

FROM Our Point OF VIEW

The home-owned grocery stores have a just argument for their unwillingness to contribute to the bond fund when the chain stores do not make a worthwhile contribution. The local managers should not be blamed for they have to abide by company rules.

Some day people will realize the value of trading with the business men who are interested in the welfare of their respective communities. Local farmers men often get a slap in the face when a motorist drives up to the free-lair tank and fills a mallowberry tin and ask for water in the battery that was probably purchased hundreds of miles away. Do you, Mr. Reader, think it's fair?

We understand $7,000 was expended in the grading of a two-mile road near Shiloh to lay crushed stone 10 feet wide. Grading appropriation should have been cut and the gravel put down at a suitable width. But then we all make mistakes.

President Coolidge in his address this week before the government's business heads made it plain that the country state and national governments should cut down their costs of operations. This we believe will be a big help in converting our prosperity which we have.

There will no doubt be a delegation from Plymouth at the telephone hearings in Columbus which are expected to come up before the Utilities Commission next Thursday. Just what their arguments will be is uncertain.

Since the recent visit of telephone officials here a shrewd observer has noticed quite a vast difference in the service rendered. Probably the proposed increase in rates should have come sooner.

See in the papers where a delegation of the farmers are attending the Republican convention this week. Perhaps the government can afford to give this number a little more regard for the tax reductions designed to help the big corporations, but we can't give wheat and corn in history's holdings.

The defeat of the school bond issue did not lower the courage of Superintendent Miller, for he has been busy as a Trojan in arranging the school books and making plans for Plymouth's best school year. Cleaning work and going over everything in minute detail has taken considerable work and patience. We feel the patrons should know about this.

Shelby is sitting pretty for bigger things in the industrial field. The Ohio Automobile Tube Co. intends to make additions to the plant totaling around $350,000. This step is one of progress and marks a bright chapter in the conduct of one of the leading steel plants of the country.

Our readers are very appreciative and will be more so when they get the habit of sending their notices to our respective correspondents. If John Jones goes over to see Henry Smith, we want to know about it. If some near-by neighbor has made a mark in life or had the misfortune of a set-back, others will be interested in the story. Write and make The Advertiser THE HOME PAPER.

BANQUET WAS GREAT SUCCESS

The union Mother and Daughter Banquet given by the daughters of the Lutheran and Presbyterian churches at the meeting room here last Thursday evening was a big success. It was well attended and a real get-together of members and friends. The affair was carried out in the most harmonious manner. The mothers were given the places of honor at the tables while the daughters served. Mothers and daughters of both churches mingled together as a large family in a homelike manner. The address was given by one of the members of the Lutheran church and a response was given by one of the members of the Presbyterian church. When churches begin to get-together in the home it is a sure sign they are drawn together in the right kind of cooperation. Unlike most banquets no charges were made, but the dinner included both and was served for a good time. When it was possible for a mother to attend, the mother and daughter banquets are a home in the church. If a mother did not have a daughter, she was sure to have a mother-in-law or a sister-in-law. The mothers and daughters in the home express themselves in an entirely new way. Mrs. John May and grand-daughter, Mrs. Baker who resided here, were the property on Bell Street. Mrs. Baker is residing in the home of her son Frank in Columbus.

RECALLS MURDER OF GEO. BODINE

Indian Arrow on Display at Shelby Was Taken From Body of Local Man.

Most everyone around here has heard some of the history of covered wagon days, especially those when the Indians were giving trouble in the West. It was in the period of June, 1858 that George Bodine lost his life in the case of service.

Many will be interested in the bit of history taken from Friday's issue of the Shelby Globe:

"An Indian arrow tipped with eagle feathers and steel point taken from the body of George Bodine of Plymouth, June 8th, 1856 by George R. Waite of North Gumbo street, is on display in the C. J. Laser window on West Main street.

"G. R. Waite of Shelby and George Bodine of Plymouth were both members of Co. K, 11th O. V. I. At the time Bodine was killed their detachment was guarding the stage coach line through Wyoming. Part of the detachment would accompany the stage coach from station to station and a part would remain to guard the stations.

