

NEW COURSE ACTIVITIES PLANNED IF NEW SCHOOL BOARD ISSUE PASSES

Ever since schools have been established, there has been a trend toward the practical training of the youth. The Latin classical courses of studies were and are necessary for the child and are necessary for the child who expects to attend college. But not all students can attend a university. Also there are many who do not desire to attend the same. For this latter group, there needs to be a curricular set up. Under the proposed plan of building, there will be every way provided for new and revised courses of study to meet the needs of the children and the desires of the employer. Should the boy today hope to be employed, questions regarding the training he is asked. Since nearly all shops limit the number of apprentices who may be employed, the problem of training must fall upon the schools. If had it would make the employes more eligible for full pay earlier. Auto mechanics, sheet metal, machine tooling, farm mechanics, blue print reading and drafting, etc., are some of the necessary requirements in the modern shop. It has been hoped for several years that such courses might be offered. The bond issue proposed, will add greatly in establishing such educational premises in the Plymouth school district for some time. Just as much as the high school courses have changed, so it is with the elementary courses. Busy work, specialized activity, enriched curricula and wholesome supervised projects are some of the youth. Only through special effort can these be accomplished. Also proper working conditions must be had for the best results.

Proper lighting, heating and ventilating are essential in carrying to completion any worthy project. Good sanitation is necessary to the health of the child. Without excellent health little can be accomplished. Eye strain retards a child's progress. Improper ventilation sometimes causes the spread of epidemics. It is the aim of all to give the child every protection possible in a new, modern, sanitary school building.

Music has come into our schools to stay. If proper surroundings can be had, much more will be accomplished. This can be done if the people of Plymouth School District will support the issue for better housing facilities and more extensive courses for the children. Can one afford to not make possible the best for the people in the finest community in the state? Surely, the children deserve your support. Won't you vote for the bond issue on March 25?

BUSINESS MEN'S ORGANIZATION

Democracy, by its very nature, depends for its success upon organization. No democratic opinion is so important as that which has been born through discussion. No democratic effort is so strong as united effort. American democracy is made up of a host of organizations, not necessarily political, formed to reach an agreement upon a particular course of action when action becomes necessary. Such an organization is the Plymouth Business Men's Association—an organization formed to discuss and consider the problems of the Village of Plymouth as a small economic unit in this great nation. A certain part of the welfare of the community of Plymouth is dependent upon trade and commerce which is transacted in Plymouth. This phase of the town's welfare is the particular problem of the Business Men's Association. If the Association does not accept this responsibility in its own behalf, there is certainly no one else who will. In every community there are those who insist their individual problems are entirely separate from those of the community. They denounce the value of cooperation and concerted effort. In other words, they do not believe in democracy. The Plymouth Business Men's Organization solicits its membership among you business men who are vitally interested in the welfare of the Village, and are willing to offer YOUR help in cooperation to establish the welfare of the Village.

D. Shilling of Ashland. In order that the ground school class will not conflict with applicant's work it will be conducted two evenings a week from 7 to 11 p. m. The subjects to be covered will consist of aircraft engines, instruments, theory of flight, parachute, meteorology and navigation.

FILES SUIT

MR. AND MRS. AUBREY STOUT ENBERG FILE PERSONAL INJURY SUITS

Norwalk—Mr and Mrs. Aubrey Stoutenberg, Norwalk, have commenced separate personal injury suits against the A. C. & Y. railway in the common pleas court in Norwalk, through their attorneys, J. H. Lawrence and Freeman. They were injured at 9 p. m. on Oct. 3, 1940 when the motor car driven by Stoutenberg hit a freight car that had been left standing on the railway track on the right hand side of the railway line and Route 301. Stoutenberg asks a judgment of $27,500 and his wife sues for $35,000.

