Harold E. Collier, Huron county treasurer and secretary of the State Association of County Treasurers, announced that three useful bills sponsored by the organization have been adopted by both houses at Columbus and are awaiting the signature of the governor.

One bill was drawn up to increase the county's share of revenue from sales tax stamps from one half cent to one cent. Another bill calls for resuming the old days of collection of county real estate taxes to Dec. 20 and June 20. For a number of years, the dates have been three months later. The third bill calls for simplifying the legal procedure for the sale of land for taxes. Under the present system the costs range from about $50 to about $75. Under the new bill, the cost would be cut to $10 and at the same time the interests of the property owners would be safeguarded. ## Around the Square

(By Phiness Whitless)

AT LEAST the buds are out which is a sure sign of Spring—if it doesn't freeze or snow, the gardens should show up within the next three or four weeks.

IT USED to be that confectionery shops in Plymouth would stay open into the wee hours in order to get the last customer. It is different now! J. E. NIMMONS goes at things in the right way. Tuesday afternoon he was digging in the flower bed attired in hip boots and white overalls! STOPPED IN at the blacksmith shop Wednesday morning for a short visit. In fact as I was passing I was attracted by the fiery furnace, the tingling sound of hammers striking the red hot iron. I still thrill at the way the "Smithies" work... handling cherry red chunks of iron as tho they were pieces of coal... shaping them with hammers and machines... finishing them with a precision which requires very little work before installing the parts into their respective places.

YES, THERE'S still a thrill in the old blacksmith shop. And doubly so when you find a hard-working happy team. Old timers will recall the days they spent under Fay Ruckman when he chattered away about electric machinery for many long years, and I say he knew his business well. But time changes everything, and since Fay's retirement and the new "fandanglements" brought about, such as spot welding, new cutting machines, etc., there isn't such a wide variety of work left for the smithies.

BUT THERE is plenty of work for the two-man crew which consists of Kenneth Luteman and Ray Bright. Luteman has been in the shop for seven years, and Bright has three years' of service behind him. There is no reason to believe that Ray Bright doesn't like his work, and especially working with Luteman. He and Luteman were brought up together, and except for a few short years, they have been associated with each other. Bright's granddaddy operated a blacksmith shop back in Pennsylvania, and his dad was a smithy, and as Ray says: "It's the only kind of work I like." With a pedigree like this, why couldn't Ray be a good blacksmith. And as for Luteman, well you should see him twist and squirm those little red hot pieces of iron and put them into shape.

SO FELLERS, I say it's a "happy combination" when you love your work and at the end of the day find a little pleasure. Just the looks of the old fellows and the sound of the drop hammer, and the hissing of the blower makes me sometime wish I were a blacksmith.

SOMETHING of a surprise to the members of the Silver King Tractor bowling team that they should wind up the tournament in second place, and only four games behind. The team, composed of Les Shields, Howard Biller, "Pop" Teale, Harry Trauer and James Root, has been bowling every Tuesday night at Mansfield in the Transportation League.

AFTER GETTING off to a very slow start, it was only when Shields got the kinks out of his muscles, and Root smooth out a few new holes around his waist line that the team showed improvement. From then on the boys really went to town. And if Pop Teal could toss the bones like he throws the ball, he would not be working on the railroad. However, the reward of the season was given Tuesday night in the manner of a banquet at a Mansfield club. The boys all attended, and proved equally as good at dining the food as making the pins fall over.

RAY EINSEL, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Don W. Einsel takes the cake this week. Ray was visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. (Continued on Back Page)

TOBACCO CAN BE SENT TO PRISONERS

U. S. war prisoners and civilian internees held by Germany and Italy can receive cigarettes, cigars, smoking tobacco, or chewing tobacco sent by relatives and friends under a program worked out by several Government agencies and the American Red Cross. The plan will be extended to include persons held by Japan whenever facilities are available for routing the products to them. Under the program, the next-of-kin of each identified U. S. war prisoner and civilian internee will receive (without asking for it) two tobacco labels every sixty days. These are to be forwarded with a money order to a tobacco manufacturer, who will send the tobacco. No postage or Federal excise tax need be paid. Each label is good for three cartons of cigarettes, or twelve packages of one carton of two-ounce packages of smoking tobacco, 100 cigars, or approximately 24 ounces of chewing tobacco. Smaller amounts or mixed packages cannot be ordered.

McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, and the state director of agricultural extension in each state.

HELP STOP THEFTS AND FORGERIES

To safeguard dependents and others who regularly receive government checks the following procedure is urged by the U. S. Secret Service to help stop thieves and forgers—(1) some member of the family should always be at home when checks are due to be delivered; (2) all mail boxes should be equipped with a lock and the individual's name should be printed clearly on the outside of the box; (3) checks should be cashed in the same place each month, making identification easier; (4) checks should not be endorsed until you are in the presence of the person who is to cash it.

COAL SUPPLY IS LOW

Stocks of bituminous coal are not large enough to tide the nation over a prolonged suspension of mining, solid fuels administrator Harold L. Ickes said recently, as he urged all users to conserve coal. Regarding the nation's "insecure fuel position," administrator Ickes said, "it is essential that every consumer conserve every pound of coal possible so that the maximum amount of coal will be available in the event the coal emergency continues."

All Civilian Defense volunteers may qualify for the awards—members of the Citizens Defense Corps, the Citizens Service Corps, Forest Fire Fighters Service, and the Civilian Evacuation Service.

PROSECUTE POULTRY RACKETEERS

New court actions—88 of them—against violators of price ceilings on poultry were started between April 15 and April 30, in OPA's intensified drive to stamp out black markets. Of the 88, 72 were injunction suits and 16 were criminal prosecutions. In addition, the enforcement division issued statutory warnings—first stop, toward license revocation—on 15 other poultry sellers.

MAXIMUM PRICES ON POULTRY

Poultry raisers who sell live birds at their farms must observe the maximum prices OPA has set for the nearest city, town, or village. Ceiling prices for 56 representative cities were recently issued. For broilers, fryers, roasters and light turkeys the prices range from 27.3 cents per pound for Chicago, to 29.51 cents per pound for Miami, Fla.

MORE COTTON CLOTH

Cotton fabric production will be increased by about 230 million yards annually without the use of additional facilities or raw materials, as the result of a recent WPB order. Fabrics will be lighter and less tightly woven, but serviceable and capable of meeting all military and essential civilian needs.

RURAL PHONE BATTERIES

A few dry-cell batteries for maintaining telephone service in rural areas have been provided for distribution through hardware stores and other distributors, according to the communications division of the Office of War Utilities. ## LUGGAGE RESTRICTED TO SEVEN TYPES

SOLDIERS GET LOTS OF MAIL

United States soldiers overseas receive over 20,000,000 pieces of mail a week, or an average of fourteen pieces per soldier. This is four times as much as the A. I. E. got at the peak of the world war. Twenty percent of the mail sent overseas, is V-mail.

WFA PURCHASE SEED

Pasture and legume seeds, including blue lupine, white clover, wild winter peas, kobe lespedeza, and common lespedeza, Tennessee 76 lespedeza, sericea lespedeza, and yellow hog clover, will be purchased from farmers by the Commodity Credit Corporation, under a new program just announced by the War Food Administration.

SEWAGE FACILITIES FOR HOMES

Home owners can now obtain sewage facilities by having their municipalities write a letter to WPB. The letter must certify that the work is properly authorized; that it will require less than $1,500 for underground, and less than $500 for above-ground construction. The letter itself constitutes an authorization to connect sewage facilities.

REVISED FEED PRICES

Savings to farmers are expected to result from OPA's revision of retail prices of animal and poultry feeds. Previously, the retailer has been allowed to fix a mark-up of $7.50 a ton on all kinds of feeds. Now, feeds have been classified, and there is a schedule of mark-ups ranging from $5.50 to $10 a ton.

CEILING ON SAUSAGE

BUTTER, CHEESE ORDERS

Fifty per cent of all butter and 70 per cent of all cheddar cheese produced in May, June, and July must be held for Government uses, the WFA has announced. 30 per cent of butter and 50 per cent of cheese has been required for Government use since February.

