TAG SALE LIGHT

SINCE DECEMBER

Sale of automobile license plates since the final day of 1928 has been unusually small, due to the period of cold weather and unfavorable driving conditions in this section of Ohio, local auto club officials declare.

January sales to date have been smaller than recent years, although several thousand plates issued to this county's agencies remain unsold.

Allotments of tags to Richland county were larger in 1929 than in any year previous. Approximately 1,900 more license plates were shipped here by Chairman E. Wilson, state commissioner of motor vehicles.

Of the total number of plates received at the Richland County Automobile club—12,500—nearly 3,400 remain unsold, employees of the auto club stated Friday.

Unofficial figures compiled by employees of the club show that 9,150 plates have been issued from the Mansfield club alone, with an estimated figure of 3,000 issued from the additional four agencies of this county. Butler, Belleville, Shelby and Plymouth.

PILING UP THE TAX BURDEN

For a number of years past the Federal government has been carrying on a scientific and effective economy campaign that has resulted in a decreased cost of government and appreciably lower taxes. In contrast to this, local governments, city, county and state, have required a steadily rising amount of money for their upkeep.

According to authoritative figures, the various state governments now have a gross bonded indebtedness close to two billion dollars, an increase of more than $125,000,000 in a year. The indebtedness averages $16 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

What must be the consequence of this, is clear. We are menaced by governmental expenses that, when translated into taxes, will dissuade the prospective industrialist, discourage the investor and burden the ordinary taxpayer.

Government is a business, subject to all business conditions. Our great industries are models of efficiency and economy, besides which the average local government is prodigal in its waste. It is the thinking of many industrialists that government should consist of more and better business and less politics.

Shifting tax burdens from one class of property or one class of citizens to another brings no real relief—it generally means a greater total of taxes.

MRS. CHANNING DIED FRIDAY

Mrs. Margaret Channing, widow of the late Joseph Channing, died last Friday evening, January 11th. The end came suddenly as the result of an acute attack of organic heart trouble. During the day she had gone to the table for her meals as usual.

She was united in marriage to Joseph Channing to which union four sons were born, George, Albert, Henry and Edward, all of whom are deceased except Edward. In addition to Edward she is survived by one grandson, two great grandchildren.

He has proved not only a very able official but has shown a very pleasing and courteous way of meeting those who have come in contact with the board. Mr. Bond, however, is excellently qualified for the position and it is freely predicted that the new board will continue the commendable policy shown by the former organization.

LOSES DOGS

Allie Devore lost two dogs Tuesday on an extended fox hunt, which was held in the vicinity of Steubenville. Allie says its the natural thing for his dogs not to return with him. There were about fifty in the chase and all report a good time. Bill White of Steubenville, Fred VanLew and Allie Devore were among those in the chase.

DOG HAS "HEBEGBEEBS"

Moss Kappenberg's new dog, "Rags," got originally ill this week. One day the pup stayed around the house too long and it is supposed the earth "fected" him. Dr. Babcock was called in and he reports that the pup is now well on its way to recovery. "Rags," by the way, is a high grade pedigree pup.

One of the most outstanding and attractive displays at the American Goods Show which is being held this week at the Public Auditorium at Cleveland is that of the Fate-Root-Heath Co. The local plant is featuring one of their new 25-ton Diesel engines at the show and this engine is drawing the attention of many industrial men of the country.

Representatives from the plant who are attending the show include John A. Root, Chas. E. Heath, Percy H. Root, Halsey F. Root, Earl W. Heath, Floyd B. Carter, A. E. Ainsley, Geo. L. Smith, D. E. DeVier and L. R. Peters.

The Fate-Root-Heath Co., have one of the most prospective years ahead, with demands greater than ever and with new types and designs of engines in the making. This week a new 50-ton gas engine was tested out prior to shipment to New Jersey where it will be used by a short line railroad for passenger service. The engine was driven to Cayuga where it was weighed and speed tests checked. The test showed the following results: Carey to North Auburn, 31 miles; time: one hour, which included three stops. North Auburn to Plymouth, 7 miles in 10 minutes. Rate of speed: 7 miles per hour.

A development and research program which is being conducted by the plant here will no doubt bring many great improvements to the local community during the coming year. Just as the community wishes its greatest industry the best of success.

