War Bond Sales On the Increase

BANK, VILLAGE AND CITIZENS MAKE FINE RECORD IN BUYING SECURITIES.

Plymouth was a little slow in getting started in the purchase of War Bonds and Stamps, and today there isn't much shouting from the house top over the number of bonds that are being purchased regularly. But it is a safe bet that this little Ohio village will stand high in the ranks if a comparison were made as to the number of dollars invested per person.

According to J. E. Nimmons, vice president of the Peoples National Bank, an average of $6,000 monthly is being handled in the bond department. This is an exceptionally high figure for a community this size and with no continuous bond drive to spur the sale of bonds. Mr. Nimmons also stated that a steady improvement in bond sales has been recorded, and from present indications, sales will hold steady throughout the year.

Bank Buys Bonds

With a surplus of around $300,000 on hand, officials of the Peoples National Bank recently voted to invest in Uncle Sam's best offering — War Bonds — to the amount of $130,000. This purchase of bonds is one of the biggest single investments in this community, and the officials, as well as officials of the bank, feel that it is really the SAFEST investment an individual or firm can make.

John L. Beelman, president of the bank, stated that at the close of business on Dec. 31st, the bank had invested a total sum of $460,971.56 in U. S. government securities. Mr. Beelman said that approximately $245,000 worth of these bonds have been purchased since June 30, 1942, which gives the bank a fine record.

Village Also Purchases Bonds

An ordinance was passed by the village council at its first meeting of the year, Tuesday night, authorizing the purchase of War Bonds totalling around $8,000.00. Mayor J. E. Derr stated that the money subscribed for purchase of bonds was taken from the inactive funds held by the village. The purchase of the bonds conforms strictly to the state laws in regard to using money from the various depositories of the village.

It was pointed out that there is approximately $20,000 held in the light fund by the Board of Public Affairs, and it is thought that sufficient to operate the light department, and that under state laws, a portion of this money could be invested in War Bonds.

FRH Employees Active

It is needless to say that employees at the Fair-Ration-Health company are lacking in interest — for that would be a gross injustice. Employees are rallying to the purchase of Bonds in a grand way, and what's more they're hitting the bull's eye every month! Out of a total of 735 employees working at the local plant in December, 844 are on the pay roll (bond buying) basis, or a percentage equalling 93 per cent. are buying bonds. The gross pay roll shows that 11.4 per cent is going for bond purchases.

The F-R-H plant and employees have reached their "Fair-Ration-Health" goal, and to be commended for their efforts. A bond selling station has been opened at the plant where employees can make additional purchases at any time.

Approximately $3,500 is subscribed each month in bonds by F-R-H employees.

Citizens of Plymouth should be well proud of its band of village officials, the F-R-H plant and its employees, and those who are buying bonds. It gives other communities something to shoot at, but the best of all is shown in the boys in service that the home folks are backing them up.

CHURCH VOTES ON PASTOR

At a congregational meeting of the Lutheran church held Sunday, Jan. 3, it was voted to extend a call to Rev. Lambertus P. Peters, to the pastorate of the local Lutheran church. At the meeting Sunday, it was also voted to have Don Ford and Sam Penner to serve as members of the church council.

Reinforcements on the Way

Sees Fight On Time Change

HURON COUNTY REPRESENTATIVE PREDICTS CHANGE AT EARLY DATE

On his way home from Columbus where he had been attending the General Assembly, Huron County Representative Frank Peirce stopped in at The Advertiser's office Wednesday evening long enough to say: "Hello."

Asked how the lawmakers felt about the time change in Columbus, Mr. Peirce replied: "Well, the boys are pretty hot under the collar, and when they received the message from OPA in Washington NOT to change the time, it made them a little hotter." Mr. Peirce also stated that he expected several bills pertaining to the changing of time in Ohio to be presented before the House in a couple of weeks.

From the sentiment being expressed throughout the state, especially among the rural class, it is indicative that Ohioans want to get up "by day light, and not in a total blackout."

Mr. Peirce, who is serving his second term as representative from Huron county, was appointed to serve on the Labor and Insurance committees.

Mr. Peirce was also honored on Tuesday when he was chosen as one of three Representatives to accompany Governor Bricker to the joint session of the Senate and House.

Around the Square

(By Phigass Whiteshead)

DON'T FORGET TO TUNE IN your radio today and hear Mr. Roosevelt's address to Congress — or is he going to speak over the radio?