HOSPITALS FOR CIVILIANS

Despite increasing military demands for hospital equipment and medical supplies, substantial efforts are being made to maintain the health of civilians. Since January 1, 1942, construction of 260 new hospitals, or extensive additions to existing hospitals has been approved by WPB. Beds will be increased by 7,000 leaving an estimated shortage for civilian use in war areas of about 14,000 beds.

NO QUOTA ON USED TRUCK TIRES

An eligible truck operator who is unable to get rationing certificates for new tires because his rationing board has exhausted its quota, can obtain certificates for used tires instead, according to OPA. Local boards have been authorized to issue used truck tire certificates without regard to quota restrictions.

CHICORY FOR COFFEE

Consumers who like chicory in their coffee are assured of a supply by a recent order of the war food administration. Because demand for this product has increased since coffee rationing, processors are now allowed to put 25 per cent of their bulk chicory in packages for individual consumers.

NEW AGENCY FOR CIVILIANS

The Office of Civilian Requirements, empowered to provide civilians with essential goods and services, has been set up in WPB. The new agency supersedes the Office of Civilian Supply. "It shall be the objective of the War Production Board," the order states, "to provide consumer goods and services adequate to maintain essential civilian life and the highest productive efficiency."

of a patriotic indoor scene. The room which were covered with red, white and blue table covers, were set in the form of a "V". At the point of the "V" a place was set for Richard Nelson, the junior boy who entered the army 3 few weeks ago. At his place a blue star was placed. The walls of the auditorium were covered with wall paper which corresponded with the patriotic motif.

Peris and other ornaments were placed around the gym. The music was furnished by a 10-piece band from Willard.

The program consisted of a vocal solo by Audrey Henry, "It Can't Be Wrong" and "I Had The Craziest Dream"; a piano solo by Janice Black, "Blue Champagne"; remarks by Mr. Joseph, Supt. and Mr. Robinson, county superintendent. The welcome was given by Marcella Clark, junior president, and the response was given by Janice Moser, senior president.

The seniors would like to take this opportunity to thank the juniors for their work. We certainly did appreciate it.

GIRLS RESERVE The junior and senior girls were entertained at the home of Mrs. Nevin Stover on Tuesday, May 4, 1943. Dorothy Diebert gave a talk on Pan-American relations. Mrs. Russel Gimble from Friendly House gave an interesting talk and showed some slides of Friendly House. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The annual athletic banquet will be held in the gymnasium on May 14, on Friday at 7:30. Each one is to bring a covered dish and two sandwiches.

SNOPER!!! The romance of the week: Casey Kinsel and Martha Lofand seen to have it bad—but definitely!

You should have heard Audrey Henry warbling "I had the Craziest Dream" and the orchestra at the banquet the other night. It was really solid! We've got another Kate Smith on our hands. I mean the voice, lads, not the figure!

It looks like Jane has traded in the class pin she was sporting for a pair of wings. Will she ever make up her mind?

Two blondes from the senior class took in the show "Slightly Dangerous", which starred Lana Turner last Sunday night. They acquired some new technique so you'd better beware boys.

Here's the $64 question: What happened to the gang of boys who tore out after the banquet last Saturday night? Anyone having a clue please notify the Bureau of Missing Persons. They didn't even make it to school on Monday.

LETTERS FROM OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

Dear Plymouth:
 Guess I have better write to, that is, I am trying to write to everybody in one letter. How is the old town. I suppose it is even dearer with all the young men in the service. I have been going to the David Rankin School for Mechanical Trades in St. Louis. I will graduate next Wednesday, then I will be shipped out, so don't send anymore papers here. I will write and let you know my new address.

I sure do enjoy the paper. Does Bill Hough still run the butcher shop there? I suppose he prays every night for more meat. I have heard rumors of a meat shortage, or am I wrong. We fellows in the Army haven't felt it yet.

I read in the paper that there was a circus at the park, sure wish I could have been there to see it. I have quite a few friends in that park, you see I planted some rose bushes over by that fence near that steep drop-off. Ask Mrs. Thelma Ford if she remembers the day she made her son and myself slave (I leaned on the shovel most of the time) in that hot sun.

 Well, I can't think of much else to say except that I think a lot about you and please keep on sending the papers.
 As ever,
 Eddie Barber

The Big Farm Production Drive Is On

Map shows business conditions prevailing throughout the United States at this time.

