

MRS. M. JUGAL BURIL SUNDAY

Beloved Plymouth Resident Called By Death At Home After Long Suffering

Mrs. Bertha May Smith McDougal, 65 years of age, passed away at her home two miles south of Plymouth, Ohio, Thursday morning after enduring a long illness.

Those friends attending the last rites Sunday afternoon at the home, to pay their last reverence, brought their gift of many floral pieces, and the funeral, though saddened, was made beautiful by the feeling of peace and friendship.

St. Luke of Marsh Carries On At 80

Dr. S. Holtz again Honored As County's Oldest Dr.

"St. Luke of the Marsh-lands" in the title of esteem that may have given Dr. S. S. Holtz, whose headquarters is the little two-room office on the corner of Sandusky and Spring street.

From the big window beside his desk, covered with memoranda, he nods a greeting to all passers-by, and then moves actively to the room in the rear to cork the bottles labeled "50" or "A.M."—the medicine which has cured so many aches and pains.

For the past fifty years Dr. Holtz has ushered in new life to Huron and Richland counties, and has watched old life flicker out. Besides medical aid, Dr. Holtz, who has reached and passed the eightieth milestone, has carried food and clothing to those in need, especially to the muckland communities where many exist, but do not know the true meaning of "to live."

"St. Luke" is well known in the many little homes, and is considered a friend by all. His calls forced him on lonely trails, in his early career, out into the marsh yet unpenetrated by solid roads, far beyond the prosperous little community of Celeryville.

The road leading west of Plymouth, so rugged with dunes and obstructions, was that it was called "The Road to Hell," did not keep Holtz from visiting his patients. At one time he traveled the paths on horseback, with swaying saddlebags knocking the sides of his horse. Later he used a horse and buggy.

When travel became motorized, Holtz kept pace, and made his calls by auto, and he has adapted himself to modern specialization and practice. He believes in six hours sleep nightly and through all his life has maintained a steadfast faith in the goodness of man.

DECEMBER 31 IS DEADLINE

No Extension Granted By State Office For Sale of 1931 Auto Licenses

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 24.—Ohio auto licensees are urged to purchase their 1931 automobile licenses at once by Secretary of State, Clarence J. Brown in order that the revenue from their sale might be released to State and county agencies for road maintenance and repair work during the winter months.

"That department is making every endeavor to furnish work for as many men as possible. Fully ninety percent of all funds from the sale of the license tags goes toward the employment of labor inasmuch as it is used solely for the repair and maintenance of highways and streets," states Wilson, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

In addition, each city and county receives their share of the fund for the same work and they are enabled to furnish employment for additional labor. As a part of their unemployment relief, many cities are employing available labor for street repairs during the winter months.

For each dollar paid towards a license plate, the highway department receives fifty percent while the remaining percent is divided between the city and the county of the district from which the car was registered.

The Motor Vehicles Bureau are also employing more than 2,750 men and women throughout the state at the 550 distributing stations for the registration of motor vehicles.

Paul Russell, local tag distributor, urges people to remember that the deadline for the sale of license plates is December 31, and that his office will be closed at nine o'clock in the evening promptly. There will be no extension of time, and all drivers using 1930 plates will be reported.

The Public Forum

Opinions expressed under this heading are those of the contributors, not of The Advertiser.

I have noticed in the last few Plymouth papers where there have been barrels and boxes of clothing sent to Mount Pleasant.

Why are people sending such material out of town? There are at least a dozen families right here in town, and just out in the country a few miles, that need clothing and food. I believe that I would look after home town people first. There are families that would appreciate anything that could be given. There have been children coming to school that were not dressed warmly enough for cold weather.

Xmas Suggestions for Holiday Dinner

Christmas dinners that are both delicious and easy to prepare are simplifying the old-fashioned holiday dinners with their elaborate courses, days of work in the kitchen, and servings so large that members of the family invariably ate more than the really desired, as decided by a specialist in nutrition at O. S. U.

The present style in Christmas dinners, demands a Christmas color scheme of red and green, a relatively simple menu of balanced food, and attractive table decorations expressing the Christmas spirit.

Such a Christmas dinner might consist of tomato juice cocktail or a fruit cup, made out of red cherries, white grapes, and pears colored green with a little vegetable coloring; turkey, or if turkey was served on Thanksgiving day, roast chicken or duck with mashed potatoes; for vegetables, a spoonful of buttered peas in a nest of mashed potatoes with a spoonful of Harvard beans could be prepared.

As three vegetables are on the menu, the salad should be a very light one consisting of plain lettuce, or slaw, or simply raw celery. The dessert might be a sherbet served with white cake or cookies decorated with green icing.

A pleasing center decoration may be made from red apples with tokay grapes. Bright red berries placed in a low bowl surrounded with sprays of holly or other bits of green also make an attractive combination, and for a round or oval table of tiny Christmas trees is a jolly decoration.

Red candles at either end of the table add to the interest of a long table if it ties up with the center decoration.

POETRY

'Twas the night before Xmas
And in each little room
Crept the silver beams
Or a smiling full moon.

All through the house
Could be heard the sound snoring
Or dad and my brother,
A situation quite boring.

