haven school is destined for its best year in every respect and the splendid support which the school board, patrons and others have shown is greatly appreciated by the teaching staff and those interested in this educational institution.

HOME OVER WEEK-END

Miss Miriam Root was home over the week-end. Miss Root is attending Senior High school in Mansfield this year. She is enrolled as a sophomore.

MYERS TAKES OVER CLARK RESTAURANT

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Myers and daughter Dorothy have taken over the Clark Restaurant on the north east side of the public square, formerly operated by Fred B. Clark. They took possession on Monday.

Mr. Clark, owing to his other duties as dog catcher and traffic cop, has been unable to devote his entire time to it.

Miss Myers states they expect to operate an up-to-the-minute lunch bar with prompt service and courteous treatment. They will also carry a good line of candy, gum and incidentals, and wishes to invite all former patrons as well as new ones to give them an opportunity to serve them.

What Do You Think?

After you have finished supper tonight, and you pick up the papers and fill your pipe, we ask you to tarry a minute and reason with yourself, to form an opinion as to what good will be derived from the new school house which the enterprising people of Plymouth are trying to secure for this community.

As a taxpayer you will naturally look at the situation from that viewpoint, but there are hundreds of things to be considered, the least of which is the increase in tax rates. If we were to ask you: "What are the salaries of our various county officers?" we would be safe in saying that you probably could answer one question out of ten. Then if you are satisfied to leave everything to "George" in the handling of our state and county affairs, why not do the same toward local affairs?

Our Board of Education has exerted every effort possible to face the crisis of giving Plymouth proper educational facilities, and it is nothing but right that they should be supported in their effort to look after your child's education.

Just what do you think of Plymouth's proposed bond issue for a new school? If Abraham Lincoln could come back and tell us what he thought of education, or if Horace Greely was present to give us his thoughts on the value of education, or to bring it closer home, if Jim Taylor and Joe, who forty-five years ago left Plymouth with a meager education, but who today stands high in the industrial world, an intellectual man of high ideals and ambitions, if he could drop in and tell us what he thinks of education as a source to higher ideals, as a means of facing the world with its many intricate problems, then perhaps we would see education in its own light.

A child's mind is the greatest subject in the world. Every day new developments arrive, and every day the child faces a different problem. With the right kind of leadership, the

Stores Here Entered By Burglars

Money Was Main Object As Merchandise Was Entirely "Passed Up."

Sometimes in the wee hours of the early morn Wednesday a series of simultaneous robberies were committed, and little loot was obtained in the places of business entered, as it was very evident that the thief was in search of money only.

Ray Dinsinger, proprietor of Dinsinger's Garage was probably the first to discover that a robber had been active during the night, as he opened up as early as 6:30 Wednesday morning. Mr. Dinsinger, upon entering his office and stock room noticed that the safe had been tampered with and that papers were scattered about the desk. Investigating he discovered the side window of the office had been pried up and the burglar used this as a way of entering. However, nothing was missed except about $5.00 in change which is kept on hand for early morning customers. Mr. Dinsinger states he always leaves the cash drawer and the safe open, and this probably saved him from considerable expense of having them repaired.

The Palace Restaurant had a neat hole cut in the front of the door, the Plymouth Elevator and the Baltimore Good Ohio station experiencing the same damages, but in neither of the places was anything molested, except a few cigars and half a pie at the restaurant. Mose Kappenburg reports that his sausage house was also entered. The thief evidently used a glass cutter, then took a brick and knocked out the glass and unlocking the doors from the inside.

Some are of the opinion that the work is being done by someone who resides here, while others think that it is some thief making his way thru the county. As yet, we have not given authorities a lead, although a railroad detective was here Wednesday making an investigation.

Perhaps it would be a good thing if the business men here would organize and employ a night watchman for the coming winter. As yet, we have not had a great deal in case of a fire that might occur in the night.

Marriage Announced

NEW HAVEN, O.—Announcements have just been received of the marriage August 15th, of Duane Skinner, formerly of this place, now of Cleveland to Miss Marie Farr of Cleveland. They will reside there.

"He had a curious green necktie and a very long neck; I am always meeting idealists with long necks. Perhaps it is that their eternal aspiration slowly lifts their heads nearer and nearer to the stars."—O. K. Chesterton.

RECEPTION THIS EVENING

This evening at 7:30 in the church parlors of the M. E. church, a Reception for Rev. McElmroom and Rev. Gibson will be held. A fine program has been arranged and members of the church and congregation are invited to attend.