The petitions set forth that there were no watch gate, bell, light, or sign of any kind to warn vehicle drivers of the presence of the car on the crossing. It also is averred that under the circumstances it was very difficult for a driver from the regular position of about 1-1/2 feet from the pavement to see the freight car. The plaintiffs allege that because of an incline in the road drivers could see under the parts of the freight car and the crossing and also observe the headlights of oncoming cars.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis received a letter and the following clipping from Mr. and Mrs. John Maxwell of Dayton:

An additional attraction for the young folks will be a dance to be held in the high school gymnasium after the amateur program. ## TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

There seems to be considerable misunderstanding concerning the traffic regulations in our school. This is apt to promote congestion in the hall during the noon hour and between classes.

People who are going into the rooms for classes are to enter by the right side of the doorway and the students coming out of the rooms should do so by way of the left side of the doorway. This applies to all rooms in the building except the study hall. Upon entering the study hall one should go through the library. Those coming out should do so by the way of the door.

Let us all cooperate and abide by these rules and avoid these traffic congestions.

"All Aid" Now in Boosting Total Soil Fertility Key to Future Prosperity of Farmers in Ohio

Must Put Plant Foods Back Into Soil.

CHICAGO.—Soil building means that will raise the total fertility level of Ohio farm land, rather than "shot in the arm" expedients designed to boost the yield of a single year's crop were urged by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee in a statement made public here.

"Soil conservation is true conservation only when it provides adequate safeguards for the future of the farmer's soil assets," says the statement. "This means putting back into the land the plant food elements that have been removed by generations of harvests."

"On millions of Midwest farms the vigor of the soil has been exhausted by continued croppings.

Successful Farmers Solve Problems by Taking Advantage of Agricultural College's Research

EACH farmer has problems different from his neighbor. No two farms are alike. A certain problem may be of little importance on one farm, but of vast importance on another. But all things considered, sound soil management is the key to long-range profitable farming. And the successful farmer is the one who recognizes the important problems as they appear and takes advantage of the results of agricultural research in arriving at the proper solution. With an average season, with good seed and good tillage, nothing will affect the yield per acre so favorably as fertilizer.

Life-giving plant foods have been shipped away in the form of grain, hogs, beef and milk. The result of such exploitation has been a steadily declining crop yield per acre and a drastically lowered farm income.

"Effective soil building comprises a few basic principles. These include the raising of legumes, intelligent crop rotation, pasture renovation, liming and where necessary, contour plowing.

How to Build Soil.

"Of vital importance to the success of any soil improvement plan is the advice of the county agent, or the agronomist at the state agricultural college and experiment station.

"These experts can provide the most valuable assistance by analyzing samples of the farmer's soil and determining its deficiencies in nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. Then, by recommending the correct analysis and quantity of mixed fertilizer, they can help the farmer rebuild the productivity of his soil.

"By following such a program, Midwest farmers can look forward to a definite increase in crop production, accompanied by an improved income and higher profits. They can put their agricultural undertaking on a firm footing for the future. They can put a padlock on their soil—which means that it cannot be easily stolen from them."

Volunteer firemen are not required to contribute two per cent of their compensation to the firemen's relief and pension fund, but may do so if they so desire, Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert said this week in an opinion to Harry A. Mettler, Athens county prosecutor.

No power or authority is vested in township trustees to settle boundary line disputes, Mr. Herbert said. The question arose, Mr. Mettler said, when a farmer had a survey made of his farm and relocated his portion of the line fence upon the lands of his neighbor. The neighbor asked the trustees to rebuild the fence in its original location.

Township trustees may order the construction of a line fence only when the place where the fence is to be built is not in dis-

Traveling Around America

HIDDEN BEAUTY?

THE ugly duckling and the glamorous girl had a not even break with the current Don Juans—in the days when the women dressed like this! The all-concealing manto with its accompanying dark skirt, black hose and very unattractive black shoes—was the prescribed street costume for women in South America until little more than a quarter of a century ago. No respectable woman ever appeared on the street in the morning unless swathed in a manto, and none, either married or single, ever left the seclusion of her house unless accompanied.

