WHY PLYMOUTH DOESN'T HAVE A HIGH SCHOOL BAND

Undoubtedly, the people of Plymouth have wondered why they haven't heard their high school band play since very early in the summer. Many changes of which but few persons are aware have taken place within this organization within the past few months. It is with much disappointment to its director as well as a few members of the band that the public be informed of these changes and if possible help to remedy them.

Because of the crowded conditions existing in our school building, it is impossible for instruction on any instrument to be given in school time as was done last year. As a result of this, the members of the band, with few exceptions, have ceased to practice almost entirely. If you can imagine the relief of the band master and members "blowing together" some having never looked at the music assigned them, and some not having touched their instrument even once during the week or a month, even, possibly you can understand why the Plymouth High band may soon be a thing of the past. Yes, a recent past.

Rehearsals are scheduled for Mondays and Thursdays every week. Sometimes as many as seven or eight are shown as the excuse being usually, "I forgot my horn." During this past summer rehearsals were set for every other Friday night. How was the attendance? About thirteen members came to the first rehearsal; at the second, two members were present. Summer rehearsals were of necessity given up. Such has been the cooperation and attitude of band members since school closed in the spring. And now, with the discontinuance of class lessons, the end of this organization seems inevitable.

What is the answer to this problem? Maybe you have the answer. Perhaps you can get behind some of the band members with your support; urge them to practice daily even if for only a short period of time; if necessary, urge him or her to give up some of his or her pleasure time to practice just a little bit of time and money.

Recently, an excellent teacher from a nearby community, talked to the members of the band telling of his willingness to give lessons either privately or in class. The interest shown was so slight that he decided against coming at all. As a matter of fact only five members cared to study, many didn't even tell their parents about it. In a word, all members said that if they took lessons they would have to practice too much and couldn't go up town in the evenings.

Such are the conditions under which the band struggles. Plymouth can have an excellent band. The talent here is abundant. But under such difficulties, no organization can last. Can we do anything about it or stronger still, will we do anything about it? This is a community project. Will you do your part?

STATE REFUSES CHALLENGE ON AAA DEBATE

Replying to a challenge of the Richland county chapter of the Ohio Marketing Quota Protest association for a debate on the merits of the AAA wheat marketing quotas and tax, county and state AAA officials state they are not permitted by the federal government to engage in public debates with arguments with opponents of the AAA farm program.

Guy L. Taylor, county AAA chairman, said he had discussed the challenge with Elmer F. Kruse, Ohio AAA chairman, who told him the federal law would not permit state or county AAA chairman to speak to participants in such a debate.

Taylor quoted Kruse as saying that "We are chosen to administer the farm program as set up by congress and not to argue its merits with those who oppose it."

Kruse added that the state office would be glad to send a speaker to Richland county at any time to explain the program and its aims.

MEETING WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

Accepting the offer of Elmer F. Kruse, Ohio AAA chairman, H. F. Fackler, stated that the meeting tentatively set for tonight at the Madison High School in Mansfield for the debate will be as planned. ## PLYMOUTH WINS OVER SHILOH

Shiloh and Plymouth continued the friendly rivalry for supremacy of the gridiron at Shiloh last Saturday on the field that was a sea of mud. Each team resorted to straight hard football, and from the opening whistle one could see twelve stalwart youths plastered with mud. However, it was a game well worth any one's time to see. Each team played with few substitutes which bespeaks for the splendid condition of the boys.

Shiloh won the toss and chose to defend the north goal. Plymouth kicked off to Shiloh on their own 30 yard run and returned the ball to the midfield. After three plays they lost the ball to Plymouth's 35 yard line and plunged to Shiloh's 30. Plymouth then made a touchdown around right end and passed the extra point. Score: Plymouth, 7, Shiloh, 0.

Plymouth then kicked off to Shiloh's 30 yard line and the ball was returned to the 20. After three and one plunges the quarter ended with the ball resting on Shiloh's 10 yard line. Following an exchange of possession of the ball Shiloh carried to Plymouth's 3 and then pushed across a touch down and six points. The try for extra point failed. Score: Plymouth, 7, Shiloh, 6.

The second half opened with Plymouth kicking to Shiloh on the 20 and returned to the 30. After several plays Shiloh kicked and the ball was blocked and came into possession of Plymouth. After four more plunges and end runs Plymouth carried across for six more points and failed in the try for extra point.

