

BUSINESSMEN PLAN SPRING FESTIVAL

A committee of business men under the direction of A. D. Points is setting up a program for the Plymouth Spring Jubilee to take place on the Square, May 21, 22 and 23. This spring event is being planned along the general lines of the Fall Festival held here last October. It is being planned, however, on a much larger scale.

The Spring Jubilee will be the start of a comprehensive entertainment program for the summer. In addition to the regular Wednesday night show a varied entertainment is being planned for ever Saturday night throughout the summer.

Under present plans the Spring Jubilee will bring a varied assortment of rides and interesting attractions. There will be games, music, and fun for all. Mr. Points hopes to lay special emphasis upon a show of 1941-1942 cars, since it is understood that there will be no changes in automotive design after 1942.

Mr. Robertson, chairman of the committee for entertainment of the Jubilee, has announced that the eighty-five piece marching band from Crestline has been tentatively engaged to appear at the Jubilee. This band was such a sensational success at the Fall Festival last October that they will be asked for a return engagement.

Mr. Robertson also announces that an attraction of more than usual interest has been engaged.

DEATH COMES TO CARR YOUNG

FUNERAL RITES HELD WEDNESDAY; BURIAL HERE

On Sunday noon, April 20, death came to O. Carr Young as a release from a six-weeks severe illness. Services were held on Wednesday afternoon from the home of his father-in-law, Dan E. Clark, of West Broadway. Interment was made in Greenlawn cemetery, Plymouth.

He is survived by his wife, Ruby Clark Young, his father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Young of New Bloomfield, Missouri, two brothers, Homer and Marvin, also near New Bloomfield, other near relatives and many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Young have resided in Houston, Texas, for a number of years, but owing to the illness of Mrs. Young's mother, she has been in Plymouth for the past several months. The deceased has suffered ill health for some time, and was undergoing treatment in the Columbus hospital when death occurred. Death followed minor operations and immediate cause was given as uremia poisoning. He was 57 years of age.

Rev. R. C. Wolf, of the Lutheran church, read the last rites, and the Miller-McQuate funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Young was quite well known in Plymouth having resided here with his wife several years ago, and his passing brought sadness to his many friends. He was associated with the Eubank Realty Company of Houston, at the time of his death. During their residence there, both Mr. and Mrs. Young had found sincere friends and they had planned to make their home here, and they had so enjoyed the sunshine of the South and the friendly attitude of the Southerners.

In Calloway County, Missouri, on March 7, 1884, the deceased was born, the only child of Leonard and Margaret Stewart Young. When he was but two years old his mother died, and during his later childhood he became to love his second-mother, Emma Jones Young, as his own because of her care and devotion to her children. He was united in marriage to Ruby Emma Clark on June 18, 1921 in Plymouth and they made their home in Cleveland, Ohio, where they had met. Wherever they made their home they found friends, and children especially found in "Uncle Carr" a good friend.

Rev. Mr. Bethel Guest Speaker

Rev. Mr. Bethel of the Presbyterian church, spoke to the Plymouth school assembly on the subject of: "The Influence of Christ's Resurrection on the World." This was the third of a series of talks related to the Easter season; the other two were given by Rev. Mr. Wolf of the Lutheran church and Rev. Mr. Young of the Methodist church.

Rev. Bethel based his speech on five important points: First, that the Resurrection of Christ assures us a Christ-like God. "Jesus is a sample of what God is," declared the speaker. In his second point, Rev. Bethel stressed the fact that the Resurrection means that we have a church. The next point revealed that without Christ's Resurrection there would be no New Testament. In his fourth place, the Risen Christ gives us courage to believe in a better world. Finally, Rev. Bethel contended that the Resurrection of Jesus guarantees immortality to the believer.

After the talk about fifty colored bird slides were shown upon the screen. Mr. Fleagle, science teacher, spoke briefly on each picture.

SERVICES TODAY FOR BERT RULE

WELL-KNOWN YOUNG MAN DIES AFTER ILLNESS OF THREE WEEKS

The last rites for Bert A. Rule, 40, who passed away at the late home on Sandusky street Monday afternoon, will be held this afternoon (Thursday) with private services at 2:00 o'clock at the residence, and final rites at the Lutheran church at 2:30. Rev. R. C. Wolf, pastor of the First Lutheran church, will officiate.

There was a pall of sorrow cast over the community Monday afternoon when news of Mr. Rule's death, who had been ill only three weeks, became known. An attack of flu and cold started complications which settled and which resulted in spinal meningitis. From this affliction Mr. Rule failed to rally, and for two weeks his condition was regarded as serious. Death ended his suffering at 2:45 Monday afternoon.

