The Advertiser, Plymouth, (Ohio), Thursday, August 22, 1929

NUMBER 29

GRADE CROSSINGS TO BE REDUCED

Columbus, O.—Reduction of at least 50 per cent in Ohio railroad grade crossing fatalities this year is the announced aim of Governor Cooper, in a movement launched last week to require railway and interurban lines to provide more adequate signals on every crossing in the state.

Following a conference with the governor last week, Chairman Roscoe C. McCulloch, of the state utility commission issued an order on railway and interurban companies to appear before the commission August 25th to show cause why they should not install flashing light signals or other devices on all crossings.

Chairman McCulloch, referring to the 1,941 deaths at Ohio grade crossings in the last six years, declared it always had been the practice of the commission to erect special safety devices at crossings only upon application of local authorities. Often this was not done until a serious accident had occurred.

"Of course this system has been costly in lives," McCulloch said, "and the commission proposes to change it. We have 23 electric lines and 18 steam railway systems to be present at the August 25th meeting. Of the 1127 electric line crossings in the state, but 28 are protected amply, and of the 1750 steam railway crossings, but 716 are adequately provided with signals for the motorists."

Fatalities at Ohio grade crossings have steadily mounted since 1922 when the railway division of the commission first began compilation of information. That year the total fatalities was 281. In 1924 it climbed to 317. In 1925 it was 420. In 1926, 533. In 1927, 355 and last year the total was 1,941.

69 BERTHS REPORTED FOR RICHLAND

Sixty-nine births were reported in Richland county during July, according to records on file at the health department. Boys and girls staged a close race, with the boys being victorious by a margin of one. Records at the health department show that thirty-four girls and thirty-five boys were born in Richland county during the past month, making a total of 69 births.

Of the nine children who failed to be named, eight were boys and one a girl. The health department is suggesting that parents notify the health department as soon as they name their children so that records can be made complete.

TRAIN WRECK AT NORWALK COSTLY

The main street crossing in Norwalk was the scene of a peculiar and spectacular train wreck Saturday morning when an outgoing New York Central passenger train met head-on with an incoming freight. Although the impact was terrible both trains remained on the track, and the fact that the engine crews of both engines jumped, probably was the cause of no fatalities being reported. Street traffic as well as railroad travel was held up for several hours. A misunderstanding in some department as to issuance of orders is said to be the cause of the wreck. The two locomotives received the main damage, the cost of which has been estimated at

W. C. T. U. HOLDS FINE MEETING

Twelve members of the Plymouth W. C. T. U. and six guests enjoyed the business meeting and program of the W. C. T. U. in the pleasant home of Mrs. Wm. Bittling last Friday.

The devotional period was in charge of Mrs. G. A. Brooks, with Mrs. Sam Trager leading in prayer.

During the business session the following women were elected to office for the coming year: President, Mrs. J. H. Baltzell; Vice-president, Mrs. Russell Scott; Rec. and Cor. Sec. Mrs. Ed Phillips; Treasurer Mrs. J. K. Hester.

Mrs. S. M. Brokaw gave a reading, "Thanksgiving Ann" which brought out the fact of how we give to God and this work, so often just what we have left after our own desires and pleasures are taken care of.

One of the statements given by Mrs. Dan Clark was that, Michigan's Coach, Fleming H. Vest, said "If you should take away five hundred of the 11,000 students on the University of Michigan campus, a bootlegger could not find a sale for a quart of liquor in a month. My observation is that college student drinking is confined to a few smart sticks at the upper crust, and is done mostly on special occasions, such as parties."

In an article in the Western Christian Advocate read by Mrs. Florence Brokaw the W. C. T. U. leaders found encouragement in the following sentence, "Some have predicted that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union would go out of business after the prohibition amendment to the Constitution was adopted. They did not know where they were speculating. A woman finishes one job to pick up another, but she seldom quits until she finishes. The type of women belonging to this organization are not 'quitters.' They will pull the heavens down in defence of their homes."

