The 2nd War Loan Starts April 12

13 billion dollars must be raised!

THE GOVERNMENT of the United States is asking you to lend it 13 billion dollars in the next few weeks. We can do it. And we must do it. Every American must realize the truth:

In this, our toughest war, we've made a good start. We've trained a lot of men—made a lot of weapons—built a lot of ships. But it's only a start. No man or woman among us would contend for a single instant that we're doing enough now to win this war!

We've Got to Build More!

We broke all records building 8 million tons of shipping last year. But grim-faced Army and Navy men will tell you that the 18 MILLION tons we're building this year still won't be enough!

We've Got to Fight More!

From now till this war is won, America must be on the offensive. In ever-increasing numbers, your sons, brothers, husbands must go into actual battle. Our losses have already begun to mount—and they will not grow less.

And We've Got to Buy More War Bonds!

Sure we're all buying War Bonds now. But we've got to help pay for our increased fighting and building... We've got to match, as best we can, the sacrifice of those Americans who are toiling and sweating on a dozen battlefronts—with the bloodiest yet to come. The blunt fact is this: to keep our war machine going, we've got to dig up 13 billion extra dollars this month. 13 billion dollars over and above our regular War Bond buying!

In the next few weeks you may be visited by one of the thousands of volunteers who are contributing their time and effort to this Drive. But don't wait for him. Make up your mind now that before this drive is over, you're going to march right down to your nearest bank, Post Office, or place where they sell War Bonds, and do your duty. And don't ever forget this: in doing your duty, you're doing yourself one of the biggest favors of your life!

For United States War Bonds are the greatest investment in the world—bar none. They're investments tailored to fit your particular situation. And they give you the chance of a lifetime to order and get the kind of world you want to live in after this war. Every cent you put in War Bonds now will help to guarantee plenty of peacetime jobs making peace-living for every one of us.

ADVANCE PAYMENT OF POINTS
Payment of points "in advance" for home deliveries of butter and cheese by dairymen or salesmen operating mobile conveyances over a regular delivery route has been authorized by OPA. For example, the housewife who on Monday wants a pound of butter left at her home, the following Thursday, can give the deliveryman eight currently valid stamps to cover the later delivery.

CEILINGS ON VEAL
Maximum prices have been established for veal at packer and wholesale levels in all parts of the country as the Government continues its nation-wide campaign to protect housewives against excessive prices and black markets. Veal is outranked only by pork and beef in national meat sales.

FOOD DISTRIBUTION DISCONTINUED
Distribution of foods through state welfare departments to local communities for use in school lunch programs is being discontinued on April 30, according to the Department of Agriculture. Under a new program announced in February, schools are able to purchase foods locally for their lunch programs and receive reimbursement in part from the Food Distribution Administration.

RECLASSIFICATION OF MANPOWER
The Bureau of Selective Service of the War Manpower Commission began promptly on April 1 to reclassify registrants in certain activities and occupations designated on Feb. 2 as "non-deferrable" regardless of depend-

GAS FOR SCHOOL BUSES
School bus operators who did not receive revised certificates of war necessity before April 1 may obtain supplemental gasoline allowances if necessary. ODT has announced. An appeal form may be obtained from the nearest district office of ODT's division of Motor Transportation, completed and presented to the public school superintendent for his recommendation, and returned to the district office.

200 SACKS OF ARMY MAIL LOST
Through enemy action more than two thousand sacks of U. S. mails carried on United Nations ships and destined for American soldiers overseas in recent weeks have been lost, the Army Postal Service reports. In making this announcement, the war department said that the loss of these mails was a striking illustration of why V-mail should be more fully utilized in communicating with soldiers overseas since 30,000,000 pieces of such mail have been handled thus far without the loss of a single letter. This is made possible by holding the originals at the ports of embarkation until the duplicate copies arrive safely at their overseas destinations.

MORE NEW CARS
A quota of 38,000 new passenger automobiles was set by the OPA for rationing in April. Only 37,100 were released in March.

FARM TRAILER SHORTAGE
An increasing shortage of trailers to handle farm produce is reported by truck trailer industry advisory committees. The need for trucking facilities to transport farm products is now pressing in some sections of the country and will increase with the coming of warm weather and harvesting. The committee pointed out as an example the situation in Texas where there are some 2,600 towns not served by any railroad.

