ENUMERATORS ARE SELECTED

The enumerators who have been selected to take the census were recently reported by Clifford Fry, supervisor of the census for the 13th district, offices in Newark, and G. W. Lawrence, district supervisor in Norwalk announced the selections.

Mrs. Nettie E. Miller, Plymouth township, and Plymouth Village.

Gleason M. Swanger, Cass township, Shiloh Village.

C. G. Babcock, New Haven township and Village.

Fred P. Walton, Shelby, ward one.

Emma Norton, Shelby, ward two.

Sammuel Noszack, Shelby, ward three.

Isabel Nonnastner, Shelby, ward four.

G. D. Boala, Millin township.

Nelita C. Shueck, Springfield township.

LOGGE INSPECTION WAS HELD MONDAY NIGHT

Masons from Willard, North Fairfield, Mansfield and Shelby attended the annual inspection of Richland Lodge P. and A. M. at Plymouth on Monday evening.

Charles Wilson, Shelby, district inspector, was present and the work of the fellowcraft degree was put on by Worshipful Master, J. B. Derr. Senior Warden Joe BeVier; Junior Warden Warren Victor Muna; Senior Deacon Willard Ross; Junior Deacon Earl Heath; and Tyler H. Doyle. A dinner preceding the meeting was served by the ladies of the Presbyterian Church.

DWELLING IS BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

WILLARD—The frame dwelling at New Haven, three miles southeast of here, owned by Mrs. Hattie Davis and occupied by Mrs. Hattie Davis, was badly damaged by fire at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The fire started from an overheated furnace and destroyed the entire interior of the dwelling and all the contents. The Willard fire department was called and succeeded in saving the main part of the building. Loss on the dwelling was estimated at $2,000, which is covered by insurance. Mr. Garrett had furniture valued at $500 stored in the house and the Davis family carried $1,000 on their furnishings.

Mrs. Davis was in Willard at the time of the fire and her son Theodore Davis, was in his grocery store in New Haven.

PLYMOUTH CITY JAIL IS BEING REMODELED

Plymouth's jail building is undergoing a change of interior decoration. The work is being supervised by Marshall Dave Burkett. The plaster is being removed entirely, and then a fresh coat of paint will be put on. The windows will be washed and other minor improvements made.

JUST PASSING THROUGH PLYMOUTH -- AND LIFE

Many have strange ambitions. Some struggling journalists dream of interviewing kings and presidents-- senators and gangsters. And some-- interview the gentlemen of the road, who have put up for the night in the city jail.

Just out of luck. No work. Let's don't call them bums. They are men, who are finding the pavements hard, and the way long, and who could, if allowed to begin at the beginning again, make the right start. There were five of them in the jail. They left Monday evening, and were cooking supper over the fire in the cook stove. Coffee, probably beans, probably bread.

Let them speak in order, as they did when interviewed.

First, Frank W.--who gave Cleveland as his home town. His Plymouth was his voice was low, and he spoke well, if not always correctly. He should have been an author. He cleaned his stivars with a paper as he talked, and looked up from time to time. It questioned were omitted--No, I am not satisfied with this kind of life. The good things of life, such as food, clothing and a place to stay, follow can not have without labor. It would be much nicer if we had work, to make a living as other people do. Destination--travelling in space, with no

POLICE CALL LIGHT IS INSTALLED ON SQUARE

Plymouth again has a police-call light, which is located on the public square above the bank building. It is a large red glass globe which is actuated at the local Telephone office.

Any officer of Plymouth, seeing the red light burning is to report immediately. All calls for police assistance can be called into the telephone office, and the operators will relay the call for help. A light was once installed in the center of the square but was lately removed.

The police-call was brought up before the last council meeting, at which the white-way was also decided, and the committee on police and fire, Ned Earnest, and Joe Leach were named to oversee the installation. The main thought was for the protection of the people.

Ed Phillips installed the light and explains the word EXIT on the globe as meaning "Get-out-of-here--the police are after you." However, as it happened, it was not possible to obtain a globe without the word on it.

LARGE DISPLAY TRUCK CAUSES MUCH COMMENT

A large bus-like truck that caused much comment around the square on Monday afternoon, was the property of Bull Sons and Company, of Detroit, Michigan.

The machine was a display bus, the local buyer of the company being the hardware firm of Brown & Miller. It was completely outfitted in white with glass display counters. Sport goods, toys were featured. Fine fishing rods, and hooks were exhibited, as well as guns, toy boats, elephants, etc. The truck was a Reo.

GIRL UNABLE TO FINISH SCHOOL YEAR

Friends of Edith Mae Hackett are very shocked to learn that she is unable to finish this school year.

Edith, during the last month, said she has fainted at school and no physicians state that she must have a complete rest, remaining in bed until April 1st. Friends visiting her are allowed to remain only five minutes. Special recovery is wished for the girl's breakdown.

CALVIN COLLEGE GLEE CLUB TO GIVE CONCERT

The Girls' Glee Club of Calvin College, located at Grand Rapids, Michigan, will give a concert at the Christian Reformed Church at Celeryville, Friday evening, March 28th, at 8 o'clock.

This club is returning from a tour of the Eastern States and has a reputation of distinguished performance and during its present tour is creditably upholding its best traditions.

Members of its membership are in a company and will render a program of songs and readings.

The public is cordially invited.

WIFE IS CRUEL, HUSBAND SAYS

Charging his wife to be a vicious and abusive nature, Alfred A. Kent Tuesday filed a divorce petition in probate court against Minnie Kent to whom he was married in Mansfield June 2, 1928.

Kent says his wife struck him with a stove lid after inflicting severe injuries, and that she used profane and abusive language. He asserts she has threatened him with bodily harm on numerous occasions.

