

USE REAL PULLMAN

Car Assembled on Set for "The Girl in the Pullman"

A complete compartment Pullman was taken apart, transported to Hollywood, and re-assembled on one of the huge De Mille studio stages for Marie Prevost's starring picture "The Girl in the Pullman."

This work was supervised by an official of the Los Angeles Pullman Company office, and is said to be the most perfect railroad car set ever prepared for motion picture purposes. Except for the fact that the ceiling and side-walls were so constructed that they might be removed for the purpose of lighting and photographing, the car was a replica of those hurtling across the continent at seventy miles per hour.

No matter how hot the day, Marie Prevost was comfortable. Just before she posed before the cameras for scenes in "The Girl in the Pullman" Marie had the property man spray her with a garden hose, for her starring role in the production demanded that she appear in much of the action in a wet bathing suit. Harrison Ford, Franklin Pangborn, Kathryn McGuire and Harry Myers are in the supporting cast. "The Girl in the Pullman" comes to the Opera House, Shelby on Sunday next. It is said to be one of the snappiest comedies of the screen.

MARION PERFECT IN "FAIR CO-ED"

Star's Whimsical Comedy in Film Makes Her Admirably Cast as College Girl.

Marion Davies could not have shown better judgment than selecting "The Fair Co-ed" for her most recent screen starring vehicle.

George Ade and Gustav Lunders wrote the play many years ago for the stage, but it remained for Marion Davies to make it funny and famous in her portrayal of the stellar role upon the screen.

It is difficult to say whether Marion Davies was made for this vehicle or whether the vehicle was made for Marion, but, after all, it's one and the same thing.

There is not another girl on the American screen nor any other screen that would have been half so suitable for the role of Cynthia, the fair co-ed at Bingham, as Marion Davies. Marion has both taste and talent for whimsical comedy and "The Fair Co-ed" contained enough of it to give her a rare opportunity to show her screen wares.

As the writer remembers "The Fair Co-ed" didn't make much of a ripple when George Ade and Gustav Lunders wrote it for the stage. Be that as it may, Marion Davies has brought it fame and everybody will be glad that Ade put his pen to work and that Byron Morgan adapted it to the screen so skillfully.

"The Fair Co-ed" plays at Shelby Opera House Monday and Tuesday.

NOISELESS AIRPLANE

The noiseless airplane will be one of the next achievements of aeronautical science. If a series of investigations launched by the government are successful, the two phases of research are:

1. A study of cloth, metal and composition materials for the cabin that will eliminate outside noises.
2. An examination and test of all types of motor mufflers now in use, with a view to their improvement or designing of a new silencer that kills the roar of engines.

DELPHI NEWS

We all have a very bad cold! Seeing we did not write during the holidays we wish to call attention to a few things of some concern to the past holiday season:

George Young had his entire family with him on Christmas.

S. L. Gleason was another fortunate man. His family was unbroken at his home.

Possibly many others were as well favored.

The Christmas entertainment was at par—everybody busy in making others happy. For the first time in years all received their "bit" of the treat. G. R. Young, and Martin Williams committee on the treat proved themselves as real hosts.

New Years found us with zero weather, roads blocked with snow drifts. We had a quartette present representing each of the older classes—Catherine Huff was the lone representative of the Young People's Class.

L. A. Goon and Arthur Watts shipped hogs for the Ford truck to Plymouth Monday.

Mrs. Tom G. Campbell is pronounced the Queen of the receiver of Christmas Gifts, she being the recipient of many useful gifts from her children.

Mrs. F. C. Young will be host to the W. F. M. C. this week Thursday.

L. A. Goon transacted business in Cleveland last Monday.

Mrs. L. A. Goon was a week and guest of her parents in Cleveland a week ago.

F. P. Boardman transacted business in Willard last Thursday.

Laura E. Bare is working in the Wm. Clark home in Plymouth.

Ella Blackmore of Akron spent a part of the holidays in Delphi.

Earl Baker who lives with Tom H. Sibbett spent his holiday vacation with relatives in Eastern Maryland. His grandfather W. H. Baker of Greenwich accompanied him.

Class Two of the Delphi Sunday School held their January meet last Friday evening at the church. A good attendance was reported.

Clifford Campbell who has faithfully served the E. & O. for several years as timekeeper of trackmen has taken a sixty day leave of absence.