IF YOU'VE kept up your regular routine of travel this week in Plymouth without a Fall, you should be rated as "excellent!" The slippery glare of ice which has covered the streets, has made pedestrian travel very precarious. Starting last Sunday Old Man Winter put on a coating of ice that has thrilled the kiddies, but made the older-ups a little skeptical about walking.

ONE DOES have a blank and foolish look on his face when he takes a tumble. But don't feel that way. You can rest assured that it can happen to anybody to any one. And, too, the populace can't tell whether you happen to be "stewed" or sober, when you take your fall. So if you've had a couple, don't feel too badly about going down, for no one will ever suspect.

THERE'S NO kidding about the seriousness of this ice business. The roads have been so dangerous to travel over it has been necessary to hold in the school buses (up 1 Thursday morning.) And unless there is a change in temperature within the next 24 hours, the rural school children will have had a week of "forced vacation."

AT ANY RATE the icy roads and walks prove that there is more than a "slip between the cup and the lip." And some of our own known citizens will vouch for that.

THE PRESIDENT is looking for a good name for this war. The title should be expressive, terse and to the point — oh yes, fit to print.

THE CUT in German Food rations is due in part to the failure of conquered countries to meet their quotas. In some regions the farmers are raising practically nothing but hard.

NOWADAYS IT'S HELL to tell whether a fellow is walking to reduce, or reduced to walking.

ALFRED NOBEL, donor of the famous $400,000 Nobel Peace prize, was the inventor of dynamite and manufacturer of munitions. Ironie, isn't it?

THE WAY TO VICTORY? It isn't ships or armament. Or planes that blast and roar. Or War Bonds and priorities. That'll really win this war.

It's the help of every American! To our armed forces as a whole, And to the everlasting teamwork. Of every bloomin' soul.

HAVE OFTEN HEARD of "enthusiasm bubbling over" but this is the first instance where we learned it really got you down. The following conversation was overheard at the Black & Gold Soda Grill the other evening between two scouts lamenting that their leader Glenna Rowe was thinking of resigning First Scout: "Say, do you know that Glenna is going to quit?" Second Scout: "She is? What for?" First Scout: "I don't really know, but I think it is because she has enthusiasm in her legs." Scout number one failed to see anything funny in the remark, and he used no language when it was explained that it was "rheumatism" and not "enthusiasm" did not see the point — but then she was only a little scout.

FRANK CROSS, one of our esteemed citizens, handed in the clipping below taken from the Ashland Times-Gazette, and says he thinks it's worth reprinting, and we agree with him. At the wind-up you'll find it "more truth than poetry":

Editor of Times-Gazette: While the New Deal is on its death bed and the family kneels by the bed mourning his passing, loyal Americans should rejoice because it presents an opportunity to throw off the yoke of bondage

Surveys Go On In Shelby Area

DIRECTIVE NOT YET RECEIVED: ARMY STAFF GETTING SET IF ORDER COMES

Army construction engineers have set up a special office at the Shelby post office from which they are conducting surveys of possible local sites for a contemplated project in this area. This study lay out control points to enable an accurate description of the boundary and to establish an accurate acreage, it was disclosed today.

Although no directive has been received, preparations are being made in such an eventuality so that construction on any site can be started immediately. Poor unloading facilities present a handicap to moving in heavy machinery, it was revealed.

This far personnel has been about evenly divided between Shelby and Mansfield in obtaining housing facilities, officials said today. For the most part members of the staff are seeking two and three room apartments with facilities for cooking and with private bath. Shelby is favored by those seeking a living accommodations because from present indication this city will be the closer to any site selected by the army.

"Victory Tax" Now in Effect

UNCLE SAM DIPS INTO OUR POCKETS FOR AN ADDED FIVE PER CENT

Effective Friday the 5% "Victory Tax" became effective on all wages and salaries in excess of $12 a week and if you were paid over the week-end you undoubtedly found that Uncle Sam put his hand in your pocket before you did on pay day.

Everyone with an income of more than $624 a year has to pay the tax, but it will be collected at the source only in the case of wage earners and salaried people. A final settlement, up or down, between the taxpayer and the government will be made in the 1943 Victory Tax on March 15, 1944, when individual income tax returns for 1943 are due.

Payers of the Victory tax get a post-war credit for part of the tax paid — 25 per cent credit in the case of a single person, 40 per cent for a married man, plus 2 per cent for each dependent.