This will be a splendid opportunity to welcome the new minister as well as a farewell to Rev. Gibson, who leaves for Iberia.

Corn Cutting Demonstration

Demonstrations of corn binders with special attachment to cut low, to meet the regulations for control of the European Corn Borer will be held Wednesday September 28, at two points in Huron County.

One will be held on the farm of Herbert Slessman, one mile west of New Haven on Route 17, starting at 9:00 A. M. and the other on the farm of Jacob Hayes in Norwich Township on the Sherman-Norwich township road just east of the section line road. Starting at 2:00 P. M.

The demonstrations will continue for about two hours. The State University will furnish the binders and tractors, and an entomologist will be present to discuss the life history, damage, and spread of insect.

Any farmer can visit the demonstration and see the machine at work in less than a half hour. County Agent, C. M. Hampton thinks every farmer should post himself on the efficiency of the machine.

A visit to a corn field near Port Clinton, which is badly infested with European corn borer, made Saturday 50 Huron County farmers decide Saturday that the borer is a real menace to the most important field crop in Northern Ohio.

The visitors, most of whom were from Norwalk and Sherman Townships, cut open corn stalks from end to end, and frequently found 4 to 6 borers, and several men found as high as 9 borers in one stalk. Many ears were also found with one or more borers in them.

The men were greatly impressed with the damage done by the insect in this one field, when other fields in the same neighborhood and all along the road appeared in good normal condition. The explanation of the heavy infestation in the field inspected, is that the field was planted early enough for the borer to be up at the time the corn borer moths were doing their thing, while nearby fields were planted later.

To reach the field in question, east 4 1/2 miles from Port Clinton on Route 2 to the Oasix filling station, keep on to the first corn field on the right. A representative of the State University will be at the field each day from now until September 30, excepting Sundays.

County Agent, C. M. Hampton, thinks every farmer in Huron County should visit the field. It is 50 miles from Norwalk via Fremont, or the trip can be shortened by using the auto ferry from Sandusky. Catawba Island, Lakeside, and the government Lighthouse and life saving stations at Marblehead can easily be included on the trip.

FIRST MEETING OF ALPHA GUILD

The Alpha Guild held their first regular meeting of the season at the Lutheran parsonage on Tuesday evening. There were about thirty-five ladies present to enjoy the delicious covered dish supper which was served in cafeteria style. Much credit is due to the committee, who had it charge. A short business session was held. Before leaving the ladies extended a vote of thanks to Mrs. Himes for so graciously throwing open her home and entertaining them.

NEW FREE TRADE IDEA

"France," says the New York Times, "is not the only country where things are going on to cause searching of hearts among American high tariff devotees. In England several large steel manufacturing companies have just made a combined agreement—what for? Why to lower prices to English consumers. The scheme is ingenious. To every domestic purchaser of steel who for six months refrains from buying foreign steel a rebate will be given. Thus instead of asking for a protective tariff to keep out steel now being sold in England by German and Belgian and American makers—to the amount it is said of $250,000,000 annually—in that way raising the price, the English steel masters propose to undersell the foreigner in the home market. The inference is of course that the British are going to keep out steel exports by selling cheaper at home through rebates and so giving the home steel producers the benefit of home made goods and lower prices at the same time. It is doubtful whether knowledge of this plan will cause any anguish to protectionists here or raise any considerable number of advocates of a similar plan for America. The most significant thing in the above statement is the admission that in even free trade England with low wages and unemployment some sort of protection is needed to keep foreign concerns from capturing the steel market. Here is a condition and not a theory which needs some explaining on the part of the free traders.

Now in order to undersell foreign competition in the British market without a protective tariff the British manufacturers will have to cut costs. And cutting costs means cutting wages to a point below the lower wage scale in continental Europe.

For this reason it is not likely that any adaptation of the plan will be popular in America. Any such scheme in America would mean putting the American workers on the low wage level of European workers or even lower with European standards of living. That may work in Great Britain but it can't be put over in

Our Schools

(By Supt. R. R. Miller.)

