

PAST RECORD OF OFFICE SEEKERS

1928 CAMPAIGN SHOWS STRENGTH OF CANDIDATES SEEKING OFFICE THIS YEAR.

The vote-getting strength two years ago of candidates who are seeking nominations at the Republican primaries, August 14th, is shown in the figures of the 1926 vote.

Several men who were candidates in 1926 on the state or the congressional ticket are again seeking office this year. Therefore the result of the vote in 1926 is in demand by those who are already making estimates on the outcome in 1928.

The report issued by Clarence J. Brown, Secretary of State of Ohio, contains the election figures and shows the strength or weakness in 1926 of James T. Begg, Myers Y. Cooper and Edward C. Turner, candidates for the Republican nomination for governor this year, of Chief Justice C. T. Marshall for U. S. Senator, and of Clarence J. Brown for re-election as Secretary of State.

Votes cast for Republicans for the leading state offices in 1926 were:

For Clarence J. Brown, for secretary of state, 731,322.

For Frank B. Willis, for U. S. Senator 711,359.

For Bert B. Buckley, for treasurer 685,040.

For Myers Y. Cooper, for Governor 685,947.

For Edward C. Turner, for Attorney General 647,187.

For James O. Mills, for lieutenant Governor 635,300.

For C. T. Marshall, for Chief Justice 629,878.

Cooper for governor received 45,346 votes less than Brown for secretary of state, who led the ticket.

A comparison of number of votes cast for governor shows that the past candidates of 1926 did not draw nearly the number of votes that usually are given to Republican candidates in Ohio, for example:

1926—Harry L. Davis for governor 1,629,585.

1922—Carmel A. Thompson for governor 983,590.

1924—Harry L. Davis for governor 888,183.

1926—Myers Y. Cooper for governor 685,947.

Cooper was from 115,000 to 350,000 below previous Republican candidates in votes for governor.

Cooper was also weak in Hamilton county, where he lives. In 1924 Davis received 85,545 votes for governor in Hamilton county. In 1926 Cooper received only 64,514 votes.

James T. Begg, also a candidate for the nomination for governor this year, lost for congress in the 18th district in 1926. His home is in Sandusky. This district voted heavily and gave Begg 36,444 votes against 19,571 for G. C. Steteman, his opponent.

Furthermore, since Begg has been the congressman from that district on Lake Erie, the Republican vote in the district has been greatly increased.

These are the old figures, indicating the popularity of candidates or the lack of it.

Gives Her Viewpoint of Love

Miss Janis makes a reply this week to W. C. Durant, who says that a man past thirty is incapable of love.

For the next few weeks The Advertiser will print the discussions on this subject as given by H. L. Mencken, George Jean Nathan, George S. Cobb, Panthea Ward, Irvine A. Cobb, and countless other authors and actors with whom you are familiar. Read them each week in The Advertiser, Your Home Paper.

THE GUILTY PARTY

OH, MR. VOLSTEAD

Whenever there is offered for sale an old house in Columbus now the demand is much greater than it was previous to the find made in tearing down a structure on East Second Avenue recently. Behind the plastered wall of an old frame house workmen discovered two bottles filled with rare whiskey. Each bottle was carefully corked and sealed by the distiller. The labels were too discolored to be decipherable fully but the words Maryland and the date 1865 could be made out. Information furnished by a resident of the neighborhood indicated that the part of the house in which the liquor was found had been erected in 1867.

DIES LIKE HOGS BABE IS BORN

Sophia Day, 28, a native of France, the mother of nine children, and the wife of Bart Day, 47, died in a small two room shack in the Willard marsh about a half mile east of Celeryville at 2 p. m. Monday.

Three hours before death, Mrs. Day had given birth to her ninth child, a girl. Coroner C. L. Bell investigated the case. It had been reported that the husband could not be located after the death of the wife, but it was found that he had gone for help and that he had returned in a short time. Coroner Bell is expected to return a verdict of natural death.

The woman, probably died of heart trouble, the coroner thinks. The patient had no medical attention at the time of the birth of her child. An Dr. Bell found that the proper precaution for the safeguarding of the eyes and other routine medical precautions had not been taken. The infant, is said to be normal and healthy. A physician of Willard was summoned after the child had been born.

