(Shiloh Correspondent)

W. H. Kochenderfer has in his possession a very interesting map of Ohio which was published in 1830 by S. Augustus Mitchell, publisher of maps, whose office was No. 6, North Fifth Street, Philadelphia.

It is a tourist map exhibiting important improvements in the state at that time; road distances, etc., and was printed by J. H. Young. It is in fine preservation and is enclosed in a leather bound book form, 7 by 5 inches. There were 73 counties at that time and were divided much differently than the present map for Ohio shows. Richland county was almost a perfect square and was bounded on the north by Huron and Lorain, and on the east by Wayne and Holmes; the south by Knox and on the west by Crawford and Marion counties. The census was 24,006.

The inside of the front lid contains the census of the 73 counties.

Van Wert county had a population of 49. Many, now can recall the stories handed down in families in regard to the great exodus to that county when the rich farming land had just been discovered. Many of the wealthy farmers made a trip and it was a long journey in that day to that region and purchased land for their children. Franklin county had 161. Other counties a few over 200 and then to 500, with a gradual increase. Hamilton county with its 52,317, was many thousands over

BIBLE SCHOOL CLOSING FRIDAY

The Daily Vacation Bible school will close its sessions for this year with a demonstration program tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Lutheran church.

Prior to the program the products of the handwork and woodwork departments will be on display in the Presbyterian church from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m.

The program will contain demonstrations of the work of all the classes of the school, beginning with the Beginners' Department, aged four to six, and continuing through to the oldest group, aged 12 to 14 years.

other counties.

The entire population of the State was 937,903. A comparison with the 1840 census, will give the exact growth of the State in 110 years.

There is also a profile of the Ohio and Erie Canals, and also the Miami Canal. The town given in northern part of the county was Truxville, and Vermilion Lake was also in Northeast Richland-co. The level of the Ohio River at Portsmouth was 470 feet above the Atlantic Ocean and 94 feet below Lake Erie.

Mansfield was the county seat of our county at that time, but a number of the names of county seats have been changed. This guide book would not be much use for the tourist today, but it is a valuable historical reference map.

According to Sheriff D. R. Crites of Central City, the Mansfield couple died when their car collided head-on with a truck.

PLYMOUTH VOTE ON BOND ISSUE GETS COUNT OK

JUDGE ORDERS THE SCHOOL BOARD OFFICIALS TO SIGN BONDS FOR BUILDING

A contested election in Plymouth in which voters approved a $47,500 school bond issue was ruled valid Tuesday by Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston.

A mandamus issued by the court ordered Roy Johnson, president of the Plymouth school board, and Joseph Hodges, clerk of the board, to sign the bonds to make them legal.

Johnson and Hodges had refused to put their signatures on the bonds, contending that two errors on the ballots used in the election last March made the bonds illegal and would place the responsibility on them.

Prosecutor Harold Lutz then filed an action for a mandamus, asserting that the errors were unimportant and need not interfere with the legality of the bonds.

Voters approved the bonds by a huge majority to provide the school district's share of the cost of a new elementary school building. The old building is being razed and work started on the new structure which will be erected as a National Youth administration project.

The Colledge car was going north toward North Fairfield when the accident occurred at an intersection of a country road. ### Children's Day Program At Methodist Church Pleases Large Crowd

Against a background of maple branches, artificial green grass and beautiful baskets of multi-colored garden flowers, the Children's Day program of the Methodist church was presented Sunday evening.

Instead of the usual miscellaneous program a short play entitled "Gretchen's Wondrous Adventure" was given by the youth of the church. Nancy Wintermute, who took the part of Gretchen, was the poor little girl who felt there was nothing to live for.

Seating herself in the garden, she fell asleep and a wondrous adventure was hers. The elves, fairies, rainbow colors, Sun, South Wind, Play. The Queen and her attendants all appeared before her presenting their mission in life and all dressed according to their respective roles. Then the rose, the bee, butterfly, daisy and the blue bird appeared and gave a short synopsis of their beauties and duties. The higher arts, history, languages, science, religion, and the board of education, added their thought and purpose to the play, so when Gretchen awoke she not only was aware of a new life opened to her, but was also inspired to drink from the various cups to fit her into the new world.

The play was beautifully done and the children inspired for their respective parts. Mary Dell Wintermute accompanied at the piano and showed unusual and artistic ability. The offering taken went into a fund to aid young people secure an education by loaning them money for their education. This money is repaid when they are able to earn.

