Telephone Bills
Are Now Made
Out by Machine

Some 400,000 Ohioans who have been receiving telephone bills from The Ohio Bell Telephone Company may have noticed that lately the dainty chirography in which the amounts are shown has been replaced by typed items. This is because the telephone company is now making out its bills entirely by machine, and the girls who formerly filled them in by hand now operate the machines.

Formerly the bills went through an addressograph machine, which stamped the name and address. Then the various charges—long-distance calls, extra local messages and other items—were written in by the girls. Frequently a bill showed the handwriting of several girls as each would fill in the amount for a different kind of service.

With the aid of a machine, a girl now types the different amounts on the bill, and the machine then automatically adds and prints a total. It also carries the figures over to the bill, which is then added to the bills—one for the customer and two for the company's records.

The advantage of the new system is that the subscriber gets a neater and more legible bill and the addition is done by machine instead of by the girls.

Plymouth Alumni Draws Large Crowd

The Annual Alumni Banquet of the Plymouth High School was held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Saturday evening, May 19, 1928.

Mr. Homer C. Lindsey pleased his audience with two vocal selections, just preceding the banquet.

At seven o'clock one hundred seventy-two members and friends of the Alumni Association gathered around the banquet tables, which were decorated in Red and White, the High School colors. The same color scheme was carried out in the four course dinner which followed. Clever place cards designed to represent "Old P. H. S." marked each place.

Dr. George Seare Jr., President of the Alumni, introduced Mr. Oliver Donnenwirth of Columbus, who presided as toastmaster for the evening. The class of 1928 was welcomed into the Alumni Association by Mr. Harold Maurer, after which John Root Jr. responded on behalf of the Senior Class. The following program was then rendered:

Roll Call _____ Part I.
Piano Solo _____ Miss Beatrice Kibler

Mother and Daughter Banquet of M. E. Church Largely Attended

Eighty-eight mothers and daughters, or guests, attended the first Mother and Daughter Banquet sponsored by the Friendship Class of the M. E. church on Tuesday evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

At seven o'clock the mothers and daughters marched from the reception room to the dining room where Mrs. J. L. Judson returned thanks. The dinner was prepared and served by the Epworth League boys under the supervision of Rev. McBrown. The menu was a most delicious one and the tables carried out in a color scheme of yellow and white made a most attractive scene. Large numbers of yellow wild flowers and candle sticks were used as decorations while a minimum of modern cutlery formed the basis of the table and formed the basis of the evening's theme "The Home Beautiful."

Mrs Ruth L'Amouroux, class president presided as toastmistress and music for the occasion was furnished by the Frits sisters of Mansfield.

At the close of the meal the following program was rendered:

Song—Get Together

Toasts:
The Foundation of the Home Beautiful — Mrs. Willard Ross
Corner Stones of the Home Beautiful — Miss Opal Phillips

Song—Stack Up Your Dishes
How the Home Grows — Mrs. T. H. Ford
Completing the Home Beautiful — Mrs. L. Z. Davis

Song — Girls — Mrs. E. B. McBroom
Solo — Mrs. French Gilmore
Address—Thru the Window Pane — Mrs. French Gilmore

Duet — Mrs. L. Z. Davis
Miss Ruth L'Amouroux
Song—Perfect Day

Each toast was splendidly given and a stepping stone to the Home Beautiful while Mrs. French Gilmore's address stressed the value and necessity of real mothers to their daughters: companionship, faith and loyalty pledged to each other formed lasting influence throughout life.

The idea that the modern boy and girl is "going to the dogs" was emphatically denied by Mrs. Gilmore who in her discourse proved that never before were there so many clean and upright youths in our country. It was an inspiring and encouraging address. She closed with a tribute to Mothers—"Mother O'Mine."

The whole event was a great success in every way, the class being well pleased with the cooperation extended them.

IN MEMORIAM

"Stormed at with shot and shell, while horse and hero fell" . . .

Wednesday, May 30, is Decoration Day. At this time of the year my thoughts turn to the grey-haired mothers, grey and white, the grizzled fathers, the sons who gave their all, mothers that should be honored and respected by the whole nation. But then ten years have eased the broken heart, ten years have soothed the spiritless soul, and so Wednesday, Mother will think again with grief of the boy she once loved.

To James Mason and Clarence Ford, ham do I dedicate these few lines. Boyhood chums together we, co-workers and friends. Now, under the poppies in Flanders Field they lie, but their memory the nation will forever cherish, for they, with the other thousand Americans, made the supreme sacrifice that Democracy may forever live.

And to those who have stood under the flag and answered its calling, call, will I stand in a few minutes of silent prayer and reverence in honor of those who have given to all and to those who remain with us.

Know Ohio Week

New and startling facts which prove Ohio the Union's most "all around state," and the state with more attractions than any other unit in "these United States" are being assembled by the Know Ohio League, which has set aside this week as "Know Ohio Week."

