

Plymouth Writes From Country of "Lost Horizon"

U. S. SERVICE MAKES MARCO POLO LOOK LIKE A "PIKER" WHEN IT COMES TO ADVENTURES

Once again word has been received from the far-flung outpost of the world, and once again it is from Neil Gebert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gebert, who writes very interestingly of his experiences in—(who knows where?) Guessing being our specialty, we would say that he is in the Himalaya mountains between Tibet and India. Being an adventurer, we can well believe that his long-cherished dream is being realized, as he says. Mount Everest, Tibet, the country which was supposed to be the setting for "The Lost Horizon," in which Shangri-La and the country of perpetual youth were born, always intrigued him. But, let us see what he has to say—

In his letter of October 1st, Neil states that he has just completed a 2500 mile journey across India. Their mail being sent ahead by plane, was given out during the last part of the journey. Letters dated August 20th and 25th were received Sept. 29th. At that time they were at a small rest camp in the heart of a large tea plantation (which accounts for the former letter) that they were living in tents which would accommodate six men comfortably. The moonsoon season would soon be over and then things would not be so damp. Neil writes that they are getting much better food than they had previously received, and that they were taking advantage of it. However, they were moving on soon and might be able to get only one letter a month—that is, only one collection would be made each month. In the meantime the government would send to his home a form message each week. He says that the trip was very interesting and he saw much more than usual, including the Himalayas, east of Lahore, as well as a sojourn in Calcutta. "I shall be looking for the package that you are sending," he says, "and can use everything, even the soap. So far we have been able to get all kinds of toilet supplies, but from now on the supply line may be uncertain. I would like some good chocolate bars. Bakers might be best or any kind that will not melt so easily. The hot damp climate is not very comfortable, and especially when the laundry and washing facilities are not up to par. It may interest you to know that I am a radio operator in this platoon and my rating was given me because of my knowledge of this equipment. However, I need more material. Make all packages as waterproof as possible because of the dampness. Would suggest paraffin paper.

Oct. 22. "Today I have been in the Army exactly six months, and cannot exactly six months, and cannot promise that I will be back in the States at some school. Someone made a slip, but maybe I am just as well off. He continues Oct. 24th: "I am sure that this letter will not get out until around the first of November. All of our mail will then be carried out through the jungle to our base 'Y' in the valley. We are trying to have our mail delivered once a week, but so far, success is far distant. It seems strange to be receiving answers to my early Aiglet letters. We are extremely fortunate to have our mail picked up oftener than once a month. "The thousands of miles of train and river (both sides) roads. Radio last month brought to reality a cherished ambition. This trip brought us over, and on three of the largest rivers in the country, all of which rise in the Himalayas. The climate varies from the dry heat of northwestern frontier desert to the damp heat of the jungle, but the vegetation even at our altitude is tropical, although the evenings are cool, and the nights cold, requiring three army blankets. We are looking forward to a cold winter considering this is only October. We will have it then. It may even snow during low temperatures. "The scenery here is beyond my power to describe. Every day we look down on the valley, with the clouds floating above the steaming jungles. It is some of my

Last letters I spoke of the Great Mountain Range, but the position from which we have observed the "islands of perpetual snow" must remain a secret for some time to come. One has to travel far away from the tourist trails to see what we have seen. We are also told that this region is a hunter's paradise, and judging by some of the reports brought back by our comrades who went elephant hunting down by the river, other game spoors were found, which proves

NOTICE TO LIGHT CONSUMERS!
Between the hours of 1:00 and 2:15 p. m. Sunday, Nov. 29th, the light and power in Plymouth will be turned off. This is not due to local repairs but instructions from the Ohio Power Company. It is stated repairs to a substation in this district necessitate the power being off. You might miss your favorite radio broadcast or be a little late for the picture show, but the hour set was the best at which time this inconvenience would be felt.

Republicans Endorse Officials At Meeting

The Richland county executive committee endorsed Atty Herbert Shetter of Mansfield as municipal judge in Mansfield to succeed Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, and Glenn John Hess of Mansfield in the sales tax division during a meeting in Mansfield Friday night. Judge Kalbfleisch was the successful candidate for the office of judge of the common pleas court of Richland county in November. Hess will leave next Tuesday for Camp Perry where he will be stationed with the armed forces. C. H. Wheldon, president of the board, attended the session.

TRANSFERRED TO CALIFORNIA

C. H. Wheldon, who is connected with the American Red Cross has been transferred from Fort Ely, N. C. to a camp in California.

His wife, the former Miss Ruth Root, will remain with her parents in the meantime.

PUBLISHER L.L. Carl Stambaugh, co-publisher and business manager of The Shelby Daily Globe, was stricken ill Thursday morning at the Shelby Hospital and was removed to the Shelby Memorial hospital. Late reports state he is resting quietly.

WAR WILL EFFECT CHRISTMAS BUYING

The dark clouds of war will hover over the Christmas season this year when Christmas buying begins. Local merchants are having a time buying anything to sell. Radios, toasters, kitchenware and many other favorite Christmas gifts are either out, or nearly out for the duration. Good old Christmas candy, long the sign of Christmas season, will be among the items which will be short this year. Due to shortages of both sugar and chocolate, candy supplies will be far below pre-war standards. "This year," do your Christmas shopping early, more than a slogan—it's a threat.

NO COFFEE THIS WEEK

No use fussing now. If you forgot to get coffee last week for over the holiday, it just can't be helped, for housewives and consumers are unable to purchase any this week. It will go on sale again to the public Nov. 29, and from that date until Jan. 3, 1943, stamp No. 27 in war rationing book One, will permit purchase of one pound of coffee upon presentation.

Retailers, however, may not sell coffee to persons who they know to have more than one pound of coffee per person in the family when the stamp is presented. Each ration book held by any one 15 years of age or over when received originally permits purchase of one pound of coffee during the five-week period.

Another Thing for Which We're Fighting

MORE SCRAP IS NEEDED!

The American people have done a splendid job in collecting scrap metal, but steel mills are still hungry. The cities and small towns have cooperated splendidly, but the farms of the nation, it is believed, still hold pounds of precious scrap. Another Scrap Drive is to be started soon, and Donald Nelson is asking the farmers of the Nation to dedicate the few remaining weeks of the year, to collecting the scrap. The following telegram was sent to The Advertiser Wednesday by Mr. Nelson. The message reads as follows:

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24, 1942

The Plymouth Advertiser:

The government is asking the American farmer to dedicate the remaining weeks of 1942 to an intensified scrap hunt. Steel mills need more heavy scrap and the farms are one of the best sources for this type of metal. We need your further help in this farm drive and in aiding our salvage committees to continue this effort throughout the next few weeks; mats and other material to help you are being prepared and will be mailed soon. All salvage committees are being instructed to continue to make available to the farmer all their transportation facilities and manpower, and to cooperate with you in every possible way. The nation is looking to the American farmer. I am sure, with your help, he will come through. (Signed)

DONALD M. NELSON, Chairman.