Born in North Woodbury, O., Bert became well-known to humans in the vicinity of Mt. Gilead, where he established a bookshop in Marion where, he operated for a number of years before coming to Plymouth in 1929 to become associated with his father in the clothing store.

During his years in Plymouth Bert became well-known to hundreds of patrons in this trading vicinity who will regret to learn of his passing. Congenial, kind and always pleasing, he won not only friends for the store, but for himself as an individual, scores of men and women who learned to depend on him for the "correct style, material, etc." in making purchases.

Bert Rule was progressive. Not only from a merchandising standpoint, but also in promoting community spirit. He was an active member of the Plymouth Business Men's organization and did much work to further the progress of their various programs. His absence in this circle will be keenly felt. He was also a member of the First Lutheran church.

Surviving besides the widow are two sons, Dick and Bobby, and the father, N. B. Rule. Bert's mother died when he was but two years old. Other survivors include his sisters, Mrs. Fern Smith of Marion, Mrs. Lucy Teale of Plymouth; his step-mother, Mrs. N. B. Rule, a step-sister, Mrs. LaVerne Sheely and a step-daughter, Wayne Sommerlot, all of Plymouth.

During the services this afternoon from 2:30 to 3:30 the stores will be closed to pay the last respect to this beloved citizen who has so greatly missed not only by his immediate family, but also the many close friends in the community.

A FINAL TRIBUTE

With the passing of Bert Rule, a chapter of close friendship in life is closed. In the years of business association we came to know Bert Rule pretty well. In winter and summer the early morning chats in the store, or perhaps after the day's work was done - a few minutes' visit in which we enjoyed a mutual discussion of things in common, proved to be a part of our daily life. No matter how gloomy the weather or how tired the spirit, Bert always had a cheerful saying or smile with which he greeted his friends.

It was his ability to look on the brighter side of life that drew one close to him. If he could not say a good word about a person, he certainly failed to criticize. In his work at the store he spared no energy or effort to satisfy customers. And this he did so pleasingly.

Yes, the community joins in with the bereaved ones in the loss of son, husband and father, but there was evidence by so many fine tributes paid to Bert Rule. The community will have a vacancy in its business and civic circles that will be hard to fill. And may time in its strange way, help us to heal the spot which death has so abruptly torn. -P.W.T.

H. S. Chorus Rate Very Good

The Plymouth High School chorus, thirty-five strong, journeyed to Columbus Friday and entered the state finals of Class C choruses at the main gymnasium of Ohio State university. Although our chorus did not get the highest rating of the thirteen groups in competition, it cannot be said that Plymouth actually lost, because Plymouth chorus gained a moral victory. Of the many thousands of schools in the state of Ohio, this chorus was one of some hundred thirteen eligible for the state competition. Our rating was III (very good).

The group left at 6:30 o'clock via automobile and performed at 9:45. Mrs. Willard Ross played the piano accompaniment. Mrs. E. L. Bailey and J. B. Derr accompanied the group and their director, R. Byron Griest, to the contest.

This year can be looked upon as the best music year in Plymouth High school history.

PLEASED WITH ARMY LIFE

Privt. Paul V. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Johnson of Plymouth, now located at Fort Stevens, Ore., writes:

"Our camp is situated at the mouth of the Columbia river, Astoria. The climate is like that of the southern states, the days being warm with the temperature averaging 70 degrees and the nights being cool. We have roses blooming here the year round and at the present time, the Easter flowers are out. One shrub called the Scotch Broom is especially beautiful.

"Mt. Ranier, with its snow-capped peaks, is 150 miles from camp and makes a beautiful picture in the distance. The sunrise is unusual, but it doesn't rival the moon which sparkles so clearly on the choppy waters of the Columbia River. I have had a glimpse of the ocean, which is three miles from the fort, and I saw there the sea lions and jelly-fish lying on the sand.

"There are men from all walks of life in my barracks. Included among the men fifteen are farmers, a coal mine operator, a truck driver, preacher and an optometrist.

In about ten weeks we will go across the river into Washington state for six weeks' training in the working of six-inch guns. At present we have been learning about the 109 parts of the rifle. We will be trained specifically for coastal defense.

The hardest work I have had to do was the K. P. duty which each private has to suffer once a month. I don't mind the mopping, sweeping and cleaning of the 23000 pieces of silver, but the 100 lbs. of potatoes with their millions of eyes had me counting potatoes instead of sheep in my sleep that night. By the way we use about twenty gallons of coffee each meal.

Army life is much different than I had expected and I can truthfully say that I like it. Although Ohio territory will look very odd to me when my year as a draftee is up.