The husband alleges his wife refuses to do housework. Further allegations of gross indiscretions with other men are contained in the husband's petition.

Kent says that now he and his wife no longer live together. Since the time she deserted him some time ago.

He asks a divorce and what other relief is just an equitable. His attorney is A. B. Mabey.

CHARTER MEMBERS TO ATTEND ANNIVERSARY

The Central Methodist church in Mansfield will celebrate its 25th anniversary on Friday of this week. At 8:30 o'clock Friday, the Ladies Aid society will serve the anniversary dinner in the church parlors, to which all former members and ministers are invited.

The Prits sisters, once residents, are now well known, in Plymouth, will furnish the music. Rev. Otto S. Steele, present pastor, will be the principal speaker.

The principal speaker will be Dr. S. K. Mahon, the first pastor of the church, now pastor of the Epworth M. E. church in Toledo. The celebration will conclude on Sunday, March 30, with anniversary services.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Judson were charter members of this church, and though ill health prevents Mr. Judson from attending the celebration Mrs. Judson is leaving for Mansfield Friday night. Sidney Judson is planning to drive from Akron Friday to attend the dinner.

"ALWAYS IN TROUBLE" GIVEN AGAIN SATURDAY

Owing to repeated requests, the P. T. A. will, on Saturday evening, March 29th, again present the Home Talent Play, "Always in Trouble."

This will be given at the High School Auditorium at 8 o'clock. The cast is the same as in previous play, and prices are the same.

If you missed the previous performance of "Always in Trouble" you will again be given a chance to see it, on Saturday evening.

NEW ADDRESS

Local friends have received word from Mrs. Jennie Criswell who left recently to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Will Andrews, that she is enjoying good health, is comfortably adjusted, and would be delighted to hear from her old friends. Her new address is care of Mrs. Will Andrews, 1329 Harding Blvd., Norristown, Pa.

CYCLE WRECK CAUSES DEATH

Leroy Swartz died at the Shelby Memorial hospital Tuesday morning, death resulting from a motorcycle accident which occurred about a week ago. Swartz lost control of his motorcycle on West Main street in Shelby, crashed into a curb, and fractured his skull.

A piece of the skull was removed at the hospital, and Swartz apparently rallied. Death was hastened by the shock of the accident. The deceased is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Swartz, of east of Shelby. He had been employed at the Shelby Water Co. surviving him are his parents, and sisters Oriana, Ethel and Stella.

ATTEND WORLD MISSION

Mrs. Florence Brokaw, Mrs. Elmer Stotts, Mrs. John Beelman and Mrs. Bernice Morrow were in Norwalk attending the World Mission of Christianity held at the M. E. Church. Three Foreign educators and three American Missionaries of International fame gave the addresses.

CHANGE OF RESIDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hatton who reside in the Dawson property on Plymouth Street will move today to Attica to make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Burchard of Portner Street expect to move the first of the month to a farm near Willard.

ALPHA GUILD

The Alpha Guild of the Lutheran Church will meet Tuesday, April 1st, in the Church annex. Hostesses are Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. Pugh.

INFANT DIES

Harley Chester Jewell, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Oro C. Jewell of Rome, Ohio, died at the family home Monday morning. He leaves to mourn his loss, his parents, four sisters and two brothers.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 o'clock and burial made in Adario cemetery.

VAN ZOEST BROS.

ON WAY HOME

Ben and Fred Van Zoest, Celeryville, who are making a tour of Europe, are planning to return home. The card from Rome, Italy says: "Having fine time traveling through Europe. Good weather here at present. Enjoyed warm climate of Southern France. Beautiful flowers and palm trees. Now are traveling toward winter sports in Switzerland. Greetings to all Van Zoest Bros."

The Van Zoest Brothers left the U. S. on Dec. 12, and toured Holland where they have many relatives. A trip through other parts of Europe was made. They were to leave this week and are expected home about April 1st.--Willard Times.

Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kenestrick were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kenestrick and daughter Barbara May of Columbus, Mrs. and Mrs. George Schweinthey of New Washington.

NORWALK MERCHANT ROBBED OF $400 SUNDAY MORNING

Experienced cracksmen who opened the steel safe at the store of H. A. Wilson, Norwalk merchant, obtained $400 in cash, two certificates of the Wisconsin Food Products Co. and other articles.

Entrance to the bakery, meat, and grocery store, located in the Glass Block was gained through the second story, where locks had been jimmied. The grisly appearance of the safe lead police to believe that an explosive was used, but was later discovered to be caused by a fire proofing composition which had been broken into.

A cat, usually locked in the rear of the establishment, was seen Sunday morning in a front show window, so that it is believed that burglars made a complete search of the store, and left all doors open.

Valuable papers, and insurance policies were found on the floor about the safe. The combination dial was knocked out. Strips of rubber had been used to stifle the sound of the pounding.

Mrs. Wilson, wife of the proprietor, dreamed Saturday night the safe at the store had been opened by burglars.

Burglars recently made away with $10.55 from the Chocolate Shop located on East Main, in Norwalk. Entrance was gained by forcing a bar on a rear door.

The Baby Clinic will be held at the Grade School, on Tuesday, April 1st, 1930.