Any farmer who wishes to dispose of scrap can notify The Advertiser Office, Don Einzel, Jr., at the post office, or drop a post card to any authorized dealer in junk. Transportation of scrap can be arranged, and it is your duty to turn in the scrap.

Mrs. SARAH SHEELY Passes Away Deadline Postponed

The deadline for disposal of idle tires has been postponed from Nov. 22 to Dec. 1 at which time nationwide gasoline rationing is scheduled to go into effect, according to regional Office of Price Administration.

After the first of next month any person who possesses more than five tires per vehicle will not be given gasoline until the excess tires are turned into the Railway Express Agency, official government receiving agency for idle tires.

Harold Ruckman of the local office states more than a hundred tires have been turned in to his office.

DeVoe Rites Held On Sunday; Buried Here

Funeral services for C. E. DeVoe, 81, of Greenwich, who died last Monday at his winter home at St. Petersburg, Florida, were conducted at the Hines and Bender Funeral home in Greenwich Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Wallace Bryenton, pastor of the United Methodist church officiated and burial was made in Greenlawn cemetery, Plymouth.

USED HOSIERY DRIVE BEGINS

OLD SILK AND NYLON HOSE NEEDED FOR POWDER BAGS

Every runner in your stockings means good luck to the boys who are firing the guns. They need all the silk and nylon stockings you aren't using. They will be made into powder bags so they don't have to stop firing to clean their guns between shots. Collection boxes have been set up at the hosiery counters at the Plymouth Dry Goods and Hatch's Millinery store. Into these you are asked to bring ALL your discarded WASHED stockings, made of all silk, all nylon, silk and nylon, silk and rayon, nylon and rayon, silk and cotton, nylon and cotton. You need not sort them as they will all be sorted at the large collection depots where they are eventually to end up.

You aren't asked to give up your good hose—only those no longer fit to wear. Simply launder them and take to one of the above stores. You will receive no compensation for your hosiery nor will the dealer receive any. It is for his efforts, but the armed service will. They need them.

The discarded silk hose are shredded by a machine which retains the silk thread. It is then woven into cartridge cloth and made into powder bags. The natural characteristics of silk which causes it to burn rapidly and give no ash or residue makes it invaluable as a material to hold gunpowder when it is loaded into the big guns.

As it burns completely and does not smolder it also eliminates the danger of igniting a full powder bag by smoldering cloth left in the gun after each shot.

Since cotton, rayon and linen leave an ash when they are burned they are not suitable for holding gunpowder.

The nylon is used for the manufacture of other important war materials.

INDICTED BY JURY

Indictments were returned in two joint bills against Floyd H. Albright, 28; Melvin G. Biglin, 18; and Daniel Rabold Jr., 19, all of Shelby area, when the Crawford county grand jury met at Bucyrus last week. They were charged with arson and malicious destruction of property arising from a Halloween celebration.

HOME ON FURLOUGH

Sam Spensler who is stationed at Hamilton Field, Calif., surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Spensler of west of Plymouth last Wednesday, and is enjoying a short furlough with them.

Around the Square

(By Phineas Whittleseed)

IN BEING THANKFUL today do not forget tax time in March!

OTIS MOORE and his street crew had a big job this week unpluging a sewer on Mills Ave. and Plymouth street. Just another case of a feller not doing the job right ten years ago.

WHAT'S YOUR outlook on gas rationing? Unless Bob Lofland, who operates McBrick Dairy, and who is the only route in Plymouth, gets more gas, it is likely that daily delivery will be cut out. Lofland has two trucks and averages about 50,000 miles a year. He was allowed sufficient gas to operate 9,000 miles. Looks like walking to me!

MONDAY was a dreary day—it was very cloudy, dreary and raining; But the weather didn't have any effect on Mrs. Lucille Hoss. The maids brought her five letters from her sea going husband—Bill Ross, who is somewhere on the deep-blue sea. Boy, was she all smiles.

DID YOU see the front cover of this week's Saturday Evening Post? Kinda reminds one of a local boy who is a cook in the army. At least, we hope Hank Watts reads the story!

GRANDPA JOE LASH was a little late getting down to work Wednesday morning. Yes, a six pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. (nee Clela Lash) Max Smith Wednesday morning at the Shelby hospital. Mother and son are doing fine. Mr. Smith is in the service somewhere "over there." The only remark "Uncle Joe" had to make was: "When you get to be grandpa, you're bound to feel a little older."

THE PLYMOUTH Elevator has started construction of additional space for the storing of soy beans. They'll have more definite news about this next week.

ABOUT the next thing the army and navy will start will be a course in penmanship. Legibility would speed up mail service 50 per cent. Well, anyway, I write the boys through this column.

NOT QUITE SURE: Office Boy (nervously): Please, sir, I think you're wanted on the telephone. Boss: You think! What's the good of thinking? Don't you know?

Office Boy: Well, sir, the man on the line said, "Hello, is that you, old idiot?"

SHE SHOULD BE! She: "For a spinster of 40, Miss Rhodes is a remarkably well preserved woman, don't you think?" He: "Well, she ought to be. She got pickled last night and camed this morning!"

WHERE ambition gets you, Work faithfully for eight hours a day, and don't worry, then in time you may become the boss and work twelve hours a day and have all the worry.

WHOLLY OFFER to write this column for next week? Copy has to be by Tuesday. We're seriously sincere. Telephone. Discover your literary ability—perhaps you have a future. I laugh and my readers cry when I write it—PWT.

REMOVED HOME

Mrs. Luther Brown and son have been released from the Willard hospital and removed to her home on Porter street.

Home Ec News

The first Home Ec. class has been making very delicious Angel Food and sponge cakes. They all turned out with much success and enjoyed by all.

The second year class is sewing. They turned out nice work on their Red Cross clothing and are now sewing on whatever they wish.

Both classes helped at the Rabbit Feast Monday night. Delicious and wholesome food was fixed. We are sure everyone got their share and then some including Mr. Joseph and it was enjoyed by all.

Chapel News

Because of the program which will be held at the school on Wednesday afternoon for Thanksgiving, there was no chapel on Monday. However, two reels of film were shown in that period. One reel dealt with Tuberculosis and the other one was an interesting film circus.

The Eighth Grade had charge of the Chapel program for Monday, November 16. The program was very novel and was enjoyed by all. It consisted of: Scripture, Robert Posekany; Song, Bonnie Pennell, Helen Whitcomb, Ruth Winbigler; Charades, Members of the class; Song, Geraldine Moser; Skit, Robert Posekany; Bonnie Pennell, Ruth Winbigler.

