A Christmas musicale will be presented to the public by the music department in the high school auditorium, Wednesday, Dec. 22, at 8:00 o'clock, p. m.

The program will be divided into two main parts. The first part will consist of selections by the high school band, and carols, readings and rhythm band selections by children of the first six grades. A surprise is in store for the younger children. Students of the upper six grades will participate in the latter half of the evening's entertainment.

This will include carols by the Junior Girls' Chorus and the Senior Girls' Chorus, special numbers by a boys' vocal ensemble, and instrumental musical selections. A tableau will provide an appropriate conclusion to the program.

Solo voices will include those of Jim Moore, Jim Crockett, Paul Scott, Margaret Kemp, Mary Alice Weller, and Jimmy Shutt.

The program is under the direction of Miss Judy Bethel and Mrs. D. A. Jump, assisted by the grade and high school teachers.

No admission will be charged, but a free-will offering will be collected to help defray the expenses.

McKinley Club Plans For Annual Banquet

Plans are well under way to hold the annual McKinley banquet as near as possible to McKinley's birthday, January 28th. The exact date is dependent upon the availability of several speakers of nation wide renown with whom the club is negotiating.

D. Terry, printing and tickets; Marie Romer, decorations.

YOUTHS QUIT AT SHELBY DEPOT

Controversy over the transportation problem for high school boys to the Parsel Air Supply Depot near Shelby, resulted last evening in the entire crew of approximately 125 boys throwing up their jobs, it is reported.

When the boys were hired, army buses gathered up the boys and returned them here at 9:30. Now the problem of inter-state commerce comes up and a charge for hauling the boys must be made.

Whether the difficulty will be ironed out and the boys from Plymouth and surrounding communities as far south as Mansfield, will return to their part-time war jobs or not, will have to be decided between the officials and the boys.

Tosses Hat Into Ring

MARIE ROMER, CANDIDATE FOR CLERK OF COURTS IN HURON COUNTY.

Last Saturday morning friends of Marie Romer thought the bright sunshine had prompted her to rush the season by appearing downtown without her hat, but it turned out that she had thrown it into the ring as a candidate for Clerk of Courts in the Republican primary next Spring.

Since Myles S. Burras, present Huron County Clerk, announced some time ago that he would not be a candidate next year, it has been rumored that Miss Romer would run for the office and her many friends, and citizens generally, will welcome this announcement of her decision, as they recognize her splendid background of preparation for the responsibilities of that office, where all of the records of both the Court of Common Pleas and the Court of Appeals are kept.

She has served as a deputy clerk of courts for a number of years, and in that office has had special charge of two important branches of the work, the journals where the court's orders are entered in formal legal language, and all of the financial records of the office. In recent years she has also had charge of the assignment of cases for trial in both courts.

For people who have the technical preparation to perform the duties of a public office that Miss Romer has had for the office of Clerk of Courts.

LOCAL FOREMEN ATTEND MEETING

A representative group from the Fate-Roath-Heath Company were invited to be present Monday evening when the Mansfield-Shelby Foremen's Club met at the West Street Brethren church in Ashland. Dr. Charles Copland Smith of the National Manufacturers Association of New York, was the speaker of the evening and chided at his subject, The Relationship Between Top Management and the Foremen. Mr. Smith was born in England, but now spends his time traveling forty-six of the forty-eight states of the United States.

A turkey dinner was served to the 225 men present.

The local group decided to join the organization and the next meeting will be held on February 14 in the form of Ladies Night at the Mansfield-Leland hotel with a dinner at 6:30 p. m. Glenn Massaman of MacLeod & Grove, Inc., of Pittsburgh, will be speaker.

Those from Plymouth attending were James Root, Madison Fitch, Otis Downend, Glen Mackey, Walter Crum, Thor Woodworth and E. E. Markley.

HELPING OUT

Mrs. Elmer Colbert is assisting at the Cliner Store during the holiday season.

Father Draft Is Unsettled

LOCAL MEN GET WORD NOT TO REPORT AFTER BEING NOTIFIED OF CALL.

Just how the new selective service law drafting fathers will work out can only be determined later. However, Plymouth fathers who last week received notices to report today for their physical examination received a second notice to the effect that because of mended regulations they need not report until further notice. These men, who had been reclassified from 3A into 1A, are temporarily held in tentative 1A.

