

Celeryville Girl Killed In Crash

Truck, Parked Without Lights, is Said to be Cause of Accident.

Miss Annie Van Zoest, 18 residing at Celeryville, died and three others were hurt as the result of a two-accident auto crash in McPherson Highway, three miles west of Clyde, at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening.

The accident was caused when a truck driven by J. McKay, 48, Detroit, and owned by the E. & H. Carriage Company, Detroit, was parked without a light on the highway. Coroner Dr. W. A. Boshart's investigation was made Wednesday morning and McKay will report back to Fremont authorities for any action which may follow the coroner's report. According to a statement made by Sheriff Carl Shue, the truck parked without lights on the highway was the cause of the crash and the subsequent death of the girl and McKay. Liable for violating the state traffic law and allegedly contributing a cause to the girl's death.

Miss Van Zoest was riding in a Geo coupe with her brother, Fred, 9, and sister, Jennie, 15, the children of Herman Van Zoest, celery gardener of Celeryville. They were returning from a Christmas vacation spent in Hudsonville, Mich., when they crashed into the parked truck loaded with furniture. Their car was thrown into the middle of the highway by the force of the crash and Roy O. Blinn, Toledo, drove his Dodge coupe into the wreckage coming west on the highway. Blinn, Fred and Jennie Van Zoest all sustained cuts and bruises.

The truck had been abandoned by McKay when the trouble developed. He walked into Clyde for aid and was within sight of the scene of the tragedy on his return when the crash occurred.

The Van Zoest girl was taken to the home of Fred Dawley, near the scene of the accident, where she died shortly after. The girl's body was badly torn and her neck was said to have been broken. Her body was taken to the Beard Undertaking parlors and her parents were notified of the tragedy.

BANK ENDS A VERY GOOD YEAR

Reports Show Increase in All Departments; Savings Deposits Grow.

In a general way Plymouth and vicinity enjoyed a prosperous year in 1927, according to total deposits of The Peoples National Bank. At a meeting held Saturday afternoon, at which time the affairs of the bank for the year just ending were brought to a close. It was disclosed by reports rendered that the institution has just passed through one of its most successful years since its organization.

The report rendered by officers, and especially that of the cashier, were very gratifying to the directors and points to a continued growth of the bank. The regular semi-annual dividend of four per cent was paid. The Peoples National Bank is only a quarter of a century old, but since it was established in 1903 it has won the confidence of the public by its conservative methods and has enjoyed many good years, although like all other banking institutions, has passed through its share of "slow periods."

The fact that the time savings deposits are on the increase show that the average person is thinking of the future. Many depositors are listed in the Savings and Christmas Clubs departments and indications are that 1928 will be one of the best years on record for the banks as well as its depositors.

A stockholders meeting will be held at the bank Tuesday afternoon between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clock at which time officers for the coming year will be chosen. There are forty-six stockholders.

UNIVERSAL WEEK OF PRAYER

Our age is full of unrest. We need not linger over dark details that are only too familiar. We rather would remember with unpeakened gratitude that the Lord, who orders the ages, (Job. 1:13) is still on the throne. He is able to do exceedingly abundantly above all we can think or imagine; He fulfills the needs of his people and the hunger of all mankind.

During this universal week of prayer, let us all unite with our brethren in many lands to demonstrate afresh the release of God's power as we pray with one accord in the name and spirit of Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Services on Tuesday, 7:30 p. m. at M. E. church.
Thursday, 7:30 p. m. at Presbyterian church.
Friday, 7:30 p. m. at Lutheran church.

These services consist of hymns of praise, brief prayers by the laymen and an inspirational message from the pastor. As we gather in His name for prayer, three things we shall remember for our encouragement: (1) It is God's will. (2) Christ has set the example. (3) Christ promises his presence.

The Country Boy Makes His Mark in the World Of Finance and Business

A Wall street statistician, undertaking to prove that it is the country boy, rather than the city lad, who makes his mark in the world of business and finance, has just picked an all-American "business team" for 1927. He has selected eleven men, using for this purpose the men who have occupied the most prominent position each month in The American Magazine, and who therefore may be considered the most conspicuous examples of achievement for the year. The list includes ten men and one woman. It includes one newspaper man, one banker, one railroad, and several merchants and manufacturers. Here is the "All-American Business Eleven":

1. John A. Spencer, Revere, Massachusetts: Obligated to quit school at eleven, he evolved the $2,000,000 idea of a thermostat.
2. Daniel Murray Edwards, Drygoods king of Buffalo, Syracuse and Rochester despite being crippled.
3. George Matthew Adams, Saffire, Michigan: Thrown out of work during the panic of 1907 with $27 in his pocket, he now heads one of the biggest newspaper syndicates in America.
4. William Todd, Wilmington, Delaware: He worried so hard about his parents that he bought a $7,000,000 shipyard on his nerve.
5. Peggy Hoyt, Saginaw, Michigan: At 19 years of age she borrowed $300 to start a fashion shop which has grown into a big Fifth Avenue enterprise.
6. John G. Lonsdale, Memphis lad who is now president of the National Bank of Commerce in St. Louis.
7. Lawrence A. Downs, Indiana boy who is now president of the Illinois Central Lines.
8. Theodore Gary of Mason, Missouri, who after forty-three years of hard luck manufactures 80 per cent of all the World's automatic telephone equipment.
9. Edward E. Shumaker, president of the Victor Talking Machine Company, who saved the industry when it was believed the radio had killed the business.
10. M. H. Aylesworth, Colorado lawyer, now head of the National Broadcasting Company.
11. William A. Burnette, Tennessee mountain boy who started to get an education at 21, and now owns a great aluminum ware firm.

