Mrs. Mabel Wirth and Mr. Willard Wirth called Friday to pay their respects at the home of their cousin, the late H. C. Conn of Mansfield, whose funeral was Saturday.

School Opens Here September 15; Full Day Sessions; John F. Root Appointed New Board Member

For the first time in sixty-five years, Plymouth school children will not be summoned on opening day by the ringing of the bell atop the grade building. The razing of the old grade building is practically complete and plans are in the making for the preservation of the bell as a memorial.

Original plans were to have the new building ready for occupancy this fall, but so many details, entanglements and red tape have entered into the situation that it will not be ready to house the students until the Spring of 1942.

The Board, therefore, has made the necessary changes at the high school to take care of the entire group and still hold full day sessions. Opening day has been set for Monday, September 15th. This is a little later than most schools in the county, but by thus setting the opening date back a week, it will give a full week more to NYA boys now working on the grade building. It will also enable farmers to more fully harvest their crops with the aid of the boys who will enter school. No time loss will be incurred due to state or county affairs, all fairs by that time being over.

According to the schedule now set up, the first grade will occupy the same room as last year, room 3, the second grade will be located in the front corridor which has been transformed into a room the same size as room 3, occupied by the beginners. Grade three students have been assigned to room two and the fourth grade to the commercial room. Temporary partitions have been placed in the study hall and the fifth and sixth grade will be assigned to this room. The high school students will occupy the remainder of the building including the stage for recitations. The study hall proper will be the auditorium.

Of course this is not the way the Board of Education would like to handle the problem of

Welders At F-R-H Hold Wiener Roast

The "village Smithy" might have stood under the spreading chestnut tree, but about 25 employees of the Fate-Root-Heath Co., preferred to lay-out under the trees in a grove near Bunker Hill Wednesday afternoon, and really enjoyed a wieners roast.

The affair was arranged by G. C. Mackey and his associates in the welding division of the firm, and a few employees of other departments were extended special invitations. Jud Keller acted as "wiener master" being in charge of a gasoline-operated stove that "heated" the wieners, and a commode looked after the rest, everything contained that famous old drink—"the pause that refreshes."

The picnic was held just after work when the men were tired, and the relaxation gathered out in the great open spaces proved very invigorating.

LuVier Barber was present, and he was principal story-teller during the afternoon. LuVier is full of good, clean, wholesome stories, and everyone is guaranteed to bring a laugh.

Games were played including golf and pinocle, and as the old sun died down in the west, everyone present voted the welders a great bunch of entertainers.

GAMES AT WILLARD

Baseball fans will have the opportunity of witnessing the Akron-New Haven Club play the Veterans of Foreign Wars on Sunday, August 10th, at the Veterans Stadium in Willard. The game is called for 3 o'clock with a general admission of 25 cents. Children under 14 years of age will be admitted free.

On Wednesday, Aug. 13th there will be a double header. At one o'clock the Old Timers will play, and at 3:30 the Plymouth Locomotives vs The Veterans of Foreign Wars. The same admission charge prevails. Both of these games will be exceptionally good and a representation will no doubt be present from Plymouth.

Schine's New Norwalk Theatre To Open Soon

When Schine's new Norwalk theatre opens next Wednesday, Northern Ohio will have a show place completed under the close supervision of the leading craftsmen of the theatrical world.

The house was designed and constructed under the supervision of John Ebersohn, nationally known architect who is responsible for over five hundred of America's finest motion picture houses. Knowing that the public is most interested by what it sees, the owners of the new theatre, the Battista studios of New York City to decorate the house. These master craftsmen are known favorably in India, South America and South Africa as well as in the United States, for they have done theatres in those remote corners of the world. All their experience has been focused on the job of making the NORWALK compare with their best work.

In keeping with the streamlined design, all the latest sound and projection equipment, the softest chairs, the most comfortable of chairs, the up-to-the-minute air conditioning equipment, even devices for assisting the hard-of-hearing, have been installed in the theatre.

Programs will change four times weekly, new shows being offered on Sundays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Prices of ten cents for kiddies and twenty-cent for the nine-cent for adults, including state and federal taxes, will prevail.