Miss Gray-Linn

The manto—no relation at all to the Spanish mantilla—was a shark-like square, wrapped around the body and held across the face as shown in the accompanying illustration. Those of the poor women were of black cotton, but those of the wealthy were made of rich silk with borders elaborately embroidered in black laces and flowers. Garbed thus, women had little worry about permanent waves, cosmetic shades, or costume color schemes. Yet many of them would have discarded their mantos long before they did—had they dared. The first to defy the edicts of society and the church were women who had lived for a time in Europe. Upon their return, they bravely sallied forth in the morning with very transparent lace veils coquettishly tied over their heads instead of the traditional manto. Everyone was scandalized, and the clergy preached long sermons about this outrage against the dictates of the church. And then one day a very frivolous girl went to church wearing a hat! This brought even more severe admonitions, and it all finally ended up by women wearing their hats to the door of the church and then replacing them with veils. Along with the mantos—went the shackles! Travelers visiting Peru and Chile on the fortnightly cruises from New York find the majority of the women in South America living quite as active and independent a life as the women here in the United States.

Ruling Made By Attorney General

A person may hold the positions of Juvenile Court probation officer and be a city relief administrator concurrently, if the time required by one job does not interfere with efficient discharge of duties of the other.

That was the ruling of Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert this week in an opinion to William G. Buchelder, Jr., Medina county prosecutor. Mr. Herbert said the positions were not incompatible. Offices are incompatible, Mr. Herbert explained, when one is subordinate to or in any way a check upon the other, or when it is physically impossible for one person to physically discharge the duties of both. For the latter reason two positions might not be incompatible in a small county, but incompatible in some of the larger ones.

The question arose when the Medina Juvenile Judge selected the Wadsworth city relief administrator as probation officer. The two positions pay a combined salary of $125 a month.

In Sports Show Nursery

Living wild life—birds, beasts and fish—will abound at the American and Canadian Sportsmen's Show in Cleveland Public Auditorium, March 22 to 30. Northern bear from Alaska and giant lizards from the southwest, rabbits, mink, horses, sporting dogs, reptiles and even to-be birds from Australia have been assembled for the big outdoors show.

An albino opossum is an oddity in the exhibits of the Ohio State Conservation department in which twelve pens will hold pheasants, mallard ducks, racoon, fox and muskrat, as well as aquaria showing all the types of fish to be found in Ohio's streams and lakes.

Dr. E. B. Horn's prize winning collection of mink and Watson's reptile exhibit of snakes, turtles, lizards and monkeys will share honors with a collection of rare birds assembled by Mrs. Mattie Reid. Aiming to have 10,000 more rabbits breeders in Ohio, the Rabbit and Cavy Breeders Association will show rabbits for whom meat and fur there is a market demand.

The management faces the problem of keeping the sporting and retrieving dogs in a location away from the pair of bob cats which will be presented to the Cleveland zoo after the show.

Plymouth Drops Shiloh 39-16

Lots of enthusiasts were evident Wednesday night when the PHS Pilgrims downed the Drummer Boys of Shiloh in a deluge of baskets by the lopsided score of 39-16. The local lads got off to a flying start and popped in sixteen points the first quarter, while holding their opponents to a scant basket. The second quarter was all Plymouth's too, and at half-time they enjoyed a 22 to 6 lead.

Coach Dunham ran in a good many subs during the second half or the score win might have been greater for PHS. But in spite of this fact they outscored the Richard's coached quintet 17 to 10. Kitchin enjoyed a big night and led the scoring race with 20 points to far outdistance the runners-up, Lasch, Moore and Rule, who scored five each. Harrington, James, and Hamman with four apiece led Shiloh. The game which was the cleanest played of any game between the two schools in several years, was attended by a large crowd of rooters for both sides.