Part of the work of education is the imparting of information. It is essential for the truly educated person to have a certain store of facts upon which he may draw so that it is not necessary that he be continually "looking up" matters which should be common knowledge. However, as the great Pestalozzi has said, "Knowledge without the capacity to do is the gift of an evil age." Nothing is more tragic, in fact nothing has brought more criticism upon our schools than the fact that many well informed people are unable to use their knowledge in any practical way. But still more tragic is the fact that so many of our well informed people have used that information, not for the service of society, but for criminal and unsocial purposes. As it is recently expressed, "No one is so dangerous as an educated crook." I would prefer to say, "No one is so dangerous as a well informed crook." For I am convinced that the one who is truly educated, not only knows how to use his knowledge, but has learned to use it for the good of his fellow man, as well as for his own ultimate well being. This means that an education should give to the pupil, not only a certain mastery, but should give useful habits of conduct as well. For example, the child may be informed in regard to the evils of fifth and the benefits of cleanliness. He is taught to bathe and to brush his teeth. But he is not truly educated as far as these matters go, until he has formed the habit of bathing and brushing his teeth. So with all our education. It is more important that the child forms proper habits of study than that he masters the subject matter of any course of instruction. It is more important that the child acquires habits of punctuality, courtesy, truthfulness and honesty than that he learns any facts, how ever worthwhile the facts may be. Right here is where patient persistence is required on the part of teachers and parents. Mere information may be imparted in one lesson, but few useful habits are formed except by patient and long continued effort on the part of those who are guiding in the task of education.

"MAN POWER" PROVES TO BE RICHARD DIX' BEST

Richard Dix dug deep down in his pocket and brought up a winner when he decided to make "Man Power" for Paramount. It will be at the Shelby Opera House next Sunday at 7:30 and 9:00.

Directed by the man who has made some of the world's finest pictures, Clarence Badger, adapted by Sam Mintz and Ray Harris from a Byron Morgan story, scenarized by Louise Long, photographed by Ed Cronjager and enacted by a cast which includes Mary Brian and Phillips Strange.

"Man Power" shines up as top-notch entertainment for men, women and children.

It is clean, fast, likable melodrama and you'll enjoy all of Daredevil Dix' exploits. You'll cheer as Richard gets his broken-down auto tractor to start up a perilous rain-soaked hill in order to reach an over-flowing dam in time to save the valley town below. Here are thrills—lots of them!

"Man Power" has lots of that certain something which has always been associated with Dix' dramatic speed! It's full of z-zip and verve at each turn of the projection machine. Yes, without a doubt "Man Power" is well worth seeing.

Mrs. L. A. McCord will attend the biennial convention of the Women's Missionary Society of the Synod of Ohio in St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Van Wert, beginning Tuesday of next week, as the delegate from the local society.

The Brotherhood of the Synod meets in Columbus on October 4 for a one day session and it is hoped that several men from Shiloh will be able to attend. Pres. F. R. Knobel of the United Brethren church in America is to be the chief speaker.

One of the most disgraceful incidents in our town occurred last Sunday afternoon, when two auto loads of drunken rowdies fought for the possession of one girl and she of school age. The battle royal was fought in front of the Frank Guthrie home on Prospect street, and the language used would put the devil to shame. We question the right of such rowdies to destroy the peace and quietness of our Sundays.

SCHOOL NEWS

The first P. T. A. meeting of the school year will be held next Tuesday evening, September 27. The meeting will be in the nature of a reception for the new teachers. Supt. H. H. Phelps, County Superintendent, will be present, also the school orchestra will furnish music for the meeting. Other interesting features have been planned for that evening in connection with the program.

Faculty members were entertained by the other members of the faculty at a party held at McDowell's Woods last Thursday evening. It was mutually agreed by all the new members that after enduring the cooking of Ford and Pittenger, restaurant cooking would certainly meet their approval always. At any rate the bacon and eggs, pickles, marshmallows and melon disappeared in scheduled order.

Rev. McCord had charge of chapel exercises Monday morning. Rev. McCord urged all the pupils to meet and conquer the obstacles they encountered in their daily work. Never let opposition discourage you, but rather encourage one to go on. Rev. McCord also explained the Prince of Peace Declaration contest. Last year a contest was held with ten contestants. It is hoped that enough interest will be shown in this work to be able to continue the contest this year.

Shiloh High will meet Plymouth High in a Kittenball game Friday afternoon on the local field at 4:00. Plans are under way at present which by New Haven and Greenwich will unite with Kittenball and Shiloh to form a Fall Kittenball League.

