

W. C. T. U. HOLD REGULAR MEET

Mrs. Baltzell Resigns as President of Organization on Account of Health; Other Business.

When the Plymouth W. C. T. U. met last Friday afternoon with Mrs. E. M. Marks on Mills Ave., they were glad to have as guests, Mrs. Alice Starnes, Mrs. Rebecca McCrory and Mrs. Mary Markley, all of Bucyrus. During the business session, the president, Mrs. J. H. Baltzell told the women that because of the condition of her health, someone else would have to be selected as president. A committee of three, representing the three churches, was named to find a woman who would take this work.

Some of the facts about conditions and happenings under the present prohibition law, as sent out by the National W. C. T. U. were given by the various women taking part on the program as follows:

Mrs. Hattie Perry read an article showing that "the census volume on Crime shows the number of commitments among young people up to the age of twenty had declined forty per cent under prohibition."

"J. W. Crabtree, Sec. of the National Education Association, made a survey of conditions in the high schools and reported: Conditions in the high schools are much better than in 1920, with respect both to drinking and to general behavior. This is doubly significant in view of the fact that high school enrollment has grown since 1920 from two million to more than five million students. Unquestionably the 18th Amendment has benefited the schools beyond measure."

Judge Barthelme of the Chicago Juvenile Court asserts that there is not one girl brought into court for drunkenness now, where there were ten prior to prohibition, and the finger print record of New York City shows a decline of 75 per cent in first time drunks, which usually are young drunks."

One of the items of interest brought out in the reading Mrs. L. Z. Harris gave, should help to arouse the voters of the country from their lethargy. She said "Two days after the Illinois senate voted to repeal the State prohibition law a witness before a special grand jury in Chicago exposed Senator Dan Serritella as Al Capone's chief of staff, manager in the "loop" of Chicago and boss of the First Ward. And Senator Serritella, voted to repeal the prohibition law."

Mrs. Mary Markley, of Bucyrus, has.

Memorial Poppies Recall Tradition From Flanders

Remembrance Tinged With Reverence for Men Who Fell in Combat Shown by Wearers of Flowers.

Every year, on the Saturday before Memorial day, millions of Americans wear red poppies; wear them in remembrance and reverence. The story of how the poppy came to be the national Memorial flower, not only of the United States, but of England, France and Belgium, embracing the nations of the future. No scientific explanation can quite cover it; and only the superstitious claim to understand it.

The poppy is one of the native wild flowers of France and Belgium. It grew and bloomed in profusion over the hills and meadows, and through the cultivated fields of the American boys, glimpsing a field of scarlet poppies for the first time, were startled to see how it resembled a tumbling, restless sea of blood.

When the devastation of war swept the fields of the allies during the World War, the land that once had been responsive to the slightest encouragement of rain and sun, suddenly became a black desolation. Like the lands of the western states that have been swept by forest fires, only blackened ruins stretched out to the horizons in every direction.

There was no living thing; not a spear of grass nor an insect. In the spring, the warm rains came but the land refused to respond. And then the poppies, like millions of tiny folks, banded together to cover the desolation, and American veterans will tell the story of how they sprang up everywhere against the black background of ruin, spreading their lady leaves, and nodding their bright jaunty heads to the wind.

The superstitious folks began to feel the poppies were the outward symbol of the immortal souls of millions of boys who had saturated the soil with their blood. It was true that where the battles had raged the fiercest, the poppies grew the thickest and brightest.

A young French woman going out the spring after the war to till the blackened fields, saw a steel helmet with the top blown out of it, and growing bravely with undaunted valor, through the shell holes in the helmet was a poppy plant, aflame with color.

And so the poppy came to be regarded as the symbol of sacrificial blood and undying valor, and the American Legion and the American Legionettes, by members of his congregation and associate ministers of Plymouth.

The reception was held in the church with a large gathering present and a most interesting program rendered as follows:

SCHOOL BUDGET CUT BY BOARD

$4700 Slash Made by Release of Four Teachers; Contracts Given For 8-Month Term.

Facing a financial depression the Board of Education at its meeting on Monday evening slashed $4700 from the operating expenses of the Plymouth schools by dropping four teachers from the pay roll and also made plans for an eight-month year, to be effective next year.

With a gloomy outlook for the coming year for income to operate the schools, and realizing the predicament that all villages are in for a source of income, the board deemed it necessary to cut expenses due to the fact that the receipts for the coming year will be considerably less as there are many farmers and residents who will be unable to meet taxes, and a general reduction in land valuations.