SCHOOLS GET FUNDS FROM STATE

One of the largest livestock deals completed in this district for a long time was revealed today with the news that the Lebanon Stock Farm, Route 61, has sold a herd of 30 young White-face steers to the Red Front Market, Masonic Temple, Shelby. The steers averaged from 1100 to 1300 pounds, live weight, and have been fed out on a special preparation of molasses and ground corn.

The Lebanon farm is owned by John Seltzer and is operated by Harry Stoup and is one of the best known stock farms in the state.

Meat from the Lebanon steers is now being sold at the market.

North Fairfield Couple Renew Wedding Vows of 50 Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Lunon of North Fairfield celebrated their golden wedding anniversary over the week-end. The Methodist church helped with the festivities on Saturday evening. At the beginning of the program the honored couple was seated at the back of the church from where they watched a tableau of their lives through babyhood, childhood, school days and courtship. After the singing of "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," the strains of Lohengrin were heard, and the bride and groom, preceded by two ushers, came down the aisle to the altar where they renewed the vows taken fifty years ago. Motorists Wise Itemize

That little black expense book which generally rests, dust laden, in the auto's glove compartment, soon will be seeing service again. Why? Because Uncle Sam is rapidly tightening his petroleum belt.

Last week there was talk of "ration cards" and the week before, "gasless Sundays"—and now motorists wise, particularly tourists, are sharpening their pencils to figure a gallon of gas into as many driving miles as possible. One car manufacturer steps in with the helpful hint that the average family can "get away from it all" on a two-week, 2,000-mile "defense-time" touring vacation for approximately $20 per person. Joseph W. Frazer, president of Willys-Overland, cites a study made by his company as proof that a family of four, by combining the use of low-cost cars with comfortable, economical tourist cabins, can spend two weeks, covering 150 miles a day, at a total cost of about $80. The mileage records used were based on the American's 30-mile per gallon average. Most of the reports sent in show the average cost of overnight cabins, including rooms and bath, is about $2.50. Meals for four, cooked in these cabins, frequently run as little as $2.00 per day for the family.

And so it is today. There are people in Plymouth who will tell you that electric energy cannot be manufactured as cheaply as the village is now buying it. They will tell you that in a few years the equipment will be worn out and new will have to be purchased. They will tell you most anything to keep you from voting in favor of the proposed municipal plant on July 23, 1941.

But, before you let these people persuade you think for yourself along the lines which we have talked about in the above paragraphs. It is a day of modern progress and rapid changes. It is a day when we cannot be indifferent and shrug our shoulders on such matters and "Let George Do It." It is our village; our lives will be lived here and it is up to us to make Plymouth the kind of town everyone likes.

You have read the many articles written by members of both the village council and the Board of Public Affairs. It is hard to understand the problem facing us and the proposed municipal plant. We, the citizens committee, have studied the situation, and heartily endorse the erection of a municipal plant. It will save us money and will be built in speakers that make London and Berlin next door neighbors.

We have seen rapid developments in the past ten years in airplanes, electricity, automobiles and a thousand and one improvements that make better living at lower costs.

And with such rapid strides it is only natural that manufacturers of electrical equipment have also made progress. Progress in the perfection of diesel engines, turbines, generators, etc.

Remember what people said about Edison when he first invented the electric light. They were skeptical when it came to putting money in any of his inventions. It was true with Bell when he made his first telephone and the same with Robert Fulton. People in those days could not visualize and failed to foresee the future for any of these inventions.

But, before you let these people persuade you think for yourself along the lines which we have talked about in the above paragraphs. It is a day of modern progress and rapid changes. It is a day when we cannot be indifferent and shrug our shoulders on such matters and "Let George Do It." It is our village; our lives will be lived here and it is up to us to make Plymouth the kind of town everyone likes.

