

RICHLAND COUNTY OFFERS $50 TO PLYMOUTH COUNTY DEFENSE PROGRAM OUT OF A $19,000 APPROPRIATION

Plymouth gets "dubbed" again as being a "dumb" bunch up in the northern part of the county. At least this is the way the executive committee of the Plymouth Defense Council feels about the matter. And they rightly do so. When Richland county received its apportionment from the State Defense Council, the sum totalled around $19,000. The budget commission was to distribute the money to the various corporations and townships. The Plymouth Defense Council had anticipated receiving approximately $300 with which to buy necessary equipment for its home defense program.

Evidently, the budget commission in Richland county doesn't have much confidence in the ability of the home town folks to look after its affairs, for Mayor Derr has been notified that vouchers up to FIFTY DOLLARS will be approved by the county defense unit, if they see fit to do so.

Writes From Florida

The following interesting item was taken from a letter received by Mrs. Wilbur Shields, last week from her brother, J. E. Quown, who has recently been transferred to the Air Corps, and now located at Miami Beach, Fla. The letter states:

"The first thing I want to tell you is something I saw this evening (Sunday, June 21st). I happened to have 'Gene Autry' on the radio. They enacted a short skit that happened in the Philippines before I felt. I can't imagine my surprise when they mentioned Captain Elmer Parsel, as the man it was about. It was the bombing raid he led against the Japanese ships in the bay over there. He and his men were in the air over thirty hours, carrying out more raids than he had been ordered to do. They had to fight through enemy fighters, too. They really pruned him, and I certainly got a thrill out of it. I really was lucky to hear it. I never knew he got his distinguishable 'Flying Cross'. I wonder if anyone up there heard it? He was a great flyer, alright."

A BEAUTIFUL LILY

A lily growing in the garden of Mrs. Ben Waddington on Halberstadt street is living up to its name—Regal. Attaining a height of five feet, two inches, the lily is outstanding in its setting, with twenty-three of the most gorgeous and beautiful colors one can imagine. The cluster of lilies measures sixteen inches across. It is truly a beautiful sight.

Mrs. Waddington derives a great deal of pleasure from her flower garden and has many beautiful plants.

land's officials can't read figures.) Not only has Richland county officials been indifferent on this occasion, but there has been undue laxity in several instances, of which was the room registration. It wasn't until Huron county Draft Board made arrangements to have a place for registration in Plymouth, did the Richland county draft board make its last minute effort to co-operate—only after Mayor Derr had inferred that Huron county was cooperating wholeheartedly.

Being a divviver by county line of Richland and Huron counties, makes it very difficult for Plymouth to get fair consideration in many matters pertaining to the village. However, it can be said that Huron county officials have been very courteous and helpful in seeing that Plymouth county draft board makes numerous occasions when it is impossible for the village to have representation in the two county seats, and we're at the mercy of those who have the authority to act.

With war conditions bringing on more and more perplexing problems, it is an ideal time for Plymouth citizens and their citizens to band themselves together in a concerted effort to make all county officials realize that Plymouth is a village of more than 1400 souls, and not a cross roads town. It is time that the town is on the COUNTY LINE!

As a village we have a high rating in payment of taxes; we have a plant located in our midst operating on a war program; we have a library and school system which deserves careful consideration. We have enough arguments in our favor to provide for the county officials that they should be considered in a fair and impartial way, at least in the distribution of funds, and we should SEE that we get our share.

Being a divviver the loudest gets the most." These are the words of a former county commissioner some years ago, when the village entered a complaint on sales tax fund distribution. And right now is the time for the town to "holler."

As a result of Richland county's generous offer of $50, the local defense council entered a protest to the budget commission, a copy of which was mailed to Courtney Burton, State Council of Defense, Columbus.

SIX KITTENS ARE ADOPTED BY HEN ON SPENCER FARM

That the maternal instinct is probably the strongest force in the world, not only among humans but among animals also, is again brought to light by a story which comes from Spencer, near Wellington.

Mrs. John White, who lives on a farm southwest of Spencer, has a hen which is lovingly caring for six very young kittens. In true hen fashion, she sits among the kittens all day long and lets them crawl over her.

That she has truly adopted them is proved by the fact that there is trouble when the mother cat comes to feed her kittens and only with the help of Mrs. White is this accomplished.

Three weeks ago, Mrs. White placed the kittens in an old boiler, where the hen has been laying eggs. Upon arrival of the felines, the hen stopped laying and devoted her full time to the kittens.

If you doubt this story, you are welcome to call at the White farm and—seeing is believing.—The Wellington Enterprise.

41 REGISTER

All men who were born on or before Jan. 1, 1922 and on or before June 30, 1924, and who had not previously registered, took place throughout the nation on Saturday and again on Tuesday, in Plymouth, the registration took place at the Mayor's Office with 41 youths signing up; 17 from Huron county, 23 from Richland and one from Crawford. Only those 20 years of age or more will be called for military service.