While the sum saved in teachers' salaries will be around $4700, an additional $1500 can be added by holding an eight-month term instead of the regular nine-month period. However, the board believes that the schools can be kept on the regular schedule for the coming year.

The four teachers who were dropped from the staff include Marie Wolfe, manual training, Miss Pancoast, Latine; Miss Nye, first grade and Mrs. Farrar, fifth grade. All of the teachers have been with the school here a year with the exception of Miss Nye, who has been a familiar figure in the schools for the past twelve years.

Contracts have been given for a period of eight months to Supt. R. B. Miller, T. S. Jenkins, principal, J. B. Derr, Jason Murlin, Misses Penner, Young, Danner, Shelby, McCallen, and Hartzel.

All members of the board were present including J. T. Gaskill, president; H. F. Root, W. E. Heath, W. C. Ross and Geo. W. Pickens.

SHILOH SENIORS HEAR DR. REESE

Class of Twelve Graduate Tuesday Night From Shiloh High—Ceremony Was Impressive.

Twelve Shiloh high school seniors were presented diplomas on Tuesday evening, when Dr. Lloyd Reese, State High School Supervisor, brought to them a splendid address on the subject, "Making the Record True."

Dr. Reese took that splendid poem of Dr. Henry Van Dyke: "Four things a man must learn to do if he would make his record true: To think without confusing clearly; To learn his fellowmen sincerely; To act from honest motives purely; To trust in God and heaven securely."

His personal experience and ready wit, together with a very sincere and sound educational philosophy set up a background from which grew a most delightful lecture.

The school auditorium was beautifully decorated with flowers and the class colors, while the motto: "Climb, Though the Rocks be Ragged," reflected from a rose background on the great blue velvet curtain at the back of the stage.

This class was given in the official high school cap and gown, the gray scholastic robe, the speaker wore the doctor's robe, and Supt. Weaver, the master's robe, both from Ohio State University.

Junius Huddleston, valedictorian, delivered his oration on "Your Choice" and was awarded the Hort-Jones honor key for scholastic distinction. Marguerite Schaffer, salutatorian, gave her address on "Friendship."

Music was furnished by the glee clubs of the school, assisted by the orchestra. A very favorable comment came with the singing of the commencement song by the Seniors.

The class was presented by Supt. Weaver to A. W. Firestone, president of the Board of Education, who presented the diplomas.

This class has sponsored the very splendid annual which will no doubt prove a valuable keep-sake for all patrons and friends of the school.

GIRL'S PHYSICAL ED.

After removing the chairs from the Gym floor and putting up the volley ball net an interesting game was played.

Although there were only six on each team it was exciting just the same.

School Closes in Two Weeks

Yes, Sir! Just two more weeks of school left. That's all. And then we will sever the bonds of education for three months vacation. "Um, Um, 'Ain't dat sumpin'?" I should say it is "sumpin'."

And now what will we do in those three months of summer vacation? I can guess what we will do. We will go swimming, play tennis, play ball, go golfing and probably some of us will work all summer. But we all will have our plans made by the time school is out.

Let's have a good time this summer and when school begins next September be ready to go to work with the old books again.

But there are still a few occasions to attend. Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday, May 23rd, in the Methodist church. Commencement exercises, the greatest day of all for the Seniors, will be held Friday, May 29th.

Let us honor the Seniors with our presence at both Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises.

LILACS

Tiny, tiny little buds,
 That grow in the wonderful spring,
 Tiny, tiny, little bells,
 That the praises of Nature sing.

One bush so tall and stately,
 Covered with purple flowers,
 And here and there a bright green leaf,
 Above the posy towers.

God made these little purple buds,
 And sent them in the Spring,
 Tiny, tiny, little bells,
 To us, his praises sing.

County C. E. Tres. Sends Out Plea

To the average Christian Endeavorer, the treasurer has one of the simplest jobs in the county organization. All he has to do is accept money from someone else and record deposit it in the bank and write out checks when necessary. I had the idea, myself. Undoubtedly, the treasurer is more responsible for the reputation of a county Union than any other officer in that organization. A treasurer can make or break a county Union in the eyes of the State organization.

In the first place the treasurer keeps a list of the pledges made by each Society, and when that society forgets to remit them.

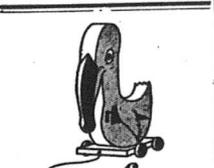

The superintendent of a department may feel that his job is done when he has sent a letter or two to each society officer, offering ideas of assistance, and if he receives no response, he has done all he could, but not so with the treasurer.