Wm. Selman, manager of the theatre, has secured as the first feature for the new twelve hundred seat house, "Ringside Masie" dressed seat house, "The Bride Came C. O. D." starring James Cagney, Bette Davis and Stewart Erwin. Souvenir tickets are being sold at regular admission prices now at the Forum Theatre. Purchasers who wish to assure themselves for the opening program will also have a nice souvenir of the occasion. Holders of these souvenir tickets will be the recipients of special gifts in the future.

BUYS PROPERTY

A real estate transaction was completed the past week whereby A. D. Points and Willard Wirth will become joint owners of one-half acre of land on Route 224, just opposite the New Haven school house.

The ground was purchased from O. J. Nickler who has been using it for a wrecking and junk lot. Possession will be given December 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. Points and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Collins have been operating the Garden of Eatin' restaurant at the intersection of Routes 61 and 224, and the business has grown to such an extent that more space is necessary and they hope to move the building to its new location and enlarge it. Their present plans also include the erection of a super filling station.

ENDORSE 3 FOR PENSION POST

RICHLAND REPUBLICANS FAVOR SHOUP, FRIDAY AND HINES FOR POST

The Richland county G. O. P. central committee have endorsed three Republicans from a list of 14 applicants for appointment to the sub-division manager's post in the aid for aged office in Mansfield to succeed David S. Ireland, who died ten days ago.

Names of three applicants who received the most votes of committee were sent to Tom McCaw, head of the state aid for aged division in Columbus, with the recommendation that one of them be named to the post in Mansfield. Chairman Ralph Carroll of the committee said.

C. L. Shoup, of Plymouth, former investigator in the aid for aged office in Mansfield, received 15 votes to top the list. The 11 other applicants received scattered votes. Shoup resigned his investigation job last year to become a candidate for Richland county commissioner. He was defeated in the November election.

Among the applicants was Howard R. Neuman, Mansfield, who was appointed acting manager following Ireland's death. Neuman qualified for the manager's job last winter in a state civil service examination.

congestion. It has been suggested that the school operate on three half day sessions. This idea was given careful consideration by the Board of Education, but due to the fact that transportation would be the large item of consideration in expense and convenience since it would necessitate double transportation which would cost approximately $2,000 more than had been budgeted, and as all pupils do not live in Plymouth, the idea was abandoned. It is hoped, with the progress that is being made in the demolition of the old building and plans being taken by the Board of Education to rush the construction of the new building.

Why Worry?

"Well, if we run out of silk hose, we will just have to wear something else," seems to be the general opinion of Plymouth women who are not worrying in the least about the supply goes out.

Although local stores experience one of the greatest runs on the sale of silk hose in years, since the order was issued that effective last Saturday night the supply of silk on hand in the United States would just about meet the requirements of the Army and Navy Defense projects and would have to be conserved for that purpose, there is still a good supply on hand locally.

Saturday evening and all day Monday young girls and women were laying in a supply of hosiery, while the entire stock of pairs which is now being rationed. Nylon and the better grade of hose seemed to be in the greatest demand.

E. E. McConnell, chief of the OPM's conservation division, said recently that the capacity of nylon plants now is sufficient to meet only one-third of the demand, which undoubtedly will increase as the supply of silk hosiery diminishes.

Asked by reporters what women would do without silk hosiery, McConnell replied, "A lot of girls don't wear any hosiery now. So we will have a lot of sun-baked legs."

FAMOUS OHIO BATTLEFIELDS

The Hero of Vincennes Defeats Ohio Indians

ended with the capture of Fort Sackville at Vincennes, Ind., only to find Ohio threatened by the English and the Indian allies. Swift raids were being carried out against the outlying settlements as the British tried to re-establish their hold on the all-important lands between Lake Erie and the Ohio.

Hardly perfecting his plans, Clark started north from the Ohio to invade the Indian territory. Each man carried his own supplies—meat and jerked buffalo or venison—and traveled through the dense forests and up the streams on foot, on horseback, or by birch bark canoe.