By L. G. ELLIOTT
 President, La. State Extension University.

The spring offensive against hunger is now under way on the farms of America. Plans and planting are on a scale to produce the goal of a five per cent increase over and above the record-breaking crops which were produced in 1942. This is the fourth year in which the farmers have been called upon to top their previous year's output. In the last three years, the increased goals were reached and, barring adverse weather conditions, every hope is held out that the 1943 goal will be reached.

Spring growing conditions on the whole are fairly good. The heavy snowfall of the past winter in many sections of the country has furnished excellent moisture conditions for early growing and, as nature has a way of retaining moisture in the soil, there is little need for worry about rainfall during the early part of the growing season.

Equipment and manpower shortages are still facing the American farmer, although these have been eased in some respects during recent weeks. On the whole, sufficient repair parts have been obtained to keep the 2,000,000 tractors and other equipment in working condition. The recent ruling of the manpower commission regarding deferment of essential farm workers will go far toward enabling farmers to plan their work with the assurance that capable and dependable men will not be drafted during the farming season. The efforts to persuade the youth of our nation to seek farm work during summer vacations from school and workers to spend their summer vacations working on farms appears to be bearing fruit and, if successful, will aid particularly during the harvest season when inexperienced help is of more benefit on a farm than it is during the planting and growing seasons.

The farmers' load, as far as civilian food demands are concerned, is being lightened considerably by the nation-wide program of Victory gardens. It is estimated that 18,000,000 urban dwellers will have Victory gardens this year and these will contribute materially to the food supplies of the nation, as a similar program did in 1918.

New crops and increased acreages of certain other crops for both food and fibers will result in making this nation more self-sufficient than ever before. It is hoped that 200,000 acres in the middle west will be devoted to hemp for rope and twine. Peanuts are being increased to over 5,000,000 acres and soybeans, which were increased approximately 150 per cent last year, are being still further expanded this year. Both of these are essential because of the oil which is derived from them. More rice will be grown as well as more sugar beets.

Farmers are raising more livestock and poultry as well as larger crops. The number of animals on farms is 11 per cent higher than it was a year ago, and the increase is expected to be even greater this year. Reports from farmers all over the country indicate that over 20 per cent more pigs are being raised this spring.

Japan Reverts to Animalism

Ever since history records, there have been laws—written and unwritten—to cover the conduct of war. The most recent group of laws was drawn up at Geneva in recent years, and among the signers was Japan. These laws—with a few supplements—were more or less a resume of the deceptions which have for centuries been customary in civilized warfare—if we can call any warfare "civilized."

One of the very fundamentals which has been observed in warfare is the protection and proper treatment of "prisoners of war." The reasons are obvious and many, but of outstanding significance is the fact that the soldier is under orders from his superiors. He is not his own master, and it has never been considered reasonable that he should be executed when and if captured.

With a spy it has always been a different matter. A spy volunteers for his work and when he is in enemy territory he is fully aware of his fate—if captured—which the recognized laws of warfare decree.

War is horrible enough as it is without adding to its frightfulness. Try to imagine the results if every military prisoner was slaughtered. The next step would be the slaughter of every civilian who fell into the hands of an enemy both at the beginning of the war and during intervals. It wouldn't be long before the world reached such a state of bestiality that its human population might cease to exist.

There are innumerable cases of hot-blooded savagery towards prisoners, performed during the heat of battle, and there have undoubtedly been many instances where large numbers of prisoners of war have been ruthlessly slaughtered—unnecessarily.

Even now Germany and Germany are accusing each other of having secretly murdered many thousands of Polish officers. Considering Germany's record in Poland during this war, their case looks pretty weak. Such offenses against decency are about as low as the human can reach, and now we have the spectacle of a great and supposedly civilized—nation, officially acknowledging that it has broken, and intends to continue to break, the one law of decency which even the wild hordes which periodically overrun Europe were wont to observe. These fendish warriors of a bygone age didn't hesitate to wipe out a civilian population, but they usually respected the life of a uniformed soldier.

