

ANNUAL DRIVE FOR RED CROSS OPENS MONDAY

The time is here for the annual Red Cross roll call and probably never in the history of this wonderful organization has there been the need for its labor of love that there is at the present.

Through the Red Cross the people of Plymouth can do so much to relieve the suffering brought upon a large portion of the world by the catastrophe of war. Starvation faced hundreds of thousands in ruined Europe—winter stares in the face multitudes of homeless and desolate folks. We can help them as we enroll in the Red Cross.

The workers who will come to visit the homes of Plymouth give their time and effort willingly because they know of the great good they are helping to do. Plymouth has always done its part and it will do so again this year.

Miss Elizabeth Weber will canvass Truss street, the County Line Road, Mill Street and Mulberry Street. Mrs. Frank Pitzen will call on the northside of W. Broadway, Park Avenue, Walnut Street and West High. Mrs. Kenneth D. McGinnis will have the south side of West Broadway, Franklin and Bell Streets.

Mrs. Beryl Miller will canvass North street, Portner and Maple streets and Woodlawn avenue. Mrs. Maile McFadden will have Plymouth street, High street to Bell, Birsfield avenue, Mills avenue and Railroad street. Mrs. Willard Ross will call on Sandusky street and Dix street. Mrs. J. E. Nimmions will have the Public Square and James Road, the shops.

These workers expect a hearty welcome and a ready response as they make their rounds. Open your hearts and your pocket-books to the need of the world through your enrollment in the Red Cross.

HALLOWEEN QUIETLY PASSED

Another Halloween season has come and gone and school authorities are proud to say that little or no destruction of property was evidenced. Although there was an ox with bowed head standing by the flag pole, and the bicycle rack was on top of the school house, it is noteworthy to report that the students of either school did not soap windows. This would cause considerable work on the part of the janitors and the children were very mindful of the many tasks performed by these men for them. Through this column Mr. Hulbert and Mr. Sheeley desire to thank you for your consideration.

Concert Season Opens At Norwalk

Helen Olheim, mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co., will open the concert season of the Norwalk Co-operative Concert association on Friday evening, Nov. 8, at the Norwalk high school auditorium at 8:30.

Miss Olheim was born in Buffalo and obtained her vocal training at the Eastman School of Music, where she obtained two scholarships. She made her debut with the Metropolitan Opera Co. on December 18, 1935, in the role of Siebel in "Faust." A promising find, predicted Director Edward Johnson when she joined the company. Her re-engagement for a fifth season confirms his prediction. In radio she has sung on the "Cathedral Hour," "Show Boat," and many other sponsored hours. Her Victor recordings for the last two years have been very successful.

Brown & Miller Hdw. Sponsor Annual Contest

Many thrilling episodes have been reported by sportsmen when their favorite birds were a "nose," but Brown & Miller Hardware announce this week a contest whereby it is the "tail" that wins.

With the hunting season opening at noon Nov. 15 three prizes are offered by this firm for bringing in the longest pheasant TAIL feathers. All feathers are to be left at the store for the decision of the judges at the end of the hunting season.

The first prize is a $4.95 hunting coat; second prize a case hunting knife, and the third prize is a box of shells. Heretofore prizes have been offered by this firm for the heaviest bird brought in during the season.

It is understood, of course, that moth-eaten, droopy feathers left over from season-before-last will not be considered; they must be of this season's crop.

This is the fifth year that Brown & Miller have sponsored this event, which is eagerly awaited by many hunters in this vicinity.

PASTOR RESIGNS

REV. SHIREY'S RESIGNATION ACCEPTED BY SHILOH CHURCH COUNCIL

By action of the joint council of the Shiloh-North Mansfield Parish, Rev. Shirey's resignation to drop Mt. Hope Lutheran Church, Shiloh, as a preaching point of the parish, was granted and his relationship as pastor of Mt. Hope Lutheran church, Shiloh, ceased Oct. 31, 1940. He will remain as pastor of the parish with regular services at Oakland and Clay Memorial churches.

