SQUIRREL SEASON OPENS ON SEPT. 15

The hunting laws of the state have been somewhat revised, and especially that section governing the hunting of squirrels. In previous years it has been customary for the hunting of squirrels every other year, while the present law gives the privilege of taking squirrels every year from September fifteenth to October first.

Hereafter, the dates have been from September first to the fifteenth. The rules and regulations governing hares, rabbits, squirrels, ducks and plovers are given below:

Hares or Rabbits: November 15th to January 1st. Limit: 5 in one day. Can be taken only from one hour before sunrise to one hour after sunset, and only with gun and dog or with gun. Sale only during open season. (See Section 1394.)

Squirrels: September 15th to October 1st. Sale unlawful. Limit: 4 per day. (See Section 1397.) Each year.

Ducks, Geese, Coot, Gallinule: Sept. 15th to Dec. 31st, and possessed during any additional season granted by Federal Regulations. Limit: Wild ducks, 25 in the aggregate of all kinds in any one day and not more than 8 geese or 8 brant in the aggregate in one day, or more than 25 coot and gallinule in the aggregate in one day. (See Section 1402.)

Black-bellied and Golden Plover, Yellow Legs, Jacksnipe: Sept. 15th to Dec. 31st. Limit: 15 in all of plover and yellow legs in one day; 15 Jacksnipe in one day. (See Section 1404.)

NEW PIPE LINE ACROSS MUCK

A crew of about seventy men are employed in laying a new pipe line across East Ohio Street and across the muck. Operations for the new line started at the Geo. Cheesman farm, and will run parallel with the old line to Newman's Corners. The pipe being used in the muck section is receiving a coat of paint and then dipped into hot pitch. It is said the muck soil is unusually hard on iron and steel, and that unless the pipes are protected they are soon eaten away.

It will take about five weeks to complete the pipe line.

CELERYVILLE MAY GET WATER

After completing a survey of Celeryville residents it is probable that Celeryville may have the pleasure and use of city water pumped in from Willard. The survey now being made by a committee of residents of Celeryville determines whether or not there are enough homes wanting the convenience of city water, and also for the use of sprinkling the celery gardens.

Meeting with the Willard council recently Messrs. Ed Sharpless, Jake Wiers, Jake Hothouse, Ed Wiers and Nicholas Moll stated what the residents of Celeryville desired and also their plans for the securing water for the town. The committee was informed that the proposition was very favorable and that to secure certain data and information it would be necessary for a survey to be made of the town and determine how many homes would desire the water service.

If the proposition goes through it will mean much to the celery growers especially in cases of drought when water is much needed.

COME! COME! COME!
An old fashioned revival meeting at Willard at Corner of Park and West Tiffin Sts. Will close September 8th.
Preaching every night at 8 o'clock. Sunday afternoon service 2:30.

It takes the girls longer to dress now than it did when they wore 3 petticoats.

MAKES PROTEST

The Norwalk Kiwanis Club has started a city-wide protest against the New York Central Lines for the removal of M. W. Durand, Norwalk agent, who has served the New York Central Lines there for over twenty-five years. It is said that the failure of Durand to see orders promptly to a train crew was the cause of the recent wreck in that city. A score of large shippers in Norwalk have joined in protest against the section of the railroad.

NEW ADDITION FOR F-R-H CO.

Construction began today on a new addition at the Fate-Roth-Health Company when workmen started excavation on the foundation. The new building is to be 295 feet by 60 feet and will be used as a machine shop. The construction will be of steel and brick with a gypsum roof, and will be located on the west side of the main building.

The Simon Small & Sons Co. of Mansfield are the contractors, and it is stated that the work will be rushed through and ready for occupancy in 60 working days. Mr. Small has a wonderful record in his record in the construction world, having built the two newest bank buildings in Mansfield, as well as a number of industrial structures.

Officials at the Fate-Roth-Health plant state that the new building will be modern in every way, with a desirable heating and water supply, and that a number of the latest and improved types of machines will take the place of some of the old ones in the present machine shop. The new structure and equipment are designed to take care of the increased machine work at the plant and also to speed up production.

This is the first part of the expansion program for the plant here. It is the plan of the company to build more additions next year and to equip the shops here to take care of the increase in business.

CORRINE SCOTT IS INJURED IN WRECK

Miss Corrine Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Scott, was painfully injured Monday night about 9:30 when the automobile in which she was riding with her mother and brother turned over on the Springfield Road. Miss Scott was removed to the General Hospital at Mansfield, where it was found that she was painfully but not seriously injured. Miss Eloise Sharer, and Maureen, the daughter of Robert Hanville of Willard occupied the rear seat.

The party had been to Mansfield and were returning home when a broken wheel of the automobile caused it to go off the road and turn over. It is reported that the mishap did not prove to be fatal.