PUBLIC CONCERT GIVEN ON APRIL 22 AT WILLARD

WILLARD, March 26--In the United Brethren church on Tuesday evening, April 22, the first public concert of the Willard B. and O. Singers Club will be given. There are 40 men in this club and the director is E. J. Balduf of Plymouth. The club was organized last October and is financed largely through the efforts of the local Y. M. C. A. Officers of the club are: President, Luther Sherman; vice president, R. N. Crooks; secretary and treasurer, R. Jenkins. The advisory committee are G. W. Short, Joe Wayland and Robert Hughes, those in the club are: Willis McEnderue, W. M. Cornell, Rev. Kipp, Harley Smith, W. H. Pope, H. J. Kendig, George Martin, G. R. Rutck, Samuel Packler, Donald Crooks, George W. Short, Roy Emery, Joe Wayland, Frank Gullio, J. H. Garrett, F. C. Hambley, C. M. Franklin, R. S. Ulrich, James Carney, Robert Ayres, Luther Sherman, Ray Hettenbach, Elden Reed, L. F. Pregel, John Miller, Phillip Brown, R. K. Williams, Darroll Gramer, William A. Harris, Will Mehl, R. N. Crooks, George Miller, J. E. C. Hambley, W. Wilkinson, R. R. Jenkins, Edward Kinsey.

A VISIT THROUGH THE ### PROJECTION ROOM

Through the courtesy of Hal Shreffler, owner of the Castamba Theatre, in Shelby, the Advertiser obtained a story on the talking pictures, the invention that has caused comment from one end of the earth to the other, that has caused opera singers to leave their careers on the stage, and that has caused movie stars to fall from their pedestals or blaze high into the firmament. The Castamba has installed one of the best Western Electric sound projector systems in the country, and its patrons are from towns both far and near.

I have an acquaintance of long standing, with Alice in Wonderland, and so I can say with assurance, that Alice would have indeed wondered had she been shown the magic that I was privileged to see.

I have heard Vitaphone, Vitaphone, but few have seen it. I recently watched the dull, lifeless roll of film, that has long been taken for granted, become an animate thing, that moved, spoke. For perhaps half an hour I watched, in the projecting room of the theatre, yards of film unroll, give up their scenes to the screen, and roll up again on the reels. My eye followed the intense beam of light that played on the sound band of the film, and my ear heard the sound that resulted; the vital organs

BUSINESS MEN LOSE GAME

Evidently the faculty of Plymouth High School keeps in trim better than do the Business Men around the Plymouth Square. This was in evidence the night of the final inter-class trials, in the preliminary games.

In the game before the Senior-Sophomore congressional session, the instructors of P. H. S. led by J. Reed, and Mayor Derr, fought, or skidded, their way through the business men's aggregation to a 27-23 final. Now don't be sarcastic about this affair. Though fans bought their seats expecting to see a one sided affair (we won't say which side), they were much surprised.

The playing was furious, fast, and funny. At the half the business men were leading, 13-9. But Little Mayor Derr took advantage of the great open spaces, and made good a number of close field goals. Then Johnny Reed, with his hand on his shoes, won first prize for high score, making 8 helpers. Bill Tucker ran around the 35-68 floor and made himself the hero of his team by tying Reed's accumulation of 8 points, three fielders and two charity heaves.

Such surprised would go far with a little more practice. Why not? A few faculty games would be fine. The teamsters for the school were Reed, Miller, Wolf, Jenkins, and Derr. Representing the Square were Raymond Steaks, Bill Tucker, Ross Hills, Paul McKean, W. C. Ross, and Jim Rhine.

SENIOR CLASS WINS INTRAMURAL CHAMPIONSHIP

The team that represented the Senior boys in the intramural was decidedly unusual in its composition. We now expect to see dressed in white trousers and blue coats at the graduation exercises the following people: J. Bachrach, Tommy Becker, V. Snyder, J. Shepherd and T. N. Jenkins.

The game was a walk-off, to the despair of many, though the second year men stood up nobly under the rain of good shots. Moore totaled 10 points for the Sophs, while Jenkins, Sr. for the Seniors walked off with 7 good baskets and three one-pointers. Snyder followed him with 10 points.

Goals were plentiful and J. Bachrach was marked up with four personal. But the school championship and the beautiful stuffed owl goes to the graduating class.

PROGRAM SPONSORED BY ATHLETIC ASS. IS SUCCESS

The talk of Rev. George Brown, of Amanda, Ohio, sponsored by the Athletic Association, of New Haven, on Friday night, was a splendid success. The New Haven church was filled to capacity. Rev. Brown used for his topic, "The American Boy," pointing out that faith should not be lost in the boy of today, and that many an American boy has risen through the ranks, from a humble beginning, attaining a position of high honor.

A 35-minute musical program was presented by Mrs. Brown, and her sons, Robert of Amanda and Arthur of Columbus. The trio was composed of piano, violin and xylo phone. The audience responded splendidly to both the music and the talk.

this man threw in 7 good field goals, despite the efforts of the Sohioans. High, of Plymouth, came around nicely in the last half and dropped in five baskets. Bitteckoffer, Sohioan right forward, proved a wizard on foul shots and made good six points in the first half.

STATE DEPARTMENT IS OFFERING $500 FOR SONG

The State Department of Education is offering a prize of $500 for the poem for a suitable Ohio song. After this has been selected there will be a similar competition for a musical setting. The National Education Association meets in Columbus June 28th-July 4th at which time the song will be featured.

The poem must have at least two stanzas. It must be submitted to the State Department of Education not later than May 1st. Address all communications regarding it to Miss Edith M. Keller, State Supervisor of Music.

SOHIOANS LOSE DOUBLE HEADER TO SHELBY

SOHIOAN-SHELBY

The double-header basketball wind-up that was played on the Plymouth floor on Monday night, proved to be a disappointment to both Sohioan teams.

The Plymouth Sohioan team met defeat by only four points, 27-23 and gave a fine game to the Shelby team. Whether it was an off night for Shreffler, or whether this lad missed his teammates is not known, but he was held down to five baskets, whereas he has been running up around 30 points in the past season.

Wolf was the high scorer for the Sohioans, with three fielders. Reidel, Shelby, and Hills, Plymouth were put out on fouls.

