TWO LOCAL BOYS WOUNDED IN NORTH AFRICAN CAMPAIGN

With the North African campaign ended, the list of casualties is being made of those who suffered death and injuries. Two Plymouth boys have been listed as being "wounded" in recent battles in the Tunisian area. George Hough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hough of Plymouth, received injuries in battle. His parents have been officially notified by the War Department. Hough was stationed in a California camp for some months, but was sent overseas around the first of the year.

Mrs. Stanley Shaver of Shelby, was notified by the War Department Tuesday that her husband, Stanley Shaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shaver, was on the wounded list, and that reports will be made every two weeks.

The notification did not reveal when the young men were wounded, or in what battle zone. With the names of the two Plymouth young men on the casualty list, they are the first in this immediate vicinity to be reported "injured." There are several more boys from Plymouth who saw action in North Africa, among them being Charles Payne, Richard Major, Robert Hunter, Max Smith, Max Trauger, and possibly others from this section.

INKY DARKNESS DURING THE BLACKOUT

When the first blackout signal sounded at 9:30 p. m. Wednesday evening, Plymouth went almost into total darkness. At 9:52 Plymouth was in total darkness as the second signal came on. The sky overhead was not as black as some we've seen, the village, as a whole was "inky" black and nowhere could a reflection of light be seen. There were few exceptions where wardens had to notify residents to turn out lights, but so thorough was the work of the air raid wardens, police and messengers that it was only a matter of seconds before total darkness was obtained in Plymouth's second all-out blackout test.

Mayor Derr and other civilian defense officials stated that the test was carried out smoothly—complete cooperation from every one was enjoyed, and that the active officers of the civilian defense council acted promptly and efficiently. Through this split-second timing and cooperation the blackout last night was very successful.

With the all-clear signal given at 10:27, traffic was resumed on the highways and the village became normal again. Plymouth is in District No. 2, which is composed of nine counties, including all of Richland and Huron.

CANNING SUGAR NOW AVAILABLE

NO RED TAPE THIS SEASON: WATCH FOR COUPON NUMBER.

The Huron County Rationing Board announced late Wednesday that canning sugar is now available without so much red tape. Applications to all local storekeepers have been sent but the coupons are not yet ready to send them in until they have used up two coupons in War Ration Book 1, each good for five pounds. The coupon numbers in this book to be used for this purpose will be announced possibly today. In this manner canning sugar is available at once and when more sugar is necessary, the entire transaction being handled by mail, so it is important that applicants do not go to the board offices.

Last season so much red tape was involved that many in the area were over before sugar could be obtained for canning. One person in each family group should make application for additional sugar other than the above 10 pounds per person and enclose War Ration Book No. 1 for the family or household group. The Board will determine the amount of sugar allowed as per application and issue canning coupons for the proper amounts. The coupons and War Book 1 are returned to the applicant by mail.

STOLEN TRUCK IS RECOVERED

Car stealing broke out again in this vicinity over the week-end, and again motorists are warned about leaving keys in the car, and also about having important papers and ration books stored in the compartment.

When his phone rang about 7 o'clock Monday morning, Robert Bachrach thought he was still dreaming when an informant told him that his truck was over on its side on a road just north and east of Shiloh. Bachrach stated that the truck was parked in front of his home at 1:30 Monday morning, when he returned home.

An employee of Eliot's Garage in Shiloh, saw the overturned truck and notified Mr. Bachrach of its whereabouts. There was no damage done, other than a fender which was badly smashed. The driver of the truck had a narrow escape when he missed a large tree by inches as the truck went off the road.

Dan Springston of Shiloh, had the misfortune of having his car stolen also Monday morning. His machine was parked in the driveway near the house. About 4:00 a. m. Monday Mrs. Springston was awakened by peculiar noises, and she looked out the window just in time to see her new touring off in the Springston auto. State highway officials were immediately notified of the theft and late Monday afternoon the car was found at Newark, Ohio. The Springstons had planned on leaving tomorrow for a trip into Texas.