Miss Scott is being removed to her home here today from the Mansfield hospital.

SCHOOL NOTES OF PLYMOUTH SCHOOL

The response to the request that pupils buy books earlier has been quite gratifying. We hope that all pupils will get their books before the opening day, Tuesday, September 3rd. The school is organized, and regular work will be done the first day. Pupils who are late in getting their books will get a bad start. Mr. Miller will be at the school building to sell books at the hours announced last week, 2-4 in the afternoon, and 7-8 at night. He will also be there all day Monday.

Beginning pupils who will have passed their examinations before November 1st will be admitted without examination. Those who will be six later in the school year may be admitted by passing a standardized examination. Parents will have children take this examination before November 1st. It will be necessary for one or both parents to accompany all children taking this examination.

FORWARD DAVIS TO DIRECT BUREAU

Among the long list of Plymouthites who have come out and made a success for themselves appears the name of F. L. Davis, better known to his Plymouth friends as "Ford," and who has been city ticket agent for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in Akron for a number of years. Mr. Davis has just recently made another step forward when the opening of a travel bureau was announced. Akron and he was appointed director. The Akron Beacon-Journal of Thursday, Aug. 1st, gives the following account of the new travel service:

"F. L. Davis, former city ticket agent for the B. & O. railroad at Cleveland, recently appointed division passenger agent, Thursday opened a travel bureau and office in room 402, Ohio building. It was announced Aug. 1st, by W. G. Brown, general passenger agent of Chicago.

"With the opening of this bureau, headquarters for travel information of every description, train schedules and booklets on summer and winter vacation resorts in all parts of the country, are established here for local travelers.

"Vacation travel advice and plans are to be the specialties of the new bureau. Complete itineraries will be available to any section of the country on application. The service will be free to all residents of the city.

L. Bender, passenger representative, will remain at his office at 228 S. Market St.

SELLS OVER MILLION DOLLARS INSURANCE

Howard Setzen, well known Shelby resident, is one of the most progressive insurance agents in this section of the state. Mr. Setzen, who represents the Northwestern Life Insurance Co. of Milwaukee, has sold over a million dollars in insurance policies in Shelby and the surrounding community during the past three years.

So well has he represented his company that in January 1928 he was appointed district agent for the Northwest.

PYTHIAN SISTERS TO MEET SEPT. 28th

Now that vacation time is over the Pythian Sisters will hold their first meeting of the fall season next Wednesday evening, September 24th at Castle Hall. All members are urgently requested to be present as important business will be brought up before the lodge.

Miss Ruth St. Clair and Miss Helen Dies enjoyed Sunday at Cedar Point. The trip was given to them by the Mansfield News.

Wolf Hunt In Richland In 1825 Would Thrill Modern Sportsmen

A wolf hunt in Richland county as in the day of 1825 would certainly be a real thrill to present day sportsmen, and especially to those who boast fine dogs. Now, you lovers of the wild, who like to ride horses, and hear the bark of dogs, listen to these few lines, clipped from an early edition of the Mansfield News, and brought to this page by "Bill Reed" an Old Timer on the Advertiser Staff, who says that there'll be many of our readers who will recall the old days:

PIONEER LIFE IN RICHLAND A Reminiscence of a Wolf Hunt in this County in 1825

One of Richland's pioneers, now 85 years of age, who has been a resident of the county since 1815 relates the following reminiscence of an event in the early history of the county which a friend of the News sends in for publication:

"It was in the winter of 1825, that what was then known as the 'wolf swamp,' about three-miles west of Mansfield. Six wolves got away, but one large, crimson colored one started toward Mansfield and we started in pursuit. It started down and crossed the creek where it was open woods for about a mile and a half. I happened to have the only dog that was willing to follow the wolf, and after letting the dog go—he in possession of a pretty good horse—I endeavored to keep in sight of them. The wolf ran crooked, thinking, I suppose, to baffle the dog, but the dog ran by sight and gained rapidly on the wolf. It ran up Vanhorn's hill where Juice Geddes now lives. I encouraged the dog and just as the wolf reached the top of the hill the dog clinched him. The wolf was scared and endeavored to get away but did not succeed. Reaching the spot I sprang from my horse, and having nothing but an old Yankee ax-handle in my hand, I struck the wolf on his head and he bit him fair in the teeth. It cut the ax-handle through, but did not break a tooth. The next time I struck him through the eyes and that killed him. My dog held on until the wolf was dead. I sat down and waited for the rest. The horsemen soon arrived, but it was sometime before the footmen could get to the wolf. I had a quiet horse took the wolf up behind him and carried him into town. Up at the 'square' we took his scalp off and I took it to the clerk of the court, Ezra Hedges, and received the bounty, six dollars. A man by the name of Russel, who rode three miles south of town, took the hide off and sold it to John Mann, the hatter, and took it for a dollar.