B. D. Cattin of New York City spent his holidays with relatives in Ripley and North Fairfield.

Prayer meeting this week will be held at the church, Sunday School next Sunday at 1:30. Preaching at 2:30.

Election of Sunday School officers at the close of Sunday School.

E. E. S. CLASS SUPPER

The E. E. S. Class held a supper at the Presbyterian church on Friday, Jan. 6th, serving over one hundred plates. The menu consisted of creamed chicken, gravy, mashed potatoes, slaw, rolls and butter, coffee and glorified rice. The committee in charge were Mrs. Hawkins, chairman, assisted by the following: Mesdames Bennett, Garrick, Cramer, Fetters, Kondig, Lokabaugh, Ruckman, Rogers, Seltzer and Teal. Members of the second division who assisted with the serving were Mesdames Carpen, Doyle, Hoffman and Miller.

Those who enjoyed the supper will probably wish to attend the second of the series which will take place on Friday, Jan. 13, at 7:30. It is served by the second division of the class.

FROM TRAVELER TO HINDU PRINCE JUST STEP FOR PANGBORN

Noted Comedian Finely Cast in Comedy "My Friend From India"

From a dapper globe trotter to a dandy-faced fake Prince from India, is a mere step for some folk. Such is the chameleon-like changes made by Franklin Pangborn, feature player in "My Friend From India," a Pathe-De-Mille farce comedy, in which he portrays the title role. The comedy will be on view at the Shelby Opera House Saturday.

Pangborn is a wealthy traveler in the comedy who, through his contact with a friend, consents to act the role opposite Franklin Pangborn in role of his scottish friend from India. "My Friend From India" and the supporting cast includes Ben Hendricks Jr., Ethel Wales, Louis Natheaus, and Jeannette Loff. E. Mason Hopper, Elinor Fair portrays the feminine directed.

Modern Science Justifies Philosophy of Birthstones

By Molly Pearson

"The gleaming garnet holds within its swart Path, constancy and truth to one always."

IPLOMACY and tact are your planetary heritage if you were born in January, according to students of the occult, and your gem—the garnet—is believed to accentuate these characteristics.

At this time of year the sun is in Capricorn, ruled by the thoughtful planet Saturn. Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the President of the United States, exemplifies rather strikingly some of the finer attributes of this sign. Her birthday is said to be January 1, so the garnet should be harmonious for her, if the most ancient wisdom is worthy of credence. Many of the world's most profound statesmen have been born under Capricorn—among them Gladstone, Earl Deary and Lloyd George.

It was the theory of the ancients that the mystical gem assigned to any month was particularly sympathetic to the people born in that month. Modern scientists are finding some justification for this theory in the vibratory rate of gems, which is as varied as their colors, and in the law of sympathy and antipathy throughout all nature.

The garnet has long been accredited with the power to give its wearer peace and victory. Swedes have described it a talisman of faithfulness and stability, of hope, happiness and true friendship. In the age of chivalry knights gave garnets to their ladies in the belief that they insured constancy to the giver. The gem was supposed to lose its color if the wearer should be untrue, as expressed in the lines of Emerson: "Give me an amulet That keeps intelligence with you Red when you love, and rooster red, And when you love not, pale and blue." The brilliant green garnet, which jewelers call Demantoid, is considered a binding charm for friends; the dark red variety is the stone which, Leonardus said, drove away unworthy thoughts and lent favor to the desires of the wearer; the fiery garnet is a health stone; the amber-colored garnet is considered a charm for securing harmony and success in dealing with employees. The symbolical flower for January is the snowdrop.

OBITUARY
Jeremiah W. Shatzer was born March 3rd, 1839 in Lancaster County, Penna., and departed this life at his late residence in Shiloh on Jan. 2nd, 1928 at the age of 88 years and ten months. He was the oldest son of John and Mary Picken Shatzer and with his parents emigrated to Ohio when he was five years old, spending nearly all his life in or near Shiloh.

In early years the deceased became identified with the United Brethren Church and later with the Reformed Church of Ganges in which he was an active worker.
The Civil war record of Mr. Shatzer begins with his enlisting the service in December, 1861 with Company H, 64th Ohio Infantry, which formed a part of Sherman's Brigade. Lung trouble brought his discharge after nine months of service. Three brothers served in the army throughout the

Underground Current Against Willis

Senator Fess Does Not View
Presidential Candidacy With Favor.

