JUNIOR CLASS TO GIVE PLAY

Class Chooses "Eighteen Carol Booth" to be Given the Evening of January 28th.

The Junior class will present "The Eighteen Carol Booth" on January 28th at the High School auditorium at 8:00 p. m.

The play is a delightful, swift moving farce comedy with a merry and surprising climax and many rapid fire dialogues. A very uproarious comedy is presented when Bud "The Eighteen Carol Booth" introduces his sister and by dressing up as her, fools the chauffeur who has orders to keep him off the place. The same situation occurs when the Crow the black bandit, is at large and has committed some robberies with a hand and everybody is suspected of being the crow, even Jack, the son of Benjamin Kingston, the multi-million aircle king. He is held because of his attentions to the daughter of Lyman Blonette. He thinks that Jack has turned his attention to his daughter because she is to become an heiress in three months. He is captured in the act of eloping with Alice and his capture is made possible by Anna, the maid, who gets information for her husband Raymond Barkville assisted by Alice and plays up the fiance of Daisy. Bud is passed off as her country cousin from Maine Bud is a student of Yale University of New Haven. Spite is added to the play by the quarrelling of Kitty and Billy. Billy has been engaged to her for several times and each time they return to arguing and break the engagement immediately. Bella, a lively rather boyishly slanting girl is always ready for a good time and is constantly making fun of Billy "the Wiseman". Cora, the lovely, old colored lady is a constant help to Alice and plays up the fiance Charles, the chauffeur. She is a cracker-jack at telling fortunes and is very distrustful of Barkville who she thinks is the crow.

SCHOOL EXPECTED TO OPEN JANUARY 27

The new Plymouth High School is now expected to be formally opened on January 27, beginning the new week.

Certain fixtures have not arrived which are essential to the plumbing. The state cannot approve the structure until absolutely complete, so that classes will not be begun as soon as expected.

HERE COMES LUCAS: WATCH YOUR HEAD!

The Friday night basketball game to be held in the new gym will be with Plymouth's old rivals, Lucas and the home teams need the support of all fans.

With the fine showing given last Friday night by the girl's, a game is promised that will be exciting to say the least. With the boys' it all depends on themselves. No one should be too confident.

PLYMOUTH AUDITORIUM READY FOR '20 OPERETTA

"The Bells of Capistrano" was given Wednesday evening of last week by the New Washington High School, an operetta that was most successful. Music, plot, and settings made the production one of the best of amateur operettas.

Bon E. Johnson, musical director of the school, was in charge.

With a stage equipped satisfactorily for the players and a comfortable auditorium for the audience, Plymouth would be able to present an operetta in 1930. In the past a number of fine presentations have been given including "Hercules of the Shaw," "Bells of Capistrano," and "Pickles."

How about producing "Martha" next year?

TYPHOID AND POVERTY FOUND ON MARSHLAND

Destitution has again brought the Marshland into the public interest with the report of a case of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Anna Trembell, a mother of ten children, suffered from the extreme cold besides the ravages of the fever, as the father lay helpless with paralysis.

The family, who traded onions for food and clothing, are left completely destitute at present, since the cold from the summer crop. There is no money for necessities, let alone for the requirements of the sick mother.

Mrs. Harriet Hunt, Huron-co. nurse, gave medical aid to the family, and some steps toward relief will be taken soon by the State.

Other families reported to be in the same destitute condition, caused a survey to be made by E. A. Bell, Huron County Superintendent of Schools, P. J. Pultz, superintendent of Crawford-co., H. Kilgore, of the state divisions of charities and L. H. Munzenmayer, state director of child accounting, of Columbus.

Alumni Curtain Now Installed But Awaits Payment

The Alumni curtain that was installed with the rest of the equipment on the stage of the P. H. S. auditorium, is not as yet paid for.

At the meeting of the Alumni last spring at the banquet given the graduating seniors, it was decided that the old graduates should stand the expense of the velvet curtain. Action was taken by the committee appointed by the Alumni officers, and the curtain purchased along with other stage necessities, thus saving money for a concern.

The committee installed all the equipment under the direction of the architect. The cost of the curtain, as catalogued, was $284. The scenery was $443, which totaled $727. By buying the equipment at once $332 was deducted from the bill.

