Unveil Service Flag Sunday

LUTHERANS TO HEAR DR. MYLEY, PRESIDENT OF OHIO SYNOD

In addition to having the pleasure and honor of hearing Dr. Myley, president of Ohio Synod, preach in the Sunday, a beautiful service flag will be presented to the congregation of the Lutheran church.

Mrs. Karl McGinty has spent many long hours patiently crocheting neatly arranged red and blue stars on a large white satin background. Each red star on the flag represents a Lutheran boy in the Army. In addition to these there is a star for each boy whose parents or wives are Lutherans. The blue stars on the flag represents the boys in the Navy or the Marines. In the center of the flag is a large blue "V" symbolic of Victory. The families of the boys as well as the congregation can be very proud of this beautiful flag and are deeply indebted to Mrs. McGinty. The church extends a cordial invitation to everyone, and especially to the families, relatives and friends of the following boys to attend the service this Sunday.

'Sock 'Em'

SQUARE WILL BE USED TO PILE UP SCRAP; DRIVE OPENS TUESDAY AND WILL CONTINUE THROUGHOUT THE WEEK!

Listen, Plymouth—a war is on. You know it only by what you read in the papers and what you hear over the radio. There are many families in the community know it by the fact that they are represented in the Service by husbands, sons, brothers and close relatives. But, in the whole, Plymouth doesn't KNOW that a real war is now in effect. We still live comfortably, we have about everything we desire—and we don't have any too much faith in the politicians. Well, let's forget all the personalities. Let's buckle down and show our boys that we do care, and that we are going to back them up!

The nation needs scrap metal. It is of vital importance. The whole country will have to depend upon each individual to get out that extra pound of scrap and place it where it can be turned into war material. In order to make it convenient, the Public Square is being used—a portion of it being roped off—where you can toss your old worn-out pots and pans or any other old metal scrap you may have. The ONE THING—if you can't bring your scrap, notify Mayor J. B. Derr, Don W. Einsel, Jr., at the post office, or call Phone 59—they will see that your scrap is made up into useful war material.

Read the letter in this issue written by a local boy who is in the service. He says: "You folks back in Plymouth, give us guns, ammunition and supplies—we'll do the job right." Don't be indifferent any longer—act today.

The Fate-Root-Heath Co., and Plymouth businessmen are taking paid advertising space in this issue to tell you about the scrap shortage. Read the ads—and then go to work.

Plymouth housewives are lagging behind in the drive for kitchen fats. A survey made Wednesday indicates that the average Plymouth householder is very indifferent—one meat shop reports only 50 lbs. of kitchen fats have been taken in since the drive started. Fats are used to make glycerine, and glycerine makes POWDER! And you're paid 4 cents per pound—SAVE FATS EACH DAY!

A "semi-permanent" salvage program that will comb farms and village and city for scrap metal to meet a quota of 30 pounds of scrap a month until the first of the year for every man, woman and child in northern Ohio is being urged by John C. Dexter, assistant executive secretary of the state organization of the War Production Board, in talks before civic groups.

Dexter declares that the scrap program is "probably the most important factor in a war we are definitely not winning."

Continuing Mr. Dexter said, "there is still too much complacency about the war, too many of us still take the 'let him do it' attitude with the result that a relatively small number of people in each community feel responsible for the war."

"There are many of us who still tell ourselves that this is a long way off from us, that this is a kind of a phony war and we'll win eventually—that the United States has never lost a war."

"Neither have the Japs ever lost a war. But either the Japs or ourselves will lose this war and we are now definitely not winning it."

"Some complain about smooth restrictions on sugar but what we have in store for us in the next six months will make the last six months seem like paradise," he said.

Why Scrap Is Important
Of the three phases of the present war—production, transportation and supply—there is reason for great satisfaction over progress thus far in the first of these, but in regard to supply we must produce far beyond last year's steel production, and we can do so if we collect the necessary scrap metal to go into the manufacture of steel, Mr. Dexter said.

"We must have the scrap needed for the steel needed for the war material and need to make the ships that will carry what we have made to the places where this material is needed."

STAFF SERGEANT PAUL ROOT WEARS A PAIR OF SILVER WINGS

Staff Sergeant Paul Hubert Root, of 17 Plymouth St., Plymouth, Ohio, was graduated Sunday from the new Advanced Glider School at the Lockbourne Army Air Base, 12 miles south of Columbus.