Up the Little Miami, past Fort Ancient, the 900 men (a large army for a forest campaign) preceded by vigilant scouts, forced their way through thick forest into Old Chillicothe (now Oldtown, south of Springfield) was destroyed. The Indians were concentrated at some other point. Village and crops were destroyed. Guided by Simon Kenton, famous Indian fighter, Clark continued his march to Fiqua, a village on the west bank of the Mad River. There he found the Indians assembled in large numbers. The town was surrounded. A brass six-pounder captured from the British at Fort Sackville was brought to bear on the newly erected stockade, shattering the walls. Driven from shelter, the Indians advanced on Clark's lines. "Hold your fire," was the command. As the Indians approached, a sharp, deadly volley threw them into panic and defeat.

Clark's success, a surprise to the British, helped to counteract their elation over the English victories in the Carolinas and Georgia, and left the Indians too busy repairing the damage to try further raids against the colonists.

NEW SEEDINGS IN HURON COUNTY BELOW NORMAL

More than fifty percent of the new seedings in Huron county are below normal both in stand and growth.

Farm operators from all sections of the county have been asking the Agricultural Extension Agent for the best method of re-seeding or patching up these meadows.

Alfalfa is so much better adapted to summer seeding than any other perennial or biennial forage crop.

The latest reasonably safe dates for seeding clovers and alfalfa are August 15 in the northern half of the state.

The seeded, which should be firm and free of weeds, should be prepared by several diskings.

If lime is needed, it should be applied as early as possible during the preparation of the seed-bed.

There should be considerable moisture in the soil below the surface 2 or 3 inches, and it is not wise to sow until this reserve moisture is present.

No companion or "Nurse" crop should be used in summer seeding.

the legume seedings. A liberal application of superphosphate or 0-14-9 should be used.

- 1 Prepare a good firm seedbed, finishing with disking. 2 Cultipack. 3 Broadcast the seed. 4 Cover lightly with a harrow or weeder crosswise of the cultipacking.

Most of the seeds fall in the firm furrows made by the cultipacker, and germinate in rows as if drilled.

Apply a mulch of four or five tons of manure, or one ton of straw at once after seeding.

Recommendations for fall seeding where the land has been limed and some alfalfa has been grown are 9-10 pounds of alfalfa, 4 pounds of timothy.

Do not clip a summer-sown crop.

POOR RELATION

According to many authorities, the farmer is getting the worst of it during this war boom.

Farm income has not risen to anywhere near the extent of labor's income. Farmers are forced to pay far higher wages. The costs of all the manufactured goods the farmer must buy are also rising. And the farmer will bear his full share of higher taxes.

That situation cannot continue indefinitely. Agriculture, after all, is the most vital calling—a country must have food in war or peace. Agriculture cannot be treated as a poor relation. The nation's task now is to make an equitable adjustment between the interests of agriculture, labor and industry.

BETTER CARS FOR 1942

The news is going 'round that automobiles will be hard to get in 1942, and pessimists predict that they won't be so good. They may be hard to get because the automobile industry has enlisted for Defense and that comes first. But the optimists expect 1942 automobiles will be the best cars ever built.

Early automobiles had no bumpers, the wheels and spokes were wood, thousands of wrists were broken in cranking-up by hand, before Kettering brought out the self-starter. The rubber tires were not much good, it took a month to paint a car, windshields were made of ordinary glass, there were no windows or carpeted floors, no nice cushions; the gears were lousy and it took all three kinds to get up a mountain to the roadside cold-water stand where the driver could buy a pail of water for a dime, to cool down his steaming engine. Four wheel brakes hadn't been dreamed of, you changed your own tires, did your own grease-job, filled your batteries, carried an emergency can of gasoline, and hitched a spare tire on behind.

Now! Stop, look and listen, drive careful, don't run through red lights—and watch out for the cop, and beware of fitchhikers. Automobiles have never followed progress. Progress has always followed automobiles. Today's machines are 10 times as good as they were 20 years ago and cost less than half as much.

The automobile manufacturers of this country have not, and will not, let the country down and their records show they would be ashamed to produce poorer cars for 1942 than they turned out in 1941 or any previous years. If they cannot make better cars, they wouldn't make them at all.