"Mr. Colfax, a government official, was going through by stage to California and Mr. Waite was with the detachment assigned to guard the coach, while Bodine remained as guard at the station. When Mr. Waite and his comrades returned they found the body of Bodine where it had been tossed into the cañon. There were ten Indian arrows sticking in the body, and three bullets found and in addition he had been scalped.

"Mr. Waite pulled the arrows from the body and brought several home but one was retained by him, others being given to the Indians. "Bodine was killed between Rock Springs and Cheyenne. Seven thousand Indians surrounded the station, killing all the attendants and burning the station.

"There were ten men enlisted in Co. K, 11th O. V. I. from Plymouth and of the ten only two survive, G. R. Waite of Shelby and Frank Tubbs of Plymouth."

On October 5, 1881, he was united in marriage to Rebecca Ann Cole, four children, Arlington B. Jacobs, Glendale, Cal.; Mrs. Hugh Spize, near Gallion; Blane P. Jacobs, and Ferris E. Jacobs, both residing on the home farm near Troy. They five grandchildren, two half-sisters, Mrs. George Hoover, Lima and Mrs. E. M. Hoover, Ada, one half-brother, Rubb L. Lema, One sister, Mrs. J. M. Blair, preceded him in death last June.

MAKE VISIT TO OLD CONVICT SHIP

Her and Mrs. J. W. Miller spent last Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio. They visited the old Convict Ship now on exhibition at Cleveland. It is a British convict ship, the oldest ship in the world and the only Convict Ship left afloat out of that dreadful fleet of "Queen Hats" which sailed the Seven Seas in 1790. A. D. Unchanged after all these years, the ship has nothing on it but the human form. From all sufferings from cruelties and hardships practiced upon them. The convict prisoners, condemned, with whipping posts, branding iron, lead-on-tipped cast-iron balls, the cods and other implements, were seen and

Shiloh Methodists to Hold Centennial Celebration

BISHOP THEODORE S. HENDERSON

Shiloh Methodists are planning for one of the biggest events in years—the centennial celebration of the first Methodist church in Cass township. Arrangements are complete for the three-day program which begins tomorrow when Rev. C. P. Barnes, Shiloh's honored son, will preach at 2 o'clock p. m.

Saturday will be a real Methodist homecoming when a picnic dinner will be served at noon at the church. At 2 o'clock a service of worship will be held at the Old Salem church grounds, the original location of the first church building. Dr. C. B. Hess will deliver the message at this gathering.

Probably the greatest treat of the celebration will be Sunday morning when Bishop Theodore S. Henderson of the Cincinnati area will talk at the Sunday morning service. Bishop Henderson is one of Ohio's greatest religious men and truly one of the greatest in Methodism. He will have a message that will be remembered for years and years and the program committee may count itself lucky in securing him for this occasion.

DONAHEYS GET REAL WRITE-UP

Governor Vic Donahay's family is featured in an article in the June issue of the Delinquent dealing with three families now occupying executive mansions, any one of which may within the next year find itself transplanted to the White House. Governor and Mrs. A. L. Smith, of New York, and Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, and his mother, who lives with him, and the other families making up the trio.

The author of the article was an enthusiastic over both the Donahays. Of Mrs. Donahay, she wrote: "It strains one's credulity to realize that she is the mother of twelve children, and that she already has four grandchildren; for there is something beautifully fresh and very youthful about her, not only in face and figure, but in viewpoint."

Of Governor Donahay, she said: "The first impression that he is rather rhetorical passes rapidly. He is fluent, but not flowery, in his conversation. This is a big man, figuratively as well as literally. He has a genial presence, but it is also commanding. He has grasped all the essentials of life with his powerful hands, and instead of crushing them, he has expanded them. He is self-confident and has done a fine piece of work."

HALF HOLIDAY WELL OBSERVED

Gardens and Lawns Get Attention; Fishermen Also Try Luck

With clear skies overhead and a real warm day, many enjoyed the half holiday afforded last Thursday when the stores closed here to observe the first half day rest.

During the morning hours the Square was filled with many machines, but in the afternoon it was deserted. Just occasionally a motorist could be seen passing through the Square.

Lawns and gardens drew the attention of the half-day vacationists, and from what we've seen around town there's going to be some mighty fine vegetable and fruit crops.