BEING BY RADIO

Now that television and picture broadcasting has become mechanically and scientifically possible, the transmission of pictures and sound, beginning to manifest themselves. The Federal Radio Commission has been obliged to restrict this class of broadcasting to "rigid regulation," because visual broadcasting disturbs audible broadcasting to such an extent that it is impractical to permit it even experimentally.

It sounds like tough luck. The problem now is to overcome the handicaps in transmitting visual radio. In time the answer may be found. The apparent impediment of one of the wonderful observations that while every dog has his day the cats have the nights. Perhaps it will be very interesting to see some of this night life by way of the television.

NEWS FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

COLUMBUS, O.—With the inauguration of Governor Myers V. Cooper by the Republican party is again in control of governmental affairs in the state of Ohio, only two other Republican governors having been elected in the last twenty years, the late Senator B. Willis in 1914 and Harry L. Davis of Cleveland in 1920. The late John M. Pattison of Dayton was elected in the fall of 1905 by the democrats and died shortly after assuming office in 1906. He was succeeded by Lieutenant Governor Andrew L. Harris, a Republican, whose term was extended to the second Monday in January, 1909, by a constitutional amendment. Judson Hammon then served four years and in turn was succeeded by Governor Jas. M. Cox, who was defeated by Governor Willis in 1914, and the former was again elected in 1916 and served a second and third term, being succeeded in 1920 by Governor Davis. Governor Vic Donahue followed the latter for three successive terms.

Ex-Governor Vic Donahue and a part of his family are now temporarily ensconced in their home at Indian Lake, a new house of sixteen rooms, lately finished. It takes a large house when the family get together for a reunion for there are ten children, six boys and four girls, and there are several grandchildren. For the present Governor and Mrs. Donahue, a daughter and two sons will occupy the home. The Governor will drive to this city several times a week to look after his new duties as head of an automobile insurance company. Three of his sons, Hal, John and Jimmy, have leased a flat in the Capital City and will engage in business here while another son is attending school in Boston, Mass.

Director John E. Menger, who is retiring as head of the State Department of Health, has been the recipient of numerous commendations for his supervision of that most important branch of state government. One of his last official duties was the issuance of a warning against the prevalent contagious influenza which has been sweeping the state and which in the last few weeks has grown more serious with its heaviest death toll in the young and the old. Director Menger states that there is a danger zone of at least five, and an average one who has the disease in any stage or degree, warn him every one to keep out of that zone to avoid the spray; avoid shaking hands and bow for at least ten minutes, all tableware used by a patient.

The emergency appropriation measure has been passed by the legislature and state employees are happy having received their pay, the first they have had since December 22nd. Bills are being dropped into the hopper at a rapid rate. Some of the important bills are the drivers license law to remove the election laws to the department of public safety to take over general law enforcement, new blue sky law, repeal of the Peace Law, creation of rural highway police system, reduction of gasoline tax from three to two cents, habitual criminal act, providing when Armistice day falls on Sunday the next day shall be a holiday and providing that in presidential years the state and national primaries shall be held in May.

The proposed new state office building has bobbed up again in the legislative halls with the introduction of a measure by Representative Gilbert Morgan of Cleveland. He would finance the new structure up to $5,000,000 from the teachers retirement fund, the money to be returned within twenty years and the site to be in South Third street across from the State House.

Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown and Commissioner of Motor Vehicle Registration R. Wilson have selected the colors for the 1930 license plates, maroon background with white numerals, giving rich effect pleasing to the eye. Thirteen hundred tons of steel will be used in the manufacture of 1,900,000 plates, the original order, which may be increased to 2,000,000 before the end of the year. It will take 8,000 gallons of maroon paint and 1,000 gallons of white. The plates will be made by convict labor at the Ohio Penitentiary and will cost the state at Ohio ten cents per pair for shipment.

The Parson's Column

The church, the school and the home are many times spoken of as the bulwarks of the Nation. Last week we dealt with another of the churches and the attitude of individual thereto. Let us now turn our attention to the school. Like the church and many other institutions such as hospitals, orphanages, sanitarium, etc., which are directly the result of the gospel of Jesus Christ (they are not found where the gospel has not gone), the public school system has come to be taken for granted. It is so much a part of our life that we scarcely ever consider what a wonderful opportunity, any privilege it affords, our children.

