LUCAS LOSES TO PLYMOUTH

Old Basket Ball Rivals Bow to Pilgrim Boys After Many Seasons of Supremacy

The Pilgrim men should have made a score of 50-10; even more. But as it stood at the final, 40-10. The majority of the boys' plays went like clockwork, and the Alumni is hoping that by next Saturday night they will be in a slump.

The opposition had a lot to do with the high score. For once Lucas does not have a crack drive, and for the most part the Plymouth filtered through the defense.

Ross made the first two points and the last two, both long shots. Lucas was ahead one point, foul, during the first quarter, and would have been more so if the Plymouth squad had not come out of their frenzy of long shots.

The game was on the Plymouth half of the floor. The interception of opposition passes was fine.

At the end of the 1st. quarter Plymouth was ahead 13-3, and maintained their lead. Lucas boys could have scored more than once if their eye for the basket had not failed them.

Jenkins substituted the second team during the fourth quarter but ran in the first lineup again.

Snyder and Muma divided the honors with 10 points each. D. Bachrach scored 8.

The team depends on Snyder, and works smoothly when he is in.

The Alumni game beta scheduled for Saturday night, lean heavily toward the High school team.

LUTHERAN MEN TO MEET ON FRIDAY

The Lutheran men of this area will meet in Mansfield on Friday, January 31, at St. Matthew's church.

Indications are that this will be one of the largest gatherings held in Mansfield this year. Representatives from the Mansfield churches, Crestline, Plymouth, Shelby, Shiloh, Millin, Belleville, Lucas, and Oakland parish have signified their intention of attending the brotherhood session.

Atty. John F. Kramer, well known for his work as a Lutheran layman, will be one of the speakers. One of the big features on the program is an address to be given by Rev. Dr. John Kapp, executive secretary of the Lutheran Brotherhood of America.

The meeting will follow a banquet to be served at the church by the Alpha class of the Sunday school.

Plymouth Business Property is Sold

The three story brick business block situated on the north-east side of the Public Square and occupied by the Brown and Miller Hardware Store changed hands Wednesday.

The building belonging to R. H. Nimmons and P. M. Nimmons now becomes the property of H. M. and Minnie Hoffman of Boughtonville. The new owners expect to make extensive improvement and will still be building will still be occupied by the present renters.

LIONS CLUB TO DINNER TUESDAY AT CHURCH

The Lions Club will meet at the Lutheran church on Tuesday evening for a dinner, which to be served for the ladies of the church.

The featured speaker of the evening is Dr. C. D. Edwards, of Willard, who is the examining physician of the B. & O. Railroad.

The dinner will be served promptly at 6:15. Mr. S. Brown, Mr. N. B. Rule, and E. Johnson are the committee in charge.

SOHIO IS BACKING PLYMOUTH INDEPENDENTS

The Plymouth Independent basketball team will finish the season under the direction of the Sohio Company, who are now backing the boys. There will be reorganization, and Mr. Wolf has been appointed manager.

Those now on the list are R. Blackford, P. Shepherd, R. Hatch, L. Shields, R. Hills, J. Rhine, D. Becker, Mr. McGinnis, Mr. Brown, Manager Wolf, and L. Barber.

Games should be scheduled soon through Manager Wolf.

FAMILY SUPPLIED WITH FOOD AND CLOTHING

Under the supervision of Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Holtz, Plymouth, assistance has been given a needy Italian family located on the New Haven-Celeryville road.

The family is not destitute as to furniture, and had a small amount of coal, but were very much in need of food and clothing. A young woman, of the family, is dangerously ill with typhoid fever. The failure of the last season's crops was given as the cause of the family's condition.

A check and a fine box of clothing was received by Mrs. Holtz from Bellevue, the party not wishing the name to be known.

The family purchased the small home they now live in, but it is not yet entirely paid for.

School Buses to Be Inspected by State Commission

Columbus, Ohio, January 30—Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown is having every school bus in the state inspected in an effort to eliminate all those which are defective.

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Chalmers R. Wilson assigned twenty-five inspectors to that duty several days ago and the inspection is to be rigid and thorough in the hope of preventing those tragic accidents which have taken place and which cost the lives of 16 school children during the present month. Secretary Brown also stated that an endeavor would be made to have every bus driver in the state secure a chauffeurs license so that more but competent and experienced operators could act in that capacity.

PARENT-TEACHER MEETING AT NEW HAVEN LAST WEEK

The meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association at New Haven last week proved to be a very interesting one. The program which was given to a full house was as follows:

Song, "America" Audience Reading "If" Virginia Baker Piano Solo Florence Sawyer Reading "Buying A Hog" H. H. Babcock

Essay "The New Year" Charles Chapman Address Mr. C. E. Land Supt. Schools, Willard

Business Meeting Moving Pictures—Travels in the Caribbean Sea

Supt. Landis gave an interesting address on "Community Work" which all appreciated and enjoyed. In it were shown his broad interests, his deep sympathies with young people, and his high ideals. Many expressed the wish that he might find time to address the association again.

The moving picture machine presented to the school by the classes of 1929 and 1930 proved on this occasion as on many other, to be a source of entertainment and education.

The program was arranged by Mrs. W. E. Duff, Miss Jessie Cole, Mrs. Maggie Smith. The next meeting will be prepared by Supt. F. L. Black, Mrs. Earl Fortney and Mrs. Nell Slessman.

The President of the association is Mr. Jacob Wiers and the secretary, Mrs. Vernon Smith.

COMPLETES COURSE

Misses Leah Bachrach and Helen Becker will return to Plymouth Friday from Cleveland where they have just completed a four months course in Pedicrics at City Hospital. Both are student nurses at Mansfield Hospital and will return to that institution Saturday.

Misses Winnie Durig and Kathryn Carr will be houseguests of Miss Bachrach over Friday night.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS HELD JANUARY 28-31

Civil service examinations are held on January 28, 29, 30 and 31, at Portsmouth, Columbus, Marietta, Gallopola, Steubenville, Canton, Zanesville and Chillicothe for positions as highway superintendents, assistant engineers, laboratory in charge, bridge inspectors and truck drivers.

