ALUMNI LOSE TO HI SCHOOL

High School Teams Score Seven Points Higher As Alumni Opponents Lose

By seven points both high school basketball teams won from the Alumni Saturday night.

There was plenty of opposition given by the Ex-High players and the games, according to the spectators, held the interest until the last minute.

BOYS' GAME

The former high school stars played their game exceedingly well, but the P. H. S. five were able to hold their own for the first time in four years. The passes were usually completed and the team work was marked.

Webber made good every shot from the foul line, but one. There is real ability in that player and we are expecting to see him shine again as he did in the 25-29 score. Ross again led the scoring with 7 points, followed by D. Bachrach with 7.

There were more personal fouls made in the Saturday game than have been listed this season. The Alumni were called for 22, and the High team is marked with 15. Only three technical fouls were called, all made with variety. The latter team made 12 of the 22 possible points, and the Alumni scored 13 out of the 15 allowed.

Find the Alumni boys had more practice a yet closer game would have been assured.

GIRLS' GAME

In a game that was nobody's game until the fourth quarter the High school girls won over the Alumni team by a sport of shots dropped in to the basket near the end of the play.

It was a game in which the forwards of both teams starred. Pugh, H. S., made 4 field goals, and 1 from the foul line. She made 9 of her 10 points in the second half. Root made 3 field goals and three free throws, while Becker shot the remaining field goal and foul.

Sheely made 9 out of 14 points for the Alumni, Fate-4, and Becker-1. To see Steele and Hale back at guarding reminded one of past basketball seasons.

The score at the half stood 10-4 in favor of the Ex-Highs. A situation which was a surprise. However, training rules proved themselves valuable, and the High school girls were in much better shape for the last quarter than was the Alumni team. There were no Alumni subs.

Substitutions: Anderson for Becker, Hackett for Shaver, Snyder for Anderson. Penner played the entire game. Shaver was put out on fouls.

SPRING'S COMING WHETHER YOU BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Believe it or not—this vicinity is bound to have an early spring. Why? Well, it's a long story, but Francis Lucile, and know that famous brown spangled dog of Moss Kappenberger's, just got sick and tired of cold weather and ice, so bright and early Sunday morning she started out to keep an eye open for Mister Ground Hog.

Moss claims she can read the newspapers, and knowing it was ground hog day, she wanted to make certain Mr. Ground Hog wouldn't see his shadow and return to his home for another six weeks, so he quietly and stealthily crept up on the unsuspecting victim and captured him. Joyfully and peacefully Francis Lucile returned to her master with her prize, a town pound ground hog.

Moss says this isn't any 'dog story' but the actual truth and you folks who thought that ground hogs didn't make their appearance on this day, just see Moss and he has the evidence.

WORD RECEIVED HERE OF DEATH OF MYRTA ABBOTT

A long distance telephone call last Friday to Mrs. Orson Hofman conveyed the information of the passing on of Miss Myrta Abbott, Thursday night at her home in Marblehead, Mass.

As yet no further details have been received, but it is generally believed that she would be buried at Plymouth on the family lot, where her father, mother, brother, and sister are buried. Provisions were made for her remains, but as so long a time has elapsed we are led to conclude she was buried at her home in Marblehead, Mass.

Plymouth and Adario Girls Tie 10-10

In a game that caused the fans to be in continual suspense Plymouth and Adario girls ended the Friday night basketball fry with a tie of 10-10.

The game was practically a tie from start to finish, though real play didn't get under way until the second half. During the last quarter the twelve girls got down to work. Shaver prevented several Adario gains with her guarding. Both teams lost many shots.

Becker and Pugh divided the honors with 4 points each, and Root brought the score to 10 with a field goal.

A. Forbes, Adario, right forward, totaled 6 points for her team.

Queen Esther Play is Featured for Sunday

A play, "Queen Esther's Choice" in which fifteen characters are represented, will be presented Sunday night at the Methodist Church by the Queen Esther Circle. The author is Lucile Graham.

The play is built around the plot given in the book of the old testament. Esther, and her deliverance of her race. A young girl of Today hesitates at the crossroads, not knowing if she should follow Pleasure, forgetting all worry, or Service, thinking of others. Service, the character of the truth, repeats for her the episode in Queen Esther's life, in which Esther endangers her life for the sake of service.

Louise Ross will play the part of the girl of Today, and Leola Hackett represent the Queen. Gertrude Fager portrays the character of Pleasure. Mrs. G. Brokaw is supervising the play.

An offering will be taken by the Queen Esther Girls and used for the 1930 pledge.