Much of the dilatoriness and, mischievousness, which frays the nerves of the school teacher could be avoided, if the home attitude could be changed. Some years ago the schools in a certain community were closed in the middle of the term for a few days, because of an epidemic of small pox. During the interim one mother was heard to say, "I wish the school would begin again so I would know, where my boys were. It just worries me every minute of the day to keep track of them." This mother's attitude is a very common one. Unconsciously she was looking upon the school as a sort of jail in which her boys were incarcerated, for a certain number of hours each day, thus removing from her all responsibility for their actions. If such an attitude prevails in the home, it is not to be wondered at that the child, who comes from that home does not take kindly to the restrictions and discipline of the school room. No child likes to feel that he is coming something to school.

What is the conclusion of the whole matter? It every parent would properly evaluate the benefits of the public school system and install into the mind of the child a sense of the privilege rather than the necessity of school attendance many of the problems of the teacher would be solved at their source and the efficiency of the system greatly increased.

DEBATE VICTORY

The people of Plymouth had the privilege of enjoying a good debate on January 18th when LaRue and the local team debated the following question: "Resolved that the United States should cease to protect by force of arms, capital invested in foreign lands, except after a formal declaration of war."

The affirmative was upheld by Mabel Preston, Mary Elizabeth Himes and David Bachrach.

Our debaters took the position that our nation should cease to intervene in affairs of foreign nations, especially our South American neighbors, for (1) Economics, (2) Military, (3) Moral reasons.

The negative defended our present policy. They held that our Monroe Doctrine placed us under obligation to protect lives and property of foreigners in the countries of our South American neighbors in time of distress.

The Debate showed careful preparation on the part of both teams. Miss Benton of Shiloh, Mr. Buford of Willard and Supt. Black of New Haven acted as judges. Rules for the decision were set out by the Ohio State University department of English. The final decision stood, Plymouth 2, LaRue 1.

A social hour, planned by the Home Economics department immediately followed the debate.

By winning this debate, our team is eligible to compete in the state finals. This is a worth while accomplishment especially in view of the fact that this is P. H. S.'s first year in the Ohio High School Debating League.

Let's watch with interest further announcements of the next series of contests and when they are held, let's give our team loyal support.

RED AND WHITE DEFEATS

Last Friday night, January 11th, the Red and Grey quartets from Shelby HI invaded the wooden court of Plymouth HI and were turned back defeated by a score of 24-19. The Red and White got off to a flying start and added more scalp to their large pile. Shelby HI's Reserves could do nothing against Plymouth's main team defense, while Plymouth repeatedly penetrated Shelby's defense at half time the score stood 16-14 with Plymouth holding the long end.

Taken all in all the boys played a good, clean game of basketball. Forward guards and center all were in top-notch form and it is should be everybody's business to see them going that way.

Give Us Enforcement Instead of More Laws

"The World Conference on Narcotics Education," says the Portland Oregonian, "insists on a twentieth amendment to Federal Constitution as a means of combating the evil it is organized to suppress. It does not appear, however, that passage of a Federal amendment would greatly facilitate detection of higher-ups who could now be heavily punished if convicted. The problem is not constitutional but administrative. The Federal government and states, operating under present laws, can handle the situation provided they will arise to its gravity as well as they could if an amendment were passed. "The true habit is abhorrent to all normally minded persons but, as the Commission says, an amendment to the constitution on top of our present drug legislation on the subject, will not secure enforcement. The program of the conference for a model narcotics control law to be submitted to all legislatures, is practical and should have hearty and unqualified support.

We have a prohibition amendment to our constitution but that does not mean law enforcement. There have been attempts to enact anti-pistol-owning laws as a means of crime prevention but such laws merely dodge the issue which is proper enforcement of our present statutes. Naturally, more laws mean more law breakers and in the past the multiplicity of laws has meant more loopholes by which criminals escape just punishment.

Fewer laws, more specific in character, with strict enforcement and certainty of serving sentences once conviction has been secured, would, in the opinion of persons experienced in criminal matters, be the best remedy for crime.

high tragedy. This is the "Macbeth" for which students and lovers of Shakespeare have been waiting—the play that will always live in the memory for its sheer beauty and power, the combined greatness of all the theatre arts.