CHILD IS HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Kenneth Moll, 3-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Moll, of Celeryville is recovering from injuries received Friday afternoon when he ran into a passing automobile. A group of children had been playing in the yard nearby when the youngster darted out into the road, and it is presumed that he was sidestepped by an automobile, the driver of the machine not knowing that he had hit the child, drove on. The accident was not witnessed by any of the residents of Celeryville.

Kenneth was picked up from the roadside in an unconscious condition, and was rendered medical aid. Examination showed that the child had received a deep gash in the head and several minor cuts and bruises. Late reports indicate that he is getting along nicely at his parents home.

SHERIFF GREGORY AT COLUMBUS PEN

Sheriff Edw. Gregory, on a recent trip to Columbus, found out several things about our prisons and prisoners, and the Reflector Herald of Norwalk writes:

"When Sheriff Edw. Gregory went to Columbus Thursday to commit Steve Markovitch, a Willard distiller, to the penitentiary, he found that the punishment meted to life termers is not so bad. Leonard Lyon, who was sentenced here for life for being implicated in the killing of Detective Frank McGrath, is now a prison chauffeur. He wears civilian clothing and spends most of his time outside the walls. Recently he drove a prison physician to Cleveland and back. Gregory had a chat with him."

"Leonard's brother, James Lyon was executed for the crime. The sheriff found that Edw. G. Avery, sentenced from Norwalk on a forgery charge not long ago, is working on a prison farm."

"While at the penitentiary, Sheriff Gregory was told that Dr. James H. Snook, now in death row waiting execution for the murder of Theora Hix, seems to be one of the most uncontented men ever locked up in the pen. To wait the extreme punishment Snook appears to be worrying not at all over the outcome of the case. Gregory was told."

MAKING AIR TRIPS FROM WILLARD

Messrs. Blake and Hook, operators of the Willard Airport, have been busy this week hauling passengers to Cleveland for the air races. Several Willard people attended the races, using the airships for the trip. It takes about 35 minutes to make the trip from Willard to the Cleveland Airport.

GAS TO BE OFF ON NEXT THURSDAY

Announcement is made by the East Ohio Fuel Gas Co., that the gas service for Plymouth will be off from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. Thursday, September 5th. The cut off is necessitated by regular repairs being made to the line. All patrons are asked to see that gas burning appliances are properly cut off during the time mentioned above.

Miss Lois Briggs and Mr. George Lott were Sunday visitors at Putnam Bay.

OPEN RETAIL STORE

The Plymouth Dairy Products Company announce the opening of a retail store in the room next to the Plymouth hotel. The management states that cream will be bought at this location, and that they will also serve ice cream, milk, and other dairy products. A special feature Saturday will be a 10c cone for 5c. See their ad in this issue.

SHILLOH WOMAN DIES SUDDENLY

SHILOH, O. — A lesion of friends were shocked Monday morning when word was received of the death of Miss Bertha Pettit of Cleveland, but a former resident of this place.

For several summer vacations Miss Pettit had acted in the capacity of counselor at the 'crisis school' camp of Bryn Afon in Northern Wisconsin, and at that place she became ill on Tuesday last week.

While making an effort to reach her home in Cleveland in company with her brother, Ross Pettit of Wausau, who had been summoned to her aid, she became worse and it was necessary to stop at a hospital in Madison, Wis., on Thursday.

A few days of rest was recommended by the attending physicians who pronounced her trouble a nervous breakdown, but which resulted in heart failure early Monday morning, and a beautiful rounded out life was completed.

Miss Pettit's mother died during her infancy and she was raised by her grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pettit, and to the environment in that home may be attributed her success in life. She was a graduate of our High School, also of the State Normal at Ypsilanti, Mich., and received her B. A. degree from Columbia University, New York City. She taught her first school in Shiloh then taught in Bedford two years, and then was called to Cleveland Heights where she was a member of the High School Faculty many years and where she continued to begin work as usual next week.

From early childhood Bertha was possessed of a lovable disposition which was always cultivated, and with a strong and attractive personality, she was well fitted for a life of purpose and longing for only the good in the world, she became gradually stronger in mind and qualifications, and every step she made in life was upward and with the passing of the years the high qualities of her soul radiated in her every move. She made friends and kept them by her true friendship, and though her associates were always carefully chosen and these associates and friends sorrow with her immediate family for the personal loss which each one feels at the closing of the consecrated life nobly lived and nobly closed. She united with Mt. Hope Lutheran church when quite young, and was always active in church work.