ENCOURAGE THE GOOSE

Along with the Federal government's drive to sell United States Savings Bonds, it would be in order for the government to encourage the public to invest part of its savings in private enterprise. The prosperity of this country is based on the private enterprise system. Our government should be interested in promoting a system that is the lifeblood of the nation and the source of all tax revenue that maintains government itself. It should take good care of the goose that lays the golden eggs.

While the government is demanding and receiving so much from industry during this national emergency, it should try to strengthen it in every possible manner.

But strange as it may seem, there are many industries in this nation that are today being handicapped by lack of government cooperation, or by planned government policies which restrict or compete with them. Electricity, oil and coal are good examples; they are faced with the threat of socialization backed by the government itself.

Instead of such a destructive policy, government should help safeguard private enterprise which big and little investors own. Such investments make it possible for this nation to prosper and carry out its national defense program.

Charity is never lost; it may meet with ingratitude, or be of no service to those on whom it was bestowed, yet it ever does a work of beauty and grace upon the heart of the giver.—Middleton.

However brilliant an action, it should not be esteemed great unless the result of a great and good motive.—Rochefoucauld.

Governor Bricker Finds Much For Ohio People To Be Proud Of At State's 91st Exposition

Taking their cue from Governor John W. Bricker, Director of Agriculture John T. Brown and State Fair Manager Win H. Kinnan have dedicated the Ohio State Fair to the promulgation of peaceful pursuits as the most effective defense.

If the rest of us are to be fed and clothed, young people must continue to be educated to assume their proper place in an economy of production. Home and family life must be preserved as the foundation of sound national spirit. This State Fair must be a real demonstration of democracy at work, witnessed by and participated in by a larger number of our Ohio citizens than in any previous year.

Following these instructions, Director Brown and the State Fair management have endeavored to make this year's fair a people's fair, with many new opportunities for participation by those who are not exhibitors. They have designed the Fair so that it will be a great educational institution, summarizing Ohio's important position as the fifth agricultural and industrial state in the Union and showing what these allied industries are doing to supply vital needs of every day living as well as for national defense.

With all in readiness for opening of this great Ohio exposition, Director Brown, in extending everyone a cordial welcome to attend, says, "Today, when every one is conscious of international unrest, the State Fair has a great story to tell about the part Ohio is playing in national defense. The Department of Agriculture is pledged to make this the best State Fair ever, as a material contribution to 20th Century progress."

In his own welcome to the people of Mid-America, Governor Bricker declares, "You will find much to be proud of in this 91st Ohio State Fair; I hope it will renew your faith in the future and linger long in your memory."

in a world afloat with destruction. The fair will be held at Columbus, August 23 to 29.

In conferences with Ohio Department of Agriculture officials charged with conduct of the State Fair, Governor Bricker at times like these, when destruction claims the headlines, there must be emphasis on the necessity of production in the pursuit of peace. Farmers must be encouraged to become bigger producers.

Rural Women Arrange One Day Trips

One-day vacation trips on both land and water have been planned by the Huron county Home Extension Council for rural women of the county this year.

A boat trip to Pelee Island and Leamington, Canada, was planned for Wednesday, Aug. 6th. The group left Sandusky by 8 o'clock a. m. and returned at 7 o'clock in the evening.

The land trip which is being planned for rural women only will be made Tuesday, Aug. 12. This will be a bus trip to Schoenbrunn, the first village in Ohio, located near New Philadelphia. Stops will be made at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster, at Dover where a new dam has been constructed, then at Schoenbrunn, where the group will eat picnic lunch.

On the return trip McKinley's Monument in Canton will be visited and the buses will pass the airplane hangar near Akron. Reservations for the trip must be in the Agricultural Extension office, Court House, Norwalk, not later than Friday, Aug. 8. Those interested may contact the Home Council member in their townships or get in touch with the Agricultural Extension office.

LOTS OF FISH!

For the second time within a week a record catch of fish was reported by Tom Arnold of Shelby, Marshall Henry of Tiro and Dan Henry of Plymouth.