Thursday closing here started off with all the stores closing at noon, and today the two chain stores expect to close their doors. They do not receive instructions in time for last Thursday.

Merchants should stress their half holiday a little more in order that the rural visitors will know that the stores here are closed Thursday afternoon.

Owing to the fact that the chain grocery stores have received no definite instructions for Thursday afternoon closing it is not known whether the remainder of the grocery stores will remain open or closed. The local managers have been trying to get the matter straightened out.

LODGE ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Members of the K. of P. lodge enjoyed an old-fashioned turtle soup supper Tuesday evening in the lodge room when about 45 members met for the election of officers. A number of Willard members were present.

The members chose the following officers which are to be installed at a later date. They are: Chancellor Commander, C. R. Williams.

BOARD MAKES APPOINTMENTS

Strong Faculty Chosen For Coming School Year; Departments Added.

The appointment of teachers for the coming school year was the major task performed by the school board at its meeting Tuesday night when the teaching staff of the Plymouth schools was chosen to serve for the next term.

Several changes have been made in the staff for the coming year. William H. Wood, a graduate of Ohio Northern University will fill the Science chair, and as director of the band. Miss Madeline Wensinger of Ashland succeeds Miss Marian Gooding in English and French and as physical director for girls' training. Miss Ruth McClellan, whose home is east of Plymouth, and who has taught at Perrysville and Shiloh, will take charge of the second grade work. She succeeds Miss Katherine Gebert.

Commercial Department will be added to the school this year and it will be in charge of J. B. Derr, who is now completing his course in Columbus. Mr. Derr originally began this phase of work at this summer he will complete his course. The department will be a grade in the school in many ways for it gives the student practical business training.

The faculty is one of the strongest the Plymouth schools have ever known inasmuch as the teachers are well trained for their individual work. This year Miss Grace Robinson, Miss Harriett Gill and Miss Lucille Fenner have completed preparations for life certificates. This will add greatly to Plymouth's standing in the educational division of the state.

New equipment is being added this summer and test books are being well chosen. In fact, with the equipment and faculty, Plymouth should have one of the best schools in this section.

Graduate at Battle Creek

A few changes were made in the plans presented Tuesday evening, and Mr. Scott will again meet with the body next week. ## Morse-Dunlap Nuptials Was Beautiful Event

In the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Morse at Huron Valley on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 in front of an altar of palms and ferns decorated at either end with wicker baskets of roses and lilies, Miss Carshon Marie Morse was given in marriage by her father to Mr. Ralph Herbert Dunlap of Chicago, son of Mrs. Cara Dunlap of Anderson, N. H. Baskets of flowers used to form an aisle for the bridal procession added beauty to the scene with the varied touches of color and soft lights. The date chosen for the wedding was the birthday of the bride's father.

Preceding the ceremony a musical program was given by Mrs. John Warden, pianist, Mrs. Boyd Smith, soprano, and Mr. Edwin Arts, violinist. Mrs. Smith sang "At Dawning," "O Heart of Mine" and "I Love You Truly." Mr. Arts played "Berceuse" and "I Hear You Calling Me." Mrs. Warden played "I Love You Truly" and "To A Wild Rose" during the ceremony.

Rev. A. B. Allison of the First Presbyterian church of Shelby read the nuptials in the presence of thirty relatives and friends.

"Dusty Answer" satin and real laces were combined in the bride's gown which was made with a tight bodice, a deep lace collar and a full skirt, long in the back and short in front. The bride wore satin shoes and hose of a shade matching her gown. The bridegroom's gift, a diamond dinner ring was worn while a necklace of pearls with a touch of blue coloring completed the accessories of the bride. She carried a bridal bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Eunice Henry of Plymouth, a niece of the bride, attended her as maid of honor. She wore a gown of gold colored lace made with a tight bodice, the full skirt being trimmed with tulle ruffles shading into an orange cast. She wore gold colored shoes and hose and her flowers were yellow roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Morse was gowned in a dress of flowered georgette and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Jane Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Henry of Plymouth was flower girl. She was daintily dressed in a frock of orchid crepe-de-chine trimmed with tiny tucks. Pink roses were arranged in a headband of gold. She carried a basket of orange blossoms strewn them in the path of the bride.