It is believed that the same party stole both machines, and while they were recovered, it should be taken as a warning of being careful with your automobile keys.

REV. FREDERICK LAMBERTUS INSTALLED SUNDAY MORNING

The installation of Rev. Frederick Lambertus as pastor of the First Lutheran church of Plymouth took place on Sunday morning, May 16, 1943. There was a good attendance of members of the church.

After the usual opening services according to the Ritual of the church, Rev. George W. Milroy, president of the Ohio Synod, presided.

Mr. E. K. Trauger, acting for the congregation, presented the call of the congregation of pastor Lambertus. In a few chosen words, he spoke to and for the congregation, urging co-operation with the pastor and a cheerful acceptance of the leadership of the pastor and his wife.

Upon proceeding to the pulpit, Dr. Miley spoke of his many years acquaintance with Rev. Lambertus, while both were serving as pastors in Toledo, Ohio, and he assured the Plymouth congregation that they had made an excellent choice of a pastor and pastor's wife. Dr. Miley then delivered an inspiring address in keeping with the occasion. This was followed by the formal installation of the pastor. The choir led by Orva Dawson, with Arline Schreck at the console, rendered excellent musical selections.

It appears that a brighter day for the church is dawning and that now in the one hundred and third year of its existence, the First Lutheran church is ready to take its rightful place in the religious development of Plymouth and vicinity.

BIBLE SCHOOL BEGINS SOON

Miss Joy Bethel is now laying plans for the Vacation Bible School which will begin May 31. The primary department will be held in the Lutheran church, the beginners' and intermediate departments in the Presbyterian church, and the junior department in the Methodist church.

Some of the courses which will be given are Bible, Missions, Music and Recreation. This school will be held five days a week for two weeks from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. It is designed to carry on the work of religious education which Miss Muriel Walker has been doing in the public schools. Therefore, we ask the cooperation of all the parents in seeing that the children attend this school. Also the director, Miss Joy Bethel, will appreciate the help of any who are available as teachers.

Let's make this one of the finest schools which Plymouth has had!

CONVENTION NEXT SUNDAY
 Extensive plans are under way for a big and better Christian Endeavor convention, which is to be held this Spring in the Belleville Presbyterian church on Sunday, May 23. The theme of the convention will be "In His Service."

Everyone interested in Christian Endeavor work is urged to cooperate with their presence or by buying a registration ticket, thus making your Society eligible to the loving cup or shield award, and at the same time helping a good cause.

A very fine program has been prepared commencing at 2:30 with the registration. Among the features of the afternoon will be an inspiring play on the "Life of Fanny Crosby" by the Shelby U. B. Adult Society; also an interesting chalk talk by Rev. H. C. Greene of Piedmont, Ohio.

Following the supper hour at 5:15, the evening's program will open at 7:00 with a song service; installation of new officers; special musical numbers by the Plymouth C. E. Society, and the message of the evening by Rev. J. Campbell White of Mansfield, O. Following the message a very unusual devotional picture "Hills and the Sea," will be presented—thus bringing to a close a day of fine Christian fellowship. Plan to be there.

AN APPRECIATION
 To the Fate-Root-Heath Co., and to the employees, I want to express my deepest gratitude and thanks, for their generosity, and the many deeds of kindness they did through my recent bereavement.

Mrs. Geo. Eastman.

LETTERS FROM OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

Somewhere in Africa
May 2, 1943

Dear Tommy:
I have wanted to write for some time, but (censored) months of traveling has put me way behind. Over (censored) months by boat and (censored) by air leaves just that final hop until it's once around the world.

With people walking by in sun here it seems like an odd time to be thanking you people in Plymouth for so many Dec. and Jan. cards and letters. We were two and one-half months off from the states before they arrived, so you can be sure they were welcome.