The Charades were especially good. The class and the audience guessed them.

After the program by the 8th grade Mr. Spirk was asked to say a few words and the band played one number while the students filed out.

Girl Reserves

Last Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Schreck from Bucyrus gave an interesting display of her talents as a ventriloquist. She gave a program nearly an hour in length. Some of her main features were singing with her lips taped, a skit in which she changed her voice to represent the different imaginary characters and a skit with two dummies, Jimmy and Janie.

The H-Y boys and the girls of the Sophomore class were invited to attend this program as well as the Girl's Reserves.

Now that we have some backing we will be making more progress. The officers of the Girl's Reserve have chosen the following sponsors: Mrs. Lester Seaman, Mrs. Stella Clark, Mrs. Earl Stiving, Mrs. Clyde Smith, Miss Edith West, Mrs. Alfred James, Mrs. W. W. Pittenger and Mrs. Nevin Stover.

If you haven't purchased your Christmas cards yet, see any member of the G. R. and they will gladly show you the samples. We now have in our samples some very nice greeting cards for the boys in service, which is called the "Victory Box". This box sells for $1.00 with 16 folders. When you send the boys one of these cards, it shows how much you really appreciate what they are doing for us.

Library News

One of the most noticeable improvements in the school building this year is the new library. It has a seating capacity of 30 or 40 if necessary, which makes it large enough for a class room. The lighting system is indirect lighting and it proves satisfactory.

The new floor space proves beneficial for the books can be displayed on shelves around the wall for the students to see. The new library occupies twice as much space as the old library. The new editions of the Reader's Digest, America by David Coyle; Giant Home Workshop Manual; What the Citizens Should Know About the Army, Navy, Air Corp and Marines; Air Education Series; 10 editions of Webster's Collegiate dictionaries, and also some of the editions of the Reader's Digest. There are approximately 2,200 books in the library now. Mrs. Emily Braden also gave some very nice fiction books to the library.

The enlarged space has proved of great benefit for the books are being read more than in previous years.

Seventh Grade News

Besides the notebook of Ohio that we are making in Geography we are making a notebook of the shape of Ohio and putting into their information about the early settlers. All of us are making these notebooks alike.

Eighth Grade News

The eighth grade has been having demonstrations in science, under the supervision of Mr. Pittenger, we have carefully kept a notebook in which we keep our demonstrations. Also we have been finding that "Current Events" was a school paper is not only educational but interesting also. Our last paper told us something that everybody has been wondering about. The item was concerning men that would be drafted first SHILOH SCHOOL. GAL 2 and how they stood.

In mathematics we have been studying about "interests." We have found that it is easy once you have mastered it.

Our English club chose officers again. They are quite capable of taking office. We hope Geraldine Moser will do as well as Joan Guthrie, our former news-reporter.

The 8th grade had charge of Chapel Nov. 9th. Miss Richards is our advisor and she helped us plan our program.

Freshman Class News

The Freshman Class is happy to have two new classmates. Their names are Lurley Jean Boggs and Joe Pratt. We are also sorry to have lost one member, Mary Conway.

The Freshman class is planning a roller-skating party next Friday night. This is our first class party and we hope for a good time and lots of fun.

Our new officers for the English club, "The Fresh and Peppy 26" are as follows: President, Howard Clark; Secretary, Lurley Jean Boggs.

Sophomore News

We are sorry to see Edwin Briner moved to Shelby. Edwin was president of our class. On last Friday Dean Wolford was elected as president of the class in Edwin's place.

New officers were also elected for the English club: President, Denver Shepherd; V. Pres, Dick Pittenger; Secretary, Dean Wolford.

Since Mr. Spirk has gone Mr. Pittenger is our new World History teacher.

Junior Class

Now that our play is over with we wish to thank everyone who made it a success. We hope you enjoyed seeing it as much as we enjoyed showing it to you.

Don't forget, we're collecting tax stamps. Any member of the Junior class will be glad to relieve you of yours.

Senior Class

As you know Mr. Spirk was our advisor before he was called to be one of Uncle Sammy's boys in the air. He has been our advisor for three years now. So you can understand how badly we feel about his going. We want to thank you for everything, Mr. Spirk, and we wish you the very best of luck. We're hoping you'll be back with us soon.

The Snooper!!!!

When Blanche Smith found out that the meaning of "shrewd" was frightenedness, she said, "I got glasses because I was shrewd!" Marvelous deduction, My dear Watson!

Junior James had a hard time straightening out his items and atoms. One item of hydrogen is a small atom to him.

The Seniors are once more selling magazines. If one of our members fails to contact you, please let us know. Just call 2731 and our service will be prompt.

Did you notice the number of boys who were blushing around school last Monday. I later found out that it wasn't that they were blushing but that they had a fight with lipstick as their only weapons. Thus the roses in their cheeks!

And did you hear about Wade Kinsel asking Jimmy Reynolds to talk to Martha Lofland for him? Remember Casey, "A faint heart never won fair lady." It seems that Jean Hall is being rushed by quite a number of Bobs. Bob Hamman must have gotten there first last Friday night though. You're slipping, Swartz! Miss Richards certainly got her "fathers and mothers" mixed in Chapel the other day. "Her father she" and "Her mother he"—very confusing, Miss Richards.

In reply to J. James rather rude question as to whether she had a license for her trailer, Blanche remarked, "No, but I got four new tires." Nice going, Blanche!

Have you heard about "Crazy Water Crystals"? Jimmy James says they're things to make you small good. Could he mean bath crystals? Hmmm, maybe so!

MOTORISTS ADVISED TO KEEP TRACK OF ALL GAS COUPONS

Huron county War Price and Rationing Board suggests to all motorists that they write their license number and state on the back of each gasoline coupon. The purpose of this suggestion is to protect the individual owner in case of loss. This suggestion is in line with a policy announced by the Office of Price Administration.

No Hoarding of Coffee

The Office of Price Administration has taken steps to prevent the accumulation of large stock of coffee in individual households. Section 1407.975 of the regulations provides that no person who owns more than one pound of coffee shall use a war ration stamp for the purpose of purchasing coffee. The section is quoted as follows: (a) No consumer shall acquire roasted coffee if he owns or possesses more than one pound of coffee for personal use and no person shall transfer, roasted coffee to a consumer if he knows or has reason to believe that said consumer owns or possesses more than one pound of coffee for personal use. (b) The surrender of a coffee stamp by a consumer, for the purpose of acquiring roasted coffee from a retailer or wholesaler shall constitute a representation to the Office of Price Administration that such consumer neither owns nor possesses more than one pound of coffee for personal use.