THE CROSS AND HUMAN EXPERIENCE

By Rev. J. W. Miller

Under the Sierra Nevada range of mountains, there runs from North to South, vein of gold-bearing quartz, which miners call the mother-lode. Here and there along the vein quartz appears near the surface. At such points, the miners begin to dig down and find the precious metal. Beneath all Christian faith, hope and teaching, Vicarious Suffering extends as the mother-lode.

What do we mean by vicarious suffering? We mean acting or suffering for another. As vicarious suffering is the mother-lode of the Bible, so the Cross of Christ is the richest vein in the range. It is the one place where once hidden treasure is most conspicuously revealed. That which prophet and priest had for ages after ages, looked to see and had not seen, we unmistakably appear in the cross. The mine of riches was revealed in the sight of all men.

A noted scientist says that the method of God in redemption is quite aside from the natural order of things. Why should the salvation of one be by the sacrifice of another? Why need there be the tragedy of Calvary, with its agony, the earthquake and the blood, simply to lead a soul to be reconciled to God?

A little thought and study will show that vicarious suffering as a method of great gain for others is found in the very nature of things. When the Roman soldier dug a hole in which to set the inhuman cross, he threw up limestone. What is limestone? It is a cemetery filled with myriad shells of extinct life. Take a piece of chalk and draw a line on a blackboard. Under a microscope of high power, one may see that every grain of that white chalk line is a skeleton. All that rock, in which the Roman soldiers placed the cross, the symbol of vicarious suffering, was once in contact with life that roamed the sea, in pearly shells, or crept in the ooze of the ocean all unknown. They fulfilled their purpose, died and fell to the bottom, and remained there for years untold. In the fullness of time God upheaved that ancient sea bottom, and it became dry land. Everywhere that limestone appears a substantial part of the globe's crust, one vast burying ground, thick with the dust of departed millions of little creatures.

To what purpose did these living creatures, struggle, suffer and die? Stand in front of any sea-girt cliff and read the answer. You will see that one age of life came, suffered and died to make a fitting platform on which another could accomplish its mission and fulfill its purpose. That age of life again struggled and died to make another, and that thus from the surface down to the actual foundation of the world, through, not only one or two, but in some places a thousand strata. Standing there, reading on the rugged cliff the history of the past, we see that each succeeding form of life could live and carry on its work only as some preceding life suffered and died in its place.

The law of that cliff is one for another, and all for man. These dying millions of little forms made the structure for man's Eden, the cement for his building, the marble for his art. You cannot make a grain of wheat grow, unless you plant it in the moldering remains of some life that died to give it growth. Our grain, in fact, and flowers are all planted in blood. They live, grow and are matured and made beautiful, only as they send their roots downward and take hold of the vicarious suffering of other lives which died that they might live.

The Cross of Jesus fitted in that rock of death, is the fitting continuation, the grand ultimatum of all the vicarious suffering which was going on since the earth's foundations were laid by the same process. Infidelity must remove the thousand strata of the rock before it can undermine the Cross, or get rid of the doctrine of vicarious sacrifice.

The vicarious Atonement is carried along the sweep of history, prophecy, of ritual, of sacrifice. All the successive eras of worship have their meaning and fulfillment in the Cross. Isaiah's eloquence is awakened only as he anticipates the Cross. David's harp sounds its sweetest harmonies only as it is tuned by the coming of the Cross. The laws of Moses, the license waved in the temple, all the blood sprinkled on the mercy seat, all the lambs led to the altars have meaning only as they point to the Lamb of God, who is the completion and explanation of the long time of vicarious suffering, continuous since matter was first formed—"THE LAMB OF GOD who takes away the sin of the world."

Men may object to the doctrine of vicarious suffering, as does the author of THE MAN NOBODY KNOWS on page 59 of his book of this title—but in nature it is not beyond doubt by that limestone rock. Men may object to secure the life of the soul in this way, but it is plain, is it not, that there is no other way of securing bread for the body. The air we breathe, the water we drink, the food we eat, the raiment we wear, are all fraught with vicarious suffering. Should it seem a thing incredible to you that by the same law even the bread of life for the soul is provided?

We see then those Roman soldiers planting in that limestone rock, outside of Jerusalem, not a grain of wheat for man's physical life, but a cross on which one more vicarious death was taken place, and that in the interests of the soul of man. The sufferings and death on that cross, though different in purpose, are not aside from God's plain in nature, but one with it, the fitting climax of that line of suffering of vicarious suffering as the foundation in the very foundation of the world.

Man's need goes farther than bread and fruit and flowers can supply; and why should not that supply for the higher need not come by the same path of vicarious suffering as the bread, the fruit; the flowers—even the sufferings of Jesus Christ, "The Lamb slain from the foundation of the world?"

PAINFUL CORNS

Loosen—Lift Out

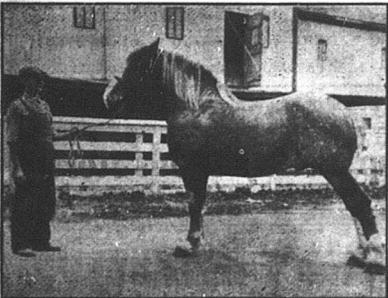

A little known Japanese herb, the discovery of an eminent German scientist (Dr. Sickle) instantly soothes the corn, callus or wart, then loosens it so that shortly you can lift it right out. This new discovery called "Corn Fly" excites the white blood corpuscles to action and granulates the corn at its root so that it drops out and leaves no trace of scar or soreness.

You will also find "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" a boon for sore, tired or perspiring feet.

"Corn Fly" for corns, 35c. "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" 25c. and "Corn Fly Bunion Remedy" 50c. (all three—$1.10 value—for $1.00), are sold under a positive money-back guarantee by H-Gen. Co., Newark, N. J., of local drugist.