Rev. Shirey came to Shiloh, July 1, 1930. In the 95 years of the history of Mt. Hope church, Rev. Shirey's was the second longest pastorate. During the pastorate there were 155 new members received, thus doubling the former membership of the congregation. There were 45 infant baptisms, 23 marriages, and 96 funerals.

The chancel was rearranged with the altar to the rear. Robes were introduced for junior and adult choirs, also by the pastor. The common service book was adopted by the congregation.

A new roof was put on the entire south side of the church and the congregation is looking forward to extensive repairs and redecoration for their centenary celebration.

NOTICE

Owing to an outbreak of cholera in the vicinity, we will permit NO hunting or trespassing on our farms.

HOW PLYMOUTH VOTED TUESDAY

With a total of 775 votes cast in the two Plymouth precincts, the largest in many a year, the village went for Willie and Bricker. While the town came out on the Republican side, it was by a small, very small majority.

It is very evident that the voters of the Seventeenth district think highly of Harry McGreggor, Republican candidate for Congress, for he was one of the few that returned to office. Here's how the town voted:

President:	Huron	225
Willkie	178	25
Roosevelt	151	200
Governor:
Bricker	192	237
Davey	135	189
Linton	107	144
Herbert	171	214
Cox	138	175
Secretary of State:
Hummel	161	199
Sweeney	138	188
Auditor of State:
Tracy	161	207
Ferguson	145	185
Treasurer of State:
Ebright	167	201
Upkey	149	189
In Huron county's commission district place Plymouth voted: Austin, 140; Berry 138; both Republicans; while Ellis and Wyandt, (U) ran as follows: Ellis 177, Wyandt 161. In the prosecutor's race for Richard county Theodore Lutz, (R) had 299 votes and Fred Lutz, (D), 201 votes. County commissioner: Orwiler (R) 212; Shoup, (R) 228; Hout, (D) 160; Stewart, (D) 188.

CEMETERY LEVY PASSED TUES.

In the final tabulation of the ballots for the one mill levy for the upkeep of Greenlawn cemetery, the issue passed by "the skin of your teeth." Under the law a levy must have 65 per cent of the votes cast on that particular issue.

There were 775 votes cast in the election, but according to the tabulation 287 votes on the cemetery issue were blank, and as a result they did not count either for or against the issue, which had a total of 687 votes of which 65 per cent margin had to be secured for the issue to be approved. Figures show that this percentage almost totalled 66 per cent, which indicates that the issue passed by a very small margin.

In both Richland and Huron precincts 117 votes each were cast against the issue. In Richland 287 votes for the levy, and in Huron precinct 188 votes approved the issue.

HALESY HEATH ELECTED TO STUDENT COUNCIL

Word has been received at our school from Mt. Etzoll, representative of Oberlin Business college that Halsey Heath, a member of the 1940 graduating class, has been elected to Oberlin Business College Student Council. Along with the honor naturally goes many responsibilities. Congratulations, Halsey!

Girl Scout Interest Lags; Cooperation Is Needed

Mrs. Mary Akers, who so kindly accepted the responsibility as leader for the local Girl Scouts, is having a little difficulty in having all members of the group at weekly meetings.

For sometime past it looked as though the organization would disband owing to lack of leadership. No one wanted the work given up, yet a leader was next to impossible to get. However, Mrs. Akers has agreed to take up the work with the understanding that the girls must cooperate.

Meetings are held every Tuesday in the Legion rooms, promptly at 7 o'clock. The sessions last only about an hour and mothers interested in having their girls continue this important work, should see to it that they attend.

Continued indifference will find that the project will be given up entirely. The decision rests with the mothers and members of the group.