You have read the many articles written by members of both the village council and the Board of Public Affairs. It is hard to understand the problem facing us and the proposed municipal plant. We, the citizens committee, have studied the situation, and heartily endorse the erection of a municipal plant. It will save lower rates for electric consumers and it will insure financial safety for the village. As a matter of comparison, the following rates are published to enlighten you as to the situation which now prevails in Plymouth in regard to electric rates. Check them over: 30kw 50 kw 80kw 100 kw 200 14.3 23.8 38.0 47.5 87.5 New rates effective Jan., 1941 1.58 2.22 3.43 4.08 6.58 Proposed municipal plant rate, 10% reduction to all 1.29 2.14 3.42 4.27 7.87 Arlington, Ohio, municipal rates 1.80 2.20 2.80 3.20 5.20 Stryker, O., municipal rates 1.38 2.08 3.00 3.60 5.60 Plymouth rate prior to January 1941: 300 kw, 12.75; 400 kw, 16.75 New rate effective Jan. 1941: 300 kw, 9.08; 400 kw, 11.58. LIKES CANADIAN AIR CORPS CAMP

A very interesting letter from Paul Root, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Root, was received last Saturday by the home folk. Paul is very enthusiastic and we print his letter in full:

"On Active Service" Thursday A. M. June 19, 1941

Dear Mother & Dad: Well, here I am at Manning Depot No. 1 and it sure is swell. I have been going through red tape all this week and today at 1:00 o'clock will get my shots in the arm and after that we get a day or so off to recuperate. We will be here three or four weeks to get our military training. After that we go to school for five or six weeks then we get to fly. I am proud to get through the ground school OK.

One thing that is swell is the food and living conditions. I feel sure the army at home could never compare with this up here. It will be a bit hard to become accustomed to the discipline, but it will do me a lot of good. We make $40 per month, the first couple of months and then it goes up to as high as $39.00 per day. You couldn't believe there are as many boys from the States here as there are. One boy who came in with me from South America. There is the finest bunch of boys here as you could possibly ask for and around three or four thousand of them. Of course they are not all pilots; in fact none are as yet, but they are going to be everything from machine gunners up. They are all here to get their military training before going to specialty schools.

Well, I will write again tomorrow and give you my Reg. number, my Unit number, to tell you just how to address a letter to reach me. Love, Paul June 20th.

Dear Mother & Dad: My address will be as follows for the next two or three weeks at least: ROOT P. H. - R111025, No. 1 Manning Depot Toronto, Ont. Canada.

I like it better every day. There is a boy from Shelby, O., whom I knew, and also a couple of lads from Mansfield that are in camp with me. I sure will be busy on my Math. or I will be a wash-out when I get to ground school in a month or two. Must go now for drill. Write. Paul.

State To Change Date Of Hunting, Fishing License

Governor John W. Bricker has signed two bills passed by the 1941 session of the Ohio Legislature changing Ohio fishing and hunting license dates.

The hunting licenses for this year will be good until Aug. 31, 1942. Fishing licenses issued for 1942 will be effective until Feb. 28, 1943. After these dates the yearly hunting license will start on Sept. 1 and expire on Aug. 31, and the annual fishing license will begin on March 1 and terminate on the last day of February. The fishing license for this year will expire on Dec. 31, 1941 as in previous years.

The change in dates is being made so that the division will be able to supply hunters and fishermen with an up-to-date copy of hunting and fishing regulations at the time they purchase their licenses.

As it was, the hunter or fisherman, who happened to purchase his license as soon as they went on sale received a digest of regulations that might be out of date by the time he started hunting or fishing. The new license dates eliminate this.

Farmers Guaranteed
1.08 Wheat Loan

A wheat loan of $1.08 a bushel is assured Huron county farmers who have met acreage requirements under the AAA farm program, following approval of marketing quotas recently by more than 80 per cent of the nation's wheat growers, Robert Finlay, AAA chairman for Huron county announced today.

In addition, farmers who exceed allotments will be eligible for loans at 80 per cent of the operator's rate on wheat produced on their excess acreage.

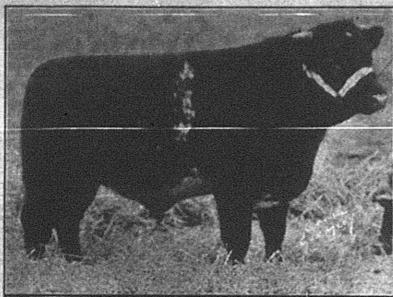

The loans are callable on demand and will be offered to farmers up to December 31, 1941. Loans fall due on April 30, 1942 at 3 per cent interest.

"With farm loan values averaging $1.08 a bushel for Ohio, and with 1941 wheat parity and conservation payments, the program operator will receive a total return approximately equal to the parity price," Mr. Finlay said. "In other words, wheat farmers this year are going to reach their goal of parity for the first time since the farm depression hit American agriculture in the early 20's."