NEW CAR Miss Jessie Trauger is driving a new Chevrolet coupe.

During the last few weeks there has been a certain amount of discussion concerning a new light plant for our village. It is not the purpose of this letter to set forth an argument for or against this proposition but the writer believes that certain facts should be pointed out to the voters of Plymouth.

It is my understanding that the Council of our village has the legal right to make this decision without putting the question to a vote of the people. A certain group of citizens feel that they should get the sentiment of the people and a petition was passed, but the writer feels that no clear-cut sentiment has been expressed by those who signed the petition. At a later date another petition made the rounds and to show it up the general idea is that those who signed the first petition are for the light plant and that those who signed the latter petition are against it. If a Yes or No answer had been made on the direct question—"Should Plymouth have a new light plant?" the real sentiment of the people would have been expressed.

Now a few remarks about the probable cost of a new light plant and the returns which can be expected from the same. One group of public-spirited citizens can quote figures showing that thousands of dollars can be saved in a certain length of time over and above the cost of a new light plant. Another group of equally public-spirited citizens can quote figures to show that this is an impossibility. It is obvious that one group of figures has its origin with those interests endeavoring to sell equipment to the village for a new light plant. It is also obvious that the other group of figures must originate with the utility company wishing to sell power to the village. These claims and counter-claims are bewildering to the average citizen as it is certain that both cannot be right.

It would seem to the writer that under the circumstances both groups should lay their cards on the table and that the voters should make the choice. If a majority of the people make the decision there can be no complaint. The decision should not be made by a small group who might have been convinced by outside interests. (Signed) FAIR PLAY.

Another Petition

Plymouth citizens are having a variety of petitions these days, and it's all over the municipal light plant issue. In order to get the consensus of opinion before taking any action, council members passed around a petition asking those favoring a "change" to sign.

Objecting to the action of council favoring the construction of a new light plant, the Board of Public Affairs members are passing a referendum petition asking that the people vote on the question before council spends $350 for engineering services.

Now, the council, whether it considered the public or not, was in its legal rights to proceed with legislation necessary to construct a municipal plant. Under the state law, it is NOT necessary to hold a SPECIAL election where mortgage revenue bonds are to be issued, for in no way does the issuance of bonds affect the local tax rate.

The Board of Public Affairs has assumed an antagonistic attitude toward a municipal plant, and they are in favor of signing a year contract with the Ohio Power Company. No member of the Board has expressed publicly a definite reason for their objection to a municipal plant.

The question of a municipal plant did not come up before the council overnight. It started back some years ago when a representative of the Ohio Power Co. wanted to sign up the town for a ten-year contract, holding out a bait—a reduction of $100 per month on the rate then in effect. The former mayor and council refused to sign up at that time.

With the change of officials a year ago last January, the representatives again came in and offered the same proposition—an on-ten-year contract. No, we couldn't get the reduction for one year, three years or five, but it had to be ten. Now, whether it's buying power or a carload of toothpicks it is no good policy to sign up or bind the village for a ten-year period. In the contract the Ohio Power Company reserves the right to have the village shut off from power for one day or three days—it does not GUARANTEE the present attractive rate, nor does it in any way give the town a "break."

The council and mayor have tried to be fair in laying their plans before the people, although they have been accused of doing a little "underhanded talk." But the Advertiser is quite certain that if those people who do not understand, but wish a better inside knowledge of the situation, will attend a session of council when the discussion is in order, they will not only be welcomed, but will have a better knowledge of the situation. The council meetings are open to the public, and rather than take seriously second-hand gossip and rumors, it is nothing more than being fair to yourself to attend these meetings, and to see for yourself the facts and figures upon which the council is proceeding.

ing with the aim of benefitting Plymouth as a whole.

Now, again, the Advertiser is a newspaper and in a small way a public institution. If the Board of Public Affairs, or any of its members or citizen who wishes to express opinions in public print, we will be glad to print any communication verbatim. We are broadminded and will give just as much space and prominence to the opposition as to those supporting the municipal light plant.

At the last election the voters of Plymouth placed in office men they intended to administer the affairs of the town. These men, members of the council and the mayor, are acting according to their best judgment and for the benefit of the village. Shall we in turn support the Board of Public Affairs' opposition by signing their petition which will thrust upon the village the extra cost of a special election or shall we let council proceed with their plans according to law? The Board contends that the people should have a vote on the municipal plant. Then, why doesn't the power interests pay the cost of the election?

The petitions passed by council before any legal action was taken had over three hundred signers, which evidence the fact that the people who use electricity were in favor of the so-called "change." And with this number of signers, the council realized at the start that they would have opposition from the power company in going through with the deal, for in every case it has been the policy of the power interests to fight to the last ditch.