ALUMNI TO ASSUME DEBT ON INSTALLED CURTAIN

A motion was made and carried at the Alumni meeting Thursday evening that the remaining debt on the stage curtain in the new auditorium, be assumed by the Alumni.

The total cost of the maroon velvet curtain, was $358, which $125 has been paid. The $163 yet to be paid will probably be raised by an Alumni play. A committee was appointed by the president, Willard Ross, and will decide definitely how the $163 will be made.

CIVIL WAR VET LAID TO REST AT TIRO

Tiro's last Civil War veteran, Henry Ledman, was buried Tuesday afternoon. With a change of name, and a change of town, this is the sentence that newspapers too numerous to mention are publishing. It is a sentence that sounds the last taps in the mind of the nation, for the soldiers of the blue and gray.

Ledman was a veteran of Company B, 40th regiment, O. V. I., and a comrade and friend of long standing of Frank Tubbs, Civil War veteran of Plymouth. He was an active member of Trago Post No. 542, G. A. R. of Tiro, until the post disbanded in 1924.

This Union soldier was born in Mason, Kentucky, 86 years ago. He is survived by his aged wife and several children.

And so one more veteran answers the last call of the great General—their are but few left to answer the rollcall.

LIONS CLUB MET MONDAY EVENING AT CHURCH

The Lions Club met Monday evening at the Lutheran church. The speakers featured at the meeting were Dr. Edwards, medical examiner of the B. and O. railroad, and Mr. Smith, one of the vice-presidents of the club.

DO YOU REMEMBER—DEATH FROM THE DAMPS

In 1822 excitement prevailed in the community of New Haven, as two men had mysteriously and immediately expired as they descended into a well which they had dug and certain Henry Barney.

The first victim, Hatch, was lowered in a tub into the hole and was seen upon reaching the bottom to fall and become apparently senseless. Pace, the second workman, descending to rescue his friend, fell and expired. Not until a candle was held were the noxious gases often found in a well, thought of. The men were said to have died of the "damps."

After several hours the bodies were recovered. Hatch left a wife and certain Henry Barney, but Pace was a single man who had recently come from Pennsylvania. The catastrophe cast a gloom over the entire community.

BANK AT BERLIN HEIGHTS BOBBED BY TWO BANDITS

Had two youthful bandits, who robbed the Berlin Heights bank of $1500 Saturday morning, been less nervous they would not have overlooked an additional $3,000 and more that was in the vault.

Appearing at the bank, the two well groomed youths, ordered the two well known attendants, Miss Beckman, assistant cashier, and Mrs. Mildred Groves, to hold up their hands. One of the bandits forced the women to enter a rear room, and stood guard at the entrance, while the other gathered the currency that lay exposed on the counter.

Becoming nervous the men ran from the bank, and soon afterwards a Model T Ford car was seen being driven on the Florence road at a high rate of speed. Neither bandit wore a mask. One was tall, and wore a dark overcoat, while his companion was thick-set and short and wore a light coat.

The two women reported the robbery to Sandusky, and to the Norwalk police. Being in a hysterical condition, the Sandusky jail was notified that the Bank was "being" held up, causing much comment and hurry.

Authorities attempted to learn if the men were the same bandits that robbed the Bettsville Bank earlier in the week.

C. Hines, cashier of the Berlin Bank was out of the city. A. H. Matt president of the bank, and W. H. Stevens, president of the branch at Huron, arrived soon after the robbery.

It is thought that the Ford, painted green, was used only in the village, and that a confederate awarded the men in a high powered car.

Local High Five Runs Over Adario

The Plymouth Five repeated the Lucas game Friday night when they met Adario on the Plymouth floor.

It appeared to be an easy matter for the Pilgrims to run up the score, and the fact that they picked the ball out of the hands of the Adario men numerous times is worthwhile mentioning.

The scoring was well divided up during the first half, and the team work was what fans like to see. Ross made the first basket, and at the end of the game led in points with 10. J. Bachrach put in a nice one-handed long shot. The final score of 36 was made up by J. Bachrach with 7, D. Bachrach with 7, Mumea with 6, Snyder with 4, Long with 1, and Hale with 1.

Write the Adario center, made 11 of the 14 points for the opposite team. In the last quarter the first lineup, with the exception of Snyder, was called back to the bench and the subs sent in.

With the Alumni game dated February 1, March not far away, the next question might be—the tournament. Well, the future looks rather bright.

BOARD OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS

The Board of Public Affairs met at the regular meeting Monday evening. No new business was discussed, and the usual routine was carried through. Several bills were paid. The next meeting will be on the first Monday in March.