With terminal and country elevator storage facilities taxed to capacity, farmers will be encouraged to hold wheat on the farm in approved storage. Farmers who do not have the necessary structures to house loan wheat will be eligible to receive an advance of 7 cents a bushel for the number of bushels to be stored for the construction or repairing of adequate storage facilities, in addition to the $1.08.

"The loan," said Mr. Finlay, "is one part of the wheat program that wheat farmers have used and can continue using to protect their income and provide orderly marketing of abundant supplies during the present emergency period."

Introduce New Soap FIRST SINCE THE GAY 90'S
In Plymouth, as in many towns and cities throughout the country SWAN is making its debut. SWAN is a new product made by the manufacturers of such world-renowned favorites as Lifebuoy, Lux Flakes, Rinsol, Lux Toilet Soap, Spry and Silver Dust.

Plymouth dealers are letting women know that SWAN is the first really new white floating soap since the gay nineties, and they say that SWAN is better in eight distinct ways. It's milder and whiter. It gives quicker, creamier suds. It lasts longer, smells fresher and lathers exceptionally well. And it gives more real soap ounce for ounce.

For complete, first-hand information and an opportunity to obtain this new soap sensation, local women should visit their dealer, who is now stocked with SWAN.

Tentative Laws For Hunting Released '41-'42

No official action was taken by the Ohio Conservation and Natural Resources Commission at its June meeting on the 1941-42 hunting and trapping laws, although tentative seasons and bag limits were announced. Final action will be taken at the next meeting of the Commission July 9th.

The season and bag limits, as provided under the tentative regulations, if adopted, will be the same this year as last on rabbits, pheasants, Hungarian partridge and grouse. Changes were made in the squirrel season, the red fox season and raccoon season. Under the proposed regulations there will be no trapping any place in Ohio, inland or Lake Erie districts prior to December 1. Trappers will be required to identify their traps by use of metal tags bearing their name and address or this shall be stamped into the trap. The rabbit season tentatively adopted is from November 15 to January 1 inclusive, with a daily bag limit of four with four in possession after the first day.

The pheasant season will extend from November 15 to November 30 inclusive with a daily bag limit of two cock pheasants, with four in possession after the first day.

The squirrel season, which last year, was from September 25 to October 10, will be moved up, if the tentative regulations are adopted by the Commission, to September 15 and remain open until September 30, with the exception of Districts No. 1, 2 and 3, where the season will be from September 22 to 30. Huron and Richland counties are both in the September 22-30 district.

Hunting of raccoon with gun and dog will be November 15 to January 15 inclusive. A new regulation would provide that raccoon may not be trapped until December 1, the trapping season extending to January 15.

Other trapping regulations are as follows:
Mink, inland trapping district, Dec. 1 to Jan. 15; Lake Erie trapping district, Dec. 1 to March 15. Muxkrat, inland trapping district, Dec. 1 to Jan. 15; Lake Erie trapping district, Dec. 1 - March 1

Colonel Has Colorful Career

Appointment of Colonel Robert L. Rockwell, World War ace and member of the famed Lafayette Escadrille as president of the Kentucky-Southern Ohio Traveling Examining Board for prospective Army Aviation Cadets was announced today at Fifth Corps Area Headquarters, Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio. The veteran flyer, credited with pioneering in military dive-bombing experiments, was described by associates as admirably fitted for recruiting future pilots. Like many Army Aviation Cadets, Colonel Rockwell himself entered military aviation school direct from civilian life and experienced his first airplane ride as a student pilot.

The 49-year-old Cincinnati native originally aspired to be a surgeon, attending Kenyon College premedical school and the New York College of Physicians and Surgeons. When the World War broke out in Europe he quit school, joined the Anglo-American hospital staff in France.

When volunteers were accepted for the Lafayette Escadrille in 1915, Rockwell abandoned his medical career, learned technical French in two weeks to qualify as a fledgling flyer in the French army.

"Our experiences as Lafayette Escadrille enrollees were quite un-like those awaiting Army aviation Cadet scholarship winners today," Colonel Rockwell said. "We rated as 'back private' cadets, drawing 6 cents daily. I became corporal-pilots at 25 cents daily. Our Army Aviation Cadets get $105 monthly and are commissioned Second Lieutenants at $245 monthly."

"We trained in Bleriot monoplanes of the same type that first flew the English channel in 1909 and soloed straight off after only a few minutes ground instruction. Today cadets solo "fool-proof" training ships only after hours of flying with an instructor," the Colonel explained.