The committee was composed of the president of the Alumni, Willard Ross, the president of the school board, A. Nimmous, and Supt. Miller of the Plymouth school. All action taken by the committee has been in accord with the directions of the Alumni Associations.

The total sum now held for the payment of the curtain is $179.19. The following donated: Class of 1928, $78.17. Class of 1929, $55.65. Dramatic Club, proceeds from the program given last spring $21.90. 1929 Mayflower profits $23.47.

It is up to the graduates now to prove their loyalty to their old Alma Mater.

Hopkins New Head of Farm Bureau

C. F. Hopkins, of Ripley twp. was elected president of the Huron County farm bureau at the annual meeting held Friday at Norwalk.

Robert Finley of Collins, O., was elected vice-president.

Friday's meeting, which was held at St. Peter's English Lutheran church on E. Main street, considered one of the most successful since the county bureau was organized some twelve years ago. 150 were served at the dinner and the county was widely represented. A number of leaders in various farm activities were present.

Fred Liles, retiring president, and the elected president, were named as delegates to represent the local bureau at the annual meeting of the state farm bureau federation to be held at Columbus in February.

DEPUTY SHERIFF BERRY ESCAPES KUN WOUND

Deputy Sheriff David Berry was accidentally shot Sunday while at the county jail in Norwalk, when a small Derringer vest pocket pistol was discharged.

While removing two shells which were in the pistol, the gun went off in Berry's hand. The bullet entered the palm of the hand, and came out above the wrist. A more serious wound was escaped, as the bullet barely grazed the vest of the Deputy's suit.

Berry will probably remain at the home on N. Hester street, Norwalk, for a time. No permanent ill effects are expected.

Independent Team Loses Friday Game

The Plymouth Independents played New Washington Friday night, coming away from the town realizing how Dutchman can play. The score was 27-22 and not in our favor.

However, the new team showed up some fine spirit and play and would go far if there was more practice. More teams would help them.

At the half the score stood 15-11. Hatch and D. Becker divided the honors for high score, each making seven points. The game was fast and some good plays were introduced by either team. If the final whistle had been delayed a bit, Plymouth would have brought up the low score and perhaps surpassed the opponents.

The line-up stood as follows:

Plymouth	G. F. T.
P-Becker, Donald	3 1 7
P-Rhine, James	2 1 6
C-Blackford, R.	0 0 0
C-Hatch, Raymond	3 2 7
C-Barber, Luvier	0 0 2
P-Shepherd	0 0 0
New Washington	G. F. T.
F-Schwenley	1 0 2
F-Kaple	2 1 5
C-Willicher	4 0 8
C-Ulmer	0 0 0
C-Nye	1 0 2
F-Felck	1 0 2
F-Bardon	4 0 8

Plymouth should support a town team that is willing to time and pep for a clean sport, and Plymouth will all these things have played with high school squad and are just as good now as ever.

Raymond Hatch is the present manager.

There is to be a home game soon. Let's support them.

INFANT OF KENTUCKY COLONY DIED OF PNEUMONIA

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Back interred the body of their six-months old daughter in the New Haven cemetery Tuesday of last week.

The family, one of the group of Kentuckians living on the Marshlands, started for their home state Monday but were turned back by floods and high water. They wished to bury the child in the hills of Kentucky.

The baby suffered a severe case of double pneumonia.

WINTER BOARDERS. ASK FOR DINNERS. While other communities are feeding the feathered residents, will Plymouth be too far behind?

Not so long ago we read of a man scattering seeds and grain along the fields and fences for the wintering birds, by plane.

No doubt there are many housewives in Plymouth who throw the crumbs from their tables to a cleared space in the yard. But let's go farther than that. For a few days crumble a slice of bread, or pieces of stale cake—anything in quantity, for these "boggling boarders" and before long you will have a troop of birds awaiting your arrival at the back door.

Startlings, nats-crackers, sparrows, blue jays, cardinals, blackbirds and a few robins will be in this gathering of the feathered tribe. The sleek stork and the heavy snows prevent the birds from finding what little living is furnished by nature.

PARSEL FUNERAL HELD SUNDAY

Mrs. Delbert Parsel passed away at her home on Mulberry street Thursday of last week, where she had been seriously ill since the Thanksgiving season.

Mrs. Parsel was well known in Plymouth, and the many friends at the services testified to her fine spirit and life in this community.