Inspectors Report School Bus Routes

The campaign, recently ordered by State Clarence J. Brown for safer and more efficient conditions on the school bus routes of Ohio, is going over with a bang.

Everywhere city and county officials, school superintendents and boards of education are rallying to the cause of his way along grade crossing safety with an enthusiasm which emphasizes the need of better protection for the youth of Ohio.

Drastic measures put in force to ensure better transportation conditions in the various school districts and communities are receiving prompt support. As the reports of his inspectors roll in every hour to Commissioner Chalmers R. Wilson, chief of the state bureau of motor vehicles, it becomes increasingly evident that many changes must be made both in personnel and equipment in the state's various bus routes before the grim specter of impending disaster can be made a negligible factor.

The report of Inspector A. W. Able, from Lucas county, one of the first to be received, demonstrates the need of the extraordinary measures being employed. While a large proportion of the school buses in that county measures up to the conditions being imposed, several drivers have been ordered to rehabilitate their equipment or cease transporting pupils insafely.

Faulty brakes, obscured vision and insufficient carrying capacity for the routes traveled are the main hazards being met with and ruled out with an iron hand. The use of buses and private conveyances by school children, while attending basketball or other sports, is expected to be discontinued as long as uncertain driving conditions prevail.

Willard Woman Attack Victim

Mrs. Glenn Bennington, aged 35, of Willard, was the victim Monday night of a brutal attack made by three masked men at her home. The woman is expected to recover according to her physician, but is seriously cut and bruised about the head.

A stranger called at the residence between 9 and 9:30 o'clock in the evening, asking for Mr. Bennington. On being informed that the man, who would not be expected to return at that time, would not be home until midnight, the questioner left.

Later in the evening, between 10 and 11 o'clock, two masked men entered the kitchen where she was working, and beat her into unconsciousness with a blunt instrument. As Mrs. Bennington made no sound, her mother, sister, and grandmother, who were in the house at the time, knew nothing of the tragedy.

As her assailant was about to attack her with a knife, the companion started towards the room in which the other woman was sleeping. However, the masked man with the knife called, "Never mind about the others; I've got the one we want." At the sound of the strange voice the mother, Mrs. Philena Sweet, ran to the kitchen door where she found her daughter in a pool of blood, cowering in the front door she saw the third man, evidently on guard, disappear.

Sheriff Smith was notified, and local police. Robbery may have been the motive, but it is thought a personal grudge was held against the Benningtons. No clues have been found.

EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS AT THE SHILOH M. E. CHURCH

Beginning with the evening service Sunday, February 15, there will be a series of meetings held in the Shiloh M. E. Church each evening at 7:30, except Monday evening.

Ev. E. B. McBroome, the pastor will present a series of sermons on the general theme, "The Life of the Spirit."

If you don't believe our time is getting harder all the time, just reflect that it was only a few years ago that the girls were wearing flannels.

EXAMINERS MAKE FIND

Reports Show That Former Officials Owe Huron County.

State Examiners H. T. Manner, H. H. Hastings, and Fred C. Fotes, have reported that the former sheriff of Huron County, Charles Trimmer, and others, owe the county $2,150.84.

An examination of the books of the county has been filed with the State Auditor Tracey, covering the period from February 6, 1928 to August 28, 1929.

The sum of $1,140 is charged against Trimmer, and his chief deputy, in some cases the state grounds that when an automobile of the sheriff's department, was wrecked on West Main, Norwalk, a year ago, the car was not being used for public purposes. The statement given by Bogart, that he was serving papers on the case of the Shelby Lumber Co. vs. M. Brilton, Norwalk, is false, where reports were found that the papers were served in the preceding November.

It is proved that Bogart was driving two college students, Raymond Ferrin and Hugh McDonald, to Willard, where he was on the train for Oxford, Ohio. The young men are also held liable.

Reports also show that Trimmer and William Lofland owe the county $1,010.84, on grounds that automobile heavy hire charges were made illegally. In some cases the state grounds that the county's interest.

Examiners found that cigarette license funds were paid illegally to the following towns: Plymouth, Greenwicht, Monroeville, New London, Wakeman, and Willard. The taxes should be turned over to the township, as Norwalk, Bellevue, are the only municipalities entitled to the fund.

The technical mistake was discovered of $1,870.82 being paid from the road and bridge fund for the construction of coal bunkers in the court house. In some cases the state grounds the amount from the general fund.