It is true the average user of power interests and they don't understand all the technical talk handed out on the generating of power, but looking at it from this angle it is very easily understood: Should the village sign a ten-year contract it will have paid out approximately $132,000 for power. If a municipal plant is built at an approximate cost of $65,000, at the end of ten years we will still have the plant and all the equipment. Why do we have at the end of a ten-year contract with the power company—just another contract to sign?

If Mr. Wirth, Mr. Sheppard and Mr. Dawson, member of the Board of Public Affairs, will give us sufficient reasons WHY we should sign their petition holding up the payment of the $350 for engineering services, and WHY we should pay the cost of a SPECIAL ELECTION, then we may change our minds. But their facts and figures will have to be other than those supplied by the power interests. P.W.T.

GIRL RESERVES NEWS

The Girl Reserves are having a meeting Thursday April 24. We have planned this program several times but something always interfered. At least we have found a date for this program. A lady from Friendly house will talk to us about Social Service work. I know that her talk will be of interest to every one of us who are trying to figure out what we want to do after finishing school.

THIRD AND FOURTH GRADE

Movings are continuing to make changes in our room. We have lost Charles Waterbeck to Shelby and Helen and Eugene Fagan. Geraldine Egbert has come to us from Ripely, Dixie Kepple from Amoy and Laura Jean Otto has returned from Shelby.

The girls are gaining in their spell-downs. The last time there was a tie between Wingine Cline and Dale Laser.

The fourth grade is quite proud of their perfect attendance record for last week.

ACROBATS?

Last week in Gym class, the Seventh and Eighth Grade girls started tumbling. Of course, some of us did pretty good while others were not so good. Some of us can tumble but not the way Miss West would like us to. There were a pretty sore bunch of girls came to school the next day. We started baseball Monday and will soon choose our captains. I know we will enjoy the game of ball as much as we did the other sports we have participated in.

We have been studying South America and the United States in Geography. We choose captains and Doris and Donna Garrett were our first ones. Doris's side won every time. The captains for this time are Richard Clark and Howard Clark.

Tuesday was Hobby Day in Health. We set aside this day to bring in all our hobbies and then show them off. There were some very nice hobbies shown and many different ones too. Among them were Stamps, Coins, Newspapers, Scrapbooks of all descriptions, Baseball pictures, dogs, flowers, napkins and Pen and pencils.

INTERESTING TALKS

On Thursday the seniors listened to two gentlemen give them two interesting talks.

Mr. Etoll from the Oberlin School of Commerce talked to us concerning the opportunities in the business world waiting for us.

He also told us about many other jobs available for high school graduates. He said that there is no reason why all of the seniors can't find jobs as soon as we graduate.

The other speaker was Mr. Handley, manager of the state employment office. He told us how to apply for a job. He gave us each an application blank and helped us fill it out partly. After we have graduated, we are to go to the office and finish filling it out. It is interesting to learn the requirements necessary to fill a position.

ASSEMBLY NEWS

The Juniors gave the chapel last Wednesday, April 23. The theme of the whole program was "manners" and a number of skits, showing the right and the wrong ways of doing things, were given by the different members of the class. The devotionals were in charge of Harold Porter and a clarinet solo was given by Eileen Miller.

Mary Jean Homerick and Doris Reynolds favored us with a vocal duet. Star of the "Twilight." The last number on the program was a one-act play "Sauce for the Gossings." This play was based on slangy expressions and the cast was as follows:

Richard Taylor, Merle Lutz, Margaret Taylor, Eileen Miller, Robert Taylor, Harold Russell, Martha Lee, Dorothy Witche, James Ward, Earl Siving, Elizabeth Taylor, Thelma Hutchinson.

We enjoyed putting this program on and we hope everyone liked it. It was under the direction of Mr. Handley.

Congressman J. Harry McGregor, of the Seventeenth Congressional district today sent to the Navy Department nominations to fill the additional vacancy at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, which will occur in June, 1941. This vacancy was made possible by recent legislation which increased the quota of each Congressional District from four to five midshipmen. Congressman McGregor's nominations are as follows:

Principal Candidate—William Stewart Sedgwick of Newark, Ohio. First Alternate—Samuel Lewis Mizer, of West Lafayette, Ohio. Second Alternate—Kirk Bruce Sweet, Jr., of Mansfield, Ohio. Third Alternate—Charles Grant Simpson, Jr. of Delaware, Ohio.

NAVAL RESERVE CLASSES OPEN

The Navy Department announced today that recruiting in classes of the naval reserve that have heretofore been closed will begin immediately.