The positions average salaries paying from $4.50 to $7.50 per diem. All examinations will begin promptly at nine o'clock a.m. local time.

A SUNNY FLORIDA LETTER ARRIVES IN PLYMOUTH

The Advertiser had the pleasure of receiving a second letter from the folks who are spending the winter months in the South, and found it so very interesting that we are publishing it for our readers.

Mr. M. Bachrach has the ability of writing a letter that is both entertaining and instructive.

Friends:

First of all, we want to thank each and every one of you who were so kind as to write us after publication of our last letter in this paper. It certainly warmed our hearts to hear from "the folks back home," and we certainly appreciated your letters.

We have just returned to Clearwater from a little jaunt by auto, traveling through the state from the east to the west coast, and, of course, visiting intermediate points, and seeing the sights generally. All the wonderful things we heard about Florida before coming here proved to be correct—glorious sunshine, gorgeous flowers, excellent fruit, enormous bathing beaches, and what not.

But it's probably a bit cruel to elaborate on these things when we hear that the thermometer in Ohio has been doing a series of real nose dives lately.

Leaving Clearwater, we drove to Sarasota, and visited the winter quarters of the Ringling Brothers' circus, which we found of unusual interest. During the three hours it took us to go over all of the grounds. The animal keepers and trainers were all very courteous, and seemed to take great delight in explaining to us all about the animals in their charge.

Next day found us in Mr. Myer, which is really a very beautiful city. Here we had our first real close-up view of royal palm and cocoanut trees. And what a sight they were! While here we visited both the Ford and Edison estates which are located side by side. When we say "visited" we mean in a general way. The "visiting" was all done from the outside, as neither Henry or Alva had made any provision for our being entertained.

Local People Escape Injured in Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wirth narrowly escaped serious injuries when they were figured in a head-on collision about a half mile east of Nova.

The Wirths were driving east at a moderate rate of speed when a Ford Coupe driven by two young men, who gave Warren, Ohio as their residence, crashed into them. The Coupe was without lights, on the wrong side of the road, and said to be driving at an excess speed.

No explanation why they were on the wrong side of the road was forthcoming from the boys, nor could their names be learned. The Coupe was completely demolished but the young men escaped with little or no injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Wirth were considerably shaken up by the terrific impact, the wind shield broken, and flying glass made numerous small cuts on both occupants while considerable damage to the car itself was sustained. It was little short of miraculous that the accident resulted no more seriously.

AGED SHILOH RESIDENT DIES

A. J. Deihl, an aged resident of Shiloh, died from exposure to the cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Wirth were considerably shaken up by the terrific impact, the wind shield broken, and flying glass made numerous small cuts on both occupants while considerable damage to the car itself was sustained. It was little short of miraculous that the accident resulted no more seriously.

Deihl was 72 years old, and was disabled by heart ailments developed a few days before death. It is thought that the man was unable to light the fire to warm his rooms. Neighbors, noticing no signs of life notified Nelson, who upon entering the house found the lifeless man on the floor.

The deceased was born a few miles east of Shiloh and has lived in the community most of his life. He was always rather eccentric. Two sisters survive him, Mrs. Ella Betts, Creighton, and Alice, residing in Michigan.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

We also took occasion to visit the citrus grove of Dr. Searles, of Plymouth. In the doctor's yard we found a lemon tree, a date tree, a papaya tree, grape fruit, bananas, and, in fact, almost any kind of tropical fruit you could mention. Incidentally, we sampled several varieties of his fruit, and were of the unanimous opinion that the flavor was about perfect, so that the pleasure of this visit was materially heightened, however, when we saw the right man to meet Mrs. F. Searles and her good father. "It's really a small world after all, isn't it?"

Leaving Ft. Myers, we drove thru the Everglades for a distance of 150 miles. We can heartily recommend this particular route to anyone who may want to travel where nobody else "aint." The only visible inhabitants are Indians—real ones, not the movie injuns—but these redskins are well versed in the art of finance. For instance, we discovered a native Indian girl canoeing. Her craft had been bought from her. She was engaged in spearing fish. Naturally, and of course, our first thought was to get a snapshot. We were politely informed, however, that the young lady demanded a fee for posing. Some day she will probably turn out to be an artist's model. She has the right stuff.

The next stop on our journey was Miami, which is often referred to as "The New York of Florida," and is also known as "The Magic City." We were told that we were in the same latitude as Egypt. Here we saw "Millionaire's Row," by Lillian Morimer, was among other most palatial residences are those of J. C. Penny, the merchant prince, where President-elect Hoover made his winter home preparing for his inaugural. Firestone, of rubber fame, Reg Governor Cox of Ohio, the late William Jennings Bryan, and his daughter, Ruth B. One of Florida's representative in Congress, Tex Richards and scores of others.

One home, or rather residence, that

Alumni Game to Feature Old Stars of P. H. S. SAT

The Alumni game scheduled for Saturday night of this week will be an attraction worthwhile seeing.

From the list of players given below, pick your own team and see how they come out. Lester Shields, Norman Aslakson, John Root, Jr., Willard Caldwell, James Rhine, Paul Loftand, Luvier Barber, Raymond Hatch, Wade Lebold, Walter Dawson, Paul Shepherd, Hills and perhaps Phil Becker.

For the girls game the following will be on the probable list: Eletha Steche, Alberta Hale, Mildred Shely, Emeline Fate, Helen Becker, Leah Bachrach and M. Boardman.

Bills, Norm, Pick, Helen Becker, Steche—these were old stars glitter like they did in high school days, or is their play tarnished?

The proceeds of the game will be put in the Alumni curtain fund.

Junior Class Play Formally Initiate New Auditorium

The Junior play, and its popularity, promises to become a tradition at P. H. S.

This year's production was the first to be presented on the stage in the auditorium of the new school house, so it can be said that the initiation of P. H. S. into the field of drama is over.

The acoustic properties of the auditorium proved to be of the best, this being made possible by the special sound blocks used in the upper walls.

The Play, "The Eighteen Carat Book," by Lillian Morimer, was interesting in itself, and the Juniors gave a clever interpretation. No definite star can be designated for honors but the comedy trio, Huldah Davis, Freddie Keeler, and Harry Long. Miss Davis should be congratulated on her impersonation of the Haying Gagger. Indeed it was so realistic that half the audience lapsed between acts.