Clerks of the three Richland county draft board predicted that the change would have little effect in this county. Clerks said they have already inducted all available single men and non-deferable fathers which accounted for their sending out the notices to re-classify fathers last week. Now these fathers are to be processed according to their order numbers, which in some instances may delay their induction a short time.

The Final Push on the Home Battle Front

Death Claims Miss McGinley

WELL-KNOWN WOMAN SUCCEUMBS AFTER LONG ILLNESS; SERVICES FRIDAY.

Death came Tuesday evening to Miss Anna Myrtle McGinley, after an extended illness. Twenty years ago Miss McGinley suffered a stroke which necessitated the use of a cane in walking, but she bravely overcame this handicap and carried on. Last September she suffered a cerebral hemorrhage and since that time has been practically bedfast. Again she was stricken three weeks ago and this time she failed to rally. She was 66 years of age at the time of her death.

Miss McGinley was born June 3, 1877 at Perryville, Ohio, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McGinley. Some years ago she was matron of the Lorain County Children's Home at Oberlin, and later did practical nursing.

During her long illness she was lovingly cared for by her sister, Miss Alta McGinley, who survives, as does another sister, Mrs. H. L. Kellogg of Berkley, Clark. She was preceded in death by her parents, and another sister.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Miller-McQuate funeral home with Rev. E. R. Haines, officiating. Burial will take place in the Trauger cemetery, southeast of Plymouth.

FARMERS BALLOT ON TRIPLE A COMMITTEEEN FRIDAY, DECEMBER 17TH.

Plan Street Resurfacing In City of Norwalk

Norwalk - Norwalk city councilmen have taken steps to cooperate with the state highway department in the resurfacing of nearly three miles of Main street here at a cost of about $62,000. It has been planned to reconstruct the present pavement with bitulithic concrete.

Inasmuch as the War Department has demanded the 360 tons of L. E. steel rails that are buried in the center of the street, this question will prove an important factor. Hopes are entertained that by the time the city and state will be able to start the project, there will be no government demand for the rails, which with the ties, have been a satisfactory support for the driving surface. The state will pay two-thirds of the cost.

DIES AT WILLARD

Edward E. Rinker, 68, died at Municipal hospital Willard, Monday night. A native of Hicksville, Ohio, and a retired Baltimore & Ohio railroad employe, he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. A. T. Drury. His widow, Lydia, and a daughter, survive.

To Distribute Auto Tax Fund

Final distribution of automobile license revenue by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles for 1942 totaling $1,943,311 was announced this week by Highway Director H. G. Sours.

Included in the clean-up for last year will be $5,258 for each county from the 5 per cent equalization fund.

There will be $1,482,607 distributed to all subdivisions. Director Sours said he wanted to make sure that the distribution was made early enough this month to insure receipt of checks by the cities and counties before the end of 1943.

Distribution by subdivisions is as follows:
Huron County: Bellevue, $216-50; Greenview, $126-25; Monroeville, $86-75; New London, $185-25; North Fairfield, $114-75; Norwalk, $2,140-50; PLYMOUTH $91-50; Wakeman, $38-00; Willard, $253-00; County $1,233-75; County 47 per cent, $8,302-55; total $12,718-80.

Richard County: Gahanna, $42-25; Lexington, $52-75; Lucas, $83-25; Mansfield, $2,768-25; PLYMOUTH, $59; Shelby, $423; Shiloh, $41-50; South Boulevard, $82-25; County, $1,848-25; County, 47 per cent, $9,970-22. Total $15,282-75.

Local taxpayers will do well to take out their pencil and do a little figuring. Add up the totals of Huron and Richland counties and see what PLYMOUTH gets as its share. Study the figures closely and make comparisons with other towns whose tax valuation does not run as high, or whose automobile registrations do not come up to the total as has been pointed out.

The above figures are just another reason why Plymouth citizens should begin action to get one county or the other - think it over, so when the time comes you will understand the reason.

Around the Square

(By Phineas Whittleseed)

Plymouth, Rt. 2, Dec. 9, 1943.

