

U. S. Limits Styles To Save Materials

1,000 Items Simplified to Save Essential Materials

By reducing the length of household matches by a quarter of an inch, 7 million board feet of lumber have been saved.

By limiting cooking stoves to one model, 350,000 tons of iron and steel were conserved.

All told, the government's program for saving strategic raw materials by simplifying styles of products has resulted in the conservation of 600,000 tons of steel; 17,000 tons of copper; 35,000 lbs. of solder; 180 million yards of cloth; 227,000 tons of pulp; 450 million board feet of lumber, and 8,000 lbs. of tungsten.

The success of this program, and the ever-increasing demand for greater amounts of material for war production, have encouraged the government to extend its conservation policy. As a result, it has been announced that more than 1,000 items will be simplified.

Of the 1,000 items, about half will be household goods. Simplification will limit their colors, sizes, styles and ornamentation, with the workmanship in them designed solely for utility. However, the Office of War Information said that the government will keep a close eye on the situation to see that prices will conform to the quality, and the American Standards association, the National Bureau of Standards and the standards branch of the OPA are working to safeguard the consumer by assuring maximum efficiency of use of available material.

From Cradle to Grave.
Americans will be affected from the cradle to the grave by the government's new conservation order. Iron and steel will be restricted in baby and child carriers and cribs to be limited in length to 75 inches; in width to 22 inches, and in depth to 20 inches.

Furthermore, Americans will be affected from the time they rise in the morning till the evening of the night. Such items as the heater which warms the water for the early shower—to bedsprings and sheets will be simplified. The Mrs. will find her selection of household goods radically limited.

were used for bulbs, now there will be only four.
The 180 million yards of cloth saved by conservation practices will be greatly augmented by new regulations covering the manufacture of garments.
Children's sportswear and rayon dresses will be simplified, and such formerly considered essentials as shirt-tails, pockets and night-gown ruffles will be severely pruned.
On the other hand, few people probably will mourn the death of the zoot suit with its knee-length waistcoat and baggy trousers.
At the time of the announcement of the simplification program, the Office of War Information said: "If simplification of details can accomplish the necessary results, it is that which will be resorted to rather than the total elimination of the entire line or entire item. There is no desire on the part of the government to deprive its citizens unnecessarily of the things they are used to."
On the contrary, the OWI continued, "Every effort is being made to keep civilian goods at the highest peak of supply consistent with the necessities of war. Simplification is not an arbitrary decision of government that such-and-such can and will be done."
Less to Buy.
The OWI's statement followed a declaration by Arthur Whitehead, director of civilian requirements, of the WPB, that there would be considerably less for consumers to purchase in the future.
Spiking predictions that the government would soon release quantities of materials for civilian production, Whitehead said that any increase in the manufacture of consumer goods would have to come from simplification of items, of material made available by conservation measures.
However, Whitehead said that there would be no further lists issued of bare essentials ordered by government and that in the future, all effort would be focused on increasing necessary production wherever possible.
The government's latest order affecting civilians came several weeks after simplification regulations enabling farmers to purchase tools, etc., up to a value of $25 on a simple priority statement filed out by the purchaser or retailer.

ed. Whereas she once could choose from 200 items of cast iron utensils, her pink suit now is prescribed to 12. She will also discover that more than 40 styles of enamelware have been eliminated.
When it comes to furnishing the home, the American family will have its selection of furniture reduced to 24 basic patterns, and types and styles of ice-boxes, blankets, radio tubes, toilet tissue and wallpaper will be restricted.
The housewife also will find that tin and glass containers have been simplified along with paper bags and boxes, and even tea bags.
Cut To Size.
To the man who only in his own home and always finds something to do, or to the man who just likes to putter around, the variety of tools will be cut from 1,150 to 357. Hammers, axes, hatchets, saws, garden tools, auto jacks, automotive repair tools, nails, screws and wheelbarrows are among the implements to be simplified.
Much tungsten and other material will be saved by the government's reduction in the types of electric bulbs. Although the customer can still choose from 1,700, there ordinarily was a variety of 3,500 types. Where once 14 colors

What Do Marines Want? Small Change

By Technical Sgt. Jim C. Lucas, U. S. Marine Corps.

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC (Delayed).—When the folks at home write that do you need most out there?" among marines in these parts the answer is almost unanimously "small change."