Freddie K as a love-lorn Shakespeare can far argue quiet to perfection. No doubt many were reminded of their own quarrels by the bickering of the two.

"Squ" Long deserved a laugh for his costume as well as for the fact that he seemed at perfect ease on the stage. He had prepared his part well.

David Bachrach made a very handsome hero, and played, to Jane De Witt's interpretation of the heroine, in fine style. These two were splendidly cast.

Miriam Donnsworth, as "Anna" was satisfactorily mysterious and Thomas Webber proved such a delightfully dangerous villain that we were sorry that he was not the "Crow." A colored tenor seldom fails to score, and Kenneth Myers and Mary Anderson came up to all expectations.

Eloise Shaver, as the girl friend accomplice, and Lucille Pugh, as the girl who was still looking for a man, were well fitted for characters of attractive young ladies. Don Ensel looked very much the part of the worried father.

The stage and the new Alumni curtain should create pride in all interested in P. H. S. The Lutheran Sunday School orchestra played several selections.

DAUGHTERS OF UNION VETERANS PRESENT FLAG

In a most impressive and patriotic manner, the Esther Taylor Bricker Tent No. 57, Daughters of Union Veterans presented a large flag to the schoolroom of Mrs. Edwin McBride of Shiloh, Tuesday afternoon. This date was chosen in commemoration of the birthday of McKinley.

Four daughters from Plymouth, Mrs. W. C. McFadden, Mrs. Wm. Doyle and Misses Harriet Rogers and M. M. Lorch and five from Shelby, Mesdames Bloomfield Trimble Swank, Ferris and Dick were present in addition to several from Shiloh.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Chas. Dick of Shelby; the color bearers were Mrs. Ferris, Mrs. Swank, Mrs. McFadden and Miss Rogers. Following this ceremony, was the Flag Salute and the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" in unison. Miss M. M. Lorch then spoke interestingly regarding "Our Flag," its origin and meaning.

CO. BOARD IS ILLEGAL

State Examiners Report Huron County Health Board Illegal Since Organization

A report which had the effect of a bomb was given to Huron county officials last week end, when H. T. Manner, of Mansfield, and Fred Hotes of Cleveland, state examiners, declared that the Huron-co health and is a defacto organization.

The board was organized about eight years ago. The report was made after a three months study and inspection of the books of the townships and the Justice of peace offices of this county.

The statutes of the legal organization require that the chairman of the various township boards known as the advisory council, meet at stated periods to organize the county health departments. The department, under Dr. H. T. Manner, county health commissioner, has been operating, but the meetings have not been called.

Each of the 20 townships, and some municipalities, pay certain sums of money for the support of the present health board. The average amount paid is about $150. The advisory council is supposed to meet annually.

The final report of the situation will probably indicate what disposition is to be made of the matter. The report will be made to County Auditor A. S. Vail.

In the first report no important mistakes were discovered. A few minor technical errors were found in the recording of proceedings in the legal way.

CHICKEN SUPPER PLANNED FOR SATURDAY, 5 TO 7 P.M.

Chicken supper will be served by the men of the Lutheran Church, on Saturday, February 1, 1930, from 5 to 7 o'clock at the K. of P. Hall.

At 7:30 p.m. a good program will be given in the Lutheran church composed of music and talks. Dudley A. White of Norwalk, State Commander of the American Legion, and John F. Cramer, of Mansfield will speak. The usual price of 50 cents will be charged. Those not being able to attend the supper can arrange to be at the meeting where a fee of 25 cents will be charged.

Pilgrim Girls Drop Lucas Game 27-20

The Plymouth girls lost to Lucas Friday night, 27-20 in a game that might have been their own. But there is no use lamenting. A great many shots were wasted, and the guarding was poor.

The Lucas left forward, Matusck, ran around about as she pleased and ran up 17 points. The center, Mangert followed her easily with 4 field goals. The Lucas shots failed to hit the basket a noticeable number of times.

M. Anderson played a good game as long as she was allowed on the floor, and she, with Hackett, would be dependable players if given more floor practice. Pugh made the first point from the foul line.

Snyder, Lucas, was put out on fouls. Fenner, Plymouth, was marked up with technicals.

There seems to be material on the Pilgrim team, but for some reason it fails to go.

K. OF P. LODGE IS PLAINTIFF IN LAWSUIT

Trustees of the Knights of Pythias Lodge of Plymouth has gone into the common plea court to obtain relief alleged due them in the matter of a real estate transaction.

In 1927, the Lodge bought a two story building in Plymouth. Trustees aver that a mistake, a part of their property has been deeded to Ida B. Hurst. The question of the control of a stairway and a drain also is involved.

The title of the case is Charles G. Miller, Arthur Myers, George C. Strider, trustees of the K. of P. Lodge, No. 490, of C. R. Kirtland and Florence Kirtland, all of Toledo, vs Ida B. Hurst, of Plymouth, Howley & Carpenter and E. K. Trauger are counsel for the plaintiffs.

REVOLUTION vs. EVOLUTION

An organization originating in Geneva, Switzerland, dispatches announcements, has established its headquarters at Yellow Springs, Ohio, with the announced purpose of effecting "social reconstruction." An impressive list of names of educators, economists and sociologists is attached to the plan.

Grandiose schemes of "social reconstruction" while you wait are the most serious barriers to social progress. They are based on superstitious beliefs in the omnipotence of political machinery in the field of human betterment.

The extent to which defects in the operation of existing machinery, due to the failure of the human element, are responsible for failure to accomplish the purposes of this machinery, seems to be lost sight of. The philosophy of individual irresponsibility seems to be widely accepted. Emerson's doctrine that politics and government cannot turn a quince into a peach over night cuts no figure with the sociological pole vaulters. Give them machinery from their desks and they can turn any sort of human they like.

History proves, however, that permanent human progress is a crawling, and not a leaping, an evolutionary and not a suddenly creative development. Mohammed might change the religious beliefs of a nation by an edict, but the only Simon-pure Marxian state—Soviet Russia—has not yet created an order of being that adjusts itself to a rigid revolutionary political mechanism, even under an unlimited autocracy.