FITTING CEREMONIES HELD FOR DEDICATION OF NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

"Loyalty, pride and appreciation predominated at the dedication of the new school building Friday night when the ceremonial was performed by the Hon. J. L. Clifton, state director of education.

The auditorium was filled with citizens of Plymouth and the beauty of the scene was enhanced by gifts of flowers from different organizations." In these words does the Mansfield News describe our dedication exercises.

J. L. Clifton, County Superintendent of John W. Kern, Dr. G. J. Searle, Jr., president of the school board, Supt. Miller, former superintendent of S. Davis, Rev. J. W. Miller, Mr. John Reed and Miss Grace Trimmer were seated on the stage.

Dr. Searle, Jr., was in charge of the program. He assured the citizens of Plymouth that the building belonged to them as they are the ones who have made possible the building of it.

Mr. Clifton said that "the boys and girls of Plymouth were worth the cost of the building."

"Education is what the people need but many do not want it," he said. "The things we need most are the things we don't want. He dedicated the building to the social, educational and religious life of the community."

T. S. Davis, now assistant principal of Cleveland Shaker Heights High School, recalled several events which took place during his stay in Plymouth. He made a plea to the pupils of the school to be fair in their school work and play the game squarely.

County Superintendent John W. Kern commended the school board and faculty on their accomplishment.

Mr. Miller gave a short talk on the gifts which had been presented to the school, among them are: A flag for the auditorium, a flag for the interior of the building, a piano for the stage, a case of specimens, a picture, a piano, dishes and other equipment given by the Parent-Teachers Association. The beautiful and artistic bronze lights are a much appreciated gift. The Alumni have assumed the responsibility of the curtains and the Dramatic Club and Junior Class have donated toward the stage scenery. Several trucks as well as labor were donated for use during the moving. With this help and the aid of the Faculty and pupils the moving was done easily and at small cost.

A pleasing vocal solo was rendered by Miss Grace Trimmer, and also by Mr. John Reed. Several selections were sung by the Glee Club.

The program ended by the singing of the Alma Mater. Mr. Davis who is the composer of the selection accompanied.

After the program the building was open for inspection.

ACHIEVEMENT BANQUET — WAS GREAT SUCCESS

The Achievement Banquet, held in honor of our basketball and track teams and the winner of the Prince of Peace Declaration Contest was given last night.

Mr. Willard Ross, president of the Alumni Association acted as toastmaster for the evening. He had a witty remark after each speech.

Miss Pennoast, the girls' basketball coach and Mr. Jenkins the boys' coach awarded letters and certificates to the girls and boys who practiced and played faithfully throughout the season.

These letters, as Coach Jenkins said, are to be worn with pride and not hid away somewhere or worn to work on an old sweater. Those players who have received letters in previous years were given certificates.

Each girl and boy who received either a letter or a certificate was very proud to have earned it and will appreciate it in later years.

Mr. Townsend, the Director of Athletics in the State of Ohio gave a very interesting speech. He brought out some very interesting points.

1. Basketball is, taken all in all, a very good sport for young people. It not only occupies the minds of all but keeps them busy as they are not so apt to get into trouble.

2. Training. Examples were given if boys who trained and those who did not train.

One boy who didn't train died of tuberculosis. He proved that training is a necessity for a good athlete.

3. One year basketball was stopped in the high schools in one of the cities of the southern part of this state.

The next year basketball was again brought back into the school. Mr. Townsend asked one of his friends why they brought it back. He replied that when they stopped basketball that so much of sportsmanship was lacking. The young people didn't keep up their conduct, but rather seemed to do everything they could to vent their surplus energy.

4. Keeps children in school. They usually take a real interest in it and don't miss school so much.

5. Pleasure and fun are derived from playing basketball. Every young person in school has to study enough to keep eligible for sports. This work does not hurt them but rather gives them pleasure. Everyone that studies enough in school to keep eligible is surely entitled to some pleasure. This may easily be found in basketball.

5. May lead to the building of a new gymnasium or perhaps a new building. This would better the community in every way.

6. Good Sportsmanship. He said that it would be a good thing if some of the people who never played basketball would get hit as hard as some of the people who played basketball and see if they would get up laughing or would they get mad and hit the person. These are all good points but of course there are some bad points to everything good. Some of the bad mistakes are:

1. Betting. In certain communities betting entirely ruins sports. So often when money is lost, the losers are angry at the team. Often the players can be bribed to "throw" the game. The bad results of this may easily be seen. He said he hoped that some of this could be found in this community.

Mr. Townsend brought his speech to a close by commending our superintendent and our school and hoping that we have a very successful season for next year.

Mr. R. R. Miller gave a reading which was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Jenkins gave a very good impersonation of a small girl.

The banquet was served by the Home Economic class.

Songs which were sung by the guests and basketball teams were led by Rev. Himes.

The closing number was the "Alma Mater."

E. S.

Mr. H. W. Rapp, and Mr. Carl Tredway, of Akron, were guests at the home of Mrs. Eida Beard and family, on Sunday.

The Basketball season of 1929-30 is now history, as far as Plymouth is concerned. Taylor's Solihon's playing their final tilt, tasted double defeat Monday night, both by narrow margins of 37-23 and 33-32. Better luck next year boys!

"In the spring a young man's fancies gently turn to thoughts of"—Track.

Pilgrim athletes have proven no exception to the above statement. Coach Jenkins issued call for track candidates some time ago, and the boys responded—And how!

Folks, I've know that at Plymouth HI spring track is fast becoming a very popular sport. It was first introduced by Coach Jenkins in '28. Only a few were really interested in the spring of '29 the lads really exhibited a lotta' real pep. Coach Jenkins took 'em over to the district meet at Ada, and believe it or not, the boys won the mile relay. Yes, sir, Plymouth were North District mile Relay Champs last spring. Not only that but they went down to Columbus and placed 7th in the State meet. Two members of this team are back on spikes, they are: Jr. Bachrach and Harry Long. Around these two men, another group of baton snatchers, of championship caliber, can easily be built.