He does not dare to wait until the need of funds becomes urgent but to his place to send, out letters reminding the various societies of the fact that we need these pledges paid in and these letters must be almost a work of art, in order not to offend. In plain words suggest to them, emphasizing how grateful the county would be to receive this cash. Then there is the letting the society of the individual know that you received it, and appreciate it is another important factor.

There are two distinctly separate accounts in the Endeavor treasury. One is the general fund on which the organization is run, and out of which the state dues are paid. The other is the Love Feast fund, made up of individually pledges and those from the societies.

The treasurer is supposed to interview people in regard to pledging a bit toward this. A treasurer should acquaint himself with the conditions in the community where a society is located. It requires a lot of tact to realize just when a society can be approached for payments on its pledge. Some societies can pay a lot at once others find it necessary to pay by degrees. All this information comes in handy.

Huron County C. E. Union is slowly getting under way, in establishing itself. The societies have raised some what over twenty dollars to help pay off the State debt. They have already paid the State dues, they have held a Spring Rally and Officers Conference, and they are already outlining the summer's work. We feel quite proud of our County organization of the Christian Endeavor Societies.

for ANY BABY

WE can never be sure just what makes an infant restless, but we can always be sure the same. Good old Castoria gives the same relief in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as baby has a fretful sleep, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes constipation. Or diarrhea. A condition that should always be checked without delay. Just keep Castoria handy, and give it promptly. Relief will follow very promptly, if it doesn't, you should call a physician.

FRUIT SOUPS

Cocktails are more popular as a fruit beginner for the dinner than soups, though in Europe they are enjoyed by prince and peasant, summer or winter; chilled with shaved ice they make a most nourishing dish. With fruit soups the nourishment depends upon the ingredients used, as with other soups. Prunes, raisins, figs, bananas, persimmons and pawpaws have more food value in themselves, though lacking in other things. With addition of stock, milk and egg, the food value is increased. Dried or canned fruits are used as well as the fresh fruits. Strawberry and Orange Soup.—Sprinkle a pint of strawberries with sugar and let stand on ice for one hour. Make a slup of one and one-half quarts of water and a pound of sugar, cook for ten minutes, add a quart of fresh berries with the juice of one lemon. Mash and strain, adding a cupful of orange juice with the berries which have been cooked. Serve cold.

Prune and Peach Soup.—Take one-third of a pound of dried prunes and two-thirds of a pound of dried peaches, soak overnight. In the morning add a pint of cold water and cook to the boiling point, then add two table-spoonfuls of sugar; cook until the sugar is clear. Add a cupful of cherry, cranberry or other tart juice and serve either hot or cold.

Apple and Rice Soup.—Core and slice thin eight unpeeled apples. Cook them with one-half cupful of rice until both are soft, using two quarts of boiling water. Put through a strainer, add spices and one-half cupful of orange juice or grapefruit marmalade. Serve hot.

A very appetizing salad may be made by stuffing well plumped and stewed prunes with cream cheese and finely minced celery. Serve on lettuce with a spoonful of french dressing, or any other kind preferred.

Norwalk Rock Garden Draws Comment

The following article on Rock Gardens taken from the Norwalk Reflector or Herald might prove an inspiration to local admirers and give ideas for "something different" in this line. Supremacy in rock garden building is, at present, claimed by Geo. A. Betschman, residing at 23 West League St. Visitors who have called at the Betschman home to view the unique structure all state that there was not another one like it in Norwalk. Only a small amount of lawn space was required to erect this beautiful rock garden which has already attracted visitors from nearby towns. The entire garden covers a small plot approximately fourteen feet square.

The principal part of the structure, which is built of beautiful crystal rock Betschman has collected along the Huron river bank is set up in style as a medieval castle. This crystal rock castle which is more than six feet high has a "gift" dome made by using a round copper-colored rock. Open windows on the front and sides are lit by rose-colored electric bulbs within. An archway, cut back into the building below the dome, contains a hanging fountain. Immediately before this archway stands an enclosed aquarium which will be stocked with gold fish. This aquarium has an upward fountain which sprays the entire front of the structure. Placed on a level with the earth is another miniature water-pool which represents the moats before the castle.

The water contains floating pond lilies and other pretty water plants. In many places on the structure Betschman has placed plants which cling to the rock and grow with very little soil. A few feet away from the rock garden there is a large bird house set up on a ten foot pole. An added attraction is a small humming bird seated in a small glass globe. Also, the walk leading from the house to the garden is shaped like an inverted wine glass. Betschman states it took five weeks in his spare time to build this beautiful rock garden which has surpassed any others in the city.