Under a new plan, men will be given two weeks furlough after passing physical examinations for induction and at the end of the furlough they will report directly to their reception centers for actual induction. The present system is for immediate induction of men after examinations.

Volunteer workers included Mrs. F. B. Stewart, Mrs. George Hershiser and James Rhine, assisted by Mayor Derr.

GOOD JOB

To date $314.50 has been turned in to Mrs. S. C. Brown, chairman of the U. S. O. drive in Plymouth. With several more solicitors to report in, the total amount will probably hit $350.00. This is an exceptionally good showing; Plymouth had no definite goal to meet, but comparing with last year's drive of $130.00, this will be an increase of nearly 200 per cent. This amount includes both the contributions from the Fate-Root-Heath Company employes and the village of Plymouth as in.

Helpers in this great work were Mrs. C. O. Cramer, Mrs. Charles Lookabaugh, Mrs. W. C. McCaffrey, Mrs. Louis Gebert, Mrs. D. K. McGinty, Mrs. Norman Goss, Mrs. H. Fackler, and Frank Weck. James Root was at the head of the drive at the local shop.

REV. E. R. HAINES TO FILL PILPIT

SUCCEEDS REV. H. T. WINTERMUTE WHO GOES TO MCCONNELLSVILLE.

Rev. H. T. Wintermute, pastor of the Plymouth-Shiloh Methodist churches, will leave Saturday for McConnellsville, Ohio, to preach his first sermon in his new pastorate there Sunday morning.

Rev. Wintermute and family have resided in Plymouth for the past three years coming here from Belleville. Under his supervision the church with its various divisions has been better organized for many years; each group having its specific work to perform. He has worked untiringly in his effort to build up the church here and many new ideas have been incorporated. The young people in both the intermediate and junior departments have taken in more outside activities than for some time and results of his work will no doubt be felt for years to come.

His appointment to McConnellsville comes from the fact that McConnellsville has a population of more than 1700 people and is the county seat of Morgan county. This territory comes under the Cambridge and Shiloh circuits of the church here and has a drawing area of 3000, the village of Malta lying directly across the river. His new church is called the Trinity Methodist, and has been represented by an especially fine church.

During their stay in Plymouth, Rev. Wintermute, wife and their daughters, Marydell and Nancy have made warm friends and will regret to see them leave, but send their best wishes with them to their new home.

New Pastor Here

Rev. E. R. Haines, who has served the Methodist Church in Mansfield for four years, comes to Plymouth. He is married and has one daughter, Phyllis, 13 years of age. He will preach his first sermon Saturday morning at the usual time, 11 a. m.

PROPER FOOD

At the Chicago World's fair, in the medical building, was the preserved digestive tract of a cow of the small intestine. The length of the small intestine (where food is digested and absorbed into the blood) was about 40 feet in the cow, 20 feet in man, and five feet in the dog. This means that in the cow the foods partly digested in the stomach and by this long surface of the small intestine, have a long distance to travel while being absorbed into the blood through the lining surface of the small intestine. Thus food not digested and absorbed in the first few feet will be digested by this long surface of the intestine before it reaches the large intestine into which wastes or undigested food is emptied.

In man, food, with just 20 feet of small intestine, through which to pass, must be absorbed in less time. In the dog, with only five feet of small intestine through which to pass, even less time is given for the food to be digested and absorbed into the blood.

What do we learn from a study of the intestine in man, the cow and the dog?
As the cow has such a long intestine it can eat bulky, hard, cellulose food, because the stomach, small and large intestine are able to handle this type of food such as grass, hay and raw vegetables with ease.

The dog, not being equipped with a large and long digestive tract, cannot handle bulky, rough or cellulose foods and must eat rich, concentrated food such as meat.

What about man? Should he eat the rough, hard to digest food of the cow, or the concentrated, more easily digested food of the dog? His small intestine, far shorter than that of the cow and longer than that of the dog, gives us the answer. He must eat less of the food eaten by the cow, and more of the food eaten by the dog, not in amounts but in proportion to his size and weight, as compared with the cow and the dog.

As a matter of fact, man has worked out this food question correctly in that the food recommended for man is one part meat to two parts bread, and four parts starches, vegetables and fruits.

Persistent Cough May Be Sinusitis

As a youngster in the lower grades in school I can remember certain students in the class who always seemed to have a head cold or running nose. The discharge was not watery but thick mucous and sometimes yellow. I was made to have been "yellow" because of this.

No effort was known in those days to send the child home or to separate him from the rest of us, because a cold was considered a harmless condition, as far as the child or others were concerned.

Today we know that these youngsters who "always" have a cold, have, in most cases, an infection in one or more of the sinuses and the condition is really sinusitis.

When a youngster has an acute cold it is often just in the nose and throat itself with little or no disturbance of any sinus. There is usually some watery or mucous discharge from the nose and throat and some cough present.

However, "coughs" lasting more than two weeks are due to sinus infection unless proved otherwise. The acute cold usually lasts about a week—two days onset, two days acute symptoms, and about two days clearing up. The child or adult with an acute cold does not "suffer" much but must be careful as to rest, diet, and exposure to cold and drafts, so that a simple cold will not develop into pneumonia or bronchopneumonia.