A glance through the window
From the house left wing,
Pictured snow flakes falling,
A mysterious thing.

The street shown like glass
And the bushes and trees
Were glistening like silver,
And barren of leaves.

From one of the rooms
I heard a hushed voice
Filled with delight,
Fear and rejoice.

"Come sit, let's hurry,"
"Please be honey, be quiet
For if mother accused us of peeping
We could not deny it."

"She might get very mad
And send Santa a call,
Bidding him not to bring us
Anything at all."

So quietly they snuck down
The long winding stairs,
And Johnny kept whispering:
"I've had three night mares."

Aw—forget it now Johnny
Of course there's a Santa Claus
But still Johnny persisted on
Each stair step to pause

A fire in the fireplace
Sent waving waves of heat,
And on the floor in front
Lay the puppy dog—"Pete."

On the mantle above hung
Three stockings so small
They looked like they wouldn't
Hold anything at all.

The two little children
All snug in pajamas
Had found two larger ones,
Stockings of mamas.

Then down on the floor before
The fireplace a glow
They seated themselves,
And, the rest you should know.

But though they tried hard
To stay wide awake,
Their eye lids would droop,
And their little heads shake.

They wakened when dawn
Through the windows crept,
And each suggested that
They must have both slept.

Santa had come
For there on the floor
Was candy, and fruits,
And toys galore.

Then mama and daddy
Stepped in at the door
And cried, "Merry Christmas"
Gay boxes they bore.

Then evening fell
And I saw tucked in bed
Two little tots smiling
With a moon over head.

'Twas Christmas night
And in each little room
Crept the silver beams
Of a smiling full moon.

SPORTS

P. H. S. OUTSCORES LEXINGTON
The Plymouth girls, after losing three straight home games, finally sked out a victory over the scrappy Lexington outfit 18-6.

After a slow first half the Lexington girls led 12-6. The Plymouth girls staged a fast finish and won a roughly played game.

L. Moore put in the winning basket although Pugh was high scorer. Ashland played a very good game at guard.

PLYMOUTH GIRLS OUTCLASSED
The P. H. S. girls were severely trounced by Lucas in their first county game Friday night, 18-9. The slow and uninteresting first quarter went to the visitors, 5-0. Two Plymouth guards, Shaver and Hackett, were put out on fouls during the second eight minutes and Lucas led at half time, 6-4.

Coach Pancoast's team was completely outclassed in the last half by the big forwards from Lucas who managed to double the score on the home team. Poor pass-work and too many fouls led to the downfall of the local team.

The game was officiated by Mr. Donjon of Polk.

LUCAS VS. PLYMOUTH

Well folks, do you remember that old saying, they came, they saw, they conquered. It's a good saying but Lucas evidently don't believe it, they came all right, and they saw, and Plymouth did all the conquering.

The Jenkintown played a hard, fast, clean game to emerge on the top end of a 25 to 21 score. That the boys know a little basketball is shown by the fact that they overcame an 8 to 9 lead in the first quarter to make it 13 to 11 in their favor at the half.

They started out at hurricane pace in the last half to show the few followers of the team present that there would be no doubt as to the final score. Briggs rang the bell for a counter from the charity stripe, and a field goal making it 16 to 14 Plymouth at the start of the last quarter.

In the last quarter there was enough action for two or three ball games. Oswalt of Lucas started out by banging away for three double deckers to make it Lucas 20 and P. H. S. 13 with Bachrach's field goal. Meyers and Webber each collected a foul that tied up the score. But Lucas came back with another from the charity mark to put them in the lead by a point.

Then with but a minute to go Bachrach let go a long shot from the center of the floor and it went in. Meyers put one in from under the basket and somebody (we don't know who) sank a foul and the old ball game was another victory for the fighting Pilgrims of P. H. S.

LEXINGTON VS. PLYMOUTH

Saturday, 20.

Everybody at all interested in basketball set up and take notice, it happened again. The good ship Mayflower bearing the Pilgrims sailed the stormy seas to Lexington and came home with another scalp. I tell you, it's getting to be a habit, this makes six straight the boys have copped. It looks as if they were going places and doing things this year in the county league.

Starting the second quarter with an 8 to 0 lead the men of Jenkins at half time had the advantage of points. Their supremacy was never challenged and the game ended 19 to 9 with Plymouth on the long end.

The boys all played their usual hard, clean game. Captain Bachrach lead the scoring for Plymouth with 7 hard earned points. Webber played his usual steady game at guard collecting a double decker. Ross played a fast game marking up 2 points. Meyers rang up 2 counts just to show he could do it. Gleason, Long and Briggs each chalked up a fielder as proof they knew what it was all about.

There is not much to be said for Lexington, they have a fairly good team but they lack the polishing Jenkins has given his men.

Christmas Greetings

CHRIST brought this world the golden thought of consideration of others and entire forgetfulness of self in service to others.

The greatest human joy and peace of mind is found in sharing happiness and that is the real spirit of CHRISTMAS.

You who have helped in my successes and shared my labors are first in my CHRISTMAS thoughts and my NEW YEAR'S thoughts, too.

I wish for you, your family and your future, all of the best that the world can give you and am adding a little selfish wish of my own that our mutual business activities this coming year may bring us still closer together.