Green Seal
For lasting protection:
Protection may only be paint deep but when Hanna's Green Seal is on the job, "paint deep" acquires a new significance. The armor-like resistance of Green Seal has proved itself to us in hundreds of ways. Trials made under our own supervision demonstrate conclusively that it protects surfaces from raging storms or broiling sun for season after season, long after ordinary paints have given up the battle, faded and died.

PLYMOUTH FARES WELL AT MANSFIELD MEET
(By Thomas Webber)

Out of 28 class "B"-teams at the district meet at Mansfield Saturday the Plymouth track team reaped their full share of honors. They finished third as a team. Under the new system by which each man, that places among the first five men in his event, earns the right to go to the State meet at Columbus Saturday, May 23 Briggs, half-mile, who ran to a new district half mile record in 2:08, led the team. Those who have done well in the past all season came through to eclipse all previous performances and won the high stick and took second in the 100 to be high point man with 10 points. Long jumped 19 feet, 10 inches to place third in the broad jump for three points. Webster took the district 100 foot to take a fifth in that event. A surprise was registered in the mile and half mile relays that had not shown up so well in early meets.

A NOTE OF MELODY
"Sweet Jennie Lee
"Three Little Words" will hardly be "out of my Dreams." "You're Driving Me Crazy," "Body and Soul," "Remember" that night in the "Moonlight on the Colorado." "I Want to Be Loved by You" all the time for "You're the One I Care For." Why Must I Go Away" and "Always" remain a "Lonesome Lover." I want "Something to Remember You By" when I'm down "in a Shack in Carolina" singing "Left All Alone Again Blues." If you send me down the "Wearry River" you'll always know "I'm Yours" and that will miss the "Little Things in Life" which we might have called "Yours and Mine." If you decide to "Love Me and Leave Me" I'll go "Rooming" so if you see "Mammy" "Don't Tell Her What Happened To Me." If you desert me I'll run with "Betsy Cood" and "The Talk of the Town." My only excuse will be "Everybody's Doing It now."
Your,
"Aggravatin' Papa."

Personal "I. Q."
The intelligence quotient of "I. Q." of a person is determined by multiplying the mental age by 100 and dividing by the actual age. Thus the intelligence quotient of a normal person is 100. A person with an "I. Q." below 80 is rated as abnormal, while one with an "I. Q." above 120 is rated as gifted. About 5% persons in 100 will be found to be 20 below normal and about 5% above normal.

The school enumeration of all youths between the ages of five and eighteen was begun this week by Mr. George Boardman who has taken charge of this work for the past several years. This enumeration is required by the State Department of Education annually.

W. C. T. U. MEETING
ing been drafted into service on the program brought out the following interesting facts: "The wetts say there are several times as many speakeasies as there were saloons; but never bring proof. They say there are 50,000 speakeasies in Chicago, 100,000 in New York. In Chicago an earnest grand jury reported about 500. Before prohibition Chicago had 3,000 saloons."
"The average annual per capita consumption of liquor just before prohibition, reported by the Internal Revenue Bureau, was 23 gallons. The wetts made the change before the Illinois Senate that seven gallons of liquor per capita is being consumed at present."
"Some more false propaganda put out by the wetts is to the effect that "two million men would be put to work should we repeal our prohibition law."
The actual facts of the case, as given by Mrs. E. E. Markley are that according to wet congressmen a debate on constitutional prohibition, December 22nd, 1914 there were only 498,901 men employed in the entire liquor traffic at that time; that was the year of the greatest liquor traffic the country ever saw. And we can well imagine those wet congressmen, in their effort to keep the liquor traffic under the protection of our government, would count in every employe possible.
Mrs. Nora Wyandt brought to light the fact that while Governor Emmerson is receiving a thousand letters daily in congratulation on his Americanism, in refusing to sign the bill which would have repealed all the Illinois dry laws, he has received only fifty letters of criticism, some abusive, some anonymous.
The White Ribbon Women like to know what the other great organizations think about them, so Mrs. Eunice Morrow read an editorial from the Christian Advocate which said in part: "The activities of the W. C. T. U. at present deserve the commendation of all good people. Those who think the day has passed for these organizations that fought the organized liquor traffic in a former generation should have opportunity to realize them in the light of new responsibilities. The W. C. T. U. represents the organized efforts of the Christian women of America to protect the home, the mother, and the children against the inroads of any form of intemperance, at present, when the 18th Amendment is being so viciously attacked, the leaders of the W. C. T. U. are on guard."
The next meeting of the local W. C. T. U. will be with Mrs. Perry on Third Street, the third Friday of June.
