

R. L. BROOKS IS AAA REPORTER

TWENTY-SEVEN COP REPORTERS WILL START CHECKING UP ON FEDERAL FARM REQUIREMENTS.

R. L. Brooks, who has been connected with the Triple A movement in Plymouth township for the past several years, has again received his appointment as a "crop reporter" for Plymouth township. The reporters received their appointment at a recent meeting of the AAA committee, and those elected are as follows:

Blomingsrove township, Donald F. Harter; and by Laser, Butler township, Wilson F. Taylor and Raymond Linds; Cass township, Ben L. Wilson; Franklin township, Charles G. Raiser; Jackson township, George H. Barnes and Ed. J. Lubbe; Jefferson township, C. D. Bollinger.

Madison township, Harry Jones; Mifflin township, George K. Weimer; Monroe township, Lloyd J. Spohn and Ralph Menard; Perry township, Chester H. Morgan; Plymouth township, Raymond L. Brooks; Sandusky township, Dale M. Harding; Sharon township, Otto P. Stine and C. C. Till; Springfield township, L. E. Wilson and Robert Walker.

Troy township, L. Fred Griffin; Lee J. Humphrey, and R. C. Dickson; Washington township, Thomas P. McBride; Weller township, Morgan Pittenger; Worthington township, Ollie V. Braden and Harley M. Black.

Guy L. Taylor, county AAA chairman, states that approximately 1,900 Richland county farmers have indicated their willingness to cooperate with the federal crop program this year. Taylor also said that the total "sign-up" for Richland county represents about 55 percent of the county's farm owners and operators. Last year 1,788 farmers in Richland joined up with the AAA program.

Crop payments for Richland county in 1939 passed the $100,000 mark, but with the additional increase in the number of participants, the payments should show a gain for 1940.

Wheat allotments for the 1941 crop for section next fall will permit farmers in the county to sow 27,778 acres. Final instructions have been given the crop reporters as to the work they are to do in making the check-up. The first of the township reporters will start this week.

Resignation of Marshal

DEMANDS MARSHAL RESIGN IN FIVE DAYS OR THREATS OUSTER PROCEEDINGS.

In a surprise move at council meeting Tuesday night, Mayor William Johns asked for the resignation of Otis Moore, village marshal. Mayor Johns states that if the resignation isn't forthcoming within the allotted time that he will file ouster proceedings.

The mayor was out-of-town Wednesday and it was impossible to secure a statement from him concerning his action. Marshal Moore states that he isn't ready to make a statement.

However, it is understood that much dissatisfaction has been experienced by Mayor Johns in the performance of the duties of village marshal. Several incidents over the past few months where, it is claimed by Johns, that Moore did not carry out his duties as an officer of the law, have no doubt brought the situation to a head.

As a result of the mayor's action Tuesday night there will no doubt be a special meeting for conversation for the next few days.

In his criticism of Moore's duty, Mayor Johns pointed out that in a night club fracas in Plymouth last Thursday night, the Richland county sheriff's office was notified and asked to come in to maintain order. This, Mayor Johns says, "is just one of the many recent incidents which have occurred and which he will not tolerate as mayor." He made a pledge to the voters to carry out the enforcement of the law in every detail, and he intends to keep his promise.

NARROWESCAPE

FORD COACH COMPLETELY WRECKED; YOUTHS ESCAPE SERIOUS INJURY.

A 1939 Ford Coach driven by George Hough was completely wrecked Sunday evening about 11:30 while two other local youths miraculously escaped death who were riding with him.

The group had spent the evening at Forest Lake Park and will route home about a half mile east of the park, they ran into a dense fog and struck a hole in the road causing Mr. Hough to lose control of the car. The car which was approaching a small bridge turned on its side and slid approximately forty-five feet before coming to a stop. Had the car swerved to the opposite side of the bridge, the machine would have landed in a ravine and possibly ten or fifteen feet of water. Monroe VanWagner, one of the group, was uninjured while Leo Kendig received a badly bruised neck, cuts and a general shaking up.

Medical aid was given and the car brought to the Dinger garage.

SURVEY SHOWS "SPEED" IS MAIN TRAFFIC KILLER ON U. S. HIGHWAYS

MORE THAN 32,000 PEOPLE LOST LIVES IN 1939 TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS OF WHICH 23,000 DIED IN URBAN OR RURAL MISHAPS.