MISS VIRGINIA FABER WEDS STAFF SERGEANT THOMAS LAWTON WEBBER

Miss Virginia Faber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Faber, Shelby, was united in marriage to Staff Sergeant Thomas Lawton Webber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack A. Webber of Oberlin, at 8 o'clock Saturday morning in the rectory of the Most Pure Heart of Mary Catholic Church in that city.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Michael A. McFadden. Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller of Shelby. The bride was attired in a Venetian blue suit trimmed in sheered beaver with brown accessories and wore a corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Miller, sister of the bride, wore a brown suit with brown accessories and a corsage of bronze mums.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony on a short wedding trip.

The former Miss Faber, a graduate of Shelby High school and Mansfield Business school, is employed at the Castamba theatre. The bridegroom graduated from Oberlin High school and later attended the University of Oklahoma. He is stationed at Chicago. Staff Sergeant Webber is well known in Plymouth, having clerked at Webber's Drug Store at various times, and has many friends here. He is also a nephew of Mrs. Anna Fate.

THANKSGIVING DAY GUESTS

ALPHA GUILD TO HOLD PARTY

Members of the Alpha Guild will hold their Christmas party next Tuesday, December 1st at the church annex. A ten cent gift exchange will be a feature of the evening and members are requested to bring their sales tax stamps. Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Lena Derringer, Mrs. Louis Gebert and Mrs. Alberta Hoffman.

GARDEN CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Robinson entertained the Garden Club Friday evening, Nov. 20, at their home on Trux street. The roll call was answered with Thanksgiving quotations. The president, Mrs. Bartholomew had charge of the business meeting. The program committee which was Mrs. Bartholomew, Mrs. Chaffield and Mrs. Ford, reported on the calendar for the coming year, subject to such changes as are necessary to suit the convenience of the club. Mrs. Cliff Sourwine was the leader and described the first trees of the south in a very interesting manner. Mr. Trauger told of his experience in raising figs in this climate. It was, of course, necessary to cover the tree during our cold winter.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ford, Dec. 18 and will be the Christmas party. She will be assisted by Mrs. Chaffield.

SUNDAY VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Murlin of East Orange, N. J., who are visiting in the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Fate, had as Sunday visitors Rev. and Mrs. LePage and family of Shelby, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bond, Mrs. Maerkish and daughter of North Fairfield. Week end visitors in the same home were Mr. and Mrs. John Fate of Chicago, Ill.

MARtha JEFFERSON CLUB CHANGES MEETING PLACE

MR. AND MRS. CLARENCE BURKETT WILL OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Memories of fifty years ago will be revived Saturday evening when the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren will gather at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burkett on Trux street in observance of their Golden Wedding anniversary. Nov. 27th is the actual date, but the family found it more convenient to observe it on the 28th and a gala affair is anticipated.

Clarence Burkett and his bride-elect, Miss Susanna Fike, exchanged nuptial vows at the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Fike in Seneca county with the Rev. Myers, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church officiating. They were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Cora Fike and Mr. John Smith, who also were united in marriage some years later and both of whom are still living.

The young couple went to housekeeping in New Washington and came to Plymouth in 1916. Mr. Burkett at that time was employed at afternoon of Mr. Brown's niece, Miss Mildred Flanagan to her Harry R. Humbert at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Flanagan was attended in a dusty blue, two-piece dress with luggage brown accessories and wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Her attendant descended the stairs, Miss Tomcek played the Wedding March and was met by the groom before an improvised altar in one corner of the room against a background of white, yellow and orchid colored chrysanthemums. During the ceremony "Love's Old Sweet Song" was softly played by Miss Tomcek.

Miss Mildred Flanagan Married in Home Ceremony Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brown and son Jimmie attended the wedding Saturday afternoon at Mr. Brown's home. Miss Mildred Flanagan to her Harry R. Humbert at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Flanagan was attended in a dusty blue, two-piece dress with luggage brown accessories and wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Her attendant descended the stairs, Miss Tomcek played the Wedding March and was met by the groom before an improvised altar in one corner of the room against a background of white, yellow and orchid colored chrysanthemums. During the ceremony "Love's Old Sweet Song" was softly played by Miss Tomcek.

Immediately following the wedding the young couple took a short wedding trip and returned to Dearborn, Mich., where both are employed in the office of the Ford Motor Company. Mrs. Humbert is a graduate of Lykens High school and Tiffin Business school, and Mr. Humbert is also a graduate of the same business school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Humbert of Liberty township.

Mrs. Humbert and her parents resided at the Tourist Club Inn, Plymouth a number of years ago and frequently return to renew old friendships.

A buffet supper was served Monday evening to members of the Tourist club when they met at the home of Mrs. J. E. Nimmons in regular session. Mrs. Annabelle Knight presided and other members and one guest Mrs. Fine Frick were present for the affair. The table was attractively decorated in keeping with the Thanksgiving season.

Mrs. Anna Belle Knight as leader reviewed two articles taken from the National Geographic entitled "Kentucky-Boone's great meadow" and "Life in Dauntless Darwin's Australia."

field, Mrs. Wayne Whatman of Mansfield, and Mrs. J. Fullager of Shelby. There are also eight great-grandchildren and two great-grandchildren to complete the circle.

The best wishes of the community are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Burkett on this memorable occasion.

PLYMOUTH YOUTH

more or less that their reports are true. We are not prepared for a long safari, and do not stay overnight in the headhunters' territory. Native guides are an absolute necessity to insure one's safe return to the camp. Unauthorized persons in this area do not have escort and their heads may be found drying in some hut or temple weeks after they have been reported missing. Now don't be alarmed by this report, as the people are very friendly to us and do most of the heavy work. They are civilized enough to know what silver ropes are, and they insist on being paid in silver, as they do not trust the paper notes issued to the soldiers. The silver coins must also have the head of King George the Sixth on them, as they know that the Indian Government recalled all old coins and certificates with George the Fifth's head paid the native porters to carry our equipment as it was a long hard climb and a few minutes walk through the forest left one wringing wet with perspiration.

As we gained altitude it became cooler and little clouds of condensed vapor could be seen rising from the backs of the men as they passed through the cool, shady sections along the trail. Wild monkeys were left behind the first day and now it is rumored that an ape is the only anthropoid in this vicinity. Some of the boys say that they have heard (or her) bark in the night, but so far I have heard nothing, although we are prepared for the worst.