MAN STEPS IN PATH OF TRAIN, IS KILLED

A man, aged 48 or 50 years, believed to be Thomas Edmondson, was instantly killed by a west bound train on the Pennsylvania railroad, five miles west of Mansfield, about 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The death was apparently suicide, as the train crew states that after the whistle was blown the man jumped in the path of the train as it was almost opposite him. A verdict of suicide was confirmed by Coroner E. Schreffler of Mansfield.

The man's home is said to be Port Wash, Ohio. The only means of identification was an envelope bearing the name of Edmondson and addressed to Port Wash. The postmark bore the name of Lansdale, Pa.

The body was taken to Crestline on the train that struck the man.

A Real Tribute to the Dead

IN the United States—until very recently—the good and bad alike were buried in sudden, mouldy graves with only a pretense of protection in wooden or metal boxes. But every up-to-date funeral director now uses the Norwalk Vault. Made of moulded reinforced cement. It is airtight and moisture-proof. The Norwalk seal is hand into one solid piece of masonry. Lamb has always been a favorite luncheon meat. Lamb chops, green peas, and French fried potatoes is almost a classic in luncheon menu making. But lamb may be used in endless combinations as the center of attractive party luncheon menus as well as the center of the home luncheon or dinner. Because of its delicacy lamb is especially adapted to the midday company meal, for the guests who foregather at such occasions are usually women who do not want anything "too heavy."

With spring luncheons the fashion of the hour, suggested menus which feature lamb will not come amiss.

RURAL TEACHER OF 33 CLASSES CALLED 'WONDER'

WILLARD, O.—Called the "wonder teacher" of a one-room school in Norwich Township, near here, Jasper Barber teaches 33 classes a day from the first to and including the eighth grade and says he enjoys his work.

"I wish we had 25 teachers like Mr. Barber," declares the county superintendent of schools, who asserts that a visit to Barber's little white school house is "an inspiration."

Forty-eight pupils are enrolled in the school and walk to and from it every day, carrying their dinners. Kerosene oil lamps are fastened to the sides of the room. The big, round stove in the center provides heat and when the bell rings, calling the children from their play, rows of wet mittens are spread under the stove to dry.

Thirty one-room schools are left in Huron County but none is more successful, it is declared, than that where Barber has presided for the last six years.

"You might describe him as a teacher of the old school who nevertheless, is modern in every respect," school officials say. More than a teacher, he is also a social worker, for he knows intimately the family life of every pupil. This enables him to intelligently cope with many problems that must of necessity remain unsolved in larger schools.

He has been teaching in rural schools for 25 years. He lives on a farm, which he successfully operates in his spare time.

OBITUARY

HARRY WILLIAM DOWNEND

Harry William Downend, son of Otis and Myrtle Davis Downend was born at the farm home southwest of Shiloh, June 21, 1910, and died January 20, 1930, being in the 20th year of his age. His grade school work was done at the old Center District school, coming to Shiloh for his high school work. "Huddy" as he was known to his schoolmates, was a member of the class which was graduated last June. He was always popular with his schoolmates because of his jolly, good-natured disposition. To his teachers he was known as a good student, interested in his work.

For the past few months he had been employed by the Pate-Root-Heath Co. at Plymouth, Ohio, where his steady dependability had already brought him favorable attention from the administration.

Truly the community feels that a life of promise has been cut short in the very dawning thereof.

He is survived by his parents, two sisters, Margaret and Dorothy, and a host of relatives and friends who will miss his cheery smile.

Poultry Train Stops in Huron County

The Grow Healthy Pullet Demonstration Train will stop at Norwalk, Tuesday, February 25, from 8:30 A. M. to 12:00 o'clock noon.

This train will be operated through thirty-three counties in Ohio. It will carry these cars of demonstration material and two lecture cars, and will be the outstanding feature of the Grow Healthy Pullet Project sponsored by the University Extension Service for 1930. This project, although new to many in our county, has been carried on in the state for the past three years. The enrollment in the thirty-three counties in which it was carried on totaled 5,660 for 1929.

This project is based on the most modern methods of chick rearing, pointing out the necessity for rigid sanitation in rearing pullets free from disease in order to insure profitable egg production. Those who reported in the project last year had 83 per cent of the chicks alive at ten weeks, whereas the average for the state, according to a recent survey, is only 64 per cent livability through this period. Exhibits and lectures on the Grow Healthy Pullet Train will indicate the best known methods of controlling many of the diseases and parasites affecting growing chicks.

The train will consist of three demonstration cars and the list will be published later, or can be secured from County Agent, G. A. Hummon.