All of the nine children are living Day and his wife had lived together

Leaps From Tractor; Fractures Left Leg

While helping to rush completion on the narrow gauge railroad Arthur Willoughby, superintendent of the Ohio Farms Corporation had the misfortune of fracturing his left leg at the knee cap Monday when he jumped from a tractor which he was using to pull a tractor. A log is said to have been in the path of the machine and that to avoid a possible accident Mr. Willoughby leaped, and in some peculiar way gave his leg a twist which caused the painful mishap. Dr. Geo. Searle was summoned and after making a short examination Mr. Willoughby was taken to the Shelby hospital where an x-ray was made. The limb was put into a cast and it will be some time before Mr. Willoughby will again be able to use it.

The narrow gauge railroad is being constructed on the muck lands in order that the crops may be loaded without the trying problem of getting across the lands with trucks and teams which have proved very unsatisfactory. The fact that the crops will soon be ready for harvest makes it imperative for the transportation problem to be solved, and it was while assisting in this work that Mr. Willoughby sustained the fracture. As superintendent of the corporation his duties have been pushing him, and with so much to do he will be some what handicapped.

His many friends wish for him a speedy recovery.

LOCAL CHURCH BEING REPAIRED

The Presbyterian Church is undergoing extensive remodeling. The site being used in place and the workmen are busy redecorating the walls of the auditorium. A basement was excavated last winter. The rooms of the Sunday School will also be re-decorated when the auditorium is completed. Arrangements have been made with the workmen that they will not be in the way of the city, and the work is to be done in one day, so that Sunday School may be held in some part of the building every Sunday.

And so these are the things which the Youngsters Boys are doing for the youth of their church. Rev. A. M. Himes is director of the camp, and he has a million and one things to think about, for we all know that the job of keeping two or three boys in harness is a big one, but when it comes to fifty—that's different. Making the church so attractive and much enthusiasm is shown at every opportunity along this line, the exercises and sports are features in which all the boys take interest and enjoy. Supd. B. E. Miller is director of scout work which includes nature study.

ALL-OHIO AIRSHIP IS COMING TO FAIR

An All-Ohio monoplane will be one of the features of the Aircraft Exhibit at this year's Ohio State Fair, August 27th to September 3rd. It is assembled at Portsmouth, Ohio, by the American Moth Monoplane Company, and every part of the monoplane is manufactured in Ohio. Recently the Ohio Aircraft Company, distributors for the "Moth," had a monoplane at Norton Field, Columbus, for demonstration.

F. Trabee Davison, Assistant Secretary of War in Aviation, was present during the demonstration, and was greatly impressed with the ease and facility with which the monoplane was taken through the various stunts. The wing spread of the plane is thirty feet while its length over all is eighteen feet, and its weight but 750 pounds. With fuel consumption of four and one-half gallons per hour, it develops a crushing speed of 50 miles an hour.

The motor, which is a radial type, is manufactured by LaHond Company of Cincinnati. The propeller is made at Piqua, while the outside covering and rubber tires are made at Akron. The price set for this "Ford" monoplane is $2,500. "Fly Away" Portsmouth.

SPEEDERS ARE GIVEN HEARING

Saturday night and Sunday was a busy time for Marshal Burkett and his assistant, Herchel Ross, for quite a number of speeders were rounded up. Marshal Burkett made several arrests Saturday afternoon and evening, but the greater portion of the speeders were apprehended Sunday. Just why passing motorists insist on going through the Square at a rapid rate cannot be understood, but they do it, and at a great risk, probably unknowingly to them.

The list of violators, all of whom received a small fine and charged with costs including George Nagel, Shelby; Carl Slesman, who resides west of New Haven; Pat Potts, Walter Kuhn, Margaret Connewell, W. H. O'Donald, Floyd Meek all of Shelby; Frank Dalton, who was riding with a driver arrested for speeding, was placed in jail for a short time Sunday. He was charged with interfering with an officer, but the charge was dismissed at the hearing Monday.

Now that the term "superphosphate" has replaced "acid phosphate" in fertilizer labels, the powers that be are trying to get rid of the "superphosphate" label. The new term is "superphosphate" and the new term is "superphosphate".