The Know Ohio League, the purpose of which is to call attention to the myriad attractions to be found in Ohio, seeks to interest not only the tourists from other states, but the Ohioan himself. Of Ohioans there are about 7,000,000 and these Ohioans own close to 2,000,000 automobiles.

Furthermore, say leaders in the league, these owners of these 2,000,000 cars and users of the 85,000 miles of roads in Ohio, not to mention the transportation facilities of 98 steam roads, 67 street car and electric interurban lines, the 2,000 busses which operate, as well as a vast tonnage in river and lake boats, DON'T KNOW THEIR OHIO.

Living so close to it, their minds far afield, and they long for the hundreds or thousands of dollars needed to visit Egypt, Paris, or even California, instead of buying five gallons of gasoline and starting the old sliver. Really, declare the leaders in the Know Ohio League, one can't throw a stone in Ohio without hitting something of great human interest from standpoint historical, archaeological, industrial, agricultural, educational, or creative.

And they start out to prove this with an amazing array of facts and figures which, they declare, hardly scratch the surface.

For example, to treat Ohio from an industrial angle, the state is first in the Union in foundry and machine shop products, Bessemer steel, baker equipment, steel cars, cash registers, clay working machinery, power shovels, glass making machinery, oil mill machinery, refrigeration machinery, clay products, paper products, tires, etc. This may sound at first examination, like a dry line-up of goods. But think what it means to sell the world when it wants to come to the headquarters of these things. It must come to Ohio! And think of what Ohioans miss when they wander afar in seeking new wonders, when right here at home,

Ohio is second in automobile parts ably on the first ballot.

In the Washington, the President signed the first piece of constructive legislation, on a national scale, passed by the Seventieth Congress. This was the food control bill. Rep. Coolidge held his nose while he it was well known that Mr. Coolidge did not consider the measure to be of the best. In the same, however, proved the imperative need of doing something without further delay, tipped the scales against the Presidential objection.

The Senate investigating committee continued its first-page publicity by inquiring into the Hoover, Watson, Lowden and other campaign expenditures. The committee held its nose while the good and sure at the way the committee is doing its job. The opinion grows among some Hoover adherents that the investigation does not seem to be of the possibility to embarrass the Secretary of Commerce. So far not a questionable expenditure has been unearthed in any of the rival camps.

The Senate investigating committee continued its first-page publicity of the disclosures, concerned a weekly publication here in Washington. This periodical, "Politics," sprang up last winter as a somewhat violent anti-Hoover organ.

It apparently came from nowhere and was bound for the same destination. There was considerable interest in it at the time as who had started it.

It developed last week that the agent was one Hale, a former prohibition agent, who had been a member of General Lincoln Andrews, the dry干禁组织 of bygone days. Hale, according to the editor of "Politics," a Washington newspaper man, spent a week in a wash house, working his mail subscription list numbered about 100, but it often ran to 5,000 copies of a single issue. The other 4,000 were sold to Willis, Watson and other agents for home consumption at five cents apiece.

It had not developed, at the time this was written, what Hale had against him. He was not tracking the move. Some will profess to see a connection between he paper and the New York draft-coop movement.

The Federal Trade Commission delved still further into the alleged iniquities of the electric power lobby.

It was brought out that the lobby and its component members had made it difficult for getting their propaganda into weekly and other news papers in certain sections, either via the boiler plate or matrix route; also the public utility thus had succeeded in getting free from unsuspecting editors.

The inference was that the editors had taken the article in good faith.

In Ohio State alone, the value of this publicity is put at $60,000; in another at $100,000.

None of the editor, impeded upon in this manner, questioned but the lobby was discomfited of systematic attempts, often successful, on the part of the power interest to spread their subtle propaganda throughout many sections of the country.

Another important development of the week was the launching of a new Presidential boom that of General Jacob S. Coxey, the one-time organizer of a ragamuffin brigade which marched on Washington. Mr. Coxey, now in the evening of his life, has been spending some time in Indiana, trying to put across some novel ideas on the money question. If successful in his efforts, everybody would have plenty of money.

His Presidential backers included a negro organization.

He is the South.

promised quietly and confidentially within the past six weeks by anti-Smith Democratic workers with the idea of forming a coalition among themselves. Such a plan would prevent the nomination of Smith at the convention, if that cannot be done, to prevent his election. Several well known Democratic leaders, however, have indicated a strong opposition to the Coxey movement, however, that he would campaign actively against a wet.

The head of the League's affairs is a Virginian and a Democrat. Bishop James Cannon of Richmond, Bishop Cannon, the Houston convention. He will not support the nominee of that convention, if he is nominated by Smith, and this he has declared vigorously on several occasions.

If successful in his efforts, everybody would have plenty of money.

SPLENDID SCHOOL PICNIC

The school and community picnic Friday was a great success, almost 200 people being seated at the tables for dinner. This game decided the county championship, as neither Shiloh or Weller had beaten in their regular schedule.