Much of what I have seen I can't mention, but here's a hazing there is enough to be of some interest. The boat trip, I think, to the majority proved to be rather dull. What little excitement we saw was dwarfed by many not many days of looking for something to keep you occupied. We had prize fights, stage shows, song fests, a glee club and even a dramatic society. For a while I expected someone to start a sewing circle, and began to wonder what kind of an outfit I was in, but it all worked to shorten a mighty long trip. Upon landing we were treated as a labor battalion and worked a twelve hour night shift for several days. I hope that I never see another crate of pork luncheon meat. They had mooning of the stuff. The middle-east I believe is as poor a section of the world as there is. At least I hope no one has to live more miserably than these people. You begin to realize how lucky you are to have been born an American. They say in their prayers they ask for something better to steal. Prices everywhere that soldiers go, some are sky high. I have had shoe-shine boys ask two dollars without batting an eye. You finally talk them down to ten cents and then laugh when their smile reveals that you were again been taken. We saw our first American W.A.A.C.'s about a week ago. If they were from California you still talked like next door neighbors. I imagine there are many in the states by now, but they were a novelty there.

The place where I am now I think will be home for a while. A barometer again adorns our roof and I am back at weather work again. This line of work sure takes you to some out of the way places. All you see beyond these hills that surround us is desert. The French have an outpost here (Beau Geste style) and there is a native village. I don't believe there is a town with white families in it within 100 miles of here. Outside of our slightly desolate location, the place isn't bad. We have native boys to do our laundry and keep our quarters clean, plenty of water, a good P. X. and they claim the best cook in Africa, another consolation is that I have satisfied a long held desire to see if some of these desert outpost stories are true. To say the least they are grossly exaggerated.

I seem to be running down. Tommy, so will close. Regards to everyone at home, and to all my buddies within reach of the Advertiser.

Sincerely,

Bob Nimmons
P. S.—So far I have received two January Advertisers.

Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Dear Tommy:
Please excuse me for taking so long to drop you a line and thank you for the home paper every week, it sure does make me feel good when it arrives, and to know what all the boys are doing and how they are getting along. Boy they sure are scattered all over the globe, aren't they? The 14th Armoured Division is really getting in shape and fast.

I like the army life swell and never felt better in my life. I know 16,000 other soldiers in the same shape. The weather down here is really hot and already I have a nice tan. I was lucky to get assigned to the Maintenance Battalion, as I get a lot of technical training that will come in handy after the war.

I am being sent to some college or university soon, for specialized training and if everything goes right I'll then go from there to O. C. S. There was 18 men in our battalion who had an I.Q. of over 120, who will automatically get this chance to go to college, some have already left for Purdue.

I'll write and tell you when I go so as to get the Advertiser. The people in Plymouth should be congratulated on their fine job of doing everything humanly possible to help all of us boys in the army. I doubt very much if any other community has done so much towards building morale and making the boys feel that they are missed and that everyone back home is behind them and praying for their safe return. Well, adios Tommy and again thanks, keep up the good work.

Arnold Gunn
Camp Davis, N. C.

Dear Tommy:
I thought I had better write you a few lines, telling all about our branch and our camp here. I receive the Advertiser regularly here and it sure is welcome to hear all the news from the old home town.

We are in the 504th Coast Artillery Battalion, Battery B. All Day is in Battery A, Harvey is in Battery C, and Leland Fredmore is in Battery D. There are a lot of Shiloh, Shelby and Bellvue fellows here, so we are never lonesome.

Camp Davis is located in North Carolina about ten miles north of the N.C.-S.C. Border. It is 30 miles from Wilmington, which has a population of 75,000. It is the largest anti-aircraft training center in the U. S., there being about 90,000 soldiers stationed here. It is divided into two separate parts, the main camp and the Basic Training section, where we are located.

Our training up until the present time has been mostly hiking, drilling and learning the fundamentals of infantry tactics. Map reading, interior guard duty, First Aid, Identification of Aircraft and tanks, and physical training, complete the rest of the schedule. Also we have had some artillery Drill and gunner's instruction. We work from dawn till whenever we get done, which is usually about 7:00 at night. The food is good here, and the C. O. and other officers and non-coms are the best. Anti-aircraft is a good branch to get into.