Faculty and Board members with their wives were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Firestone Tuesday evening. The party was a "get-together" whereby faculty and board members could get acquainted. Needless to say all enjoyed the party and all left with the hope that such affairs might occur more frequent.

Our Weekly Sermonette

(By Dr. G. R. Mente)

ARE YOU A BELIEVER IN GOD? Looking back over the past ages and taking invoice of the present, I find people who are very emphatic in their avowal of unbelief in God. I am not condemning but refer my readers to the sweet singer of Israel who in his own wonderful psalms says: "For he has said in his heart, there is no God." You must agree with me when I say that materialism has ever been in the world, and I think will be a factor to be reckoned with until time shall be no more. There are men living today, there have been men living in ages past, who would not be satisfied unless they did have visible demonstrations before believing, but is it not true that the physical faculties were meant to apprehend only physical things, or material things and could not apply to things spiritual. Jesus at a certain time declared that a tree was to be known by its fruit, for men do not gather figs of thistles nor grapes of thorns. The tree may be symmetrical in outward appearance, it may have a profusion of leaves and flowers, yet be perfectly worthless, if it fails to bear fruit it only cumber the ground of the orchardist.

Let us compare Christianity with the tree of unbelief or foolishly called infidelity, both have been growing alongside for centuries, let us remove the outer foliage, no matter how beautiful it might appear and examine the fruit borne by each tree. Since the world war, so called infidelity has taken over the governmental affairs of the former great Russian empire, under the title of Soviet government, no matter only a successor of nihilism, the word coming from the Latin and means nothing. Russia today is plainly showing the fruits of a denial of religious and Christian rule. A few years ago a great gathering at the city of Moscow brought thousands of representative men and women of the new Russian era together for a great anti church or anti Christian festival. They heaped every possible insult and mockery upon church and things divine. Other mobs in past ages have ground in dust images of saints and all semblances of things holy.

But religion has lived through it fidelity is rotten to the core, deadly all and will live unto the end of time, for God is not mocked. They may destroy every prestige of religion for a time, but infidelity is helpless in the great crisis of life. More men have died for the holy principles of religion than for all things else in the world. Infidelity, so called would make us believe that death ends all. Over the graves of our dear departed friends, it would write: "Nothing beyond!" Thus it would rob life of its divine meaning and clothe death with the robes of darkness and despair. The fruit of infidelity is rotten to the core, deadly all and will live unto the end of time, for God is not mocked. They may destroy every prestige of religion for a time, but infidelity is helpless in the great crisis of life. More men have died for the holy principles of religion than for all things else in the world. Infidelity, so called would make us believe that death ends all. Over the graves of our dear departed friends, it would write: "Nothing beyond!" Thus it would rob life of its divine meaning and clothe death with the robes of darkness and despair. Editorial And News Comment On National Happenings

"Father of nine children takes poison," was a headline in a Cleveland paper. Seems this man was one of the 100,000 out of employment in the city. His family became destitute and despondency drove him to end life. This is but one of the many who have ended their desperate struggle for existence in a big city. This week over two million dollars will pass in to the hands of prize fighters and prize fight promoters in Chicago. Perhaps this amount of money applied to the wants of some of the destitute people in Chicago and other cities would do more for humanity than where it is destined. But this is a wonderful age we are living in.

Some of these days the boy who is studying the hind legs of crassoppers will come along with a landing gear that will revolutionize aviation.

There is a vigorous battle going on in the Anti-Saloon League ranks for the post left by George B. Wheeler. Bad as this United States is, there are still plenty of drys who are willing to take over the management of it.

This year it seems only 117 veterinary doctors were graduated from the veterinary schools of North America north of the Rio Grande. Ten or fifteen years ago six times as many were taking up the practice of animal medicine and surgery. Now a real scarcity of such practitioners is threatened. The popular impression of the motor age makes it 30 years away from the veterinary is all wrong. There are millions more livestock in general than there used to be. Mules, for instance, while a mule is never supposed to have anything wrong with him other than his disposition, do get sick and make his die, and there are 30 percent more mules to take than in 1905. Dr. George A. Dick, of the University of Pennsylvania School, insists a civilized world cannot get along without well-trained, accepted the offers made him to seem to prove his case.

worth of Liberty Bonds in November and already the buzzards are getting ready to flock to the financial feast. They expect fat picking from the patriotic investors in those bonds. Crooks of many kinds will be very busy from now on offering alluring and worthless inducements. It is easy to get on a "sucker list" but hard to get off.