Sinusitis, on the other hand, gets the patient down, physically and mentally. There is usually a persistent cough, lack of appetite with loss of weight.

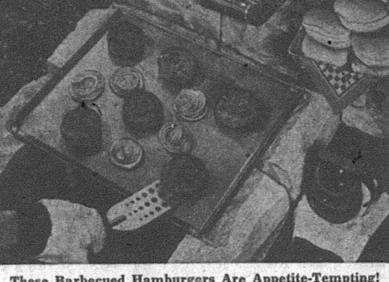

How can it be known if there is a chronic sinus condition? Refer to the New York State Journal of Medicine, Dr. G. M. Costes states that the usual symptoms are frequent nose colds, with discharge of mucus into the back of the throat. The lining membranes of the nose are inflamed and X-rays show a thickening of the lining of the sinuses.

QUESTION BOX

Q-1. Can an ulcer of the nose become cancerous? 2. How do the symptoms of each differ? 3. Why is there a recurring scab over the surface?
A-1. Ulcer of the nose can become cancer in one of cancer age. 2. There is little or no difference. In cancer the nose persists, whereas in a simple ulcer it clears away in a short time. 3. The new scab forms due to the constant irritation of the sore.

Barbecued Hamburgers

By Lynn Chambers

These Barbecued Hamburgers Are Appetite-Tempting! (See Recipes Below.)

The delicious aroma of meat cooking over a crackling fire, toasted buns, and freshly roasted corn or potatoes in the embers—in the embers—all these make for plenty of summer fun. Toss together your outdoor cooking equipment, bright gay colored cloths, napkins, and gather some wood for your picnic. Plan to have lots of hearty, nourishing food to give your picknickers so they will have plenty of that up-lift-them spirit.

Crunchy green salads packed in jelly glasses or paper containers, steaming hot coffee, baked beans, or macaroni and cheese, and barbecued meat. Dispel the chilliness of cool nights with your picnic outdoors.

Hamburgers are old favorites, but you can make them extra delicious by drizzling a tasty barbecue sauce over them while they cook.

"Barbecued Hamburgers" (Serves 8)

- 2 pounds ground beef
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- Pepper to taste
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 2 teaspoons brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 medium-sized onion, chopped
- 1 1/2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 cup catsup
- 1 tablespoon hot water

Have any of the thrifter cuts of beef ground—such as chuck, flank, shank, neck, or corned beef—ground. If meat is quite lean, ask your butcher for some suet. Mix meat thoroughly with salt and pepper. Cook on a greased grill over a charcoal grill with onion slices on top.

Mix rest of ingredients well and drizzle over hamburgers as they cook. This sauce is also excellent over frankfurters which have been pricked with a fork.

To make a new kind of "cheeseburger," add 1/4 cup grated cheese to each pound of hamburger, mixing lightly.

Hamburger Patties. (Serves 8)

- 3 pounds chuck steak, ground
- 2 cups grated raw potato
- 4 tablespoons grated onion
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 peeled clove of garlic, minced
- 4 tablespoons milk
- 4 tablespoons fat

Combine all ingredients except fat. Form into 16 patties. Cook in fat on a greased grill or skillet over medium heat until brown on both sides.

Lynn Says:

For best results in outdoor cooking use a small fire. Be sure you have a deep bed of coals before you start broiling or frying your food.

To start the fire, use a soft quick burning wood like pine, spruce, hemlock, laurel, poplar, or aspen. For a good bed of coals, use a hard wood such as maple, oak, ash, beech, birch, hickory, or any available hard wood in your community.

Seasoned wood which has not lain on the ground long enough to become wet or rotted, but long enough to dry out, is best for fires. Wood without bark makes the best kind of fire, as bark will cause a fire to smolder. To start a fire more easily, use split wood.

It burns more easily than round logs.

You won't be a slayer if you know when using a hand saw for chopping or splitting wood, if you use seasoned wood, it can easily be broken into convenient chunks for the fire.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD D. HINDOUBERT, D. D. Of the Bible Institute of Chicago (Released by Western Newspaper Union)

Lesson for July 5

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts assigned for this lesson by the International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

GOD THE CREATOR

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 1:1-5, 24-31; 2:1.
GOLDEN TEXT—In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth—Genesis 1:1.

What is to become of this world? That is the question on the mind of everyone as they see all mankind engaged in a struggle which bids fair to wipe out everything called civilization.

In such a time it is good to remind ourselves that man did not make this world, nor is it the product of natural forces. God made it. God, who is eternal, infinite, knowing all from the beginning, is not moved by the impulses of the moment nor staggered by the catastrophes of a day. He made the world. It gets beyond the grasp of man. He has a plan for them, and still has a plan which in due season He will work out for His own glory.

I God Made the Heavens and Earth (vv. 1-5, 24-25)
The plain biblical account of creation—"In the beginning God"—stands as a dignified, satisfactory, intelligent explanation of the origin of things, and in bold contrast to the confusing and almost unbelievable theories of men.