It is noted that all of The American Magazine's selection for these coveted positions of national eminence are country boys, who have beaten their city-bred rivals into the Hall of Fame.

The semi-fictitious government census returns show that Norwalk has gained 1268 in population since the last official census of 1920.

ATTICA TEAM PLAYS HERE TONIGHT

North Fairfield Defeats the Home Boys Here Tuesday Night.

Fans should be prepared to see a real game of basket ball tonight when the local Woodmen's team meet the Attica Pioneer Rubber team on the home floor at 8 o'clock. With much practice and the experience of other fast games, the lodge team is in A1 condition and from what we hear of the Attica Gang, they are coming to Plymouth to clean-up the outfit. They are not "fighting mad" but they are confident that Attica's best team can't come out on top of the tilt with Plymouth. So you fans had better come out and push a little bit for the home boys. But a little bit on either side of the story. The Plymouth bunch KNOW they can defeat the Attica team, but the only thing to do is to come and see who's going to be right in the argument.

One of the best basketball games of the season was played here Tuesday night when the Modern Woodmen's team met the town team of North Fairfield. Although good work was done by the home boys North Fairfield edged out in the lead by a score of 32-30 in their favor. Fast playing with lots of action generally enthralls a fan, and in this game, many went "wild" over the quick action of the players on the floor.

The line-up for the home team included Rhine, Dawson, Blackford, Myers, Hills and Steele.

ENTERTAIN EMPLOYEES

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lehman entertained the employees of the Plymouth Bakery Thursday evening with a "Xmas party."

Christmas decorations prevailed throughout the home while an illuminated tree added to the evening's frivolity. An exchange of gifts also proved a pleasant diversion. Games and contests followed by a delicious lunch ended the evening's pleasure.

Guests included Messrs. Victor Weaver, Jesse Lehman, Everett Wilson and Merwin Hilly. Misses Lucy Rule, Lucille Briggs, Harriett Rogers and Mrs. Lehman.

7TH HEAVEN AT TEMPLE

Picture fans who have not had the opportunity of seeing John Golden's "Seventh Heaven" will be pleased to know that this picture will be shown at the Temple Theatre, Willard for three days beginning Sunday with a matinee. This picture has been given much praise by thousands, and critics the country over proclaim it among the best.

The E. E. S. Class, second division of the Presbyterian Ladies Aid will hold a 25c luncheon at the church parlor on Friday evening, Jan. 6 at 5:00 p. m. Menu consists of Creamed Chicken, Mashed Potatoes and Gravy Cold Slaw Rolls Glorified Rice

New Officials Now In Charge

Village Officials Take Oath of Office; Two Vacancies in Council to be Filled.

Newly-elected village officials were sworn into their respective offices Tuesday evening at the Town Hall. Four members of the council took oath. They were Ben Woolst, Chas. West, T. C. Ford, Ned Earnest. Two vacancies caused through the failure of Denton Shields and Dayton Danner being able to serve, will have to be filled. Appointment will probably be made at an early date.

The new council has called a special meeting to be held Thursday evening, January 12, at which time a program will be outlined, and other village affairs will receive attention.

Mayor J. B. Derr was sworn in for the second term of office and also Marshal Burkett received the oath. E. K. Trauger was sworn in as clerk of the village council.

Two members of the Board of Public Affairs took the official oath Tuesday evening. Carl Loffand, an old member of the Board, and W. H. Fetter, John Fleming, the third member, was unable to be present.

The Village at present is in good shape financially and operations are running along as smoothly as could be expected. However, a few changes may be made by the council and Board of Public Affairs.

New members of the Plymouth Board of Education received the official oath Monday evening when this body met for its first 1928 session. J. E. Nimmons was appointed president, G. W. Pickens, vice-president, J. L. Judson, clerk, H. F. Root and R. D. Geo. J. Searle, Jr. compose the new school board. No meeting of any kind was taken at this meeting other than discuss the regular routine.

Dr. Searle and Mr. Root were Mrs. W. O. Ritter and J. W. McIntire as board members.

Regular monthly meetings will be held the first Monday of each month.

COUNTY CHURCH COUNCIL OPENS RALL SERIES

Huron-co-operative evangelism was started Sunday by Bishop Theodore S. Henderson and Rev. W. H. Thompson of the Ohio Council of Churches at the Methodist church in Norwalk. Despite the blizzard, a representative audience was present at the service.