During her young womanhood when she was teaching in the Church school it was by her suggestion that her class of girls purchase a piano for the church, and this with several other progressive plans were readily accomplished, thru her efficient leadership.

She was a charter member of Angles Chapter No. 322 O. E. S., always retaining her membership in her old home chapter.

She leaves of the immediate family, her brother, Ross Pettit and Howard Pettit of Wausau, S. Dickerson of Mt. Victory, and four uncles, J. E. Pettit of Cleveland, E. B. Pettit of Shelby, Wm. Pettit of Dayton and Lorenzo Pettit of Shiloh.

The funeral services will be held at the Belvidere-Yonge parlors, 1795 Crawford Rd., Cleveland, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock and Rev. C. P. Barnes of Norwalk will officiate.

JAMES LEWIS, 80 DIED FRIDAY

James L. Lewis, 80, died at his home Friday morning about 4 o'clock, death being due to infirmities of old age. Mr. Lewis has been a resident of this community for a long number of years, residing on the Delhi road, about two miles east of New Haven. The deceased leaves no children or near relatives, only his wife surviving.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home with Rev. Redd, pastor of the Willard United Brethren church, officiating. Interment was made in Greenlawn Cemetery, Plymouth. Chas. G. Miller had charge of funeral services.

The passing of Mr. Lewis removes us an outstanding figure in the pioneer life of the community, and the deepest sympathy is extended to those who mourn his passing.

SCRAMBLE IS ON FOR GAS LEASES

In Western Richland, Northern Crawford and Southern Seneca Counties.

With half a dozen oil companies and individuals participating in a mad scramble for oil and gas leases in northern Crawford county, western Richland county and southern Seneca county has been underway for several days and is warming up fast according to reports from that territory.

Among those taking part in the scramble are: The Pure Oil Company, The Sun Oil Company, Harman and Watts of Columbus; Richard J. Dadds, member of the law firm of Reed, Smith, Shaw and McClay, one of the biggest local firms in Pittsburgh, and Williams and Weir of Pittsburgh.

One farm owner in the vicinity of Ridgerton reported that representatives of four different firms sought to lease her farm last Friday. Big bonuses are being offered in the vicinity of Ridgerton where Williams and Weir who pioneered the field, last week brought in a splendid show of gas and oil on the Walters farm at Ridgerton. Harman and Watts are reported to have given a $200 bonus for a lease on a 12 acre field, near the Walters farm. This company is said to have between 500 and 600 acres under oil and gas lease in this vicinity.

Williams and Weir now have between 15,000 and 17,000 acres under lease in northern Crawford county. Over 3,000 acres are reported to be under lease in Seneca county, just over the Crawford county line, to Mr. Dadds. Dadds is a member of the firm of Reed, Smith, Shaw and McClay. This firm represents the Mellon interests and many large Pittsburgh based oil stores but the leases are said to have been taken by Mr. Dadds personally.

The Pure Oil Company is said to be leasing north of the Williams and Weir holdings in this county, while the Pure Oil Company is reported to be leasing leases in the territory where ever it can get them.

Considerable impetus was added to the scramble for leases by the announcement last Thursday that Williams and Weir had brought in a splendid showing of gas and oil on the Walters farm, at a depth of only 300 feet and had stopped drilling pending preparations for a test of the well.

The 8 1/2 inch hole is being reamed to a diameter of 10 inches to a depth of 250 feet where the oil bearing sand was struck. The reamer was expected to reach the 250 foot level today and Tuesday the 10 inch casing will be lowered and water pumped out of the hole from the top of the sand. This will allow the oil to come up if it is present in sufficient quantity. In any event this well will be sunk to the bottom of the present oil sand which has been penetrated to a depth of only 35 feet. How much deeper it extends is undetermined.

Present indications are according to Mr. Williams is that the well will prove a paying producer in the present oil bearing sand.

Greenwich News

MRS. DAUGHERTY BURNED

Mrs. Daugherty died at the home of her daughter Mrs. Daisy Ross Sunday evening from a stroke she suffered while at the dinner table. Mrs. Daugherty would have been eighty-nine years of age had she lived till October. While she owned and lived on a small farm in Ripley the latter years she came to Greenwich after the death of her husband three years ago, but trail health forbade her going out but little. Mrs. Daugherty be lieved in the gospel of preparedness and had all her clothes for burial ready and put away. She had selected F. E. Hines as her undertaker and Dr. Meente of Shiloh as the minister and requested him to use "The Lord is My Strength" for the text. She had written her life history into an obituary. Her first husband died in the Battle of Gettysburg and her second husband was also a soldier. Mrs.

Daugherty requested there be no flowers and no singing and her various requests were carried out. She was buried at Plymouth. Besides her daughter she leaves several grandchildren.