HANDBOOK FOR BUS DRIVERS BEING PREPARED

Mr. Frank E. Wilson, who is Chief of the Division of Publications, is preparing a handbook for bus drivers and the boards of education. Mr. Wilson, who is doing this under the direction of Dr. J. L. Clifton, State Director of Education, has written to county, city, and exempted village superintendents for the transportation rules and regulations they are using at the present time.

The best regulations will then be incorporated in this State Handbook, so that transportation might be made more efficient and that the lives of the boys and girls might be safeguarded.

To the Voters of Plymouth, Shiloh and Northern Richland County

In order to answer many inquiries, and set at rest a few statements to the contrary, I desire to announce that I will be a candidate this year for reelection to the position I now occupy—Judge of the Court of Common Pleas.

The only opposing argument thus far presented,—advanced by a possible opponent, is that this will be a seeking of the position for a Third Term

In answer will say that Judicial position has properly never been considered as a reward for mere political activity, nor limited by the rule of two terms,—that ability to serve has been the proper basis of choice and continuance in the position.

This is evidenced by the fact that the Judges of the Federal Courts are appointed for life; and that the State Judiciary are generally continued, when willing and physically and mentally able to serve, regardless of number of terms or years.

Over one-fourth of the present Judges of this State are serving on from third to sixth term.

Over one-half of the counties of this State have had Judges who served three or more terms.

If my service as Judge has met with your approval I will appreciate your support by vote, and recommendation to other voters, at the primary and election to be held this Summer and Fall.

Respectfully Submitted,

JAMES W. GALBRAITH

HUGHES TO SUCCEED TAFT

To the distinguished son of Ohio, now forced to retire because of ill health, belongs the unique distinction of being the only person in the nation's whole history to hold in succession the two highest positions in the federal government. His resignation brings to an abrupt termination an active public career covering more than a quarter of a century.

Every American hopes for the resigning chief justice a calm improvement in health and many years' enjoyment of that calm philosophy of life which has so long endeared him to his countrymen.

President Hoover cuts short all speculation as to Justice Taft's successor by turning at once to Mr. Hughes. He could not have chosen one, we believe, in whom the American people without regard to geography or partisanship have more complete confidence.

A former associate justice of the court he is now to head, a member of the World Court, twice governor of his state, candidate of his party for president and secretary of state under Harding, Judge Hughes has already given the best years of his life to conspicuous public service. He was first appointed to the federal high court by the man whom he is to succeed as chief justice.

The best traditions of the court are maintained by Mr. Hoover's selection of so distinguished a citizen. This tribunal, justly world-famous for the authority it enjoys under the Constitution, has always commanded the talents of America's foremost jurists. Like the presidency itself, the Supreme Court demands the best a man has; and its invitations are commands. No man is too busy or too big to sit as a member if the call comes his way.

The new chief justice is a thorough American with an international viewpoint. As chief figure in the Washington conference and later as a member of the court at The Hague, he has shown appreciation of the part this country must play in world affairs. Taking now the position of second importance in the federal government, his breadth of vision touching America's relations abroad should have a tonic effect on public opinion in this country. In these matters Judge Hughes and President Hoover think alike and will work together.

Other changes are imminent on the Supreme Court bench, owing to the advanced years of several members. It is not impossible that before Mr. Hoover leaves the White House we shall have a court majority composed of Hoover appointees. In view of this possibility it becomes a matter of importance whether the president selects lawyers of liberal or conservative trend for the vacancies as they occur.

The substitution of Judge Hughes for Judge Taft probably means no marked change in this aspect of the court. The retiring chief justice and his successor are men of the same general type in this respect—perhaps more conservative than liberal; certainly not reactionary, as the term is used opprobriously.

This issue aside, however, Mr. Hoover makes a popular selection. It is hoped that any future vacancies which may occur under his administration will be as happily filled.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

STILL ROOM FOR PATENTS

In 1840 a man wanted to close the patent office because he believed all possible inventions had been made, and there are many today who fail to visualize the possibility of developing industrial civilization. And right now the world is in need of a new metal. Industry needs a metal as hard as the best steel, as rustless as gold, and as light as aluminum. It can be produced and probably will. . . . Already in the field of aviation we find experiments with self-righting and self-regulating airplanes. The fool-proof plane is near. Soon, perhaps somebody will invent infallible courtesy and infallible brains for automobile drivers.

CURFEW WITH A SHINGLE

An agitation is making the rounds of many towns and cities throughout the country to revive the ancient curfew law. Why don't parents ring their own curfew with a shingle? Children should not be loitering on the streets after 9 o'clock at night in any town or city. But the job of keeping them off the streets is primarily that of their parents. Nowadays there are many parents who are willing to delegate to others the cares and responsibilities plainly imposed on them in looking after the welfare of their children. They should tell them when to be home at night, and if they disobey, there is a way to call their attention to that disobedience.