Sergeant Root, one of the first to join the "commandoes of the air," completed the course in less than two months and is now entitled to wear the silver wings of the Army Air Forces inscribed with a special "G." He trained at Lockbourne on the smaller one and two-place gliders, but he is expected to take additional training soon on cargo and troop-carrying types.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Root of Plymouth, Sgt. Root was taught to fly in civilian life by Captain E. L. Parsel who crashed to his death in India last April after receiving the Distinguished Flying Cross. Sgt. Root is a graduate of the Plymouth high school and entered the Army eight months ago.

Sugar Stamp No. 8

Good For Five Pounds Beginning Aug. 23

Sugar ration stamp No. 8 will be good for five pounds of sugar in the 10-week period beginning August 23 and ending October 31. The Office of Price Administration announced today.

While not changing the basic ration of one-half pound per person per week, it will enable consumers to make purchases in larger units and facilitate the disposal of five, 10, and 25 pound packages.

Packages of these sizes were put up before the start of rationing and processors have had difficulty marketing any substantial part of them because the ration stamps to date have been good for one or two-pound purchases. Unless this sugar is sold, the OPA said, it would have to be repacked, causing an "undesirable waste of labor and materials."

Stamps Nos. 6 and 7, each good for two pounds of sugar, may be used until midnight Aug. 22. Stamp No. 7 gave the consumer a two-pound bonus.

Mrs. Lyman Wakeman of Delhi is seriously ill. She is the former Miss Clara Knight, only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Knight of Boughtonville.

Don't Let Them Forget You . . .

Talking to a merchant the other day, he referred to a recent letter from his jobber who wrote his order had been cut two-thirds.

"If this keeps up," said the merchant, "I might as well close this store about the middle of December."

"You were in business before this war, weren't you?" asked the publisher.

"Sure I was," replied the merchant.

"Well, you expect to be after the war, don't you?" asked the publisher.

"Sure," replied the merchant.

"Then," replied the publisher, "don't let them forget you."

LETTERS from the BOYS IN SERVICE

July 25, 1942
England

Dear Tommy:

During the past week I have received four copies of The Advertiser. Each was published during the month of June, but regardless of the date I can assure you that each was thoroughly read. A number of my buddies from various parts of the U. S. have also found some enjoyment in them. As a matter of fact, Tommy, they are the first papers from the States I have seen since leaving.

I am glad to learn that Plymouth has met her quota on the sale of War Bonds and that she is contributing to the U. S. O. It makes one mighty proud of his own home town.

I have read with interest your letter to all the boys in the Service and now, as you have suggested, I would like to write a few lines to my friends and all my buddies wherever they may be.

By means of automobile, railways and bicycles I have traveled a good many miles throughout England and have found the country to be a very beautiful one. Its many hills and valleys are green at this time of the year and they make one want to forget the purpose for which he is here. However, the cities present a different picture and it is probably just as well that I am not permitted to describe them.

Generally speaking, the people here have been very friendly toward us soldiers and seem very glad of our arrival. Much credit should be given to these people for in the past three years they have endured many hardships and much suffering. Nevertheless they carry on day and by night with the knowledge that no matter what the cost, in the end Victory will come to the United Nations.

I have had one 35-hour pass since being here and most of that time was spent in London. There I had the pleasure of seeing many of the interesting things I use to read about. They included such sights as Buckingham Palace, the Tower of London, House of Parliament, Big Ben, No. 10 Downing Street, Trafalgar Square, Westminster Abbey and Piccadilly Circus. Unfortunately, I did not have time to view the Cathedral of St. Paul. Perhaps if I visit there again sometime, I shall have the opportunity.

The food is not good nor is it bad. Frankly, there have been times when I've had to close my eyes and hold my nose before diving in. However, as more of our supplies reach us the meals gradually improve. Our main dishes consist of potatoes, beef & mutton and with such vegetables as peas and beans. Of course, you know what the favorite beverage over here and I have now learned to like it much better than any of the coffee that is served.

Every few weeks our American rations arrive, and they usually include to each person eight or nine packages of cigarettes, approximately the same number of candy bars, a few cigars and a tin of chewing gum. The last time, though, we settled for two boxes of candy, some chewing gum and no tobacco. On the English side of the ledger we are allowed 35 cigarettes and a tin of chewing gum per week. However, their tobacco, so reminds me of my younger days when corn-silk was quite a popular smoke.

It has just dawned upon me that I have written much more than I really intended. However, I have enjoyed doing so and I hope that most of you have enjoyed writing to you personally.