We'd like to see some more nickels, and dimes and quarters and half dollars. Apparently, the only small coins that exist in the islands that we brought in our pockets when we sailed from the West coast, and there aren't enough of them to go around.

When we're paid, it is usually in $5, $10 and $20 bills. A private usually gets two $20's, a sergeant, four ones, minus deduction for insurance. This, we understand, is not enough, because paper money neatly solves the space problem aboard ship.

But it doesn't help ours, and the business of making change is our constant bugaboo.

Recently, the Red Cross and the army, navy and marine corps opened up canteens near this south Pacific base. They have ice cream, cold drinks, beer and sandwiches, and bring us as close to home as we hope to get for a long time. But they also have a sign which says: "Don't get in line unless you have the exact change."

I've walked around for two weeks with three $20 bills in my shirt pocket, and haven't been able to buy a five-cent dish of ice cream. Finally, in disgust, I tried to send them home in a money order, and was balked when the postal clerk couldn't give me change for 16 cents!

At the Post Exchanges, I've seen the clerks add on a lot of articles to make the bill come up even. It wasn't their fault. They just couldn't make change. Not long ago, I wanted a package of hair blades. I had a $5 bill. I came away with my blades, six candy bars, a pipe, a box of soap, a comb and a package of mints. I did manage to get four one-dollar bills in change.

Prices are more than reasonable. The canteens have nothing that is more than a nickel, which is cheaper than we could get it at home. But I've seen the day I would gladly exchange a $20 bill for a quarter to buy a bar of soap and a package of cigarettes. We've got no idea how this problem can be solved. We know shipping space is badly needed, and a lot of hard money would take us room, but we sure would like to see old Tom Jefferson on a nickel again!

Meet the People...

Each week in this space will be presented a picture and short portrait of someone who is newsworthy.

The Allied Tunisian victory really began on August 18, 1942. The Nazis had taken Matruh, a British base in Egypt; captured 6,000 British troops, and many tanks and trucks. The British 8th army had retreated and struggled to hold a 40 mile line from El Dabba to the Qattara depression. This scene of defeat was placed General Bernard Montgomery as commander of the harried British 8th army.

The blue eyed, sharp featured, slightly built, 54-year-old commander calmly rebuilt his shattered army in 1942. He was known as a cautious, reticent officer and was highly respected for his tact and skill. And he has been able to inspire his men's messages. At Dunkirk he told them: "If you run out of ammunition, tear the enemy to pieces with your hands."

When the Nazis were defeated in North Africa it was no surprise to Montgomery. For after his first advance he had announced: "We will not stop fighting now. We will wipe out all the Axis forces in North Africa."

SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD

Thousands of young mothers, all over the country, are now experiencing something they never expected—life without father.

I met a girl the other day who is in her early twenties and who has a small child of two. She was feeling terribly sorry for herself. "There's no point in this," she said. "One day is just like another. I don't have any fun and there's nothing to look forward to. Sometimes I even wonder if I would have married if I had known things would be like this."

But of course, it does no good to bemoan one's lot. Besides, most women who find themselves in this situation are facing up with splendid courage. They are being good sports and are doing a good job. How do they go about it?

In the first place, they look the whole situation squarely in the face, and realize that their husbands may be away for a long time. And it's up to them to work out a life for themselves and their children in spite of father's absence. For every young child has the right to the same love and care that his father would have given him. They have an uncanny way of knowing how their mothers are feeling and are miserable, or tired or irritable, if she is constantly depressed they will know it. You can keep an absent father a few minutes from your children's lives if you try.

Home for the week-end; 3. Sight seeing; 4. To the theatre, races, or other places of amusement; 5. Any social travel or pleasure travel for pleasure; 6. Travel merely for the sake of going somewhere.

Photographs of children under one year of age of soldiers serving overseas or children born abroad, if the father has departed for overseas may be sent by V-mail under certain conditions, the War Department has announced. The regulation form must not be altered in any manner and the photograph is limited in size to not more than one-third of the correspondence space on the V-mail form. The photograph must appear on the upper left portion of the correspondence space. It may include the mother or some other person holding the child.

Total Victory Tax collections as of June 5 were $682,382,523.20.