Bishop Henderson emphasized the Jesus way of selecting his 12 and then his 70 workers and inspiring and training them to win others. We have been depending upon mass evangelism, Bishop Henderson asked every churchman in Huron-co to put himself at the disposal of Jesus Christ; then, generally at the disposal of his pastor for personal evangelism.

The evening service was participated in by 25 ministers and Bishop Henderson made a forceful and eloquent plea for prayer and personal evangelism as is being emphasized in six other counties in Ohio for the first three weeks in January.

The next meeting in Huron-co will be held in Willard on Jan. 16th in the Presbyterian church at 10:00 a. m. and at 2:00 p. m., then in the Willard Methodist church at 7:15 p. m. The last inter-denominational county meeting will be held in the Norwalk Presbyterian church for a 10 a. m. and a 7:15 p. m. meeting. During these three weeks each minister is endeavoring to cooperate through his own church.

Feline Funerals Something New for Plymouth

Besides being a machinist in a local garage, Chas. Sheely has taken up the avocation of feline funerals. Mr. Sheely states that Plymouth is large enough to number among its professions one who is capable of properly attending to the remains of dead cats and his skill was shown the other day when he was called to the Rule home on Park Avenue to dispose of the house pet. Intricate instruments of various sizes and kinds and many fluids are used in this work, and Mr. Sheely expects to become more familiar with his new line as time passes on.

Should any of your pets die Mr. Sheely requests that you notify him as to proper burial, etc.

We are now entering the new year and the financial prospects of Wall Street who have advocated unlimited prosperity for the year are looked upon to prove their assertions. Large daily newspapers tell in one column of the great prosperity that we passed through last year and in next column relates the activities of the unemployed, not asking, but demanding food from city administrations. One financial wizard is alarmed over the prospect of huge prosperity for fear the country will not be able to withstand it and fears an over-expansion of business. It is the candid opinion that most people of this country can withstand most anything in the prosperity line for several years to come. Let's have some of it!

According to a news story women are buying their dresses on the installment plan. Some of them seem to be wearing the first installment.

While men, women and children are asking for clothing and food, a Buffalo woman died and left a war widow bequeathed $10,000 for the care of strays. Relatives, however, persuaded a judge to decide that it was too much money for support of the feeble family and cut the amount to $5,000. A Cleveland woman has spent $25,000 on a dog named disease such as tuberculosis, which she values at $10,000. Such atrocities of animal worship are the cause of dog and cat hospitals in every large city. Owners of cats and dogs do not realize that these animals reclining in parlors on silk cushions would cause a frightful panic. The old family which she values at $10,000. Perhaps the sight of a mouse or rat at one of the aristocratic feline shows would cause a frightful panic. The old adage of "Wisdage clost and put the cat out" is probably reversed in the homes of such animal fanciers for the clock would disturb their slumbers in the morning hours.

It is said this year's output of motor cars will run into millions. Very glad to know about it and we'll try our best not to be one of those millions.

Making a monkey of the law has been done many times by the jury system and other factors, but seldom with the ridiculous success achieved by ten men and two women in Cincinnati, chosen for jury duty evidently by reason of subnormal mentality. After hearing more or less of the laughable proceedings during more than five weeks of the trial of a notorious criminal unquestionably guilty of murder in the first degree, in having killed his wife with premeditation and malice aforethought, these incompetent jurors rendered a verdict on grounds of "transitory maniacal insanity" and "merry Christmas". As has been pointed out on other occasions, it is high time to amend the constitution or the enforcement laws or do anything else necessary to the junking of the antique plan responsible for so many travesties on justice. Trying almost any other system would be better than sticking hopelessly to the jury scheme, as if modern intelligence could devise nothing better. Letting criminal trials be decided by a committee of judges and citizens, as is now done in Germany, might be a good improvement. Decision of the insanity question resulting from the Cincinnati fiasco, by the probate judge and two alienists sitting with him, suggests that the jury system as a committee of judges and citizens, as is now done in Germany, might be a good improvement. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Advertiser, Plymouth, Ohio

Dear Friends: Will you kindly allow me space in your paper to express our thanks to the kind friends of Plymouth for their many expressions of appreciation of our years of residence with you in the cards and letters and more substantial gifts of remembrance at this Holiday time. It is always fine to be remembered and it rejoices our hearts to know our labors were not in vain.

We have noted many changes in homes where we have called on our friendly visits in the past year, many where at this Christmas the empty chair is a reminder of the uncertainty of life. The sweet sadness of an absent loved one lends emphasis to the joy of Christmas time, for where would have been the Hope, had it not been for the Birth of the One whom we have learned to love above all others at this time. In our family, as you all know, the year has been marked with long illness and passing away of our little boy, son of our daughter, Mrs. Conser of Toledo.

The family spent the Christmas with us here, and Barbara had part in two Christmas programs at our churches.

We are becoming quite well acquainted with our people, and find them a splendid people. Generous and kind, so thoughtful of all our interests as was manifest in their remembrance of us at Christmas time.

We unite with the Presbyterian church in the Week of Prayer, which services will be held in the Presbyterian church, then continuing with our special meetings the following week in our church.