The group fished off the Cedar Point breakwaters and on Friday returned home with 80 pounds of cat fish and white bass. A number weighed more than two pounds each.

The kind of bait didn't seem to make any difference for they bit on flies, worms, shrimp and minnows. They pulled them in so fast the thrill was lost, while other fishermen nearby had all kinds of luck—all bad.

BOOKS TO BE REPAIRED

Approximately forty books of the Plymouth Library have been sent to Mansfield for repairs and rebinding, which were damaged by water when a leaky water pipe in the office of Dr. J. T. Gaskill seeped through the ceiling onto the shelves of the library.

Damage was also done to the ceiling and part of the furniture.

First Describing Niagara Falls

The first white man to describe Niagara Falls was Father Hennepin, who accompanied La Salle to the Niagara frontier in 1678.

Saving The Scrap

It is estimated that there is an average of 80 pounds of scrap metals of various kinds scattered through each family's back yard, barn yard or basement. Time may come in the near future when the old game of "treasure hunt" can be turned into a profitable pastime.

Farséeing this possibility, Buick Motor division of General Motors corporation has been working on the Franklin that a penny saved is a penny earned. During 1940 the salvage operations of this unit were perfected to a point where 244,000,000 pounds of "waste" materials, mostly metals, were retrieved and returned to useful purposes.

Particularly has this been true in the conservation of strategic metals which are vital to our national defense. Salvage methods which have been applied to aluminum, lead zinc, copper, tin, antimony and nickel have been so perfected that 100 per cent efficiency has been attained with loss reduction. Almost equal efficiency has been effected in all other non-perishable materials.

This work entails an intricate inter-plant collection system which has been worked out with an eye to making the final sorting of various reclaimed materials as simple as possible. This sorting work is done in a specially constructed main salvage building which also serves the purpose of reducing scrap to handling sizes.

Some idea of the magnitude of this operation may be gained from the fact that 280 carloads and 65 truck loads of salvage are shipped monthly to outside plants for reclamation in addition to the volume reclaimed in Buick's own foundry.

Scrap ranges from huge drop forges bases weighing several tons each which may become cracked or otherwise defective to steel filings and cardboard cartons.

Bales of scrap sheet metal from the Buick stamping divisions last year totaled over 45,000,000.

LEGAL NOTICES

Mazie Nichols, whose residence is unknown and can not with reasonable diligence be ascertained, is hereby notified that William A. Nichols, her husband, has filed his petition against her in the Court of Common Pleas of Huron County, Ohio, praying for a divorce upon the ground of willful absence for more than three years last past.

That said cause will be for hearing on and after September 18th, 1941.

pounds. Sheet metal clippings totaled 27,000,000 pounds, cast iron borings accounted for an additional 24,800,000 pounds and short "shoveling" steel turnings for 36,000,000 pounds more. All of these were reclaimable.

There were eight different classifications of aluminum salvage ranging from culled pistons and electric furnace dross to piston borings. These totaled 543,000 pounds which is a lot of aluminum. An unusual item was the 1,800 pounds of solder drippings saved during last year's operations.

While the United States has large natural resources so far as aluminum and some other items are concerned the growing demand for these metals now in order to speed defense operations can most readily be met by conserving what we have. Buick sets a good example for all to follow in this direction.

Health Laboratory At O.S.U. Torn Down

Columbus.—The building where thousands of Ohio dogs' heads have been examined for rabies, where more thousands of specimens of Ohio water have been tested, is now being torn down.

It's the old Botany building at Ohio State University, used more recently as laboratories for the state board of health. One of the landmarks of the Ohio State campus, it was erected in 1863. The state laboratories will be located in a new building now being erected near University Hospital.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

INFORMAL PORTRAITS

To get shots like this, slip an inexpensive close-up, or portrait attachment over the lens. Informal portraits are easy to make and they add interest and variety to your album.

SUMMER is an ideal season for informal portraits of your family and friends, and they're just about as easy to take as any other snapshot. Naturally, such pictures are not to be compared with the expertly lighted, skillfully executed portraits made by experienced professional studio photographers. The well made informal outdoor study, however, has an interest and atmosphere all its own.