One of the greatest jobs of the future for these white-ribbons was given in the statement read by the president, "If what is taught in the public schools will eventually come into in the government of the nation, then the children in the schools must not only learn the effects of alcohol and all narcotics upon the human system but also the evils of the liquor traffic as it once existed and the struggle the Government has had to enforce Prohibition as required by national law. The children in the public schools are coming up to the voting age and are like the tide coming in."

As Mrs. Baltzell had requested the women at the beginning of the election of officers to release her from the report for the coming year and they had not granted the request, at this point she asked the women to pray that the work among the children would be laid upon the heart of some christian woman in Plymouth that she might be willing to take up the L. L. work this Fall.

Mrs. Russell Scott, in an article from the Christian Herald, brought out the statement of Rev. J. S. Montgomery, Chaplain of the House of Representatives, who said, "During the eight years I have been in the House I have been in the Capitol every day, and I have yet to see a member of Congress drink, or indicate by his actions that he drank."

Another item of interest from the same article said, "A landmark of western America was the old Tabas Brewery in Milwaukee. Now the Pabst Corporation turns out from 40,000 to 50,000 pounds of cheese daily and, in addition, about 60,000 packages of a special cheese product." Looks like if the Pabst Brewery were shut down it would mean the end in thought of the 18th Amendment being repealed or modified!

Mrs. Sam Trager read a news item from the National W. C. T. U. stating that the National W. C. T. U. convention will be held in Indianapolis, September 25-26, and 27, and that the main objectives of this convention will be the planning of educational work for the electing of Congressmen in 1930. The meeting was dismissed with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Megargee, of Pennsylvania.

The September meeting will be held with Mrs. Cole, on Porter St., topic "A Law Observed Will Be a Law Enforced," with Mrs. Mabel Wirth in charge of the program.

TEAM INJURED WHEN HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

In the early part of Sunday evening as Lute Steele was leading his team of horses in front of his home, a Ford sedan, driven by Otto Copeland of Tiro, struck one of the animals, severely injuring it and doing considerable damage to the new car. The impact threw Mr. Steele to the ground but he escaped without any injury, while Allen Lacer, an occupant of the auto, was cut and bruised. He was given medical attention at the office of Dr. Searie. The mishap was a sad one, and the boys as well as Mr. Steele and they are lucky in that it did not prove more serious.

TRIBUTE PAID TO LITTLE GIRL

Martha Belle Williams, the only child of Clayton and Bianche Williams, was born November 16, 1919 at Plymouth, Ohio and died Aug. 16, 1929 at the age of 9 years and 9 days. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 with Rev. J. W. Miller, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

Martha Belle's mother died when she was a wee babe and she later came into the care of another mother. She was most carefully and thoughtfully trained, and was the center of her world. Her sweet nature and outside interests was due to the upstanding of her home.

In school she was a brilliant and promising pupil, a friendly and unselfish classmate and a sweet companion.

In the church school as well as in the public school she was a promising pupil. She was keenly interested in all God's teachings and carried those teachings into her life and bore the lives of others. In the community she had her place. She was an intelligent member of the Girl Scouts. On the street she had a smile and a cheery greeting for all.

Out of her home, her school, her church and her community, a sweet flower of childhood has faded and gone on into the fragrance of heaven. Her flower will live forever in the lives of her mother and teachers, her classmates and all the relatives and friends who knew her.

"God knew all about it, how noble, how gentle she was, how brave, how brilliant her possible future. Yet put her to sleep in her grave."

God knew all about those who loved her. How bitter their trial must be. And right through it all he is loving and knows so much better than we. So in the deep darkness were trusting.

One day we shall say it was well God took from her young boy earth's laurels.

And cried her with death's immortelles. Her Teacher.

Metz and was born March 2, 1881 near Plymouth, being aged 48 years. The deceased is survived by his wife and two children, Howard and Katherine Metz, and also the parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Metz. Chas. Metz had practically resided in Shelby all his life and was well known in the community.