Editor's Note: The following story is a result of a survey of the causes of traffic fatalities which last year, 1939 took the lives of more than 32,000 citizens. More than 1,500,000 persons were injured in auto accidents for the same period, and 90,000 were crippled or maimed for life. This is truly a tragic story of the price American motorists are paying for the use and pleasure of motor cars and trucks. May we suggest that you read the story in its entirety and keep in mind while driving "This can happen to me."

The short-cut to greater street and highway safety is enforcement of a speed limit, according to Julien H. Harvey, nationally prominent safety authority and managing director of the National Conservation Bureau, accident prevention division of the Association of Casualty and Surety executives.

"If every citizen would study the statistics of America's unfortunate accident record for 1939,"

SISTER OF LATE W. C. McFADDEN FOUND DEAD.

Mrs. Jennie Fast of Lorain, was found dead in bed last Wednesday morning by her daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Chester, who had gone to her mother's home on an errand.

Mrs. Fast had apparently been in her usual health and only the previous evening had done considerable work in her yard with the assistance of her daughter and husband. She retired soon after her daughter's departure and evidently died in her sleep, death being attributed to a heart attack.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Chester and three grandchildren, three sisters and three brothers. She is a sister of the late W. C. McFadden.

MONDAY NIGHT SET FOR MEET

BUSINESS MEN ASKED TO MEET AT COUNCIL CHAMBER TO DISCUSS IMPORTANT MATTERS.

The fact that there are several important matters that need attention, is the main reason for calling a meeting of the business men Monday night. NEWS BREVITIES

WHETHER IT'S POLITICAL

propaganda, or differences of opinion or just the truth stretched a little, word comes to us that Governor John W. Bricker spent only $50 for his campaign for his nomination at the recent primary, while former governor Martin Davey ran up an expense account totaling $38,000. Bricker, it is said, spent his $50 for the necessary filing fee. We're wondering what Davey did with his money, but $13,000 was used for advertising, which evidently proved that it does pay.

OHIO RANKS FOURTH IN THE nation in the sale of hunting licenses and hunting license fees. Michigan takes first place, followed by Pennsylvania, and then New York. Ohio has $567,000 in fees. While fourth in hunting, Ohio ranks second in the number of anglers. More than 631,200 licenses were issued last year.

A SCORE OR MORE OF THOT-

less motorists failed to observe the unusual conditions Saturday night as they drove through the Public Square. With every available parking space taken, and a number of pedestrians using the cross-walks, these non-thinking drivers clipped off speeds as high as 45 miles per hour, endangering the happiness and safety of innocent people. With the sun, the entertainment being held every Saturday night, a little "remembrance" should be shied out to those who hold no regard.

A POST CARD FROM MRS.

Josephine Rogers tells us that she spent the past week at San Francisco, where she visited Treasure Island and other attractions offered by the Golden Gate International Exposition. Mrs. Rogers states that the first 2500 women who entered the gates received a beautiful rose and gardenia. Incidentally, this is the last season for this famed attraction of the west coast.

THE TEMPERATURE READING

Saturday night at 8 o'clock was exactly 62 degrees above, which made it very hard for citizens to get that old summer feeling. Despite the chilling rains which fell Friday night and Saturday morning, and the prevailing cool weather, a large crowd was in Plymouth to send off in a splendid way the first free summer attraction.

ABANDON FAIR

CRAWFORD COUNTY BOARD SAYS NO EXHIBIT THIS YEAR.

Failure of the $32,000 bond issue for a grandstand at the county fairgrounds in the recent primary was given as the cause of the discontinuance of the Crawford County fair this year, when fair board members announced recently that no county fair would be held.

Members stated that a junior fair for 4-H clubs had been discussed and had been referred to County Agricultural Agent Russell L. Miller and Miss Mary Wiseman, county demonstration agent for a final decision.

The fair was scheduled to be held Aug. 13 to 16th.

If a junior fair is scheduled it will be a two day event with no admission charge. Morris Knisely, secretary of the fair board, announced.

WORK WILL SOON START ON PAINTING HIGH SCHOOL. At a special meeting of the school board members of the Crawford County night awards were made for the paint which will be used in redecorating the high school building.

Practically the entire building will be repainted and decorated during the summer months. Janitors Sheely and Hulbert are to do the job, which will mean employment for them during the summer season.

The fishing season is officially opened when Les Sheldis begins his weekly treks to Lake Erie. He says that he has had excellent fish this year with all kinds of fish — but maybe we'll believe him when he brings a few in to us.

Hereafter, Stanley, when you dictate a personal letter, why not have the "stenographer" write it on the typewriter rather than to send the note in her handwriting. Perhaps that's why the redhead is angry.

Mr. Carter, Chief Engineer, to a member of the drafting room: "Are you going to the motorcycle races in Columbus Sunday?"