The taxpayer doesn't have to wait until the end of the war to collect the rebate. If he can prove that he bought government bonds to the amount of his post-war credit, or paid off old debts, or paid life insurance premiums on policies taken out previously, he can claim credit to the amount of his allowed percentage — but no more — and apply it against his 1943 income tax.

Funeral services and burial were held in Angola, Ind., Tuesday, Jan. 5th.

1943 BRINGS FOUR DOUBLE HOLIDAYS

As is the custom when holidays fall on Sunday, the following day is celebrated so workers can be more than pleased with the holiday arrangement that 1943 brings.

Point System Next Month

The loss of the unlearned who stay that way by a careful computation of the gallons in each morsel of food which she consumed, a housewife these past few years, is about to graduate in mathematics. Uncle Sam will enroll her in the "point system" of evaluation along about Feb. 1, and her previous experience of using arithmetic in connection with food purchases will stand her in good stead. Those having no previous experience in such calculation are going to learn it the hard way.

Most of the every-day items the housewife uses in preparing the family meals will have a point value as well as a dollar and cents value starting next month, according to information given members of the Huron War Price and Rationing Board, at their regular meeting held Sunday at Norwalk. In these days of ample money, the shopper probably will find it necessary to place a firm hold on her "points", than upon her purse.

Before this all comes to pass, however, Uncle Sam is going to ask for a definite point valuation from each and every one of us. More cellar-minded than ever, the benevolent Uncle wants to know just how much foodstuffs are stored in the homes of Americans. Xmas is past, and you yourself, but the things you have bought, the number of tins and jars of this and that. Get the inventory complete because there is to be another registration day when you will be given a chance to turn in this information in exchange for War Ration Book No. 2, filled with blue and red coupons all of a definite point value.

Dates for the new registration will be announced shortly.

All of this may be a bit bothersome; it may be downright irksome; but it is this information the government needs to make sure that ALL of the people will have sufficient food, and not just those who were forehanded enough to lay in a supply.

The meeting of the county rationing board at Sandusky, was no less of a routine nature, members from New London, Greenview and one from Monroeville were unable to attend because of the icy condition of the roads.

A question of whether coupons from the sugar and coffee ration books of children who had become 15 since coffee went on the rationed list, can be used now for the purchase of coffee was settled when chief clerk Vivian Carvey, submitted an official ruling that the book holders had to be 15 at the time the book was issued if

A DREAM COMES TRUE

In spite of conflict and problems involving war production, our factories turned out a fantastic amount of war equipment during the year of 1942.

When we consider that part of the job during the past year was to build plants and machines for producing war supplies, the record of goods actually completed should be enough to make Hitler realize that he can't hope to compete with American production.

The most accepted figures for production during 1942 show these results:

- 32,000 tanks and self-propelled artillery.
- 17,000 large anti-aircraft guns.
- 8,200,000 tons of shipping.

In some instances we were short of the goals set by the President at the beginning of the year, but we were close enough to all of them to show that, in 1943, our plans to produce machines of war fast enough to assure victory will be achieved. When the goals were set Hitler ridiculed them as an impossible dream. Now, with the evidence before us, Hitler is doing the dreaming—and his dream is by now a first degree nightmare.

VICTORY TAX BEGINS

Without much fanfare or preview of what it is all about, everyone receiving wages or salaries will have a victory tax deducted from their pay beginning with the first week of January.

The tax will amount to five per cent of wages above $12 a week, but will not apply to the first $12 of any pay. Thus a man earning $40 a week would have to pay a tax of $1.40 a week and a man earning $60 a week would pay a tax of $2.40 a week.

Part of this tax becomes savings and is returned at the end of the war. The savings proportion varies according to the number of dependents. With a single person, 25 per cent of the amount paid is considered as savings whereas with a married person it is 40 per cent. An additional two and one-half per cent is added to the savings fund for each dependent the tax-payer supports.

This tax was included as part of the revenue act which also raised regular taxes to the highest point in history.

So when you find your pay envelope or pay check has a slice taken out of it in January, this is the reason for it. Perhaps you will find some compensation in the fact that part of it will come back to help pay that down payment on an automobile after the war.

DALE CARNEGIE

Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People"

Twenty-two years ago a daughter arrived in the home of an architect in El Paso, Texas. The child seemed like any normal infant. Strong. Healthy. Her father's name was Gollner, and the little girl was given the first name of Nana.

