

Yes, Plymouth is Growing; R. H. Seiler Reviews Pages of Yesterday in Interesting Letter to Editor

R. H. Seiler of New London, Son of the Late Mrs. Clara Seiler, Recalls Interesting Items of Plymouth's Growth.

"As I pick up the old home paper this morning and glance over its pages it seems to me there are not many old timers left to tell the story of the Plymouth I left forty-three years ago.

Although I have returned many times for a day since then, the article printed in your paper 'The Old Harness Shop' has brought me back to my real boyhood home for it was in this shop as a boy I gressed red top boots and harness for the farmers.

My father, M. K. Seiler, owned and operated this shop around the year 1880 and sold the business to either Jake Schaefer or Alvin McKine. He also was a partner with 'Ted' McClinchey a short time. He later opened a shop in a small wooden building east of Rogers Shoe Store next to Joe Kells Bakery to the east which was a large wooden building. In about 1882 a fire which destroyed all the buildings from Rogers Shoe Store to the Dayton property which is now the Curpen Jewelry Store. The fire soon swept the buildings and with no fire protection the merchants lost most everything; however, I still have my father's tools which was about all that was saved from his place.

To check the fire a small building west of Curpen Jewelry Store was torn down. In a day or two the man that owned this building started hauling logs on the vacant lot intending to build a log house for spite. He was stopped by the Village Council and the logs piled high on the vacant lot for many years. The late Frank Smith later moved a frame building on this lot and operated a cigar factory. Today you have a beautiful brick building on this lot. M. B. Lee built the three story building, located where the Kell Bakery was in 1883, now occupied by Brown & Miller Hardware Store. Mr. Lee operated a hardware store. It was told at that time that he had a car load of children's express wagons stored in the third floor of the building.

You have one of the largest factories of its kind in the country shipping their products all over the world with a large payroll for a small town. A fine country around and the best land to be found anywhere. Your paper is the best to be found, I know for I have taken it for forty-three years and only missed getting it three times in that time.

Oh, Yes, Plymouth is growing. You need a little paint (any color) and some new window lights around the square, a few maple trees, but most everything else would make a beauty spot.

How many can remember the wind mill that was near the step and go light that pumped water for the faithful horses, also the gas well that used to burn on the north side of the square?

However, Plymouth is still home to me.

County 1940 Wheat Allotment Announced

The 1940 wheat allotment for Huron County under the AAA farm program was announced to-day at 30,198 acres by Robert C. Finlay, chairman of the Huron County Agricultural Conservation Association. This is an increase of 3,164 acres over the 1939 wheat allotment.

The county allotment is based on the seeded acreage of wheat in the 10-year period, 1929-38, and the acreage diverted from production of wheat under previous agricultural adjustment and conservation programs, with adjustments for trend in acreage and abnormal weather conditions. The 1939 wheat allotment was based on the seeded acreage of wheat in the 10-year period 1928-37.

The total wheat allotment of 32,000,000 acres for 1940 is an increase of 7,000,000 acres over the 1939 allotment. This increase is based on the acreage necessary to export and the ever-normal granary reserve. According to Chairman Finlay, wide participation of wheat growers throughout the United States in the 1939 AAA farm program is largely responsible for the bigger wheat allotments this year.

Allotments for individual farms in Huron County will be mailed within the next few weeks, the chairman said. This is about two months earlier than in 1938 when allotments reached farmers at planting time.

STRICKEN AT 35 PLYMOUTH DAY AT CEDAR POINT FRIDAY, 18TH

Every indication points to a gala day at Cedar Point on Friday, Aug. 18, when employees and officials of the Fate-Root-Heath Co., and the citizens of Plymouth join hands in a community picnic to be held on that date.

The picnic committee from the Fate-Root-Heath Co. is composed of Messrs. Neal Shepherd, William Root and James Root. Plans for entertainment have been made, and include a ball game at 10:30 and a free boat ride from Cedar Point to Sandusky at 3:30 in the afternoon.

It should be understood that those taking the boat ride from the Point to Sandusky will not be allowed to get off the boat at Sandusky.

There is no set program for games inasmuch as there is to be swimming for the youngsters and hundreds of attractions on the grounds. A local orchestra is to furnish music for free dancing in the afternoon and this will afford diversion for many of those attending.

It is planned to meet on the Square for the parade which will form at this point at 8-o'clock SHARP. The cars will be escorted by members of the State Highway patrol, and every precaution is being taken to make travel safe for everyone.

Identification tickets and windshield stickers will be furnished to all cars, and tickets for the various amusements will be distributed to FRH employees.

Plan now to have a real day at Cedar Point. It's your picnic, and we are certain that everyone will have a good time.

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO BUSINESS MAN; SERVICES HELD WEDNESDAY

John E. Wirth, prominent business man of Plymouth, passed away suddenly Sunday evening at the family home, death attributed to a heart attack.

Mr. Wirth had not been in the best of health for some time but apparently was as well as usual, having attended Sunday School services at the M. E. Church. In the afternoon, he and his wife motored to Lexington to call on relatives and had returned home when he suffered a heart attack, death taking him in about twenty minutes. Mr. Wirth had a similar attack a week previous while attending Church services in the First Baptist Church, Cleveland, but seemingly had recovered.