CLASS OF 1928 GRADUATE

The Commencement Thursday evening under the supervision of Sup't. Ford was an honor to the school and the community. The class and its two representatives deserve great credit, and the music from our own schools was appreciated by everyone. The address given by Prof. J. L. Clift, State Director of Education was a feast, and undoubtedly will have an outstanding place as the best that has been, or will be given here for a long time. Prof. Clift radiated intelligence. He kept his audience watching and wondering what the next point would be, and he never failed to make a point, at every chance in his constructional analysis of the subject, "The Value of an Education."

The diploma was presented by Mr. Firestone in his usual manner, mother, and Rev. Mente who holds a very near place in the lives of the pupils by his chapel services, presented each one with a gift.

PATRIOTIC CALL FROM LEGION BOYS

On account of a comparative few citizens giving flowers for the purpose of decorating the graves of soldiers, and also shortage of funds in the American Legion because of their payments on the building which they are purchasing, and as surrounding towns and townships are contributing an appropriation to place a potted plant on each grave, the Legion are asking for a small offering from each citizen to meet this obligation, and as soon as they become financially able, they will take care of the work without a call for public aid. Blooming Grove has already received its pots of geraniums. For a number of years the people expected to be solicited for money to help defray Memorial Day expenses. All they ask for now is a small offering for the plants.

Let's remember "the boys beneath the sod," and the boys who are keeping the memories green, and give our money.

FLAGS PURCHASED

A new supply of street flags recently purchased by our Legion are on hands and ready for distribution. Any citizens desiring one of these flags placed before Decoration Day, are requested to call any of the members so that the work can be looked after in ample time. One of the advantages over the former flags is the folding pole which is a great improvement.

BANQUET FOR CLASS OF '28

The Alumni banquet and reception for the class of '28 was held Saturday evening. The tables were tastefully arranged and the fine menu prepared by the committee from the P. T. A. was enjoyed by seventy - eight members and their friends. Atty. G. W. Marriott of Shely was toastmaster.

Several good musical selections were given by Miss Ethel Copeland, Mrs. N. B. Shepherd, the Wilson sisters and the Rosenberry family. All responded to the generous encore.

Members representing several classes responded with short talks, the most important being that of Lorenzo Pettit, the representative of the class of '28, the first to graduate from our schools and also because of his long life of cleanliness, courtesy, culture and progressive spirit, in the communities where he has resided.

Many letters were received from members who lived at a distance and were unable to be present. A few of the letters were read one of which from Atty. J. A. Fenner told of the great work accomplished by a former superintendent, Mr. C. H. Headley, and the one who organized the Alumni of Shely in 1915 at the home of John F. Frame. This letter emphasized the power of Christian teachers, which this community is thankful for at the present time—Christian teachers with high ideals. Mr. A. W. Firestone, represented the Board of Education.

The class of '28 was the honor class this year, there being seven present. Officers elected for the coming year were:

President—W. J. McDowell
Vice President—V. C. Moser

BIRTHDAY'S OBSERVED

The birthdays of F. G. Dawson and B. L. Nelson were observed Sunday with a sumptuous dinner for both families at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Nelson near Shely.

HELEN PETTIT HALLIWELL

Helen Pettit Halliwell, daughter of Joseph E. and Nettie Parsons Pettit, was born March 5th, 1885 at New London, Ohio, and died May 10th, 1928 at Youngstown, Ohio, aged 39 years, 2 months and 5 days.

She was the only child and the light and joy of her parents' home. Her early life was spent in New London, Ohio, where her father had been an instructor in the public schools and at present is the principal at Mayfield.

Helen was graduated from Shaw High School; following which she further prepared herself for her life's work at the Western Reserve, taking her B. A. degree in 1920. On September 26th, 1913, and during her last year in college, she united in marriage with George Bedding Halliwell, who also was preparing for his life's work at Case School of Applied Science.

In the home thus founded has come four children, Mary Louise, George Robert, Charles Joseph, and an infant, William McElroy, born but a few days before the little mother was called.

The home was a true love nest, where great responsibilities cheerfully assumed, never saddened the mother's smiling face.

In early life, Helen affiliated with the Methodist Episcopal church, and has always been active therein, her last service being in her Sunday School class, the day before she became bedridden. Her membership was later in the Parnassus, Pa. Presbyterian church, where the home had been until recently.

Her life has been one of unfailing devotion to duty, and without an idle moment. She was a descendant from ancestors who were among the founders of New England and also the Central Colonies of New Amsterdam and New Jersey.

The call to the young mother came with startling sadness, at a time when her life work seemed only begun, yet Providence willed that it was finished. The solace of our faith may soften the grief and make her ever-smiling face look down from the eternal home on her loved ones, inviting them to join her when the fleeting years of life have passed.

She was buried in Shiloh, Ohio, May 14th, 1928.
