

LEGION TO FEATURE LADIES' NIGHT AT NEXT SUPPER MEET

Ladies, get ready to enjoy an old-fashioned fish fry, for on Friday, Nov. 10 (a week from tomorrow) the local boys of the American Legion are going to have open house for the ladies. So make a date with friend husband or your boy friend, and plan on enjoying "fresh fish" at their best.

Members of Elmer Post, American Legion have planned a series of fish fries during the winter months. It is the only way this organization has of raising funds to carry on certain phases of its work which includes sending one or two boys down to Camp every summer, and other worthy causes.

Now, on ladies night which is a week from tomorrow night, the boys will be at their best behavior... only coffee will be served, and milk to those to whom coffee keeps warm.

The supper held last Friday night, the first of the series, was well attended, and a most cordial group of men were present. However, the number attending was far too small to make a profit on. So during the coming winter months give the local legion boys your support by attending the fish and oyster suppers.

You women who think you know how to fry fish should see James Rhine in action. Rhine has had years of experience and is really a past master. He's assisted by Messrs. Frank Weck, Clint Moore, Lloyd Lippick and Phil Moore, these legionnaires certainly do not let anyone go hungry. Of course, all other members help to make you feel at home. If you really want to enjoy a friendly evening come out to the supper a week from Friday night, which is Nov. 10th.

DEAR PUBLIC

We thought you might be interested in knowing that the Plymouth High School Alumni Association will hold a benefit "Game Party" at the High School Auditorium on November 10. That's on Friday night, isn't it? Anyhow, it's a good night for a sociable evening playing the game you like the best, mingling with your friends and neighbors.

The nice part about this party is that if you don't care for bridge you don't have to play bridge. You can play Five Hundred or Rummy. If you are a Chinese Checkers fan, the Alumni Association will supply the board and marbles for this game. You can play the fascinating game of Monopoly. And as for the ever-popular game of bridge, you can play either auction or contract, making up your own tables, or if you would rather, we can arrange this for you.

When you buy your ticket, you will notice it is numbered. Why? Because there's a duplicate of that number, and out of the duplicates tickets will be signed by the persons holding the lucky numbers will receive door prizes. And there are to be lots of them! You would think this would be enough, but no, there are to be light refreshments served at the end of the evening. All this for only twenty-five cents for an adult and fifteen cents for students and children.

That's all for this time, but we'll be writing again next week, telling you a little more about our "Game Party." Until then... Sincerely, The Committee

We say that parents and persons are urged to visit some session of the school.

IN CHARGE OF DOUGHNUT MAKING

James Shepherd of Shelby, formerly of Plymouth, and now connected with the Ohio Fuel and Gas Company, is "in charge" of the doughnut making.

To Vote On One Mill Levy For Cemetery

Next Tuesday is election day, and the voters of Plymouth will have an opportunity to express themselves at the polls. Other than those running for office, there is one matter that should be given serious consideration — the one mill levy for the upkeep of Plymouth's cemetery.

No group of officials relish the fact of asking for additional revenue with which to operate, but in this particular instance, the present mayor and council have found no other way out than to ask the voters to pass a one mill levy to be used only for the upkeep of Greenlawn cemetery.

Since the inauguration of the sales tax, which automatically cut down the tax rate from 15 to 10 mills, the village income has been reduced. And, too, under the perpetual care set-up, no money received from the sale of lots can be used in paying operating expenses.

As a public servant, The Advertiser has no interest in the promoting of the additional one mill levy, but we bring to you the condition which confronts our cemetery board in the upkeep of our cemetery.

Certainly there is no one who can criticize the appearance of this beautiful resting place, and there is no criticism to the amount expended in its upkeep. The records will show that other than the salary of the caretaker, very few dollars are spent otherwise.

Want you give this ballot a serious consideration when you vote next Tuesday and uphold the tradition — "Plymouth has a beautiful cemetery."

UNITE IN SIXTH REFORMATION RALLY SUNDAY

REV. R. C. WOLF CHAIRMAN OF PROGRAM COMMITTEE 1900 PRESENT.