"No," said the other. "You'd better get Mr. Carter continued. 'You'll never in all your life see such a group of darned fools together in one place.'"

"Yes," said the other, "I understand you always attend."

All joking aside, our Mr. Carter always a motorcycle enthusiast, journeyed to Columbus last Sunday in this open-air method, to the Fair Grounds to see the races. He tells us that it was sponsored by the Newslet Organization and that there were 90 motorcycles entered. Another feature of the day was a bicycle race in which 60 cyclists participated.

SON BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Don Davis of Chicago announce the arrival of a seven pound son, born May 28. Mr. Davis is the son of Mrs. A. W. Davis, and his wife, is the former Miss Blanche Lamm of Norwalk. Mr. Davis' father, the late A. W. Davis, will be well remembered in this community, having been a resident of Richmond township for many years.

Insurance Rates To Go Up at Monroeville

Lack of modern elevated storage facilities and a considerable reduction in the capacity of pumping units in Monroeville's water plant when changes were made in 1936, will cause business men in that town to pay about 50c per thousand additional for each thousand dollars insurance, it has been revealed, when their policies come up for renewal.

Plymouth can be counted as extremely lucky when it comes to water supply and pressure. Probably the only criticism that can be made is that there are a few mains that needs to be increased in size, the purchase of new and modern fire-fighting engine, and the construction of a fire-proof building in which to keep fire-fighting apparatus. With these improvements local citizens will be entitled to an even lower rate here.

DEATH RAYS — HOW THEY MAY AFFECT MAN-KIND'S FUTURE

Robert D. Potter points out in The American Weekly, with the June 9th issue of The Detroit Sunday Times, that there are many kinds of death rays much like those in fiction stories and says all we need to stop all wars is to make one or two; an informative article discussing four groups of energies which need to work fantastic wonders in the laboratory... but on the battlefield they're something else again.

Have You Contributed To The Red Cross Yet?

The quota set for Plymouth Township for the Red Cross Drive of $10,000.00 to assist war torn Europe is just double its former quota of $130 or $260,000. To date the amount received has fallen far short of its goal, only $24.03 being turned into headquarters.

GAME AND RACE NORWALK SUN.

BIG CELEBRATION TO BE STAGED SUNDAY, JUNE 9th; THESE EVENTS TO PROVE EXCITING.

With rain and wet grounds forcing cancellation of the fine program planned for Decoration Day by the Night Hawks Motorcycle Club and the Keller Indians baseball club, officials of these two well known Norwalk organizations have planned the same celebration for Sunday, June 9th at Keller Park in Norwalk, located on the Norwalk - Sandusky road, state route 13 just a mile north of the business section. Seven classified motorcycle races, a motorcycle broad jump, triek motorcycle riding, a four inning softball game played on motorcycles where all fielders and base runners ride a motorcycle, and a grand climax with Norwalk's own Joe Zureich riding his high geared motorcycle through a flaming board wall. The races will be run off on a one-fifth mile track that is unbanked. This is the first time that any event of this type has ever been sponsored at the Keller Park but several more will be held yet this year if this first one is a success.

Night baseball got its official 1940 opening on the night of June 8th when Norwalk's Mayor Fred P. Link tosses out the first pitch of the game scheduled between the Norwalk Keller Indians and the Monroeville Grays. The Grays who gave Keller's so much competition in their two games last season, have warranted this opening game because of their strength. A former Keller pitcher, Lefty George, who will be on the mound for the Monroeville nine against his former teammates with Palmer doing the catching. Staples, Herman or Speer will pitch for the Kellermen with E. Boyle behind the plate.

Tickets for the motorcycle races are selling for 40c and bearers of tickets for the races will be admitted to the ball game on that night for no extra charge. Those wishing to attend the ball game only may get tickets at the gate after 7 o'clock for only 25c.

Shall We Lose Faith?

With peace-loving nations being overrun by an aggressive force Memorial Day in Plymouth could have been a little more respectful of our fallen dead. For on this day, we are not supposed to work up a pitch of fighting enthusiasm, but to pay respect to those who have made the supreme sacrifice in order that we may enjoy the freedom and privileges which no other country today knows.

One of our readers writes the following: "On Memorial Day an observer was surprised and dismayed to note the unthinking discourtesy shown by many Plymouth citizens. Perhaps most of them would fight if called upon, for these United States of America, that I did not see or stand at attention when our flag passed through the Square. This is not a criticism—just a sorrowful observation."