PRICE ON BAKED GOODS
Housewives who buy pastries, doughnuts, pies, cakes and sweet yeast raised goods from producers who sell direct to ultimate consumers may expect to see a printed retail ceiling price on the wrappers, the OPA said. The price is now required to be printed on the package or wrapper.

CEILINGS ON USED VEHICLES
Used commercial motor vehicles have been brought under price control by the OPA. By establishing ceilings at a percentage of the value of the vehicle when new, the new regulation is ex-

LETTERS FROM OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

Dear Mr. Thomas:
Here I am writing again, but in a land where a peacock is sure glad that there is a place called America, where he can come day return.

We left Texas and travelled to New York. Then we were on the seas. We had a swell trip for the ocean was pretty calm most of the days—others a little rough. I thought I would be sea sick most of the time, but as it was I was only sick for one day. The day I was sick, I was leaning over the rail and a fellow came up and said, what's the matter, have you got a weak stomach? I said "hell, no, I'm throwing it just as far as the next one".

But to go on, we landed and marched to our destination and pitched our pup tents. Upon the way we met all sorts of people. Some were on camels, others on little donkeys. It sure was a sight, for they dress most every way possible. The women wear veils over their faces with marks on their foreheads, meaning they are not married. The men wear a piece that covers everything but their face. They most all run around barefooted, not seeming to mind the cold nights or the cool mornings. They will do most anything for an American, but they sure hate the Axis. Some of the people who like to drink should be here. The beer sells for four cents a glass and wine is six cents a glass and they are as big as in the States.

Well, it is getting almost dark and I have no light to see with so I will cease and say hello everyone and keep things rolling and we will use them.

A soldier,
Pfc. Archie Garrett
Nashville, Tenn., Mar. 27
Hello Tommy and Friends:

After moving and pitching tents I have found time to write a few lines I am down in the woods of Tennessee now. We left California on March 14 and came down here. We are living in pup tents and mud.

They have sent us east for maneuvers, which will start soon. On our arrival here we were greeted with three days of rain and then snow. We don't have any heating arrangements at all. When it rains the water runs under the tents, then it is moving day again. The only town near here is Tullahoma and with three divisions of soldiers here there is no pass or any place for us to go.

It is a lot more quiet here than it was in California. We can go to bed and sleep at night without being called out saying "a submarine just off shore" or "planes sighted." Our meals are not the best in the field but are all living on them. We have to shave and take showers in cold water. I was in California for thirteen months and I never saw anything that I had a desire for any more than at home. I was only in California a month after I went back from school in Knox and every day I was there it rained. The mud was so deep we could drive our tanks out of their parks. When I went back from school I took over battalion communications as chief and have had the job ever since. I will get another raise in rank as soon as they open up personnel headquarters.

It is almost how time so I will have to close and find my mess kit and rain coat.

I want to thank everyone in and around Plymouth for their swell friendship and gifts. My best regards to your parents, Patterson and Frank Weck for their swell gifts.

Same old friend,
Sgt. Elden Lynch (Tarzan)

It's about time we had a few lines from Hank. Perhaps he's quite busy at this time, but we hope that he will take time to let us know about his new girls.

A Close Shave on Tunisian Front

A United States patrol was caught in the open by Axis bombers, somewhere in Tunisia. Two bombs hit and sent smoke and dirt skyward. In the foreground a soldier, wounded in the leg by bomb fragments, lies on his back while two medical corps men bandage him, as bombs continue falling around them. Cattle are grazing in the background. Shortly after this picture was taken Rommel left the March 18, and his desert fighters fled into a perilous bottleneck.

SHILOH SCHOOL NEWS

A band of small people known as the Snufflins have been much in evidence this year. These little men are first cousins of the Grem lins. It seems that when a sophomore gets the urge to throw an eraser, cause a riot in a class, or some other well-known trick, it is because a small Snufflin has whispered into his ear and brought out the worst in him.

So you see, Teachers, you can not really blame all the dirty work on the Sophomores themselves, now can you? It's funny about that, though—the Snufflins always seem to disappear for a few days after some punishment has been meted out to their poor unfortunate victim, but they always seem to come back. Anyone having an answer to this problem, please consult the Sophomores and help them out.

MUSIC CLUB
Say, did you hear that choir that sang at the church every week ago? You'd like to hear it again? Well, you can. The Shiloh high school choir will give a concert at the high school auditorium on April 17, 1943. This is our first concert, so come out and give us a chance to show what we can do. The admission is 25c for adults and 15c for children. Don't forget the date, Saturday night, April 17th.