INCREASE IN ACCIDENTS

Fatal auto accidents in Ohio during the first three months of 1928 showed an increase over the same period in 1927. In January sixteen deaths were recorded, 86 in February and 99 in March making a total of 277 deaths as compared with 226 during the same period in 1927. Slight decrease was shown in grade crossing fatalities 16 being killed in January, 14 in February and 11 in March, making a total of 41 deaths as compared with 47 during the same months of 1927. During the first three months of 1928 Ohio had 18 deaths in collisions with street cars, and interurbans, while 23 deaths were recorded the previous year in the same period.

MRS. A. E. DEVORE DIED SATURDAY

After many months of suffering the last few which were very intense, Mrs. Althe Devore died at her home Saturday about midnight. Mrs. Devore was born in Tontogany, Ohio and when a small child moved with her parents to Tiro where she became a member of the Lutheran church. Later the family moved to the vicinity of Rome.

Mrs. Devore had made her home in Plymouth for a number of years, and during her residence here made many warm friends. She was a woman of the highest type and held the respect of those with whom she came in contact.

Besides her husband, the deceased leaves to mourn her passing, two daughters, Mrs. F. E. McBride of Shiloh and Mrs. W. B. Cornett of Willard, her father, two sisters and two brothers and several near relatives.

Funeral services were held at the home Tuesday afternoon with Rev. E. B. McBroon of the Methodist church officiating. I. L. McQuade of Shiloh was in charge of funeral arrangements. Interment was made in Greenlawn cemetery.

FLORENCE ALLEN WILL NOT BE HERE SUNDAY MORNING

Rev. E. H. McBroon states that since Florence Allen, who was scheduled to give an address here next Sunday morning in the Methodist church has cancelled her engagement, but that she will appear in Plymouth in the near future. The public will kindly take notice.

"We Americans" at The Deisler Tonight

Reuben Deisler, proprietor of the local theatre here, announces that he has four of the very latest pictures booked for his theatre, and that they are considered among the best on the market today. Tonight is the last showing of "We Americans," a picture that has won such admiration throughout the country, and one that you should not miss. "We Americans" has been well received and critics have given it much praise. Don't fail to see it tonight. Announcement of the other big features will be made in The Advertiser. Watch for them.

FROM Our Point OF VIEW

A large number of the patrons of our schools will be disappointed to learn that Miss Grace Robinson has resigned to accept a position in the Shelby schools...

The resignation of Miss Robinson is but an example of what we will continue to experience until the people of Plymouth are willing to support a school program in which salaries and teaching conditions will be such that we can hold our good teachers in competition with our neighboring schools.

We have been reading for the past two or three weeks a detailed annual report from the superintendent of the Monroeville schools to the board of education of that village. The report in itself is clear and concise and is filled with information that the average person has no knowledge of.

There will no doubt be opposition to the new school for as in every community there is a certain element that would prefer buying an extra five gallons of gas a week than to contribute a few extra cents in taxation toward the betterment of local educational facilities.

It is plainly brought out by the Monroeville board that the plans, while not elaborate, will take care of the school needs for that community in every respect. There no doubt will be keen eyes from Plymouth centered on our neighbor's activities in this line.

It is evidently life imprisonment and not the electric chair that frightens criminals according to figures just issued in New York where the Baumes law has been in operation for one year which sends four offenders to prison for life. Rather than pay $5 per week alimony to his divorced wife an Illinois man committed suicide by shooting himself after bidding friends good-bye and disposing of a few valued possessions. This alimony was another motive for suicide inasmuch as the attention and the question is raised whether or laws and practices as to alimony may not make life seem unendurable to some. Possibly public discussion of the subject is what this man hoped to accomplish by shooting himself. Alimony can be fair enough when a wife with little children to support is given a divorce, but alimony can be most unjust when awarded to a woman who has wrecked her own life and that of her husband.

Is THIRTY the Love Deadline?

Elsie Janis holds a unique place in the hearts of her countrymen. She is one of the most popular entertainers in the world. Her early successes as star of "The Belle of New York," "The Fortune Teller," "The Duchess," "The Vanderbilt Case," "The Hoyden," and numerous other plays, were entirely eclipsed by the personal triumph she secured when she undertook to write her own play, manage it and star in it. During the war she provided the most listed men with such entertainment, such sparkling humor, that she endeared herself to them forever.