The Postal Funeral Home was in charge.

Willard Terminals Has High Safety Record of District

The Willard terminal of the Baltimore and Ohio R. R. had only thirteen casualties to report for the entire year of 1929.

The Chicago-Division, of which Willard is a part, led the divisions in the entire year for safety. Authorities from this division met at the Y. M. C. A. last week in Willard. Asst. Supt. T. C. Smith presided.

For the division, there was 64 employees casualties against 241 in 1929 a reduction of 73.4 per cent. There was one fatality, Conductor Wm. Johnson, Garrett, injured at Willard in December.

The Conneville-div. made the next best showing with a reduction in casualties of 63 per cent.

The entire Northwest District, comprising Chicago, Akron and Newark divisions, made the best district record, showing a decrease of 58 per cent.

Credit was given by W. J. Head safety director of the district, to Asst. Supt. Smith, Master Mechanic W. J. Harris, Market Examiner Dr. G. Edwards. Credit was also given to C. H. Rothcruy, storekeeper who dismantled 707 oil box cars and loaded the scrap without a single personal injury.

Pilgrim Lads Lose at Madison

Plymouth boys played a fast game last Friday night with Madison on the opposition floor but came out nine points behind, the final score being 34-25.

At the quarter the score stood 10-8 at the half 24-19. Plymouth had the opportunity to win the game during the last half but began playing loosely, taking futile long shots. In other words they laid down on the job when the ball might have been worked through opposition defense to the basket.

The game was clean, straight, and one of the finest meets of the season. A Madison game is interesting whether a close contest, or not, because of the fine spirit shown.

Ross made 8 points, J. Bachrach 6, Muma 5, D. Bachrach 2, Snyder 2, Weber 1.

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, Chalmers E. Wilson stated that the combination was selected because of the contrast and visibility. The plates will be manufactured at the Ohio Penitentiary.

Plymouth Girls Win Madison Tilt

Playing a fine game, the Pilgrim ladies cooked up a turkey dinner and served it to Madison to the tune of 19-13.

What was thought to be an inevitable slump proved to be only a period of inactivity, and the girls showed to the good work, only the future can tell.

Pugh played her usual good game with 15 points. If this forward continues to smile when she shoots, she will always make her baskets. Becker added pep to the game, and 4 points. Snyder, showing that there is basketball blood in the family, turned out a pretty game of guarding, considering that this is her first season.

C. Anderson played the entire game without a foul being called against her. Hackett and Shaver alternated positions as center and right guard, and Donnenwirth substituted for Snyder in the second half.

Madison's jumping center, White, scored highest for her team, making 9 points.

GUN GIRL HAS 114 BOY PALS

Custody of Estella Moore, Given to Mrs. Wyatt

The custody of Estella Moore, 17-year old Plymouth girl was given Mrs. Earl Wyatt, of Willard. The girl's sentence to the Delaware School for Girls was suspended after she was found guilty of delinquency before Judge Charles L. McClellan in the probate court, Mansfield.

On Tuesday morning of last week the girl gave herself up to Shelby police after confessing to shooting an unknown man who had given her a ride across the town. Whether the wound was serious, or if the man was hit, is not known.

Miss Moore left the restaurant in which she was employed, in the company of a boy friend, "Joe," at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. It required three and a half hours to persuade "Joe" that his jealousy was unfounded.

After leaving the boy's home she accepted a ride from a man who called her by name. When the man made advances to her, after parking in the rear of a filling station, she fled from the car and shot him as he followed her. The gun she carried was the property of the restaurant owner.

Estella left the home of her parents in advance to her, after companionship with men was objected to. A list of 114 "boy friends" was found in her possession.

Plymouth School to Be Granted State Assistance

State assistance has been granted the Plymouth school, according to a letter received Tuesday from Mr. Clifton, State Director of Education. A petition was turned into the State last week with the State Examiner's report of the new high school building and has been accepted.

The County Board of Education has been directed by the State to take action accordingly but as yet no steps have been taken.

The Plymouth school tax for operation is to be raised a mere one-third of a mill to reach the required point for state aid, making that levy eight mills.

A school budget must be presented to the state department, stating the exact amount to be raised for the operation of the institution. The State, if the budget is approved, then supplies the difference between the expenses and the total local support. There is no likelihood that the salaries will be cut, as the salary schedule allowed by the state is representative of higher than is now held by Plymouth.