HERE'S THAT MAN AGAIN! And naturally you ask, "Who?" To which we reply, "That genial personality that personified person who tells you that Spring is 'just around the corner'—that man whom all men like to know for he is no other than VERNIE ROGERS. Why should we give him such a welcome? Well, simply because he is the 'advance agent' for Spring. And don't we always welcome Spring? And Rogers is here to help us do the job. He's at Rule Clothing Co., March 3 & 4 showing the finest display of new and beautiful patterns ever created for men who prefer style and quality in their clothes. Stop in and see this man Rogers—you don't have to buy a suit, but you'll feel better after you've met him. And don't be backward in asking about the Spring styles. And let me say this. Don't get the idea that a 'tailor-made' suit is prohibitive. It isn't. You'll find that out when you pay your visit at Rule's. And another thing, when you buy a tailor-made, they're bound to fit. Remember, Rogers is here Monday and Tuesday, March 3 & 4.

The pupils of P. H. S. were privileged to see two fine movies Tuesday afternoon. The first called "Whetted Over India" a Dodge-Chrysler production, showed many fascinating sights of the seldom-visited country of Burma. Among the interesting scenes were pictures of elephants working in the great tall log camps of the country. The narrator, Armand Dennis, was in search of the snake-worshippers who live in the remote interior of Burma. Extraordinary scenes of the weird snake-worshipping ceremony, in which a woman offers fruit to the snake and then must kiss the snake, a cobra, three times upon the head, were included among the pictures.

The next movie was a technical production of the Greyhound Bus line. It showed a cross-country trip of America visiting such places of interest as New York, Boston, Washington, Key West, San Antonio, Glacier National Park, and Niagara Falls. Mr. Richards of the Greyhound Lines met the Juniors and Seniors later and discussed their proposed trip to Washington with them. Plans were later discussed for raising additional money for the trip.

PILGRIMS LOSE FINAL TO BELLEVILLE

The PHS Pilgrims dropped the final game to Belleville 45-33 in an exciting game here last Friday. The visitors got off to a flying start and at one time during the first quarter led by a 12 to 2 count. But a spurt by Plymouth cut the advantage down to a 14 to 10 score at quarter time. During the next stanza, which was Plymouth's best, the erstwhile Tigers scored seven to their opponents' three to tie the score at halftime.

The local lads failed to click during the second half which the Bluejays hit their stride and aided by Ledy Luck they popped in shots from all angles. Belleville led 27 to 23 at the third quarter. Pearl of Belleville copped scoring honor with 17, while Kitchin was a close second with 16.

The PHS Juniors upset Belleville in the prelin by a score of 22 to 17. The PHS reserves who played one of their best games of the year, were paced by Hoffman with eight.

Supt. Joseph Speaks At Assembly
Supt. Joseph of Shiloh spoke to the students of PHS at the weekly chapel held Friday morning. Basing his talk on the poem "Four Things," by Henry Van Dyke, Mr. Joseph told the students the qualities needed for a successful life. Numerous humorous stories which enlivened the talk were used by the speaker to emphasize the points. Mr. Joseph said that the life of Lincoln exemplified a life that was tremendously successful in spite of the great hardships.

Janice Hoffman read the 100th Psalm for the devotion at the service and led in the salute to the flag. The entire group sang several songs including "America," and "Anecho's Away." The program, which was sponsored by the Senior Class, was presided over by Bob Martin, Senior Class President.

The second grade has a new pupil, Tommy Taylor from Mansfield. Tommy attended Hodges school before coming here.

We would like everyone to cooperate with our school patrol in making it more safe for the children as they come to and leave the school. We also invite adults and children not in school to take advantage of their assistance. However, we would remind everyone that according to law the school patrol is official. A number of cases have already been reported in which individuals did not stop.

Magazine Contest Closes

Willard Ross, a Junior, who sold $17.50 worth of subscriptions won a box of candy as the star salesman. Ellsworth Ford and Edwin Beeching, Seniors, were second and third, respectively.

Music Students Delight Audience At Recital

A group of students of R. Byron Griest, who have been receiving musical instruction under his leadership, presented a piano recital Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Root. Each pupil was permitted four guests and an interested audience was well pleased with the musical numbers presented.