BY ELSIE JANIS

I have never envied a philosopher his power to philosophize.

The greatest moments of my life have been the ones I could not understand.

And now after reading Mr. Durant's soul stirring statement that no man can love after thirty I feel a great sympathy not for all men over thirty, but for Mr. Durant.

I would like to take his hand in mine and ask him gently what happened to him when he was twenty-nine?

Or perhaps I should ask what did not happen to him that has made him choose thirty as the crucial age when all men give up loving and start lying?

Because certainly most of the men I know who are labeled great lovers are over thirty—not much over—and if they have their way it will be years before they move on from what is known as the early thirties.

Is it possible that because they don't love they know how to love so well?

I can think of three men—if I'm not too conceited—who have been on my side of thirty.

And if these men did not love or at least feel all the symptoms, then I'm ready to hand over all the palms I've been lucky enough to collect for doing imitations for that trio.

They can divide them while I, with my pride in the dust, will be heard murmuring through my sob: "They ain't doin' right by me, Maw! They was only lettin' on!"

I believe Mr. Durant really said men over thirty are incapable of falling in love.

Well! Maybe the men I have in mind now and certainly had in heart at different times, didn't fall—maybe they just strolled in. I can only say that their service was satisfactory and to me, in my utter ignorance of philosophy and its "upercuts," they seemed just as capable of being in love as if they had fallen or even been pushed into that delightful state.

Mr. Durant said by love he meant true devotion. Ah! Now there's the catch. True Devotion!

To be devoted means, as I understand it, to devote one's time, attention, flowers, fruit, or what have'nt you, to some one.

Certainly a man of a certain age and a more certain salary can do that better than a younger one.

But true? Now if by true Mr. Durant means absolute fidelity, then I'll agree that he is right, only I wouldn't set any age limit.

Don't misunderstand. I do not mean that all men are unfaithful, but if it is accepted that "As a man thinketh, so is he," then I believe true devotion, though much more talked about than the dodo bird, is just about as rare.

I have been asked whether I think a woman can fall in love after thirty.

Of course, it takes the average woman so long to reach thirty that she's apt to be tired from holding out her days, but being one whose years have been added up by experts who remember the date of my debut as a star along with the dates of the Johnstown flood, Chicago fire, Japanese earthquake and other catastrophes, and having very little chance of doing any subtle subtracting, I am here to say that any woman who cannot fall in love after thirty ought to be psychoanalyzed, vaccinated or have her tonsils removed.

Practice makes perfect, and some times perfect bliss. To many women, love affairs under thirty can be classed as dress rehearsals.

Certainly after thirty both men and women demand more of love than in extreme youth, that divine period before co-ordination of mind and body exists. Please notice I do not mention the heart in the combination for I believe the heart is about the last organ to let us down.

There are surely men and women of sixty whose hearts still flutter at thoughtful attentions, kind words, and friendly smiles, but to love with the heart alone must be like trying to fly a plane possessing only a rudder to guide it and wings to fly with if it could only rise to the sky. My theory is that at eighteen the heart in its youthful enthusiasm leads here and there, the body following joyfully, the mind saying I should worry!—this is not my affair!

Then at about twenty-five, the body says to the heart, Pay a lot of attention to me. I won't always be as beautiful as I am. I'd like something definite. The heart says, Oh, come on, let's just browse along. It's such fun. And the mind says, It's about time I stepped in. These two are making a sap out of me.

Personally, I'm going to keep on falling in love just as long as I can find some one to rehearse with me. It may not be love but it certainly is extremely pleasant.

PAPA BIRD DESERTS EYRIE, VERMILION EAGLET DIES

The interesting observations of the famous Vermilion eagles, three miles east of Vermilion which has been carried on for over two months by Dr. Francis H. Herrick, of Western Reserve, Cleveland, and C. M. Shipman, of Willoughby, has ended.

A number of new factors in the of the eagle were brought to light and will be added to those discovered during the studies of the past six years in the revised edition of "The American Eagle," assembled and written by Dr. Herrick.