More than a thousand Lutherans from Richland, Crawford and Ashland counties crowded the First Lutheran Church of Mansfield on Sunday evening to attend the Sixth Annual Reformation Rally.

Dr. Abel Ross Wentz, the President-elect of the Gettysburg Seminary United Lutheran Church in America addressed that Rally. His theme was "Freedom Must Be Bought Again." Doctor Wentz, who is an outstanding leader, not only in the Lutheran Church, but in inter-denominational circles, well pointed out clearly that the spirit of Christ, giving spiritual freedom to men, had been captured and re-born in the soul of Martin Luther four hundred years ago.

Today, said Dr. Wentz, in the light of existing world conditions, there is again the need for that freedom to be re-born in our world and our civilization. Speaking with an apparent urgency, Dr. Wentz called to the church of our day, particularly the branch of the church which bears the name apostle Luther, to give the message of freedom from sin and its condemnation to needy men and women of the world over. To illustrate the world's need, Dr. Wentz graphically depicted the one billion men and women in the world who cannot read or write, who are virtual slaves of those who have the ability to control them. He painted stirring pictures of the evils of the religious systems on experiences in China with its millions of destitute and suffering victims. He challenged the Christians of America to stand idly by, if they could, and allow such things to go on untouched and unchanged.

The plaintiffs in the case of Mrs. Dorothy Blackford, claiming a $12,000 verdict and Miss Pauline Hanna a $1,359.04 verdict. The Blackford case was remanded for a new trial by the Ohio Supreme Court. The Hanna case was remanded for a new trial in the case of Pauline Hanna was sustained by the court. Neither case has been retried.

The plaintiffs in the above cases are well known locally.

The time for the Annual Red Cross Roll Call is here. Each year the Roll Call is begun on Armistice Day, November 11. Plymouth is proud of its record in the past two years, for each year our town has passed its quota. This means that Plymouth is one of the banner towns of the Red Cross in Richland County which is the outstanding county in the state of Ohio. Such a record is the contribution of the people of Plymouth who are wide awake to the needs of men and women and children outside our doors. Last year almost two hundred members were enrolled in Plymouth with a total contribution of $237.05. This year it is hoped that with better working conditions such as have prevailed we will pass the two hundred mark in our enrollment.

THANKS

The sincerity in which our old friend "Bill" Fetters expresses himself over our misfortune in the recent fire, which interrupted work in all departments, is appreciated. Not only has Mr. Fetters extended to us the right hand—but scores of other readers and residents have offered help. We are very grateful for all of these, and since "Bill" has seen fit to put his thoughts in writing, we are printing them below.

SURPRISED

Well, dog on my buttons if I wasn't surprised when our worthy town paper, The Advertiser, came to us on schedule time last week. If any one could have had a peek at the way our worthy fire boys left the Advertiser office one evening last week, you would have had the same opinion we had of just when we would get the next Advertiser. In spite of the ready supply of water at hand they left things badly mussed up. And it made us sick to see the difference in a few hours, and in a few minutes more of the fire progress, everything would have gone to the cellar. I would have felt safe on betting Plymouth had no man like our worthy Mr. Peyton W. Thomas and his able crew. They simply did crawl out of the ashes and wreckage left by the fire boys, and mailed us the regular welcome paper on schedule time as if nothing much had happened lately. I don't like flattering, but the editor is too busy to read this, and the rest will not bother telling him. But I am full of praise for the whole crew, for the way the difficult problem was speedily handled. I feel more than ever that Plymouth is fortunate to have folks in this important business like Mr. and Mrs. Thomas. I feel they don't get the praise they justly deserve, and we sure would miss them and their earnest efforts to keep our town up to date. It is hoped that in the future we will make greater efforts to help do for the things they are trying to do for us all. I hope they will fully recover from their recent loss. This office was just remodeled, and ready for the long winter ahead. While it is no small matter to tear down and fix up again, and still get the paper out in fine shape. It is like a death in a family. It makes more difference when it comes to our place. Always something to remember. It takes a lot of figuring to make ends meet in some businesses in a small town, and we will take of our hat to one who can keep going today. Don't forget your worthy printing office is ready for your job. For taste, neatness, and service, you better try The Advertiser.