Thanks so much to all of you who have remembered me in one way or another. I am only too sorry that I do not have the time to write to you personally. Good luck to all my buddies and to any of you who are about to leave for the Service.

Cherrio,

Ben Smith

P. S. By the way Tommy, who was the brunette you referred to in your letter to the boys in Service? B. Smith

Say, teller, you don't want me to get shot without joining the army. do you? I'll tell you one of these days.

Thanks a lot, Ben, for the letter. I only wish I could get enough of the boys to drop a few lines, for then I would take a vacation. I know the reason why the old P.I. will enjoy your letter, and I hope the other boys will follow suit. I'll try to get out another line or two within the next week or so, and I'll write you personally, and it's people. Thanks, a friend, and write again soon. Tommy.

Aug. 8, 1942
Dear Employees:

I received the package and was really glad to know that you still remember me. I wish I could do something to show my thanks, but there is nothing I can send you anything but my best thanks a million for everything, and I hope to be home again soon.

I will be waiting to hear from you again, so until then I remain,

Sincerely,

Laurence Noble

Gentlemen: I received your gift in yesterday's mail. To say I appreciated it, somehow doesn't quite express my feelings. It means that the people back home whom we haven't seen for some time, have not forgotten us. Thanks a million, fellows, and God bless them.

I'm stationed in the South Pacific at present. It's a very warm climate here but a person gradually gets used to the sun and sea. This is a nice place for acquiring a sun-tan.

I'm not allowed to disclose my work as it is against censor regulations.

The men here are, in good spirits and would really like to come in contact with the Japs again. You see they really Remember Pearl Harbor, because they were here.

I would like to express my sincere thanks again and say I appreciate the work you are doing. My best regards to everyone.

Care Postmaster, New York

Dear Friends:

Many thanks for the second carton of Camels which arrived today. Today was a red letter day for me as I received twenty-two pieces of mail. I had to stop the war for the afternoon until I read it.

I hope to be able to thank each of you personally when I am again fortunate enough to get a letter from any of you.

My best regards to Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Snyder of Plymouth.

Until that time, however, we have a job to do here on the Atlantic. We'll do it thoroughly if you'll send us the tools, guns, and bullets.

And Tom Sawyer to be doing my small part.

Again, my thanks to all of the employees of the company.

Hello, Dad and Vance. I'll be seeing you.

Dean Snyder.

July 27, 1942

Dear Sirs:

I wish to thank you for the carton of cigarettes that I received in the mail today.

This is a wonderful camp down here with a fair-sized air field and some large schools where they teach pilots and ground crews. It is located about two miles inland from the Gulf.

The climate is quite a lot different from that of Ohio. It is hot and damp as it is only a few feet above sea-level.

I saw the Cole boy the other day and he told me that Dick Fackler was down here, too, but so far I haven't been able to locate him.

Thanking you again for the smokes, I remain,

Yours truly,
Fvt. Ors Farmwalt,

Sunday, Aug. 9, 1942

You asked that I write to you as soon as I was permanently located. I arrived at Ft. Warren, Wyoming on Friday, Aug. 7. The train ride took 48 hours as it was a very long train and we had two or three stops of about an hour. I have never been West before, so aside from being so far from my family and friends, this is an opportunity to see a lot of country, that I might not have had an opportunity to see otherwise.

The altitude here is about 6200 feet above sea level. It is a very fine climate from the standpoint of health. Their last snow storm was June 12 and frost can be expected before this month is over and probably there will be snow about the first of September. We were each issued four blankets and I soon found out why this was done. Although the days are warm now, at night it gets very chilly. Last night I went to sleep under a sheet and one blanket, but before morning I was sleeping under three blankets and was just comfortable.

This basic training is very intense. They try to teach almost an unbelievable amount in eight weeks. I can see that the next few weeks are the toughest. My spare time will be fully occupied in studying.

Please tell everybody hello for me. I would surely enjoy lots of mail and if any one should care to write they can be assured I will appreciate any letters that I receive.

My address is as follows:
Pvt. Vance W. Snyder,
Co. C-1st Q M T R,
U. S. Army,
Ft. Warren, Wyoming.

I should like to add that I think the people of Fate-Root-Heath are a loyal and patriotic group of fine Americans. There is still no doubt in my mind that I did the right thing when I volunteered for the army. Let's all get this thing over as soon as possible so we can all come home. After all that is where we all want to be.

Sincerely yours,
Vance.

Prepfight School,

Hi, Fellows:

Just a few lines to thank you for the carton of Camels. It is mighty swell of you all to think of us in the Service. And we certainly do appreciate it.