The State Examiner, Miss Mary Haupt has turned in a complete report, and stated that she found everything satisfactory. The official report will soon be published.

Mr. Lee, representative of the Peabody company arrived Wednesday morning to begin the installing of the fixed seats in the auditorium. The auditorium work will be completed in time for the Junior play.

The state inspector has approved the plumbing. Classes will probably be held in the new building near the last of January.

BRADFORD BUYS HOME RESTAURANT TUESDAY

The "Home Restaurant" has again changed hands, and is now the property of Mr. and Mrs. John Bradford. W. G. Hyman, of Willard, purchased the restaurant from John Bradford the first of November. The formal opening will be today.

Here's a supremely good and lately improved remedy that is sold to you by druggists everywhere with the understanding that one bottle must give results that you can have your money back.

Ask for Allenu—it comes in big bottles and is not expensive. Take it as directed—it's a quick, active remedy and one that you can depend upon even when the pains are most severe and fever is rampant.

It's anti-pyretic—an analgesic and hypnotic—and leading druggists all over America are glad to recommend it.

but team work—ha, it isn't. Defense? eHally, it was pathetic! Well, gang, better luck next time.

Three long cheer. Also a couple hoo-rays, and shall we add a big girls, Rah! What we mean to say is—great going girls!

Well, Jenkins Men, I suppose you meant well, so you have my sympathy.

It is said that the game at Madison was a decided contrast to the one with Lexington, as to a cleanly fought contest. That's very nice, boys.

Perhaps you know, or don't you, that the Cleveland Rosenblums have succeeded in knocking off the title for the first half of the league season. Interesting, also true. Hey?

Have you heard of the "Great Shires"? Well, everybody else has. Anyway Commissioner Landis, the grand old man of baseball, wishes to succeed in knocking off the title for the first half of the league season. Interesting, also true. Hey?

Well, gang, let's forget the past and look into the future. Let's dream dreams and build air-castles. Let's imagine things. We'll suppose that Lucas has come to Plymouth minus Zoya, the six foot giant, who used to pile up point after point. We'll imagine also, that they lack the services of their great star Mowery, result?

Ah, the future looks far too rosy. But we'll get on. The result—Plymouth 45—Lucas 23.

There, the cat's out of the bag!

Of course, she is experiencing the first season on the floor, and there are lots of criticisms that could be made. But when all is said and done—wouldn't you say that little Eleanor is doing her darndest, and in the Madison game that was quite good for P. H. S.?

There is supposed to be an Alumni game sometime. Just for an idea, we understand the following are going to participate in the clash—H. Becker,

A. Halo, M. Sheeley, A. Steele. Not so bad?

The team above girls played on used to practice with the former eighth grade team—that is—the present high school squad. That's some encouragement.

DO YOU REMEMBER

Away back about 1889, James Gillispie employed from ten to twelve people to pick and prepare poultry for the holiday market. The workshop was a building, once a church, located in the second left hand block down Sandusky street. One season, an elderly lady known as Liz Boelman, another Plymouth citizen was assisting, John Frome.

One cold morning the lady was sitting beside the stove warming her hands. It was yet dark. John opened the door and came rushing into the room, and over he went—over Lizy, Gillispie, hurrying in thought the stove had collapsed, but upon stirring a match discovered the two together, people, too surprised to pick themselves up. The accident would have been avoided had not both concerned been deaf.

Pilgrims Beat Willard 19-14

The Willard-Plymouth battle, long awaited, was begun with the odds even. The game in the first quarter was under the Plymouth basket, and if all first shots had been made, Willard would have been stamped.

Ross started the scoring with a pretty throw, and the baskets flew in. Snyder and J. Bachrach followed. Three more points were run up by free throws. After the Pilgrims once started they gave the basket ball fans one of the prettiest first quarters played this season.

The quarter score was 9-0. Willard made her first point from the foul line.

From then to the half the game practically stood still. Willard stopped the onslaught until the Pilgrim captain called time out. The score at the half stood 10-3.

At the beginning of the third quarter Mumea made good a long shot, bringing the score to 8. They then made the score 7 to Plymouth's 18, with 8 minutes yet to play.