The best of scientists admit that they know nothing of the origin of things, and some even confess that they never will know. The answer to the query with which every man philosophy opens is the affirmation with which the divine account in Genesis opens—"In the beginning God."

Space forbids full discussion of the account of creation, but a study of it will reveal its beautiful order, symmetry, and completeness. Science, which seeks beyond the facts, finds them confirmed by Scripture. Please do not reverse that and speak of science confirming Scripture. It may wait for the time of the stars, it is the watch that must be reset.

II. God Made Man in His Own Image (vv. 26-30)
Although man, under the control of Satan, does not give much ground for the observation, it is nevertheless true that he was made in the image and likeness of God. Because that is true, we never give up hope for him. That image, no matter how deeply defaced by sin, still may be touched by redeeming grace and restored to fellowship with God.

The likeness and image of God in man undoubtedly refers to a moral and spiritual nature, and not to a living soul with intelligence, feeling, and will power. He is a moral being, knowing the difference between right and wrong. He is a being capable of personal belief.

To man God gave dominion over the earth and all its potential power. Sometimes one has been hopeful that man was making good progress in the development of the earth's resources for his own good and the glory of God. But one is almost tempted to conclude now that he has used this great God-given opportunity only for destruction and death. Only a revival of real Christianity can bring him back to his duty as a matter of fact.

Observe that the family was established as the center of man's life on earth, as God gave him a "help meet unto him." Woman was taken "out of man's head that she should rule over him; nor out of his feet to be trampled upon; but out of his side to be equal with him, under his arm to be protected by him, and near his heart to be loved by him" (Matthew Henry).

The decay of family life and the substitution of social or civic units as the basis of life have led to disastrous results. Not only do we need a revival of religion, we also need a revival of the home life of the nation.

III. God's Creation Was Complete and Good (1:31; 2:1).
When men do recognize the hand of God in creation they all too often seem to feel that what He made was very limited and defective. It was almost as if God ought to be grateful for perfecting His work, developing it and making it useful.

Man has destroyed much of its beauty. His care in and around the whole creation. What man's inventive cleverness has developed of the possibilities of this world is only a minute fraction of what is really available. Instead of boasting, man might well be ashamed of the pathetic slowness with which he has "thought God's thoughts after Him."

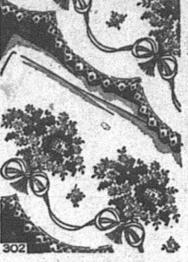

Instead of fighting and destroying, he ought to give his energies to building, developing, and above all, to loving God, and all his heart, mind, and strength as himself (Matt. 22:37-40). This is God's first and great commandment to you and to me.

Three-Class Night Club

A night club in Mexico City solves the "how to dress" problem by grouping patrons into three separate halls. The main floor accommodates all those couples who are dressed formally. The second floor, those in Overalls, housedresses or other working clothes. While the basement is reserved for those who prefer to dance in their bare feet.

One thing a soldier is afraid of is a display of emotion. That's why his slang so often sounds derogatory. For example, he refers to the bitter eagle on his colonel's shoulder straps as "buzzards."

WALLPAPER CAN BE PAINTED
WHEN wallpaper is old and dim-freshened in the rooms gives a choice between stripping it off and replacing it, putting new wallpaper over it, or painting. Of these, painting is the simplest, but with the warning that it is not always practical. For one thing, the liquid of the paint may strike through the wallpaper and loosen the paste, and this is especially likely to happen if the wallpaper is bulged and shows other signs of not being firmly attached. With wallpaper in good condition, painting is possible when the conditions are right. In the first place, the paint must be of a kind that comes as a paste, so that there is the least possible chance that the paste will be loosened. Also, the paint should have enough body to cover the wallpaper design with a single coat. A good type of paint for this purpose is a top quality calcimine, which comes as a powder to be mixed with water, or a casein paint that comes as a paste to be thinned with water to painting consistency. Painting should be done on a warm and dry day, with good ventilation for the more quickly the paint dries, the less chance there will be for it to strike through and soften the wallpaper paste. Painting can also be done at a time when the heater is going and the house is thoroughly warm.

Lamp Support
Question: I want to hang an oil lamp from an ordinary plaster ceiling of an inexpensive frame house. The lamp weighs about six pounds. How can I be sure that the supporting screw will go into something solid, rather than into the space between two laths?
Answer: At a hardware store you can get what is known as a toggle-bolt, which will give ample support, because it goes through the space between two laths. It acts as a bridge across them. Another method would be to screw a strip of wood six inches or so wide and a foot or more long to the ceiling, where the screws would go into several laths. The toggle-bolt would be neater, because it would not show.

Sun Deck Floor
Question: We are planning to have a sun-deck cut into the third floor roof. What type of flooring would you recommend? We plan to cover the deck with canvas. What weight canvas should we use?
Answer: Tongue-and-groove fir, pine or spruce flooring, No. 2 common flooring grade is generally used. The boards should be seven-eighths of an inch thick and not over four inches wide. Use a type of canvas made especially for roofing purposes. Roofing canvas manufacturers furnish complete directions on the correct method of laying a canvas roof.