SHELBY TUBE TO GIVE TROPHY

During the national air races at Cleveland the Ohio Seamless Tube Co. largest manufacturers of cold-drawn steel tubes for airplanes, will award the winner of the non-stop flight from the Pacific coast to Cleveland, with a hand-woven silver and bronze cup, symbolic of aviation supremacy. The announcement of the trophy was made last week by President A. C. Morse.

The cup will be held by the chapter of the National Aeronautical Association to which the winner belongs. Each year thereafter the trophy will pass into the hands of the chapter whose ranks contain the winner of the non-stop contest in the national Air Race.

Under the rules for the non-stop contest this year, the entrants must time their flight so as to arrive at the Cleveland airport between 1 and 6 p. m. on any day from August 25th to September 2nd, inclusive.

NEW LONDON MEN IN AIRSHIP MISHAP

Two young New London aviators were given a thrill Saturday afternoon at the airport there when the airplane in which they had begun a flight was disabled when the cylinder head blew off.

John Kelley and Bryan White narrowly escaped death when their plane had risen to about 60 feet in the air when the engine went wrong. The motor for head flew off through the air, connecting rods and other parts to the four wings. Young Kelley, the pilot, brought the plane to safety. He exhibited a fine and courageous spirit in the face of the odds that were against him. The plane, an old one, had been reconducted by Kelley.

COUNCIL TO BUILD FIRE ENGINE HOUSE

At a special meeting of the village council Tuesday night it was voted to approve the purchase of a lot 20x22 from W. C. McFadden, located on the corner of Erie street, where a frame structure will be erected for the purpose of housing Plymouth's fire engine. The deal will probably be closed this week and work will start immediately on the building.

Recently when an alarm was turned in the fire sire failed to respond, and the investigation showed that the motor was burned out. Council instructed Electrician Phillips to make the necessary repairs. The fire meantime a suitable location for the engine will be chosen where it may be protected from the ravages of winter weather.

GRAND JURY INDICTS TWO

At a brief session of the Huron county grand jury held Monday at Norwalk, two indictments were returned as follows: Charles Hirschner, Norwalk, non-support of minor children. Steven Markovitch, Willard, charged with liquor manufacture. Both men had been in jail for some time and the indictment was returned for this purpose, inasmuch as the next regular meeting of the grand jury would not be held until next October. The members of the grand jury with J. D. Post as foreman, are: Chas. D. Hirschner, Mrs. The Johnson, Metz, Mankie, Mrs. Carl Pally, Mrs. Crispie, Mrs. Roy Hatch, Blanche Shady, W. K. Seymour, Mrs. F. ## LOCAL RURAL ROUTES TO BE CONSOLIDATED

Postmaster W. M. Johns has announced that beginning September 1, the routes in the Plymouth township will be consolidated into one unit, making just one route, which will have a mileage of about 45 miles.

Donald Ford, the present carrier of route 1, will begin the first of the route making runs over the entire territory. The scheduled hours for delivery will remain about the same. The action was taken after the post office department had made a survey here of the situation and suggested consolidation of routes into one. Ford change came as a surprise to the carriers here.

FIRST RUN IS MADE BY NEW FIRE ENGINE

The first call for the fire department was made on Friday when a call was sent in from the home of Donald Ford. A fire started in a petition behind a gas stove, and neighbors came to the rescue, but there aid was not needed as Mrs. Ford kept a cool and clear head, and with a hatchet chopped a hole in the petition and with a garden hose extinguished the blaze before any damage was done. However, the fire ladders responded promptly and the first run with the new truck was made in record time.

SCHOOLS OPEN TUESDAY, SEPT. 3

The Plymouth Schools will open for a full day's session on Tuesday, September 3rd. There will be no school on Monday, Labor Day, but Mr. Miller will be at the building to set a text book to those who have not bought theirs before that time. Books will be on sale at the school building next week from two to four o'clock each afternoon and from seven to eight at night. It is hoped that all pupils will get their books before the opening day, September 3rd.