Last night a deer came into camp, and early this morning some of our boys with the aid of a guide, trailed it. It may not be long until we may have plenty of fresh meat instead of Vienna Sausages, Spam and Corned Beef. We may even have pork since we are sure there are some wild hog around, as the natives wear their tusks through the lobes of their ears. We can buy plenty of ducks and small chickens, but we have to cook them ourselves, usually at night when we are free. Last evening some of the fellows barbecued the hind quarter of a small deer, which they had bought for one rupee (30c). I had a small piece at one o'clock this morning and it was still not quite done. We have been having difficulty in getting our fires hot enough to cook even in the cast iron range in the cook's bamboo hut. It may be the altitude, and instead of using wood, they plan to try coal carried in on the backs of porters. We have also been burning quite a bit of bamboo which smokes and cracks like rifle fire. Anyway, anything is worth trying and after a few failures and improvements, we may have a hot fire and a well cooked meal. We have not had any bread because the two ovens could not be made hot enough. Nor is it being dropped from planes for reasons hard to explain as they do think of methods to drop liquid fuel and provisions to isolated outposts more remote than ours. We seem to get plenty of beer and cigarettes, but not breakfast cereal, which gives me a pain. Tell Ben to try to get to India if he likes Spam. If the cooks should lose their can openers we would be in a helluva fix.

There is a package on the way from APO 886 sent the early part of September, and I doubt if I will be able to get another one on the way for quite some time. It is the packing that is the big job. There will be native trinkets, arrows, spears, cross bows, and ivory army bands which may weigh as much as three or four pounds. If a big spear was to be shipped it would probably have to be cut in two or maybe three pieces.

We have our communications receiver and listen to San Francisco and London. But in regard to news, would like clippings from any newspaper. Clippings from the Advertiser should be sent, as the paper is always late in coming. I would like a good "LIFE" Magazine and TIME.

What do people back home think of the war. How long will it last, etc. We have heard of the Solomon Islands affair and wonder what the outcome will be.

Thanks for the pictures that were sent. I look at them every day and some times they almost make me homesick. Send more pictures. I will try to get some from here, but think they are mostly for the record.

I must write to Carl Sponseller, and do you hear from young Fetters?

In addressing me, be sure and put in "2nd platoon" as this facilitates in distributing the mail. I will try and get a letter out every week, if possible. I am listed on the platoon roster as (censored). This is the only place in these two letters from Neil that were censored.

Yours,
Sgt. Neil R. Gebert (3597732)

Fort Knox, Ky. Nov. 18, 1942

Dear Friends,
A few lines to let you know where I am and what we are doing. I am back in Ft. Knox, Ky. going to radio expert school. I have taken up radio operator and Technician, courses here and now in the last course they have. I have to get up ten minutes till four in the morning and go to school at six where we are in the shop for three hours, then we go to the laboratory for three hours. We still have two weeks of experimental work at the end of the class, so if we can, we can work out anything that will be of a help to the set we can apply it to them. There are only nine of us in the class and most of them are tired of us already.

I had my choice of furlough later so here I am in school hoping to get the furlough when I get through the morning and go to school for six days and receive a second Lieutenant commission. Anything is a lot better than living on the California desert. My division is still on the desert. We went through three months of maneuvers in a sun of one hundred and forty to fifty, going two to three days without a meal. It developed one of the most rugged divisions in the army. We covered 1,300,000 acres in all.

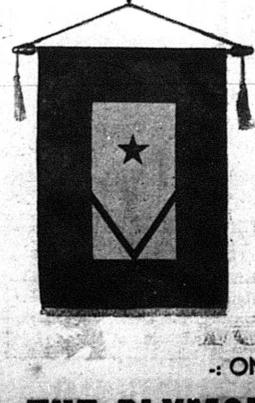

I was radio operator and electrician for observation group. I was on a plane most of the time where it was cool. It is about time for me to look tomorrow's lesson over before lights go out, so I will sign off.

Basketball Schedule Is Announced Today

Many questions have been asked regarding the basketball activities for the year. It has been very indefinite whether the schedule could be played until a short time ago. Arrangements have been made so that there will be but one game played by the visiting teams with the exception of Shiloh and New Haven. The schedule is as follows:

Dec. 4—At Shiloh
 Dec. 11—New Haven here.
 Dec. 18—Luna here.
 Jan. 13—At Ontario.
 Jan. 15—Shiloh here.
 Jan. 22—At Belleville.
 Jan. 27—At New Haven.
 Jan. 29—Madison here.
 Feb. 5—At Lexington.
 Feb. 12—Butler here.
 Feb. 19—At Union.

ACTIVITIES OF THE SENIOR CLASS FOR THE WEEK

The senior class has very little to report in the way of activities. There is still talk of Mr. Fleagle's visit to Plymouth high school on Friday, Nov. 26, 1942. His visit and talk made to the assembly was enjoyed by all former friends of his before he entered the army the first of this year.

This week the seniors are all looking forward to tomorrow as they all know school will be dismissed at 2:30 Wednesday, so all students may enjoy Thanksgiving Thursday, Nov. 26, and the senior class will enjoy this short vacation from school work and some of them may be able to catch up on lost sleep, but I doubt it. Charles Amick, Reporter.

Lt. LaMar Fleagle

Addresses School
 The following was condensed from a talk by Lt. LaMar Fleagle, Friday, before the school assembly.

Lt. Fleagle enlisted at Toledo, Ohio on Jan. 26, 1942. He was sent to Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., a reception center, where he was stationed for three weeks. While there he managed to escape KP duty and spent most of his time loafing.

At the end of three weeks, word came, he along with approximately 250 others, was placed on a troop train and sent out. The men did not know until later where they were being sent. But they learned that Camp Crowder, Missouri, was their destination.

They arrived there on Feb. 1 to find camp nothing more than a "mud hole in the Ozarks." They were among the first to arrive and there were no good roads, no heat in what buildings there were, no recreation furnished, and to top it all, an insufficient food supply. Soon after arriving, he, being assigned to the signal corps, took tests in electricity and sending and receiving code.

Lt. Fleagle was stationed at Camp Crowder for several months and saw the camp grow from 1500 men to approximately 40,000; from a "mud-hole" to one of the most beautiful camps he has yet seen.

While there he taught for a time six classes a day in Aircraft Warning Service school. They were mostly in their twenties, but it is interesting to note that one man was 60 years old.

Somehow he got the idea that he could be an officer. So he applied for the Officers Candidate school. He was then sent to Ft. Monmouth, N. J., to the Signal Corps school.

It was at this point that Lieut. Fleagle received the greatest disappointment of his army life. There was a delay while enroute to New Jersey, so he sent a telegram that he would be home for the length of the delay. Just as he was about to leave for home, word came that there would be no more delay and that they were once more on the way to Ft. Monmouth.

Ft. Monmouth is one of the oldest camps in the country. In 1917 the U. S. Air Force started in this camp. Of course at that time there were comparatively few planes and most of the pilots were trained at Ft. Monmouth. The Signal Corps at that time was part of the Air Force, but later formed a unit of their own. The camp is located right along the Atlantic Coast.

In the East, since gas rationing has come into effect, there are very few civilian cars. Most travel is done by means of subway and trains.

Lieut. Fleagle leaves for camp at Orlando, Fla., where he will spend two months in study and will be transferred to Washington State. All who knew Lieut. Fleagle were happy to see him and know of his promotion.