SEASON ENDS FOR FOOTBALL

GRIDES MEET AT 2:30 FOR THE SECOND TIME

The football season for the P. H. S. Tigers will come to a close with the Green Spring six tomorrow evening on the opponent's field. The P. H. S. club has never lagged on this green, which is reported to be a grass field and probably in the best condition of any gridiron the "red and white" have tangled on this season. The Green Springers traveled here earlier this season only to be saddened by a 34 to 22 beating. They have a team which can be expected to pull an upset on any opponent and although they start the game as the underdog, they will try not to finish as such.

Although Plymouth goes in the game with the odds for them they are not underrating these "Greenies." They were hard on their toes the complete game time in order to edge them. Two obstacles confront them, the strange field and the fact that the regular center, Martin, will be unable to be in the lineup because of knee injury.

Green Springs brought many fans here, but let's have plenty of P. H. S. fans there tomorrow cheering our boys to victory. The game will mark the end of high school football for five of the present team, due to graduation. They are Keith Kitchin, fullback; Bob Martin, center; Roger Miller, end; Bill Fazio, sub-end; and Harry Vandevort, sub-end.

The price of admission is adults 25c and students 15c. The kickoff will be at 2:30. See this pigskin affair from the start! It's a pleasure! Be there! Let's go, team! Let's win!

LUTHERAN CHOIR PLANNING ITS ANNUAL CHRISTMAS CANTATA

The Senior Choir of the Lutheran church has begun its preparation for its Christmas Eve candle light service which will be held at 11 o'clock on Christmas Eve.

This is the fourth year for this service which has constantly grown in beauty and popularity. Last year the church was held beyond its capacity to hear "Bethlehem," by J. H. Mander. The year before saw the choir presenting H. Alexander Matthew's lovely "Story of Christmas" and the first year saw a combined choir composed of the choirs of the Presbyterian and Lutheran churches present a program of outstanding carols and anthems.

This year the choir will present again the most beautiful of Christmas carols and anthems. The program is being so pre-arranged as to bring the picture of the whole Christmas story in music from the Annunciation by the Angel Gabriel to the Virgin Mary to the famous words of old Simeon when he had seen the Child in the temple, "Lord, now lettest Thou Thy servant depart in peace, according to Thy word, for mine eyes have seen Thy Salvation which Thou hast prepared before the face of all people; a light to lighten the Gentiles and the hope of Thy people Israel."

KROGER STORE TO SPONSOR SCHOOL

Housewives who are "sick and tired" of the same menu, week in and week-out, will be delighted to know that the Kroger Store is sponsoring their annual cooking school on next Tuesday afternoon at the Plymouth theatre.

A number of tried and tested recipes will be demonstrated by Mrs. Betty Wright of the Kroger Food Foundation, who has been in great demand and has delighted her audience with the ease of preparing whole meals on top stove baking and the waterless cooking methods which are two highlights of the school.

The school is scheduled to commence at 2:00 o'clock and will last for two hours. There is no admission and a number of door prizes will be given.

Reserve the date — Tuesday, Nov. 12, at the Plymouth theatre. Everyone is welcome.

RECEIVE AWARD

On Sunday, Nov. 3, the Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church came back to Plymouth with a new Christian flag and standard, presented to it as a temporary award from the Richland County C. E. The award was presented at the Richland County C. E. fall rally held in Mansfield Sunday afternoon and evening.

Six members of this Junior Society received Junior C. E. pins for work completed in memorizing the Beatitudes, the first Psalm, the 23rd Psalm, the Ten Commandments, the Books of the Bible and the Apostles Creed.

These members were Ronald Robinson, Jimmy Keller, Tom Cunningham, Bob Hampton, Jack Hampton and Barbara Tilton. Mrs. Judd Keller is in charge of this group.

Fifteen C. E. representatives went from the Plymouth Presbyterian church to the fall rally.

The closing numbers of the program will introduce the note of personal dedication to the Christ Child of those who sing His praises.