SENIOR CLASS
"George, be a good boy while mamma's here." "You will, won't you?" "Mamma hands a knitting bag to the boy and tells him to knit while she is gone. Can you imagine such a thing? Well, it'll happen in "The Little Clothopper."

The boy, or George Chigerson, is an innocent little lamb from the city, about 21. I should say. His very cart and wretched father, his dotting mamma, who has a scheme to get him married to an heiress, so she thinks.

The mamma is Mrs. Chigerson Boggs and she demands that you call her that. So it's always on the look-out for Mrs. Chigerson Boggs (herself) otherwise she wouldn't be seen in Splinterville. They say she wants to adopt "The Little Clothopper." Why!

The part, George Chigerson, is portrayed by Blaine Haverfield (imagine Blaine knitting). His dotting mamma is played by Janice Moser.

Watch next week for more sketches of characters from "The Little Clothopper," which will be presented by the Senior Class on April 30.

7TH GRADE NEWS
We are sorry to say that we have lost one of the members of our class, Luella James. She moved to Strongsville last Saturday. Many 7th grade members were present at a farewell party for her last Friday night at the home of Jean and Leander Farquhar. We hope to see her move since she has been a member of our class ever since we were in the fourth grade. She has been very sorely missed by the class.

Literature Class will have been reading Tom Sawyer. We have been acting it out like a play. Miss West reads the part where there is no conversation and we select members of the class to take the action and talking parts. It has been working out fine.

JUNIOR NEWS
"Have you heard?" "Have you seen?" Those and many other questions are now popping up in our class since our banquet is getting nearer and nearer. We have received the material we shall need for it. We're all very excited and enthusiastic about the plans for the big event. Talk of formal, dates, etc. is a ready word for us. The luncheon will be on the 8th of May.

We were very sorry to lose a member of our class last week. Richard Nelson quit school awaiting his call into the Army. His last physical is April 20th. The class wishes you all the luck in the world, Dick. Don't forget us!

SNOOPERS!!
When asked if she would do eggs for a party the Seniors are planning, Blanche Smith replied, "Sure I will. I got two pet roosters at home."

The junior boys sure didn't waste any time getting rid of their class rings, did they? First, Shortie, and Bob, and now Raymond Wolf and Willy. What is this junior class coming to?

The second class Home Ec girls had a terrific inspiration the other day in class. They had a big picture of "Pudge," Sally's Army boy friend, on the table in front of them and boy, did they get that sewing done in a hurry!

Because the county health nurse sent Garry home last Wednesday with what she thought was scarlet fever (then later found out that she was only blushing when she looked her over) she decided that it would be a good chance to catch up on some of that precious sleep she has lost lately. And did she catch up! Wow! She finally made it back to school on the seventh. Anytime you come on someone, please send me home, too!

Those sharp little (that's a misstatement), too, if there ever was one!) costumes that the Senior girls were sporting last Friday weren't night shirts, honest they weren't! They were only their father's shirts. In some cases you had to look twice to see if there was really a girl inside or not. Boy, it was fun!

Have you heard about the moron who put the braces on the cow's teeth so she would give dental care? It sounds like something Ben VanWagner would do, doesn't it?

BUY MORE BONDS

Monday, April 12 is the opening date for the second War Loan. Thirteen billions of dollars are to be raised and it is up to every American to make an investment! Plymouth has responded splendidly in every drive, not only for the sale of bonds, but the U. S. O., the Red Cross and many others. Now, you are being asked to INVEST your money in your government. Investing does not mean GIVING. You will be repaid with interest. Check over your financial status now and see if you will not be able to participate in the purchase of bonds during the month.

Remember, if your government fails to win the war your money won't be worth a darn, so it's not a bad risk to buy all the bonds you can possibly afford! Bonds will buy bombs—lets keep 'em blasting!

THE BUTCHER'S HEADACHES

Housewives may have their worries about getting enough meat to keep the family happy under the new rationing program, but their headaches are minor compared with those of the meat dealer. The butcher is required by law to keep prices down to the level he charged last March even though he has to pay more than that price himself to get meat. If we offer to pay him a profit we are encouraging him to operate a black market.

Many meats are still scarce. The butcher cannot get enough of them to satisfy everyone. He looks covetous of all your needs, others would accuse him of favoritism. If he takes care of their needs at your expense, you are apt to feel that you have been treated unfairly. Actually he's just trying to do his best for all.