Difference in Temperature
Question: There is a difference of about 15 degrees in the temperature of our living-room taken near the floor and the temperature taken near the ceiling. Naturally the heat goes up. Is there any simple way of equalizing the room temperature? Hot water heat is being used.
Answer: The best way to get even distribution of heat in the room is to run a small electric fan set on the floor and blowing into the lower part of a radiator.

Log Cabin
Question: The pine logs of my cabin have been shaved. How can I treat them for preservation and to retain their whiteness? How long should logs season before being treated?
Answer: Two coats of spar varnish will act as a preservative and will maintain light color for some time. However, the logs will darken with age, which cannot be avoided. One winter's seasoning should be enough.

Inlaying Mahogany
Question: I should appreciate your advice as to what glue would be best to use in inlaying a mahogany table that I am making.
Answer: Casein glue or a glue made with a synthetic resin, applied according to the manufacturer's directions, should give good results. Lumber dealers who handle plywood should be able to tell you about the synthetic resin glue.

Cracking Down on Rats
One of my correspondents writes that he felled some aggressor rats who were trying to invade his house by nailing pieces of tin onto his porch at ground level. These pieces went into the ground to a depth of six inches. He also treated his garage in the same way and since then has had no more trouble with rats.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Russian Front Grows in Importance As Nazis Win New African Victory; Oregon, Canada Shelled by Axis Sub; Japs Gain Second Aleutian Foothold

EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Photo shows oil wells located near Salem, Ill., which has been designated as the terminus for the proposed oil pipe line from Longview, Texas. The WPA announces that the cost of the project will be between $8 and $9 million dollars. Acute oil shortage and gasoline shortage in the eastern states will be considerably alleviated by the new line.

RUSSIAN FRONT: Increased Importance

With the fall of Tobruk in Libya the fighting on the Russian front took on added importance for it became increasingly clear that if the United Nations were going to fight Hitler to a standstill the Soviet forces must continue to occupy the major portion of Nazi armed strength.

Soviet soldiers were doing just that. Even as the British were admitting the loss of their Libyan stronghold, a report from Moscow took the optimistic note that with the continued material aid of Britain and the United States the Russian front would be able to hold out against Germany.

While an official Russian communique admitted a German breakthrough at Sevastopol, Soviet reports had blasted their way across the Donets river in the critical Kharkov area and recaptured a number of localities in a terrific counter-attack. Earlier, two German regiments with heavy air and tank support had crossed the river in a violent attack and forced the Russians back.

The German success at Sevastopol came only after huge losses, according to the Russian official version which admitted: "In the Sevastopol sector of the front our troops repelled repeated furious German attacks. At a cost of enormous losses the enemy succeeded in driving a wedge in our defensive positions."

WEST COASTS: Shelled

Almost four months to the day after a submarine had shelled the California coast, another U. S. state, Oregon, felt the impact of enemy shells. The more recent shelling took place against the shoreline north of Seaside, Ore., just south of Astoria, at the mouth of the Columbia river.

The Fourth Army and Western Defense command announced the firing of six to nine shells by an unidentified craft near the midnight hour. No damage nor casualties were reported. Although the army did not immediately identify the attacker it was believed to be a Jap submarine.

This conclusion was reached after the Canadian government had announced that about 24 hours before the Canadian attack a submarine had landed shells at the government telegraph station at Estevan Point, Vancouver island.

This was the first time that an enemy submarine had attacked shore installations in Canada and the first time in Canada's history that enemy shells had landed on her soil. Canadian officials said that while one of the shells landed near enough to the telegraph station to "shatter windows" the other missiles fell harmlessly on the beach.

The U. S. army's first brief announcement of the Oregon attack indicated that the firing had lasted about 15 minutes. Earlier residents of Astoria had reported hearing between 15 and 18 shots fired at sea and said they could hear the shells whistle over head. Still another report said that an Astoria resident had sighted a submarine off the coast. Washington and Oregon had dimouts of their coasts at the time of the attack.

BRIEFS:

AID TO ENEMY: Judge Thomas Siddall, Atlantic City defense council chairman, has charged that signals to Axis submarines were flashed from hotel windows along the Atlantic coast.

BUNKER HILL: Bunker Hill monument, which commemorates an all-inclusive view of the Boston Navy yard, has been closed to the public for the duration.

PARITY: Fight Goes On

Farm, church and labor groups united in a move to back President Roosevelt against a legislative bill which is opposed to the administration's plan to sell government-owned wheat and corn below parity prices. In a letter to the White House, these groups said that the success of the President's program to insure security in this regard was essential for the winning of the war.