The deceased was born Dec. 24, 1874 near Lexington, Ohio, the son of John L. and Catherine Wirth and spent most of his life as a farmer in that vicinity. Eleven years ago he came to Plymouth, opening the City Service Station on Plymouth Street, doing both a wholesale and retail business. As the business expanded his son Willard and son-in-law Roy Stauffer assisted him, aiding him greatly when his health became impaired.

He was united in marriage to Mabel E. Oliver of Winnebago, Minn. on Dec. 2, 1896 and to this union four children were born: Orin M. of Princeton, Ill.; Floyd J. of Cleveland; Willard W. of Plymouth and one daughter, Mrs. Roy Stauffer of Plymouth, all of whom survive. He is also survived besides his widow, by two sisters, Mrs. William Shew of Roundhead, O. and Mrs. George Clevage of near Ada, O. and seven grandchildren.

Mr. Wirth was a man of sterling character, well liked by his friends and business associates who found him to be honest, fair and upright in all transactions. He was a member of the M. E. Church and took an active part in its various departments.

Short funeral services were held at the home Wednesday at two o'clock and 2:30 in the M. E. Church. Rev. Irwin Kaufman of Toledo, a former pastor of a church of which Mr. Wirth was a member, officiated, assisted by Rev. J. C. Campbell, pastor of the M. E. Church. During the service, the business houses were closed. Burial was made in Greenlawn cemetery, Plymouth with the Miller-Scott Co. in charge of arrangements.

NEW RELIEF SETUP GOES INTO EFFECT

TOWNSHIP TRUSTEES LOSE AUTHORITY; ACT AS THE AGENTS FOR COMMISSIONERS.

Ohio's new system of administering poor relief, which went into effect July 1st, was taken up Thursday when the Plymouth Township Trustees met in regular session for final organization of the new set-up and other routine business.

For the first time in more than 120 years, township trustees, are shorn of their responsibility in handling their local relief matters. From now on the Township Trustees will act only as agent of the County Commissioners. The trustees prior to July 1st should take the requisitions for relief and certify the requisitions. The clients then will take the requisitions to merchants in their community, who will fill the orders and the merchants in turn will present their statements to the Relief Office at 28 Orange Street, Mansfield, O. These statements for payment must be in the hands of the Commissioners by the 25th of each month.

Any outstanding bills for relief against the township trustees written prior to July 1st should be in the Clerk's hands by Sept. 1st, if payment is expected.

Under the former state relief law township trustees had broad powers in the ordering and certifying relief cases and were authorized to allocate food orders upon investigation. In addition to these powers, the law gave them the power to request the aid of the State in investigating relief applications. This compensation was paid from county relief funds.

The new law vests all such powers in boards of county commissioners, who, however, may designate township boards as their agents in handling relief matters. The trustees will make out requisitions according to a budget set up by the county commissioners and which will have to be adhered to. Financial statements of relief clients will be reviewed every ninety days, same as formerly.

The funds provided for this purpose are on a matching 60-40 percent basis by the county and the State.

The relief fund in Plymouth township for the summer months is the biggest carried in four summers. This is due partly to the allotment of relief money and partly to the fact that the WPA are hiring only well bedded men able to work.

AIRPLANE DUSTS MARSH POTATOES NEAR MCGUFFEY, O.

An airplane was called into service recently to control the spread of disease and insects on other means of dusting the plants and near Mrs. McGuffey, O. Joe Kieoman of Albany, N. Y., flew here to lay a dust barrage stop the growing spuds when all other means of dusting the plants failed.

So Pilot Kieoman flew five to 10 feet above the ground, at the lowest possible speed and released his store of insecticidal dust (600 pounds of it) from the fuselage. The backwash from the propeller opened up the vines and brush 40 feet wide was thoroughly dusted. Nearly 500 acres of potatoes were dusted each hour.

Mr. Stambaugh is also owner and operator of the large tract of potatoes on the Luck Land near here. As yet, this mode of dusting has not been necessary here, the potatoes being sprayed by machine.

ACCIDENT VICTIM BURIED AT ATTICA

Funeral services for Ralph A. Keller, 41, of Attica, who was accidentally electrocuted when caught in contact with a high tension line on which he was working at Rawson, last Tuesday, were held Friday in the Weaver Funeral Home in Attica Cemetery.

Mr. Keller had worked on the lines in and near Plymouth the past year and had made a number of acquaintances here.

A great deal of praise must be given to the local authorities for their cooperation in making this first Derby possible. Mayor Gas-kill was very accommodating in granting the use of Trux Street for the races. The palm for helpfulness, however, must be awarded to Trust Commissioner Moore who went to the time and trouble to build the ramp which worked so excellently. Thanks to Mr. Moore Plymouth succeeded with its ramp where Mansfield failed and that is no small honor. The Fate-Root-Heath Co. donated the lumber to build the ramp and assisted in the truck for the transportation of the winners back to the starting line.