Without curtailment this production of "Macbeth" comes from a twice extended engagement at the Knickerbocker Theatre New York which it was acclaimed the greatest event in Shakespearean history. The first play date on the "Macbeth" tour is Detroit where it has the special endorsement of Fred W. Green, Governor of the state of Michigan, and of John C. Lodge, Mayor of the city of Detroit.

"Macbeth" is the greatest achievement in the long career of George C. Tyler, whose annual presentation of famous masterpieces with all star casts are so well remembered. "The Rivals," "School for Scandal," "Treasure of the Wells," "Diplomacy" and "The Stoops to Conquer."

THE DOOM her he determined to seek his revenge on him.

When Warren leaped on the sinking ship, Mr. Bradford who was by this time beside Captain Morgan seized him by the collar and was just about to finish his revenge (on him) when there was a loud crash and then a flash of lightning. Captain Morgan rose limp and suddenly sank to the bottom of the small boat. Thanks to nature for saving Mr. Bradford from carrying out his revenge. Slowly the Captain opened his eyes and stared at Mr. Bradford.

Slowly his lips moved and he softly murmured: "God, save and bless Janet and Warren, for I want them to be happy."

Wearily, he drew a long deep breath and passed to the Great Beyond.

Meanwhile on board the Castamba, Warren was making his way about the sinking ship and just as the crash of lightning flashed, he stumbled over something. He soon regained his balance and stooped to see what he had seen over. He gave one glad shout for it was the still unconscious Janet.

Into the plane he fled with his precious burden.

Just then came a crash and the Castamba, sank beneath the waves.

The heavens declared a member of the crew sighted a steamer in the distance. Soon the good news was circulated and when the steamer arrived it took all the people on board, with the exception of Warren and the man who decided to go back in the sea plane. After bidding Mr. Bradford adieu, the plane once more went on its way.

Warren and Janet, having got settled by now were busily making plans for a little rest covered cottage. This was to be in New York where Warren was now to be assistant manager in Mr. Bradford's firm.

The moon and the stars were now shining brightly, disclosing the silver plane soaring high in the blue sky. For it too was happy. "What!" softly murmured the pilot glancing over his shoulder viewing the occupant's in the rear.

INSURANCE CO. IS DEFENDANT

New York Life Insurance Company Sued in Richland County Courts.

The New York Life Insurance Company is made defendant in a $20,000 suit filed in common pleas court Friday by Mary J. Seymour, F. A. Voegel and W. F. Voegel, doing business as Voegel Brothers, and the Constance Lumber Company.

The petition says that on December 22, 1915 the insurance company issued a life insurance policy on the life of Clarence J. Seymour for $10,000 and which was to pay $20,000 in case of accidental death. The plaintiff Mary J. Seymour was beneficiary of the policy.

The petition further says that on December 15th, 1926 Clarence E. Seymour and Mary J. Seymour assigned to Voegel Brothers and the Constance Lumber Company the policy as their interests may appear.

The insurance company, according to the petition, was notified of the assignment of the policy in writing and agreed, it is alleged, to send notice of premium due both to Seymour and the assignees.

The plaintiffs allege that on December 15th, 1927 a premium of $131.80 was due, but that the insurance company failed and neglected to send the notice as it had promised to do and which the plaintiffs, the Voegel brothers and the Constance Lumber Company, believed that in good faith would be done and the premium was not paid when due.

Later, however, the petition asserts the premium was paid together with charges as required by the company and that all of the plaintiffs in this action complied with all requirements and requests of the company and that all premiums due were paid as directed.

On April 15th, 1928 Clarence E. Seymour died, the petition says, death being due to meningitis gas poisoning and that shortly after that date the insurance company was notified of the death and a request for the payment of $20,000, as stipulated on the policy was made.

The plaintiffs say that no part of the amount claimed has been paid and ask judgment in the sum of $20,000 with interest from April 15th, 1928 and their costs.

FRIENDLY NOTICE TO DOG OWNERS

As I have been appointed Dog Warden of Richland County, Ohio, and have taken the oath to prosecute to the best ability the laws of Ohio, I am taking this opportunity to inform you that on and after the 20th of January 1929 that every owner, keeper and harbinger of a dog or dog kennel that has not been properly tagged and registered with the County Auditor of Richland County will not only be compelled to deliver up his dog, but will be infringing himself according to law and be subject to a fine according to the section herein published. It is entirely against my wish to cause any one trouble, but all dog owners, keepers and harborers must comply with this section of the law or be responsible for the outcome without any criticism on his part.