Score: Plymouth 13, Shiloh 6.

The rest of the quarter was marred by fumbles and hard runs.

The fourth quarter was very fast with neither side getting farther than their opponents 20-yard line. With but one minute left and Plymouth in possession of the ball, they used the usual strategy of keeping possession of the ball even though it quivered quite hard.

Final score: Plymouth 13; Shiloh 6.

The lineup of the teams is as follows:

Lasch.....LE.....Myers
Moore.....RE.....Russell
Hoffman.....C.....Clark
Thomas.....LH.....Brown
Cunningham.....RH.....Lutz
Rule.....FB.....Hammond

Substitutes — Plymouth: Ross for Moore; Moore for Ross. Shiloh: James Jones for Brown, Brown for Lutz.

Officials—Goebel, umpire; Law referee, referee.

Play Castalia

Friday Oct. 10, Castalia will come to Plymouth to battle the Pilgrims. This promises to be a good fast game. Come out at 3:00 and aid the young Pilgrims who are as stalwart and loyal as the Pilgrims of old.

The total rainfall for October starts out to be a record-breaker for the normal rainfall is recorded at three inches, while the total amount of water registered for the current month is 3.88 inches.

With the overflow of water all drains and gutters were taxed to capacity. Leaves that had fallen the past few days had a tendency to clog drains and sewers, greatly interfering with their efficiency in taking off the surplus water, and numerous basements were partially filled with water.

The rains, while badly needed in this section, came with such force in many fields were washed and, in some instances did more damage than good.

Indications are that the weekend will be fair and cooler and that we will be thinking of firing the furnace rather than strutting around in our shirt sleeves.

MOTHER DIES

Mrs. Margaret Mink, 81, died yesterday at the home of her son, William E. Willard, following a long illness.

Society

AUTUMN MEETING OF WSCS

The October meeting of the Methodist WSCS opened on last Thursday with a luncheon service by Mesdames Earhart-Anderson, Bert Ford, George Earhiser and Bertha Stoll. The tables were nicely decorated with late summer flowers and very fine casserole food was featured on the luncheon menu.

Mrs. Willard Ross was institutional leader for the month, and Mesdames Natalie Motley, Mabel McFadden, A. A. and H. L. Thompson, all assisted on the program which was a type of Harvest Home theme, our interest in the Harvest being on the spiritual and social side rather than the harvest of the farmer's fields.

Reports of officers were given in the business session and routine business was transacted. Mrs. Thurman Ford, Sec. Missions Education and Service, announced that Mite Boxes would be open in November, and that a barrel of food supplies could be sent as usual to those groups needing help that we remember annually.

Material for the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial, Oct. 27-31, was received for Mrs. Harry Knight, Sec. of Spiritual Life.

In the future, all Officer's reports are to be sent to the District WSCS officers rather than to the Conference officials, if so desired, and reports were due Oct. 5th.

The Annual Meeting will be held at Tiffin in St. Paul's Church, on Thursday, Oct. 16th, and reservations should be in by Monday, Oct. 13, to Mrs. J. H. Lancaster, 87 Clinton Ave., Tiffin. Several cars have already been filled with delegates for day, so those interested should make arrangements with President Miriam Hershiser soon.

Next year the luncheon committee will be Mrs. Florence Brewkaw, Mrs. Lawrence Ruff, Miss Alta Gingley and Mrs. P. W. Thomas with program and devotional leader to be announced later.

HUBERT HOME SCENE OF MEET

Mrs. Clay Hubert was hostess Tuesday for an all day meeting of the Martha Jefferson Club at her spacious home on Porter St. A covered dish dinner was served at one o'clock from a long table in the dining room, centered with a lovely arrangement of Yellow Marigolds. The list of the good things spread out before hungry eyes on this occasion cannot be exceeded at any "gathering."

The business session was in charge of the President, Mrs. Gebert. Informality marks these meetings which prove very interesting and instructive.

Arrangements were made for a one o'clock luncheon, in charge of the Eastern Stars of Shiloh, to be held at that place, on Nov. 6th. A guest to be or not to be at the discretion of the individual members. Plans were also made with Mrs. H. H. Fackler of Plymouth, or Mrs. N. Ruckman of Shiloh, not later than Nov. 4th.