Included in the groups backing the letter were the National Farmers union, the American Federation of Labor, the Congress of Industrial Organizations, the Railway Executive association, the National Catholic Rural Life conference and the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

This joint move was believed to be part of a plan being set up in opposition to the "high price through scarcity" concept backed by the American Farm Bureau federation, headed by Edward A. O'Neil. The Farm Bureau federation is reported to have been successful in without-the approval of the President's formula for selling government-owned wheat and corn at 85 per cent of parity.

TAXATION PROGRAM: Behind Schedule

To ease the taxpayers' burden in 1943, the treasury department proposed to congress a modification of its plan to withhold federal taxes from the source. Under the plan, treasury would collect 5 per cent of the taxable income starting on January 1, 1943, instead of 10 per cent which would begin in 1944, and 10 per cent in 1945.

Earlier the treasury department proposed a 100 per cent "super-tax" to carry out President Roosevelt's recommendation for limitation of individual income to $25,000 a year after payment of all taxes.

The President told the press that taxation provisions of his anti-inflation program would be slightly behind schedule and that, in his opinion, the bill should be split into sections in order to get part of it into effect as soon as possible.

MORE ROYALTY: In Washington

Second monarch in ten days to visit Washington and his conversation with President Roosevelt was the 19-year-old boy king of Yugoslavia, King Peter II. He arrived in the capital by plane and was accompanied by Foreign Minister M. Nintichich.

Main topics of discussion with the President were Yugoslavia's unrelenting guerrilla warfare against Germany and the plan to enter lend-lease agreement for his country which would provide for after-the-war understandings and collaboration.

King George II of Greece had left the capital before King Peter arrived and Queen Wilhelmina, ruler of the Netherlands, was on her way to Washington, via Canada, at the time.

WAR MANPOWER: Staggering Total

The effect of the war upon everyday life was emphasized in a statement of the War Manpower control mission, which said that the goal for men in the armed forces is six to seven million men by the end of 1943, and "eventually" may be 10 million.

By 1944, at least 20 million workers will be needed in war production and transportation. The 1943 crop will be harvested by 12 million workers.

Chairman MacLean of the President's Committee on Fair Employment Practice stated that in 1944 the high school enrollment might be reduced by 40 to 50 per cent, college enrollment by 70 to 80 per cent, and half the nation's schools may be closed due to increasing needs for war workers.

CHINA: Rocks, Grenades

A rough mountain pass along the Homan-Shans border north of the Yellow river was the scene of a bitter struggle as poorly equipped Chinese troops repulsed the seventh regiment of the Japanese to break through.

Fighting with rocks, hand grenades and machine guns against 10,000 Jap troops, Chinese soldiers and heavy guns, the Chinese are extracting a bitter toll from the enemy. Spokesmen claimed that the Chinese still were holding a middle gap along the Chang-Kiang railway in the area south of the Yangtze river.

The Japanese opened a new offensive north of the Yellow river, driving from the north Homan province. They succeeded in pushing the Chinese back to the foothills of the T'ai-sheng mountain range.

Presidential Peace Plan Linked With Lend-lease

Advances Made by America Looked Upon As 'Contributions to a Common Pool' Instead of Loans.

of the principles of the Atlantic Charter which in turn lists the four freedoms. One of the four freedoms is freedom from want which at once involves economics and the most intimate interest of man, his personal welfare. At the Flag day celebration at the White House for the first time since we entered the war the President offered to the German and the Japanese people, over the heads of their governments the hope that they might share the benefits of an Allied victory. For the first time there has been a direct official contradiction of the charge continually dinned into German ears by Herr Goebbels that defeat means their destruction. The President offered them the opposite. He said in his Flag day speech:

"We ask the German people, still dominated by their Nazi whipmasters, whether they would rather live in the economic hell of Hitler's 'new order' or—in place of that, freedom of speech and religion, freedom from want and fear."

He made an identical appeal to the Japanese people. Without attempting to attack or defend the practicability of the President's plan or the theories upon which it is based, it is significant that an effort is being made: First, to use a war weapon (lend-lease) to blaze a trail to peace; second, to provide an economic basis for the post-war restoration; and, third, to make use of both of these factors in driving a wedge between the enemy powers and their governments by offering them hope of something better than what they have.

Meet Rags II, STARS and STRIPES Mascot

Recently I interviewed a war-dog who probably will become familiar to all of you because the exploits planned for him are such as no dog ever had before.

"Rags II," mascot of the new army newspaper YANK which is the successor to the STARS and STRIPES, the army paper printed in England during the last war. Rags II is a "successor," too—to the original Rags, who would have been mascot of the STARS and STRIPES if it had not been for the fact that he was voted to one of the staff, Corporal "Tip" Bliss, his master.

Rags grew to be a tradition and he is perhaps a solar myth by this time. He had understood English, French and Elizabethan in which he was usually addressed by his master who was a scholarly person.

After marching over most of the lesser polities corners of Mars, Rags came back to America with his master. Neither ever completely settled down. Tip worked on newspapers and wrote pulp fiction. Rags lived out his cycle as carefree and disinterested as his master. Tip acquired a reputation as a curly haired spaniel of some sort at some French port when he landed. The two never parted, until the end.