Hope the folks may live to receive some benefit from the many hours of worry they have had while with us. Hope things will get better and that the bright sun will dry and fade out all the gruesome marks of the close call they had by their recent fire.

And don't forget folks—sympathy heals—but it takes business to keep the wheels going. Who will be next? No one knows. The fire eaters deserve credit for their promptness and good judgment in handling the situation so promptly. Only a few minutes more and we would have met a loss for the whole community, as we are all interested

In this place of business. Many thanks for the past favors received from The Advertiser. Hope I may be able to repay some of them again, and better luck from now on. If I have anything that you need to get back in good working order again, come get it. Your friend as ever,
W. H. Fetters,
18 Bell Street

HE IS AN AMERICAN

(From the New York Sun)
He is an American.
He hears an airplane overhead, and if he looks up at all does so in curiosity, neither in fear nor in the hope of seeing a protector.

His wife goes marketing, and her purchases are limited by her needs, her tastes, her budget, but not by decree.

He comes home of an evening thru streets which are well lighted, not dimly in blue.

He reads his newspaper and knows that what it says is not concocted by a bureau, but an honest, untrammelled effort to present the truth.

He has never had a gas mask on.
He has never been in a bombproof shelter.

His military training, an R. O. T. C. course in college, he took because it excused him from the gym course, and it was not compulsory.

He belongs to such fraternal organizations and clubs as he wishes.

He adheres to a political party to the extent that he desires — the dominant one, if that be his choice, but with the distinct reservation that he may criticize any of its policies with all the vigor which to him seems proper—any other as his convictions dictate, even, if it be his decision, one which holds that the theory of government of the country is wrong and should be scrapped.

He does not believe, if his party is out of power, that the only way in which it can come into power is thru a bloody revolution.

He converses with friends, even with chance acquaintances, expressing freely his opinion on any subject, without fear.

He does not expect his mail to be opened between posting and receipt, nor his telephone to be tapped.

He changes his place of dwelling, and does not report so doing to the police.

He has not registered with the police.

He carries an identification card only in case he should be the victim of a traffic accident.

He thinks of his neighbors across international borders—of those to the north as though they were across a State line, rather than as foreigners—of those to the south more as strangers since they speak a language different from his, and with the knowledge that there are now matters of difference between his government and theirs, but of neither with an expectancy of war.

He worships G O D in the fashion of his choice, without let.

His children are with him in his home, neither removed to a place of greater safety, if young, nor, if older, ordered ready to serve the State with sacrifice of limb or life.

He has his problems, his troubles, his uncertainties, but all others are not overshadowed by the imminence of battle and sudden death.

He should struggle to preserve his Americanism with its priceless privileges.

He is a fortunate man.

He is an American.

OLD STORY — NEW APPLICATION

Perhaps the most famous of all fables is that of the tortoise and the hare. Though it has many applications surely it can stand one more, for it does apply very forcibly to the case of our own country.

Throughout the past many years there have been advocates of two systems for the United States. One group has repeatedly suggested that we could get to Utopia in almost no time flat if only we would adopt one streamlined scheme or another. Their plans always sounded fine, but whenever they were put in operation, they never seemed to work. Like the hare in the fable, they ran very fast for a little while and then fell asleep by the side of the road till the race was lost.

By contrast, the progress America has made through individualism and the system of private enterprise may have appeared slow. Under it we have moved steadily ahead, but because this forward movement is so steady it does not look at all spectacular when compared with the promises of those who back the hares and rabbits of Utopian schemes. It is only looking at the race over a period of years that we can see how well the United States has done by depending mainly on private enterprise.

A study recently made by the National Industrial Conference Board helps to make the moral a very pointed one. It says in part:

"The American standard of living, if measured by the composite of goods and services received per capita, was valued in the 1937 market place at $550. Our prewar standard of living, with prices at 1937 market levels, would cost $480. The net gain of $70 per capita arising from advances in the nation's productive and distributive systems was spent largely for the purchase of new goods and services that were not available before the war."