The churches work together quite well, and their pastor, Rev. Weise, is a noble man, so ready to co-operate in every worthy cause, that it is a pleasure to work with him.

While we miss some of the advantages we had at Plymouth, we find others that make up for our losses, as is true in every community.

Mrs. Gibson has not been well for past four weeks, but is much better at this time. We are glad to see by Advertiser, of so many having such splendid times in and around Plymouth. We wish for you all a most happy New Year, that it may bring to you all the blessings of which you are worthy.

Sincerely,
W. H. and MRS. GIBSON

MISS ANDERSON RECEIVES XMAS GIFT FROM IRELAND
Miss Cloe Anderson is the proud possessor of a Christmas gift in the form of a plum pudding received from Belfast, Ireland, last week.

Three years ago Miss Anderson conceived the idea of placing a letter in a shipment of goods to a Belfast, Ireland firm, being sent by her father, with instructions to deliver to an Irish lass.

Mr. McKee, to whom the goods was consigned, delivered it to his daughter and since that time the two girls have been corresponding.

The pudding which was securely packed in an enameled pan arrived in fine condition and Miss Anderson is proudly displaying her gift from an Irish friend.

LIVESTOCK RETURNS ARE HEAVY FACTORS

Efficient Management Plays Large Part in Determining Income On 345 Ohio Farms.

There is a close relation between the efficient management of the livestock branch of the Ohio farmers operations and his labor income, as shown by an analysis of farm incomes on 345 Ohio farms, made last 1925 by the rural economics department of Ohio State University.

Of the 345 farms the 85 most profitable had an average investment of $14,177 per acre in livestock, yielding a gross livestock return of $23,229. The 95 least profitable farms had invested $11,944 an acre in livestock which returned a gross return of only $12,066 an acre.

The first group of farmers received an average of $196 for each dollar's worth of feed fed to produce livestock, while the least productive group received an average of only $1.33 on the same amount. This difference, when applied to the $1,609 worth of feed fed on the average farm, made a difference of $1015.47 in the annual farm income.

The better class of farms purchased an average of $542 worth of feed during the year, and the lower profit group purchased only $177 worth, indicating the advantage of purchasing high protein feed to properly balance rations.

A detailed analysis of the relation between the return on feed and the labor income of the farmers showed that as greater returns were brought in from the feed, the labor income amounted steadily. The farmer who obtained from $1 to $1.49 for each dollar's worth of feed, had an average labor income of $958.68.

The man who got from $1.50 to $1.99 for each dollar's worth of feed, had a labor income of $1,316.86. With a return of $2 to $2.49 per dollar's worth of feed, the labor income was $1,580.62.

At $2.50 up, the average income on labor was $1,895.26.

COUNTY SCHOOL AFFAIRS GIVEN CONSIDERATION

A number of matters of importance were considered at a called meeting of the board of education of Richland county Saturday, but no definite action was taken on any of them.

The meeting was called to consider the transfer of territory from Bloomington township to Cass township. The Paris school in Bloomington township has been closed. This makes it necessary for the children in that district to walk farther to school.

The land owners have petitioned to be transferred from Bloomington township to Cass township so their children may attend the Shiloh school. The board deferred action until the two township school boards can meet with the county board.

May Force Resignations

Because of a ruling of the attorney general, Alva Sierst, one of the members of the county board of education, may have to resign. He has signified his willingness to resign. The attorney general holds that no man can serve as a member of the county board of education, if he teaches in that county.

Secretary teaches in Jefferson township. According to the ruling of the attorney general, he is not eligible to serve as county board member.

Lloyd Black, another member of the county board of education, is a teacher but he is not affected by the ruling.

Attorney General's Ruling

Another ruling of the attorney general is that no man can serve as clerk of a township unless he lives in that township. This will affect Charles "Happy" Dow, it is feared. Dow is clerk of Madison township but lives in Mansfield.

It is announced a number of other clerks come under this ruling of the attorney. The announcement is made in reports sent out by Attorney General Turner.

Should Sierst resign, the other board members have the power to select a successor.

Hazards of Winter Driving Are Great

Automobile driving hazards are the greatest this winter they have ever been, says a warning sent to the office of the Huron County Farm Bureau by Ezra C. Anstaeht of the auto insurance department of the state farm bureau.

Hundreds of automobile owners who formerly jacked their cars up in the garage for the winter are now driving the year around. This increases the number of cars on the road in winter and shows the rate of increase in the total number of cars in operation. Add this to the ordinary winter driving hazards, and the reason for the warning is obvious, he says.

Winter marks the season of rains and snows which interfere with the fastest of even drivers. Ice and snow with resulting slippery roads make stopping in case of emergency difficult and add to the causes of collision. Mechanical conditions of the car itself make it more difficult to control in cold weather than in summer. All these hazards and others are mentioned by Mr. Anstaeht as dangers which the auto driver may only meet by increased caution in driving.