The programme consisted of short pieces by the beginners to exceptionally long selections by the more advanced students. All music was committed to memory and played without the least hesitation. A number of the pupils appeared before the public for the first time, but were so well-trained in their respective selections, that they played like veterans.

Mary Alice Weller, vocal student, sang "The Wind in the South," and will also use this selection Saturday afternoon at Wellington, when Plymouth's schools will compete for honors with other nearby schools.

Students taking part were Jack Root, Joan Koehneiser, Barbara Perrin, Charles Hannum, Mary Ellen Thomas, Ruth Berger, Dick Ross, Louis Root, Mary Alice Weller, Martha Jean Boor, Juanita Ruckman and Janice Hoffman.

At the close of the program refreshments were served and later Mr. Griest played a number of difficult selections.

Men of Methodist Church Have Interesting Events

The Laymen's Sunday observed in the local Methodist church was a success as a new venture. Nearly thirty men sat together in a body and listened to a half dozen of their number conduct the morning service. As a unique experience the pastor, Rev. H. T. Wintermute, sat in the pew and worshipped with the rest.

Those taking part were William Ross, George Hernandez, Joe Hunter, Ralph Ream, Wm. Johns, J. B. Derr, J. P. Moore, E. Markley and A. A. Ross.

At the Father & Son banquet held Tuesday night there were 70 men and boys gathered at the tables for a delicious meal, and a spirit of good fellowship was manifest. The men and boys were entertained by the chalk talk given by Rev. Frank Zartman and the address by Dr. Arthur Staples.

Brotherhood Reorganize; Elect New Officers

A fine group of interested and serious men met in the annex of the Lutheran church last Friday evening to discuss ways and means of making the Brotherhood a more effective organization.

After a lively and earnest discussion the decision was reached to hold regular meetings on the fourth Friday of each month at 7:30 p. m. The monthly supper which had become such a burden has been discontinued and will be replaced by light refreshments served by a committee appointed for each month. A special program committee will also be appointed for each month whose task will also be to plan the devotional period and the program proper.

The men next proceeded to elect officers for the year and chose R. L. Hoffman, president; C. R. Beaver, vice president and

J. E. Nimmons, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Hoffman then appointed James Root and D. J. Ford as the program committee for the next meeting which will be held on March 23 with E. L. Earnest, R. W. Eckstein and J. W. Briggs as hosts.

The meeting was adjourned and dart-ball ping-pong and indoor hockey occupied the men. Two games of dart ball were played with teams captained by Howard Miller and Rev. Wolf. The Miller team won the first game, featuring the heavy hitting of R. L. "Duff" Hoffman, who knocked out two home runs in two trips to the plate. The final score of the first game was 2-1. The second game went to the Wolfmen. The score was tied at one, all going into the last inning but the winners put together a winning rally which scored three runs and the final score was 3-1.

Light refreshments were served by Don Ford and Rev. Wolf, and the men went home feeling that they had had the best Brotherhood meeting in a long time.

TOURIST CLUB MEMBERS STUDY BRITISH WEST INDIES, MONDAY

Using the National Geographic Magazine as a basis for notes and with the aid of pictures in their natural colors, members of the Tourist Club were conducted on an interesting imaginary trip through the British West Indies Monday evening. The tour was under the capable leadership of Mrs. Edward Ramsey and followed the tempting 8:30 o'clock dinner at the home of Mrs. J. E. Nimmons.

The color motif of the dinner was carried out in a patriotic idea with red hatches and white flowers adding attractiveness to the table where covers were laid for eleven members. A two-course dinner was served by the hostess.

A few interesting facts on the tour were brought out by Mrs. Ramsey who stated that "the West Indies Guard the Panama Canal like a curving shield. These islands were of strategic value in the days of Napoleon I when Lord Nelson established a base for his fleet at English Harbour, Antigua. Today, because of the vulnerability of the short-cut of commerce between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, they assume far greater importance. Their history has been turbulent since Columbus sailed among them. They have known not only the vicissitudes of war but the wrath of Vulcan. In 1902, an eruption of Mt. Pelee on Martinique destroyed St. Pierre. Most of the group are of volcanic origin. British St. Lucia long fought by England and France is soon to have a U. S. Navy Base.