One day, when she was two years old, her mother saw that Nana wasn't feeling well. That night a fever developed. The doctor was called. And then the parents heard the dreaded words—infantile paralysis.

When it was all over, she had a club foot. She was "different" from the other children. While she watched other little girls hopping, skipping and jumping, she sat wistfully, her face pressed against the window pane, her eyes following them on the way to school, as far as she could see them. Then she would turn to the lonely study of her own lessons before her teacher arrived.

After her lessons, she must get at the business of learning to walk, raising and lowering her feet laboriously and uncomfortably through several inches of deep sand to strengthen the muscles with the hope that some day she would be able to walk like other little girls.

Finally the arches were supported, blood rushed to the feet, the muscles began to build up. Her parents saw a miracle happening before their eyes.

Then came dancing steps. Here, suddenly, was a new release for the child. A new life. Dancing? It became the biggest thing in her life. She determined, this little lame girl, to become a professional dancer! At the age of twelve she began studying with the famous dance instructor, Koslov, in San Francisco, not just dancing, but ballet dancing, the most intricate form of the dancing art. What! a former club-footed girl study ballet dancing!

Nana Gollner's first professional engagement was with Max Reinhardt in "A Midsummer Night's Dream." She made the first ballet short in motion pictures.

Then she danced in London. Success. She was the only American girl in the famous Russian ballet.

She has danced in most of the leading European cities, eight months in South Africa, three of them in Johannesburg, where she danced for those she likes most to dance for, the working classes. Dancing before the sophisticated King of Sweden didn't give Nana half the thrill that she experiences when dancing for the people who come to see the ballet because they really love it.

righted story. His findings are so important to the American public that they are summarized here:

1—The size of the German submarine fleet is eight times what it was two years ago.

2—Losses due to submarines are not dropping. Fewer ships are sunk along the American and British coasts and therefore fewer rescued crews are being brought ashore, but the damage goes on far out at sea.

3—Germany is building 25 submarines a month.

4—The R. A. F. hopes it is damaging German submarine construction yards, but is not sure.

5—Germany is not suffering from a lack of crews. With the new submarine they can be trained in six weeks' cruising in the Baltic.

6—Captured crews are still defiant and full of hate, indicating continued high morale.

7—Germany is continuing to receive accurate information on ship sailings both from Britain and the United States.

Commendable efforts have been made to increase the output of shipyards. The workers are doing their part to build the ships to carry the essential commodities of war to the men on the fighting fronts around the world. But a greater contribution to this effort would be made if the public were informed on the real shipping situation in relation to enemy submarine activities. The bald truth is a greater inspiration to new effort than nine dozen pep meetings.

In a war for survival it isn't fun to be fooled by those who are directing the war effort. This policy of concealment denotes a distrust of the people of the Allied nations that calls for the strongest public condemnation. It fosters a dangerous sense of false security. The people want the facts. They can measure up to any situation however serious. Contrary to official belief, the facts would spur the American people to greater effort rather than discourage them.

Shipping is the great problem of the United Nations since they are compelled to fight the enemy on outside lines, over long sea distances both east and west. The problem cannot be solved by hush hush methods. Let us have the facts and figures on these losses and we'll get mad enough to fight and build the ships with which to eliminate this menace from the seas. —Cleveland Plain Dealer

GIVE US FACTS ON U-BOATS

Submarines are still the greatest menace to the United Nation's war effort on the threshold of the year which many believe will bring victory over the Axis in Europe. Contrary to a false public belief created by an Anglo-American policy of concealment on losses, the depredations of Hitler's U-Boats have increased in the last six months. Unless these losses are drastically reduced Allied armies will be unable to improve the excellent strategic positions they have achieved or to open fronts and triumph for our arms may be long delayed.

Elim: Davis, director of the office of War Information, gave a hint of the current havoc on Allied shipping lanes in a recent release in which he said: "There is one thing we should not forget and that is the continual seriousness of the submarine problems all around the world." "Submarines have been pretty effectively driven from our shores and consequently the people tend to forget that they are still active elsewhere. They remain a very serious danger."

The people did not forget. They never knew. The policy of trying to win the war by ignorance goes on despite the efforts of Davis to bring enlightenment. It remained however, for Roscoe Drummond of the Washington staff of the Christian Science Monitor to reveal the actual situation in a copy

Local Boy Wins Promotion, Work Is Highly Interesting

The great work of the Sperry corporation of New York City is of special interest here because Prof. Ralph Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Barnes of this place, is a research engineer for the Sperrys. He has made 32 airplane trips from New York City to Rochester during the past year and was recently promoted to a far more responsible position.