Even the improvements of which we boast add to the dangers of the situation. The hard surfaced road is usually more slippery than the old unimproved road or one which had gravel surface, and these same improved roads add another factor to increase the number of cars operated in winter.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

In memory of Sister Sadie Harding, who died December 26, 1927:

Death has again entered our Chapter Hall and called to the Eternal Home a dearly beloved sister who has completed her faithful labor here in ministering to the cry of the orphan, to the call of want and to the piteous wail of sorrow, and as a recompense has received the welcome place "well done" from the Great Master.

And Whereas, the loving Father has called our beloved and respected sister home, and she having been a true and faithful member of our Mystic Order, therefore be it,

Resolved, That the Plymouth Chapter, No. 231, Order of the Eastern Star of Plymouth, Ohio, in testimony of its loss, drape its Charter in mourning for thirty days and that we tender to the family of our deceased Sister our sincere condolence in their deep affliction. A copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

GOOD WILL DOLLS GO ABOARD
A shipment of 1200 American dolls sailed the other day from New York bound for the Near East on an errand of good will. They were the gift of 1200 Americans from St. Louis and vicinity to the orphan children under the care of the Near East Relief in Caucasian Russia, and the Spirit that inspired these donations is the Spirit that has made America from time immemorial a bearer of peace and international friendship throughout the world.

Early in December, two college girls in St. Louis decided to devote their Christmas energies to bringing some brightness into the lives of a group of fifty blind children in the Near East orphanages in Armenia. They planned to make five dolls each, and to ask several of their college friends to do likewise.

Their plan reached the ears of the director of a radio broadcasting station in St. Louis, and he told his radio audience about it the next night, asking everybody to help the enterprising college girls in their request for dolls.

Fifty thousand people responded with postcards asking for particulars, and the ultimate result was a collection of 1200 dolls, representing mostly various types of American life.

Fifty dolls came from the Klu Klux Klan, secretly from a negro society, and forty from the inmates of a Missouri prison.

When the dolls were ready, they were exhibited for a few days in St.
Louis, attracting large crowds, and then were carefully packed, and shipped to New York, whence the first outward-bound steamship hurried them on their way to Eastern Asia.

While the dolls could not reach Armenia in time for the American Christmas, they will probably arrive in plenty of time for the Armenian Christmas, which falls late in January.
The Armenian calendar being arranged on a different basis than that of the western world.

FORD CAR MAKES RECORD IN TESTS

Following taken from Cleveland
Plain Dealer—During the last week a large number of people have been given an opportunity to test out the new Ford cars which arrived in Cleveland recently. They were greatly pleased at the performance of these automobiles, it is reported.

Last Wednesday a party of four Clevelanders spent a portion of the day putting a new Tudor sedan through its paces.

On a level paved road the car showed a speed of 57 miles an hour.
At this speed there was no side sway and there was apparently no strain on either the car or the driver. This speed was attained several times on an asphalt pavement.

In second speed the car attained a speed of 50 miles an hour. Believing this was something unusual, members of the party tried this out several times and the car easily attained the 50 mile an hour speed.

Then, to the surprise of the passengers in the car, the driver shifted from high to second speed and back again several times at a speed of 40 miles an hour. However, this is not recommended for all prospective drivers of new Ford automobiles.

Next the riding qualities of the car were tested on the dirt road on the lake front between the Union Station and the D. & C. docks. The car was driven over chuck holes and through ruts at speeds varying from fifteen to 50 miles an hour and it appeared to be practically impossible to throw the passengers up from the rear seat.

The new car has rapid acceleration and handles easily in heavy traffic.
It is also a good hill climber.
The results of the tests show that the brand new features in the Ford cars are all that are claimed for them by the Ford Motor Co.

NEW LICENSE PUT ON
Marshal Burkett reports that only five or six instances of owners driving an auto with the old tag were reported on January 1. A few cars were stopped and the driver informed that new tags must be secured to operate the machine. Only one or two of the offenders "acted up" when told to get new plates.

Next thing we expect to see is a sign reading "Ye Old Undertaking Shoppes."

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY CIRCLE

On January second, Miss Rilla Trauger was hostess to sixteen members of the Twentieth Century Circle and two guests, Miss Cornelia Bevier and Mrs. Himes.

The program for the evening included an interesting Christmas story by Mrs. Sealbols, a paper telling of the fascination and danger of Conquering the Jungle by Mrs. Root, and a paper by Miss Grace Earnest described two American cities, Pittsburg and Baltimore. Mrs. Derringer's paper told of the desire of people to go, and a reason for this wanderlust.
Mrs. Flora Nimmons told of points of interest for the traveler in Ohio and Kentucky. The program was concluded by response to roll call, and the circle adjourned to meet January 15th with Mrs. Willett.

Dainty refreshments were then served by the hostess.

Barbara Ann Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hoffman, was removed to Shelby Memorial Hospital Monday where she underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Miss Barbara is getting along fine and her numerous little friends are glad she is doing so well and are anxious to have their playmate home again.