I'll make this short for I have plenty of studies to prepare for tomorrow's classes. As you may know I'm in Prepfight school now. We are busy from five-thirty in the morning until 10:00 at night, except for an hour and a half after the evening meal. I never was so busy, or did things so quickly before.

I was very much surprised yesterday when John Fackler and his wife dropped in to see me. Johnny is going to attend Officers Candidate School at Camp Hood, Texas.

That is about all for now. Good luck to all you fellows who are leaving for the service.

Hi, Gang:

Well, hope is everything back in Ohio? Hope O. K. I got into the big city yesterday and boy what a town. I never in all my life saw so many women. They came down the streets five and six at a time.

Got to Mare Island. They shot me full of x x x to keep me from getting fever. Then I was sworn in, causing a bus for Frisco. Will be here until I leave.

You know the old saying about Sunny California? Well, I don't believe it anymore, because women are wearing fur coats and the men have tappers on. I wore mine last night—believe it or not that really is the truth. There are so many hills that some of the walks going up are steps instead of smooth walks. The trolleys—some are chain driven. You just jump on with your feet—there are no sides on them. I damn near fell off one this morning coming from Chinatown.

Is Tony still there? I suppose since I left he is taking that out anywhere from 5 to 9. Ha, ha.

Laying all jokes aside, out here you really know there is a war. Oh if I could I would write more but maybe you have an idea of what I'm talking about.

So long until we meet again,
V. D. Lybarger.

A note from Corp. Robert Nimmons advises the Advertiser that he has been transferred from Ft. Sill, Okla., to Sheppard Field, Texas, and his new address is listed under that column in this issue.

Bob states that "Fort Sill was only a teaser compared to this—Sheppard Field. This place is a frying pan. Arrived here about noon and haven't been able to get cool yet. That cool breeze off Lake Erie sure would feel good tonight. Please send my paper to the new address."

Wins Second In Regatta

Bob Root copped the second prize, a book of ten stamps, for bringing his six boat "Anyhow" over the goal in the annual Vermilion Regatta held Saturday and Sunday at the Lagoons.

This was an excellent feat. Bob being one of the younger men entering the contest and the competition was really stiff. While not as many sailboats entered on account of war conditions this year, the race was still a keen one.

Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Root and commutes daily to Plymouth with his father from Lagoons and is employed at the Fate-Root-Heath Co.

Juanita Trilling Member Women's Corps in N. Y.

Juanita Trilling of New York City sends greetings to Plymouth friends and relatives with her grandmother, who has just returned home after a visit in the eastern metropolis.

Juanita, who is 16 this summer, has gone "all out" for the Allies in the present war and is a member of the Junior Auxiliary of the American Women's Volunteer Service. Fifty hours' training are required to become a full-fledged member and Juanita has practically completed this training, and will soon receive her uniform.

She is also an Air Raid Messenger and assists during black-outs. It is her duty to be at the district headquarters to carry messages to the Auxiliary Corps during the blackouts and also includes answering the telephone, running the typewriter, sorting salvage and making color charts for soldiers.

Her mother, Mrs. Ted Trilling, is also an air raid warden. Mrs. Eastman states that the eastern cities are quite "war conscious" and considerable more effort is being made than in the middle states.

RIDES WITH MOVIE ACTRESS; LIKES LIFE IN THE ARMY

Willard L. Aumend, who for many years resided in the home of Mrs. Edith Henry and family while on the farm, writes an interesting letter this week about his many experiences in the Army.

Up until the middle of July he was located in California and had the thrill of riding with movie actress Paulette Goddard in her foreign car, even if he were unaware of her identification until he was later picked up by another motorist. He speaks of seeing Bing Crosby's race track, going to the movies, and trying to see the prints in the cement, and that he liked the state of Golden Sunshine.

Cooking for over fifteen hundred soldiers and costguardsmen is no little task and they learn to sling things together a little different and faster than at home. In spite of the hard work, he has gained weight.

Now transferred to New Orleans he is off duty as a cook two days after on one day and is sightseeing on his off duty. As Willard says, when he goes into town he goes for the purpose of seeing what he can see, not what he can drink. More trouble is experienced from drink than anything else in camp.

reached him and he enjoyed the news. He closes with a personal message for various members of the family. His friends may reach him at his address under the address column.