One of the notable occurrences was the disappearance of the male bird shortly after the observation had begun. It is not known what fate befell him as it has never been known for the eagle to desert its mate. Dr. Herrick's belief is that the bird was either killed or driven away by other birds in a territorial war. In consequence of this misfortune the eaglets were neglected to a certain extent by the mother bird, because of her instinct to do only so much work some time later the smaller of the two babies, through lack of food and abuse from its brother eaglet, died. From then on the mother bird cared prodigiously for the remaining baby until Saturday morning when the eaglet made preparations to leave the eyrie.

Dr. Herrick and Mr. Shipman have accomplished a great deal this year and are highly satisfied with photographs and motion pictures made of the birds. It is not yet known whether they will continue the observation or not.

SHILOH WOMAN DIES IN CHAIR

Mrs. Mary Adams Dickerson, Life-long Resident of County, is Dead.
Mrs. Mary Adams Dickerson, wife of George Dickerson and well known resident of Shiloh, died very suddenly about 5 o'clock Friday morning in a rocking chair in which she had seated herself after rising.

Mrs. Dickerson had been in the habit of arising early in the morning and she had preceded other members of the family downstairs but a short time. When they arrived in the living room, they found her asleep in her rocking chair. An examination showed, however, that she had evidently sustained a stroke of paralysis or an attack of heart failure and had passed away.

Mrs. Dickerson was past 73 years of age and a life-long resident of Highland county. She was the daughter of Daniel and Sarah Adams, and was born on a farm one mile east of Shiloh. She had been a resident of Shiloh for many years.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, Harry and Orland Dickerson, of Shiloh, two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Free and Mrs. H. S. Maring of Shiloh; and a brother, Charles Adams, of Butler.

She was a prominent member of the Methodist church, and active in the Ladies Aid Society.

What Will Seven Cents Buy?

Not very much in these days that's certain. A loaf of bread used to cost five cents but it has doubled in cost several years ago.

But there is one thing seven cents will buy that represents more now than ever before — and that's twenty-four hours of telephone service.

Seven cents a day — that's what your telephone costs you and it brings you a return in time saved and convenience that many times that sum could not bring invested any other way.

IMPROVED DAY COACHES

For some time the railroads have regarded freight traffic as their important business. Passengers were a side line, and not a very profitable one, either.

Recently they have begun to show a livelier interest in revenues from passengers, and that is leading them to take up the matter of improved travel facilities and comforts.

It is reported that the New York Central is putting into operation a day coach service between Buffalo and New York. There will be individual seats for passenger, screened windows and an observation car, with no extra charge.

If those comforts draw more passengers back to the trains and away from the motor buses and automobiles that have proved such successful rivals of the railroads, more equipment of this type will be built.

The railroads are likely to find the public meeting them half way. As motor traffic increases and as car owners wake up to the real cost of operating their own cars, there will be many occasions and reasons for loved enthusiastic praise from reviewers and critics. The unexampled success of the "Cohens and Kellys" was all that was needed to persuade Carl Laemmle that there should be no stop limit on the forthcoming feature. He instructed the production heads to spare nothing in the making of the new adventures of the Kosher-irish alliance, and the end is said to have justified the means for the production is now reported to be check-book with laughs, but the same reviewers have expressed astonishment at the magnificence of the sets representing the French Metropolis.

W. C. T. U. HOLD SPLENDID PICNIC

About thirty-five members and friends of the W. C. T. U. attended the picnic program held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Baitzell last Friday.

Mrs. A. E. Conant of Mansfield had charge of the devotional period using "Psalm 12 and centering mostly on the third verse. She likened the christian life to wells of water. In part she said, "We have three wells to draw from. Pardon, Peace and Power. They are wells of unlimited supply and require personal drawing, each one for themselves. Water must be drawn with some kind of a bucket. Faith is the bucket we use to draw from God's wells. Let us be sure our bucket of faith does not leak, for that would let out too many of the blessings that God has for us. We may have well, water and bucket but we can't get water without a rope to draw with. Prayer is the rope we use to draw with. Somehow we are to use the rope enough these days. We are to draw water with joy. Isn't it strange there is so little joy among God's people? We are to be so full of joy that we overflow. Until we are full enough to supply our own needs we can't supply others."