Under rationing we all want to get all of the edible meat we can. But if the butcher cuts off more than a normal amount of fat and gristle, he won't have coupons to get his allotted supply of meat.

Those are just a few of the things that are keeping your butcher awake nights. Let's go easy on him. He's got more problems than a gasoline dealer—and that's plenty.

BOOM TOWNS

Hollywood interpretations of the gold rush days in this country have nothing on conditions which exist today in hundreds of war boom towns.

Little places of 1,000 or 2,000 population have suddenly been invaded by a production army many times the size of the total population. The immediate result is makeshift housing, sanitation problems, feeding problems, and an amount of demoralizing temptations.

But unlike the gold rush days, practically every boom town today includes a band of hard-working men and women who are attempting to relieve bad conditions as fast as they appear.

The USO and the YWCA deserve a lot more credit than they have been given for the splendid job they have done in hundreds of wartime communities. Faced with almost unsurmountable social problems, they have stuck on the town and gradually turned many a temporary madhouse into a well-organized community.

We usually think of USO as only operating clubs for soldiers and sailors, but actually a large proportion of their work is in war production towns. They realize that it is just as important to protect the morale of the men behind the guns as the morale of those who are doing the fighting.

In 1924 a young widow had to get some kind of a job to support her two children. Her husband had died suddenly leaving her with two children.
Her name was Mrs. Sophie Balkus.
She had been born in Schenectady, New York, of Polish immigrant parentage. Her education had been limited. She had left school when she was in the eighth grade to go to work. Met a cook in a restaurant. Married him. He died, and so Sophie Balkus found herself a widow at 20—with two children.
Since she lived in Schenectady, she applied for a job in the factory of the General Electric company, and got a very humble one—assembling insulators.

To most people it would have been dull monotonous work. The same thing all day. A certain number of movements, no more, no less. Funch the time clock. Go home. To Sophie the work was terrifically monotonous, but she knew she had to keep at the job. She got special permission from the manager to follow each separate part from the time it arrived at the factory until it came into her hands. The other workers thought she was crazy. She was going to a lot of trouble for nothing, they said.

One of the smallest parts that went into the insulators was a copper-plated screw. She was surprised to find how expensive it was. The other workers had seen that used a thousand times, but they hadn't given it a second thought. Sophie asked why such an expensive one was used. When the job was completed, the screw was covered up and could not be seen. She found that another type of screw, which cost much less, was just as effective. Then, one day, an idea hit her. She got all her facts, she suggested to the superintendent the idea and passed it on higher up. One day a messenger said that Sophie was wanted in the front office. She was afraid she was going to be fired.

But there was no thought of firing Sophie. She was told that her suggestion had been approved, and she was handed $50. She couldn't believe it.

It was not long until she made another suggestion. Other cash awards. She continued to make her job interesting. In fact, she was so helpful that the company gave her a medal of honor—the highest in the company—which is shared by outstanding engineers and scientists.

She is very much pleased with the hospitality of the southern people. Inflation and Starvation

It seems almost impossible to understand why the low-income people of this nation don't take the trouble to tell their congressmen that they want this creeping inflation stopped—right in its tracks and no feeling. Half the time one has to explain to us what inflation means. Well, that's easy: it means starvation. Starvation for the poor—not for the rich. It means hard times for the rich, and so the rich fight it. And because the rich fight it, many of the poor believe it must be a rich man's problem—so why bother?

The New York Post, of recent date, tells the story of a wife and mother whose husband's income is $44 per week. She has five children ranging in years from 14 to 7. They live in a "cook-walk five room railroad flat" for which they pay $22 per week. This leaves them approximately $22 per person for food, clothing, doctor's bills and all the other necessities of life.

This mother used to pay 25 cents for a couple of pounds of beef. She now pays 35 cents. She says that trimmed porthouse steak was formerly 55 cents per pound. It is now 60 cents. Round steak has gone up from 45 cents to 55 cents; chuck beef from 40 to 55 cents; string beans from 10 to 27 cents, and the prices of other green vegetables and potatoes have risen even more sharply. This fellow-citizen is now studying how to feed his family without fresh vegetables, meat or butter.

These price advances represent the beginning of inflation. If they rise any higher the mother we have been talking about will probably starve herself when the children begin to whimper from hunger. If inflation is not stopped now, the next higher income group will begin to grow thin; and then the high income earners; and finally the very rich.