WILLIS' FRIENDS MAY RETALIATE

Governor Donahay Candidate for United States Senate Nomination in Two Republican and Democratic Parties Contrasted.

Columbus, O. (Special)—There is much doing in Ohio politics at the present. Some of it is on the surface and can be seen without straining the eye. But there is far more underground, hid from sight which takes much digging if brought to light.
Take the presidential candidacy of Senator Frank B. Willis, as an example. To the casual onlooker the Republicans of the state are for him to a man, enthusiastic in his support. In reality there are any number who look at his effort to land the nomination with dubious eyes and are fearful of the effort.
It would have on the party in Ohio and throughout the country if successful. They say he is not of the type out of which presidents in history is cut and outside his own state is little known.

Can anyone conceive of a situation where Senator Hopson D. Fess would go into ecstasies if his colleague were nominated? Fess is not imbued with the idea that Willis is a great man, except in his eyes. He cannot imagine the latter in the Presidential chair. He gave indication of his mental attitude in a recent speech given at Lancaster, Pennsylvania. In this he did not mention Willis among the possibilities. Having finally convinced himself that President Coolidge is the out of the race he declared the nomination would probably go to either Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover or Vice President Charles D. Dawes. This was so completely ignoring Senator Willis, as to attract attention but it emphasized the lack of cordiality between the men and is one of those underground things which is pulling at cross purposes and not helping Mr.
Willis in his high hopes for the nomination. If the National Convention should choose the Senator from Ohio it will not be with the hearty approval of his senatorial colleague and Fess would only accept the result because of the inevitable and, as a good party

QUEEN ESTHERS ENTERTAINED

Members of the Queen Esther Society met with Miss Zetta Brooks, Monday evening, at her home on West Broadway.

Miss Thelma Johnson was in charge of devotions while Misses Opal Phillips and Zetta Brooks conducted the evening's program. A number of interesting missionary articles were read by the members.

The balance of the evening was devoted to cutting out quilt blocks and a social hour, followed by a tempting lunch served by the hostess.

Members present were: Misses Emma Mae Morfoot, Zetta Brooks, Thelma Johnson, Opal Phillips, Lura-bell Moore, Marguerite Duffy, Helen Payne, Dorothy Myers, Helen Colyer and Mrs. Paul Gudmund, Mrs. Florence Brokaw, Mrs. Duffy and Mrs. Brooks.

But if Fess is not raising his voice in behalf of Willis there have been no evidences that friends of the latter are exerting themselves to make the way clear for the Junior Senator to enjoy a second term in the Senate. Indeed there have been signs they might play a little of the get even game and throw stones in the way of the Fess wagon. As one of the means by which this might be accomplished, another one of those deep down rumors, which never come to the surface, is heard. A candidate to oppose Senator Fess may be brought out, in his own political family. This would be for double effect, to frighten him into the Willis handwagon and prove how dangerous it is for political fingers to play with fire.

Effect In Democratic Ranks.
This is being felt among the Democrats. It is increasing the stock of Governor Donahay as a candidate for United States Senate. The Democratic ticket, if the Republicans tangle themselves up in a dispute between the Willis and Fess factions it would be increasingly easy for the Governor to step in and secure the nomination with a heightened chance for election is the argument of his friends. Everyone with political judgment knows Donahay will not be a candidate to succeed himself in his present office. He has done everything to prove this except send a personal letter to the voters of the state. But never by voice or inference, has he declared himself aware to be in his own path which the Governor fears, he will seek the senatorial toga.

With the Governor removed, by his own statements, from the race for Chief Executive it now seems apparent the Democrats will place Congressman Martin L. Davey, of Knox, repeatedly elected to the National House of Representatives in a Republican district, at the head of the ticket in the next state campaign. Davey has grown wonderfully in popular estimation during the past year. This is due both to personal qualifications and the many speeches he has given about the state.

So far as the gubernatorial situation is concerned the outlook seems clear. The Democrats will nominate Davey, while the Republicans will enter the primaries with several in the field and make the mistake of entering party divisions.
This is what Fred W. Warner, of Marion, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee and other leaders fear.

KEEP COPPERHEAD TUB

North Fairfield has decided to repair or rebuild the town tub, which has stood in the public square since ante-civil war days.