P. W. Thomas, Editor, Plymouth Advertiser.
Dear Sir: - I note that in your paper today you state to the tune of pounds of hamburger left in your office.

For your information, what you ate was a really hamburger, as you probably have known it in the past. What you ate was in reality "horseburger" which goes to show "what you don't know doesn't hurt you."

I had an 18-year-old horse that on account of losing his teeth, was falling away in flesh. I had the animal butchered and froze so that I could have the ground "horse meat" to make up into dog feed - under the circumstances you do not owe me any ration stamps.

Hoping you enjoyed your "dog food" I remain
A Habitual Reader of Your Good Paper.
(Name on request.)

Dear Reader:

After reading the above letter, you had us gagging for a little while, but taking a little horse sense from that old plug you had butchered, we realized there is no RD 2 in Plymouth. That sorta gave you away to say nothing about the 70c and 12 points marked on the outside of the wrapped hamburger. It made good reading anyhow, even if it was just a lot of "horseplay."

THAT "June in December" weather is a thing of the past and local people, along with the rest of the State, are shivering and shaking in their boots, if any. It adds a lot to the Christmas atmosphere to have snow on the ground and nippy weather.

SORRY to have missed seeing Joe BeVier of Wauwatosa, Wis., Saturday afternoon. Joe is a former Plymouthite, but for a number of years now he has resided in the Wolverine state. What with the shortage of manpower, womanpower, newsprint and news, we are in a tight spot, it keeps a fellow constantly on the jump - and we jumped the wrong way Saturday to see Joe. Better luck next time.

CHRISTMAS greetings containing scenes from the Old Home Town and the personal signature of every employe at the P. H. Co., went out this week to former employes now in service. After sending out the greetings to all employes and service men - there are about 100 copies left - and many of the children. What shall I do? The answer came back: "After all, you can't expect too much of a husband."

THE GIRL welder sent a letter to the Advice to the Lovelorn column of the daily newspaper: "I'm engaged to a man who simps like a baby in children. What shall I do?" The answer came back: "After all, you can't expect too much of a husband."

STRAIGHT from the shoulder - Bill Miller to his dad: "Say, pop, did you go to Sunday school when you were a little boy?" E. B. Miller: "Yes, son, regularly."

Bill: "I'll bet it won't do me any good either."

INDIAN - (after examining ham sandwich purchased at a city lunch counter) - Ugh! You slice um ham?"

Counter Clerk - "Yes, Chief. I slice um."

Indian - "Ugh! Darn near miss um."

LOCAL theatre goes saw first hand the story of the fierce fighting at Tarawa in which U. S. Marines wrested the island from the Japs when the Universal News film was shown at the Plymouth Theatre Sunday and Monday. The same news reel will be shown in Mansfield today and tomorrow, according to an announcement on the front page of the Mansfield News-Journal. Mr. Ramsey has been quite fortunate in securing the news films for Plymouth at practically the same time they

Officers Installed

The installation of officers of Angulus Chapter, O. E. S., Wednesday evening, was one of the most impressive ever seen in this chapter.

A. W. Firestone, who was the first worthy patron of Angulus chapter, appointed Faye Zaskman installing conductress, Floy Rose installing organist, Ollie Zeigler installing marshal, and Algy Cockburn installing chaplain.

In a very effective manner Mr. Firestone installed Mrs. Firestone as worthy matron for the ensuing year.

Other officers conducted to their stations with dignity and precision were Frank Dawson, worthy patron; Beatrice Malone, associate matron; F. C. Dawson, associate patron; Elma Stevenson, secretary; Edna Dawson, treasurer; Wanda Jane Patterson, conductress; Nadene Butler, associate conductress; Dora Kester, chaplain; Gladys Dawson, marshal; Jean Smith, Ada; Hermie Sibbett, Ruth; Inez Hatfield, Esther; Milla Stober, Martha; Esther Hamman, Electa; Beatrice Guthrie, Walter and Veri Malone, sentinel.

The installing marshal, proclaimed the officers regularly installed, and the installing officer presented the new worthy matron with the gavel.