Master Daniel Henry, ring bearer was dressed in a white suit.

Adelle Morse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Morse and Tommy Henry son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Henry led the procession carrying white lilies tied with gold tulle.

MISS CARSHON MARIE MORSE
Mr. Dunlap was attended by Mr. Cletus Lyninger, of Detroit, a favorite cousin of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap will spend their honeymoon in Philadelphia, New York and the New England states. They will reside at the Webster Hotel, 2150 Lincoln Park West, Chicago on their return.

Mr. Dunlap who for the past five years has been the advertising director of the Miami Daily News at Miami, Fla., is now associated with Barron G. Colliers, a national advertising agency in Chicago. He was a first lieutenant in the World War and is now a member of the Federal Reserve.

The bride who just recently returned from Miami where she spent the winter months attended Northwestern University in Cleveland where she was a member of the Sigma Delta Gamma Sorority.

A reception followed the ceremony after which the guests were invited to the dining room of the Morse home where the wedding dinner was served by the girls of the Ohio Seamless Tube Co., office of which the bride's father is President and General Manager.

A centerpiece of bride's roses, bud-las and blue and pink smiragons, surrounded by white tapers in crystal holders daintily effected the appointments for the bridal table. Just as the bride cut the large white wedding cake her father at the other end of the table cut a large white birthday cake, trimmed with touches of pink. The bride in memory of her father's birthday gave an appropriate toast using the poem "Let Me Live In My Home by The Side of the Road." Mr. Morse in a few well chosen words answered the toast.

Guests from a distance attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Lyninger of Detroit, Miss Verda Trauger and Miss Mabel Grove of Cleveland.

Just a Few Timely Suggestions From The Beelman Mfg. & Lumber Co. WILLARD Phone 304 OHIO

We know several families in this community who are not going to lose any sleep this summer. These folks have just given us orders for a "screened in porch" and how they will appreciate it when those hot summer nights come. Low cost, easy to build, fools the mosquitoes, and flies.

Will Rogers tells this story about a lady about to be operated on for appendicitis: "Oh Doctor," says the lady, "Will the scar show?" "That Meddler," says the Doctor, "is entirely up to you."

A few suggestions: Paint your porch swing and porch furniture, it sure makes the porch look more comfortable.

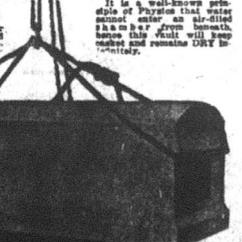

Your clothes line and grape arbor posts, it will help the looks of the back yard. Your porch floors, they will be much easier kept clean. Your window and door screens, they will look better and last longer. Porch and flower boxes. Your House and Garage: We have paints for all your needs. Sherwin-Williams Paints.

Dr. Crane says: "It takes 57 muscles in your face to frown. It only takes seven muscles to "Smile." Why work overtime?

Have you forgotten about your moth Proof closet? The coat is very small to install Red Cedar closet lining and it will keep out the Moths.

THE PAGEANT "IN OUR FATHER'S GARDEN"

Well Rendered to a Large and Appreciative Audience, at the Presbyterian Church.

June is the month of flowers and fragrance, when the air is filled with sweetness and the song of birds, and the laughter of little children. The Pageant, "In Our Father's Garden," was well rendered in a very pleasing manner, at the Presbyterian Church, last Sunday evening. The playlet represented the world as a large flower garden. Each little deed of kindness was represented as a beautiful flower, that did not fade, but kept on becoming more beautiful. A number of original features were added to the playlet. Among which was "The March of the Grass Army," to the tune of "Onward Christian Soldiers." A company of little boys, led by a captain, each carrying green wands, gave the Manual of Arms drill, except when the command was given to "Stack Arms!" the boys laid aside their wands and set up instead large sheaves of growing grain, forming a big shock, not unlike a shock of wheat. It was very suggestive of the harvest that comes from little deeds of kindness, even when these deeds are performed by little children.