Since the automobile put a crimp in the horse industry, the tub has not been used.
For many years, cold, sparkling spring water was forced from a spring several thousand feet away to the tub by a faithful hydraulic ram which kept the tank supplied. During the civil war days, loyal North Fairfield citizens were wont till the stuttering, gasping, victims of the water cure were ready to loudly acclaim their allegiance to the government.

The chief factor of the question is the matter of fire protection. It is planned to construct a reservoir large enough to furnish water for authorities, also, are considering the purchase of adequate fire fighting apparatus.

roeville; Mrs. Emma Snyder, New Haven; Hiram A. Brown, Norwalk; lins; Mrs. M. D. Evans, Greenwich; mouth; Mrs. Nellie McPherson, Fairfield; Chas. P. Snyder, Norwalk.

home, Mrs. L. T. Baxline of Elyria, on Saturday.

Sourwine Hotel but her illness made it necessary to take her to her daughter's home.

TONSILS REMOVED

Clyde Laah, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Laah had his tonsils removed at Shelby Memorial Hospital last Thursday. He is getting along nicely.

SOME SECRET, SAYS WE

Just what F. P. Downend sprinkles into his home-made sausage to make them so delightful remains a secret, but we do know that they enjoy popularity far and wide. A few weeks ago a telephone lineman happened to stop in and order "cakes and sausage" at a local restaurant. A few weeks later Floyd received a letter from "Mack's Lunch" at Lorain begging Floyd to send him a "string or two" of sausage. Now, Mack's Restaurant is a steady customer and you'd be surprised just how much a demand is being made for Downend's sausage.
This is not an advertisement, but it's merely to let our readers know that Plymouth again gets recognition for quality products.

An Interesting Letter From Mrs. Josephine Rogers

Daytona Beach, Florida Sunday, Jan. 8th, 1928
Dear Editor Plymouth Paper:
I hope you Plymouth people are getting thawed out, after your blizzardly zero New Year. New Year eve here, was warm and showery, like a night in late May at home. It grew colder in the night, so New Year's day was clear, but cold. I picked a red geranium, and wore on my coat to Sunday School and church. That afternoon, Mrs. Hannel and I sat out on her front porch in the warm sunshine. It again grew colder that night and was bitterly cold Monday and Tuesday—being 20 above at 6 a. m. Tuesday morning. The sidewalks were clean and dry, no slipping and sliding on snowy, icy walks. By Wednesday it was lots warmer, and by Friday some of the people were in bathing, and I like sitting out on their porches. Today I went to church without my coat on. So far it has been the coldest winter here in Daytona Beach in ten years. The citrus fruits and growing gardens are injured, but not as badly as was first feared. Food here is reasonable in price. Eggs and milk, being higher than at home, with cream $1.50 a quart. But that is a luxury one can easily do without, as we have such wonderful fresh fruits, and crisp, fresh vegetables at all times.

A Huskie Is a Huskie, a Wolf Is a Wolf

THE GOLDEN ONE OF MOUNTIE'S PUPS

An interesting experiment was tried out within a year by Arthur Beauvais, manager of the Chateaux Frontenac dog team in Quebec. He caught three young wolves, treated them kindly and endeavored to train them for the dog team, to run with the huskies. Many huskies are part dog and part wolf, but Beauvais found out that a pure blooded wolf would not melt in the dog team melting pot. He got so far that his infant son used a baby wolf to draw his tiny sled, but after that, there was nothing doing. So Mountie and his huskie pals are still running the Chateaux dog team. Mountie is getting old, but if any other dog attempts to be lead dog, there is a dog fight at once.

Although the Eastern International Dog Bled Derby Feb. 30, 31, 22 at Quebec, is the outstanding event in Dogdom for the year, in which Mountie is not entered, he has a big gallery always when he leads his team up and down DuRoi's Terrace. For years Mountie led the patrol of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the far North, and the man who trained him say he should have a Victoria Cross.

Mountie and his team are but one of the interesting teams representing big interests in Quebec. Dog racing is a real sport, but the dogs are used in everyday work in the winter for carrying mail and passengers to outlying districts when there is no other transportation.

The most famous dog in Quebec is "Le Chien d'Or," the famous golden dog which now reposes over the Quebec post-office door. Tradition has it, that when the dog teams run up and down Mountain Hill in their training, the golden dog has been known to bark furiously, but this phenomenon may be explained, possibly, by the fact that Quebec is very liberal so far as prohibition is concerned.