It is a trite but nevertheless true statement that you can regenerate human beings only one at a time. It is equally true that such regeneration is a slow process. Revolutionary changes can be effected suddenly only by the application of state force. And that state force may prove to be a menace rather than a blessing, because there is no assurance that it will be controlled by altruism. Once created such machinery may become an instrument of tyranny, of corruption, and of enslavement. The fact that it is beneficial up to a certain point, does not prove that it may not be harmful beyond that point. And the machine may be broken into fragments by putting it to uses beyond its powers.

Human nature is not a satisfactory subject for laboratory examination. It is the most complex and baffling thing we know anything about. Human beings cannot be regimented and classified, with any certainty of conclusions. Generalizations based on social surveys present some facts of significance, but most of the truth about human beings is like an iceberg—two thirds out of sight.

The schools, churches and homes are the three agencies most effective for human improvement. They are incapable of mass production. This is the field in which the old system of individual handwork is, and ever will remain, supreme. When near-at-hand duties are abandoned for visionary schemes of regeneration by mass methods, human betterment stops entirely. It is for this reason that mass production schemes of virtue and wisdom are obstacles to progress.

One instinct of human nature in this country at least, is that for individual liberty and personal self-determination. Anyone can exchange that for assured bed and board in the country infirmary; yet few do it except under the most extreme necessity.

Human happiness and human progress would be impossible in a state which had become a gigantic eleemosynary institution, even though it were well conducted. But in the conversion of a government into such an institution, there is no guarantee that it would be well managed. The eminent academicians who patronize the people with their plans for making them wards of a paternalism they assume may be benevolent, but which would more probably be tyrannical, are blessed with no far vision than eyesight.

The self-styled intellectuals claim for themselves a leadership in progress they do not possess. "See what a dust we are raising," said the fly on the cartwheel. Progress gets its slow momentum from the mass, which in turn originates in the self-improvement of the individual through the means at his command. Existing means of self-improvement are too much neglected in the pursuit of devices expected to make men virtuous and efficient in spite of themselves. Scientists claim that human life has existed for three hundred thousand years. Those who contemplate that fact and then conclude that they can by some political or economic process revolutionize humanity in a jiffy are seized with an egotism difficult to comprehend. They may be able to explode society but they cannot thus promote the natural processes of progress.

The only way to settle the prohibition question is by a majority vote of the people.

Personally I can not see much to celebrate about and the 10th anniversary of "Victory Day" is a farce.

The writer has always voted for prohibition but has reached the conclusion that you can't legislate people into goodness.

The reformers are doing their best to make this world a "bitter" place to live in. To reach the younger generation they are punished by their sins and not for them.

ICE HARVEST BEGUN IN SANDUSKY BAY

The continued cold weather of the past two weeks enabled the ice harvest on Sandusky Bay to get under way full blast the latter part of last week.

The Booth Fish Co.'s crew of men, working last week, reported ice seven inches thick, and of good quality. The new elevators were in use for the first time, speeding up the work considerably. Officials of the concern reported they would harvest about 3,500 tons and believe it will require about six days.

The SPORT BAROMETER

By Barber

They came, they played, but alas, 'twas their lot to gulp down bitter defeat! It really was pathetic—our Lusca. Well, lads, you rode to a great victory.

Tough, girls! Anyhow you played a great game. Although your guarding could have been greatly improved. Nevertheless, we are with you.

Adario will arrive on the scene tomorrow night, all primed for action. According to the dope bucket there will be plenty of action, also a resultant score of 39-21. Why, favoring Plymouth, of course.

The girls should win by a large margin, let us say 23-11.

By the way, we interviewed a gentleman who has been following the Pilgrim squad rather closely this season. This man certainly knows his basket ball and expresses a decided opinion of both teams. He claims that the girls are poorly coached, while the boys, although well coached, pay little attention to instructions. Believe it, or not, as you like.

It will be thrilling, absolutely, yes thrilling, and a little sad—for the Alumni. Yes, sir, the Alumni certainly are going to get plenty of opposah. And how! In fact it is our opinion that it is simply going to be just too bad for the former P.H.S. gathering.

Now about the girls, er—that is— we, ah, well, them—we mean we'll wait until Saturday night.

It is said that for three years the Alumni has copied the building, well gentlemen, we believe that the worm will turn. Anyway, we shall see what we shall see.

We noticed that the Jenkins men in the last two games greatly improved their passing game, but their defense has gone on the rocks. The rushing tactics which they use on the defense is simply all wet.

Monroeville bowed to Norwalk, but then so has every one else. One week from tomorrow night Monroeville shall endeavor to pull a fast one on the pilgrims. Don't let them do it, gang!

SECRETARY A. M. HYDE TO SPEAK AT O. F. A. B. F.

Secretary Arthur M. Hyde, U. S. Department of Agriculture, is to be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation in Columbus, February 24, the president of the Richland County Farm Bureau has announced. It will be Secretary Hyde's first speaking appearance in Ohio.

Other speakers will include Governor Myers Y. Cooper; Secretary M. S. Winder, American Farm Bureau Federation; Dean J. F. Cox, Michigan State Agricultural College; and Miss Mary Mims, Louisiana Agricultural Extension Service.

The 1930 annual meeting will adjourn Wednesday noon instead of Tuesday night as heretofore in order to give the delegates more opportunity to complete their work.

How to Reduce Varicose Veins

Walk Gently and Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Emswold Oil (full strength) at any first-class drug store and apply it night and morning as directed you will quickly receive an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Indeed, so powerful is Emswold Oil that old chronic aches and sores are often entirely healed and anyone who is disappointed with his use can have their money refunded.

Our Ripley Farmers Institute last week Monday and Tuesday takes rank with the best we had ever held for enthusiasm, attendance and well balanced program. The State speakers—Mrs. E. C. Bell of Denison, Ohio, and Arthur Dawson of South Euclid, Ohio, were both strong and forcible and drew their large audiences clear thru. Our local talent was not over shadowed in the least by the strong state workers. Hence we have said well balanced program. The President C. Frank Hopkins, secy. Mrs. Hattie Lewis Barker, with their helpers are to be congratulated. The nominating committee, G. S. Catlin, Clem Bellamy and Guilbert J. McCullough presented following list of officers for the coming year which were elected. President—C. McKittick, Vice Pres. Don K. McKittick, Secy.—Treas. Hattie Barker Lewis.