An article by a staff writer in a recent New York paper gives a small part of their defense work: "As Flight Lieut. Girardet of the R. A. F. tells the story now, it must have been as a devilish night as a man ever spent in an airplane. Far out over the Mediterranean and headed for Malta, he was with medical supplies, concentrated foods and high military personnel when the big engine of the electrical system, generators and all, quit dead on him. There was only the navigator and himself to handle the ship on the long, tough flight ordinarily demanding a full crew, but there were not with all that personnel and the critical supplies too, and the beleaguered little island needed these things desperately. They were flying on instruments, of course, but how can you fly a plane up there in the middle of a black nowhere if you can't see the instruments? There was a flashlight but it wasn't working only one spot at a time on the big panel and three things might go hay wire, while one was being corrected.

There was only one thing to do, to hand the job to the automatic gyropilot and pray. The amazing Elmer Sperry had accuracy of pilot could have in that blackness! If there was a chance that was it. And the gyropilot took them there. They missed Malta by a hair, picked up their position over Sicily, shook off a vicious barrage of Italian anti-aircraft shrapnel. Down they came at last in a flare with lightning a bomb scattered Malta flying field, grueling hours after what might have been a disaster.

They call the automatic pilot "George" in the RAF. To young Americans pushing the big engine out over the Pacific the gyropilot is Elmer. They're affectionate names that are handled lightly, but they're by way of being the greatest brusque, hard-fighting pilot to a friend who drives them well. The automatic pilots are being turned out in huge numbers today in the big Sperry corporation plants in Brooklyn where a vibrant government industry in black shades on complex precision instruments.

ABOUT OUR SOLDIER BOYS

All eyes are turned to our flying star, James Ruckman. James is located at Miami, Fla. Recently he made a long trip. Leaving Miami as co-pilot in a big liner, and a number of passengers, they made stops at Porto Rico, stayed over night at Trinidad, stopped at Belem, Brazil, and then to Natal, Brazil, where they went to stay several days on account of the weather. They also stopped at Ascension Island, about half way between South America and Africa. From there they went to Accra at Gold Coast, Africa. While there, James got an army jeep and took a trip into the interior as far as he could go and brought back with him a cat, a tom, a tom and some stone beads. It was difficult to bargain in the sign language, and it was too hot to argue. Coming back they stopped at Georgetown, British Guiana. James enjoyed his trip, as it is just what he likes to do. He is now in Miami attending school ten hours a day.

Corp. Tech. Howard Sloan of Ft. Monmouth, N. J., enjoyed a 5-day pass. A family dinner on New Year's Day in his honor was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forsythe of this place, and Miss Margaret Pittenger of Polk.

Joseph E. Mock of Camp Campbell, Ky., was at home on a 3-day furlough. He was joined at the family home on New Year's Day by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frock and Miss Ada Mock of Springfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Mathews and family of Plymouth. Miss Mock remained until Sunday morning and accompanied her brother as far as Springfield.

It is Stephen Kopina that enjoys the Corp. before his name instead of William. Corp. Steven Kopina is located at Ft. Bliss, Texas.

Quite a number of the boys have called their parents or wives from the east coast and from the west coast, but on Sunday evening Mrs. Edna Wichie was happily surprised when her son Joe called her from Great Lakes.

Many Married in Plymouth Fifty Years Ago Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Bevier of Hamburg, N. Y., have been looking forward all year to observing their golden wedding anniversary, but they were totally unprepared for the elaborate celebration planned for them by their four children with the help of close relatives.

For several months the group have been laying the ground work for a three day festive occasion with all relatives present that could possibly be secured. The anniversary dinner was held on Monday, December 28, at the Georgian Room, Hotel Statler in Buffalo, N. Y., with covers laid for forty-five guests. Members were present from Columbus, O., Baltimore, Md., Willard, Ohio, Spokane, Wash., Portland, Ore., Plymouth, Cleveland, Mansfield, Ohio, Hamburg, N. Y., Hudson, Michigan, and Buffalo, N. Y.

Favors were an attractive booklet containing data on both the Monteth and Bevier families, bound with a gold cover with a wedding bell cut-out. Quoting from the Plymouth Advertiser of 1892 the following write-up appeared opposite a picture of Mr. and Mrs. Bevier: "The bride and her 'setting sail on the sea of matrimony':

"BEVIER-MONTEITH—At the home of the bride's parents, on Trux street, this city, December 28, 1892, at high noon by Rev. N. C. Heltrich, Mr. Abraham T. Bevier of Hudson, Mich., and Miss Georgiana F. Monteth of this place.