Ring the curfew on some parents, too.

AIR MAIL FOR ALL

The air mail transport, while growing rapidly, is still limited in scope. Postmaster General Brown wants congress to authorize a big extension of the service. He would permit the carrying of mail bags on passenger planes as well as regular mail planes, and thus extend the service to every part of the country. It is estimated that by this policy the air mail routes, which now cover about 14,000 miles, would immediately jump to 40,000 miles. . . . This looks like sound policy, benefiting not only the mail service but the aviation industry and business in general. With more air carriers, the air mail could be routed better and delivered quicker.

A Chicago man, 101 years old, has filed suit for divorce. He says there's no truth in the first hundred years being the hardest. He claims the odd year has been just as hard.

Man was electrocuted in the Michigan City penitentiary and his parents have sued an insurance company on a policy, claiming death was accidental. When a man is electrocuted in this country for murder, it IS an accident.

An armless man in Chicago, so incapacitated that he could not go out and hold up someone, has been arrested for forgery.

If we can ever succeed in stripping war of its false glamour, we shall have done more for the cause of world peace than all the treaties in the world can do.

If coast guardmen get drunk, a court martial can be arranged over night, but if they kill someone it takes weeks to decide whether anything should be done.

Ohio Farm Families Gather in Thousands at Eighteenth Annual Farmers' Week.

The campus of the Ohio State University in Columbus was a center of interest for rural Ohio this week, and thousands of farm families from all quarters of the state visited the eighteenth annual Farmers' Week, February 3, for a five day run.

Some 500 speakers are on the list. Each department of the College of Agriculture presented a full five-day program. The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation and the Ohio State Horticultural Society commenced their annual meetings on Monday, with the beginning of the general program. Later in the week the beekeepers, the vegetable growers, the state federation of farm women's clubs, the dairymen, and a large number of breeders' associations held their annual sessions.

One of the first speakers on the general program was Arthur M. Hyde, United States Secretary of Agriculture, who addressed the visitors Monday on the general agricultural situation of the United States. L. B. Palmer, president, and M. L. Lincoln, secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, made their annual report Monday, and M. S. Winder, secretary of the National Farm Bureau organization, discussed the services which the Bureau can render to agriculture as a whole, in cooperation with the newly created Federal Farm Board.

H. W. Avery and J. R. Howard, specialists on the staff of the federal farm board have explained the workings of that organization in connection with the Agricultural Marketing Act passed by last Congress.

Every phase of the production and marketing problems of the orchardist and vegetable grower have been taken up in the programs of the horticultural society and the vegetable growers association.

Activities of rural women are prominent on the schedule. The Ohio League of Women Voters has supplied four speakers for the general sessions, dealing with matters of particular interest to women. In addition, the home economics specialists of the College of Agriculture, and specialists from other colleges, have dealt with topics of importance in the management of the farm home.

Each evening there is a recreation period during which the visitors danced old time dances in the University Armory and play games in the Ohio Union Building. From one to four banquets of different groups and organizations are held each evening. Farmers' Week will end Friday, February 7, the last day's general program being devoted to the Ohio State Orange.

BANKERS TO DISCUSS THE TAXATION SITUATION

Ohio bankers belonging to the official family of The Ohio Bankers Association will hold their annual Mid-Winter Meeting in the Deshler-Wallick Hotel, Columbus, February 12.

Although February 12 is a bank holiday, the bankers will get down to work on the taxation problem confronting the whole state of Ohio. These men, who keep in constant touch with all sorts of industry as well as finance, hope to be able to shed some light upon the effect the various proposed taxation programs would have on the business and commerce of the state.

The question of more efficient management of banks will be gone into in the form of committee reports and discussion from the floor. In this connection, Haynes McPadden, Secretary of The Georgia Bankers Association, will be the principal speaker. He will address the bankers on "Dividends from By-Products."

Headlights Found in Governor's Speech

A few of the highlights in the address given by Governor Cooper Tuesday of last week at the McKinley dinner in Norwalk were listed in the Norwalk paper as follows: McKinley learned at his mother's knee the virtue of right thinking and clean living and he never departed therefrom.

McKinley fought free trade as destructive to national well being, and proved his case, winning success for his party and prosperity for his country.

The reliance for success in government is essentially dependent upon enlightened public opinion.