The South Wind—Good Will, was represented by a group of little boys who said, (imitating the wind) "We blow, we blow, b-b-w, b-b-o-w-o-o." When the little fellows were thru with their part of the program, each one in the audience felt that an effort was made to blow good will to ward all present. The large and attentive audience appreciated the efforts of the little children.

BAND PLAYED HERE SATURDAY

In spite of the cool weather here Saturday evening Plymouth's Square was pretty much inhaled to listen in on the band concert which was given by the Shelby-Crestline Band.

The air was cool and crisp and the musical notes rang out clear and distinct, and the boys certainly did do their part in furnishing a program of good music which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Maurice Davis, well known musician, has certainly developed wonderful talent among the young boys of Shelby and Crestline, and even though they may be small to be in a band, they certainly know the art of putting plenty of wind into the instruments, and only a dead person could have been deprived of the peppy music which reverberated throughout the Square.

A varied musical program has been promised each Saturday evening and from the expressions heard Saturday night the boys return will be given a warm welcome.

The business men of the town feel that the band is the best that can be secured for regular engagements and that they are capable of filling the bill, and the business houses here invite their rural patrons to come to Plymouth Saturday night and to enjoy the good music.

FARMER INJURED
Being plowed under a tractor for an hour and a half is quite a painful sensation, and this was the experience of A. B. Hurpich, who resides on the Ridge road. Hurpich was operating a tractor when it toppled over as he was plowing on a hillside, and was pinned underneath for over an hour. He was unable to extricate himself, and no help was received until he was missed at noon. His absence was noticed by Mrs. Hurpich who sent two of the children in search of their father, and they found him firmly pinned beneath the heavy machine.

Medical aid was immediately summoned and he was later removed to a hospital where examination showed that he suffered no injury other than severe bruises. Both legs were temporarily paralyzed.

California "Gold Fever" Revived In Celebration

EDITOR'S NOTE—We are very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murphy of Stockton, Calif., who so interestingly write of the many things they enjoy. The letter was held over from last week owing to lack of space.

Stockton, Calif.
May 24th, 1928

Editor Advertiser:
Another year has passed by, and again it is time to remit for the Advertiser, the medium through which we keep in touch with the friends and happenings in the old home town. This leaves us all well, and the weather very beautiful now, but the northern California got a little mixed in its weather schedule this spring and gave us May weather in March and vice versa; however, it could not compare with the spring weather in Ohio as we remember it. It gave us the "shivers" when we read of your snow and sleet storms. This "muck o' the woods" has some draw backs of course, but snow and sleet isn't numbered among them, no more, although in the early spring they have what they call their "snow frolics" when a caravan of autos, loaded with adults and children, many of whom have never seen snow, will drive up to the "big trees" and frolic in the snow with coasters and skis for the day. But just now the "whole out-doors" is so lovely it constantly calls: "Come out and follow the runaway road"; for there are flowers, flowers everywhere, in the parks, in the fields, in the highways and byways a perfect riot of color, and we have listened to the call, and taken several interesting trips. The first was to the Blossom Festival at Oakdale, the next to the hot springs or geysers at Calistoga. "Picking up" three of our congenial Stockton friends, we war on our way by 8 a. m., and enjoyed one of the most wonderful drives, over fine roads that would like a shining ribbon through the valley and over the foot hills where the grain fields and meadows are of a shimmering green with thousands of sheep and cattle peacefully grazing, sometimes watched by the "herders" and their intelligent Shepherd dogs. A lunch by the roadside under a large olive tree, and after another short drive were at our destination. Calistoga itself is quite interesting, with its wonderful terraced yards, quaint old houses and beautiful shrubs and flowers, and it is visited by thousands who come to see the wonderful hot geysers. Take the mud baths and drink the mineral water both hot and cold. The wells are cased, and the water pours forth in a large stream with great force resounding many feet in the air, and is diverted into a large tank and tempered to a luke warm heat, where one may swim for health and pleasure. The mud "baths" were not so enticing, but are said to be a cure for rheumatism and "stitch". The return trip was made over a different route but was just as beautiful and interesting. Arrived in Stockton at 6:30 p. m. the speedometer registering 272 miles for the days trip. The 19th, we attended a "big" celebration at Anna's Camp, a quaint little city, so called for Geo. Angel, who first discovered gold there in 1848. We left home about 6:30 a. m. in order that we might enjoy the drive through the wonderful country over the foothills of the Sierra Nevada in the early morning hours, to Angels, where they held a revival of the famous Calaveras classic dating back to the days of Mark Twain, which brought a throng of 15,000 men, women, children and autos to the site, in former years, old mountain mining camp, and it did itself proud in turning back the wheels of time, to those days when "fandango" halls were the rage, when bacon, hardtack and "indigestion" were common to miners, and when gold dust was traded for poker chips. Store fronts were changed by covering them with red wood bark, old bars and gambling tables were resurrected, relics were brought out, old names recalled and used as signs, such as "Bucket of Blood", "The Last Chance", "The Eldorado", and many others. The citizens for miles around dolled itself up in the costumes of the times of those hardy pioneers, and many a well sustained character was seen during the day. Stage coaches, buggies, surreys, furs, and horses were all to be seen on the main street, and an Indian camp at the edge of town, where an occasional war dance took place, and where the "flapper" of the tribe confessed to her 163 birthdays. Then there was the parade. Old fire engines manned by red shirted fire ladies, stage coaches, and an Indian pioneer pilot a covered wagon which crossed the plains from Ohio, Civil war veterans, Chief Pontiac and his braves, Mexicans, hard riding cow boys and girls, and bandits, men, women and children were in old time costumes, bands and old time tunes, and it was as colorful as only a true '49 parade could be. There were confetti battles, dancing and street stunts, desperadoes, the circuit riding minister, Spanish dancers, Spanish dolls, and old time minstrel, with red, green, yellow and purple shirts with the inevitable handkerchiefs and sombrero, and to make it more realistic, the men had allowed their beards to grow for six or seven weeks.