During January and February Quebec is the headquarters for winter sports in Canada. Every winter sport known is indulged in, and one may spend a week taking in these sports and looking over the various scenes of historic interest where Wolfe and Montcalm fought and died to settle the destinies of what is now the Dominion of Canada.

The University of Cincinnati will be organized in the cooperative arrangements.

RUTH SNYDER'S OWN STORY

A number of Plymouth people are commenting on a series of stories written by Ruth Snyder in her cell at Sing Sing and which are appearing in a certain Toledo paper. Mrs. Snyder unfolds her life as it were a book and those readers who allow themselves to become entangled in the story of her life are no doubt sympathetic for this woman who is about to pay the supreme penalty.

The game was played on the Adario floor. This gave them an advantage as the floor was much smaller than ours. Varsity was slow in getting started, just as in the Alumni game. As a result Adario enjoyed an 18 point lead at the half, the score standing, Adario 23; P. H. S. 5. In the second half, Plymouth came back with a spirited rally that almost resulted in a victory. The Adario boys were held to one basket and two free throws, while Plymouth scored 16 points. In the last few minutes, Adario who had only seven men in suits, ran out of substitutes so many being put out on personala. Time had to be taken while a man was found and fitted for play. Our boys scored basket after basket but luck was against them and the final whistle blew with the score standing, Adario 27; Plymouth 21.

Dear Folks:
Owing to Christmas vacation I have not been able to write anything for the main and simple reason that there were no opera practices nor orchestra practices. However, last Thursday we resumed our mental labor, the task of practicing for our operetta. The work was carried on at the Hamilton Hall, where a hearty and vivacious hour was indulged. The lungs of most of the participants were fully exercised as is the case when a bunch of

"GARDEN OF ALLAH" HAS AMAZING SCENIC BEAUTY

Famous Robert Hichens Novel Staged by Rex Ingram in North Africa on Scenes Described in Story Alice Terry and Ivan Petrovich Head Cast.
Four beautiful African gardens have been used for backgrounds of Rex Ingram's production of "The Garden of Allah," made abroad for Metro-Goldwyn, with Alice Terry and Ivan Petrovich in the leading roles.
They are the original Garden of Allah, built by Count Landon of Biskra, Algeria, the de Rothschild tropical garden at Grasse, France, the Baro garden at Algiers and the Arthur Park, also in Algiers. They can be seen as backgrounds in the current attraction at the Temple Theatre, Willard.
The Biskra garden is the one so minutely described by Robert Hichens in the famous desert romance from which Willis Goldbeck's scenario was adapted. It supplied most of the garden scenes in the Ingram production.
The Grasse garden is so thick, now ever, in the Landon garden, shots from other famous gardens supplemented it. After location-hunting over all Algeria and France, the three previously mentioned were chosen.
The Baro was supposedly built in the seventeenth century by the Bey of Algiers on being paid a visit by the Prince of Tunis. It is also called the villa Hadj Omar. There is one all most precisely like it in Tunis. It is full of oriental splendor.
The French Government bought it for $1,000,000, with the hope of turning it into a great museum on the celebration in 1930 of the centenary of the French possession of Algeria.
The Madame Arthur garden is more modern and nearly as beautiful as the Baro.
The de Rothschild garden at Grasse has every authentic feature of the African gardens and better lighting for certain views demanded by the script.
All four gardens supply the richest possible background for this latest Ingram picture to be made abroad.

JUNIOR HIGH LOSES TO MACK'S A. C. OF WILLARD

Plymouth Junior High lost to Mack's A. C. of Willard Thursday night in the preliminary to the M. W. A. Attica Pioneers game. The score was 10 to 8. The game was very close, as the score indicates. Both teams played a fast floor game but couldn't locate the basket. Muma of Plymouth was especially afflicted in this way, missing shot after shot.

JUNIOR HIGH TAKES ADARIO INTO CAMP

Junior High defeated Adario Junior High Friday night and fully redeemed themselves for their defeat the night before. Muma was greatly improved from the night before and caged several nice shots. Garret also dropped in quite a few points. When the final whistle blew, the score stood - Plymouth Jr. High, 15; Adario 7.

Coach (to Freshmen)—"Are you sure you know all about football?"
Freshmen—"Of course I do, only I would like to know, what that brown egg-shaped thing is for."