Respect is one thing and patriotism is another. No matter what our individual opinion may be in fighting for our country or the policy ensued to give us continuance of our present freedom, but we as individual American citizens do owe a great respect for our flag, and for those who have helped preserve it.

CHILDREN'S DAY PLANS ARE MADE

Believing Children to be our greatest and dearest possessions and that they should have a Sunday in their honor, Children's Day will be observed on June 16, in the Methodist Church.

The children of the church and Sunday School, under the direction of a committee, will present a miscellaneous program. There will also be songs, piano solos, and recitations which the children always make more interesting by their unexpected interpretations. Even though the words of a small boy can not be understood, just to see him make the effort, and stand on the stage and smile is worth the program.

Let us then give the children the honor due them and attend church at the Sunday School hour on June 16th.

And remember too, that the committee and all those who have assisted in any way, have given their time and effort in many a busy day, and we should let them know by our presence in the church that we appreciate what they have done.

like the dizzy speeds that are now permitted.

"Let us quickly analyze the 1939 statistics. The appalling truth is that we killed approximately 32,600 persons in traffic in a single year. Add to this approximately 1,150,000 injured — 90,000 of whom were crippled or maimed for life and an economic loss of $1,500,000,000. There you have the shameful story of how we used our streets and highways last year. And back of these figures is the real story of the No. 1 cause.

Deaths High in Smaller Towns

"Preliminary statistics, which seldom have more than slight variations when final tabulations are completed show that while traffic fatalities in cities of more than 10,000 population were reduced an average of 3 per cent during 1939, deaths in rural areas and cities under 10,000 population increased approximately 2 per cent over the previous year. In fact, of the 32,600 persons who lost their lives in traffic in 1939, more than 23,000 were killed in rural districts or cities under 10,000 population.

"The reason is obvious. Speed! Speed out there where few policemen, few lights, and lots of space. Compared to the greater number of traffic officers on patrol duty in the cities, the rural highways and small town streets are almost without protection. The city streets have lights and other curbing devices; traffic conditions themselves slow down the motorist. Control devices on the open road are few and far between, traffic seemingly is light, and an attitude of dangerous leniency has developed. Consequently, the driver opens the accelerator more and more, and he hurtles over the so-called 'open' highways; if he slows down at all for the small towns, it is only slightly. So, more than two-thirds of our traffic deaths are inflicted upon rural areas and the smaller towns.

Killings Rise With Speed Limits

"The situation this year is but a reflection of the distressing trend over the past decade, when we began to develop the notion that if we did not travel at express speed we were barely crawling. During the 10-year period from 1929 to 1939, traffic fatalities in cities of more than 10,000 population were reduced 24 per cent; but in the rural areas and small towns, for the same period, they increased 23 per cent. Forty-six cities having a population of more than 10,000 had a clean record last year — not a single automobile fatality; of 427 cities in the same population range reporting, 204 happily announced reduction of fatalities; 52 had no change.

"Now let's get down to fundamentals, and dig out some real 'news behind the news' in this traffic situation. A question that the head of every community in the United States, and particularly the smaller communities, where the slaughter is the greatest, should ask is: "How do those prize-winning cities do it? How is it possible, with all of their congested areas and greater number of automobiles and pedestrians and children racing over teeming city streets, that they reduce traffic fatalities while our record, despite apparently much better street conditions, go up? Every mother and father in America might also ask that question.

How Winners Reduce Fatalities

"I could give the answer in two words, 'Less Speed.' But we will let some of the prize winners speak for themselves. Little Rhode Island, where cities literally crowd one another for room, won the grand prize of the National Safety Council for the best traffic record of all the states in the nation in 1939. How did she do it? By having every state highway patrolman spend three-fourths of his time actually riding the highways, enforcing the traffic laws and making speeding in Rhode Island a very expensive 'pleasure' for the speeder. That is the answer for a state whose ability to do things is measured not by its size but by its courage and intelligence.

"Three other states that won first place in their geographical divisions also put the emphasis on speed when they went out to make death take a holiday on their highways. Oklahoma, cup winner in the Southern Division had its patrolmen spend 98 per cent of their time on the road and established 175 limited-speed zones. Minnesota, winner in the Mid-western Division, compelled its highway force to spend 95 per cent of its time patrolling and in addition established vast limited-speed zones. Washington, top state in the Western Division, followed the same general principle. Worcester Hills Ticket Fixers, too "Kansas City showed her heels to all the rest of the cities in the 250,000-500,000 population class. It reduced traffic deaths no less than 53 per cent in 1939. To do this Kansas City first sought the principal cause of traffic deaths and in speeding found the answer. So Kansas City clapped on a 25-mile speed limit for residential districts. But that was not all. Kansas City served notice that 25 miles per hour was the limit — no kidding and not maybe. To enforce this law the municipal authorities assigned 143 officers to full-time traffic duty and 299 others to part-time accident prevention work.