School dismissed Wednesday afternoon for a short Thanksgiving vacation. Classes will be resumed on Monday, Nov. 30.

STATIONED AT MARYLAND

James Clinage, 21, is stationed at the Edgewood arsenal in Maryland. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clinage of Mansfield, and is 20 years ago resident in Plymouth.

By LYTLE HULL
 A Danger Zone

We are—at the moment of this writing—approaching one of those danger zones of the kind which has robbed so many armies of victory in the long tragic history of warfare. It is the danger zone of over-confidence, big talk, and boasting. One of those periods in which backstage publicity warriors hull us with dreams of false security with loud-mouthed boasting about the speed with which the craven enemy is running before our invincible armies.

The average American commander is the equal and possibly the superior of the average foreign commander, provided he is familiar with the territory over which he is fighting and with various conditions therein which may affect his plans of campaign.

To have an even chance against an efficient enemy, an army must be well manned, well fed, well clothed, and well supplied with all the essential armaments. To provide these necessities is the job of the governments of the nations at war.

But the managers of these governments can't run around picking up scrap-iron and old rubber tires; nor can they raise corn and put it in the hands of foodstuffs; nor can they lend the government the necessary finances out of their own pockets; nor raise sheep to provide wool for soldiers' clothing; nor can they be the men to carry the guns. The People must do all the chores, and the People will only exert their full energies if they are kept aware of the constant danger which never ceases in war until the Peace Treaties are signed.

At the moment of this writing things are looking up for us here. This is the "danger period" during which we are very apt to relax. But if we want to continue this favorable turn we must redouble our efforts. We must pull in our belts to the last notch; we must dig deeper into our resources for money to buy more War Bonds; we must hunt more "scrap"; save more fuel oil and gasoline. We must not relax—or the tide will turn again and months of effort, money, blood and sweat will have been wasted. The enemy will redouble his efforts if conditions are going against him. We must redouble ours. Wars are won and lost on these very issues.

Let's Give Thanks

THIS IS THE FIRST THANKSGIVING IN TWENTY FIVE YEARS THAT OUR NATION WILL HAVE EXPERIENCED A WAR.

WE WISH TO GIVE THANKS FOR THE HARD WORK ON THE HOME FRONT TO SUPPORT OUR BOYS ON THE FIGHTING FRONT.

NOTICE TO USERS OF GASOLINE FOR NON-HIGHWAY RATIONING

Any person desiring to register for gasoline for non-highway usage such as various types of motors or tractors must do so this week, November 23 through November 29th.

Registrations are to be made in the county where that person resides even though the motor or tractor which is to use the gasoline is housed in another county. If any person does not register this week, but waits to do so later it may be several weeks before his application can be considered by his respective county board.

Applications for additional gasoline may be mailed to the rationing board at the county seat after having been carefully studied and completed by the applicant.

However, arrangements have been completed whereby all applicants may appear in person and have their needs considered immediately at the Cole Junior High school auditorium in Norwalk for residents of Huron county.

Dorothy Walker of Willard, R. D. No. 2, the plaintiff, in her petition asserts that on May 20 of this year, while she was riding southward in a car driven by Gladys Walters at New Haven on Route 61, a truck of the Motor Cargo Co., 700 Carroll St., Akron, collided with the vehicle in which she was a passenger. The truck, it is stated, was eastbound on U. S. Route 224.

Collision In Funeral Procession Basis of Suit

The plaintiff, who was enroute to a funeral in Plymouth, asserts she suffered severe injuries.

PLENTY TO BE THANKFUL FOR

Although there were many people who objected to any celebration of Armistice day this year, there is no one who would suggest elimination of Thanksgiving day.

During this war year there are more families than usual who have heavy burdens to bear—who are heart sick over the war and their boys in uniform—but even those families, in spite of their worries and anxiety, can find plenty to be thankful for.

Our part in the war is, in itself, a sort of an expression of thanks—a war in which we are showing our deep appreciation for the things we have in America by fighting to preserve those things.

It is during this war to preserve freedom and democracy and our high standard of living that we think most about those things and realize how lucky we are to have them. We in America probably have more to be thankful for, and consequently more that is worth fighting for, than any other nation in the world.

SHOP FOR CHRISTMAS NOW

The slogan "Do Your Christmas Shopping Early" has been used so much in recent years that we don't pay much attention to it any more. But this year it needs to be emphasized more than ever—for those of us who don't do their Christmas shopping early are apt to be unable to do any Christmas shopping at all.

There is a lot of Christmas merchandise available this year, but the supplies are below normal and the stores are going to have difficulties getting new stock when their present stock is exhausted. In addition, because there are many unusual types of gifts which are not available, there will be a heavier demand for those things which can be obtained. And because the public has more money to spend this year than it has ever had before, the total demand for Christmas gifts is apt to reach an all-time record.

For your personal interest—in order to be able to get the things you want—it is therefore important to do your Christmas shopping immediately. And for the sake of the storekeepers who are short of help and who face delivery problems, it will be a life-saver if that last-minute Christmas rush can be avoided.

U. S. - Jap War War Nears End

With Enemy's Optimism Waning

Just how do the Japanese feel about all this war business they started? At the beginning of the war they capitalized on treacherous years of preparation, and "hopes" of having at least one seemingly invincible ally, The Nazis.

But now they see the handwriting on the wall? Or has the Russian gun which has afflicted with myopia to the extent that they can't see a thing until it hits them, as has been the case so often during the past few weeks when Uncle Sam's land, air and sea power has been giving them a thorough going over.

On Guadalcanal they took a continued drubbing. It was the licking they were taking there that caused them to try to reinforce that garrison, only to lose 23 ships in a running battle with the U. S. navy off the coast of Guadalcanal.

In New Guinea they have been slowly pushed back by the combined forces of Americans and Australians. For a while it seemed as though India was going to be overrun. Today, instead, American bombers are playing havoc with Jap factories, installations, and equipment wherever they might be in the alert.

In India, the Japs are on that note. They continuously expect the Allied attack to be launched from that district to recover Burma from the Chinese, too, is a thorn in the side that hurts more and more after six years. Japanese progress there just isn't. Allied bombers from Chinese bases are steadily stepping up their attacks on Jap military positions. Instead of weakening, China today is stronger than ever.

In Alaska the situation is not one that would make the Japanese military any too happy. Within a month they lost two-thirds of what they had occupied. It isn't a pleasant sea voyage back home to Tokyo from the Aleutians.

Besides their Japanese in fighting fronts, besides the rising resistance of their enemies wherever they may be, the Japs are also seeing, daily, that their Axis allies are not the invincible warriors they had told the world they were. The Nazi empire, the world, of course, that Russia would be polished off—according to schedule. The Red army is still there giving in equal amounts for all that it "gets."