Angel's Camp and the other "Moth or Lode" towns proved to all attending the two day affair that the Moth or Lode people are proud of their history. Tomorrow Stockton holds its water carnival, as it does every year. It takes advantage of abundant opportunities to attract to itself many visitors and favorable attention. This year's carnival will be held May 24th and 27th, and will have the participation of organizations there, in the valley, and from as far away as Santa Cruz. Racing games, parades afloat and on wheels, big game numbers and pageants of beauty are included in a full program. The water carnival at Stockton is one of the unique festivals of the state, and this one promises to set new marks in size and variety. Well, as the Indian said when writing to "Lindy", "Good bye, I quit."
Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Murphy,
Stockton, Calif.

WILLIAM T. DERFLINGER

DEAD IN EAST
Word of the passing of William T. Derflinger, 67 former Sandusky, and veteran newspaperman of New York, in his Brooklyn home late Thursday night was received via Sandusky shortly before midnight in a long distance telephone to Hermann Hoppell, an acquaintance of many years. Mr. Derflinger had not been a resident of Sandusky since 1855 but left here less than two weeks ago, after a visit of about three weeks with friends and relatives. Prior to that he had not been here since the centennial home coming of 1924. He would have been 65 years old on Nov. 23th of this year, in an interview on May 8th, as he sat in his room in a local hotel. Mr. Derflinger declared he had come to stay "until I got well, or know that I can get." He explained at the time that he was suffering the effects of a nervous breakdown.

Beginning his apprenticeship in the printing trade in the composing room of the Register Mr. Derflinger later left the city to complete his knowledge of the work, and in 1855 on March 7th the day that Grover Cleveland took office, as he liked to recall, he went to New York. Working in turn on virtually every paper of that city and making the acquaintance of men since numbered among the country's great. He was a personal friend of Governor A. Smith of New York, state and of Mayor Walker of New York city. At the time of his death he was associated with the M. B. Brown printing company, N. Y. and had charge of the publication of the City Record, a municipally owned daily newspaper. He leaves a brother, John Derflinger who is in charge of the Jersey City Publishing Company, Jersey City, New Jersey, a sister Mrs. (Rev.) G. R. Mente of 25th and another sister Miss Lottie Derflinger also of Shiloh. Frank Derflinger of Mize St., and Mrs. Louise Priedler, Washington St., of Sandusky are cousins, besides other relatives. The body was laid to rest in the beautiful Greenlawn cemetery at Brooklyn, N. Y.