There is not a farmer, nor a laborer, nor a rich man, nor a merchant, nor a murderer, in this whole country, who would be unwilling to make big sacrifices to prevent this suffering on the part of his fellow-countrymen. As a matter of fact it doesn't require any big sacrifices; it requires a resolute government which is determined—no cost—to stop any rise in the price of any necessity; and to try, on a charge of treason, before a drum-head courtmartial, every blackmarketer who is caught. The first danger would be to stop a step to that ignoble practice.

We are in the midst of a terrible war upon the outcome of which rests the fate of the whole world for a long time to come. We are beginning to realize the gravity of the situation. We are beginning to realize that we are going to have to make sacrifices of which we little dreamed when the "honorable" Japs started "dirty ball" at Pearl Harbor. Everyone is ready to do his share now. The soft coal miners of Pennsylvania will do theirs if they are allowed to. They probably deserve a $2 raise—mining coal is a dirty and dangerous occupation—but if their leaders force this demand upon them there is grave danger that they will break the dam which is holding back the black waters of inflation and hunger from millions of our fellow-countrymen.

For if this starts a general rise in labor wages—then farm prices must go up, and if farm prices go up, everything else must go up. We are teetering on the brink of catastrophe. Our government can stop it—and will—if it knows that we too realize the danger and are behind it to a man.

APRIL IS CONSERVATION MONTH IN OHIO

Governor John W. Bricker, by proclamation, has set aside the entire month of April as Conservation Month in Ohio and established the week of April 12 to 16 as Conservation Week in the schools.

Friday, April 16, will be observed as Arbor and Bird Day.

The Governor's proclamation is as follows:

"WHEREAS, in this war period when every Gov. JOHN W. BRICKER attention must be given to the conservation of our resources, it is fitting that we, here in Ohio and America, give special recognition to the need of preservation and restoration of those God-given resources which are renewable, and

"WHEREAS, much has been accomplished in securing the interest of our boys and girls in a keener appreciation of our natural resources and the part they play in our life and well-being, and

"WHEREAS, it is important that all our citizens, in every line of endeavor, follow such conservation practices as will aid in winning an early victory and to wisely use our resources that they may serve us in the reconstruction period which will follow.

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, John W. Bricker, Governor of Ohio, do hereby appoint and designate the week of April 12 to 16 as Conservation Week in the schools of Ohio and Friday, April 16 as Arbor and Bird Day and ask a general observance by all the citizens of the state of the entire month of April as Conservation Month."

This marks the fifth consecutive year that Governor Bricker has given special recognition to the conservation of natural resources by asking that special attention be given to the subject for an entire month.

Conservation Commissioner Don Waters, following up the suggestions made by the Governor, has asked all sportsmen's groups, farm organizations, civic groups, luncheon clubs, women's organizations, etc. to plan one or more special meetings during April.

TEXTILES "ESSENTIAL"

An order establishing yarn and fabric as "essential" for military and civilian needs and classifying important positions in cotton, wool and rayon plants as "necessary" will soon be used by the War Manpower Commission. The cotton fabric and yarn industry has been urged to increase its 1943 production at least 10%.

TRANSPORTATION RUMORS FALSE

Rumors now circulating to the effect that the Office of Defense Transportation intends to pass priorities to civilian train and bus travel are completely and entirely false, says Joseph B. Eastman. However, passenger transportation facilities are under severe strain, and people who have no real need to travel should stay off trains and buses.

THE CIRCUS IS COMING

The circus—delight of American boys and girls—will be coming to town again this summer. The ODT has issued a general permit authorizing railroads to transport the employees and property of circuses, carnivals or similar shows in railway cars owned or leased by the circus or carnival companies. The first movement under the general permit was that of Ringling Brothers & Barnum Bailey, combined shows, which left its winter quarters at Sarasota, Florida on March 29.

REDUCED VEHICLE SPEEDS

State support of the nationwide 35-mile limit has effectively reduced motor-vehicle speeds on rural roads. According to Public Roads Administration of Federal Works Agency, 53% of all cars still travel in excess of 35 miles per hour; 93% were exceeding this limit about a year ago. Rationing had little effect on speeds, but the appeal for a 40-mile limit about a year ago reduced average passenger-car speed from 47 to 44 miles per hour. The federal order for a 35-mile limit, effective last October, brought the average down to about 37 miles per hour.