Jr. Bachrach also ran a mean 100 yard and 220 yard dash for old P. H. S. last year, and with previous experience should be able to turn in some real time this Spring.

Among the candidates there are such veterans as Tubby Webber who puts the shot and hurls the discus; D. Muma who throws the javin; Dave Bachrach who assists his cousin Jr. in the dashes, and cuts no mean figure as a 440 man. H. Long besides being a baton-tosser, also high jumps and struts his onions at the low hurdles.

So kind word give these small boys a big hand, and they'll show you a real track outfit.

Here's Instant Relief From Bunion Pains and Soft Corns

Actually Reduces the Swelling—Soft Corns Dry Right Up and Vanish—Be Picked Off

Get a two-cent bottle of Moon's Emerald Oil (Full strength) today. Every well-stocked drugist has it and it will reduce the inflammation, remove, and pain much quicker than any remedy you ever used.

Your bunions may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture and pray for quick relief. What's to be done?

Two or three applications of Moon's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes all the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

As for soft corns, a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and vanish.

Drugists guarantee Moon's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.

Whatever degree of failure there may be to measure up to the obligations of the occasion will not fall upon Columbus alone, but will be chargeable to the educational machinery and personnel of the state at large. By no means are you to consider yourselves as visitors or onlookers at these meetings, but rather will you be assistant hosts and hostesses charged with the definite duty of creating an atmosphere of welcome and a feeling of at-homeness among our guests.

"It is high time, too, that we should begin to set our house in readiness to receive our guests. Thousands of them will motor through our state from every direction and will thus pass our school plants coming and going. Every building and every bit of connected landscape should be looking its very best. Lawns and shrubbery and flowers should be nurtured and cared for from the very beginning of spring and at the close of school should be left in the best possible condition. Committees of pupils and patrons should be appointed to look after these matters after school is out and until after the Fourth of July. A general survey of state and national highways from the esthetic viewpoint should be made in every school district, and community projects of beautification of the road-sides should be organized and carried through.

"These things cannot all be done on Arbor and Bird Day alone, but this can be made the central occasion and may be considered the very high bit and from which all efforts may be directed. Wherever teachers are properly enthused the pupils will catch the spirit and will carry it to the limits of the district and things will come to pass. Teachers of the state, this is our golden opportunity to state in a project that will prove our claim to progressiveness, our ability in leadership, our right to aspire to the positions which we occupy, and that will reflect credit not only upon our noble profession but upon the grand old commonwealth which we serve."

Ep-please pardon us for mentioning basketball after claiming that it was over, but Coach Stahl of Dayton State claims that he has found another Hasket, in a young fellow whose last name is George. Stahl says he is as tall as Hasket and that he is a more polished player than was Hasket in his Freshman year. Oh, boy!

If Johnny Risko, the Cleveland baker boy continues to make whoopee, in the heavy weight circle as per Campolo, he'll soon be in the dough.

Speaking of boxing, I think Plymouth should feature that sport. I further suggest that Ross Hills, the Red Front Hurricane, should challenge Willard Ross, the Battling Kroger demon to ten round, no hit, no run, mele! And that James Rhine, of Brown & Miller fame should be referee. All in favor, remain that way!

ARBOR AND BIRD DAY MESSAGE OF J. CLIFTON

Director of Education, J. L. Clifton, is sending to all superintendents—city exempted village, and county—an Arbor and Bird Day Message to be used in conjunction with the program of April 25th, which has recently been designated by Governor Myers Y. Cooper as Arbor and Bird Day.

"Governor Cooper in his Arbor and Bird Day Proclamation, has called attention to the meeting of the National Education Association to be held in Columbus, June 25 to July 4. I desire to emphasize what he has said in this connection, for, having had a part in extending the invitation to this large group of leading educators to hold this meeting in our state, I feel deeply responsible for the impression which our state educational system is going to make upon our distinguished visitors. I hope, too, that I can get every person connected in any way with our schools to share this responsibility with us.

SECOND EVERY PUPIL TEST PLANNED FOR APRIL

Plans for the Second Every Pupil Test, April 8, are rapidly being completed. Students in the 1,100 high schools, public and private, in Ohio will be tested in Chemistry, General Science, Physics, Algebra, Plane Geometry, American History, First Year Latin, Second Year Latin, 7th Year English, 8th Year English, 9th Year English, 10th Year English, 11th Year English, and 12th Year English.

The First Every Pupil Test given December 10, 1929, attracted unusual interest. Over 200,000 pupils who participated used 470,000 copies of the test materials. The marks made, in main, were good.

Dr. E. R. Wood, who is in charge of this state testing program, feels certain that the pupils will make higher scores on the Second Every Pupil Test, since Dr. W. J. Osborn, Director of Research, State Department of Education, has issued several bulletins dealing with the fields to be covered by the tests.

HOME ECONOMICS SCHOOL OPEN TO PUBLIC MAY 2

Columbus, O., March 27—The school of home economics, Ohio State University, will hold its second annual open house here Friday, May 2nd. Laboratories, classrooms and other facilities and equipment of the school will be open to public inspection at that time.

Plans for the open house are in charge of a committee of students of which Helen Palmer, Pataskala, is general chairman. Other committee chairman include Winifred Reynolds, Columbus, exhibits; Verla Howard, Edgerton, hospitality; Elva Paul, Columbus, entertainment; and Margaret Beeman, Wooster, publicity.

High school seniors interested in home economics, teachers of home economics from all parts of the state, alumnae of the school, parents of students and others interested will be invited to the open house. Prof. Faith R. Lanman is director of the school.