We in America have the highest standard of living in the world, and under our system of private enterprise it has gradually gotten higher as the years roll by. Other systems have sounded more flashy, more spectacular, more glittering, than ours, but none of them has worked half so well. There is truly a lesson for all of us in the story of the tortoise and the hare.

THE WORLD IS BETTER

Occasionally we hear some one with a pessimistic turn of mind contend that the world is not getting any better and that in the past two or three thousand years it has made little progress. We do not agree with this school of thought. We think the world is a great deal better than it used to be and people are better than they used to be. It has not been so long ago that the popular form of amusement was to send two gladiators into the arena to fight until one or both of them were killed. This was varied by sending in starved wild animals to tear humans to pieces before the eyes of the cheering crowds of men and women. Today bigger crowds than ever witnessed a gladiatorial combat gather to see two top notch baseball teams contest for victory and in a hundred places in the country great crowds turn out to football games. The thrills are every bit as great as they were in the old gladiator days, and an entirely different spirit pervades the event.

If your preacher preaches on an average of but one good sermon a month it will pay you to attend church the other three Sundays and sit thru a dull sermon. One good sermon that strikes down a man's alley may change his whole outlook on life, and no inconvenience is too great if it will give one a new outlook upon living.

In placer mining the miner takes a large quantity of gravel and washes it carefully to find one fine grain of gold. He is happy if he finds a grain in each washing. Life is like that. We hear much and read much and see much to get one fine grain of gold that will contribute to the richness and the beauty of living.

The world is pretty well converted to the idea that there can be no lasting peace in the world until Hitler and Hitlerism are destroyed.

NORWALK MAN SUPERVISOR OF TOLEDONIA

Appointment of Ewart G. Ankrom, Norwalk, prominent Huron-co. engineer, as supervisor of work projects in the northwestern Ohio district of the National Youth Administration was announced in Toledo recently by Alfred L. Wager, district NYA supervisor.

Ankrom was resident engineer for the Department of Highways, stationed at Norwalk, from January 1933, until January 1938. Prior to that time he held the position there as assistant engineer in the Department. He has been associated with engineering and construction work for 30 years, having been with the U. S. Army Engineers for 7 years, and with A. J. Baites, Norwalk high-contrast contractor, as well as the National Contract Company, in dam construction work.

Ankrom is married, and is president of the Norwalk Musical Club and active in fraternal and sports activities in the county. He is a war veteran, and prominent in engineering society affairs.

His position with the National Youth Administration is a new one. He will coordinate all construction activities and direct projects employing young men between the ages of 18 and 25 years of age. He will be responsible to Wagers for operation of a division staffed with ten supervisors and employing nearly 1,000 youth part-time. NYA recently raised its employment quotas here, so that 800 new assignees may be added to NYA rolls between now and January 1st. Ankrom will be responsible for developing projects to employ the new enrollees. Communities and state subdivisions sponsor NYA work, and the federal government pays labor and supervisory salaries.

Huron-co. ordinarily has about fifteen NYA assignees at work on local projects. There are thirteen assigned now. When new quotas are filled, NYA expects to develop many new projects in this area.

Gessner A. Brown, Sandusky, is area NYA supervisor, with offices in the Post Office building at Fremont.

Brown's assistant, Robert Young, conducts NYA assignment interviews in Huron-co. every Thursday. Young meets applicants in the Court House at Norwalk, from 1 to 3 p. m., and in the YMCA building at Bellevue, from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m.

MRS. CURPEN HOSTESS TO TOURIST CLUB

Mrs. E. B. Curpen was hostess to the members of the Tourist Club, Monday evening, Oct. 30, at her home on Sandusky Street.

For the delicious dinner served at 6:30 the table appointments were suggestive of Halloween.

The lesson topic for the evening, "At Home on the Oceans," by Edith Bauer Strout, was led by Miss Grace Earnest, and the trip of a three-year voyage around the world was very exciting.

Traveling over the oceans in small boats is getting to be a habit for young men, but people still think it strange that a woman should enjoy such a cruise, except as a passenger.