Maybe you haven't stopped to think that by HOARDING the materials that should be turned into bullets, guns, tanks, planes and other fighting equipment—you're helping the enemy! For every bullet we don't turn out, an axis bullet gets a chance to kill another American boy! For every gun you keep from production, there's a fascist gun to

For every tank and plane that is slowed down in production because of a shortage of materials, there's an enemy tank, plane or ship to blow up one belonging to the United Nations. How about it folks? What will it be for you? Hats off and many thanks from unscrupulous, murderous, knife-in-the-back enemies? Or are you going to search your home and property without another lost minute—so that you can help put enough scrap into the war production melting-pot to make a scrap heap of the axis?

Mrs. Stull who is now 52 makes her home in Elyria and claims she does a thriving mail order business in bringing the lonely and love-hungry older men and women together. She founded her club in 1922. Youth is overrated and fleeting, she told the reporter, but there is a romantic period in middle-life. "Mix love with old-age and you never grow old," she is quoted as declaring at Chicago.

Descendants Observe 100th Anniversary

One hundred years ago in April there came to this community Jacob Miller and his family. In this family were three sons, who had married three girls in the Schaffer family.

They came from Cumberland county in central Pennsylvania in four covered wagons, and the paths and roads were so rough that most of the women walked the distance and the time required was 21 days.

Today, the descendants living in Harrisonburg, could fly over here for lunch with their relatives and return the same day in time to attend an evening entertainment.

This anniversary was observed Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Henry of Olivestown.

The one hundred anniversary of the wedding of William and Frances Schaeffer Miller was also observed, as they had been married just previous to their leaving for Ohio.

Of the descendants of Jacob Miller, Sr., who came with this group, only six are living. They are Mrs. Amanda Plotts, who was 88 in August, William Miller, resident northeast of town, was 90 in March. Mrs. Sarah Swineford of Olivestown, will be 88 in September, and William Miller of South Walnut street, will be 95 in September; Jacob Schaeffer of Montpelier, 92, and Mrs. Ella McBride, 82, of this place.

During the afternoon Sunday, a program of music was given as a memorial in honor of the early ancestors.

Relatives from this place attending were Mrs. Amanda Plotts and son Clyde, Mrs. Charles Seaman and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Seaman, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Nelson and Rev. Grant Miller.

A LITTLE TACT GOES A LONG WAY

When Jack London married, he took his wife to live with his mother, Flora. Flora had always taken care of her son, cooked for him and looked after him. Now she bitterly resented the fact that he had brought a strange woman into the house who insisted on doing for him—a woman who had already, as she felt, taken her place in her son's affections. The mother's jealous wrath broke into a storm of neurasthenia. She quarreled constantly with Bessie, the wife.

The angry voices of these two bickering women reverberated throughout the house, and disturbed Jack so that he would have to stop working on his novels and dash down the street to get his step-sister to come up and stop the snarling and snapping.

How could these distressing scenes have been avoided? Here is the answer: Twenty years after Jack London's death, his wife, Bessie London, confessed to Irving Stone, Jack London's biographer, that she should have handled her mother-in-law differently. "I should have catered to Flora," she confessed, "and petted her and made her the boss, and we would have gotten along fine. But I was young and wanted to do things for my husband. So we clashed."

Close your eyes for a moment and ask yourself if there isn't an idea there that you can use. Are you having trouble with an older person in your home, or with a more experienced person at the office? If so, why not profit by Bessie London's mistake? Why don't you do now what she wishes she had done twenty years ago? Why not pet the older person and let him or her be the boss? Remember, you will be old yourself some day; and, when you are, you won't want the younger generation crowding you out and neglecting you and ordering you about. Remember, fools quarrel and bicker and insist on having their way. Why don't you rise above fools? Why don't you use tact, diplomacy and finesse—tools that fools never use. It will be a lot more fun. It will win friends for you; you will gain influence; and, deep down inside of you, you will take pride in the fact that you know how to deal adroitly with people.

A few years ago, in Paris, France, Charles I. Grant Douglas, who was traveling around the world on less than forty dollars per month. He told me that one of the most valuable lessons he ever learned, was this: As a young lad of ten or eleven, he swaggered home from school boasting about his brilliant examination marks. His father listened, said nothing, then reached into his pocket for a card and on it wrote these words: "Let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall."

Young Douglas was so impressed that he kept the card for years as a book mark.

"It was the best dose of medicine I ever took," he declared, "and how I needed it!"

Free Labor and the War

The most momentous Labor day in history will be observed by the American people on September 7. On this day millions of American workmen will signify their determination to out-produce the slave labor of Axis-dominated Europe and Asia in the manufacture of war weapons. This day will be a summons to rally around the slogan, "Free Labor Will Win."