Here are several points to remember:

The subject should be completely at ease and in a natural pose. This is readily obtained by seeing to it that he is in a comfortable position, with his attention concentrated on anything but the camera.

Get close enough so that the person's head fills most of the picture space. If your camera doesn't focus nearer than five or six feet, an inexpensive portrait attachment, which merely slips over the lens, will permit making real close-up shots.

Watch the background—any objectionable objects will detract from the center of interest. Use a low camera angle, or place the subject on some slight elevation, such as the crest of a knoll, so you can take advantage of the sky for a plain but effective background.

To obtain a good likeness of a person, you need reasonably soft lighting. That is, shadows that are well illuminated and fairly bright in relation to the directly sunlit features. Instead of facing directly into the bright noonday sunlight, have the subject turn so the strong light comes well from one side of the face, then time the exposure to record detail in the shaded side of the face. In this way you will eliminate the dark shadows—so noticeable in pictures taken at this time of day—that appear below the nose and eyebrows.

There are several other good methods of obtaining soft lighting. A newspaper or large white blotter placed near the subject's face, but out of the range of the viewfinder, will reflect light into the dark areas, softening the harsh shadows and bringing out detail. Or you can place your subject in the open shade—as on the shady side of a house under an open sky, and give the normal exposure for such conditions.

Follow these simple suggestions and you'll get good informal portraits. Start a collection today. Their appeal and variety will justify a special place in your album.

LUTHERAN CHOR

WIFE REV. WOLF
 One of the strongest links in the chain of memories binding Rev. Wolf to Plymouth, was the party given in his honor Monday evening by members of his choir.

The affair was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lanus of Plymouth street who, with the aid of the committee, Miss Jessie Trauger, Mrs. Bails Kennedy,
 Mrs. D. W. Einsel and Mrs. Robert Schreck planned an unusual evening of entertainment.

One of the interesting features was the musical program planned by Miss Adah McCague of Monongahela, Pa., and houseguest in the Lanus home. Miss McCague is musical instructor in the Monongahela schools and improvises the music that told a complete story in title form. Another contest was the traveling game, made up of forty different advertising pictures or slogans and played throughout the home. Prizes in the various contests were won by Rev. Wolf, Mr. Beaver, S. C.
 Brown, J. E. Nimmons, Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Einsel.

While a tempting lunch was being prepared, the group enjoyed a number of outdoor games arranged under multi-colored lights in the backyard.
 Twenty-eight members and guests were in attendance and the group remembered Rev. Wolf with a cash purse.

On Active Service

Paul Root transferred; Writes Interesting Letter.

Paul Root arrived here Wednesday evening to spend a 48-
 hr. leave with his parents.

Aug. 3, 1941
 Dear Mother and Dad:

Well, here we are at the largest bombing and gunnery school in Canada, and it is ever swell! The food is much better and enjoyable. Our living quarters—well, you couldn't ask for anything nicer. We are located about ten miles from Jarvis and about four or five miles from Lake Erie. We will be here around six to eight weeks. My address will be:
 C. 2 ROOT, P. H.
 R11025

No. 1 B & G School,
 Jarvis, Ont. 19 W Canada.
 We are having a good many classes while on guard duty.
 There are all kinds of planes here, and it is good to be back around them again. They use Farry Battles, powered with around 1650 h. p., mostly and some of the abies here took part in the fight at Dunkirk, and they sure look it.

I'm only about 85 miles from Buffalo, so I think I will get to see Ruth and Dad once in a while. We get a 48 hour leave every ten days.
 Ted (an Ashland boy) did not get sent here. He was pushed off up north somewhere, so I won't be seeing him for some time.

I wish you could see the very room I'm sitting in now. When I say "room," I mean building, because everything is an individual building here at this station.
 I'm in the reading and writing room. It looks like the lobby of a fine hotel. It's wonderful.

The officers here have it no better than anyone else.

It should be a great place to study and that's what I plan on doing a lot of this summer.

I think that I will try to come home about a week from Monday, that will be the 11th, on a 48-hour leave. So plan on seeing me around there sometime.

Will let you hear from me and
 please my address around:
 Love, Paul.