With the fourth quarter Willard began definite action and by taking long shots Plymouth began to slump. Reviving a bit they began to work their plays closer to the home basket. Mumea was knocked around some in the last quarter, but continued the game. Sands, Willard, was sent to the floor for a time. D. Bachrach and a visiting player were sent from the floor. A Willard man, substituted three times, was refused play by the scorekeeper.

Willard finished the game with four men, and those four served to run the score to 14. They put up a fine game against odds. Jenkins called substitutions. From that point to the end the game was principally shots from the foul line and racing on the floor.

Plymouth Reserves Lose Willard Game

A runaway game was the Willard-Plymouth Reserve clash. We almost fear that Plymouth, in the first half, ran the other way.

Shepherd, Moore and St. Clair each donated one point to total 3 to Willard's 15 when the half was called. However, practice makes perfect, and there is material in the squad.

A slow game in the third quarter brought the score up a slight degree while the visiting boys it seemed to be a game of how many different ways the ball could get in the basket.

St. Clair made a shot from the center line just before the final whistle blew, marking the scoreboard up 38-10. Better luck next time.

BALANCED

While Californians and Floridians versify about their climate, just what is there about the middle west that so many of us are yet here—enough to make Ohio one of the most densely populated states in the Union.

From the Southern and Western states comes sympathy—expressed in letters and statements—for us, that we must stand the deplorable weather that holds its grip from November until April. Are we really so in need of sympathy?

During the last summer California was suffering a destructive drought while we could number the days on our fingers that the grass was withered from heat and lack of moisture.

In this territory we are not subject to earthquakes—which frequently take a toll in lives.

When a cold wave strikes the south it is felt immediately, and is considered unduly severe. We, who are more used to the wind howling while the thermometer registers five degrees below zero, are able to withstand the cold days and nights.

And then, who is it that does not admire the clean white sweep of the fields newly covered with snow? It is a picture—the pine limbs bowed with their weight of snow, the stars glittering coldly, and a cheery glow from the window of some home. There are yet sleigh bells to be heard.

After a snow storm, and a cold wave, there is a common bond of kinship between all in a community.

Then after the snow—no spring. Where is there such weather found, as that which comes with the Northern spring?

"WHEN THERE'S ONE, THERE'S THREE"

We, who are of a modern turn of mind, would be shocked to have any person accuse us of being superstitious. In fact, the statement would probably be resented.

Our forefathers passed their entire lives on superstition. A perfect illustration is the poem "Caliban on Setebos" by Robert Browning. The savage's life was controlled in every motive by his belief in some mystic power and by the superstition that every move made might be retaliated. In his philosophy, builded while he lay basking in the sun with his toes wriggling in the mud, he made himself omnipotent, but ran howling to shelter when a thunder storm bowed the trees, thinking it Setebos' revenge.

Several thousand years later Rosetti allowed 'Sister Helen' to revenge her desertion by melting a wax image of the false lover, thus causing him to suffer a slow death, smitten by an unknown malady.

Not a year ago, the leader of a strange cult embalmed the body of her daughter, and secreted it under the floor of the temple home, believing the girl would return to life.

How many doctors and a ladder standing in a business district? How many notice a black cat crossing their path, while a gray animal would go unnoticed?

How many of you, when two Plymouth deaths were reported in last week's paper, said, "I wonder where the third death will be?" There were three deaths. Are you superstitious?

FEAR IN THE DARK

When one experiences fear in the dark, the only guaranteed remedy is an overdose of darkness. The only antidote for the mountain is to think it into a molehill.

The obstacle that is dreaded the most, is thrice the actual size when seen a mile away and as one approaches dwindles constantly. After the actual attack on the object causing the dread, the natural sentence is "That is not as bad as I expected it to be."

If a kernel of corn was placed beside a tall, well developed stalk the fact of the evolution would be accepted, but it would not be understood. The biggest factor in the growth and transfiguration of the kernel is determination. Likewise, the most deciding factor about the job that looms just ahead is the determination.

The most distressing failures are made by men who are frightened by the apparently huge job awaiting them, and who back out of their assignments rather than strike their spade in the ground and hit stone.

Are those who attempt the grade and yet do not reach the top to be considered failures? We think not. The only failures are made by those who are frightened by the elongated shadow.

If only the start is made, the hardest step has been taken.