Used books in good condition will be sold for half price. Those coming first will have first choice. No books will be laid back and all books will be in a car case.

Following a run which has been in force for several years, children will be admitted who have reached their third birthday, or who will be six by November 1st. Children who will reach their fourth birthday later in the school year will be admitted. A standardized physical and mental tests will be given by Superintendent Miller at the school next week. He will be at the school at the before named hours, 2-4 in the afternoon and 7-8 at night. All children taking their examination must be accompanied by one or both parents. Because of the resignations of Miss "Bamber" who will continue her study of music, Mr. Fisher, who will complete his preparation for the ministry and Miss Lovvorn, who has accepted a position in her home city of Springfield, there will be some changes and rearrangements in the faculty.

Even though the new building is not completed, the high school will be organized just as it will be conducted in the new building. This will be possible by utilizing some emergency quarters, which have been made temporarily available. This means that all classes will be organized at once and there will be no change in schedules when the high school is moved. We will be quite cramped but can endure quite pleasantly knowing that relief is within sight.

There has been some apprehension on the part of Eighth Grade graduates and the amount of work covered in regard to our new six year high school. There will be no difficulty in this regard. They will enter the tenth year of school just as they did under the old organization. The time taken and the amount of work covered is practically the same as before. The chief difference is that under the present plan the seventh and eighth grade work is departmentalized, that is, each subject is taught by one who has had special preparation for that line of work.

Stops Constipation

The simple mixture of glycerin, buckhorn bark, saline, etc. (Adler) acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and relieves constipation in TWO hours! Brings out old waste matter you never thought was in your system. Don't waste time with pills or remedies which clean only PART of the bowels, but let Adierka give stomach and bowels a REAL cleaning and see how good you feel. Karl F. Weber, Druggist.

Our Street Lights

THE past few weeks we have had occasion to see the public square in total darkness and there is certainly a vast difference when the few street lights remain dark. It was on one of these dark occasions that we visualized the public square as it would appear if it were illuminated with white way lamps.

There is nothing that gives a town such a set-off as its illumination, and we are confident that Plymouth, with its square properly lighted, would cause much comment in this section of the state, and too, it would mean more and better lights for our Wednesday and Saturday evening visitors.

The Board of Public Affairs with a part of its surplus fund, connected with the donations of the citizens and places of business, as well as additional funds as provided by council could finance a proper street lighting system without any heavy obligations on anyone department or individual.

The Advertiser is speaking the sentiments of a great majority of our residents and business men, and we are confident that those in charge of the village affairs will give this suggestion serious consideration, for they are selected by the people and it is their right to give the people what they wish for as far as their power in office is concerned.

Suggestions for the improvement for our Public Square lighting will be appreciated, and there is no better time than the present to begin agitation along this line.

The Famous Bump

Sometime ago The Advertiser called attention to the condition of the streets. Up to the present time we know of, and the bridge agent that the town see that issued to give immediate re- know that the obstacle is at ck and dissatisfaction.

lated on the improvements in on Railroad and Mills avenue. t this fall when the rains and snow comes the stone will be more appreciated than ever. Our streets as a whole are a credit to any small town, and Plymouth should be justly proud of them.

School Days Soon!

Into the heart of almost every youngster there comes a real thrill and joy in once more hearing the old school bell. There is about as much ado at the beginning of school as the close, and this year there will be much more anticipation than ever in the hearts of some of our students, for instead of graduating in the old school house they will have the pleasure and honor of ending their high school work in a modern school building. There are many of our older residents, who today, enjoy relating their childhood days in school, and surely if their joys were so great and their remembrance so sweet, what shall the present day children think forty years hence?