Business is conducted with the English penny buying a little bit of everything. In fact, almost anything in the islands may be had for a penny parcel, with the exception of a marijuana license, that costs 10 cents and is often prohibitive luxury to many swains. In case of divorce, the home is simply cut in half, each taking their share of the spoils.

"Exotic" describes the large blossoms of the cannon-ball tree which perfumes the tropic trade winds in Basseterre, on St. Kitts. The strange tree is a relative of the Brazil nut, but its fruit is a ball filled with pulp sometimes used to make a cooling drink.

The Isle of St. Lucia is an Eden of Tropical fruit and produces oranges, breadfruit, cacao, papayas, coconuts, plantains, mangoes, avocados, limes, mammee apples and the guava, or sour-sop, palate pet for drinks and ices. Also on this island tree ferns and bamboos grow to enormous size and has the most luxuriant tropical growth of all the islands.

"Martinique, another island, is the Caribbean Question Mark and now much in the daily news, whose fate only the future will decide.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Ed Ramsey with Mrs. Sam Bachrach as leader.

PLANT FOOD TRIO SPURS GROWTH OF OHIO FARM CROPS

CHICAGO.—How the "triple" of plant nutrition—nitrogen, phosphorus and potash—perform their mysterious job of feeding Ohio farm crops and sustaining the fertility of the soil, was described in a statement issued here by the Public West Soil Improvement Committee. "Nitrogen is the mineral element which encourages the growth and development of leaves and stems, and the fleshy portions of roots and tubers," the statement sets forth. "Phosphorus, usually provided in the form of superphosphate, is the element which hastens the ripening of seed and favors early maturity of the crop. "Potash is the element so necessary for the development of starch. It is the balance wheel that promotes healthy growth, causes the plant to make proper use of the nitrogen supply, and develops resistance to disease by the plant. Potash helps produce better quality grain and fruit. "Each of these three elements can best contribute its benefits to the soil in cooperation with the others. Some land requires more of one fertilizer element than others. To build up deficiencies and produce more profitable crops. "Fortunately, farmers everywhere can determine the needs of their soil by consultation with their county agent or with agronomists at the state college or experiment station. These experts are equipped to make soil tests and then to provide specific suggestions concerning officially recommended fertilizer analyses adapted to various soils and crops." On the basis of such information the farmer can select the fertilizer which will be best suited to the job of building and maintaining the productivity of his soil.

OHIO U. RECOMMENDS FERTILIZERS BEST SUITED FOR STATE

COLUMBUS, OHIO.—"What kind of plant food shall I use?" is a question many Ohio farmers ask themselves each year when they are considering the selection of a fertilizer for the soil and crops. The answer can be found in the form of fertilizer grades recommended by the State Agricultural Experiment Station. These Recommended Grades have been tested by agronomists at the station under practical growing conditions over a period of years and have proved themselves profitable for particular soil conditions and crops. These grades are known and listed as such by all reputable fertilizer manufacturers and dealers. Thirteen different grades of mixed fertilizer have been approved for Ohio by the Agronomy Department of Ohio State University, according to Prof. R. D. Lewis. The analyses on this list are considered adequate to cover every soil and crop requirement of Ohio farms. The Recommended Grades include: 2-12-8; 3-12-12; 3-8-18; 4-8-8; 4-10-6; 4-16-4; 6-8-8; 10-6-4; 6-12-12; 10-20-20; 0-8-24; 0-14-6; 0-10-20; as well as 20 per cent superphosphate. The experience of thousands of Ohio farmers in increasing their crop yields, lowering their production costs and building up their soil for future crops," says a report. "As proof of the value of these Recommended Grades. Another factor of importance is that if purchases of fertilizers could be confined to analyses on the recommended list, economies both to the farmer and the fertilizer producer would result. The elimination of other grades not on the above recommended list and of special mixtures would effect some economies in manufacture and distribution generally and the benefits of such savings would be passed on to the farmer."