Hitler's puppet, Mussolini, is having a hard time of it. His empire is daily disintegrating. His soldiers are having the time of their lives as prisoners of war. The Jap never imagined that North Africa would be used as a race track, with Rommel leading the race back home.

The invasion of Africa by U. S. Expeditionary Forces put more water on the Japanese war fire.

After the invasion the Tokyo radio shouted that the U. S. couldn't do that—it wasn't legal. Eh, while they shouted they also watched and were amazed at the speed and efficiency of Uncle Sam's army and navy as it worked according to plan. Here was something better: do that—it wasn't legal. Eh, while they shouted they also watched and were amazed at the speed and efficiency of Uncle Sam's army and navy as it worked according to plan.

SIX INCH SERMON

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

The Mission of the Church. Lesson for November 29: Matthew 18:15-17; Acts 1:8; 2:42; 6:1-4; 11:27-30; 13:1-3; 1 John 1:3.

Golden Text: John 20:21.

In this first of a unit of three lessons dealing with the Church, we consider in several pertinent passages the Mission of the Church.

In the first scripture we learn that it is the mission of the Church to heal strife between brethren and to promote Christian fellowship.

The Church is the dwelling-place of the Holy Spirit, for He was promised to the early church and promised to be witnesses. It is a mission of the Church to witness.

The promotion of right worship is one mission of the Church. Much depends upon intelligent worship, whether the form be simple or elaborate, even though all the meaning of the form may not be understood there is some value in the worshiper's belief in the form he is worshipping God.

The Church also promotes relief to the people and seven men were chosen who should be responsible for relief work in the church, while steps were soon to be taken to help needy people in Judea.

Last but not least there is the missionary work of the Church. In Antioch steps were first taken to send the gospel abroad. Hilbert the gospel had been spread by means of persecutions which scattered the disciples afar.

Christians in Antioch set apart Paul and Barnabas to go on a mission. Much we may well believe that only the missionary-minded church can win the world, and that no man can attain unto highest happiness.

TROP NEWS

Jim Moore, Russell Baker, Elden Burkett, Paul Scott and Gordon Seaholms were sworn in as "Minute Men" during meeting Monday night. Jim Moore was sworn in as a C. D. Messenger.

Troup Committee Chairman, Luther Brown, Scoutmaster Don Eisel and eighteen scouts attended the Cub Investigative held Monday evening.

BOY SCOUT CUB PACK OFFICIALLY INSTALLED

The Boy Scout Cub Pack of

troop No. 1, Plymouth, Ohio was officially installed Monday evening, when Floyd Dent, Area Scout executive of Mansfield presented the Cub charter to the Cubs and their parents who were assembled in the Lutheran church.

In addition to the Cubs and parents many visitors were present including the Boy Scout Troop leaders at Plymouth and several other area scout executives from Shelby and Mansfield.

The Pack meeting was called to order by Clancy Roe, chairman of the committee. He then turned the meeting over to Cub Master, James Root who gave some brief remarks relating to the purpose of cubbing, and also stated that the Den meetings were progressing splendidly in spite of the short time the group has been organized.

The Cub Master then turned the meeting over to Floyd Dent who gave a very humorous and inspirational talk to the Cubs, parents and visitors. He closed his address by impressing on the Cubs that regardless of what else they learned or did in cubbing they should always be "square" on everything they do and say.

The meeting was closed with the various dens performing some very clever stunts and gathering around the visiting scout executives and paying tribute to them with the "grand howl", which greatly amused the visitors.

Following the meeting the guests viewed the fine exhibit of arrow-heads, flint pictures, marbles, art work, and many other articles which the Cubs had made and collected.

A Christmas party is planned for the December Pack meeting with games, stunts, refreshments, etc. All parents are urged to attend this meeting and any other person who cares to come is cordially invited.

CHAPTER VII SYNOPSIS

Gary Tallman, a young petroleum engineer, was on his way to a job in Texas when he was given a ride by Mona Lee Mason. They have an accident, and his car is damaged. Mona Lee takes him to her home, and he stays there for a while. He is attracted to her, and she is attracted to him. They get together, and she goes to see a man named Harper about supplying water to operate the oiling machine.

Old man Harper lived in a long, unpaired house with a kind of open hallway through the middle of it. The porch sagged in sad scallops, each depression occupied by a languid, loutish dog.

Every dog's tail thumped like a signal drum on the wooden floor as they drove up to the gate, and from within the house a woman's voice called nasally, "Pa, here comes somebody!"

Harvey and Gary waited on the porch, surveyed with weary indifference the faces of the dogs. Then old man Harper came to the door. He wore corker boots and his shirt had probably cost fifty-nine cents, two or three years since.

"Hello, Harper," Mason pulled up a chair and sat down between two dogs. "I've got a little piece of business with you about that note," Harper said, "I'm fixing to pay it. When it's due."

"It's not about the note. If you ain't it, we can fix that up. What I want to talk about is some fellow who slipped down here through your pasture and pumping a little water over that creek. You got him to stop running the pipe line, and the water?"

Old Harper did not look up, but there was a flash in his mouth a sly and contemptuous twist. "Don't figure to charge ye nothing, Harvey."

"Well, I'll put up whatever the damages come to."

"Don't figure to charge you nothing, old man," because I don't give you to let you have any water, because I've leased every doggone acre of this place to some fellow down in Corpus Christi. And if there's any more water in that creek than what my cattle can drink, I reckon they'll want it themselves. They're paying me twenty dollars an acre for the water, and that's more than I can make off'n a bunch of cows."

"Well, I'll get it—I'll have to run a pipe plumb to the Gulf of Mexico side of it!"

Harvey stamped away. He trod the ground heavily and ran off in a cloud of dust. "What do you know?" he demanded wrathfully. "The dirt under his feet is coming to my house Sundays and eats my chicken and drinks my liquor, and then he comes to my house. I'd sure drive into town and give Mr. Oliver Kimball a good one to sell—the law!"

"I'm afraid you won't get any concentration out of that," Grice-Morgan said. "Garry was ambitious."

"Yeah, I've heard about them—'You might figure on running a pipe line to the Gulf of Mexico side of it, if they'd let you, you'd go talk to 'em. They've got water to sell—the law!"

"You want me to see about the concrete job? We can't put a derrick up without concrete corners and we have to concrete the surface."

"You said you knew a good outfit. Powers is the best. All new equipment, and they work fast and save you money."

"I'll get Addie to take you over to see them."

"Mr. Mason, why not wait a little while? I'm sure you can decide to put a test well on Harper's land. If it should do that—and it probably will—then you'll know for sure it was worth while going ahead with this proposition. And if you don't have a well, you'll have saved yourself a lot of trouble and money."