During the installation, Mrs. Nell Ruckman and Mrs. Mary Neill Ruckman sang beautifully together, "This Is My Talk." Mrs. Ebba Briggs, the retiring matron, was presented the past matron's pin by Mrs. Faye Zaskman, and retiring worthy patron pin was given Mr. Dwight Briggs by Mr. Frank Dawson.

Mrs. Fern Pittenger surprised the newly installed worthy patron with a gift. Mr. Dawson was worthy patron during the year Mrs. Pittenger was in the East. Mrs. Hattie Zeigler, a charter member of the chapter, gave a splendid talk, and referring to the history of its institution, she explained fully why Mrs. Firestone so richly deserved the courtesy given her by the members of her chapter, when they placed her in the East. Mrs. Firestone was the first elected worthy matron, but Mrs. Rose was the first worthy matron serving under the charter. Only seven charter members were present.

Mrs. Zeigler presented Mrs. Firestone with a special gift from the Past Matrons Club. Mrs. Firestone's response was given in her usual scholarly manner and showed she appreciated all the honors bestowed upon her.

Mr. Firestone spoke with deep feeling for the woman whose efforts made possible a chapter in this place. He referred to Mrs. Angeline Martin, a grand character after whom this chapter was named.

The worthy patron of Ruth chapter of Mansfield, Claud Huth paid a beautiful tribute to the retiring secretary, Mrs. C. H. Rose.

Mrs. Rose has been secretary of this chapter for 26 consecutive years. Her efficient work in the keeping of records has kept her chapter on the roll of excellent, and her outstanding qualities and loyalty during these years of faithful service have endeared her to all and she is deserving the term most beloved.

Guests were present from Shelby and Mansfield. Those preparing the refreshments were Mrs. Fern Reynolds, Mrs. Bessie McQuate and Miss Margaret Hamly.

The dining room table was a picture. It contained the figures, emblems and colors used in the Order of the Eastern Star, combined with those of the Christmas season, and was the work of Elma Stevenson.

Mrs. E. C. Geisinger, who was appointed organist, was unable to be present on account of illness, will be installed at the next meeting.

the Crestline Community Center. A few ladies from each of these organizations gave their service for the day.

To show how far a "little candle throws its beam," the suggestion was made by a group of missionary-minded women who were not large enough in number to carry out such plans, but the light spread until it became a community interest, and many a soldier was made happier by their sandwiches, cookies, doughnuts and coffee.

A proof that churches are becoming more interested in the welfare of each other was the check for $10 given the Ganges ladies by the W.C.S. of the Methodist church in Shiloh. Cpl. Eugene E. Pillar of Willard has been transferred from Fort Bragg, N. C., to Officers' Candidate School at Ft. Sill, Okla. He is a brother of Mrs. Woodrow Utis of Tux street and has many acquaintances here.

Receives Exam
Walter Myers, who appeared before the Richland County Draft Board Friday for his physical, passed the exam and will report at Ft. Thomas, Ky., on Dec. 21, to enter the armed forces. His wife and daughter will continue to reside here.

Rejected
Donald Anderson failed to pass his physical exam last Wednesday at Norwalk for the second time. He returned Sunday to the post office, where he has accepted a position on the Rockford Morning Star, daily newspaper, as a linotype operator.

Kept Busy
A/C Richard M. Rule has recently been transferred to the U. S. Naval Training School, Colorado University, Hamilton N. Y., and is kept so busy with a heavy schedule that he had to "snitch" a minute in class room to get his Advertiser transferred to the correct address. Well, Dick, you know the old saying — it keeps you out of mischief and "You're in the Army now."

In Italy
Paul Ramsey writes from some where in Italy to friends in New Haven, that he is well and busy. The letter was short and to the point — no details were seemingly permitted. The fact that he is safe, however, is the best possible news to his relatives and friends.

From Aberdeen, Md.
Another busy place is Aberdeen, Md., according to a note from LuVier Barber, who says "to keep up the pace, a guy has to keep hopping." He inquires about all his friends and is glad of the news in the Advertiser.

In Norfolk, Va.
Gus Dick, merchant marine, who went to Norfolk last Thursday week to visit his sister Ethel, writes that Norfolk is check full — and that the town is very busy. Gus was lucky in securing quarters, and had a nice visit with Tom and Dolores DeWitt. Gus was going ship out of Baltimore, but his buddy there had entered school so he took off on a boat out of Norfolk.