Misses Eleanor Searle, Arline Straub and Mary Elizabeth Hines gave two musical numbers which delighted their audience.

Mrs. Ray Long of Willard, Huron Co. W. C. T. U. president gave a short talk and read items of interest connected with the organizing of the dry forces in the south for the defeat of Al Smith.

Mrs. E. B. McBroom then favored the ladies with a vocal solo, accompanied on piano by Mrs. L. Z. Davis.

The remainder of the program was given over to Mrs. J. B. Weigel who led the "Parent-Teachers work and her trip to the National P. T. A. Convention in the Spring. Mrs. Weigel said this was the third National Convention she had had the opportunity of attending and she always came home feeling she was going to be just a little better mother. "The Parent-Teachers Association was originally organized for study of child but at this time Mrs. Weigel said, "it is commercialized too much. The parent must shoulder some responsibility but teacher has much too. Fourteen countries are organized in P. T. A. work."

Mrs. Weigel told one P. T. A. has solved the problem of social life for the youth of High School age by organizing a Community-Protective Association. She said the P. T. A. takes in so many things that it is hard to decide which is best. It is the object of the Research Dept. of National P. T. A. to find out what other states are doing and how these ideas can be used in other places.

"Another department," Mrs. Weigel concluded, is the department of religious training, and the need for spiritual training is great at this time."

Mrs. John F. Kramer and Mrs. Weigel's three daughters, Sarah, Edith and Ruth were also guests of the W. C. T. U.

Refutes Charges On Prohibition

"A message direct from National W. C. T. U. Evanston, Ill., to the local president, Mrs. J. H. Baitzell and read at the meeting last Friday p. m.

The women of the W. C. T. U. have been analyzing the acceptance telegram Governor Alfred E. Smith sent to the Democratic National Convention; and will base their education in part on a refutation of what the governor says about prohibition.

"One vital error in Governor Smith's estimate of prohibition according to the W. C. T. U. is his charge of corruption; and the W. C. T. U. will answer that with the following instructions to all members:

Prohibition is but eight years old; and has been the object of vicious assault by wet interests all that time. No tremendous moral reform has ever been accomplished without a struggle between those who wanted to better conditions and those who want to leave things as they are or worse.

The vital thing in prohibition is to break the chain by which the habit of drinking is passed on from generation to generation; and the abolition of the saloon has broken that chain.

The W. C. T. U. will preach this summer that a return to light wine and beer means a return to the saloon with all of its evils because there is no place to sell light wine and beer except a saloon. Eventually, the place where those things are sold becomes a saloon—just as has happened in Canada.

Governor Smith's repeal of the New York state enforcement law, characterized as the worst blow ever delivered at the federal constitution, has resulted in the worst vice conditions in the history of the country, according to a report just issued by the Committee of Fourteen in New York City.

The two democratic officers of the National W. C. T. U. Mrs. Sara H. Hope, of Virginia, Recording Secretary; and Mrs. Nellie Burger, of Missouri, Assistant Recording Secretary, have issued a call to the democratic women of the organization, and throughout the country at large to work to defeat Governor Smith; to work for dry senators and representatives and dry members of state legislatures, regardless of party.

Mrs. Hope, well known Virginia, democrat, makes this declaration:

"A great army of democratic women in Virginia will accept the challenge given by Governor Smith in his telegram of acceptance. His announcement of his determination to point the platform on which he was nominated, releases all dry democrats from obligation to support him and should get for him the active opposition of our best people. Party loyalty does not measure up to principle and to one's country.

Mrs. Nellie Burger, a democratic leader in the state of Missouri, and president of the state W. C. T. U. as well as being a national W. C. T. U. official says:

"Governor Smith is not only personally wet but is opposed to the 18th amendment and its supporting laws. I consider his election would be a world wide calamity. This is the most serious situation which has confronted our country since the civil war. Since the wets are consulting their followers to disregard party lines I am working for the same and among the drys."

"Governor Smith is his own platform. He is officially and personally wet" is the message to the W. C. T. U.

from the national president, Mrs. Ellis A. Boole.