Among the varied and beautiful anthems are numbers which range from a simple, plaintive traditional Cradle Song from Haiti to Handel's great work from "The Messiah," "And the Glory of the Lord." The sincere loveliness of Johan Sebastian Bach's "Beistle Thy Cradle, Here I Stand," will contrast with the strong vigor of Charles Fonteyn Manney's powerful "Drop Down, Ye Heavens."

The choir spends months in preparation for this program which it is happy to be able to give as its Christmas gift to the community.

God has blessed America

NOTHING can soften the sadness of parting from our young men who are answering the call to the colors.

But just watching them swing by, you know there is a cause for giving thanks on bended knees that they are the kind of young men they are.

May we all find ways of telling them the brimming appreciation in our hearts for the high purpose behind the noble sacrifice they are making.

God speed them... and return them home safely and soon.

SOPHOMORE WRITE SHORT STORIES

The Sophomore English class under the direction of Mr. Most, have been studying a unit on the short story. After reading a number of the most famous short stories, the class tried their hand at writing a short story. Five of the best of these stories, as selected by the students and teachers, will be printed in The Advertiser. The first tale to appear is that of Mary Ann DeVier, a good story tied for first place with the one written by Francine Fortney, entitled "At the Head of the Stairs," which will appear next week.

FRESH PAINT "Run and open the gate for us Davey," called Mr. Randolph as the old Ford coughed and sputtered and finally, reluctantly started. "Sorry you can't go with us today son," he said to the profooted, treckled, and sputtered as they paused at the gate, "but you know someone has to stay and see to the chores."

"Aw that's all right dad, I didn't want to go anyway." "Don't forget, son," said his mother. "I left the things for your lunch on the pantry shelf, and you'll be home in time for supper. Goodbye and be a good boy."

"O. K., mom, I will and I'll see to the chores, dad, goodbye. Davey stood hanging on the fence gazing wistfully after them as they drove off. He did want to go—it was going to be awfully lonesome being there alone all day, but he knew someone had to stay there and mother and dad had to go. They were going to make the final payment on this little farm, and pick out some wall paper for a couple of the rooms. It had been hard going—it did seem like they had a lot of hard luck but they finally managed to save enough to pay the last of the mortgage. Dad was just saying this morning that if things went well and if the crops were good this fall he thought maybe they could sell the house and barn to the bank."

Davey looked up with interest as a truck with two men in it and several ladders on it drew up in front of the house and stopped. He heard one of them say: "This is an ideal location, Al. It can be seen from all the surrounding country." Then apparently seeing the lad for the first time the man said, "Hello there, Buddy, is your dad home?"

"Nope," replied Davey. "He just left." "Will he be back soon?" "Nope, not till supper time." The man muttered something to his companion which sounded very much like swearing to Davey. He then heard the other man say, "But I tell you this is the best location for miles around." The rest of their conversation he couldn't hear, but finally the first man turned to him and said, "Nice place you have here, Buddy, but I see it needs paint pretty bad."

"Yep, we're going to paint next spring." "How would you like to have us paint it for you for nothing?" "For nothing," cried Davey. "You mean it wouldn't cost us a cent?" "That's right, not a penny," said the man. "Gee!" thought Davey, "Wouldn't mom and dad be surprised to come home and find the place all painted up? Why they wouldn't have to wait for spring and they could use that money for something else. I guess then they'd be glad they left him in charge of things. He'd show them a twelve year old boy was 'most a man. "Well, what'd ya say kid," interrupting his train of thought "Do we paint it or don't we?" "Can I have it any color?" "Yes sir," replied the man called Al. "any color you want." Quickly the boy thought what color would be the best—he had it; he'd have it painted two colors—dad's and mom's favorite colors.

Late that afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Randolph drove wearily homeward—wary but happy. At last that little farm was all theirs. For years they had worked and saved for this very thing. The sun was setting in a blaze of glory as they reached the top of the hill, where they could look out and see their whole farm lying before them. They gazed in horror at a bright pink house trimmed in vivid blue with the words, "You will have brighter teeth if you chew Stainless Chewin Tobacco," glaring at them from the roofs of the barn and house.