The groom was a former Plymouth boy, being born and reared in this place and is well and favorably known but of late has held a lucrative position with one of the Hudson machine works.

The bride is a most estimable young lady, daughter of Street Commissioner John Monteth. The happy young couple left for their future home Thursday noon.

Tuesday, the 29th, an open house was observed at 3:30 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Bevier with supper at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. I. O. Parlato, a daughter, assisted by Mrs. C. L. Bevier and Mrs. L. E. Hicks.

Wednesday, the group were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bevier in Buffalo, New York.

The day following their marriage on Dec. 28, 1892, young Mr. and Mrs. Bevier went to Hudson, Mich., where they remained two and a half years, they later made their home in Adrian, Mich., Jola, Kansas, Hudson, N. Y., Greencastle, Ind., and later to Hamburg, N. Y., where they now reside.

Mr. Bevier resigned on Sept. 1, 1942 from the Lehigh Portland Cement Corporation as general superintendent, permitting him to retire from active service.

With their four children, John Cleson of Buffalo, Clifford Lee, Buffalo, Mrs. Thyra Hicks, Columbus and Mrs. Estella Parlato, of Hamburg, N. Y., together with their seven grand children, brothers, sisters and a host of friends say: May you continue to live long.

Complying with the President's request that Saturday half-holidays be abolished for federal employees, the Mansfield office of the U. S. Employment Service today went on a war-time schedule of eight hours a day, six days a week.

In announcing the new hours of 8 to 5 Monday through Saturday, Manager C. W. Handley said the additional half-day of operation on Saturday would permit Mansfield men and women now engaged in civilian employment to register with the Employment Service and make inquiry about free vocational training or employment in war jobs.

AT THE HANNA

With an enviable record seldom obtained in the theatre, "Claudia" comes to the Hanna Theatre, Cleveland, for one week beginning Monday, January 11th and ending Sunday, January 17th, with the original New York cast.

The comedy which has become rather notable success with two other companies besides the original on tour, tells of the struggle of a young wife to attain adulthood despite the fact that so much affection was lavished upon her as a child that she shirks the natural growth of maturity. In the play we meet Claudia a year after she has been married. She is young and attractive and charming but she has more than her share of naive innocence. In all her life and the lives of those in contact with her are managed rather despite, instead of, because of her arrested development.

The cast remains unchanged and includes Frances Starr, Donald Cook, Dorothy McGuire, Olga Bacalova, Walter Graff, Adrienne Gessner, Frank Tweddell and Audrey Ridgwell.

"Claudia" was written by Rose Franken with her short stories of the same title as a foundation for her play. John Golden is responsible for the production, the author directed her own play, and the scenery was designed by Donald Oenslager.

Gulport Field, Miss.
Dec 24, 1942
Dear Tommy:
Well I just received a hometown paper today.

I have three days in a row off for Christmas. It doesn't look much like Christmas here in Mississippi.

I am waiting for the 2:30 mail call this afternoon then I'm starting for town. They have a lot of buses here but they are always crowded. I was an hour and a half getting in to Gulport last night, only five miles from camp.

Well I can't say much for the towns down here. We seem to have a pretty good time wherever we go anyhow. There seems to be soldiers everywhere you go. There are over 20,000 men here on this post.

I rather like this army life, no tires or gas rationing to worry about and plenty to eat and a lot of exercise to keep us busy. Well I read some of the letters from the other boys in the paper.

I wish to thank all of the friends that remembered me with cards. I wish you all a Happy New Year,
Your friend,
Roger Ross

Camp Hood
December 30, 1942
Dear People of Plymouth and Community:
I would like to take this means of thanking each of you for the gift I received and for thinking of me. My only wish is that every community in the country would do as much for their boys in the service as Plymouth and community has.

This being my first Xmas in the army it was very interesting to note the various activities going on in the different battalions around camp. Some battalions had theatre parties, others dances, etc. In our own battalion on Xmas day we had the little children from communities around here in for a Xmas dinner and party. I think the men had more fun than the children and can assure you that both had a grand time. I can't think of a thing that the men could have gotten more of a kick out of than entertaining those kids.