MRS. MEAD BURIED

The old and disbanding Methodist church at East Greenwich was opened again last week for the funeral services of Mrs. Moses Mead who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Crawford in Pittsburgh. Mrs. Mead was seventy-two years of age. Her husband died in 1921 and at that time was the Methodist pastor of the church at Shiloh. After his death she went to reside with her daughter whose family accompanied the remains to Greenwich. A brother, Mr. Moore of Delaware also attended the services. Burial was made in the Nineveh cemetery. P. E. Hines had the arrangements at Greenwich and assisted the undertaker from Pittsburgh.

DONALD WATTS BURIED

Sad indeed was the confirmation of the death of Mr. Donald Watts who was instantly killed at Muncie, Indiana, early last week. Mr. Watts was a boss under the Putnam Construction company and had gone for repairs for a machine. As he was returning in line of the company's service cars he was hit at a very bad crossing by an interurban car and instantly killed. Word did not reach his mother, Mrs. Jessie Watts, till the following afternoon. They read the news in the morning daily and the younger son Harold started at once for Muncie to learn the truth. The remains reached here Wednesday forenoon and funeral services were conducted from his home Thursday afternoon with Rev. Mrs. Goodacre in charge. Burial was made at Edwards Grove cemetery. Mr. Watts was one of five children. The father and an older brother Ross died some years ago. Besides his mother and brother he leaves two sisters Mrs. Inez Benedict of Canfield and Mrs. Louise Darke of Boston.

MR. MILLER BURIED

Mr. Dan Miller died Thursday evening at the home of his daughter Mrs. Tari Haviland of cancer of the stomach. Mr. Miller lacked just ten days of being eighty-years of age. His wife died last December and since that he has resided with his daughter. Another daughter Mrs. Charles Morris resides at Shiloh. Mr. Miller had been confined to his bed since the first of July. Dr. Meente of Shiloh conducted the services Sunday afternoon from the Haviland home and burial was made in Shiloh.

BITTEN BY DOG

Byron Geary son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Geary was bitten by a strange dog while working on the Mark Pickworth farm east of Greenwich. Several other men were in the field at the time of the accident. The dog wearing an Erie County tag came to the Pickworth house and bit their dog which was tied. He ran by the side of the little girl to the field but did not try to molest her but latched on the Geary lad. The boy perceived it was no playful tussle and held the dog till he was killed. The head was taken to Columbus and the report came back that the dog had the rabies and the boy should be treated. Dr. Reame of Ashland is giving the treatment. It was not thought the boy was seriously wounded but precaution seemed necessary.

RUMMAGE SALE

The August division of the Ladies Aid Society of the church of Christ had a bake sale and rummage sale at the rear room Thursday afternoon and evening which was quite a success. The businessmen donated liberally and the members of the society and the sale cleared about twenty-five dollars. Some articles were left and the ladies are planning to have a similar sale this fall.

FLOWER SHOW

The annual flower show of the Methodist church was held Saturday afternoon and evening and was a great success. This is one of the events of Greenwich and was viewed by many strangers that were much taken with the display. The display was unusually fine and the colorings and size of many blooms far above average. There were some very rare and unusual displays and all had been arranged by the exhibitors with an eye to having them present as splendid an appearance as possible. A chicken supper was served at evening and was splendidly patronized. The ladies will clear about ninety dollars on the afternoon and evening.

FAMILY REUNION

The Malone family reunion was held Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Underwood with eighty-four present coming from Wellington, Cleveland, Cuyahoga Falls, Shelby, Tiro, London, Niles, Elyria and the community surrounding Greenwich. This was the thirty-fourth reunion and was voted one of the best ever. The first generation are all dead but of the second generation on there were four present, the eldest was Mrs. Mary Dick of Shelby who is nearing eighty years of age; Jack Malone of London; Miss Eva Malone of Niles and Mrs. Edna Maloney of Cleveland. The third and fourth generation were well represented. Of the latter Mrs. Underwood is the eldest great grandchild. Of the fifth generation there is just one representative at present, the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dyrie Malone of Shelby. The very lovely picnic dinner was spread on a table in the screened porch and was self served. The gracious welcome of Mr. and Mrs. Underwood and their ability to mix with their company added much to the great success of the day. Dick Malone of Elyria was made President.

And There Was No Escape
Suppose you were in a room where there were hundreds of VERMINE and there was no place for you to get away. You would just have to wait until you were attacked and fell your BLOOD running from the WOUNDS that means life to you. This is the position your hens are in. Every night they go to roost the Red Mites swarm on them and the faithful hens cannot get away. You are trying to get eggs but the feed only keeps the mites alive as long as the hens live.
We have Wooster Perch Paint that is guaranteed for a year and Wooster Loupe Death that will absolutely keep your poultry house free of mites if you will follow our directions and you can do it with little work.