Rags was never formally inducted into the army and he got very little publicity but his shaggy, waxy mannerly green in the heart of every STARS and STRIPES.

When YANK was given its send-off at a banquet in New York a few of the old STARS and STRIPES staff were present, among them "Wally" (the cartoonist, Walgren), buddy of Tip and Rags. A part of the ceremony was a presentation by Wally to Rags of a young boy, Captain Spence, who is executive head of the new paper.

Afterward when I slipped up to get a few comments from the new Rags who is even ragier than his namesake for he is part poolie, he was finishing off part of a steak and was on top of the main banquet table.

He was friendly, in fact most affectionate, but not loquacious. I tried to get some policy out of him but to his plans. But I figured he had just gone bush-bush like all army people and was afraid that enemy ears might be eavesdropping.

However, from other sources, usually considered reliable as the papers say, I found out that Rags II is about to travel to Australia, Ireland, and perhaps other foreign lands as yet undisclosed. For YANK will follow the troops and Rags II will follow YANK. He will probably be the most traveled army dog in history.

Practical Peace Machine

That word "material" is important because it is the promise of a practical peace machine which will supply the very quality, the lack of which doomed the League of Nations from the start. All the experts agree that no matter how effective the covenant it had been carried out, it could not possibly have been sufficient to the main ignored economic relationships. It was a political machine—and you can't eat war policies.

The League "policy" therefore, although a dynamic part of the war efforts of the United Nations, contains in the belief of its authors, the seeds for effective post-war reconstruction plan.

And now we come to the second evidence that its supporters believe makes it a two-edged sword, striking for peace and victory at the same time.

The recently promulgated Roosevelt plan for mutual assistance in the treaty and the Roosevelt-Molotov agreement both contain affirmation

NEW IDEAS FOR HOME-MAKERS

WOMEN today are not the first to discover a war-time shortage of floral coverings. The glowing Oriental rug of the Colonial mansion ceased to be imported during the Revolution; and the simple hooked rug made from old clothing began to be developed. Then, as now, scroll borders around a flower motif were popular. The posies were designed according to individual taste but scroll patterns went the rounds of neighbors who traced the patterns on the burlap or canvas rug foundation. Today wax crayon is generally used for tracing. You will find it easy to make a cut-out pattern by first ruling paper into one-inch squares and then copying the curves in the sketch.

NOTE: If you wish to make a scroll pattern be sure to clip this diagram and save it as it is not in any of the booklets which Mrs. Sparr has prepared for readers; however, Book 3 contains two designs and directions for making original designs. Get a copy, send your order to:

First Under-Water Photos of Life-Saving

A demonstration of life-saving is shown above, photographed for the first time under water, as staged by members of Boston chapter of the Red Cross. At left, three swimmers enact role of "victims," untrained rescuer and trained rescuer. Victim grabs would-be rescuer about neck; would-be rescuer gets panicky, grabs victim. Trained rescuer drops down on both and breaks their grips, prying both apart as shown in first and second photos. Right: Rescuer flexes knees for spring that will shoot both to surface.

Keep 'Em Loaded and Keep 'Em Flying

At an army air depot somewhere in the western part of the U. S., huge transport planes, "the flying box-cars" of the army air force, ship freight on wings to foreign battle fronts. At left the loading crew is transferring freight to waiting "flying box car." Inset: Poised for flight are these air freight planes, to any air field in case of an emergency call.

War Heroes—and Symbol of Their Purpose

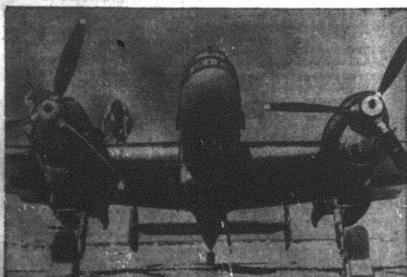

Thirteen British and American war heroes visit Independence hall, Philadelphia, Pa., after being given a rousing welcome in New York. They are shown grasped around the Liberty Bell—the bell which is the symbol of that freedom in whose cause they performed their heroic deeds. The heroes then went to Washington to visit President Roosevelt.

Messerschmitt Flies Over U. S.

The first German Messerschmitt plane ever to fly in the U. S. took part in the Air Cavalade—a joint army force and treasury department tour to boost sale of war bonds. The itinerary included 13 cities. The plane (shown above) was shot down over England. Included in the Cavalade was a British Spitfire, famous fighter plane.

Household Hints

Leather never should be cleaned with gasoline, naphtha or any hydrocarbon solution. They dissolve and remove all the essential fats in the leather, leaving it dry and harsh.

Before working in the garden, put soap under and around your finger nails. You will find them much easier to clean.

Maple toast is delicious with hot or cold tea. Mix shaved maple sugar with a little cinnamon and melted butter and spread on hot toast. Reheat and serve.

Add a pinch of salt to your cream before whipping.

When ironing puffed sleeves, fold the sleeve in halves, pulling apart as it sticks. In this way you can get down into the gathers at the top. Iron it dry and you will have a pretty puffed sleeve when it is done.