A Michigan man deposited $1 in a saving account with instructions for it to be left there 500 years, interest to be compounded and to be divided among his heirs. Some individual with leisure time has figured that there will be $2,900,000 for the heirs and lawyers to divide, providing nothing happens.

The public has been curious to know the compensation which Col. Charles Lindbergh receives for his tour of American cities. This probably will remain a secret. The Cuzenheim Foundation, which is sponsoring his tour in the interest of aviation, refuses to divulge the amount Lindbergh receives. Lindbergh himself has shown no indication to relieve the public's curiosity. Had he accepted the offers made him he could have been many times a millionaire. It is reported he received $2500 per week while touring and that his contract with Guggenheim calls for a total of $650,000.

The reason bosses of the Republican party machine are not lining up with Hoover cordially is because he will do pretty much as he pleases should he become president, which is the course of his natural bend.

A Wall Street broker sold his seat on the New York Exchange for $124,000 intending to retire. A few weeks later he bought it back at $218,000. He had been in the hurly-burly of the financial kinks for so many years that life was a blank to him after retiring. Interest and enthusiasm in a life work keeps men young.

Dr. Frank Furch, president of the Illinois Association of Chiropractors says girls are periling their shapely limbs with stockings rolled over garters. He says it will cause varicose veins, blemishes and health detracers but does not suggest any substitute. Young women have been told that the clasping corset which used to furnish anchorage for stockings was a danger to feminine physique. There is a future awaiting some inventor who can perfect an "adhesive top" which will fasten the stockings to its contents at whatever point the wearer may prefer.

France may get enough money out of the Legionnaires to liquidate the debt to the United States.

There's a class of superficial scribes in the land, the smart pen-pushers of the pseudo-literary magazines, whose devotes have erected a unique philosophy to cover the attitude of themselves and their literary deities. It may be summed up briefly in this manner: "we are only interested in watching the world move." If it goes and whether are problems which do not concern us. There's another and more philosophy behind it, but these superior gentlemen kept it to themselves. If they brought it out into the open it would sound about as follows: "we are only interested in ourselves." No normal man can move through life without interesting himself in his surroundings. His chief concern may be human beings or spiders or radishes, but indifference is always a pose and a dishonest one.

Our grandfathers had a proverb which said "an inward sorrow is a consuming fire." Secret troubles, whether they result from misconduct of circumstances, are dangerous. Half the crimes and suicides in this country are caused by the fact that people live too much alone their worries and misdeeds.

The beauty and easy handling of the Oakland Six were officially recognized when the car won five awards in recent competitions at Paris against a formidable field of contestants from all parts of the world.

The Oakland scored first in two different classes at the Concours d'Elegance or "Automobile beauty show," conducted under the auspices of the newspaper "L'Auto."

An Oakland Six coupe with snake-skin upholstered body designed by Bourcaek & de Costier was awarded the blue ribbon in the two-seated inside drive class. The car was driven by Mile. Blanche Montel, prominent French actress of the Theatre d'Avenue. In the inside drive three-seated class an Oakland coupe driven by Mrs. Barclay, wife of Major Barclay of the American Embassy, took another first prize.

A few days later, the Actress' Automobile Championship was held at the Parc des Princes. The rules required each of the fair contestants to drive her car over a straight course around a sharp turn and to stop in front of two barriers. She then had to alight, remove the barriers, drive through, replace the barriers and finish the run.

Oakland cars, with their steering wheels and controls designed for ease of handling, particularly by women drivers, swept the beauty class in this contest, taking first, second and third prizes. Mile. Montel, driving the same car which had won the beauty contest a few days before, also took first in this event. Mile. Diana of the Theatre Marigny was second and Mile. Hagnette Jay of the Theatre des Capucines was third, both driving their own Oakland Sixes.

Children to Have Exhibits at Fair

More children than ever before will have exhibits at the coming Richland County Fair, Mansfield, September 27 to 30, say fair officials.

The fair is the goal of all the boys and girls enrolled in club work in this locality. To these youngsters it climaxes the season's work. Each year of the fair, will be an achievement day.

The finals of many of the projects in which they are enrolled will be decided at the fair. In fact, the youngsters will be staging a "fair within a fair." Not only will the youngsters for prizes offered by the fair management, but for many special prizes.

All of the important club projects stressed by state club leaders will be staged at the fair. Among the contestants listed are those for Food, Clothing, Poultry, Pig and Calf club work.