Mergers and More Mergers

Business news of the last half of June and the first half of July seems to center on mergers. One that moved the pens of editorial writers in the daily newspapers was the bringing together of the Fleischmann Company, makers of yeast, vinegar, alcohol and other products, with the Royal Baking Powder and its allied concerns in food lines. There were inevitable rumors that a further combination of the new company with the Postum group of food product makers would follow.

Power companies and railroads and banks and makers of airplanes announced new combinations or new plans to combine. So careful a newspaper as the New York Times talked of the country's public utilities being aligned "into three major groups—a Morgan group in the East, an Insull group in the Middle West and a group on the Pacific Coast which is being discussed."

It was inevitable that the situation should arouse political and legal comment. Governor Roosevelt of New York, at Tammany's Fourth of July celebration, asked:

"Are we in danger of the creation in these United States of such a highly centralized industrial control that we may have to bring forth a new Declaration of Independence?"

And while mergers were in the business mind, Col. William J. Donovan, former assistant to the Attorney General of the United States and in charge of prosecution under the Sherman and Clayton acts, opposed to the Pennsylvania Bar Association of industry.

He would have a "separate court in which all parties entering into a combination should have the right to submit their plan for determination as to whether it violated the antitrust act." Moreover, "business acts undertaken in strict accordance with the approved plan would be immune from prosecution." (The quotations are from a newspaper report of Colonel Donovan's speech and not from the address itself.)

Henry Ford likes to carry on the talk of trusts and mergers and combinations by expressing in the Electrical World a fervent wish that all the power producing companies were under one control, that we had a real, not a boy's-man, "power-trust."—Nation's Business.

We'd like to give some of the railroad and others, who are interested a "bump over" the Broadway Street bridge. No action is reported by the committee in charge, but are certain that should the railroad officials take a ride over their famous viaduct that they would have a little sympathy left for the dear public.

LEGIONNAIRES TO MEET SATURDAY

AKRON, O.—Ohio Legionnaires on Saturday, August 24th, will begin convalesce upon the Rubber City for the 1929 state convention, this morning, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

One of the featured attractions of the program will be a visit of some 10,000 former service men to Municipal Airport where the Goodyear-Zepplin airship dock and factory is being constructed. This largest building of its kind in the world, is attracting nation wide attention, and the convention committee is anxious that every delegate view the massive structure.

The dock will literally stretch itself out over the ground when the sun heats down and shrink again when coolness comes, moving on giant rollers instead of being firmly anchored to its foundations.

Raising of the great arches which make up the backbone of the dock marked an engineering epic, an achievement entirely new.

This new dock will mark the home of the Zepplin industry in America which will mean much in future travel over long distances.

The two giant navy airships will be constructed inside the walls of this building, work being scheduled to start within a few months.

The Navy ships will dwarf the Los Angeles and Graf Zepplin, by comparison being almost three times the size of the Los Angeles and twice the size of the Graf.

Recent flights of the German ship have focused national attention on the operations of the Goodyear-Zepplin Company here. The Rubber City's new airport, still in the process of being laid out, has been described by U. S. Government officials as one of the country's best.

Development of the design of the new dock was revolutionary. It opens the way for still larger docks and ships because of the scientific principles evolved for housing and handling.

Dr. Karl Arntsen, designer of airships and vice-president of Goodyear-Zepplin Company, directed planning of the new dock. The ends are rounded off like the ends of an egg to reduce resistance to wind while the doors are so arranged that when opened they will not present one extra square foot of area to the wind.

This design is totally different from previous docks, which with their blunt ends, produce great pressures against the building. Moreover, when the doors are opened they extend out on both sides, making the building roughly T-shaped, setting up eddies and aerial whirls that magnify the difficulties of handling airships.