Executive Committee: Mr. and Mrs. D. K. McKittick, Mr. and Mrs. Guilbert McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Boardman.

The following report by the Resolution Committee were timely and heartily endorsed by large audience in attendance.

We the undersigned Resolution Committee of the Ripley Township Farmers Institute in regular session Delphi Church, January 20-21, 1930. We hereby submit the following resolutions:

First: Be it Resolved that we extend our heartfelt thanks to the people of the Delphi M. E. Church for the use of the church and also to the ladies for the fine meals served.

Second: Be it Resolved that we extend a vote of appreciation to our state speakers for the messages they brought. Also to our county extension leaders for their help in making our institute a success and to all other who took part on the program.

Thirdly: Be it Resolved that this institute go on record as being opposed to the proposed Bender Bill, also that we favor any efforts being instituted for the lowering of the Farmers' Taxes.

Fourth: Be it Resolved that farmers should get interested in the consumption of their own products, especially butte.

Fifth: Be it Resolved that we extend to our institute officers and the Execution Board a vote of thanks for the splendid way in which they planned and carried on this institution.

Sixth: Knowing that the future prosperity of our country depends on the proper training of our youth, we do hereby resolve that this institute go on record as being in favor of doing everything possible to make the rural life attractive and helpful to our boys and girls: That parents, teachers, school boards and others, cooperate that the most good may be accomplished and that we heartily favor a Parent-Teacher Association in Ripley Township.

Lastly: Be it Resolved that we favor an annual Farmers Institute, and that these resolutions be published in our local papers.

Respectfully submitted, C. HAWKINS HUGH LEWIS M. C. HUNTER, com.

AT THE THEATRES

"Sunny Side Up" at Shelby Theatre

AT CASTAMBA-SHELBY, WED.—THURS.—FRIDAY, FEB. 5, 6 and 7 This tuneful light comedy drama, written by DeSylva, Brown and Henderson, has placed the young Fox Movietone stars on a new pinnacle, utterly different but in the same high altitude as did their performance in "Seventh Heaven."

The dainty, wistful little Janet proves her versatility by playing a comedy role, broad in spots, and again on the border land of pathos. She sings, she dances, she talks, and she does it all with that touch of genius that has raised her from the rear ranks of extra girls to the front rank of the greatest stars in the entertainment world.

Farrell, too, is called upon to enact an entirely different sort of role than he ever essayed before, and he does it with a dash and flash that stamps him as a superlative actor. Farrell, also, bursts forth into song and if the enthusiasm met the opening night's audience is any criterion, the public will demand that he sing in every production he makes in the future.

DeSylva, Brown and Henderson, long known for their musical comedy hits on the broad fadout. The comedy is smart, sophisticated and of the sort that frequently set the audience off in spontaneous bursts of laughter. The dance ensemble, surprisingly novel, are the work of Seymour Felix, while David Butler was the pictorial director.

Sharon Lynn, Frank Richardson, Marjorie White and El Brendel in supporting roles, contribute much to the success of the production. The first three along several of the song hits of the musical comedy, while Brendel, as a Swedish grocer, carries the burden of the comedy and does several specialties.

There are at least six tremendous song hits in "Sunny Side Up," including "A Talking Picture of You," "Sunny Side Up," "I'm a Dreamer," "Turn On the Heat," "You Find the Time, I'll Find the Place" and "You've Got Me Pickin' Petals Off of Daisies."

LUPE VELEZ, DELIGHTFUL MIMIC, IN DEMAND AS ENTERTAINER AT PARTIES

Lupe Velez, co-starred with Monte Blue in "Tiger Rose," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production showing at the Temple Theatre, is known as one of the cleverest mimics in Hollywood. Lupe had't been in Hollywood more than a few months before her ability as a mimic led her to do a number of impersonations of famous Hollywood people.

TEMPLE THEATRE, SUNDAY, MONDAY and TUESDAY.

Being a mimic is nothing new, but it is certainly grand entertainment to hear Ethel Barrymore or Greta Garbo or Adolphe Menjou done to a turn in Lupe's wild Mexican accent, with the English twisted around just enough to furnish an added comedy touch.

As a result Lupe is one of the most sought after actresses at the screen colony's parties and entertainments. She is always herself both on and off the screen, and has never lost the magnificent sense of humor she imported from Mexico along with her wild-fire temperament. And she has never become engulfed by Hollywood, even though she has just built a new home in Beverly Hills.

"Tiger Rose," in which she plays the role of a French-Canadian girl, is a Vitaphone version of Willard Mack's famous stage melodrama. George Fitzmaurice directed.

NARROWLY ESCAPES IN FREAK ACCIDENT

Wellington, Thursday—Warren Althaus fortunately escaped injury in an unusual accident Monday afternoon. Althaus was crossing East Main-st.

in front of Murray's store, when he stopped to allow a sedan to pass. The car was traveling east at a fast rate of speed. It was in front of the J. C. MacBarnett Co. when Althaus looked the other way to see if any more machines were approaching. He started across the street, but his right leg was caught by a wire several hundred feet long which was being dragged behind the car. The wire formed a loop around his leg and would have dragged him down the street if the sudden jerk had not disconnected the wire from the sedan. As it was, he miraculously kept his balance. The wire cut his trousers and burned a scar on his leg.

The driver of the car, not noticing the accident, did not stop and his number was not learned. Frank Richmond, who was near the scene, rolled up the long telephone wire. It was thought that the wire must have become caught on the machine somewhere in the country.

PENITENTIARY PROGRAM ON AIR TUESDAY EVENING

The Ohio Penitentiary radio broadcast over station WAUI, of Columbus, will go on the air Tuesday evening instead of Monday evening at 7:35 o'clock. The noon band programs from the big institution, interspersed with vocal and instrumental numbers, are making a hit and proving very enjoyable to the radio audience.