Many demonstrations will be carried on by the children showing just what they have learned under club instruction. The members not only are taught to give these demonstrations before the public, but they must keep complete records of cost and other data required under club rules.

The work of the children will be under direct supervision of club leaders. Daily programs are being mapped out for the juvenile exhibitors, and they will be taken on educational tours each day.

No phase of fair work has attracted so much attention in recent years as club work. Industrial leaders, school and college leaders are all agreed that improved agricultural conditions will eventually result from club work.

"QUALITY"

QUALITY means repeat orders. It means trade that stays with you year in and year out. It means that you will be able to hold what you have and add to it. In short, it means enduring success—and not success that is built on the quicksands of here today and gone tomorrow customers. So price is always the poorest argument that can be used in selling. This, because an article which is sold at a price usually has no other argument in its favor.

The man who buys a Quality Stetson or a Sun-Fast Hat remembers the satisfaction it delivers—just as a man who buys a substitute for a quality product regrets it ever afterward.

A BRILLIANT CAST IN "MARE NOSTRUM" Alice Terry and Antonio Moreno

and give one of the most delightful and sincere performances ever seen on the screen. During their motion picture careers these two noted players have never appeared at such an advantage as in "Mare Nostrum" coming to the Shelby Castamba Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Freya Talberg the beautiful blonde as portrayed by Alice Terry is a sensational woman and at the same time sympathetic and real. It is a complete departure from the queenly parts Miss Terry has enacted in previous pictures and the result is a sincere tribute to her as an actress.

Antonio Moreno has long awaited a Blasco Ibañez story and the handsome Spanish actor takes advantage of his opportunity. Moreno is one of the most romantic figures on the stage or screen and in this picture he demonstrated that he is a finished actor.

Both Miss Terry and Moreno are strong box office attractions. Miss Terry made her debut in a stellar role in Rex Ingram's production of "Harris Are Tramps". She followed this with leading parts in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse", "Where the Pavement Ends", "The Conquering Power", "Turn to the Right", "The Prisoner of Zenda", "Scaramouche" and "The Arab". These were all Ingram day productions. Miss Terry was also featured in the Metro-Goldwyn production of "The Great Divide" and "Confessions of a Queen".

Moreno has been featured in many outstanding pictures during the past few years. Among them are "The Spanish Dancer", "The Exciters", "Tiger Love", "Her Husband's Secret", "One Year to Live", "My American Wife", "Learning to Love" and others. Previous to appearing in feature productions Moreno was one of the world's leading serial stars.

Among the leading foreign players who appear in "Mare Nostrum" are Fernand Mailly, Mile. Kibnon, Michael Brandford, Frederick Mariotti, Mme. Paquerette, Andre von Engelmann, Rosita Ramirez, Esti Apollon, Alex Nova, and Kada Abdel Kader.

child's mind can be trained in the right direction or it can be turned in to a one way track, grinding only those things that deteriorate it.

What do you think of your child? Don't you believe that learning would come easier if proper environment prevailed in the school, more room, and other necessary equipment for the higher training of the child's mind?
You no doubt have heard several hard remarks against "higher education," but don't confuse higher education with that of the common school kind. We would not want a new school house for Plymouth just for a tax-payer, should consider the future of your child above the small increase in taxes.

HEAT!

From the Beautiful Porcelain Enamel Finish

MOORE'S Seventeen

Moore's Seventeen is more than a heating stove—it is a heating system that circulates moist, warm air in the same way that a warm air furnace would heat your home. It needs no cellar and may be set in the living room. Made in two sizes to meet the particular requirements of every family.
Burns no more fuel than an ordinary stove, yet does the work of two or three.
Moore's Seventeen is built along modern furniture lines and its full porcelain enamel finish makes it as easy to clean as a china dish.
Let Moore's Seventeen bring you comfort and cheer during the long cold winter days ahead.

Beware of Imitations

At the present time the market is flooded with so-called circulating heaters of all shapes and sizes. It is well to look into the past performance—over a period of years—of any circulating heater you consider for your own home.
Moore's originated the circulating type of heater way back in 1881 and have built them continuously ever since. The Moore construction is tried and proven—you take no chances. There are more Moore's circulating heaters in actual use today than of any other make, and this in itself is assurance to you that your Moore's Seventeen will give the satisfaction you might rightfully expect.