Sticker For Ration-Free Shoes

Frozen Foods Priced
Consumer ceiling prices for frozen snap beans, corn, peas, and spinach of the 1943 pack will be about the same as current maximum prices for the 1942 pack, but frozen strawberries, between three and four cents a pound.

Gas And Tires for Farm
To assist grain farmers in harvesting 1943 crops, the War Food Administration has made arrangements with ODT and OPA to assure owners of custom-operated machinery, sufficient gasoline and tires to run their equipment, especially itinerant combine operators who will soon be working in the wheat harvest.

Tax Workers Will Be Needed
Between 10,000 and 15,000 new employees will have to be added to the Bureau of Internal Revenue as a result of the new system for the pay-as-you-go income tax law which goes into effect July 1. Most of the employees will be placed in the various field offices and the majority of them will be women.

Tools For Farmers
Wrenches, pliers, screwdrivers and other mechanics' hand service tools should be more generally available to farmers and home mechanics as a result of an amendment of Order E-6 by W.P.B. The amendment order, which is designed to bring about better distribution of these tools among consumers, sets aside from 20 to 25 per cent of the monthly production of specified tools for commercial distributors.

Apply For Fuel Now
Occupants of oil heated homes should apply now to their ration boards for next year's fuel oil allowances to assure adequate supplies before winter, declares OPA. About one-third of the coupons in each consumer's ration sheet will be valid on July 1 to enable householders to get deliveries, even months, in advance of cold weather.

Canned Goods For Civilians
Applesauce, blueberries, figs, beets, carrots, pumpkins, and squash will be available to civilians in cans as a result of a curtailment in government requirements. Under a previous order, canners were permitted to pack these foods in cans only for government needs.

Barbed Wire Available
Approximately 20,000 tons of barbed wire with extra long barbs, made for military purposes, will be used to meet a shortage on farms, according to WPB. The action is part of the Office of Civilian Requirements' program to make needed supplies available to farmers. The wire shortage was aggravated by the recent midwestern floods which washed out many miles of fence.

Used Car Gas Ration
The purchaser of a used car may qualify for a gasoline ration to operate it, even though he is unable to get a tire inspection record from the previous owner, if he can satisfy the local board that (1) no tire inspection record was ever issued for the vehicle, or (2) the buyer had been unable to get the record from the previous owner after diligent attempt.

Lumber For Farms
Five hundred million board feet of softwood lumber have been made available for farm needs by WPB and WFA under certain conditions: preference ratings may be no higher than AA-2, ratings may not be assigned for lumber to be used in construction or repair of dwellings, or in construction subject to the provisions of conservation order L-41, farmers apply on Form GA-201, lumber dealers on Form GA-202. This order is good through September 30, 1943.

Stabilizing Price of Vegetables
A program has been started that will maintain fair and equitable returns for the canning industry, at the same time preventing increases in consumer prices of green peas, snap beans, sweet corn, canned tomatoes and other primary tomato products. It includes: (1) No increases in the ceiling prices of canners; (2) The Commodity Credit Corporation will absorb part of the processing cost, caused by approved increased wages, to permit processors to obtain net returns from 1943 operations in line with the average net return during representative pre-war years; for minor vegetables, increase will be reflected in higher ceiling prices.

War Expenditures Up 1 Per Cent
War expenditures by the U. S. during May amounted to $7 billion, 373 million, a one per cent increase over April. The daily rate of war expenditures averaged $283,600,000 in May compared with $280,400,000 in April.

Increase In Farm Machinery
A new farm machinery and equipment order (WPB-1-257) sets up quotas based on the actual needs of farmers for machinery and equipment as determined by the War Food Administration. The order, which becomes effective July 1, permits uncompleted quotas under L-170 to be produced in addition to quotas hereby established.

More Forest Fires In 1942
Forest fires last year burned over a total of 31,854,124 acres of United States woodlands, compared with 26,404,385 acres in 1941. The total number of fires in the first war year was 208,218, an increase of 6,516 over 1941.

Stocking Prices Changed
Maximum prices on stockings that contain yarn composed of silk twisted with rayon or cotton yarns have been fixed by OPA to allow for varying costs based on the gauge of the hose. Retail prices range from 79c for the coarse gauges (30 and lower) to $1.25 for the finer gauges (51 and higher).