For service during this emergency enlistments in the Naval Reserve will be made for a four year period or for minority. Age limits are 17 to 26. Men will be enlisted as apprentice seamen for seaman and fireman ratings, electricians, machinists, aviation mechanics, metalworkers, carpenters, radiomen, yeomen, and signalmen. After recruit training these men will be sent to schools located throughout the United States for further training in one of the above specialties. Full details are available at the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station located in the Mansfield post office.

DIES AT SHELBY

Funeral services for Miss Ella Askew, 83 former librarian at the Shelby Memorial Library were conducted Monday afternoon.

Librarian for 28 years, she was forced to give up her position a year ago because of ill health. A life-long resident of Shelby she was the last surviving member of her family. She passed away at the home of Mrs. Roy Loomis with whom she lived.

Grant Ellison of Wabash, Indiana, was a visitor at the home of Mrs. A. T. Ellison and family, Friday and Saturday.

tion of our advisor, Miss West. The Juniors are also making more extensive plans for our Junior-Senior banquet to be held at the Leland Hotel in Mansfield on Saturday night, May 10.

SENIOR NEWS

The seniors have been working arduously on their class play. This play is to be given on May 2. It is entitled "Drums of Fury." It is a comedy drama which takes place in a little sea port town in Africa. This play comes to us highly recommended. We hope that you will come and witness this wonderful piece of drama.

The seniors are happy to report that their magazine sale was a success. For our share we made 80 dollars. This is very good for a class as small as ours. Mr. Monroe, the agent for the Curtis Company, said if we sold 85 dollars worth of magazines, he would send us money for a weiner roast. We sold over 130 dollars of his magazines.

HARD ON TEACHERS

The other day the students were very surprised to learn that the teachers were muscularly intuticular. The truth of the matter is that the teachers have been riding bicycles. The most zealous enthusiasts are Mr. Joseph and Miss Southwick.

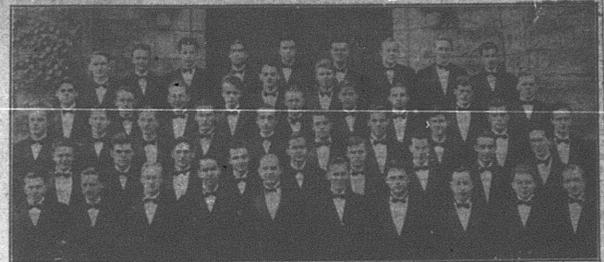

On the bicycle Miss Southwick has a poise and dignity that are beyond description. Miss Southwick is indeed very dexterious with a bicycle.

Mr. Joseph isn't so agile on a bicycle. In fact he can't seem to comprehend the velocipede. To our great astonishment we learned that the bicycle vibrates under his weight. He can't seem to guide this small piece of machinery.

The students wish to inform the teachers that rubbing alcohol sells for only 10 cents a quart.

After running over several lawns and gardens in town, Mr. Joseph can truthfully say that he has ridden a bicycle.

Member Of Wooster College Glee Club

During the spring recess the club took a trip singing a dozen contests in ten cities including Rushville and Wabash in Indiana, Chicago, Illinois, Battle Creek, Niles and Detroit in Michigan and Toledo, Ohio.

BEHIND THE SCENES OF AMERICAN INDUSTRY

New York, April 21.—Business from all sides come indications that the expansion of wage rates throughout the industrial scene has really got under way. It's the old supply-and-demand law. The fact that the defense drive has greatly increased the competition for skilled labor is a major reason why, generally, wage disputes are being settled with increases in pay. And, in addition, other pay increases are being granted without much dispute. This was foreseen several months ago when the "quit rate" (of workers voluntarily leaving one job to go to another in similar field) began rising sharply. Next question is how these rest of us affected?

Biggest group is composed of consumers who do not, generally, share in the higher wages; another group is the owners of the businesses which are paying said higher wages. Between them, these two groups must pay for the increases—the first through paying higher prices on goods whose prices can be raised; the second through having to take reduced profits in cases where prices cannot be upped sufficiently to match rising wage costs. Eventually—maybe—all income goes up, and prices do the same. Meanwhile the skilled worker segment of the population is the main gainer.