MAINTAIN FERTILITY The soil on which this prize-winning corn was produced yields an average of 75 to 80 bushels of corn per acre every year. Fisher is eternally vigilant about maintaining the fertility level. This he accomplishes by putting back into the soil the plant food elements removed by crops. He uses fertilizer, follows a crop rotation and grows legumes. "I follow a three-year rotation which includes corn, wheat, clover and alfalfa," he said. "The clover is sown in the wheat. An application of 125 pounds per acre of a mixed fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potash helps to provide nourishment for the crops. The crop rotation and fertilization program is augmented by regular applications of manure from our

Corn King's Recipe for Success

SHELBYVILLE, IND.—There's no magic formula for winning the title of "Corn King" of North America. It's largely a matter of sound farm management and soil improvement, according to Charles N. Fisher, who was adjudged Grand Champion Corn Grower at the recent International Livestock Exposition in Chicago. The 35-year old champion, who farms 80 acres near here, entered a 10-acre exhibit of open-pollinated yellow dent corn, which judges at the Chicago show pronounced one of the finest ever seen from the standpoint of quality, firmness of ears, plump kernels and all-around superiority.

livestock to all our fields." Results such as he has obtained are exceptional, the Middle West

Charles N. Fisher Soil Improvement Committee points out, but experience has taught Fisher and millions of other Middle West farmers that by applying fertilizer they can be assured of an increased corn yield, better quality and higher prices at marketing time.

NORTH CENTRAL EGG & POULTRY COOPERATIVE FORMED IN SHELBY

A plan of marketing poultry and eggs by auction has been approved by an executive committee elected by poultrymen of 12 north-central Ohio counties. The sales agency will be located at Shelby, and will start its marketing program by combining the marketing agencies formerly operating separately at Bucyrus and Shelby.

William Norman and Joe Lawler, both of Bellevue, represent Huron county on an executive committee composed of 15 members. Agricultural agents in the 12 counties and C. M. Ferguson, poultry husbandry specialist from Ohio State University, have worked with the committee in planning this marketing program.

Along with the auction sales, it is planned to use the Federated Egg Cooperative in Cleveland as an outlet for eggs and poultry from this district. The Federated Egg Cooperative has facilities for handling eggs during the peak production season when prices for fresh eggs customarily drop.

Preceding the decision to adopt this marketing plan, a survey was made in each county to find if poultrymen were satisfied with their present means of selling eggs and poultry and also to learn if enough poultry flocks were available to supply the volume of eggs needed to make auction marketing successful.

In the poultry and egg survey recently conducted in Huron county, the committee found there were sixty-five egg buyers and 49 buyers of poultry operating in the county.

In the 12 counties included in this marketing territory, the committee found the 43.8 percent of all eggs sold to hucksters, 14.8 percent to grocers, 13.1 percent to hatchery operators, 10.5 percent were sold directly to consumers, 14.5 percent were sold to cooperatives, and 2.3 percent of them were shipped to central markets. The lack of uniform methods of marketing tended to prevent production of uniform quality of eggs and of getting uniform prices of equal grade.

The survey also disclosed that 78 percent of the farmers sold their eggs not often than once a week. Weekly sales of eggs are likely to result in a low quality product, especially in warm weather, unless the poultryman has good facilities for storing the eggs until they are delivered.

It is expected that poultrymen who decide to market through the Shelby auction will cooperate to produce and deliver eggs of the best quality. By that means, it will be possible to attract buyers to the sales room who are certain they will find the number of eggs of the quality they need to supply their customers.

BUYS SHELBY PROPERTY: Mrs. Ida Fenner of West of Plymouth has purchased the Albert Workman house 51 West Smiley, Shelby, and will move to that city next month. The sale was made through Lasher and Hancock, Real Estate Brokers.