NEW YEAR'S DINNER GUESTS

Mrs. Flora Nimmons delightfully entertained on Monday the following dinner guests: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Deringer, Mr. and Mrs. Elden Nimmons and daughter Ruth, Mrs. Kirk Wilson, Mrs. Nora Wyandt, Mr. Mahlon Nimmons and the hostess.

NEW YEAR'S PARTY

Three tables of Progressive Bridge occupied Mrs. Sam Bachrach's guests at a New Year's party, at her home on Plymouth street.

Holly wreaths and other Christmas decorations were used throughout the home and at the midnight hour a delicious lunch was served.

NEW YEARS GUESTS

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bachrach of Mulberry street, a congenial party enjoyed their hospitality on Sunday and Monday. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Rubman, of Columbus, Messrs. Sam Payne and Clyde Elchler and Misses Gertrude Beebe and Carrie Lindeman of Mt. Gilead.

Politeness costs little and yields no much.

Tasteful Bedroom Furniture

As cold weather comes in we hie ourselves to our own fireside and absorb its comforts and its brightness. Then it is that all attractive, decorated home counts for a good deal. If our homes are dull of tone or stuffy of atmosphere, and we can't enjoy things at their fullest, we are mostly to blame ourselves.

Nature provides colorful beauty in the Summer and Fall, and if our rooms do not match the outdoor standards then we are missing the opportunities that are provided in methods that make it easy and practical to secure home decoration effects.

The art of interior decoration finds a wide range for the application of attractive harmonies in the furnishing of bedrooms. You can either have your bedroom furniture in the very best of taste or it is possible to give such rooms a most uninviting atmosphere.

Today there is a great vogue for modern French bedroom furniture with its pleasant lines and attractive decorations. If you have such a French bed and a dresser, there is available some interesting color schemes which can be adopted. Two color schemes are suggested for this kind of bed:

The first is a design in gold and yellow highlighted with a darker shade and striped and trimmed with russet.

The other is a finish in antique green trimmed with yellow. Floral medallions appear on the headboard and footboard.

The dress of course, match the bed and the same color combinations are suggested for it. Likewise, the floral medallion should be a prominent part of the decoration if this color scheme is adopted.

The modern trend is towards the new, deep, lustrous and wonderful results are obtainable with it.

No matter what the character of your furniture you can liven it up with colors—and if you cannot afford new bedroom furniture you can, at least, give what you have the benefit of the new quick-drying, pyroxylin finish.

HAVE WOMEN CHANGED?

Miss Gertrude B. Lane, editor of the Woman's Home Companion, is said to be the highest paid business woman in the world. No definite figure is given for her remuneration as the head of one of the greatest periodical enterprises in the country, but it is known that she receives a higher salary than the President of the United States and she also owns a large share in the $25,000,000 company which publishes this magazine and four others, of national note and enormous circulation.

Miss Lane, in an address to an audience of editors and publishers a few days ago, answered the oft-repeated question: Have Women Changed? She said:

"Of course they have changed—in their attitude of mind, in their habits of life, in their participation in affairs. They have changed as amazingly and dramatically that the past decade has become one of importance to everyone whose business involves women in any way."

"As regards the home, they are organizing it as efficiently as the up-to-date business man is organizing his business. This day of the amateur home-maker is passing."

"Whether woman's rapid rate of progress will continue for another decade no one can say. But it behoves all of us who are engaged in shaping her opinions to watch her. One thing is certain—she is no longer the static creature we once thought her."

According to Miss Lane, 41 per cent of the checking accounts in the United States are in the names of women, or are held by women jointly with men. Among other interesting figures cited by her are the following:

"There are 14,000,000 bobbed heads in America today, and 3,500 tons of hair have been shorn from the heads of American women."

Beauty shops collect $400,000,000 a year from 60,000,000 customers, and they employ 70,000 people.

American women spend $1,925,000,000 a year for beauty, which has become a major industry.

Salaries paid to women have increased enormously in the past decade. There are hundreds of business concerns today, such as department stores, insurance companies, banking houses, magazines and newspapers, where $10,000 salaries for women are nothing unusual.

In Trim This Winter?

Watch The Kidneys After Winter's Colds.

COLDS and grip are hard on the kidneys. When the kidneys slow up, impurities remain in the blood and are apt to make one tired and edgy with headaches, dizziness and often nagging backache. A common warning is a sandy or burning sensation. Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic, increase the secretion of the kidneys and aid in the elimination of waste impurities. OHIO BRIDGE IS MILE LONG (GIRARD O.—One of the longest bridges in the state—more than a mile, including approaches—is nearing completion at this Trumbull county town.

The bridge will connect Girard with the village of McDonald, and to do so will span not only the Mahoning river but the valley itself, deep and narrow at this point, and five railroads and their switch tracks.

For years to get from Girard to McDonald one has had to take Liberty street which jounced one over three main line railroads and their switches away and creek over a rickety bridge, that barely made it across the Mahoning, climb a steep hill and cross two more railroads.

When the new bridge is opened to traffic one can make the trip in about one-third the time and with about one-tenth the effort and discomfort.

The bridge proper or main span is 2,100 feet long, and it approaches make it more than a mile in length. It has five regular approaches.