Economy Engineer—Passing virtually unnoticed in Los Angeles ship news columns last week was a note that James P. Growdon, chief hydraulic engineer for Aluminum Company of America has called for Hawaii. But behind this note was a story of civilian contribution to the defense program. Summoned by the U. S. Navy last November to lend technical assistance in the building of new underground oil storage facilities for fueling the Pacific fleet at Pearl Harbor, T. H. Growdon made the flying round trip from Pittsburgh in nine days, spending seven daylight days at the Hawaiian base. Recommendations he made improved the efficiency of the project, speeded its completion and saved the Navy an estimated $2,000,000. Growdon, who, as a major in the 4th engineers during the first World War, received the Croix de Guerre and the Distinguished Service Cross for engineering feats while under heavy German fire, is now visiting Pearl Harbor again at the request of the Navy to lend a helping hand, despite urgent need for his services at home in carrying out his company's far-flung defense expansion program.

When $3,500,000,000.—The record-breaking $3,500,000,000 revenue bill for 1941 agreed on by the Administration and key Congressional leaders came as a wallop to most "official circles" in Washington, where a mere two billion had been mentioned as likely. Even so, Congressional reaction was mild and capital feeling is bill will be endorsed by both Congress and the country. Best-informed guessing as to where the money will come from has it that: Normal rate on individual income taxes upped from 4 per cent to 5 or 6; elimination of "earned income" credit; further lowering of the exemptions for dependents, especially on the surtax end, and general increase of surtax rates. On corporation taxes, a raise from 24 to 30 per cent, other changes having the effect of reducing credits, such as those for invested capital, and earnings. Third source would be excise taxes, with general increases, and special increases on liquor, gasoline, tobacco, autos, radios and refrigerators, maybe new taxes on soft drinks, other "luxuries."

Aviation Education—All the nation's public schools will offer aviation training, and America may become the most air-minded nation in the world, if a program now being launched achieves the success envisioned by a committee of three well-known businessmen—John A. Brown, president of Socony-Vacuum Oil, Cornelius V. Whitney, chairman of Pan American Airways, and Laurance S. Rockefeller. They've worked out a plan to raise $100,000 from business and private individuals, to inaugurate a program of aviation training in public schools, sponsored by Air Youth of America, a national group. Fully supported by federal government agencies controlling aviation, the plan would include visits by leaders of the air youth organization to every state capital to enlist the support of public officers. Of the proposal, Whitney says: "Only a huge plan such as this can help America strong in the air and a leader in the aeronautical sciences in the future. We are recommending

1941 BOOM TOWNS QUITE LIKE BOOM TOWNS OF OLD

One has to visit the motion picture theater now to visualize the boom towns of the half forgotten days when our sturdy pioneers were "winning the west." But we have now in America a new collection of boom towns. These are not created by the gold or silver mining industry or the race to span the continent and reach the Pacific. They are brought into being by the present effort on the part of Uncle Sam to "arm himself for defense."

One of a group of newspapermen and magazine writers who recently visited these new boom towns after deploring the lack of sewage and other health facilities, as well as schools, declared in a report to a congressional committee:

"Undoubtedly the boom towns of this defense spending are like the boom towns of the past. There is the same crowding of the beer points, the same pressure on facilities of bed and board. There are the same camp followers. I have been impressed with the folk; indeed most of them seem to me, from Maine to Texas, to look and act as I have imagined the pioneers. Not many of them felt sorry for themselves. But (a good many of them did keep a sense—sometimes a saving sense—of the economic insecurity in the midst of boom jobs and building and operation of model planes in every elementary school, and soaring instruction in all high schools."

Things To Watch For—A general rash of household gadgets made in the form of military objects: two early birds in this line are a miniature cannon made of colored plastic, and a cocktail shaker of brass which rests in a wooden frame at an angle so that it looks very much like a siege gun. . . . A line of canned goods which heat themselves with no fire—by means of a chemical battery—the double walls of the can—started with hujat beans and spaghetti, but will be available with steus and hash. . . . New motorcycles made for the Army by "Indian," with a scabbard built into the handlebar to hold a sub-machine gun. . . . More colored shirts for men—du Pont survey finds that in 1940, for the first time, more colored shirts were sold than the classic white.

WHAT ARE THE CAUSES FOR DEFECTIVE TEETH

"Johnny wanted to enlist to fight Hitler, not to bite him." Such is said to have been the sardonic comment of a mother whose son was rejected by Army examiners on account of defective teeth.

It now transpires that this more or less authentic story might be repeated in many cases. The War Department reports that faulty teeth, more than any other physical defect, causes rejection of selective registrants.

A survey shows that, while men called for military service are generally healthier than those examined for World War service in 1917, three times as many, proportionately, are rejected on account of bad teeth.

The fact should stimulate inquiry as to the reasons for this condition. Have military oral standards been raised? Or are our teeth more generally defective and if so why?

The world's first college of dental surgery was founded in Baltimore 100 years ago. Progress in dentistry has been very great, especially during the last 40 or 50 years. Oral hygiene is taught and dental clinics have been set up in some schools.