One new member, Mrs. Guthrie was added to the membership roster. Mrs. Louie Derringer was welcomed as a guest.

The next regular meeting falls on election day, therefore, the meeting has been dispensed with, and the Misses Katherine and Elizabeth Weber will act as hostesses the first Tuesday in December. The time will be exact, at their home on True St. in Plymouth, at which time we hope for a good attendance.

ALPHA GUILD MEETING

"God Bless America" was the opening song when the Alpha Guild met Tuesday evening at the Lutheran church annex. There were twenty-five in attendance and participated in the devotional meeting, roll call and the business session.

Nov. 4th was set for the deadline in collecting the special days money cards and also agreed that the next meeting would be in the nature of a Halloween party. Hostesses for this meeting on the 21st are Mrs. M. F. Dick, Mrs. David Scraffield and Mrs. Stacy C. Brown.

Mrs. A. W. Bartholomew conducted a clever program during the social hour and later the hostesses served refreshments. Hostesses were Mrs. G. J. Searle, Mrs. Davis and Miss Virgie Fenner.

Alice Willett Class To Sponsor Fine Picture At Local Theatre

A picture unlike any ever shown on the screen, "The Great Commandment," will be presented at the Plymouth Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 21, 22. The tickets for the showing are now on sale by the Alice Willett Class, who are sponsoring the show.

Simply told, its story has a genuineness, a depth of meaning and a power that should qualify it for a place among the screen's immortals, according to many who attended the first showing of the 20th Century-Fox presentation.

Produced by John T. Coyle with the Rev. James Frederick as director, "The Great Commandment" has a brilliant cast which includes among others, John Beal, Maurice Moscovitch and Albert Dekker. Irving Pichel, director of many Hollywood hits, directed "The Great Commandment."

There is no increase in price, 20c for adults and 10c for children.

OHIO WOMAN, 105

DEAD AT NORWALK

Mrs. Electa Asmussen, one of Ohio's oldest women died at her home in Norwalk after a short illness. She was 105.

Funeral services were held on Sunday at North Fairfield at 2 o'clock. A son Dr. Charles Asmussen, 78, and a grandson, Donald of Greenwich survive.

Born in Huron County, Mrs.

Asmussen even to the last vividly recalled many of the outstanding national events of her long life.

Mrs. Willard Ross was institutional leader for the month, and Mesdames Natalie Motley, Mabel McFadden, A. A. and H. L. Thompson, all assisted on the program which was a type of Harvest Home theme, our interest in the Harvest being on the spiritual and social side rather than the harvest of the farmer's fields.

Reports of officers were given in the business session and routine business was transacted. Mrs. Thurman Ford, Sec. Missions Education and Service, announced that Mite Boxes would be open in November, and that a barrel of food supplies could be sent as usual to those groups needing help that we remember annually.

Material for the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial, Oct. 27-31, was received for Mrs. Harry Knight, Sec. of Spiritual Life.

In the future, all Officer's reports are to be sent to the District WSCS officers rather than to the Conference officials, if so desired, and reports were due Oct. 5th.

The Annual Meeting will be held at Tiffin in St. Paul's Church, on Thursday, Oct. 16th, and reservations should be in by Monday, Oct. 13, to Mrs. J. H. Lancaster, 87 Clinton Ave., Tiffin. Several cars have already been filled with delegates for day, so those interested should make arrangements with President Miriam Hershiser soon.

Mrs. Willard Ross was hostess Tuesday for an all day meeting of the Martha Jefferson Club at her spacious home on Porter St. A covered dish dinner was served at one o'clock from a long table in the dining room, centered with a lovely arrangement of Yellow Marigolds. The list of the good things spread out before hungry eyes on this occasion cannot be exceeded at any "gathering."

The business session was in charge of the President, Mrs. Gebert. Informality marks these meetings which prove very interesting and instructive.

Arrangements were made for a one o'clock luncheon, in charge of the Eastern Stars of Shiloh, to be held at that place, on Nov. 6th. A guest to be or not to be at the discretion of the individual members. Plans were also made with Mrs. H. H. Fackler of Plymouth, or Mrs. N. Ruckman of Shiloh, not later than Nov. 4th.