Hen Fruit Scarce
Lt. John Fackler recently wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Fackler from somewhere in England, that "if we think we are hard pressed with food rationing, we should try a little white in England. Eggs are $3.00 a piece, wonder if we really appreciate our many blessings here."

Congratulations, Captain
Jerry Ratcliffe, former proprietor of the Plymouth Elevator, and now located at Dayton, has recently been promoted to the rank of Captain. The "extra bar" came on Thanksgiving morning. Both Capt. Ratcliffe and the Mrs. send their best to Plymouth friends, acquaintances, and to Mr. Beelman.

Three Day Leave
A. F. C. Jean Snyder arrived Tuesday morning on a three-day leave from Baer Field, Ft. Wayne, Ind., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Snyder.

Return To Duty
Cadets Willard Ross Jr., and Edward Croy have returned to their respective schools at Baton Rouge, La., and Salt Lake City, Utah, after a few days with local relatives.

LETTERS of Interest

Another One From Italy

Hi Tommy,
How's everything out your way? Things here are ??? so-so. I received your paper dated 9-16-43 and the news is very interesting. I have met Mac Trauger twice here in Italy and he is feeling A. I am anxious to see him soon for each time we have met, I am just going. Frederick Fackler and I are still together. We eat and sleep in the same place. We are OK. We have good times. The main thing we would like to say is: "We wish everybody a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year." Frederick and our buddy from Dayton, O., would like to write a few lines.

Hi Tommy: Hope you don't mind my butting in. How are things around home. Fine, I hope. Everything's fine around here. Gets little hot here — and not the weather, especially when we came in on invasion. Sure enjoy the P. A. (folks said they subscribed for another year.)

Dear Friend:
Passed through your little metropolitan many times, but never thought I would be diving into a foxhole with somebody from there. We enjoy the paper. Fred and Kirby expect to be quite frequent visitors out here after the war, but I like Dayton pretty well now.

Yours truly,
Kirby Nesbitt, Fred Fackler, Bill St. John.

Dear Kirby, Fred and Bill:
Thanks for the notes, and especially the long one that I imagine that you've been through plenty shortly before the yewer written. Sounds to me like the gag should be rightly called the "Three Musketeers". At any rate it's the spirit of the millions of boys like you that's going to win the war, and as for Fred getting the P. A. another year, I hope I don't have to pay overseas postage on it. I'd rather send it to some place in the States.

I can imagine you've been full of grapes since being in Italy — not from the bush either, ha, ha. I'd like to see the three of you talking to some little black-eyed damsel in a vineyard — boy, how she could speak Italian — in fact, she'd have to, and talk it fast!

I suppose you've heard about the P. O. department trying to keep Esquire out of the mails? It was something about the pictures not being just right — but the Army evidently thought Esquire was OK for they purchased 27,000 copies.

Listen, fellers, this is the second letter I have written today and I must get back to my news copy or the home subscribers might start crabbing for cutting them short. Everything in Plymouth is OK, and as for Dayton, tell Bill the somewhere down close to Springfield, and still going strong.

Merry Christmas to all you guys!

Tommy,
Pearl Harbor, T. H.

Hi Tommy:
It has been a long time since I have dropped you a few lines, so I thought I better write.

How is everything in good old Plymouth. I suppose it is just about the same. I sure would like to see you all the young boys gone.

Tommy, the article you wrote in the Oct. 14 issue for the boys overseas was swell of you. I know sure enjoyed reading it. After I finished I had a clear view of what Plymouth looks like. I know all the boys will be glad to read it. Some of the boys who live with me read it and they all said it was swell.

Since I have been here I have had the opportunity of seeing a lot of the boys that I used to know back home. I sure would like to see more of them.

There is not much to write from here, so I will close. I wish all the boys that are in the Service a Merry Xmas and a victorious New Year, and a Merry Xmas and Happy New Year to all back home.

I remain as ever,
Tony A. Fenner.

Tuesday morning
Dear Tony: It was a real treat to hear from you, and thanks for the nice words — the story wasn't made up, but just an expression of how I felt.