The purpose of research, the accumulation of data, higher professional standards and expenditure of tax money, is for better teeth, but the Army report indicates that, generally speaking such results have not been attained.

Are the young men's bad teeth attributed to malnutrition, to lack of money for dental services, to soft food which requires little or no mastication, or to some other cause, unknown or as yet unsuspected?

TIME TO CHOOSE

A recent authoritative study listed 114 categories of non-defense federal spending for the fiscal year 1942 in which there had been an aggregate growth of $3,665,197,000 since 1932. That three and a half billion figure is pretty striking, but perhaps even more interesting is the number of specific categories in which increases have been necessary.

If the reader will think back to the start of the past decade of heavy spending, he will recall that dozens of new government enterprises were instituted or greatly expanded because "the times were bad." The implication was that as long as the economic machine was in low gear, the government must spend more in order to safeguard the welfare of its citizens. A lot of the spending seemed pretty oblique in accomplishing this purpose, but most Americans accepted the principle in good faith.

Today, with our defense needs raising our spending program to levels not even equalled in World War days, it surely is imperative that spending in directions which were marked out as "temporary" should at least be carefully reviewed and cut whenever possible. If every small new activity of government inevitably must grow to bureaucratic proportions, that fact may prove to be a fatal weakness that could eventually destroy democracy itself.

It is not inappropriate to point out that the $3,665,197,000 in increases in those 114 categories would have paid for 72 new battleships, or 210 light cruisers or 1,264 submarines. And it is not even controversial to say that we must soon make our choice between defense and other real needs on the one hand and wasteful spending on the other hand. Surely the best time for this choice to begin is right now!

Stress Good Nutrition As Defense Need

Today nutrition authorities are stressing the need for guarding the national health in carrying on an effective program of defense. In calling attention to the importance of proper food, it is pointed out that a survey has revealed that approximately 45 million of our population are living below the "safety line" of what is considered an adequate diet.

What factors are essential in our foods to assure that the individual body needs? Protein is necessary to build and repair body tissue. There must be vitamins to promote growth and protect health, and calories to supply heat and energy. Minerals, such as iron, copper, phosphorus and calcium, are needed to build blood, bones and teeth.

Importance of Iron
In considering the minerals needed, medical authorities point to the special importance of iron as a blood builder. It ranks first among the nutritive elements in this respect.

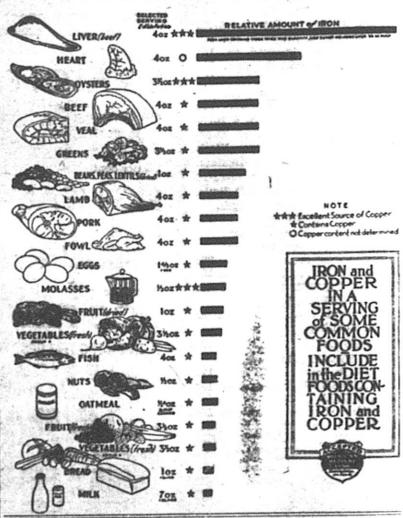

The iron in the body of an average adult is only about the weight of a penny, but this element is vital to health. Iron enters into the structure of every active body cell. Iron is a constituent of the hemoglobin or red pigment of the 25 trillion or more red blood corpuscles, and thus helps to carry oxygen to every part of the body.

Foods rich in iron must be added to the diet at six months or earlier and continued throughout life, according to nutrition authorities. The adult requires at least 12 milligrams of iron daily.

Iron Prevents Anemia
The penalty for an insufficient iron supply is a condition known as nutritional anemia, characterized by lassitude, digestive disorders and other symptoms.

As early as 400 to 500 B.C., a condition corresponding to anemia, was described by Hippocrates, the Father of Medicine. Longfellow in Italian, in giving a warning to discover iron in the blood—in 1747. The present view that an deficiency is the principal cause of anemia, was first advanced in 1889. In 1849, a serious form of anemia, known as pernicious anemia, was described. In the year 1924, Drs. Minot, Murphy and Whipple were awarded the Nobel prize in medicine for their discovery that liver was effective in the treatment of pernicious anemia which was previously regarded as a fatal disease.

Sources of Iron
The accompanying chart carrying the seal of acceptance of the Committee on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association, presents the most up-to-date information on the iron and copper content of our common foods. The iron of foods is better utilized in the presence of small amounts of copper. Liver, which heads the list, is recognized as pre-eminent among blood-building foods.