One new member, Mrs. Guthrie was added to the membership roster. Mrs. Louie Derringer was welcomed as a guest.

The next regular meeting falls on election day, therefore, the meeting has been dispensed with, and the Misses Katherine and Elizabeth Weber will act as hostesses the first Tuesday in December. The time will be exact, at their home on True St. in Plymouth, at which time we hope for a good attendance.

ALPHA GUILD MEETING

"God Bless America" was the opening song when the Alpha Guild met Tuesday evening at the Lutheran church annex. There were twenty-five in attendance and participated in the devotional meeting, roll call and the business session.

Nov. 4th was set for the deadline in collecting the special days money cards and also agreed that the next meeting would be in the nature of a Halloween party. Hostesses for this meeting on the 21st are Mrs. M. F. Dick, Mrs. David Scraffield and Mrs. Stacy C. Brown.

Mrs. A. W. Bartholomew conducted a clever program during the social hour and later the hostesses served refreshments. Hostesses were Mrs. G. J. Searle, Mrs. Davis and Miss Virgie Fenner.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE

Announcement is made this week of the marriage of Mrs. Mansfield to Mr. Ralph Bair of Mansfield on Saturday, Oct. 20th at Covington, Ky. The ceremony was performed at the M. E. parsonage of that city and the couple was attended by Mr. Bair's sister, Mrs. Earl Muth of Mansfield.

Mr. Bair is a supervisor at the Westinghouse Company, Mansfield. They are now at home in their apartment over the Rule Clothing Store.

ATTENDS FUNERAL

Mrs. Albert Feichtner attended the funeral of Mrs. Louis Zimmerman at Willard, Wednesday afternoon.

MOVE TO SHILOH

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fairchild have moved from the Schreck farm south of Plymouth to a property in Shiloh. Mr. Fairchild is the meat cutter at the Clover Farm Store, A. F. Cornell, proprietor.

ON FURLough

Private Mr. Cornel, who is stationed at Ft. Stevens, Oregon, returned to Plymouth Sunday evening for a fifteen day furlough with his wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Cornell.

MRS. JOSEPHINE ROGERS RETURNS FROM ALASKA TRIP; WRITES BACK TO HER MANY PLYMOUTH FRIENDS

NOTE: Mrs. Josephine Rogers of Long Beach, Calif., formerly of Plymouth writes an interesting account of her recent trip to Alaska. Knowing her many local friends are always glad to hear of these trips, we are printing her letter in full.

Sept. 28th, 1931

Dear Friends back home:

Well! As all good things do come to an end sometime—so has my wonderful Alaskan Cruise and pleasant trip home came to a happy ending. Just can't tell in detail of my trip to, and from Alaska if I did it would fill your newspaper. The weather was lovely summer like most of the time, only on way up it rained in Wrangell, Petersburg and Ketchikan—but when I was told the rain was needed to swell the rivers as it was the spawning time for the fishes, perhaps most of you know the female fish finds a deep rocky place to lay her eggs and immediately after she dies the male fish comes along and he deposits over the eggs his substance to make the eggs fertile, hangs around the eggs for a week to see that no other fish comes to eat up the eggs, and until nature covers them over with a protective milky substance—all this takes about a week—then the male fish dies; it seemed so pathetic to see those large fish dying and dead by the thousands! As far as "No land" the name of our boat is a Freight-Passenger Boat as we stopped at so many Ports of Call—and several smaller fishing places to take on Salmon—As a result they took on over 64,000 cases of Salmon and over 60,000 lbs. of frozen fish, usually carried in what we would call hogheads—they call them Tiers, each weighing 1000 lbs. and on our way back when we ran into that so rough sea lasting ten and one half hours—some of the tiers 1000 lbs. Tiers were rolled around and turned over like so many boxes of toothpicks. We reached Juneau on our way at midnight and stayed there until 9 a. m. the next morning. Juneau is the capital of Alaska, has a seemingly bottomless gold mine in its front yard, the largest mine, this gold mine is right the side of the high mountain—has the largest turn over of the rich gold rocks in the country and employs 1,000 people. Juneau lays in what I would call a gulch at the foot of a high steep mountain, and is such a pretty prosperous City of around 7,000—up-to-date stores, picture shows and churches—many of the pretty homes built up high on sides of the mountain reached by roads, and steep built stairs of seemingly thousands of steps—the City keeps these stairs free of snow and ice.