Here's a Gentler Way to Treat Constipation!

Do you think you have to take harsh cathartics or purges every time constipation makes you miserable? You don't—if you are one of those people with normal intestines who suffer from constipation due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. There is a pleasant and gentle way. All you do is eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly and drink plenty of water. ALL-BRAN is a crisp, delicious cereal. It works quite differently from many medicinal laxatives. They work by prodding the intestines into action or by drawing moisture into them from other parts of the body. But ALL-BRAN acts principally on the contents of the colon, helping you to have regular, normal elimination. ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is not helped by this simple treatment, see a doctor.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The sloping banks of the Mary Fats Park overlooking the ball field was an ideal spot for the Court of Honor, held Sunday evening by the Boy Scouts of Plymouth. Approximately sixty people gathered to witness the ceremony.

Grouped in a semi-circle facing their officials, invocation was given by Committee-man George Hershiser. L. E. Brown, after a short talk, presented second class badge to all Scouts who had completed their prescribed course and included the following: John Turson, Bob Hampton and Richard Wharton.

First Class Badges were awarded to Jim Moore, Junior Davis and Sid Thomas. Merit badges were given to Jim Moore, Sid Thomas, Junior Davis, Gordon Sealbols, Paul Scott and Jack Hamilton. All of these boys had worked long and conscientiously to win the awards and all present were proud of their accomplishments.

Assisting in the ceremonies besides Mr. Brown and Mr. Hershiser were Phillip Moore, and Scoutmaster, D. W. Einsel, Jr., who have given unlimited time to the developing of these boys along the line that will stand them in good stead in future years. It is no small task for these busy men to devote so much of their time to the boys of the community and the boys of the wholehearted support and commendation of the town.

A very pleasant surprise to the members of the troop and to his parents was the appointment of Sid Thomas as Junior Assistant Scoutmaster. Sid will be in charge of all first aid instruction. Speaker of the evening was Neighborhood Commissioner C. W. Wilkinson of Willard. In his speech he stressed the need of more adult leaders and said next to serving our country in the armed forces he could think of no better deed than helping in the Scout movement. Also stressed was the need of a Cub organization in Plymouth.

During his talk he presented two cubs and their Den Chief of the Willard organization. The Court was closed with the Scoutmaster's benediction. Scouts and Scouters then enjoyed all the ice cream they were able to eat, along with chocolate cake. The ice cream was donated by the Black and Gold Soda Grill and Mrs. J. P. Moore was kind enough to bake the cakes. Our thanks to both.

Patrol Leaders Wayne Ross, Jack Hampton and Paul Scott attended an instruction course at Camp Avery Hand, Jr., last week. Every day during Monday night's meeting included "Bomb the Garison," plan for week-end camp, signalling contest, announcements on Hiller trophy.

Visitors at meeting were Casey Jones, Robert Eichelberry and Paul Kale. Troop Committee meeting will be held at the home of J. P. Moore this evening at 7:30.

The Explorer Patrol, made up of the older boys in the troop, held their meeting at Assistant Scoutmaster Moffat's home. After this, all meetings will be held at the Moffat home on Friday nights.

Requirements were set up for first honors, and these must be in met in 90 days. The whole troop wishes to thank Weldon Cornell for the ice cream donated by him at the Court of Honor, and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Moore for their help and contributions.

"I am going to radio school again. I have one more week to go, then I will have completed nine months out of my year's service in radio school. My year will end June 30. I have received a rating of technical sergeant for my radio work at the present. I am also working on a home study course in radio engineering and television, which I will soon have completed. As a radio operator my code speed is between thirty and forty words per minute. I am fast enough for no other operator causes me any trouble.

There are several boys in the company with me from Ohio. It makes it more like home with them. I get the Plymouth paper from home every week and I and the rest of the boys enjoy reading it.

"I got two perfect scores on firing the 50 caliber machine guns and the 37mm gun. All of the boys in the company are good shots. I am time for me to close, and I want to send my best wishes to all my friends and folks around home. Anyone wanting to write, send me a few lines and I will do my best in answering.

"Dear Sir: Have been transferred to the 2nd Field Artillery Observation Battalion at Camp Bowie, Texas. Was assigned to radio communications section.

"I am now living in tents and like it all right, except for the hot weather we have been having. Would be glad to hear from anyone who wishes to write. I receive your paper every week and enjoy reading it very much.

We thought the sharks had George Henry, and just as we were about to let him name on the "unheard from" list, we got the following card: "Tommy: Assigned to air corps here in chemical warfare; nice arrangement. Non-combatant — swell fellows — razor back hogs, beautiful tomatoes (girls, he implies); saw Kay Keyser last night, and there were plenty of them here. Hope to do all OK, too. Give my regards to everyone. Tell them Old Hank is OK and going strong. Field of airplanes here and lots of field space. Wonderful soldiers, and dressers."

"Mr. Thomas and Friends: Just a few lines to my friends around home. I am still in California. It is cool here now. It does not get over eighty out in