The gun we use is a 90mm which in inches is 3.654. Its effective range is 27,000 to 35,000 ft. There is not much else I can tell you about it, as it is not allowed to be told. But it's the best AA gun in existence today.

The fellows here in the barracks are all young and mostly they hail from Ohio and Indiana. They are a swell bunch and we certainly have a lot of fun here.

Well, I can't think of anything else to say, except that I would like to be remembered to all my friends in Plymouth and to remember that to a soldier, mail is always very welcome and appreciated.

So long, Tommy, and the best of luck.

Sincerely,
Pvt. Thurman P. Ford, Jr.

NEW KIND OF INSECT

P/O Paul Root, somewhere in Austria writes a letter that they are now busily engaged in fighting a new kind of insect—they call them ants. Even though the posts of their beds are set in oil and oil is used all over the floors, the ants are so bad they are usually glad to get up in the morning and let the ants have the bed.

A captain from the Jap forces is now a prisoner in their camp and Paul says they have a hard time keeping the men from using him for target practice.

April 25, 1943

Dear Mom:
I want to wish you the best of luck, this glorious Easter day. In school this past week, one teacher who has lived around here told us all about an Easter pageant that is presented each year at Madison park by the church people of Lawton. This year, due to gas rationing and the number of soldiers at Fort Sill, they decided to present it at the Indian reservation on the Fort. The Fort and Indian reservation is all one, located between a high cliff, which is called medicine bluff, and a high foothill about a thousand feet high. The people that witnessed the pageant sat along this hill. There were a lot of people that took blankets and lunch and spent the night there to get a good place to see from.

When Red, a buddy in my room, and I started to go, we didn't know what bus to take or just where to go. When we got to the bus station, one of the soldiers at Fort Sill was waiting for the bus also. He told us if we went with him we would be sure to get there. Of course we went with him, and we also met a sergeant who showed us a shortcut which saved a lot of time.

As we approached the site where the pageant was going to be held, we could see a large tree in Plymouth about 150 feet over 15 feet high and the stam was about 4 feet wide. It was very inspiring and also acted as a guide to the pageant.

It was about 1:00 o'clock when we arrived at the place. We were then informed that it didn't start until 4:30 the next day, Easter morning. One of the ladies there was so comfortable so lie on and cover up with. It was rather chilly by morning.

The pageant started with (30 minutes) of music at 4 a. m., then the following scenes: First the army band and trumpeters dressed in biblical costumes, followed by silent prayer by twelve men who represented the twelve apostles. Next the re-creation of the birth of Christ. This scene started with the wise men in their pastures and had each step up to the manger scene. Next was where the good samaritan found the beggar along the road and cared for him. Followed by the presentation of the statue of Christ by the Angel. Next, writes Christ healed the blind man. Right after that they took up a collection for the cost of the pageant and the upkeep of the reservation. After that they gave the water scene where Christ walked out over the water to save his twelve apostles. Then the scene where Christ went up the mountain on his forty-day fast. It showed where Satan tried to tempt him three times but failed. Then Palm Sunday, where Christ rode the burro through the streets of Galilee and the women and children laid down palms for him to go over. Then the four horsemen who talked to the Angel and each one but victory was sent away.

Next it showed where Peter betrayed his master for the thirty pieces of silver. Following that was when the people demanded the crucifixion of Christ. The King at that time also washed his hands of the whole matter. Next they placed a crown of thorns on Christ's head and a reed in his hand. Next was where he carried the cross and fell along the way, but he would not permit any of his close followers to help him. The next was the crucifixion of Christ. It showed the three crosses, the one on the left that were crucified with him. The final scene was the resurrection of Christ, and they had it timed just right with the rising of the sun.

* When a person attends a pageant like this and stops to think a little, it gives you all the reason why we must have final victory and the sooner the better.