The bridge, which will cost $1,035,000, when completed, has a 200-foot arch over the Mahoning river and at this point is 75 feet above the water level. The bridge is 45 feet wide with a 20-foot roadway and two-foot side walks on either side.

Beauty, Power, Performance are Combined in New Pontiac

Four Wheel Brakes, Gas Pumps, Other Improvements Featured.

The second "birthday anniversary" of the Pontiac Six was marked Thursday, January 5, by the first public display in downtown showrooms of the New Series Pontiac Six which is said to surpass in beauty, power and performance all previous offerings of the Oakland Motor Car company in the low-priced six-cylinder field.

The new Pontiac Six chassis with four-wheel brakes, radiator pump, an entirely new type of radiator which prevents evaporation, semi-coincidental lock, new clutch and steering gear, heavier frame and other mechanical advances, appears to justify the statement of the manufacturer that it is "new from rattle to rattle."

Briefly stated, the company is offering infinitely "more car" at the same base price.

Although the new series has the same number of cars that comprised the 1927 line, two of the new models carry new types of bodies representing the latest advances in "Fisher" design. The two new body types are the Sport Landau Sedan and Four-Door Sedan, which supersede the former Landau and DeLuxe Landau Sedans. The Two-Door Sedan, the coupe, the Sport Cabriolet and the Sport Roadster again are included among the six body choices, but all have been completely re-designed and closed models carry the latest Fisher body creations, new Duco colors, new fenders, headlamps and many other refinements.

But the beauty of the New Series Pontiac Six is not "skin deep." Under that sleek new hood is an engine which develops 43 horsepower at 2,600 r. p. m., a substantial increase over the power of the previous Pontiac.

This greater power gives even better acceleration, while the new equalized and mechanically operated four-wheel brakes provide correspondingly sure and rapid deceleration. The front brakes are internal and the rear are external. If the brakes are applied while the car is making a turn, the outside front wheel automatically rolls free, a safety factor which enables the driver to retain full control under all conditions. A separate internal parking brake is provided on the rear wheels.

One of the outstanding pioneering features of the new car is a radically changed principle of engine cooling, an embodiment in the unique "cross-flow" radiator, from which it is practically impossible to lose either water or anti-freeze solution by evaporation. The water flows horizontally through the radiator cells instead of vertically as in other radiators. The water circulation is thermostatically controlled and the flow is maintained by a new water pump of the balanced impeller type.

Among other important changes on the engine are the adoption of the G-M-R cylinder head and the replacement of the conventional vacuum tank with a gasoline pump, two late developments both of which are pioneered successfully on the Oakland All-American Six.

The G-M-R cylinder head (developed by General Research engineers) is of the same type that eliminates spark knock and roughness in the Oakland All-American Six. It gives an impulse to the car comparable only to the smoothness of the steam engine and has also enabled the Pontiac compression ratio to be raised to 4.9 to 1. This is chiefly responsible for the increased power while retaining the same 18.5 cubic-inch cylinder displacement which remains larger than the displacement of any six cylinder car under $1,000.

This higher compression, the anti-spark knock effect of the new head which permits the spark to be maintained by the automatic distributor at the point of highest efficiency, a new distributor designed especially for this car and a complete re-designing of both intake and exhaust manifold systems, combine to produce exceptional power and performance.

The gasoline pump, operated from the camshaft, assures a proper supply of filtered fuel at all times.

A combination pressure and suction type of crankcase ventilator has been added, which prevents fumes from entering the body compartment; and decreases dilution of the engine oil by condensed water vapor, the vapor being discharged underneath the car before it has reached the condensation point.

The new design clutch is very similar to that of the Oakland. It may be shifted with even greater ease than the clutch on the previous Pontiac Sixes, requiring only a light pressure on the foot pedal, a feature especially attractive to women drivers. A new steering gear design of higher ratio and with bushed bronze bearings together with a new 17-inch wheel carrying finger grips on the inside of the rim has measurably improved steering ease, another factor of importance to women drivers.

A new semi-coincidental lock has been incorporated in the transmission. It is operated from the clutch switch by the switch key. Thus a turn of the switch key locks both ignition and transmission without danger of soiling hands or gloves. A position has been provided so that the ignition may be turned off without locking the transmission.

The combination ignition and transmission lock and light switch are on the left side of a completely changed instrument board. Choke and throttle are on the right and the central assembly consisting of speedometer, oil gauge, gasoline gauge and ammeter is enclosed in a glass-covered, fireproof lighted metal case. The dials of all three instrument assemblies have an entirely new antique finish. The control buttons and switch lever match the body hardware.

Besides continuing the convenient foot-operated tilt-ray feature in the improved headlamps, a combination stop and tail light has been added, the powerful stop light being so wired that the driver may turn it on without a backing light.

Although the New Series Pontiac Six retains its former wheel base of 116 inches for ease of handling and parking, the car has the appearance of being considerably larger and more sturdy than its predecessor. This effect is achieved principally through the larger, deeper radiator, surmounted by its Indian head radiator cap, this year the radiator and the new raised panel on top of the hood are nearly two inches higher than in 1927. Full crown fenders with hood sills completely covering the front of the frame give distinction to the front of the car.