"It is well known he is not a total abstainer; and the fact that the democrat platform is dry and that the candidate for the vice-presidency is a dry does not change his affiliation. The election of Governor Smith would be the greatest victory the wets can gain at this time."

requests for "more Cohens and Kellys" practically compelled the producer, Carl Laemmle, to bring out the Paris adventures of the laughably famous Irish-Jewish firm as a super comedy.

Vera Gordon and Kate Price, who created the roles of Mrs. Cohen and Mrs. Kelly will appear again in the characters they have made. Gertrude Astor, with a fan following all her own, will play her accustomed role of dizzy vamp, while Sue Carol, as Miss Cohen, will supply the rest of the good looks to the production. Charles Delaney, popular leading man, will account for the role of young Pat Kelly who falls in love with the two families into a mad rush for Paris to stop the racial mistake.

The director, William Beaudine, is renowned for the production of comedy dramas of the first water, having directed Mary Pickford in "Little Annie Rooney," "Sparrows" and others, and having been the maker of such hilarious farces as "Hold That Lion" and many more.

The writing and technical were selected with a view to making "The Cohens and Kellys in Paris" a greater laugh producer than its famous namesake. The story by Al Cohen and the titles by Albert DeMond have occasioned enthusiastic praise from reviewers and critics.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Phillips returned home Thursday after a two week motor trip to Iowa and other southern points. Among many interesting places visited was included the Shiloh Battle Field and Mammoth Cave.

SUNDAY GUESTS Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bachrach entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Cohen, Frank Cohen, Miss Rena Cohen and friend Mr. Ackerman all of Akron. Mr. and Mrs. Phil Cohen remained for a few days visit.

OBITUARY

ANNA MARY DICKERSON
 Anna Mary, daughter of Daniel and Sarah Adams was born April 4th, 1855 and died July 26th, 1928, aged 73 years, 3 months and 16 days.
 She was united in marriage to George Dickerson, December 17th, 1874. To this union were born two sons, Orland and Harry, both of Shiloh, and three daughters, Florence, Nedra, and Pearl, all of whom preceded the mother in death. One grandchild Orville Steel whose Mrs. Dickerson had cared for as her own, also preceded her a few years ago. Other immediate relatives with whom she lived to mourn her departure are the bereaved husband, two grandchildren, Eugene and Doris Dickerson, one brother, Charles Adams of Butler, Ind., and two sisters Mrs. Alice Adams Marling and Mrs. Elizabeth Ferris of Shiloh.

Mrs. Dickerson lived her entire life in this community and was a woman of great industry, a helpful neighbor and a most devoted mother to home and family. She was a member of the M. E. church from an early age and possessed a faith grounded in the redemptive love of God. She was a faithful member of the Ladies' Aid and was a beautiful quilter, a work from which she received much enjoyment and it was in her home that some of the finest quilts were made and sent to the wars.

Her favorite hymn was—
 On a hill far away stood an old rugged cross,
 The emblem of suffering and shame,
 And I love that old cross where the Dearest and Best
 For a world of lost sinners was slain.

So I'll cherish the old rugged cross,
 Till my trophies at last I lay down,
 I will cling to the old rugged cross,
 And exchange it at last for a crown.
 In the old rugged cross, stained with blood so divine
 A wondrous beauty I see,
 For 'twas on that old cross Jesus suffered and died.

TO PARDON AND SANCTIFY ME.

On last Friday morning she arose to begin another day of this active life, little suspecting that it was the dawning of an eternal day.
 The funeral services were conducted at her late home on Sunday afternoon by her pastor Rev. E. B. McCroom, and the body laid to rest in Mt. Hope cemetery.
 Those from out-of-town attending were: Charles Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Danl. Casabere of Butler, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Claud Steel of Mansfield, Mr. and Mrs. George McBride of Mt. W. F. GARVER
Democratic Candidate for Judge of Court of Appeals
(Fifth District)

"W. F. Garver, of Holmes County, has won honors for long continued work in the legislature. He has stayed on the job from start to finish, working over every bill that came to his committee, and studied others which he supported or opposed. He has known the effect of bills, and explained provisions as much as any other member. His bill books are filled with notations on the measures, and his volume of the code are well worn with the numerous references he has made in determining what changes were sought by authors of bills. Garver is impetuous and filled with earnestness."—From an editorial in THE CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER.