As a people in a democracy are the elemental sources of power, it is apparent that the greater the amount of information and the dissemination of knowledge, the surer will be their judgment and the more reasonable will be their policies.

Too many people are asking the government to save them from themselves, when they have, in fact, the control of their destiny in their own hands. Like charity, government begins at home.

Ohio today is one of the three leading states in educational advantages, advancing from the 17th position in 15 years.

We shall build more miles of hard surface roads in Ohio in 1930 than ever before in a given year in the history of the state.

There is no room in public service for the men of questionable integrity who lurk in the twilight zone of right and wrong.

We have no contractor pets. Contracts are let through competitive bidding, even to the cutting of weeds.

Booze-Crazed Man Terrorizes Toledo

The wild tale of a wild man was given in the Toledo News-Bea, the main character giving his name as Charles Shumaker, and his home town as Shelby, after arrest.

Shumaker, booze-crazed, was captured by Toledo police before anyone was killed. He began his reign of terror by breaking into a home on Burger street, seizing clothing and dropping it about a block away. Boasting a freight locomotive in the Wheeling and Lake Erie yards he attempted to open the throttle, but was stopped by engineer William Kehrer, and fireman Walter Hamilton, though armed with an axe and razor. Frank Kolasak was attacked by the crazed man in front of his home and cut three times on the neck. Medical aid was necessary.

When attempting to enter the home of Eli Kaona, patrolmen George Vall and Robert Siemens arrested the man. Police believe the man may have escaped from some asylum. He was unidentified in Shelby by the description given.

HOW ABOUT A HOME TALENT PLAY FOR PLYMOUTH FOLKS?

Well, folks, how did you like the play in the new auditorium? Fine? Surely you did! And do you want the opportunity of witnessing another first class play, given with Plymouth's own talent? Of course you do!

And it's this way. We realize that you members have many worthy calls on them from other sources, so we have decided to see if we can do away with soliciting, and raise funds in some other fashion.

It came to our minds that a home talent play in the new school auditorium was the solution of the problem.

Upon getting in touch with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gaskill we found them to be full of enthusiasm on the subject, and not only willing, but anxious, to help put the project across. And you all know with "Doc" as coach, the play is bound to be a success.

So watch for the play, the date, cast of characters, etc. This information will be published soon.

ADARIO BURIED

The Pilgrim lads literally buried their Adario foe under an avalanche. Also the dope bucket was proven slightly off, as the Pilgrims won by a greater margin than was prophesied.

A 10-10 TIE

The Adario feminine sextet was evidently made of somewhat sterner stuff than were their masculine schoolmates. They battled the Pilgrim girls to a 10-10 tie. It really was a tough game, and anybody's contest until the final whistle.

FIRST TIME IN FOUR YEARS
After a tough game, the Alumni aggregation walked off the floor Saturday night defeated for the first time in four years. It really was tough—in every sense of the word. Both teams fought hard, and as a result there were many fouls. The Alumni made up for their lack of practice by their determination. On the other hand the Pilgrim squad played an even, well balanced game. Their defense was tight, while they passed as they never had passed before.

A BANG-UP GAME

And, of the feminine argument between the Plymouth sextette and the Alumni women, much can be said. But we deem it sufficient to say that both teams played a bang-up game. Further, we believe it was the best girl's game of the season.

GOVERNOR COOPER ASKS AID FOR DAIRY INDUSTRY

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 6.—Governor Cooper today appealed to Ohioans to get out more butter and other dairy products as an aid to the dairy industry of the state, which, he declared, faces severe losses this year.

His appeal followed a report of Agricultural Director Perry L. Green, stating that overproduction during the past summer and fall had resulted in an abnormal surplus of approximately 40,000,000 pounds of butter. Another reason for the overproduction, he said, is the report, stated, is the possible underconsumption during the past few months.

"Butter is the most healthful of foods," Director Green's report stated "and it contains every element that tends to bring about good health. With prices as low as they are at the present time, and with the arrangement that is current now for the purchase of butter on a very low margin of profit, there can hardly be any reason why the farmer himself should not help to advertise his own product by at least consuming it."

"The life of the cream producing and the butter making industry in Ohio at this time is in very great danger of extremely great economic loss, and there must be a concerted action on the part of the producer, the distributor, the manufacturer and the retailer in order that all the interests may be conserved to the very best advantage.

"Producers must cooperate with its tributors and manufacturers at this time."