Mr. Bailey was timer, assisted by Mr. Neal Shepherd at the finish line. The race was timed and the line they were taken in charge by Jim Root and his helpers, John Fackler and Ellisworth Ford and hauled back up to the starting line.

Wayne Hough, David Brown and Paul Root.

Next year it is hoped that the races will be sponsored by some local agency and thus enable them to be more adequately rewarded in the form of prizes and recognition. Additional organization and promotion will also be made. The interest boys and the town folks showed this year points to a bigger and better derby next year.

REPORT RECORD WHEAT HARVEST

What is undoubtedly the largest single acreage of wheat in these parts has just been harvested on the Townsend Farms near New London, with 230 acres have been cut, partly combined, partly thrashed and the average yield for the entire 230 acres was thirty bushels per acre.

Manager Clarence Sengstock states that an important purchase has just been made in that pedigree Durham bull weighing a ton, has been added to the vast Townsend herd. A 10,000 bushel crop of apples will be harvested from the Townsend orchards this year, according to Sengstock. This year's fruit is of high quality and the yield is surpassing ordinary expectations of the orchardists.

ROBERT ROSS WINS SOAP BOX DERBY

Ross won with ease from Julius the Soap Box Derby in this section of Ohio. Robert Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ross, of Dan and Duane Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hunter, have built a racer which walks away with races. Entered in this year's race on Trux Street, young Ross won with ease from Julius Viers of Shelby in the finals.

Sending his red and blue racer down the perfectly constructed ramp Ross found himself challenged seriously by Viers whose car held its own for the first fifty feet. But coming to the middle of the slope Bob started to pull away and from that moment on the outcome was never in doubt.

Ross also turned in the best time of the day in that final heat with a fast run of 25 seconds for the distance. This looks like a record which will stand.

Second place went to Julius Viers of Shelby driving a big yellow racer. Third place was won by the car built by Dan Shepherd and Ray Ford of Plymouth, driven by Shepherd, while fourth place and the consolation prize went to Robert Sterling of Shelby.

Prizes were supplied by local merchants. Mr. Ed B. Curpen gave the first prize of a pocket watch, the Brown's Hardware Co. the second prize of a Ken-Well Baseball glove, Mr. A. D. Points of the Kroger the third prize of a pocket knife and the Hough's Meat Co. the consolation prize of a slip-over sweater.

The surprise car of the race proved to be Bill Day's "chariot" which was a very fast machine when it made its appearance on the scene. But the car proved to be unusually fast in spite of its rough and ready construction for it made its first lap in a time of 29 seconds which was really pushing leaders.

A great deal of praise must be given to the local authorities for their cooperation in making this first Derby possible. Mayor Gas-kill was very accommodating in granting the use of Trux Street for the races. The palm for helpfulness, however, must be awarded to Trust Commissioner Moore who went to the time and trouble to build the ramp which worked so excellently. We stayed at the same hotel, swam together, played tennis, took automobile rides—in fact, we were almost inseparable during my two weeks' stay there. When it came time for me to come back home he promised to write regularly but he only wrote approximately four letters, all of which I answered. Last year my finances would not permit me to spend a vacation at the same

Governor Lauds Purpose Of Great Ohio State Fair, Recommends Attendance

COLUMBUS (Special)—Pointing out that "the roots of America's greatness grow deep into her soil" Governor John W. Bricker today advised Ohio citizens that they will profit by attendance at their great State Fair in Columbus, Aug. 26 to Sept. 1.

GOVERNOR JOHN W. BRICKER

"Annually, for 89 years, the State of Ohio has assembled the produce of her fields, flocks, herds, factories, schools and departments of state in one great exhibition—the Ohio State Fair—so that Ohio people may look upon and be inspired by the work of their own hands and the hands of their fellowmen. It is a worthy project. It points the way to a better Ohio.

"Ohio's fertile acres were the attraction to her pioneers. They prospered and built a great state. The state's great seal is the symbol of her agricultural foundation. Her cities, industries, schools, arts and sciences are monuments to the self-reliance and genius of her people.

"Farmers were her first industrialists, and the productive capacity of her farms continues as the key to her security—security based upon abundance of food, raw materials for clothing, shelter, fuel and a rapidly multiplying list of chemurgic articles vital to the daily life and employment of her people."

Expressing a debt of gratitude to the leaders of more than 20,000 Ohio boys and girls who will this year enter exhibits in the Ohio State Junior Fair, Governor Bricker declared "the State of Ohio makes no more valuable contribution to its agriculture and industry than the premiums it awards to the Ohio State Junior Fair exhibitors. The excellence of exhibits made by these boys and girls, the rectitude of their conduct, their unflinching courtesy and their devotion to duty on the growing and grooming of their exhibits is a challenge to their elders at the Fair. Their interest and achievement have made the Ohio State Junior Fair a pattern for other states to follow."

As Governor of this great state, Governor Bricker said he "contemplates it an honor to welcome the people of Ohio to their 89th State Fair. It is yours to be proud of, to be inspired by, and from which to go forward."