From the side, the larger hubs and spokes of the solid appearance given the front wheels by the front brake drums, the drooping of the front window lines and raising of the body panels, all combine toward an impression of sturdiness, comfort and safety.

"Years ago, when barges and buoys were in vogue, the prediction that you might some day drive your automobile under the mighty Hudson River, would have been greeted with a amused smile," said Mr. Dinger, the local Exide Dealer. "Your friends would have considered you either crazy or full of old-fashioned grape juice. Yet, today, thousands of motorists drive under the Hudson River through the recently opened Holland Tunnel, the new, river-bottom connecting link between New Jersey and New York. They do so with complete confidence of their safety.

"Nothing has been spared in the construction of the Holland Tunnel to make it absolutely safe. Built after many years of careful preparation, and designed according to the best of engineering practice, there is little to fear from the river under which it runs. The greatest and most dangerous problem to solve was that of cleaning the tunnel of deadly motor exhaust fumes.

"Giant fans, blowing a seventy-mile gale of wind through the tube, solved the problem. The miniature wind storm, blowing vertically from the floor to the roof of the tunnel, clears and keeps the air free of all deadly motor exhaust fumes.

"Those ventilating fans must not fail. To prevent failure, when one fan stops, another is instantly switched into operation by a storage battery. In each of the four ventilating towers, an Exide battery not only controls the automatic oil switches of the ventilating fans, but they also furnish power for the emergency lighting of the power and tunnel exits.

"Traffic control in the tube was another big problem. It was overcome by an ingenious system of signal lights, which efficiently controls and keeps moving the double traffic lanes in the tunnel. Stationed every 500 feet is a traffic officer. Should an accident occur, the officer in that section diverts the traffic into the second and open lane. He then telephones for one of the Exide-driven electric emergency trucks, which are stationed at each end of the tube, to tow the disabled car from the tunnel.

"These are but a few of the safety measures taken in the Holland Tunnel. And through the close co-operation of the Tunnel engineers with those of The Electric Storage Battery Company, extra safety precautions have been assured by the use of Exides in the ventilating towers, to guide the tube traffic, to operate the communication system and also to operate the emergency trucks."

Exide Batteries Play Big Part in Operating Famous Holland Tube

P. H. S. BOYS LOSE TO ALUMNI GIRLS WIN

A team of former Plymouth stars defeated P. H. S. Varsity, Friday night, 33 to 25. The boys were very slow in getting started, the Alumni scoring 17 points before a score was made by Varsity. However, with some Alumni subs in the game they finally got a start, and from then on, it was a battle royal. At the half, Alumni held a lead of 13 points, the score being, Alumni 22, P. H. S. 9. In the second half, the boys made a determined bid for victory, but their slow start had put this goal beyond reach. The snap and fight of old was displayed by the team every minute of the game and the boys deserve a lot of credit, even though they didn't win.

CHRISTMAS WAS OBSERVED IN HIGH SCHOOL FRIDAY AFTERNOON

A joint program of the two Literary Societies was held Friday afternoon as it had been planned by the program committees. The meeting was called to order by the Chionan president, Ross Hills; and the program that followed proved to be very interesting. At this meeting the prize was awarded for the best Christmas essay to Emeline Fate. Also the prize for the cleverest story to Santa Claus was awarded to Raymond Hatch.

The most exciting and dramatic feature of the afternoon occurred when Elias Helfer proudly marched into the assembly room with a huge box addressed to the High School. Everybody was quite excited and each one asked each one else from where it came. No one knew. During a short intermission of the festivities the box was examined and commented upon by the majority of the students and visitors. Some clever cartoons were pasted on the sides of the box, and these caused considerable merriment. The suspense was great, and so we had to have the box opened. Mr. Miller suggested that the two captains of the teams open it, and so Raymond did the work while Elietha superintended the job.

Imagine the surprise and happiness when the boys team found a shirt and trousers for them! And pretty handkerchiefs for the girls on the first team. And last of all three nice big boxes of candy for the whole High School.

Santa Claus, in the form of some one of our citizens, was more than kind to Plymouth Hi's and P. H. S. certainly appreciated it. Although the kind person has remained unidentified, we, the High School, thank that person kindly for showing so much interest in the High School. The exchange of gifts followed this big surprise and then the afternoon was ended by a very snappy yell led by Hatch.

EDITORIAL - NEWS

Now that the murderer of Marion Parker has confessed, Los Angeles justice has a splendid chance to make what poor restitution the situation offers to the nation that was shocked by such an atrocious crime. It should send the killer to his fate without permitting the technical daisy which are seldom absent from any murder trial of such celebrity as this case has won. A judge and jury who will do their duty without the usual apology to a monster for putting him to the inconvenience of trial is the example that is presently needed. Any other course will be only an invitation to other perverted characters to turn their hand against the law and society in the belief that the law holds no certain punishment for them, even if caught.