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion
Medical authorities state that nearly all cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning gas, bloating, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sour, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Pharmakon is a wonderful relieving agent in all cases of stomach, and bowel trouble. Pharmakon comes in handy tablet form and is not unpleasant to take. Positively does not contain any habit-forming drugs and may be used by young and old. Entire satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."
Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

TO OPEN ANOTHER MOTOR COACH STATION

Because of the increasing popularity of the transline motor coach connection service the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad maintains in New York City, and in order to provide more convenient facilities for the West Side, a new motor coach station will be opened in Columbus Circle at Central park West, in the American Circle Building, Monday, August 26th. It is announced by the Baltimore & Ohio.

The Columbus Circle station will be the fourth established in three years by the Baltimore and Ohio in greater New York, connected with the motor coaches between the stations and transline in the Jersey City Terminal. These are the Waldorf-Astoria Station, 19 West 33rd Street, near Fifth Avenue, the Forty-second Street Station on the ground floor of the Chanin Building at Forty-second Street and Lexington Avenue; and in the Central Building at Joralemon Street, Brooklyn, in addition to the new terminal at Columbus Circle.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish hereby to express my sincere thanks to my many friends and relatives for their contributions of beautiful flowers during my recent sojourn at the Shelby Memorial Hospital. It is certainly such manifestation of kindness that makes life worth living, and I am sure they were much better appreciated than they would have had I reached my ultimate earthly goal.

Again thank you all just as much as if I could do so individually.

LETTER FROM "PINK"

Here's a nice letter from "Pink" Becker, who is on a trip in the west, to his mother, Mrs. Alton Becker: "Pinkie" has many friends here who will be glad to know he's having a wonderful time:

Loveland, Colo. August 22nd, 1929

Dear Mother: We had a wonderful trip. We didn't get here until Tuesday night but we stopped in Norfolk, Neb. for twenty-four hours. The roads were all good except through Nebraska, they were gravel and quite a few detours. Our only trouble on the trip was with tires and we changed about eight times, all punctures. We went through Chicago, crossed the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers, also the Platt and stopped in Cheyenne. This is about as beautiful as any place you can imagine. We are up in the mountains in a pass which is about 1500 feet deep. There is a river in the middle of the pass which has a drop of 125 feet to the mile. We use the water to drink and wash, strange as it may seem, it is soft water. If the Grand Canyon can beat this for scenery, it will have to be about perfect. There are lots of rainbow trout in the river. Campbell, the fellow we came out with, caught two the first day. We can't fish until we get a license. There are deer, bear, mountain lion, and rattlesnake up here, besides smaller game.

Loveland, the town near where we are staying is about thirteen miles down the pass, which is narrow, the road is also narrow and runs along the river. In some places the river is one hundred feet below the edge of the road.

Last night, Campbell and I climbed a mountain about 1,000 feet above the house, making it about 7,000 ft. high and slept on a bed we made from spruce trees. From the top of the mountain we could see the lights of Denver, about 70 miles away. We could also see about forty lakes and reservoirs, made for irrigation. We are going to climb the highest mountain called Longs Peak before we go back; it is 14,000 feet high. We may go across the mountains to the western slope.

We are going to town in a few minutes so I will close. Pink

NEW BATTLE LINES OF BUSINESS

TARIFF planning goes on before Senate committees and sub-committees; tariff task thrusts itself into the Amsterdam meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce; foreign nations protest our tariff and statesmen say that protests mean much or little as the protests agree or disagree with the statesmen's views; Mr. LaMont pleads for the importance of the Bank of International Settlements; oil producers having made little outward progress at their Colorado Springs parley send representatives abroad to take up new questions of production and export prices.

The battlefields of business broaden always. Like it or not, we grow international. Mussolini's plans in Italy, the new Labor Government in Great Britain are no longer mere items to be read out loud to one's wife at the breakfast table. They are factors in every man's business. Raise the tariff on casein and the cattlemen of Argentina and Wisconsin, the publishers of magazines and the makers of wood glue are all concerned.

But the new battlefields of business are not all international. Every city, big and little, sees business re-forming, using new weapons, planning new attacks and new defenses.

New food combinations have engaged the business mind. An organization making and packing flour and yeast and baking powder and coffee might find itself turning on the one side to building a great bakery business or on the other to marketing its own goods through its own retail chain.

On new battlefields of business! All around us these armies of peace are re-aligning. It's a battle, a battle for profits and prestige but a bloodless battle and one in which, on the whole, the non-combatants do not suffer.

Nation's business.

In handling their women folk all men appear equally talented and equally stupid.

RED TAPE IN BUSINESS

Business is often contemptuous of government. "Government," says business, "is tangled in red tape and routine. It can't go straight to the heart of things. It can't let the individual use his judgment."