Petitions Are Being Circulated On Plant: In order to get the opinion of the people of Plymouth on the proposed municipal light plant, several petitions are in circulation this week.

Those who want the plant, may write their name, and those who are opposed to the plant, may also sign the petition. In this manner it will give the village council an expression of the electric consumers.

A thorough study of the light plant situation has been made, and considering the project from every angle the sum total proves: That the people of Plymouth can go in debt for $45,000 for the next ten years with a possible reduction in light rates as much as 25 percent over the present rate; or the village can pay out $132,000 for the next ten years, with no assurance of a lower rate.

Should the majority of the people desire a light plant, it will in no way increase local taxes, as the construction of the building as well as the purchase of material and equipment will be made through mortgage revenue bonds.

The final report of the consulting engineer has been received and should you desire any further explanation Mayor Johns or any member of the council will be glad to pass on the information to you in an understandable manner.

Thad H. Brown Dies Tuesday

Former Secretary of State, GOP Leader, Succumbs, Brother of Mrs. Wintermute

Thadus (Thad) H. Brown, 54, former secretary of state in Ohio and former member of the federal communications commission, died Tuesday evening in an east-side hospital, Cleveland.

Brown, widely known in state and national political circles, collapsed Monday at Hotel Statler and was taken to the hospital.

Dr. Arnold Peckind, head of the hospital, said death was due to "perforations of the bowels." Mrs. Brown, whom he married in 1915, was at his bedside when death came at 9 p. m.

Brown held the rank of lieutenant colonel in the World War. He resumed his law practice in Columbus in 1919 and a year later he was appointed to the state civil service commission.

He was elected secretary of state in 1922, serving two terms. In 1924 he was an unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor.

After helping direct Herbert Hoover's Presidential campaign in 1928, Brown was named chief counsel of the federal power commission. Four years later he was named for a six-year term on the federal radio commission, forerunner of the federal communications commission.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a son, Thad H. Jr., formerly a reporter for the Cleveland Plain Dealer. He is a brother of Mrs. H. T. Wintermute of Plymouth.

News Breovities

THE GREATEST ARGUMENT in the world for advertising is the eternal fact that to the man who does not know about you, you do not exist.

OH, HORSE, YOU ARE A WOMAN doing thing. No horns to honk, no bells to ring. No license buying every year, with plates to stick on front and rear. No sparks to miss, no gears to strip; you start yourself, no clutch to slip. No gas bills climbing up each day, to steal the joy of life away. Your inner tubes are all okay, and thank the Lord, they stay that way. Your motor never makes you fuss. Your frame is good for many a mile; your body never changes style. No speed cops chugging in your rear, yelling summons in your ear. Your wants are few and easy met; you have something on the auto yet.

Wreck Blocks

(Continued From Page One)—Monday night at 11:03, was running behind schedule, when at 12:05 P. M. a freight train, 20 cars were derailed, and one-half miles west of Plymouth. The freight train consisted of 35 cars, piloted by one of the A. C. & Y. new locomotives. Luckily, the engine did not leave the rails and was not damaged. Cause of the wreck is undetermined, but a thorough investigation is being made by officials.

Wrecking crews from Brittain were dispatched to the scene of the wreck, and more than 40 men labored through the early morning hours of Tuesday. Night crews worked at the debris and through diligent efforts of officials, several trains were sectioned and train dispatchers' traffic was resumed Wednesday morning.

While work of clearing the track and building roadway was carried on, it was necessary to reroute several trains over the Pennsylvania from New Washington to Attica Junction, over the Baltimore and Ohio through Willard into Plymouth.

The wreck drew hundreds of onlookers. It was also a hazardous one, for it was a car of gasoline, a car of naphtha and other inflammables were derailed. The freight cargo consisted of tires, coal, lumber, crude oil, coal tar, etc. It will be some time before the wreckage is cleared and all cars removed.

The train crew consisted of Mel Spencer, Akron, engineer; Balls Kennedy, Plymouth, fireman; Chuck Moore, Delphos, conductor.