Aboard the Igdrazil, a home built sloop, a professor and his wife, circle the globe, they sailed from Jacksonville, Florida, in June 1934, bound for the New Zealand Sounds, passed through the Panama Canal, visited the Galapagos Islands and then on to the South Sea. Then homeward bound they crossed the Indian Ocean round the Cape of Good Hope and up the Atlantic before the trade.

When they reached the United States they had cruised 38,000 miles. The next meeting, November 13th, will be at the home of Miss Grace Earnest, with Miss Pearl Elder leader.

CHECKER "WIZ" AT NEW LONDON

Fleet of foot, and fleet of mind, the "Bronx Comet" of American checkerboards, otherwise known as Willie Ryan, will be in New London on Wednesday evening, November 8th, to give a demonstration of scientific checker playing in a series of simultaneous and blindfold exhibitions.

Young Ryan, who is 32, is a native New Yorker and has been barn-storming the continent for the past eighteen years giving his famed checkerboard exhibitions. The New Yorker is being brought here by the New London Checker Club and checker fans desirous of attending or taking part in the evening's program of woodpushing should get in touch with Nathan Rosenthal or I. S. Triplett of New London.

The Comet, so called because he is the most rapid in the country, leads exhibition players, not only holds an enviable match and tournament record, but is also widely heralded as an author and journalist on the game. Author of three books, and a fourth making its appearance shortly—Ryan also finds time to edit a thirty-two page monthly journal on checkers known as "The American Checkerist." In August the dynamic New Yorker won top prize of a new $1000 Studebaker car in a national competition at Tacoma, Wash. Ryan is now angling to score a match with Asa Long of Toledo, Ohio for the World's Checker Championship—now held by Long. Prevailing opinion among players is that a Long-Ryan match is a "natural" and must be one of the stiffest fought duels ever staged across the "mystic squares."

$1,850 CHECK MAILED LAST JULY; HAS NOT ARRIVED YET

Mystery surrounds the whereabouts of a $1,850 check sent by County Auditor Charles Kelsner some three months ago to Wellington Township Clerk L. V. Banning. The check was slated for the Wellington library, but neither Banning nor members of the library board has ever seen the check.

According to county officials, but this far has not arrived.

It is expected the library will actually get the money some time. But the county auditor's office seems a little reluctant to issue another check, although payment has been ordered stopped on the first.

In self protection the auditor's office has suggested that Banning post a bond which would protect the county in case the first check were ever cashed.

Banning doesn't think the check will be cashed, by any chance, and yet he doesn't feel like going out on a limb when an amount as large as $1,850 is involved.

Anyway, he thinks the idea of making him post a bond borders on the ridiculous.

Banning reports, incidentally, that in his thirty-two years as clerk of the township board this is the first time such a thing has occurred. He has heard of checks from other townships getting lost, however. — Wellington Enterprise.

Huron County Grange Opposed to Bigelow; Adopts Resolution

The Huron County, Pomona Grange No. 64, at their regular meeting at Clarksfield, Ohio on Wednesday, Oct. 18th, 1939, adopted the following resolutions: Resolved that if the Bigelow proposal No. 1, is passed it would more than double our state and county taxes, would constitute a first lien on all state revenues, would nullify the ten mill limitation law, would threaten revenues for school and local government, and might be interpreted to exclude farmers and housewives from the proposed benefits.

The Bigelow proposal No. 2 if passed would destroy representative government as existing in our state Legislature, would be a tool of minorities and special interest legislation, would be a stepping stone to centralized form of government, would clutter up the ballot and make intelligent voting impossible.

That the State Board of Education Amendment if passed could result in an educational oligarchy responsible to neither the governor or the people, would make possible special interest appointments and, resulting evils, would threaten rural school interest of the State including the foundation school program.

Gives no definite promise of improvement or progress . . . yet offers a threat to the best interest of Rural Ohio. . . .

That we cannot see anything in the three amendments that would tend to improve the conditions in rural Ohio, therefore we wish to go record as opposed their passage.

PHEASANT LEG BANS WANTED

Sportsmen are being asked to render a service to themselves, by aiding the Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources to learn more about the results of the release of pheasants from the state pheasant farms.