REMINISCENSES OF A PIONEER BOY

For the benefit of the young, and the older as well, who are interested in stories of this nature:

When a small boy, the writer, in the year 1865, began the journey with his parents to Indiana, by wagon. The first stop was near South Bend, near where an Indian settlement was located, at a place called North Liberty. The county of St. Joseph and that part of the state is blessed with lakes, and was a fine place for fishing.

In the spring of 1866 we moved near the county line of Marshall, away back in the timber land. All the road we had was a blaze on the trees to guide us. During the time that we lived there, we cleared some of the ground, but it was difficult to make a living in the backwoods and in such a district. Though game was plentiful and the lakes and stream full of fish, there were other things needed that were very necessary, such as clothing, groceries, as flour, etc. Also feed for the horses and cattle. However, the cows could rough part of the wintering.

But where there is a will, there is a way. Timber being plentiful we took the choice of the oak and made it into heading and staves for barrels. We first cut them in the proper lengths, then split them into bolts, after which we used a mallet and froe to rivet them in proper shape. Having some on hand almost at all times, we could take them to market and receive small pay for our labor.

At that time almost all towns had a copper shop, making barrels for whiskey, gin, pot, fish, molasses, and various purposes. These coopers bought hoop poles to use instead of iron, for the barrels.

Some of the younger readers may be interested in a wolf story that is a true tale. In the year 1866, I with the rest of the family went to visit an uncle who lived in Marshall-co. a distance of twelve miles. We traveled through a country of swamp and woodland. There were lots of grey wolves abroad. While around the fire this uncle related an adventure of his which occurred only a few days before. Obligated to be away from home for a time, he began the return trip alone. Believing in being prepared he carried a torch with him, and was forced to light and use it the entire way as the grey wolves followed him in such numbers. Successive times in reaching home, he was worried the entire night by the animals howling around the building. Father told a story about a family traveling thru the forests; about to be overcome by wolves it was decided to throw one of the children out of the sled, and while the wolves devoured the victim, the rest reached safety.

On our return home through the woods, we were followed by wolves. We were traveling in a sled. We, the children, were very much frightened and began to wonder which one of us would be given to the wolves. However it was not necessary, and we reached home in safety.

DATA ON SCHOOL BUS

DRIVERS AND TRANSPORTATION

Fifty per cent of the school buses of Ohio are, physically, below an agreed standard of safety.

This conclusion is reached by a check of more than 5000 reports on school-bus inspection which have come in to Commissioner Chalmers R. Wilson, of the State Motor Vehicles Bureau from inspectors in the field. This number of buses inspected is approximately eighty per cent of the total in use in the state and is a fair indication of conditions in general.

But this result of the work of the Bureau's inspectors must not be taken to indicate that negligence or indifference to the safety of the pupils transported on the part of those in control of the work is the cause of this regrettable showing.

Lack of funds in centralized school districts operating their own vehicles and, in the poorer districts, inability of school district officials to hire adequate up-to-date equipment is, undoubtedly, the prime factor making for these hazardous conditions.

Deficiency found in the personnel of the drivers has been negligible. Comparatively few of those in charge of school-bus equipment have failed to pass muster. A few, unfortunately, crippled by the whim of fate, have been, automatically, declared incompetent to carry Ohio's youth to the seats of learning. But this number is in inverse ratio to the number of vehicles which have reached the zero mark.

To the inability of certain school districts to obtain satisfactory equipment and to enjoy good roads over which that equipment may travel can be ascribed the present situation, which presents immeasurable hazards to thousands of school children daily.

The answer to both problems is state aid.

Millions have been appropriated by past general assemblies for better school conditions, better school properties and more advanced instruction. The time has come for state aid for adequate bus transportation in the poorer districts and for a reapportionment of automobile license and gas tax revenues. With these two problems boldly faced and solved present conditions surrounding centralized school transportation in Ohio will be wiped out.

P. T. A. Play, "Always in Trouble" repeated at Plymouth High School Auditorium, Saturday evening, March 25th.

EVERY LITTLE VOTE

COUNTS IN SENATE

The hairbreadth margins, by which the fate of the consumer's pocket book is decided, when tariffs are being written is something to marvel over. A recent instance occurred when the fifth little vote was taken on the proposed oil duty. An exceedingly tense situation arose. Yeas and Nays were being cast in almost equal ratio. The all Senators began to brighten up, while their opponents exhibited considerable worry. Gerald P. Nye, youthful North Dakota statesman, was confined at home with an infected foot at a time when every vote was needed. When word was relayed to him that the duty was about to go through, Mr. Nye hastened down to the Senate chamber and saved the day by his one vote. Result: The tariff was defeated 38 to 37.

Senator King of Utah exhibited the touching solicitude for his constituents characteristic of Senators from the sugar states. He literally arose from a sick bed to cast his vote against the amendment to retain the present duty on sugar. The Senator had been ill for weeks prior to that day, and he has not been in the Senate since.

The farmer was socked twice in the name of farm relief by a one-to-five victory for the protectionists, when Vice-President Curtis broke a tie on clotheings and on plate glass tariffs by voting with Big Business. However, the latter had a somewhat modified later through the efforts of Senator McMaster of South Dakota, who effected a compromise between the 1922 rates and the higher duties voted by the Senate.

Senator Borah of Idaho risked political gain instead of health during the vote on the hides and leather schedule. Much as the Senator desired a tariff on hides, he could not bear to see the Grundy forces walk off with victory. When Mr. Grundy voted for the tariff, Mr. Borah voted against it. The hides and leather duties were defeated by that one vote.

HURON COUNTY CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION

Christian Endeavorers, anything planned for Sunday, March 30th? If so, let's change the plans and go to North Fairfield to attend the C. E. Officers Conference to be held in the Baptist Church in the afternoon and evening.