There will be the usual Sunday morning programs on the second Sunday of each month. The population of the prison is 4,733.

Florida Letter

of John Deering, we are told is valued at seven million dollars. Miami has the tallest tropical skyline in the world. Included among other buildings is the Dade County Court House, recently completed at a cost of more than four million dollars. The building, which is twenty-eight stories high, is said to be the tallest south of Washington, D. C. A trip to Miami Beach over the County Causeway, was a memorable one. In going over the Causeway, which connects Miami with Miami Beach, we were virtually traveling through Bay Biscayne. At Miami Beach there are any number of man-made islands which are a most notable achievement, the land all having been filled in by giant dredges. These examples of skill of man are almost beyond belief. Miami Beach is almost a residential paradise, made so by the homes or estates of many of the country's notables, and men who are internationally famous. The arena built here by the late Tex Rickards is an interesting sight. This section of Florida is historically famous, as it was formerly the rendezvous of Spanish pirates. Characters such as Black Caesar and others made South Florida their headquarters for bloodthirsty operations. This is also the location of Treasure Town, one of the famous spots in tales of adventure. We viewed the old Florida Light at Miami, which is located at the extreme end of Biscayne Bay, the scene of the Seminole war massacre.

Needless to say, we visited the Spanish water tower, Venetian canals and DeSoto Fountain are located. Here, too, is what they claim to be the most beautiful artificial Venetian swimming pool in the world. The $10,000,000 Miami-Biltmore hotel, located here, has a tower 400 feet high which they told was an exact replica of the famous Giraldo tower at Seville, Spain. Tourists seem to find great delight in visiting the various sections of Coral Gables, such as, for instance, the French Village and the Japanese section, both of which are distinctly Oriental buildings. We then proceeded to Palm Beach where the Royal Palm hotel is, so they say, "the largest frame hotel in the world. All the sights here proved highly interesting.

Leaving Palm Beach we drove over a 51-mile toll road (toll charge $3.00) known as Connor Highway, built by a man whose name it bears, at a cost of three million dollars. He owns one million acres of rich, fertile land which he is developing into sugar cane, with about 14,000 acres about ready to harvest.

Last, but by no means least, we went to Lake Wales, arriving there just three days after the burial of Edward Bok, who built the famous "Singing Tower," which was dedicated by ex-president Coolidge a few months ago. You probably recall that Bok built this tower as a memorial to his grandmothers, who were lovers of the beautiful in nature. Among other things, the tower is equipped with a set of exquisite chimes, which are played on special occasions, such as birthdays, etc. by a native Hollander, Bok himself, having emigrated from Holland when a mere slip of a boy, rising solely on "his own" to the enviable position he held in America at the time of his death. I wish that I could give you a more detailed account or description of this wonderful structure, but space forbids.

We returned to Clearwater from Lake Wales, and had a m-i-g-h-t-y fine trip to say the least. During our journey we passed through citrus groves of some 600 acres, to say nothing of immense farms of string beans. The beans were shipped in hamper by the carload.

We are able to purchase strawberries at fifteen cents a quart, and grape fruit at twenty-five cents a dozen. One is prohibited by law from even picking up a single piece of fruit should it fall from the tree into the road. The penalty is shooting. At one time tourists were permitted to pick up fruit in this manner, but abuse of the privilege resulted in this law being enacted.

Just a word about the Indian Village, transient home of the Seminole Indians. The Seminole Nation now numbers about seven hundred, and these Indians have never surrendered officially to the United States Government. They are the only one roving tribe in the United States. In this village, too, there is an unusually interesting collection of native animals and tropical reptiles, including thousands of alligators, crocodiles and diamond-back rattlers.

There were, of course, many other interesting things that could be related, but these will be reserved for some other time. We have only given you some of the highlights.

Meanwhile, we send our sincere reetings to all the "house folks," and want you to know that we often think of you "all," the "all" being a typical southern expression which we are acquiring.

We are always happy to hear from you "all." Your letters are always welcome.

Respectfully,
MAURICE BACHRACH

SOCIETY

MISSIONARY TEA

The second Quarterly Missionary Tea of the M. E. Church will be held Friday, January 31st, with Mrs. E. A. Stotts of Sandusky Street. The meeting is called for 2:30 o'clock. The assisting hostesses are Mrs. T. R. Ford and Mrs. G. A. Brooks; Mrs. Frank Morrow will be the program leader. A good attendance is desired.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

The birthdays of Mrs. W. C. McFadden and Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Weidman of Wellington were jointly celebrated Sunday at the McFadden home where a most appetizing dinner was served to the following guests: Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Weidman of Wellington, Mr. Elwood Fast of Cleveland, Mr. Wayne McFadden and daughters Marjorie and Betty and Mr. Osenbaugh of Homerville, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Clark and daughter Phyllis, Dr. and Mrs. E. Motley, Mrs. M. E. Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McFadden.

MAIDS-OF-THE-MIST

The Maids-of-the-Mist held a splendid meeting at the country home of Mrs. Ernest Baxter, west of Plymouth, on Thursday evening of last week. After the business was finished, five new members were accepted into the organization. Sixteen were present, in all.

A delicious pot-luck dinner was served to the guests. A wonderful time was voted by all. The Maids-of-the-Mist were organized in December, and for a new club is progressing rapidly. Mrs. Foraker is president, Mrs. F. Phillips, vice president, and Mrs. W. Blackford is treasurer.

The next meeting will be on February 27, the fourth meeting of the month, at the home of Mrs. Blackford.

CATHERINE REED CLASS MEETS

Tuesday afternoon, January 31, members of the Catherine Reed class of the Presbyterian Church held their January meeting at the home of Mrs. E. F. Beck with Mrs. Beck and Miss Louise Taylor as hostesses.

The New Year was the topic for the day. Mrs. Nora Wyandt read an appropriate scripture lesson and other members contributed poems and readings.

A clever contest furnished much amusement after which the hostesses served a delicious lunch. Mrs. E. Motley will entertain the class in February.

MEETING OF TWENTIETH CENTURY CIRCLE
Benjamin Franklin's life has been called the most interesting and the most successful lived by any American. His rule of life was "To go straight forward in doing what appears to be right, leaving the rest to Providence."