It's December 14, and we're having our first touch of winter. Today there is a light snow on the ground, and it continues to fall — looks to me like a "white Christmas!" I imagine out in your country you have the pineapples and the coconuts about ready to harvest — but wouldn't you like to see a little snow? I was thinking about our old friend Doc Searle. Although he is past 80 years, he wanted to get to the land of sunshine and flowers for the winter — and I can picture him down at his home in Bradenton, kinda giving us a dirty laugh for running around in zero weather.

Well, Tony, I see your mother and sisters quite frequently and they seem to be getting along O. K. and Tony, your mother is really proud of you, and I think I'm safe in saying Plymouth is proud of all of its boys. Some of the boys often remark about you and at this season, we at home are anxiously wondering how and where the boys will spend their Christmas. In Plymouth it will be about the same except there will be no lights and trees to decorate the Square. But, we are beginning to realize more than ever that a war is on — for the boys are starting to call up the fathers.

Things at the shop are moving about the same, and activities in town are greatly reduced, and that is about all for this time.

Write us again, and let us know how you spent Christmas in Pearl Harbor. Tell some of these Plymouth boys over there we'd like to hear from them, too.

Sincerely,
Tommy.

Notice To Close Ration Banking Accounts

IN ACCORDANCE with instructions sent out by the OPA all institutional users who serve less than 3000 persons per month are no longer eligible to maintain a Ration Banking Account. All such accounts were to have been closed out by November 1, 1943. Therefore, we are asking that all such institutional users check their accounts and get a certified check from the bank payable to the Office of Price Administration and take such check to his ration board and exchange same for Purchase Certificates and new Ration Coupons.

Advise Workers To Stay "Put"

MUST OBTAIN STATEMENT OF INTER-AREA CLEARANCE IF JOBS ARE LEFT.

Workers who leave this area for jobs elsewhere without first obtaining a Statement of Inter-Area Clearance will lose time and money and retard the war effort.

That was the warning issued today by Marcus J. Kiniz, director of the War Manpower Commission for the Mansfield area. "War production industries in this area need all available workers," he said. "When a worker quits his job and goes to another area seeking work, he slows down war production here. But, that is not all. When he goes to another area in Ohio, Kentucky or Michigan without a statement of inter-area clearance he finds he cannot be hired unless he has a statement of inter-area clearance. So, that worker loses time, he loses wages and he is out the money which it cost him to make the trip.

"Some areas are almost entirely closed to in-migration. They will hire only selected workers from the outside because of shortage of housing and transportation.

"If a worker feels that he could contribute more to the war effort by moving to another area, he should follow this procedure: (1)

ask his employer for a release of a statement of availability; (2) if the employer denies the request, stay on the job and appeal to the United States Employment Service; (3) if the USES grants a statement of availability, ask the USES for a statement of inter-area clearance.

"The USES has complete information as to the areas which will not hire workers from the outside. "The pasture may look greener from the other side of the fence, but workers who quit their jobs and move to other areas without a statement of inter-area clearance are finding that they can't get jobs and that they lose time and money. There are not many such workers, but when even a few move around without the statements, they retard war production. That's why we are urging workers to stay on the job and not seek work elsewhere without first obtaining a statement of inter-area clearance."

Ration Tokens In Use Feb. 27

Ration tokens are expected to be put into use on Sunday, Feb. 27, 1944. They will be valued at one point each, and will be used in making change when purchasing foods requiring ration stamps. On the same date, Feb. 27, all red and blue stamps in War Ration Book IV will assume a value of 10 points each, regardless of the number on the face of the stamp. The tokens will be used to make change for these 10 point stamps.

The tokens will be a bit larger than nickels but smaller than a quarter. They are about twice as a dime. They are made in three layers, with a center layer of yellow and outer layers of either red or blue.

Red tokens will be used as change from red 10-point stamps (used to purchase meats and fats) and blue tokens will be used as change from blue stamps used to purchase bread.

After the latter part of March, 1944, Ration Book IV will be the only ration book needed to shop for food. Food stamps in Book III will be cancelled by that time.

It is now planned that stamps in Ration Book IV will be valid for longer periods than has been the case with other food stamps, making it easier to budget points and avoiding last-minute store jams just before the expiration dates.