The afternoon session to be mainly for the officers and the evening session for the public. Each and every one is invited to attend this meeting.

Come on! Christian Endeavorers let's be there one hundred strong and see what a benefit we receive from this Conference.

GREENWICH MAN PASSES AWAY

Greenwich—Frank Shirey, 73, died at his home here at 10:30 o'clock on Wednesday morning, following a long illness.

Mr. Shirey was born in Pennsylvania and came to Ohio when he was 24 years old. He had a farm at Rome, O. near here where he lived until 16 years ago when he moved to Greenwich. Surviving him are his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Homer Wise of Akron and several grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the United Church with Rev. H. H. Longberry, pastor of the church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Rice, of Brighton. The burial was made at Shiloh.

was clean shaven, his shirt was clean, his shoes were clean. He spoke rather softly, and tipped his hat when he later met me on the street. As he said, he was not much of a "talker."
From all appearances he was not a man of the road. He learned the art of can-making in San Francisco, but machinery replaced him—cans are no longer made by hand. His education stopped at the eighth grade, by necessity, and he learned to be a jack-of-all-trades. He wants to go back to the coast. Seven or eight years of his life was spent in Alaska at the Salmon fisheries. The weather is fine there. He liked the mountains of Alaska, and was impressed with Mt.
McKinley. Work on the purse-seine boats was interesting. One never would have suspected Frank W. of being a lumberjack. He states that he was; worked in the spruce camps during the war, where material was cut for airplane manufacturers. A ride in a plane wouldn't be so bad—the experience would be nice.

And on to Frank M.— From Cincinnati. But bound for the Dakotas, where work should be better. Frank M.— was a seasoned traveler. He had worked in the wheat fields in other seasons. (He talked with a slight accent, rolled his A's, and the things he spoke were established facts—so far as he was concerned.) Yes, he went to the Dakotas, where there are no fences for miles, all flat land, plain.
A moulder, by trade, learned the work in Cincinnati, after quitting school in the eighth grade, of his own accord.
It was lack of work that started him hitching on the rails. Had been further west, but found too much wilderness.
Frank M.— pushed his hat backed on his head, slowly, unhooked his long coat, and chewing a match, offered me a chair for the next interview.

The last man—boy, to be more exact. He was not experienced enough a member to give his name. As Frank, too, he told me it was George, and I believe him, George K.— of Hagerstown, Maryland. And he was bound "back that way." He began working after the eighth grade was completed;
a mother to support. Just a laboring man, with no particular job. In the fire, this boy had ambitions. He talked almost in monosyllables, but after a pause told me that he would like to be "a piano—to play the plano." He had never attempted to compose, but would like to—only two years of training. There were other things he would have liked to have told, perhaps, but he could not find words. He had heard John Porter play. He was interested—in the Pacific canal in Maryland and Washington. The boats were yet pulled by horses, and hauled coal, and lumber.

They were long boats, and flat, and had numbers to distinguish them.
And so the life, the average life of a man of the road.

A VISIT THROUGH

ord is photographed on the film and is known as Morivestone. Both methods can be used in the same theatre.
In synchronous reproduction the disc method, an electric current,
whose variations correspond to the sound waves forming the sound recorded, comes from an electrical re-producer playing on a disc record.
One record plays during one reel of the ordinary film. Record and film are moved by the same motor. In the film method, the sound record consists of a band, 1-8 inch wide, which runs down on side of the film. On this band are microscopic films, the pitch spacing of which depends on the pitch of the sound, and the intensity of which depends on the loudness of the sound. A light ray from a high intensity exciting lamp is focused on the sound track thru a system of lenses. The beam, after passing through a slit in the aperture plate, falls on a photo-electric cell, which reproduces a small electric current,
whose variations correspond to the sound recorded. This current passes to vacuum tube amplifiers, and is then converted into sound by sound projectors located at the screen. The screen must reflect light waves, but must be transparent to sound waves.
There must be a distance of 14 1/2 inches of film between sound and picture projectors.

In silent pictures, the film can be and usually is shown at a faster speed than it was taken. All synchronous subjects have to be run at the same speed they were made.

LIBRARY NEWS!

Exactly 157 books were taken out from the Plymouth Library from Wednesday of last week until Wednesday night of this week. Considering the weather, and the size of Plymouth, we would say that this wasn't so bad.

dropped.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY
The Seniors, of New Haven, have started work on their class play which is going to be "Hold That Line, Jimmy!" Sounds interesting, don't it? A college play, in which four boys and four girls have a part. It will be given the last part of April.

BOX SOCIAL SATURDAY

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE IS GIVEN MISS LEOLA HACKETT
A birthday surprise party honored Miss Leola Hackett on Saturday evening given by her mother, Mrs. Venard Hackett.

Misses Marguerite Brothers, Doris
Lutz, Luella Greene, Ellen Anderson, Gertrude Pagel, Eleanor Snyder, and boys attending the party, Walker
Mumma, Vincent Taylor, Whitney
Briggs, Donald Anderson and Leola's father, brother and aunt, Mrs. George Hackett enjoyed a delicious 7:00 o'clock dinner. After the dinner games and dancing were enjoyed.
Gifts were received. Miss Hackett was 15 years of age.

Except for hogs, horses, and mules,
there was more livestock on the farms of this country on January 1 this year than at the same time a year ago.

A Friend in Need

The modern funeral director gives valuable service—and gets little praise. He insists you have nothing but the best. The Norwalk Vault—air tight, waterproof, reinforced concrete—makes the foundation of every first class funeral. It gives each humble grave all the protection of a splendid tomb. All good funeral directors use the Norwalk Vault—the best directors insist on it. Sold by all funeral directors and made by