HERE'S REAL FOLLOW UP

There's lots of time between midnight and morning for Jesse Lehman, local baker, to think of things, and as Mr. Lehman is an enthusiast of airships, he generally dreams of the day when he might be able to take a flight all his own. As a result of this "midnight dreaming" Mr. Lehman wrote in for a catalog of the Waco, plane, at Troy, O. A few days later he received the catalog, and on its receipt a plane was sent to circle around Plymouth. It was just a co-incident that Lehman was on the edge of town and seeing the airship land he started toward it. Upon reaching the machine the pilot noticed the bakery truck and asked if this was Mr. Lehman. The pilot said they had been sent over from Mansfield to show the plane.

Of course, Mr. Lehman was surprised, but it goes to show that in a few years—just a few—there is no telling what development may be made in air travel.

Woman Dies

Howard of Norwalk has the contract and is doing the decorating. . . twenty years. But it seems that there were two women of the shack who had called themselves Mrs. Day. The coroner was told that the second Mrs. Day had informed the owner of the onion land the family had leased that she and Day had been married. The little ramshackle building is scarcely larger than a good sized garage. It was built for the use of onion field workers and was not meant to serve as a regular place of residence. Mrs. Day expired in the small room at the east side of the shack on a cot that was so badly broken that the feet of the woman sagged down nearly to the floor. There appeared to be little furniture in the room.

Public sentiment among the more progressive citizens of the marsh district has been much aroused over the case. It is mentioned that the county maintains a nursing department; that the Red Cross is well organized in the county; and that thousands of dollars are sent out of the county by well-meaning church people to care for the Chinese, the African negroes and others who live far from this land. It also is mentioned that a half a mile to the west of the equal id but live the Celeryville colony of thirty Netherlands, who are clean and all around good citizens. A Willard man stated that aside from the matter of sentiment and decency, it would be a good thing for the state agricultural department and the farm bureau to pay a little attention now and then to the Willard marsh onion growers. In favorable years a family of onion raisers will receive as high as $2500 for a crop, which is planted in May and harvested in September or October.

The children of the family appear healthy and normal.

Camp Lu-Bo-Ca

First aid, health inspection. The boys get information along these lines that have proven very beneficial in emergency cases and accidents. The nature study allows them to become familiar with various birds and flowers and insects. Dr. Geo. J. Searle, Jr. is acting as alternate for Mr. Miller.

The boys live in tents and furnish the major part of their own equipment, and those in charge state that they have never been associated with a more orderly group than the boys now at Camp Lu-Bo-Ca.

Public Forum

it be) to hold that office? Do the electors of this state of Ohio and the council of the Village of Plymouth pass these laws and ordinances to fill a book or to protect the public and punish the violators?"

Demand that the violators pay and do not impose upon the law-abiding citizens a tax for the salary of these officers. How many autolists inspect the lights or breaks before starting out, and if they are not in working order for safe driving do they correct them? No. "Well, I can go through this HICK town without trouble."

We see auto trucks nearly as large as freight cars parked on crossings, or drive with mufflers open or engines racing. Are these violators prosecuted? Vacant autos parked with engine running (General Code, penalty $25.00 fine.)

Mr. Editor, did you ever see one, only one of these violators who throw contempt and disrespect upon the ordinances which our council has passed for protection of our citizens, that did not fly for protection to the same law which they disregard? Answer that question. Do the people of Plymouth wish to see a similar catastrophe in our village as occurred at Yermont Junction July 4th, to wake up the residents of Plymouth to the insanities we pass by reason of reckless driving. Respect the law and yourself and others will respect you. Remember a $5.00 tin little can do as much damage as a $1200 auto.

Has Love An Age Limit?

Dr. Durant, noted philosopher, thinks so. He says in part: "A man over thirty is incapable of love."

This comes a blow to the thousands of dashing lotharios who never stepped out at all until they reached the thirty mark.

A score of brilliant Writers, Cartoonists, Scientists and Stage Stars have undertaken to answer Dr. Durant. Most of them are over thirty. All of them are witty and amusing.