Experience with Germany during the last two wars has taught us that the life or death of the enemy civilian doesn't mean much to that nation, but they have—at least officially—respected the laws which protect the prisoner of war. While it is doubtful if Germany herself would descend to the depths of military infamy to which Japan has now dedicated herself—it is shocking to read of her approval of Japan's execution of the American aviators.

As to that dead—no nation at war ever made a greater tactical mistake. That act drove the cold steel of determination deep into the soul of every one of one hundred and thirty million Americans. If it takes us twenty years we will make that nation pay for the lives of those aviators, and the spirit of friendship which we once felt for Japan, and which would have returned in the course of normal events, is dead. This act will create dislike in the mind of every child who reads his American history for just as long as it is recorded in that history.

HOUSE and HOME

by MARY E. DAGUE

Author of Sister Mary's Kitchen

By MARY E. DAGUE

Author of Sister Mary's Kitchen.

In my search through old cook books I found ever so many recipes aimed to inspire the housewife. An old "cookery book" from Scotland quotes much from the Bible and since food and economy are first in our minds today the following seems worth passing on. "Learn first the economy of the kitchen, the good and bad qualities of every common article, of food and the simplest and best modes of their preparation."

Cereals and flours are one of our commonest and most plentiful foods right now and if we learn to use them to their best advantage we can add interest and variety to the plainest meals.

Quick breads are easy to make and are full of good qualities. You can save brown bread with a fresh fruit salad for dinner.

Pop-overs served with maple syrup make a delicious dessert. Or steam them with scrambled eggs for Sunday morning breakfast.

If you use cream cheese, put it in a bowl, break it up with a fork and stir in a few tablespoons of cream and a dash of french dressing. This makes a delectable filling for brown bread sandwiches as well as an accompaniment with crackers or brown bread in a meal.

Breakfast Bread.
Two eggs, 2 tablespoons sugar, ¼ cup baking molasses, 1¼ cups white flour, 2 cups graham flour, 2 cups buttermilk or sour milk, 2 tea. spoons soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup seeded raisins.

Beat eggs, beating in sugar and molasses. Add flour and graham flour and mix raising with. Add one cup buttermilk and mix well. Dissolve soda in remaining buttermilk and add with salt to first mixture. Mix until smooth and turn into oiled bread pans. Bake one hour at 350 degrees Fahrenheit in the bread coil in the pans and it will be as moist as if steamed. This will make two good sized cylindrical loaves.

Pop-Overs.
One cup bread flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 1 cup milk, 2 teaspoons melted butter or margarine or salt oil.

Sift salt and flour together. Put unbeaten eggs and milk in mixing bowl. Sift flour and salt mixture over milk and beat with Dover beater or electric mixer until the batter is perfectly smooth. Beat in liquid fat and turn into oiled bread cups or iron muffin pans. Fill cups not more than half full. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) 40 to 45 minutes. As soon as the popovers are done from the oven make a small slit in the side with a sharp knife in order to permit the escape of steam. Serve hot. This makes two.

Breaks Tradition

Never in the 150 years of its history has a girl worked on the floor of the New York Stock exchange. But with the war the precedent has been broken, and Helen Hansell (above) was the one to do it.

GRADUATES

JEAN M. SNYDER COMPLETES TRAINING IN WAAC.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—Auxiliary Jean M. Snyder of 21 Park Avenue, Plymouth, Ohio, was graduated May 13th from the administrative school of the 2nd WAAC Training Center at the completion of a six-weeks course for their background, education and aptitude.

The school's purpose is to train WAACS for army office work in order to relieve men for active service. Reports from the field indicate that the girl soldiers are doing a splendid job.

The course is divided into two main sections: Three weeks of explanatory lectures and simple practical problems and the last weeks of Command Post Exercises, commonly known as CPX. During the last three weeks students maintain all records and administrative detail concerning an organization as it operates in the field. They prepare company records, orders and reports in complete detail.

Besides business training, there is a program daily of close order drill and work with a platoon.

The syllabus lists such diversified subjects as courts martial, qualities of notable American leaders, allotments, pay and allowances, safeguarding military information, basic qualifications of leadership and channels of communication.

WAACS are graduated each week and leave on assignments but the requests to date from the field have far outnumbered the available personnel.