This farm adjoins the former Adam Eckstein farm, purchased earlier this year by Mr. Richards of Willard.

FOUND GUILTY

Derby, filed a motion for a new trial. Prosecutor Herbert R. Freeman represented the state. When Sigler was tried not long ago on the charge of breaking into a dwelling house and taking a sum of money, the jury acquitted him.

Raw Fur Dealers

Get A Raw Deal

H. H. Fackler was back in Plymouth Wednesday morning from a trip to Washington, D. C., to protest against the planned rollback in the price of raw furs, particularly muskrat.

Mr. Fackler was accompanied by Harry Schwartz, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Fur Dealers association, Columbus, Russell Vaughn of Akron, William Jackson of Conneaut Lake, Pa., and M. H. Broussard of Detroit, Mich.

The group met in conference on Monday afternoon with Mr. Connelly, head of the textile and leather division of the OPA, and several other officials, as well as their respective congressmen.

According to Mr. Fackler, the OPA released an assumed price on furs on Oct. 31, which specified the ceiling prices. Now, after 30 days, when 80 per cent of the catch has been collected and the cash paid to small dealers and trappers, a proposed roll-back in price is announced by OPA. This is a great injustice to the fur dealers at this time, as the buying of furs is done in the early part of the season. A ceiling price increase of 35 has been placed on fur coats with proposed decreases in prices for furs. Mr. Fackler says the OPA stooped pretty low when they put a price on the farmer's skunk, and then give him a black market. Looks to him like the administration doesn't want inflation at all, but to kill off the little businessman, make paupers out of him rather than a self-sustaining American, and cause a black market.

The decision of the OPA is eagerly awaited by dealers in this vicinity.

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C. (NWNS)—The subsidy controversy, which has been the subject of congressional discussion for many weeks, was resolved into the question of American principles of business freedom as opposed to increasing the cost of living for the American consumer.

Both proponents and opponents of subsidies to farmers agree that the price of food to consumers would be increased if subsidies were called off. Chester Bowles, head of the Office of Price Administration, estimates the ending off of the subsidies would raise the cost of living 10 per cent and cost the American people nine billion dollars. He believes that this increase could be prevented entirely by the expenditure of $1,250,000,000 for subsidies. If Mr. Bowles' figures are correct, the question then is: Should we pay for increased costs of farm goods by what many consider the un-American method of government hand-outs paid out of tax money? Or should the final cost to the consumer may be eight times as much by the direct payment method.

Although this is the present basis of discussion, other complicated problems are involved. Labor, for example, is pushing for the subsidy plan in order to keep the cost of living down. But labor has given no indication that it will discontinue asking for increased wages if the subsidies are permitted. Farmers, on the other hand, are opposed to the subsidy plan. They don't like taking government money but want to be permitted to charge prices which are sufficient to guarantee them a fair profit on their work. So although the subsidies are designed to help the farmers, a vote for subsidies is actually a vote for labor and against the farmer. Congressmen are well aware of the fact that their vote on the subsidy measure will definitely influence the election next November so many have been trying to find some compromise which would not get them in bad with any powerful voting group and would avoid, as much as possible, the political dangers of results of causing any further increase in the cost of living.

There continues to be a close relationship between the subsidy measure and the tax bill. If the final tax bill reduces the amount of taxes to be paid by the low income groups, as was proposed by the treasury, some congressmen might be more willing to let subsidies go. On the other hand, if the senate should approve a sales tax or additional income tax on low income groups, which would raise the cost of living, those same congressmen would be apt to vote for subsidies in order to stall off further increases in living costs.

The treasury department has urged the senate to reconsider the treasury's proposal for a much bigger tax bill than was passed by the house, but it is not considered likely that the treasury measure stands much chance. Senator George, head of the committee considering the tax bill, has indicated that he would support a sales tax if it had the treasury backing, but treasury spokesmen have made it clear that they do not want a sales tax.

The administration is believed to have suffered a severe blow when the senate voted down a proposal to give soldiers and sailors out of this country the right to vote in the 1944 presidential election. Although both parties have claimed that there was no indication of why the armed forces would vote, surveys in the field have indicated that they are pro-administration, at least by a small margin. Thus if they are not permitted to vote it is expected to be of help to the Republicans.