"Now let's visit a smaller city. Worcester, Massachusetts won the top-flight cup for cities in the 100,000-250,000 class. Parenthetically, in fact, the National Conservation Bureau takes municipal pride because it made Worcester one of its laboratory cities and helped the authorities there carry their safety campaign to the limit. In fact, Worcester bore down mercilessly on two things — speeding and ticket fixing. With a press and organized public opinion solidly behind them, the police set out to stop speeding and other traffic violations. And at the very start they served notice that no one in town was big enough to have a ticket fixed.

Good Effect on Other Cities

"Well, Worcester won the prize — first place in all the nation among cities of comparable size. But that was not the important thing. The big moment was when Worcester announced that, with a 25-mile limit rigidly enforced, it had reduced traffic fatalities 41 per cent. And as for ticket fixing, of 4,747 arrests for traffic violations other than parking, 4,636 were in convictions — most of them for speeding. So, if you're traveling in Massachusetts and chance to pass through Worcester, don't speed; it is a very expensive luxury.

"Furthermore, Worcester's example had a most beneficial effect on other Massachusetts communities. As the press of the state hailed the city's progress, delegations from other cities visited the authorities to find out how it was being done. Five words told the story — 'no speeding; no ticket fixing.' And it may be regarded as no mere coincidence that Massachusetts mothered all five of the cities at the top of the list in the 10,000-250,000 population range in 1939 — Worcester, Cambridge, New Bedford, Fall River and Springfield in the order named.

SACRED SONG RECITAL SUN.

FAMED BARITONE TO SING HERE IN METHODIST CHURCH.

Oswald Johns, radio, concert and baritone will appear in a sacred song recital this Sunday, June 9th at eight o'clock in the First Methodist Church, the Rev. H. T. Wintermute, Minister.

A native of Wales, where he had his early vocal training for several seasons he was soloist with a well known male chorus of Wales.

On migrating to America, he continued his musical studies in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

It is with much pleasure that the Rev. Wintermute announces the appearance during his current recital tour of this gifted baritone. Voice critics in leading American cities have hailed his artistry in outstanding performances.

DEATH CLAIMS

FUNERAL SERVICES TO BE HELD THURSDAY AT DYE FUNERAL HOME.

Mrs. Sarah Weaver passed away at the home of her daughter Mrs. John Weaver, one mile west of Plymouth Monday morning after a five weeks illness. She was born in Buffalo, N. Y., November 27, 1885 and has been a resident of Plymouth and vicinity for the past thirty-eight years. She was a member of the Methodist church in Plymouth.

Surviving are six children, Frank and Fred of Shelby, Henry of Mansfield, Mrs. Charles Smith of Shelby, Charles Weaver of Plymouth and Mrs. John Weaver of Plymouth. One brother, Charles Poffenbaugh of Toledo and sister Lydia Cook of Crestline, fifteen grandchildren, and sixteen great-grandchildren also survive. She was preceded in death by her husband four years ago and by a daughter Mrs. Howard Simmons twenty-seven years ago.

Services will be held today Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Dye funeral home in Shelby with Rev. H. T. Wintermute of the Plymouth Methodist church officiating. Burial will be made in Greenlawn cemetery in Plymouth.

AN APPRECIATION

During the past several weeks contributors of news have "outdone" themselves in handing their articles in early. This greatly aids in the compiling room where sister Lydia Cook is of piling up and until it is impossible to proof read, correct and set last minute news and ads.

Happenings over the week-end should be reported on Monday, Tuesday evening affairs not later than Wednesday noon and "we'll all be happy over the whole thing." Thanks a lot and we hope you'll continue the good practice.

A NEW SON

Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Long of Cleveland announce the birth of a son, Irwin William, on Monday, June 3rd. INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Melvin Hole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hole of Plymouth Street and John Wray of New Haven are recuperating from injuries received Saturday evening in an auto accident.

The car driven by Mr. Wray was sideswiped by another car about a mile north of Steuben, forcing Mr. Wray to lose control of the car and crashing into a culvert.

Mr. Hole was thrown through the windshield receiving a severe gash on the forehead and other minor flesh wounds. Mr. Wray has two teeth broken as he was thrown against the steering wheel. Both youths were taken to the Willard Hospital and later removed to their homes.