Commissioner Don Waters is appealing to those who shoot cock pheasants during the hunting season, bearing the Division's leg bands, to immediately send them to the Division's offices in Columbus.

Approximately 8,000 cock birds released in Ohio since Spring were banded, according to A. W. Short, chief of the Game Management Section, who states that the return of bands will enable his department to determine the number of young birds that survived. If few bands are returned it will mean that young birds failed to survive after release and a larger return will indicate the reverse. Data as to travel from point of release and other information valuable in game management and propagation work that will mean better hunting, will result from the return of the pheasant bands.

PENSION AND COMPENSATION FUNDS INVESTED IN LOCAL BONDS

Four important funds have most of their money invested in bonds of municipalities and other local government units. They are:

Amounts Invested in Local Ohio Bonds

Teachers' Retirement System	$87,000,000
Public Employees' Retirement System	5,258,798
School Employees' Retirement Fund	2,000,000
Industrial Commission	55,500,000

These investments were made according to law. In each case the directors of the funds were required to invest in this type of Ohio bonds.

If the Bigelow scheme is adopted, the subdivisions of government will be forced to levy new taxes to replace interrupted services caused by a suspension of state subsidies, such as the School Foundation Fund.

There will be a hiatus in local affairs and the example of 1933-36 probably will be repeated by a wholesale dipping into sinking funds for operating purposes.

The bond market is breaking now because of the existence of such an issue in Ohio. It will break sharply and collapse, in the opinion of most bond investors, if the measure passes.

This would destroy the investments of compensation and pension retirement funds.

WHAT OUR LEADERS SAY ABOUT IT

James M. Cox, former governor: "One doesn't have to look very far into the project to detect a basic Communistic germ." George White, former governor: "I know of no magic by which Ohio can raise the money required by the Bigelow program and am therefore opposed to it." Walter Kirk, state master of the Granges: "Bigelow's proposal number two would destroy representative government." Myers Y. Cooper, former treasurer: "The proposed Bigelow amendment puts in jeopardy a carefully thought-out pension system." Don H. Ebright, state treasurer: "Its adoption surely would mean financial chaos for Ohio." Maria L. Daves, former governor: "The Bigelow plan—Ohio's Crisis." Franklin D. Roosevelt: "The whole bag of tricks seem not only economically unsound but also ethically untenable." John W. Bricker, governor: "In my opinion these proposals are the most dangerous that have ever been placed before the voters of Ohio." Robert Taft, U. S. senator: "The people of Ohio should repudiate them by so decisive a vote that they will never again be revived." Tom McCar, Chief of the Bureau of Aid for the Aged: "We are of the opinion that the provisions of the Bigelow amendments would preclude financial participation by the federal government such as we now have." Dr. Francis Townsend, founder of the Townsend plan: "Such schemes will doom business as we know it today. They put in jeopardy the state that steps out ahead." Arthur Limbach, Democratic state chairman: "I sincerely feel that both proposals should be defeated. Ed Schorr, Republican state chairman: "It is not worth the prohibitive. It would endanger the best interests of the state." Frank Poulson, former Democratic state chairman: "It would rob our indigent aged of what aid they now are getting."

Ohio will have an annual tax bill in excess of a billion dollars, federal, state and local if the Bigelow amendments pass. This is one-third of the annual income of all the people in Ohio. Total taxes paid in Ohio in 1938 $ 850,000,000 (Federal, state and local) Cost of proposed Bigelow plan 310,000,000 (According to the Tax Commission) Total probable 1940 taxes 1,160,000,000 (Federal, state, local and Bigelow) Total income of Ohio people in 1938 3,500,000,000 Percentage that went for taxes in 1938 24.3 Probable 1940 percentage 33.1

WHAT BIGELOW WOULD DO TO THE RENTER

The home owner is not the only fellow who would be asked by the Bigelow taxes. Renters, particularly in industrial sections, would get the full load of the land tax.

Industrial area rental property usually is closely built, often as many as 10 houses to an acre. In this case a $3000 home would feel the tax. The rate would be $20 for each $1000 of valuation.