We sometimes wonder if the human race is as human as it is supposed to be. On Monday the headlines told of the death of Janet Blood, Cleveland High School girl, shot for no reason at all by a fiend. The gunman yet lives, while a grief-stricken father is alone, without the girl who whispered goodbye to him as she died.

Now is about the time for those perfectly good resolutions made January 1st, to begin to tarnish.

This problem was sprung upon the unsuspecting not so long ago. Figure it out. A basketball player was called for traveling. He objected on this explanation. He was standing on one marked spot with the ball under his arm. Attempting to elude his guard he took five steps making a circle back to the spot from which he started.

Now the definition of traveling is moving from one point to another, and the player insisted that the beginning and terminating point were the same. Therefore, geometrically, this lad was not traveling.

Of course every man would like to be his own boss but then all of us can't remain bachelors.

It is said that keeping the sidewalks clean of snow in Scotland is a simple task. After a heavy snowfall the mayor drops a coin in the snow and announces that he has lost a shilling.

The Woman's Bureau of the Department of Labor says that the woman is steadily growing older. Well it's true in the old days she didn't have to spend much money for silk hose, rouge and cigarettes and to take a bawling out from the traffic cop.

Another indication that spring can't be so very far away is that the baseball comment is beginning to creep back into the sporting sections of the city newspapers.

NOTES BY A COUNTRY EDITOR

MISBRANDED FEED

When a stockman buys feed he has a right to expect that he is getting what he pays for. Misbranding of stock feeds is in violation of the pure food and drug act. And that's why inspectors sent out by the Feed and Fertilizer Division of the Ohio Department of Agriculture keep close check on these commodities.

Recently orders were issued for the seizure and condemnation of 100 sacks of dairy food manufactured by the Greendale Mills, Inc. of Lawrenceburg, Indiana, and shipped to the Grove City Farmers' Exchange.

Chief D. M. Odaffer of the Feeds and Fertilizer Division declares that the sacks were branded with the claim that they contained 24 per cent proteins, whereas analysis shows but 20 per cent. Relentless warfare is to be waged against these practices, Mr. Odaffer claims, and many more sacks of feed not up to standard will be confiscated.

BRINGING BACK DEER

Sports clubs in Coshocton County have announced a project to restock that county with wild deer at private expense. Five deer, secured through the Conservation Division, at about $50 per head, will be the first allotment.

This is the answer to the act of hunters who recently killed the only known wild deer at large in Coshocton County. A mature doe is reported to be making its home in the woods of Holmes County, next northward.

HALF TURKEYS

The Department of Agriculture has had a suggestion from Washington table a plan for the sale of half-turkeys be advocated in advance of Thanks giving Day, as an economic step, that should cut turkey on perhaps twice as many tables, and stabilize the market for turkeys. Officials say in the average turkey consumption of one person at one meal is estimated at six ounces, and consequently a "10 pound bird seems more than is required by a family of the average size."

Turkey raising is coming back strong in Ohio, under revised methods of propagation, authorities declare.

WIFE AND KIDS GET AN EVEN BREAK AT O. S. U.

Farm women and farm boys and girls will get an even break with the head of the house on the program of the eighteenth annual Farmers' Week at Ohio State University at Columbus, February 9 to 17. Plenty of meetings, discussions, and attractions will be available for the other members of the household while the dad is taking in the team-plowing demonstration or a lecture on the use of fertilizer.

The New Fordson Tractor

M. D. Stuckey, Ford Dealer, Greenwich, Ohio, wishes to announce to the public that he will have the agency for the New Fordson Tractor, in both Huron and Richland Counties.

Numerous improvements are noted in the New Fordson agricultural tractor. Among the outstanding advantages of the improved Fordson is the increase of 27.5 per cent in horse power over former models. The tractor will now develop 30 horsepower at 1,000 revolutions per minute which is equivalent to two and three-fourths miles per hour plowing speed.

"A new high-tension magneto assures easier starting. A water-pump cooling system, another new feature, keeps the engine at the exact temperature for maximum efficiency. The air washer has been enlarged to hold seventeen quarts of water. The crankcase breathes into this washer to keep fumes from reaching the driver.

"Other improvements include a new lubricating system with a large filter screen to separate grit and carbon from oil as it circulates in the crank-case; a stronger and longer-wearing crankshaft, a re-designed transmission, and heavier rear wheel fenders and platforms."