Since we had a lot of odd small cities of around 5,000. When we landed there the boat soon left for Japonesa Island where is the Navy Base to unload Defense Utilities for Navy use. One large Caterpillar tractor was so huge and heavy, it had to be unloaded on a large barge with a tug to haul it away as it was too heavy to unload on the platform. Situated on the hill above the town called "The Pioneers Home"—every so often some old prospector living there is seized by the wanderlust and the kind superintendent understanding these old men, outfit them with a shovel and pick and they go on their way, quite often two or three days go by before any of the old men haven't reached the ocean and the parties will find them on the way lying dead; and who knows but at last they have found that gold they spent years trying to find. The weather here was like our summer weather back home. On our way we passed a huge glacier and saw several icebergs. Saw glorious sunsets at sea, one breathtakingly beautiful to describe, lasting until nearly 9:30 p. m. One night when we were sailing along in a light shower, I looked across the sun shining on some mountains, and a beautiful rainbow on another one. The whole cruise up to, and into Alaska was certainly a dream fulfilled: gorgeous scenery, pleasant crowd on the boat, games, music, dancing and community sing. While in Ketchikan several hours I went to church and around that little town and found the population of 5,000. This city is known as the "Salmon Capital." One sees Totem Poles all over—grotesque carvings on short and tall poles, with the poles being remade, when the passing years wears them down, crumbling down. And now as time and space won't let me go into more details about that glorious cruise of nearly thirteen days, I'll just abruptly pass on down on the Bus past the Flying Aircrash Co., between Seattle and Anchorage with thousands of autos carrying small army of workers to and from the plant. Passed old Fort Lewis established during the World War — and now buzzing with renewal activity—hundreds of little homes being built for the added army of new soldiers. In Portland, Oregon, I stayed several days, went to church in a. m. and I rods miles out that beautiful city to "The Shrine of Our Sorrowful Mother." This is the shrine of fifty-five acres. Portland is a city of railroads and their slogan is "In Portland a rose for every stranger grows." Eighteen acres on the ground which is a natural setting with walls put in—and an alcove in which a beautiful altar rests. This altar is carved out of the rocks 50 ft. high, 30 ft. wide, and the 30 ft. deep, all of this on the side of the hundred of benches facing the altar—all of a sudden such beautiful music seems to come out of that mountainous alcove, the benches, the walls, the "Ave Maria" peeled out, one instinctively pauses and men pause and remove their hats in silent worship. There is a Hammond Electric organ facing the altar. One takes an elevator paying 25 cents and rides up 110

ft. to the upper level—to see it being filled in with pretty wide lawns, lovely flowers, shrubbery past the seven shrines of such life like figures depicting, "The Seven Sorrows of Jesus' Mother."

These figures were made by an Austrian carver, with his assistants help it took four years to complete these wooden images that are so like—each stands in awe and love at their seemingly lifelike figures.

When I left San Francisco on my last leg of my long journey I found a very mad house of activity among the huge crowds and the hundreds of Greyhound Buses, coming and going. One fine driver said in the eighteen years of his driving he had driven two million miles without ever getting lost. The next day I returned home to Whittier, Calif., where I had a wonderful trip which I had thoroughly enjoyed, also knowing it was good to be back to my Hotel safe and sound. I learned during the depression that it doesn't take a fortune to travel that one can go a long ways on a very little if necessary—just using a little foresight in planning ahead saving a little here, economizing a little there, and before one knows it there is enough saved up to cover complete costs of some nice long trip, with enough left over to pay the rent. All of you try it some time. I am now planning to fly down to San Diego next Monday, Oct. 6th which is my birthday. I had wondered how an Aviator could find so easily the direction of his destination and in my ignorance I supposed it was by his trained sense of direction until I read in Mr. Thomas' fine description in the paper that an Aviator uses a compass. Thanks for the information Mr. Thomas. Good health and a happy and a comy winter to all.