A true charge, no doubt, but can't the same charge be brought against business, particularly "big" business?

Not long ago a new man was called to the leadership of a great business. He found it tied up with system and routine. He found himself asked for decisions that it seemed to him should be made for others. Finally he said to one of the important men in the company:

"Why do you ask me that? Why don't you use your own judgment and go ahead? That is why you're here."

The man replied: "Thank you. Do you know that's the first time in the years that I've been with this company that I've heard any real authority?"

There's a danger in bigness, a danger in substituting method and system and routine for individual thinking.

Of these things is Utopia built: individual liberty, economic efficiency and social justice.

BRAWL TALK

Howling talked Press, a policeman undertook Mr. Joyce field meet that will be held at Newsum. Leo met on the lam with the boodie. He is week-end the weeps by a Niagara pinnacple turned t Master Jlova: Michlgar runs away with the man's money. i ven from his refuge by tear homb-

And once more you wonder, in spite of the indubitable strangeness of this talk, why it makes little impression on your imagination. You read it, but you have no desire to tuck it away in your memory for future use; and neither apparently, does the populace, for it certainly does not get into common usage. The reason, one suspects, is that it is futuristic; its object is to conceal meanings from all but initiates, not to reveal them. Thus it lacks the punch that goes with the slang that is widely accepted, for this slang is invariably coded, exhibitionistic show-off; and instead of concealed meanings it reveals them, sometimes with terrible intonation. So that croak talk, when you think it over, turns out to be no more than a sort of code; and a code, heaven knows, is the least interesting form of expression that was ever invented. There is slight danger, probably, that it will ever become a regular ingredient of speech. That is one danger to the younger generation that we do not have to worry about.—New York World.

SINCLAIR'S APPEAL

Harry F. Sinclair, the oil magnate sent to prison to serve a term for contempt of court, has appealed to President Hoover for a pardon and, if he should get it, it is not likely that the public would ever criticize the act, much less shed any tears. Sinclair was plastered all over with the slime emanating from the Teapot Dome scandal for which neither he nor a Republican administration responsible for it, has ever been punished. The petty jail sentence imposed on him for "shadowing a jury," doesn't in any way compensate for the crime he committed in collusion with Republican officials; in fact many believe that the contempt charge was conjured up as a sort of backhanded "tribute to virtue" made in the hope that the people might be led to believe that he was being penalized for his complicity in the attempt made to swindle the government out of a portion of its oil reserves. If this jail sentence be in now undergoing is all that he is to suffer, the president would be showing his contempt for the whole proceedings by giving him an unconditional pardon. If the government cannot or will not punish him for his real offense, it will hardly escape public censure by stopping at the infliction of this "slap on the wrist." Lots of men are now serving long terms for offenses not one-tenth of 1 per cent as heinous as that committed by Sinclair, which would seem to indicate that "even-handed justice" and the impartial imposition of penalties for crimes and misdemeanors do not always prevail in procedures under our American system.—The Chattanooga Times.

RIGHT and WRONG USE OF WEALTH

by Rev. G. R. Mente, Ph. D., Shiloh, Ohio

In closing this series of thoughts on earthly riches, I must call attention to a very beautiful passage in the story of "BIBI TRUI" by Lew Wallace. It refers to ascetic by the way side, when passing thru a little village, Ben Hur, one of the galley slaves, almost succumbed in pain and despair, until a young workman gives him a refreshing drink of cool water, with such sympathy and reflection of a most beautiful spirit of genuine charity, that Ben Hur never forgot the incident; the young man was the Messiah, and in anticipation of the real love of service for man, made this as the foundation of his mission and the key note of genuine religion, the symbolic language of all nobility; a cup of cold water given in the right spirit should not lose its reward. The one who realizes the real value of worldly riches and knows how to employ them for the benefit of the human race, lives under the searchlight of God's presence, which reveals to him the real beauty and dignity of life.

On a certain occasion the question was asked of the great teacher of TRUTH: "Who is my neighbor?" A wonderful question, indeed, but hardly properly defined; it does not refer to the party living next door and whose children are running over the fence, nor whose dog keeps me awake at night and whose chickens call my attention to the break of dawn; the great teacher was aware of the weight of this question, hence we are not surprised that in his answer he refuses to answer this question directly, for he knew that an insincere spirit was behind it, and that what by evasion he might impress the spirit of the inquirer, in the same manner as he did his disciples at some future time when they asked him the question, if there were many that would be saved? You remember his answer: "Strive to enter in at the straight gate." This was not an answer, but the words contain the fact that the number will depend upon those really seeking for salvation. Thus the lawyer coming to the master with his question and not satisfied with the answer to follow the law, the second question suggests itself: "Who is my neighbor?" The master answers with a story, flashing out the truth that could not have been otherwise obtained, when he relates the story of the good Samaritan. What picture of the real application of genuine charity, the little story is the burning question of the past, the present and will be of the future. Sympathy moves the heart of the stranger, he has learned the great secret of thinking more of others, then of self.