The life of this great man was one of the character studies of the Twentieth Century Circle, January 20, with Miss Rita Trauger as hostess. Mrs. Trimmer's biography of Franklin was thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Jessie Trauger told about Poor Richard's Almanac. Another most interesting and charming personality introduced to the Circle by Mrs. Ralph Hoffman was that of Mrs. Frances Parkinson Keys. Roll call was answered by quotations from Poor Richard's Almanac.

After adjournment, during the social hour, the hostess served dainty refreshments.

SUNDAY, February 2, 1930
A world without pain would be a world without character. Forgiveness is a gift, but character is an achievement. A father may furnish books, but the son must win his own culture. A judge may pardon a criminal, but the transgressor must climb up to personal worth. "Achievement through Suffering," will be the theme for next Sunday 11:00 a. m. Bible school at 10. Junior Church, 7 p. m.

Special Announcements
About thirty from the Junior Department of the Presbyterian Sunday School, enjoyed a delightful "relax party" on last Monday evening. Every boy and girl reported a good time.

The E. E. S. Division of the Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian Church, held their business meeting and Social in the social room of the church on Wednesday evening of January 29, 1930. There was very good attendance and interest. A social hour was spent after the business meeting and an appetizing luncheon was served by the committee in charge.

The W. M. S. of the Presbyterian Church will hold their regular January meeting in the parlor of the church, on Friday, 2:30 p. m.

The Junior Aid of the Presbyterian Church will meet for business and a good social hour, at the manse, on Friday, 7:30 p. m.

SHILOH NEWS

Shiloh Institute Is Big Success

The first session of the Community Institute was opened Wednesday morning by the president George W. Page. The attendance was small, due to the fact that the president's speech had been published by the Mansfield News the previous week, and which had been read by the majority of the citizens. On account of this incentive being usurped, the opening preliminaries were very short. Mr. Page referred to the incident in his characteristic modest manner and proceeded with the program an outline, and which proved to be a most instructive one for all, although both speakers addressed the pupils. Another year, this page hopes to have the speech of the new president George Clark, published so many weeks in advance, that the people may appreciate it, and be anxious to hear it viva voce.

After the singing of America by the school Rev. McBroom made an impressive prayer.

The practical lessons on "Apples and Peaches," held the attention of the pupils, showing Master Strong to be a master teacher.

In Miss Akins talk she compared the lives of previous pioneers, with the opportunities and progress of today. She also spoke of the necessity of trained minds and hands for service in this country for the advancement of all professions which are opened to girls as well as the boys.

The High School orchestra led by Richard Ruckman, and the Girls' Glee Club under the supervision of music, Mrs. Veltlinger furnished the music for the sessions, and this work of the young people was much appreciated.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Akins gave a splendid appeal for the combating of the old standard of what women should do, to the necessity of the responsibility of the 20th century women. That they should make homes, instead of houses, to eat and sleep. That they should safeguard the health of children, by taking an active interest in all civic affairs, be leaders in religious matters, making this world a fit place for boys and girls, and also have a feeling of responsibility for the laws and legislation of our country.

This was followed by Mr. Strong giving many good thoughts on "How to get and hold soil fertility." A few were, to check upon the necessity of various soils. Conserve fires, then grow it or buy it, but always adding to it. The good farmer must grow legumes. A capacity house greeted the entertainers Wednesday evening.

The Community Men's chorus were given a hearty reception and encore. Mrs. Akins again pleased her audience in her earnest solicitation to the parents to direct the social life of the younger people in the home, in the church and in their club work. It was a real challenge to the mothers and fathers for more home activities.

While the theme of the addresses of both Miss Akins and Mr. Strong were carried throughout the institute, first by Miss Akins in the cultivation of the mind of the child, then the proper care of the body, and the necessary recreation, then by Mr. Strong in the strength of soul and manhood, which afforded intelligent sessions throughout.

However on Wednesday evening Mr. Strong deviated from the customary style and presented an entertaining innovation, by his rendition of "Enoch Arden at the window," and presenting the moral—playing fair in the game of life.

Miss Leola Hamman, our well known reader, pleased the audience with her natural talent, and graciously responded to the encore.

The Rome Country Club and the Sunshine Club gave their talent to the support of the Institute. Miss Doris Daup deserves especial mention.

On Thursday morning Mr. Strong opened his subject of "Adjusting production to market demands" by saying that our farm marketing was on a safer and sounder basis than a few years ago.

He urged the farmers to study the supply and demand. That the business of a farmer is production. That it is necessary to study markets, and that statistics were the best help for the farmer. He also discussed the value of cold storage for the benefit of the farmer, and appealed for quality products, also grading and standardization.

Miss Akins followed by giving her experience as a poultry woman. She gave the reason for using modern equipment, and the choice of the breed according to the nearest market.

E. F. Hetrick of the agricultural department led in the discussion. Mrs. Griffith who always pleases her audience gave a humorous reading, but on account of a severe cold could not respond to the encore.

In the afternoon Miss Akins in giving the true value of a farm woman, said that mentally, physically and spiritually they were an enduring expression for all peoples and that the rural people preserved the church in the cities. Miss Pearl Darling representing the rural clubs, drew a comparison of their work to the voyage of a ship, naming their ship, Duty, and giving the attributes essential to each member in making 1930 beneficial harmony and production. She also spoke for the Get-together club, asking the community to co-operate for their annual fall flower show.

County Agent Mr. Gilkey gave some valuable information as follows: Extension work began in 1921 in Mansfield. Over a hundred years ago the department of agriculture was introduced in colleges. Shortly after this the first farm bloc was established by the Massachusetts legislature. In 1845 the first department of agriculture was established by Dr. Townsend.

During the year 1929, in Ohio, in 1929 and there are 7000,000 enrolled in the United States.

In 1906 the first County Agent was appointed in Texas. The second in 1912 in New York. The first county agent in Ohio was in Portage county in 1920, and in Richland county in 1921. Mr. Gilkey announced a women's meeting, to which all women are invited, and which will be held February 21st, in the M. E. Church parlors at Mansfield.