Mary Ann DeVier. REPUBLICANS WIN — AT LOCAL SCHOOL The Republican ticket made a clean sweep in the Senior Sociology class Tuesday morning at P. H. S. The race between Roosevelt and Willkie was exceedingly close with the lead changing many times during the course of the tabulation, but the Republican candidate finally nosed ahead 82 to 73.

Governor Bricker was given the largest majority and in a landslide vote swamped Davey 97 to 57. Burton followed his victorious running mates with a 91 to 61 victory over McSweeney.

TEMPTING MENUS

by PAULINE SCHOFIELD

Food Travelogue Good food sends you of, your way content and in a supremely happy frame of mind. The meals eaten while you are touring the country are credited with at least 1/4 of the total pleasures obtained. Recall if you can, and I'm certain you can, that old southern mammy who was a wizard in the art of creating such traditional and famous delicacies as Smithfield ham ever forget that lovely inn, where the huge fire blazed in the hearth, and the table was heaped with palate tickling dishes that are New England's own? Do you long for a country style dinner that tempts you with the plain, delicious wholesomeness of its offering as only the Pennsylvania Dutch can prepare them? Throughout the country and the world over each specific section is responsible for its own distinctive culinary achievement. The joys of traveling through these lands and partaking of these traditional menus urges you onward in search of new pleasures in a peaceful and contented mood.

Armistice Day The soldier speaks: the trenches were wet and muddy. The battlefield was gory. I killed-I died that our Democracy might live. The marine recalls: we patrolled the seas. Submarines imperilled our lives. But we got America's forces across-to fight for liberty. The sailor says: our ships were gray ghosts in coats of camouflage. Some of us went down in the deep, happy to sacrifice our lives—that all that is good might live on. They have not died in vain. This Bank will be closed Armistice Day, Nov. 11, 1940. INTERESTING ITEMS FROM THE 7TH AND 8TH GRADES
Last Thursday the 7th and 8th grade girls played baseball. Joan Hoffman's side won. The captains are Joan Hoffman and Betty Rose. Last Thursday the 7th grade had inspection in Health class. As we were seated at our seats Mr. Richards, Mr. Joseph, and Mr. Nesbitt and Mr. Pittenger came in and commented on our good looks. After that Miss West examined us. You should see how we really look when we all have our faces clean and hair combed! You would hardly know us.

A certain little boy in the 7th grade thought we had red car-buckles in our blood instead of corpuscles.
 Evelyn Cox, a girl in the 7th grade, moved to Indiana.
 A week ago this Monday Bob Swartz's team played Harold Diebert's and Diebert's team won 12 to 6. Last Wednesday Neely's team played McQuate's team and won 8 to 0. Monday 4th, Swartz's team played Neely's team and Swartz's team won 14 to 0.

F. F. A.
Monday the 3rd period the F. F. A. class saw the picture show of the National Corn Husking contest. This picture was interesting to us because we had seen this contest at Marion. This picture showed the huskers at work. The men were the fastest huskers in the United States. They came from more than 400 counties to compete in this contest.

JUNIOR CALS TO PRESENT PLAY MONDAY EVENING
The cast of the Junior Class play has been working hard for the last month so that they can put on their play, "Mother-in-Law Blues." This is to be a jolly and joyous farce in three acts.

This cast, which consists of 12 good players, presented a couple of scenes from the comedy at P. T. A. meeting Monday evening. Everybody there seemed to enjoy the prevue very much.
People who like airplanes, be sure to be present! People who like mix ups, come and enjoy yourselves. Last but not least, for people who like fun, laughter, and excitement there will be all of this at the play, "Mother-in-Law Blues." Don't miss seeing Eugene Russell dressed like a girl. Come prepared! Bring your hanky, for you will laugh until you cry.
We believe this will be one of the best plays presented here this month.
The play will be held at the High school auditorium on Nov.