THE SONG OF THE OLD GRAY MARE

Forty-four years ago the faculty of Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, wrote a chapter in the long history of the "Old Gray Mare." Whether or not the popular ditty about the speckled "equus Cabellus" was as popular at that time as it is now is not known but a prank of the Lutheran students might well have been the stimulus which finally produced the song. At any rate after their action "The Old Gray Mare" wasn't what the "he" as so attested by the following excerpt from the minutes of the Capital University faculty meeting of November 4, 1886:

"The University horse having been disabled on account of some very foolish sport practiced by a number of students during the night called 'hallooing' having been changed in looks by the application of oil paint from an ordinary gray into a rather uncommon Zebra, it was resolved that the perpetrators of the deed (who were known) must pay for the hire of another horse until the University horse is again in a proper condition to be used."

And the result was that the perpetrators, many of whom are now revered and respected preachers, did pay for the hire of another horse until the University mare was again a "common" gray.

JESSE RUTH.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to the neighbors, friends and relatives for all the kindnesses shown during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother. The many beautiful floral offerings were greatly appreciated and the words of Rev. Henderson comforting.

Some reformers will not be satisfied until the convicts run the prisons and have authority to lock up the wardens and guards at night and to make them do all of the work in the daytime.

MUCK FAMILIES REFUSE TRANSPORTATION TO HOME

The five Kentuckian families, residing on the muckland west of Plymouth, will be entirely responsible for their future condition as the result of their refusal to accept transportation to their homes. Official investigation was made by the county last week.

Prosecuting Attorney J. D. Sears announced that the county could not legally provide for the families, and transportation was refused by all. It was also reported that two instances an automobile was owned by the family, and operated in the summer. Reports state further, that the families, after the onion and celery harvest had ended, made no attempt to find other work.

Provisions have been made by the Pittsburgh Land Company which owns large acreage in that vicinity, whereby a buzz saw and tractor was left near the settlement so that fuel could be obtained.

FOUNDER OF THE WILLARD HOSPITAL

Dr. Harry G. Blaine, 71, veteran physician and surgeon and founder of Willard's first hospital died Friday afternoon after an illness of four days. A cerebral hemorrhage was the cause of the death.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon, from the home of the deceased, at 10 a. m. in the Willard mausoleum.

Surviving him are three sons, Harry, of Toledo, William, of Detroit, Ernest of Willard; three sisters, Mrs. G. Sherman, of Attica, Mrs. L. McLain, of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. A. Whittier, of Toledo; one brother, G. Blaine of Toledo.

Dr. Blaine was married at the age of 19 to Miss Lucy Shanks, and was divorced after four children were born. In 1898 he was wedded to Maude Easlow, who passed away on September 21.

The deceased was born in Wheeling, W. Va., but started his career in medicine under Dr. Parker, of Attica. He later obtained degrees in Columbus, and Indianapolis, Ind., and spent some time at Queen Victoria's Hospital in London.

Dr. Blaine founded the Willard Hospital in 1915, and continued with community hospital in 1925.

GOD is not more interested in giving us easy and comfortable lives than He is divinely determined to make us large comprehensive souls. Trouble, pain, sickness and sorrow are the resources of our spirit, even while we give God His chance to manifest finer works than are seen in mountains, suns and stars. Be not afraid therefore of the dark for:

The dark hath many dear avails:
The dark distills divinity dew;
The dark is rich with nightingales,
With dreams, and with heavenly muse.

HIGHEST POINT IN OHIO IS EAST OF BELLEFONTAINE

Ohio's "highest point" is located in Logan county less than two miles east of Bellefontaine, on state route 32, known as the Marysville, Bellefontaine, Wapakoneta, Celina and St. Marys highway. The United States survey established the height of the hill as 1550 feet above sea level.

Two small square markers placed by the government in 1898, a flag pole erected in 1917 and a small board sign modestly mark the spot.

GREENWICH FIRM SELLS TO NEW LONDON COMPANY

GREENWICH—Carpenter & Son, of Greenwich, have sold their lumber yard to the Reynolds Lumber Co. of New London.

The Reynolds Co. will have a representative here on Monday to take charge of their territory. Carpenter and Son will retain the saw mill here and operate it on the same basis as formerly.

A proposal has been made to raise the salary of Mayor Walker of New York from $25,000 to $40,000 a year. Well, it does cost a lot to travel these days.

SUGGESTIONS FOR FINE PARTY

St. Valentine's Day offers a fine reason for giving a party where fun and frolic and sentiment may hold full sway. The table decorations should be in keeping with the day—hearts and darts and flowers. Lacy, old fashioned valentines may serve as place cards. Pink or red is usually the predominate note in the color scheme and the foods which make up the party menu can be made to fit in very nicely with the color scheme as they do in the Valentine dinner menu suggested below.