Well, as I am still in the army and it is pretty active these days, I must close now and get to work. Hoping you all had a very Merry Christmas and will have a Happy and Prosperous New Year,
I remain,
John Fackler

10% OF INCOME IS OUR QUOTA IN WAR BONDS

A WEEK OF THE WAR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—New Year's day, 1943, marked the first anniversary of the formation of the United Nations. In his first press conference of the New Year, President Roosevelt declared the world situation that existed one year ago when 26 nations, bound together by the universal ideals of the Atlantic Charter, signed the United Nations Declaration and thus created, "the mightiest coalition in history." (Three other nations have since joined this coalition).

The unity achieved by these 29 signatory powers is bearing rich fruit. The United Nations, said the President, are passing from the defensive to the offensive, ever conscious, however, of the supreme necessity of planning what is to come after, of carrying forward into peace the common effort which will have bound them together in war.

Our task on this New Year's Day is three-fold, Mr. Roosevelt said—First, to crush completely the present "bandit assault" upon civilization; second, to reorganize relations among nations that forces of barbarism can never again break loose; and third, to cooperate to the end "that mankind may enjoy in freedom the unprecedented blessings which Divine Providence through the progress of civilization has put within our reach."

Axis economic strength and weakness was outlined in a "beginning-of-1943" balance sheet issued by Milo Perkins, executive director of the Board of Economic Warfare. Germany, Mr. Perkins has passed her production peak, but is still economically formidable, with little likelihood of economic collapse in Germany in 1943. Japan, however, much stronger in raw materials than she was a year ago, and except for a major weakness in shipping is now within reach of a powerful offensive against the United States. The ability of the Axis powers to support defensive warfare is especially marked, he said, but as both economies are strained, inflicting bomb damage on Germany and attacking Japan shipping will have immediate effects on these countries war production.

PRODUCTION

As for U. S. war production, Chairman Nelson said that in '43 this country expects to produce almost twice as much as was produced in 1942, spending better than $90,000,000 for war as compared to 1942's $52 billion. November armament production was the greatest monthly gain since the U. S. began to re-arm in the summer of 1940—four and one-third times more war material turned out than in the month before the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor. Mr. Nelson gave the box score of November war production (over October)—airplanes, up 18 per cent—ordnance, up 21 per cent—army and navy vehicles, up 9 per cent—merchant vessels, up 26 per cent, and other munitions, up 9 per cent.

Special attention has been given to the items most needed in the type warfare we are waging in North Africa, with outstanding gains recorded in the output of single-engine pursuit planes, medium bombers, smaller transport planes, and the production of the self-propelled guns used in tank warfare.

High noon, the U. S. is turning out enough rifle and machine gun ammunition each month to fit 83 rounds at each individual soldier in the Axis armies. In one year of war, production of small arms ammunition has increased 550 per cent—and is still going up.

Backing up our production of finished war material is our production of metals and minerals. A year-end report from the Bureau of Mines announced that in 1942 we produced more metals and minerals than in any year of our history. Estimated value of our mineral products was $7,325,000,000, a record figure that tops the 1941 level by 10 per cent.

RATIONING

Agriculture Secretary Wickard directed OPA to begin rationing about 200 canned, frozen and dried fruits and vegetables as soon as machinery could be set up. U. S. civilians will eat nearly one-third less of these foods in 1943 than they have been accustomed to eating, Wickard said, but their diets can still be well-balanced and healthful. Rationing in U. S. does not mean standard diets.

OPA said the rationing would begin in early February, under the "point" system. Supplies of food will be rationed only temporarily and briefly frozen on tailors shelves and in distributors and processors warehouses, and before being issued a ration book consumers will have to declare whatever canned goods they have on hand so that these goods can be deducted from their allowance. Heavy penalties will be imposed for giving false information.

Under the point system, the housewife uses her stamps when she buys rationed foods from the storekeeper, the storekeeper uses the stamps when he buys from his supplier, and the supplier, in turn, uses the stamps to buy from his canner or from another supplier. All along the line, there is complete freedom of choice. And since the point values are the same in every store throughout the nation, the retailer's business in these rationed foods will be limited only by the point value of stamps, he takes in from his customers. Thus, according to Elmer Davis, director of the OWI, competition in the trade will be maintained, and the war record keeping will be required of the storekeeper.