Adios
Josephine S. Rogers

Law of Gravity
If a person were to take two round balls, each having the same diameter, with one heavier than the other, and dropped from the same elevation under favorable weather conditions, the two balls will strike the earth at the same time since conditions were fixed so the resistance was the same on each. The earth's pull on every small particle is equal to that on each ball. The ball which is heavier will be greater than that of the lighter ball is greater than that of the lighter ball but since the mass of the heavier ball is greater than that of the lighter ball in the same proportions, the accelerations on the two balls will be equal, consequently, their velocities are equal.

Diabetics Get Special Ice Cream
A new ice cream for diabetics has been produced at the University of Illinois containing about 40 per cent as much sugar as the standard product. Scientists at the institute substituted a mixture principally of milk proteins for the glycerine used previously in efforts to freeze a low-sugar ice cream. One out of each 200 persons in the United States is diabetic, the scientists say.

Heating Other Rooms
Arranging a fireplace so that it will heat rooms other than the one in which it is located can be done by placing it in an inner wall of the house and using it in a heat-circulating system. Heat from the front, sides and back will circulate heat in four directions and will comfortably heat a five-room house.

Longest Telegram
The longest telegram on record was a birthday greeting message sent to President Franklin D. Roosevelt from Birmingham, Ala., on January 30, 1934. This night letter, which required 10 hours and 8 minutes to transmit over high-speed automatic telegraph instruments, contained 41,000 signatures and was a quarter of a mile in length.

Farmers To Assist In Defense Plan

is:

H. C. Ramsower, Director of Extension Ohio State University; Fred W. Issler, Surplus Marketing Administration; A. L. Sorenson, Farm Security Administration; and Elmer F. Kruse, Chairman of the Board, and head of the AAA Committee.

Members of the Huron County Defense Board who will attend the meeting Friday are G. A. Hummon, County Agricultural Agent; William B. Murray, Rural Re-habilitation Supervisor; Ray Klingensmith, Director of Elyria Production Credit Association, and Robert E. Finlay, Chairman Huron County AAA Committee.

Skids will be put under "farming as usual" in Huron County within the next few weeks, predicted Robert E. Finlay, Chairman of Huron County Agricultural Defense Board, and head of the local AAA committee.

Mr. Finlay reported that a district meeting of county defense board members and farm organization leaders will be held at Finlay on October 10 to outline the county's part in the "all-out" Farm Defense Program announced recently by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard.

The county's production goals will be announced officially at the conference.

Members of Ohio's Agricultural Defense Board will attend the meeting to discuss features of the program and to assist counties in planning a campaign "to reach the last farmer at the end of the last road."

Secretary Wickard has called for increased production of all farm products, except such surpluses as wheat, cotton, and tobacco. Especially needed to supply the nutritional needs of the United States population residing in America abroad are pork, poultry and dairy products, as well as fresh vegetables for canning.

"Huron county farmers have never failed to respond to their Country's call in the past," Mr. Finlay asserted, "and I look for our farmers to do their share and more, toward making the 1942 Farm Defense Program a complete success."

The Chairman cautioned local farmers to avoid plowing up new croplands since there are sufficient acres of farmland already under cultivation to meet all the needs.

"Better farming of this land will put Huron County 'over the top' in its drive toward the largest food production in history," he said.

Appearing on the program for the Findlay meeting are: David T. Herrman, Soil Conservation Service; Glenn S. Ray, Agricultural Marketing Service; Walter F. Gahm, Farm Credit Administration; J. A. Hall, Forest Service; R. W. Lynn, Rural Electrification Administration; M. L. Predmore, Bureau of Agricultural Economic

"We thank Divine Providence that we are permitted again to gather here;

RESOLVED: That we pledge a new allegiance to our Flag, our government and its institutions; that we continue our fidelity to our President and to our government;

RESOLVED: That we as Club members and homemakers use our influence for the enlightenment, education, science, progress, health and happiness of our youth;

RESOLVED: That we heartily support the work of the churches of our communities, feeling that only through the church can we best advance the Kingdom of Jesus Christ;

RESOLVED: That the time has arrived when we, who are privileged to live in America should pause each day to take stock of our flag, and to remember that it symbolizes a free and happy country in which we are privileged to live.

We as members of the resolutions committee feel impelled to extend our thanks to the Sunshine Club for their excellent welcome, and to the ladies of the Presbyterian church for their delicious dinner. We also wish to express to all others who contributed in any way to the success of our meeting.

Respectfully submitted,