For your instructions the following is a section of the law which you should give very serious consideration: Sec. 56 52-14 "Whoever, being the owner, keeper, or harbinger of a dog more than three months of age or being the owner of a dog kennel fails to file the application for registration required by law, or to pay the legal fee therefor, shall be fined not less than ten nor more than twenty-five dollars, and the costs of prosecution. Whoever obstructs or interferes with any one lawfully engaged in capturing an unlicensed dog or making examination of a dog wearing a tag shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars." It will be my intention to see each and every one and it may be at a time when you are least expecting it so you better be prepared.

GROWERS OF EARLY POTATOES GO EASY

Early Reports Indicate Cut in Acreage in Eleven Potato States

On the heels of one of the largest potato crops ever harvested in the United States, with its resulting unsatisfactory price to the growers, comes the report that the producers of early potatoes plan to reduce next year's potato acreage nearly one-third in all southern and eastern states. Intentions of these growers to plant only 47,100 acres of early potatoes as against 57,400 acres planted last year, have been reported to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Growers of both large and small acreages of potatoes intend to curtail their planting, according to their statement to the federal officials. The government specialists call attention to the fact that the report of intentions to plant is not a forecast of the actual acreage which finally will be planted, but an indication of the plans which the farmers had in mind when they made their reports, compared with the actual acreage of last year.

"The acreage actually planted may be larger or smaller than this early report indicates," says the federal statement. "Weather conditions, price changes, labor supply, credit limitations, and the effect of the publication of the report itself, are all possible factors affecting the degree in which the planters live up to their announced intentions."

OHIO FARMERS PLAN VISIT TO UNIVERSITY

Thousands Expected to Attend Farmers' Week at O. S. U. February 4 to 8.

When Ohio farmers and members of their families assemble, they attract others interested in agriculture, from a territory with a wide radius. At last year's Farmers' Week on the campus of the Ohio State University at Columbus, 8703 persons were present. They came from every county in the state, and 76 of them were from outside the state. Of the number attending, 7746 were men and 1958 were women.

Officials of the University expect this year's attendance at the seventeenth annual Farmers' Week, February 4 to 8, to show an increase over that of last year.

Advance programs sent out by the University show 350 speakers for the week, with 244 speakers. Addresses, demonstrations, general discussions, business meetings, lunches and banquets are among the events scheduled. Men and women of national prominence are on the speakers' list.

Just 10 days more of the Plymouth Studio's Special Christmas offer Extension a hand colored in oil photo free with your regular order. Have your sitting made NOW if you want them. Plymouth Studio—Phone 737. No sitting without appointment.

A New Finance Plan of Interest to Purchasers of FORD CARS

On a "Time" Basis

This new finance plan will be operated by the Universal Credit Company, an affiliated specialized organization controlled by the Ford Motor Company and operating solely for the purpose of financing Ford Products on a "time" basis.

This is of special interest to prospective purchasers of Ford Products on a "time" basis. Under this authorized finance plan, Ford customers will have a finance service available which is sound and in keeping with Ford policies and standards. The plan is a nation-wide in scope and FOR THE EXCLUSIVE USE OF FORD DEALERS.

It is another step of the Ford organization in reducing costs by controlling operations from the mine to the consumer. THE COST OF THIS SERVICE WILL BE LOWER than any heretofore available to Ford customers on a national basis, and AUTOMATICALLY REDUCES THE PRICE OF FORD CARS, PURCHASED ON A "TIME" PAYMENT BASIS. It is a further expression of the established Ford policy of giving outstanding values and complete service to the consumer at the lowest possible cost.

The plan also contemplates the purchase by Universal Credit Company of sound and adequate fire and theft insurance, protecting the joint interests of the purchaser, the dealer and the company in the car.

The purchaser receives a policy of standard form insurance providing protection for one year. Such policies are issued by the Home Insurance Company of New York, the largest fire insurance company in the United States. The policies provide for settlement based on the actual cash value of the car at time of loss.

The Universal Credit Company and ourselves will work together in making this new economical Ford finance available to all purchasers of Ford products on a "time" basis. We will be glad to explain all the details of the plan, which applies to both new and used cars purchased from us.