15, at 8 p. m. The admission will be: Adults 25c; children 15c.
We are sure it will be a good play so plan to attend. Don't forget the name, "Mother-in-Law Blues."

Rabbit Season Opens Nov. 15; Second Season For Grouse
When Ohio hunters take to the field on Nov. 15 for the opening of the rabbit and bird season, some will be out for the state's second annual open season on "The King of Game Birds"—the ruffed grouse.
The Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources is making a strong effort to bring the grouse back to Ohio after many decades of virtual extinction in the state.
Lack of game bird hunting in southern and southwestern Ohio caused the Conservation Division to decide to repropagate the grouse in the state. Grouse were purchased from Canada and these were released on protected areas.
S. S. Dietz, Athens, was chosen as grouse supervisor and has been investigating the necessary habitat and sections of the state that offer the proper requirement for the bird. The best places were found to be the counties along the eastern and southern edges in the unglaciated part and the northeastern section which borders Pennsylvania.
Investigation areas have been set up at Jefferson State Park, Jefferson county; Granville area, Washington county; Liberty township, Jackson county and in Ashland county.

Note To Young Hunters

Note to young nimrods. Although fishing laws permit all persons under 16 to fish gratis, it is necessary for any person, regardless of his age, to have a hunting license if he is using a firearm.

All dads who expect to take their offspring into the field with them this fall, had better be sure that Junior has a license if he takes along his .22. Also, Dad should be sure that Junior knows how to handle a firearm safely and that he knows enough to secure permission from the farmer before he hunts on his land.

Shelby Tube Works Declare Dividends

A regular quarterly dividend of 43 3-4 cents was declared on the $35 par 5 per cent prior preference stock of Ohio Seamless Tube Co. by its board of directors at a regular meeting held in Shelby, E. W. McNeill, secretary-treasurer, announced. The directors also declared a year-end dividend of 10 on the common stock of the company. This was the first dividend of this kind for the past ten years, McNeill said. The prior preference stock dividend is to be paid December 20 of stock record December 10. The common stock dividend is payable December 14 to stock holders on record December 6th.

PLYMOUTH GOES DOWN IN DEFEAT

One of the testing games of the season proved to Plymouth that the loss of one or two first string men can prove disastrous. With Martin out of the line-up, much of the strength of Plymouth forward wall was missing. However, Plymouth does not abili for its defeat as Shiloh has a good, well-balanced team. The first half of the game showed the equality of both teams as the score stood 6-6 in favor of Plymouth at the half. At the beginning of the second half, things happened when four touch-downs were made in seven minutes of play. The score at the end of the third quarter, Shiloh 28, Plymouth 14, and then in the fourth quarter another avalanche of touchdowns was made by Shiloh totaling 26 more points. In this quarter Plymouth lost the services of little Jimmy Cunningham for being unnecessarily rough (if you can fathom such a thing) according to the umpire of the game. The writer contends that an official should be put off the field for unnecessary roughness on his part as was displayed particularly by the umpire at this time; particularly do we feel this way towards a grown man being unnecessarily rough to a child in a game. The final score of the game was Shiloh 54, Plymouth 14. Those participating in the game were: Moore, L.E; Hoffman, C; Lasch, R.E; Kitchin, F.B; Rule, H.B; Cunningham, Q.B; Ross, C; Miller, R.E; Vandervort, R.E; Rhine F.E. For Shiloh: Harrington, L.E; Clark, C; Myers, R.E; Ruckman, F.B; Nesbitt, H.B; James H.B; Lutz L.E; J. Ruckman Q.B; Hammon Q.B; Young C.

Outstanding features were the 75 yard run for a touch-down by Cunningham and the 50 yard run through the line by Ruckman for a touchdown. Plymouth made 11 first downs, attempted twelve passes and completed seven of them. Shiloh made 15 first downs, attempted eight passes and completed four of them.