Rockwell's only injury in a war time career that saw his bullet-riddled ship forced down a half dozen times, occurred on his initial cross-country hop as a student pilot. His plane caught fire at 4,500 feet. Lacking the parachute that is compulsory Army equipment today, he spiraled down, receiving only a finger cut.

The Ohioan joined the Escadrille in Paris in September, 1916. As a pursuit flight commander, he saw action on all major western fronts, clashing frequently with Baron von Richthofen's famed "Flying Circus." He qualified as an "ace" with some eight planes shot down and won numerous decorations.

Before joining the American forces November 17, 1917, as a captain, he and Edward C. Parson, Hollywood aviation technician, were assigned to dive bombing experiments at Dunkirk. These experiments are credited with being the first development of dive-bombing technique in military history.

Rockwell's travels had only started at war's end. Joining the Texas Company's foreign staff, he made an oil production survey of Mediterranean and African ports. He visited Dakar, Alexandria, Crete, Cyprus and other points figuring today in the second World War's near eastern campaign.

In 1922, Rockwell purchased his present farm home on Rural

FAMOUS OHIO BATTLEFIELDS Ohio's Ancient Fortress Protected Mound Builders

It was a crisp autumn evening hundreds, perhaps thousands, of years ago. Inside the high earthen walls of the fortress which the Mound Builders had laboriously constructed, warriors kept vigilant watch, trying to penetrate the gloom of the thick forests beyond. Lurking among the trees, they knew, were enemy tribes seeking to wrest from them their fertile lands and game-filled woods. Suddenly a shrill war whoop broke the evening calm and invaders dashed from their shelters for the Great Gateway. With stone axes and other weapons, invaders and defenders met in a struggle to the very death.

There is no account of this battle in any history but scientists found at the Great Gateway at Fort Ancient, largest primitive fortress in America, a great quanty of bones. Here, perhaps, just such a battle was fought, one of many for the possession of the rich lands that are now Ohio. Today, Fort Ancient is a state park, operated by the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society for the benefit and interest of the citizens of Ohio and America. In prehistoric days it was a refuge for the Mound Builders in the Miami Valley, from the Ohio on the south to Cedarville, about 18 miles south of Springfield, on the north. In times of danger they hurried through the unbroken forests to seek protection behind the three and a half miles of earthen walls which had been painstakingly raised, basketful by basketful, to a height of from 10 to 20 feet.

Within the 126-acre enclosure built on a high plateau overlooking the valley of the beautiful Miami River they built their huts of saplings interlaced with vines and twigs and covered with a foot of clay. Scientists searching through the prehistoric fortress have found more than 100,000 artifacts—stone weapons, pottery, pipes, crude ornaments and other products made by those mysterious people.

The ancient walls of this mighty fort stand today as a relic of long ago Ohioans, built to defend their homes from enemies.

Fort Ancient is now the objective for thousands of modern-day Ohioans interested in the works of these early people or merely looking for a pleasant place to picnic.

Fort Ancient is on Route 350, approximately 35 miles north of Cincinnati and midway between Routes 42 and 22.

A party was given in honor of Miss Sallie Fenner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fenner, for her 17th birthday, Saturday, June 21st.

Her guests were as follows: Misses Carolyn, Mary and Sally Fenner, Margaret and Ann Turson, Margaret Robinson and Angelyn Fazio.

Also present were Mr. Clyde Lykins, Jack Carney, Jerry Williamson and Harold Holden of Willard, Clarence Luckley, Al Wilkens and Archie Johnson of Mansfield.

Games were played and an enjoyable evening was spent by all.

MRS. GRACE DICK ENTER-TAINS GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. Grace Dick entertained the Garden Club, Friday evening, June 20. Mrs. Bartholomew had charge of the business session. The roll call was answered with each one's favorite flower magazine or seed catalog. Flower Grower, Horticulture and American Home were the leading magazines, and Burpee's and Vaughn's the favorite seed catalog.

A very instructive and interesting picture lecture was then presented by Mrs. Chattell, assisted by Mr. Keller, Mrs. Bartholomew and Mrs. Ford. The subject was "Aphis" and their life cycle and the damage done was shown with great clearness by the remarkable series of illustrations. Also the way to control them was shown.

The next meeting will be held at the Mary Fate Park and will be a picnic on July 18.