Construction of the dock has called upon American genius at almost every turn. The matter of corrugated steel for the roofs and sidewalls is one instance. A V-shape corrugation was developed in Pittsburgh that marks a new era in strengthening of steel sheets, necessary in the dock because of the great wind pressure. Mounting this massive house upon wheels or rollers was another tremendous task for engineers to solve, considering that the building is 1209 feet long, one city block wide and equal to eighteen stories in height. It was necessary to provide for expansion and contraction in cold and heat, else the building would burst itself asunder from the temperature influences.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or pain or griping. Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicines. It can be taken under no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every drugstore has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine."

OBITUARY

ELZA FRANKLIN CLADY
Elza Franklin Clady was born at Chatfield, Ohio, June 4, 1891. He was the eldest of a family of twelve children born to John Phillip and Daisy Ellen Clady, and besides one brother who died in infancy he was the first to be taken by death. His mother having preceded him on March 5, 1927. Practically all his life was spent in the community of his birth. He attended the public schools in Chatfield and early became a member of the English Reformed church there. Being the eldest in the family he soon learned the necessity of honest toil and gave himself without stint for the welfare of the home and family. At sixteen years of age he went along with his father on the section gang. Here he applied himself and by faithful efficient service soon won the confidence and approval of his superiors. This is attested by the fact that for nearly two years he had been the trustworthy foreman of the Plymouth section.

Mr. Clady was married to Anna Catherine Penberwood on June 11, 1927, and was the proud father of a little son, Raymond, now 15 months old. Since April 1928 he and his little family had resided in Plymouth where he has worked for himself in a position of trust. He took great pride in keeping his section in the best possible condition.

Mr. Clady's last illness was of short duration. Up until a few weeks ago he was never known to complain. Nevertheless a disease which baffled all human skill had fastened itself upon his vitals. And when he was removed to the hospital at Bucyrus with the hope that an operation would save him, after one week he was the most intense suffering during which time he expressed his readiness to go, he passed peacefully on August 17, 1929. His age was 38 years, 2 mos. 12 days. Besides his wife and little son to whom he was much devoted he leaves his grandmother, Mrs. W. Barnhart, his father, J. P. Clady of Chatfield, four sisters, Mrs. Mary Young of Cardozo, Miss Anna Beatrice of Bucyrus, Mrs. Clara Fried of Shelby, Pearl still at home; six brothers; Jay, Howard and Gilbert, all of whom still reside at home; also five uncles, six nephews and a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

He is gone but will not soon be forgotten. In the home and the community his quiet unassuming disposition, his generosity and helpfulness to those in need will long be cherished by those who knew him best.

DeWitt Creamer of Kent State was here Saturday and attended the Hatch Reunion. He will return home to take up his position as teacher of Griffith School on September 29.

Miss Leta Bridges will spend several days this week in Bowling Green.

FORMER TEACHER IS HONORED

Honoring Miss Clara R. Donaldson of Greenburg, Ohio. Mrs. Charles Russell of High Street opened her spacious home to any and all pupils who had attended High School while Miss Donaldson was teacher here.

Included with the pupils were their families, and several others were invited who had come to school with the honored guest.

Miss Donaldson first came to Plymouth in 1890 and taught for seven years, then after several years away, she returned in 1905 and taught two years as principal of our High School. She was also sent by the U. S. Government, as teacher to Indian Schools in Oklahoma and at Carlisle, Pa., also as a teacher in the Philippines.

Since most of the classes were represented in the gathering of those who had gone to school to this most excellent teacher, it would give one a fairly good idea of who the "Flappers" had been in the "Gay Nineties."

A potluck supper was an important part of the event and when the guests first went out to be served, the table was groaning with all of the good things that could be brought there, while a little later it was not the table but everyone about it who groaned. Some groaned because they had eaten too much—Elmer Trauger groaned because he could not eat more. Well, anyway, there was no indication of an eighteen-day diet and not one person mentioned the fact that he or she might have eaten grapefruit and Melba toast had they stayed at home, but it simply could not be done at Mrs. Russell's home. Everyone had a very enjoyable afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Daugherty had made all the preparations for everything even to writing the history of her life as an obituary which was read at her funeral. She had selected F. E.