By the way, I will probably graduate about the 8th of May. Imagine when I left high school, I didn't realize I would go thru the same thing again and at a college at that! There is a ping-pong table in our barracks and boy it is fun to play with a bunch of these fellows. We can have more fun here than in town because there you have to wait for everything you want to do. I'll close now as I have more letters

Love,
Johnny (Coe)

SHILOH NEWS

ABOUT OUR SOLDIER BOYS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dawson had a happy surprise Sunday night by the arrival of their son, Sgt. Richard Keith Dawson and his wife from Ft. Sill, Okla. He has a fifteen day furlough. They made home by half an hour, in which to celebrate his father's birthday. The young couple drove through and would have arrived early Sunday morning but on account of the floods were forced to make some lengthy detours, but arrived at 11:30.

It is really extremely nice, much nicer than I describe it. India is proving to be extremely interesting. Quite different from home, I must say. But still interesting. One sees some mighty funny things. For example, a waiter just brought me some lemonade. He is dressed up in a most nifty uniform, white baggy trousers, a long white, brass buttoned coat, a wide green belt and a white green belt. He looks mighty class except that he wears no shoes. We have "bearers" who take care of our clothes and make our beds. Dobbies who wash our clothes and sweeper who clean and mop the floor.

You may think that I do nothing, but I am quite busy all day in the work that I am prepared for, and I like it very much for there's something new each day. Our food and quarters are better than any I have had in my life in the army. I am feeling fine as you can guess. Have been getting exercise each evening with a few games of "Badminton". This is an abrupt ending I know, but there will be more later.

As ever, Brother Bill

Change of Address

Mrs. David Gans motored home from California, reaching here Sunday evening. She will be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Renner, until her husband receives a furlough, or when maneuvers have been completed.

Mrs. Marjorie Smith, who has been with her sister, Mrs. M. Willet for several weeks, left recently to join her husband, Pfc. Walter Smith who is stationed at San Bernardino, Calif.

Letters written on the 3rd and 5th of May, from northern Africa by Kirby Nesbitt were received by Mr. and Mrs. H. Nesbitt, Monday of this week. He says he and Albert Kopins are together and Frederick Feckler is in a town near by and all are getting along fine. Al wants more mail. All three boys have been together since entering the army and were sent across together.

William Berry, who took the examination for army service was rejected for the present on account of ill health.

From somewhere in India an interesting letter received by Rev. and Mrs. Stover from her brother William:

Well, imagine that I finally got around to writing. It seems as though I do plenty of it, but even then I can't keep caught up. You wonder I suppose, whether I am in the jungle, on the water, or in some town. I can't tell you exactly, but let me describe the room where I am writing and you may then know a conclusion of some sort. The furniture is a beautiful desk of some native wood. From where I sit I can look across a room that reminds one of the spacious lobby of some hotel. The furniture is that new "balloon" type, modernistic and that is very comfortable, and is indirect lighting and numerous ceiling fans. From the far side of the room a soldier is playing Strauss' waltzes on the phonograph.

There is another room adjoining this one which has about the same size. In it of the far end is a soda fountain and near the front is an extra large pool table where the men play a game called "Snooker" something like rotation pool I guess. The room is described compose "Duration Dan" a service club supplied to us by the American Red Cross.

 IV. Again we give and bequeath to our beloved faculty all the amazing knowledge and startling information we have furnished them from time to time as they may have found same on our examination papers.

SNOOPERS!
 Janice Black has hooked herself a man. None other than Ralph Willett. Did you see them strut into church last Sunday night?

Why does a certain Junior girl and a certain Senior boy stroll around in back of the schoolhouse at noon? Is it because the little girl's boy-friend might spy on them? That is this—an eternal triangle?

 Buster: (To Mr. Joseph in Chemistry class) Will you tell me how to spell a word?
 Mr. Joseph: Wait's the word, Buster?
 Buster: I don't know. I can't pronounce it.

Has the Navy lost its appeal for Charlotte Seston? She seems to have deserted it for a plain old civilian. How about it, Jimmie? Or doesn't she confide in you?

Note: Owing to interference of the blackout Wednesday night, it is impossible to publish all the school news. The feature articles will appear next week. Papers will be on sale at Fraziers.—Ed.