Donald M. Nelson, chairman of War Production Administration, recently issued a report covering the progress of the war effort in the first six months of 1942. He showed that American industry and labor are turning out munitions of all kinds at a rate almost three times as fast as that before the treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor. Nelson's report was no Pollyanna. He admitted that a long, hard road stretches ahead and warned that "too much haste" might hamper our achievements as "altogether premature."

The WPB report detailed the great increase in production as follows: The output of all munitions for the first six months of 1942 was 114 per cent as great as that of the first six months of 1941.

Production of aircraft in these six months exceeded that of the entire 12 months of last year.

Merchant ship tonnage delivered was 137 per cent greater than in 1941.

The number of anti-aircraft guns manufactured was about 2 1/2 times greater than that of the entire previous year.

The production of tanks showed a tremendous increase. The production of machine tools in the six months was 107 per cent of that of the 12 previous months.

Contrast the American picture with that of Europe. Hitler is the cruelest slave master in history. Workers receive the minimum amount of pay. Millions of foreign workers are dragged into the Reich by force, thrusts or empty promises. The Hitlerian labor battalions include children who, in America, would be receiving the benefits of a great educational system.

Reports from Berlin admit the presence of 3,000,000 foreign workers brought in from occupied countries to take the place of Nazis serving in the armed forces. Other sources place this total as high as 5,000,000. The forced labor—including 1,500,000 French prisoners and thousands of Russians—is not classified as "foreign labor."

Children of 15 years and older have been registered in Norway for compulsory labor and service in Germany. Children from the Baltic states have been pressed into labor in German factories. Belgian girls are being shipped into the Reich to do hard labor at long hours.

Against that dark background, the observance of Labor day will have a special significance in the United States this year. More than ever it will belong not to union labor nor to non-union labor, not to the AFL, nor the CIO—but to the American people and the people of the United Nations. It will belong to all men everywhere who work with hand or brain or heart for the destruction of Axis tyranny and who have a deep conviction that "Free Labor Will Win."

Prohibit Flow of Currency into Mexico

Pastor On Vacation; Lutherans Hold Service

The Lutheran church in Plymouth will be the only one to hold Sunday morning worship services. Both, Rev. H. L. Bethel of the Presbyterian church and Rev. E. R. Haines of the Methodist church are absent from their pulpits. Rev. Bethel is on vacation and Rev. Haines is at Lakeside with a group of young folks from Plymouth and Shiloh, attending the Epworth League Institute. However, Sunday school will be held as usual in both of the churches.

It was announced today by M. J. Fleming, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, that the United States Treasury Department, in cooperation with the Mexican government, has prohibited the exportation to Mexico of any United States currency other than coins and bills of the $2.00 denomination. Supplementing this measure, the government of Mexico has prohibited the importation into that country of any United States currency other than coins and $2.00 bills.

Furthermore, all United States currency brought into this country from Mexico after Aug. 14th, 1942 (except coins and $2.00 bills) will be required to be surrendered to the United States customs authorities at the border.

All United States currency now within Mexico has been ordered turned into the Bank of Mexico and associated banks, but if the owner can prove that the currency was legitimately acquired and is free from Axis taint, the equivalent in Mexican pesos will be delivered to the owner of the United States currency turned in.

The purpose of these measures is to prevent use being made of Mexico as a place in which Axis agents may dispose of dollar currency looted abroad.

The new regulations do not affect the free passage across the border of checks, drafts, travelers' checks and other credit instruments in the same manner as has been true up to the present time. Tourists crossing from the United States to Mexico would experience no inconvenience provided they converted such money as they intended taking with them into travelers' checks, bank drafts etc. or into $2.00 bills and coins.

It was stated by treasury officials that the $2.00 bill had been eliminated from the restrictions because very few such bills have fallen into Axis hands, whereas it is known that large amounts of United States currency of other denominations have come under the control of the aggressor nation.

Findley Defeated Will Try Again In General Election

Although he was defeated in Tuesday's primary by Roy H. Williams of Sandusky for the nomination for a six year term as state supreme court judge, Lorain County Common Pleas Judge Guy B. Findley expects to be a candidate in November for the unexpired supreme court term of the late Judge Gilbert Bettman. Candidates for the unexpired term of the state supreme court judge must file by petition and Findley said his candidacy would depend upon his ability to obtain the required number of signatures before deadline for filing. He added that his petitions were already in circulation.