The next vital step was his approaching the sufferer: "And he came to him" the poet refers to this so nobly as he sings: "Somebody did a golden deed; somebody proved a friend in need; somebody sang a beautiful song; somebody smiled the whole day long; somebody thought; 'tis sweet to live." Somebody said: "I am glad to give; somebody fought a valiant fight; somebody lived to shield the right."—Was that somebody you?

A fine illustration of real application of worldly blessings is told us in the recital of the life of the great Gladstone; one night busily engaged in his study with a problem of state, that would give him a great political victory, when the mother of a poor dying crippled child begged him for some message of cheer for her dying child; Gladstone left his work unfinished and spent the few hours till day leading the child to Christ and closing the eyes of the dead boy. During a recall of this incident he said: "In that hour I suffered; and that hour is the world." No wonder that his speech carried the house of Commons that day; a message is needed; there is the great Niagara River with its Falls, the wonder of the world, but only of late has its power been utilized by man, while the little streams of waters of some inland sea, supply farms and herds of cattle with the needed water. My dear friend, we need us also the need of self sacrifice if we expect to employ our God given powers for the welfare of the world; he was willing to walk to the nearest Inn, that the poor wayfarer might have the comfort of a ride and after reaching his destination he vouched for the care of the stricken stranger, leaving only some thing for the future making mad provision for future needs. This answers very nicely the question of the lawyer; the question and should in like manner give us a clear insight into our responsibility to God for the things we do. Some hungry heart might feel the sunshine of love. A little story closes this series: A University student was talking one day with his professor along the country road, when they saw hanging on the fence an old coat and standing beside it a pair of old shoes, the belongings of the poor man at work in the field. "Let us hide these shoes," said the student and hide behind these bushes to watch his perplexity when he cannot find them. "My dear friend," said the professor, "we must never amuse ourselves at the expense of others. You are rich and may give yourself greater pleasure. Put a dollar in each shoe and then we will hide ourselves." He did so and they watched behind the bushes; presently the man came out, put on his coat and thrust his foot into his shoe, some thing hurt his toes and thinking that perhaps some boy had placed a stone into his shoe, he shook it, and the money fell out. He picked it up, shook the other shoe and in amazement found another dollar. He curiously having reached a bush-patch, he looked about on all sides, overcome for a moment by astonishment, he exclaimed: "who could have done this? Unable to see anyone, we knelt down by the fence and thanked God, telling him about his poor sick wife, needing doctors care and his poor hungry children, and how poor he was and how thankful to the giver the unknown.

A great joy came to the student's heart, I have learned a lesson never to be forgotten: I now understand the meaning of the words: It is more blessed to give than to receive.

The world needs more neighbors of this kind, it can never have too many; we can well spare the multitude forever mooning over social questions, searching for the boundary lines of individual responsibility, but men who do things, neighborly things, without regard to boundary lines we can never have too many. I trust that these short articles of mine will help us to go forth in the name of the great teacher, and assist in the solution of the question, which seems the most vital; let us be great men and women, whose horizon includes the whole world.

STUDY MENACE TO ORCHARDS

Scientists and Fruit Growers Plan Meeting at Jackson For September 10th.

A new menace has crossed the horizon of the Ohio orchardist. Brooks' fruit spot disease last year almost ruined the apple crop in the Ohio valley and this year is showing up again in serious proportions. It is a fungus disease which previously had been regarded as of minor importance. Active study of the disease and its control was not started until the epidemic of 1928 set the plant pathologists of the Ohio State University and the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, to work on it.

Successful methods of controlling the disease have been worked out and demonstrated this summer. These methods will be explained at a meeting to be held near Jackson, on the heart of the territory most affected by the disease on September 10th.

"While the disease has thus far been prevalent only in southern Ohio, it can become epidemic in any section of the state," says A. L. Pierstorff, extension plant pathologist for the Ohio State University. "It is caused by a cool weather fungus which has caused serious damage in New Hampshire, Maine, and the northeastern fruit growing sections."

Experiments in the control of Brooks' fruit spot have been most complete in the Schellenbarer orchard, seven miles from Jackson, and here the meeting of pathologists and orchardists will be held September 10th. The nature of the disease, its appearance, and characteristics as well as the formulas for control, will be studied at the meeting.

DOES Fertilizer PAY?

If you think it does, here are two suggestions

1. Give more thought to the Quality.
2. Demand the Best.