Mr. Gilkey urged all farmers to look after their seed corn, and said that his services in regard to questions soil analysis, or any help needed would be gladly given.

The rendition and execution of two readings by Miss Edwards, showed her ability as instructor in elocution.

Mr. Strong who knows sheep, gave the boys and girls on the raising and caring for sheep, the decline of the sheep industry and the reasons. Mrs. E. B. McBroom favored the Institute with a solo.

In the report of the poster contest from the first to the fifth grades, Robert Dawson of the fourth grade was given first prize and Jesse Porter of the first grade second prize.

From the fifth to eighth grades, George Myers of the London school won first prize and Jesse Wayne Hamman of the fifth grade, second prize.

LADOW DOGS WIN TRIALS IN MIDDLE WEST

The following clipping was taken from a Kansas paper, sent to the Advertiser this week. It will probably be of interest to those who know the LaDow family, former residents of Plymouth.

Frederonia, Kan.—The string of setters bred and owned by C. V. LaDow of Frederonia and entered during the past and present season in the leading field trials of the Middle West and South, continue to win or place high in numerous events and have already won more top places than have ever before been won by representatives of any one breeder.

Friday of last week in the All-American derby championship at Holly Springs, Miss., Thornwood, one of the two dogs entered by Mr. LaDow, won first in a field of twenty-seven crack young setters, with Outaictie, winner of the Vinita futurity, well up in the field. A week before, in the Cotton States open derby at Jackson, Miss., another LaDow setter, Whist's Jayhawker, was second in a big field of classy dogs. Four Frederonia setters are entered in the United States open derby this week at Holly Springs and the LaDow kennel rates as a favorite in that competition. All are handled by Mr. E. McMichael, of Yates Center premier field trial handler of this section.

In addition to their recent winnings the Frederonia setters have many other victories for the year. Kansas Ginger won the Kansas open derby at Yates Center and Thornwood won the amateur derby in the same series of field trials, the events ranking as the leading chicken trials of the country. The big futurity event at Vinita, Okla., with fifty-three entries, was won by Outaictie, the LaDow entry leading the largest field ever competing in that trial.

SHRINE CONCERT PROCEEDS PURCHASE FOOD SERVER

The new Willard Municipal Hospital now owns a Colson Electric Food Server. The Willard Shrine, presented a program which featured a benefit concert given by the Xenobia Temple, of Toledo, on Wednesday evening at the high school auditorium.

The proceeds of the benefit were used towards the purchase of the Server. The attendance was estimated at 850 people. So interested were some of the Toledo Shrine members that they came to Willard without charge.

On Wednesday evening they were entertained at dinner by the Willard members.

Dr. C. S. Ordway, Toledo, announced the program and introduced each participant.

ROSS CARLISLE RECEIVES PROMOTION IN CHICAGO

The following article clipped from "The Pennsylvania News," a paper devoted to the interests of Railroad Men will interest local people as Mr. Carlisle is well known in this vicinity, having visited on numerous occasions at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Frank Tubbs on Mills Avenue. Mr. Carlisle's picture also accompanied the article. He was born and raised in Crestline and his many friends are pleased to note his promotion in his chosen work.

"Thomas R. Carlisle, assistant general yardmaster at Colehour yards, Chicago, was promoted to acting general yardmaster December 1, succeeding Charles L. Jarnan, who was placed on the Pennsylvania Railroad's Roll of Honor on that date. "Mr. Carlisle has grown up with the Colehour district and has a wide acquaintance among Pennsylvania Railroad employes on the Chicago Terminal Division as well as among the employes of the many industries in the section. He has an intimate knowledge of the requirements of traffic.

HUNTER ESCAPED JAIL, CAUGHT IN NORWALK

Lee Hunter, Huron county prisoner, escaped from the Toledo work house some time ago, but his freedom was terminated at Norwalk last week. Patrolman Glenn Schamp took the convict to the county jail.

Hunter was taken to the workhouse when unable to pay a fine imposed by Probate Judge J. M. Bechtol for a liquor offense. When Hunter was arrested it was alleged that he attempted to run his car over Leroy Bell's automobile pistol slip of German make containing a number of loaded shells was found in Hunter's car, but thorough search of the car and vicinity failed to reveal a pistol.

Loan 15,000 Books Throughout State

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—More than 15,000 books each month are being loaned by the Ohio State Library to rural communities of the state in traveling libraries. George E. McCorkrick, state librarian, reported today to Gov. Cooper. A total of 895 of these libraries, ranging from 20 to 500 books, were loaned in December. Although without a directing head for 18 months prior to February 1929, the Ohio State Library shows a record of circulation this year that ever before, the report states. The library was brought back into use through a movement sponsored by Gov. Cooper when the legislature convened at the opening of his administration.

During the month ending January 1, 1930, besides the 15,000 books being circulated each month in the rural districts where there are not adequate library facilities, the circulation totaled 19,734. These books were loaned to individuals. The Ohio State Library has loaned libraries 1,000 books to Millersburg and Ashley. Although the county seat of Holmes county, Millersburg does not have a public library. A school library has been provided at Ashley, but lack of funds prevented the purchase of books being purchased at the present time.

A system whereby anyone in the state may use the state library has been evolved, and is now in use. An application to the local library is mailed to the state library. The book is then mailed to the local library for the applicant. Where it is impossible to carry out the system by use of local libraries, books are mailed direct to the individual. The Plymouth Library now receives service from the State Library.

PAINFUL CORNS

Loosen—Lift Out A little known Japanese herb, the discovery of an eminent German scientist (Dr. Siedel) instantly soothes the corn, callous or wart, then loosens it so that shortly you can lift it right out. This new discovery called "Corn Fly" excites the white blood corpuscles to action and granulates the corn at its root so that it drops out and leaves no trace of scar or soreness. You will also find "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" a boon for sore, tired or chapped feet. "Corn Fly" for corns, 35c, "Corn Fly" Foot Bath Powder, 25c, and "Corn Fly" Bunion Remedy, 50c. (All three—$1.10 value—for $1.00), are sold under a positive money-back guarantee by H. C. G. Co., Newark, N. J., or local druggist.