Here is what would happen to rents:

Value of House	Tax Each Month	Present Rent	Bigelow Rent
$2000	$3.33	$15	$18.33
4000	6.66	30	36.66
6000	9.99	45	54.99

Of course the landlord would not be penny conscious. He probably would go up to $20, $40 or $75.00.

Remember... that is only the effect of ONE tax. The land tax. There still would have to be a plague of new taxes to pay the Bigelow bill.

GASOLINE AND SALES TAXES

Tax experts say it would be necessary to advance the sales tax from 3 per cent to 21 per cent if all the money needed to pay the Bigelow bills were raised that way.

If it all were applied to the gasoline tax, the present 5 cent tax would have to be advanced to 23 cents.

Of course, it is foolish to assume that the money could be raised from either or both sources. Such taxes would cut down gasoline consumption so far that the tax income would be low. The same thing is true of the sales tax.

If such a thing were tried, we would be bootlegging shoes and cigarettes.

This absurdity, however, does illustrate the results that follow as such taxes are increased.

PER CAPITA INCOME IN OHIO

The per capita income of Ohio people is $520 a year. The present per capita state and local tax is $56 a year. The Bigelow taxes would increase per capita taxes to $120 a year.

That means $200 a year for every family of five no matter how humble.

HOW THE SCHOOLS WILL BE RUINED

If the Bigelow Amendments are passed the schools of Ohio will lose millions now paid from the Foundation Fund. This 50 million dollar fund would be seized first because it is immediately available.

Here are some typical county distribution, not including cities:

Adams	127,421
Allen	165,387
Ashland	147,933
Carroll	140,880
Champaign	132,182
Clark	189,943
Clermont	323,438
Dade	134,844

If the Foundation Fund were to be seized to pay the Bigelow bills local units of government would have to double their present school tax rates or get along with half as much education.

It is distributed by the state and local school administrators spend 75 per cent for teachers salaries, 25 per cent as they see fit.

DON'T MISS THIS POINT ON SCHOOL TAXES

Here are the current (without reference to debt retirement) tax rates in some typical Ohio districts. These rates would have to be doubled, locally, and without reference to any other land taxes, if the Bigelow amendments pass, unless the people are willing to get along with half the present schools.

School Taxing District	Current School Tax Rate	Bigelow School Tax Rate
West Union (Adams County)	$1.20	$2.40
Circleville (Gaugaus County)	6.00	12.00
Mt. Gilead (Huron County)	8.40	16.80
Eaton (Franklin County)	5.28	10.56
Napoleon (Mercer County)	2.80	5.60
Celina (Mercer County)	2.80	5.60
Georgetown (Stevens County)	4.80	9.60

Remember this tax is a by-product of the Bigelow amendments. When the Foundation Fund disappears, which pays more than half the cost of education in many counties, it will be necessary to go without half the education now given or vote to double taxes.

Commissioners Submit

(Continued from Page 1) an additional small levy, such as is asked for in this Resolution. There has been some criticism because the commissioners have felt it necessary to eliminate Tuberculosis Treatment and to curtail the payments on Blind Relief and expenditures of the County Home and Children's Home. There seems to be no way of meeting these requirements unless it is by the voting of an additional levy, and the commissioners feel this is a matter that should be decided by the voters. At the present time, there are approximately eighty children in the Children's Home, with an additional eighty-five being given partial or total maintenance in other homes and there are approximately sixty-five to seventy inmates in the County Home. The number of Blind and Tuberculosis cases in the county is not extremely large, but some of them are very urgent cases. Some of the tuberculosis patients should be in sanatoriums, not only for the preservation of their own lives, but to avoid spreading of the disease in the communities where they live.

The additional one mill levy will enable the commissioners to carry on this very important work for the safety, health, and welfare of Huron County, and the extra burden on the people would be scarcely felt, being only an additional five dollar tax for each five thousand dollar of valuation, or ten cents on each one hundred dollars of valuation.

The people of Huron County have always responded well when they thought the cause was just; and the commissioners are trusting the people to vote favorably on this levy, so that with the practice of strictest economy they may carry on this humane work, all to the credit and good name of Huron County.