An average adult would be assured an adequate daily supply of iron if the following amounts of foods are taken each day: 2 servings of meat (1 serving of liver each week); 1 egg; 2 servings of vegetables; 2 servings of fruit.

Hitler, as usual, moved reluctantly into the Balkans, for the "protection" of the Balkan peoples against their "criminal leaders." Also as usual, he blamed the Balkan war on the British and "Jew war mongers."

Military experts think the German steam roller will win some important initial successes, then will slow down as it hits the tough going. In the meantime, British sea control is now practically unquestioned, with a large part of the Italian fleet out of action. The decisive stage of the war may come soon.

MRS. ELLA MILLER DIES IN ELYRIA; SERVICES FRIDAY

Mrs. Ella Miller, 82, widow of the late Newton Miller, formerly of Plymouth, passed away Tuesday morning at Elyria, following a three weeks' illness. Born in Delphi, July 8, 1858, Mrs. Miller had lived in this community most of her life, residing for many years on the County seat road before coming into town to make her home.

The deceased is survived by two sons, Oliver B. and Park M. Miller, both of Elyria; two grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Mattie Livingston, Peoria, Ill.

The body was removed to the McQuate funeral home in Shiloh where friends may call until Friday noon. Services will be held at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon in the First Lutheran church in Plymouth, with the Rev. M. A. Stull of Youngstown, a former pastor of the local church, officiating. Burial will be made in Mt. Hope cemetery, Shiloh.

COUNTY BOARD AND CCC CAMP SIGN UP TO CONSTRUCT DITCH

Richland county commissioners today had signed their first agreement with the Rocky Ford CCC camp for the improvement of a county ditch. The project, which will cost the county only $80, calls for reconstruction of the Ruckman ditch in Cass township. Enrollees at the camp will do the work with the county providing the materials for the project.

Under the agreement the county will establish the right-of-way for the ditch but it will assume no responsibility for any cause of action that might grow out of the project.

Commissioners recently signed a similar agreement with the CCC camp at Attila, for improvement of a ditch in Plymouth township.

Animals Show Unerring Knowledge in Picking Forage.

COLUMBIA, MO.—Farm animals are performing tests on soil fertility that are the subject of a section of soil chemists, according to Dr. William A. Albrecht, Chairman of the Department of Soils of the University of Missouri.

The magic of these animals lies in being able to detect forage that has been produced from fertilized fields while rejecting herbage from untreated fields, Dr. Albrecht pointed out.

"Cattle can pick out limed and fertilized corn in a field surrounded by unfertilized grain," said Dr. Albrecht.

Know Their Grass. "They can tell the difference between grass grown on soil which has had phosphate added and grass grown on untreated soil. They can select soil treated lespedeza and prairie hay from among stacks that have not been treated."

"Domestic animals, however, cannot learn to will find their preferred forage. If they are confined by fences to fields deficient in lime and fertilizer elements such as nitrogen, phosphorus and potash, then they must suffer the consequences of malnutrition."

Lesson for Humans. If dumb animals can show the way toward better agricultural practices, then it is time human beings, themselves, admitted the values of such a program. "A program of pasture improvement through the use of fertilizers," a statement says, "not only produces grasses richer in essential minerals but promotes more rapid growth on depleted land. It provides a diet essential to the healthy growth of livestock, helps conserve the soil and adds to the long range value of a farm."

"Tests on Missouri farms have revealed that a dollar invested in fertilizer to improve rundown pasture land may be expected to return from $3 to $8 in the form of more meat and milk, depending upon management and the kind of livestock. The amount and analysis of fertilizer to use will depend on a number of factors. County agents or agronomists at the state college will cooperate in providing recommendations covering the use of fertilizers."

COUNTY GIVEN RELIEF FUNDS

Richland county, like the rest of the state, saw its relief costs drop last month. In the state total costs for the month amounting to $1,807,188, or $552,317 less than the same month last year.

Allocations to other cities and counties in the area included: Ashland county, $2,081; Crawford county, $987; Holmes county, $986; Huron county, $1,700; Bucyrus, $1,238; Gallon, $540, and Norwalk, $234.

UNDERGOES OPERATION Marshall Henry of Tiro underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday afternoon at the Shelby Memorial Hospital. He is the son of Mrs. Frank Henry of Plymouth.

TO SPEAK IN GREENWICH Rev. Thomas, former pastor of the Plymouth Presbyterian church and now executive secretary of the State C. E. Society, will be a speaker at Greenwich Sunday evening.

FRACTURES ARM Mrs. A. F. Cornell had the misfortune to fracture her left arm at the elbow Sunday, as she was approaching the steps to the home of her mother, Mrs. Wm. Welsh, at Newark, Ohio.