KIGHTING MILLER

By HELEN TOPPING MILLER W.N.U. FEATURES

"If they did get a dry hole," argued Harvey stubbornly, "that wouldn't prove that there wasn't any oil in the place. Maybe I've got it and there isn't any on Harper's land. That would be a swell joke on the part of your old man."

Already, in his racing imagination, Harvey was completely detached from the present. Adelaide was too busy to drive Gary over into the oil field.

MOVIE HOUSE VANDALS

Have you ever checked up on how your teenage boy and girl conduct themselves at the movies? We don't mean to be an alarmist, but vandalism is increasing in movie picture houses and somebody's children are responsible. Theater managers complain of the destruction of seats, curtains and other fittings by juvenile jitters.

One of them writes a letter to "Variety" in the hope of rousing the more reliable young people to, as he put it, "haze the cats into good behavior." We are glad to report that in a later note this same manager gratefully acknowledged co-operation from some "sex-tout Sisters."

You may think it couldn't possibly be your son or daughter who destroys property, disturbs the patrons who have come to enjoy the film and otherwise acts in a hoodlum manner. But young people in a darkened theater sometimes cease to be individuals and take on the characteristics of a mob so that without thinking they adopt manners quite foreign to their usual selves.

I'm sure you'll agree that the local motion picture theater brings so much pleasure to your neighborhood family not to receive your help in putting a stop to this regrettable behavior on the part of thoughtless boys and girls. But the danger goes far beyond the theater's loss, for it is but one evidence of a wartime psychosis which is leading to a rise in juvenile delinquency. England has been through all this especially in London so that when the fighting was farther from her shores, as it is today from our own, so that war's excitement and brutality came through to those at home without the sobering effect of being under fire themselves. All this is only natural—a people must have their emotional pent-up heightened in order to endure a war. Youngsters are more susceptible to excitement and have less experience in working it off through constructive activities.

But that's where parents, teachers and civic leaders come in. First, try to observe just how the adolescents you know are reacting to the relaxed discipline of a war period; second, keep them busy on projects which make them feel of the relaxation and have less energy your homes so pleasant and welcoming that they'll spend their evenings visiting—one night at Bob's house, the next at Mary's—instead of roaming the streets.

As for helping them improve their movie manners, the best way is to increase their interest in the picture itself. Movie admissions should come out of a young person's regular allowance, which is an incentive to shop for a good film. Mother and Dad should try to see the same film, though not necessarily at the same time. This discussion merits—there's nothing more fun than being an amateur critic and boys and girls make very good critics, and have less practice.

Junior members of the National Board of Review of Motion Pictures have earned the respect of New York's professional film critics because of their discriminating comments on acting, directing, photography, script writing—indeed, they don't miss a trick in film making. You may be sure that a youngster whose eyes and mind are busy judging every detail of a film, as well as enjoying the story, is too busy to harm the furniture or annoy his neighbors.

AMERICA GIVES THANKS FOR THE "LEAN DAYS" OF ITS STRENGTH

A little less than a year ago, a fat flabby America, dozing in the sun, narrowly escaped an assassin's death-trip aimed from behind.

We are thankful that nothing more serious than a "flesh wound" was inflicted, stirring the giant to furious action, and the greatest outpouring of the weapons of Victory that the world has ever seen.

These are stern days of sacrifice, stripped of many of our accustomed comforts and pleasures. We are not happy. We are not care-free. But we are united, determined—and THANKFUL.

Bid Refused

Only one bid was received for the property belonging to the village of Plymouth on Porter St. The village council recently advertised the lot and building on Porter street in which the fire department is now housed. A bid of $601 was received, but at Tuesday night's session it was turned down.

Council has been considering the purchase of the McBride property on the "point" on the east side of the Square with the intention of building, at a later date, a modern city building. But the high priced asked by the McBride estate for this property, along with the low bid received for the village property, forced the council to lay aside any plans of improvement for the present.

New Councilman

Mahlon Nimmons, well-known Plymouth citizen, was sworn in as a councilman Tuesday to succeed Councilman Dawson, who resigned. Due to the fact that Mr. Dawson works on a night shift at the local plant of the Fate-Roother-Heath Co., he felt that it was his duty to be relieved of the position as councilman.

Mr. Nimmons is well-known, and has a splendid reputation for being of "even keel." This is his first public office in Plymouth for many years.

XMAS SEAL DRIVE NOW ON LOCALLY

Preparations are well underway for the mailing of Christmas Seals starting Nov. 27 in Richland county. Plymouth residents have already begun to receive them.

Each seal is a cent apiece or $1.00 a sheet. Out of every dollar's worth of seals sold 80c is spent here in Richland county for case finding and education. Fifteen times a year a chest diagnostic clinic is held at the city building. The patient is x-rayed and examined by a specialist for consultation with any Richland county doctor.

Seals will be mailed to the homes as always. No children are selling seals. They are doing their part in the scheme by setting Dec. 11 aside as school health day, at which time they will buy tuberculosis bangles. If more seals are wanted in the county they can be secured from the following: Mrs. Clyde Brokaw, Shelby; Mrs. Hershel Hamman, Shiloh; and at the post office in Plymouth.

There is a file card for everyone receiving seals and a record is kept on your card of the money received and the stamps returned.

Help your family keep well by helping to care for your neighbor.

Workers Report

Mrs. Roscoe Hutchinson as captain for Plymouth township in the war chest and community drive reports a total of $132.60 subscribed.

The drive in Plymouth continues but was held up on account of lack of supplies. Their report will probably be ready within the next week.

MOVE TO SHELBY

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fellows and family who have been residing on the Springmill road have moved to 64 N. Gamble street, Shelby.

WHAT AND HOW TO FEED WAR PLANT WORKERS

The American Weekly . . . with this Sunday's (Nov. 29) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times, points out that food experts say workers can pack enough pep into a lunchbox to avoid . . . afternoon slump at the desk, or on the assembly line, and make up man-hours lost through illness—without putting a strain on the pocket book. Be sure to get Sunday's Detroit Times.

Miscalculations of a stubborn prophet. He promised his trusting followers that he'd live to be 120 years old on a most peculiar diet, but nobody was very much surprised when he missed his guess by half a century. Read of his amazingly individualistic career as told in the American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

Lt. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower

●When blue-eyed, youngish (52) Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, as the newly appointed commander of the American forces in the European Theater of Operations, arrived in London last June 24 he found an AEF composed of willing but inexperienced men untrained in combat tactics.

●But General Eisenhower, one of the first to talk of a second front, had been preparing for it ever since he emerged from the last war a lieutenant colonel in the tank corps. A student of military history and tactics, he is a specialist in mechanized warfare.

●General Eisenhower was born in Texas, grew up in Kansas, went to West Point. He was aide to Gen. Douglas MacArthur when the latter was chief of staff. Five years at Fort Harbord he was made chief of the War Plans division (later renamed the Operations division) of the general staff.