RELATIONS WITH NORTH AFRICA

A communique from the Office of General Giraud, French high commissioner, said no attempts to divide the French people in North Africa will be tolerated. The communique, explaining that steps had been taken to insure tranquility behind the fighting lines, said most persons had accepted the recent developments calmly, but a small element had been trying to cause unrest. Secretary of State Hull said General Giraud's leadership "will go far to assure the common history with the restoration of French liberty everywhere," and Secretary of War Stimson said he was confident that Gen. Giraud would continue the splendid cooperation in the recent developments calmly, but a small element had been trying to cause unrest. Secretary of State Hull said General Giraud's leadership "will go far to assure the common history with the restoration of French liberty everywhere," and Secretary of War Stimson said he was confident that Gen. Giraud would continue the splendid cooperation in the recent developments calmly, but a small element had been trying to cause unrest.

President Roosevelt expects to confer soon with Gen. Charles De Gaulle, but has already discussed with a mission from Gen. Giraud the question of supplies for the French troops. Elmer Davis and Milton Eisenhower of the Office of War Information told a press conference that unless substantial quantities of food and clothing arrive in North Africa before Feb. 1, there will be serious trouble there. Much of the food earmarked for that area by Lend-Lease has arrived, but much more is needed.

Meanwhile, the U. S. is arming Gen. Giraud's French African Army as far as possible. Allied commander-in-chief Eisenhower said planes have already been delivered to Giraud's air force and more planes and tanks are on the way. Also French fighting forces fighting with the Allies are being reinforced and re-equipped. President Roosevelt said that inasmuch as the U. S. is attempting to get supplies to all the fighting forces of the United Nations, the crux of the North African supply situation is the question of shipping.

THE WAR FRONT

From the beginning of the North African operations to December 26, 277 enemy airplanes have been destroyed. Of these, 105 were shot down by the RAF, 102 by the U. S. Army air forces and 16 by anti-aircraft fire. Allied losses for the same period total 114—59 from the U. S. A. F., and 55 from the RAF.

Allied air activity in the North African territory has taken five main forms—short range fighters and fighter bombers (mainly provided by the RAF) do the battle area attacking bombers (mainly provided by the USAF) carry out the daylight attacks on ports, air-dromes, shipping and railways; R. A. F. bombers handle the heavy night attacks, concentration on Tunis and Bizerte—RAF reconnaissance planes protect convoys and attack U-boats, and USAF transport planes bring men and supplies into the forward areas.

In the Southwest Pacific area in 1942, 1,286 Japanese planes were destroyed or damaged, according to an Allied air force announcement. This total includes 723 planes destroyed, 560 probably destroyed and 313 damaged. In comparison, the announcement said, Allied plane losses in 1942 were small.

Time To Change The Clock

Last February the adoption of War Time was accepted in a spirit of sincere patriotism and with the hope that it would help in our war effort. Nearly a year's experience and sober thought on the subject have convinced us that nothing is gained by it, especially for farm people. In fact the wasting of natural light causes loss of time and of power necessary for artificial light. When every man jack of us should be hard at work it doesn't make sense to start out long before the sun puts in his appearance, just so we can quit work while there are still several hours of daylight left.

Eastern Standard puts us far enough ahead of the sun and now War Time has advanced us another hour. It means that children must wait along the road for school buses in pitch darkness which is dangerous. It means that cows must be milked long before daylight in order to catch some pick-up schedules; it means that every farmer whose work hinges on a time schedule other than on his own farm must re-align his plans and he wastes precious minutes of natural light every day.

Most farm work can and should be done between sunup and sundown. Work can be done with more speed, more efficiency and with less danger in daylight than with artificial light. We recommend that Ohio adopt central War Time. It will save time and power and we will still be a half hour ahead of the sun time.

—Ohio Farmer

AROUND THE SQUARE

It used to be if a man kept the Ten Commandments he could keep out of jail, but the good old days are gone. It is a foreboding of the day described in Rev. 13.

Ten years ago the New Deal swept in with a bang. Money was thrown to the four winds, debt piled up, our liberty began feeling twinges of restriction, most everybody had a whoopee time and the land overflowed with beer and whisky instead of milk and honey.

Many of the fellows who hailed the New Order as something they never saw another one like it, never see another one like it.

The O. P. A. comes out with a statement that gasoline is being rationed to relieve critical shortages in some areas; and the next day states it is not to conserve gasoline but to conserve rubber.

Death laid his cold hand upon his brow, Poor New Deal, there's no hope for it now.

Its name is engraved on the nation's memory, Its deeds will go down in rogue's history.