A. D. POINTS is doing his bit to relieve housing congestion. An old barn on an alley in the rear of the old Nimmons home in which Points now resides, has been transformed into a beautiful home; lots of outside work to be done, but the inside is swell. Earl McQuate asks me to come over and see his garden. . . . good looking vegetables, and not a weed in it, but I found Mrs. Mac in the patch with a hoe. . . . Joe Lasch presents "Yo Ed" with a basket of luscious strawberries. If Joe was to tell you how large one of the berries were, you wouldn't believe him; but I picked it myself and it was 1 1/2 inches in diameter, and two inches high. If Joe could only grow hair like he raises strawberries.

CALL THEM "two old cronies" If you want to, but I'd say they are mighty fine women — Mrs. Wm. Scafield and Miss Elnora Taylor. Had quite a chat with them. I've known Bill Scafield for 17 years, but never knew the Mrs. — Found her and Miss Taylor on the back porch of the Taylor home, doing a little visiting. Miss Taylor started in business here in the store room now occupied by Rule Clothing, later moving to the Cheesman building, but quit business 15 years ago. Rheumatism makes it impossible for her to walk, but she does practically all her housework; doesn't get lonely, and as a hobby keeps a check on all visitors, the number of which will average 1700 calls a year.

RESUMES TEACHING

Mr. R. Byron Grist will resume private teaching beginning Friday, June 27, at the high school building. If you did not receive a notice for an appointment and wish to study during the summer, please get in touch with Mr. Grist, Friday or Saturday at the high school.

TROOP NEWS

The Pine Tree Patrol, under the leadership of Wayne Ross, won the three months' Inter-Park contest which closed Monday. The patrol had a total of 13,005 points. A four man cooking set will be awarded as soon as it is received from the New York Supply office. These Scouts should be given a pat on the back, for the score they rolled up, for their nearest competition was the Wolf patrol with 5104 points, and the Panther Patrol with 4920 points.

Local Scouts in cooperation with OSU carried their literature to each and every home in Plymouth Monday night after Scout meeting.

Only four Scouts attended the June 21st meeting held at Shelby June 19-20-21. No adult could be found who could stay with them and most of the parents would not let their sons go unless there was an adult supervision. However, Mr. Floyd Dent, area executive was in Plymouth last week, and extended an invitation to the new Scout camp which is west of Mansfield. We will try to have a few days there in August.

Through the efforts of Donald Ford, troop committeeman, tickets have been secured for the American League ball game at Cleveland, July 12. The only requirement the troop committee has made is that Scouts must attend troop meetings on which it was discussed in full for the next two weeks. Those who are unable to attend Scout meetings must pass two tests.

A BARE, BEAR STORY

Earl McQuate, who returned last Wednesday evening from a vacation trip through the Smoky Mountains, is relating the bare facts about a bear who left a number of scratches on his bare back.

It seems there were five bears, a mama bear, a papa bear and the three little bears. The papa bear and the three little bears left the mountain road and went over the cliff, but the mama bear, who evidently had had similar encounters, sauntered down the road, to the curiosity of the tourists who stopped their cars to watch. Earl got out of the car to get a good picture for proof upon his return home and immediately Mrs. Bruhn had her head and paws through the front window. Earl started handing out cookies but as soon as the gobbled up one, went back for more. When the cookies were practically gone, old Lady Bear grabbed Earl and squeezed him, leaving a number of scratches on his back. Throwing the cookie box down, the bear picked it up and scampered off down the road with it, evidently intending it for her cubs' next meal.

Earl has pictures of both the bears and the scratches to back up his story in case you are inclined to disbelieve. Other members of the party who had made the trip to Camp Forest, Tenn., to visit Mrs. McQuate's brother, Douglas Brumbach of Cleveland, were Mrs. McQuate, Mrs. Ethel Brumbach, Cleveland, and Misses Ina and Cella Brumbach of Shelby. The trip was made through the Smoky Mountains and other points enroute home.

FATHER DIES

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Smith were called to Cromwell, Ind., Saturday evening owing to the death of the former's father, Homer Smith. Mr. Smith had been ill over a long period and was aged 77 years at the time of his death. Mr. E. H. Smith is an employee of the Advertiser.

TRANSIENT GIVEN AID

Sunday evening considerable commotion was caused by a transient in a tax car on the E. & O. siding south of the Plymouth Elevator.

Hearing groans and moans and answering his call for help, W. T. Niles, village marshal, was summoned and found the tramp in bad shape with a severe attack of asthma. Medical aid was given and the man was removed to the jail where he was kept until Monday noon.