Many of the speakers on the general and departmental programs are women, dealing with subjects either intended for women or equally interesting to men and women. Two women speakers from outside the state are Mrs. Harris T. Baldwin, of Washington, D. On the evening of Monday, February 3rd, the first day of the season, a banquet will mark the designation of five Ohio rural women as Master Farm Homemakers. These women have been selected by the Farmer's Wife, a national magazine, with the cooperation of the home economics school of the College of Agriculture.

LEFT-OVERS

The following recipes given by the home economics department of the National Live Stock and Meat Board once tried will prove that left-over may be an achievement of which the housewife may be justly proud.

- 1 cup ham, finely diced
- 2 cups thin white sauce
- 1/2 cup grated cheese

Put a layer of the noodles in a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with ham and cheese and cover with white sauce, which has been made by using 2 tablespoons of flour, 2 tablespoons of butter, salt and pepper, and 2 cups of milk. and pepper. Cover and bake in a hot oven for about twenty-five minutes.

HICK HUMOR

VERDICT OR CONFESSION
In Western Georgia a jury recently met to inquire into a case of suicide. After sitting through the evidence the twelve men retired, and after deliberating returned with the following verdict: "The jury are all of one mind—temporarily insane."

GOOD EXAMPLE

Once a very youthful chicken fancier had in his possession a couple of bantam hens that laid very small eggs. He finally hit upon a plan to remedy this.

When the lad's father went the next morning to the chicken-house he was surprised to find an ostrich egg tied to one of the beams and above it a card with this notice:

"Keep your eye on this and do your best."

CONFUSED GEOGRAPHY

"What river separates Texas from Mexico?" This was a stickler for Jackie. Father coached Jackie on the answer to make him get at least part of it. But Jackie had done enough for that evening. He couldn't think what the river was and he didn't seem to care, either.

"Well," said father, "think hard now: I'll help you. What river separates Texas from Mexico. Rio?" Father waited.

"Oh, I know now: Rio Rita."

A Song From Old Kentucky

Conrad, Mitchell and Gottler Are Creators of Rhapsody Played in Movietone Romance

Aside from the exciting and colorful Kentucky Derby sequence in "A Song of Kentucky," Fox Movietone all talking and singing romantic comedy drama, scheduled to open next Friday at the Castamba Theatre, the action surrounding the playing of Jerry Reavis' symphony which tells the story of his life from the time he meets and falls in love with Lee Coleman, is most dramatically thrilling.

A brief synopsis of the rhapsody as prepared by Conrad, Mitchell and Gottler, who wrote it follows:

"The music is a modern love story. A promising young song writer and composer loves a girl, much above his social strata. He had previously engaged a youthful and entirely innocent love affair with another girl. On the eve of his marriage to the girl he loves, the other woman engages in a plot to convince his fiancée that he is unworthy of her. The plot succeeds and the lovers are parted.

"Meanwhile, the society girl is broken hearted and stakes her marriage to Kane Pitcairn, another suitor for her hand, on the winning of her colt, Dixie, in the Kentucky Derby. The horse loses and Jerry, having knowledge of the wager, goes back to New York determined to forget the past and live for his career alone in which the birth of the rhapsody is born."

Lois Moran, beautiful and talented screen actress, enacts the role of Lee Coleman, the girl, and Joe Wagstaff portrays the character of the young composer with whom she falls in love.

Lee, unable to completely forget her lover, attends the concert, and hears the symphony during the playing of which she visions the story it is telling.

At the climax, Lee springs to her feet and leaves the box where she sits Nancy Morgan, who confesses the cruel plot for her. Lee waits to hear no more but rushes back stage where she finally finds Jerry who has turned wearily away from the plaudits of his friends in desolate hopelessness even in his hour of triumph.

The character of Nancy Morgan is played by Dorothy Burgess and Douglas Gilmore is seen as Kane Pitcairn. The picture was directed by Lewis Seiler with Frank Merlin in charge of stage direction.

Against the most lavish sets yet seen on the screen is played and sung the magnificent drama of the Mexican borderland by Bebe Daniels, John Boles and a supporting cast of hundreds. Mighty vocal choruses, inspiring dance routines and beauty assembles show for the first time the endless possibilities of the speaking screen.