Release Farm Machines
Manufacturers of milking machines, farm cream separators, and farm milk coolers have been authorized by the War Food Administration to distribute 100 per cent of their authorized production. This order makes no change in the rationing of retail sales.

John Roger Gilger, 21, sailor, U. S. air station at Grosse Ile, Mich., and Eugenia M. Reynolds, 20, stenographer, both of Green-wich.

INVESTIGATE KILLINGS
Norwalk—Dog warden, Clair D. Church, investigated the attacking of three ewes and one lamb owned by Aubrey Snapp, who lives in the extreme southern part of Greenwich township. Three unlicensed dogs, said to be owned by Arthur and Green Stevens of Shiloh, R. D. 1, are reported to have caused the damage. age claim.

PROTEST ASSOCIATION NEWS

This survey also gives the New Deal another check up on farmers still favoring AAA benefit checks and control measures and who will support in 1944 the present administration in spite of the fact that they know it is wrong. Thank God farmers of this kind are in the majority.

These farmers, of course, will be listed on the other side by this political Farm Solicitor.

Farmers of this kind will go down in history in the present fight against The American Way of Life, when the ruthless traitors in high places within our own borders are finally ousted.

is a better place for the New Deal than for the old-fashioned farmer who is honest, hard-working and who does not accept AAA benefit checks—never paid wheat penalty, do not allow County Agents or AAA Commissioners to enter their home or step their foot on the farm premises, as the farmers in Darke County, by court action, adhered to several months ago. These farmers, of course, will be listed on the other side by this political Farm Solicitor.

HOUSE AND HOME

by Mary E. Dague

By MARY E. DAGUE
Author of Sister Mary's Kitchen.

Every homemaker is facing the challenge of living up to rationing laws. To be successful it takes more planning than we are used to but a good food and a good health standard can be maintained if we conscientiously combine rationed and non-rationed foods.

Most pits is not only a "dainty dish to set before" your family but it's a substantial one as well because it combines vegetables and meat and bread-stuff. It's ideal to serve for porch and garden meals since it keeps hot and serves serving dishes. Radishes and onions from the garden and a fresh fruit salad round out a delectable meal.

Meat and Vegetable Pie.
Three-fourths pound round steak, 4 small onions, 2 cup lima beans, 8 small onions, 4 medium potatoes, 1 cup sliced mushrooms (optional), 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 4 cups stock, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons pepper, 4 tablespoons flour, baking powder biscuit for topping.

Cut meat in inch cubes and brown lightly in fat. Add salt and pepper and stock and simmer for three-fourths hour. Add vegetables and cook until tender, about thirty minutes. Saute mushrooms for ten minutes. Remove meat and vegetables from stock. Stir flour to a smooth paste with a little cold water and thicken stock. Combine prepared meat, mushrooms and gravy and turn into a deep casserole. Cover with baking powder biscuit dough made with 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons shortening and 1/2 cup milk. Bake twenty minutes in a hot oven (450 degrees F.). If you roll the biscuit dough to fit the top of the casserole cut a gash through the center.

This is a splendid dish to serve with everything in the refrigerator. When you come home put on the topping and bake while you set the table.

If you are staking the tomatoes in the garden remember that you must prune them so that you have a single stalk. This stalk must be tied to the top of the plant growing over a soft tissue underneath every third or fourth leaf. The twine should be tied to the plant loosely around the plant. Do not cut off any leaves from the main stem but cut off all branches at the base of the leaves. The fruit is earlier, cleaner and easier to pick than the tomatoes, as even if it is a bit more work it pays.

Mrs. Floyd Sheely is ill at her home on Mills avenue.

The U.S. WAR BONDS

and farm is now paying the penalty for the New Deal handout—WPA, AAA checks, etc. Our sons are giving their lives each day in this New Deal promoted war. More people are awakening each day to the fact that we are in a planned war. Planned, several years before "Pearl Harbor."

A meeting of AAA Committee and County Agents met in Columbus, Ohio, the latter part of April and discussed plans relative to collective farming in the United States (Russia) plan. In areas where small farms predominated, line fences would be pulled, whereby thousands of acres would be maintained if we conscientiously combine rationed and non-rationed foods.

Did it ever occur to you just why the New Deal took over so many tracts of land, consisting of thousands of acres of fine black productive soil in purely rural areas, away from labor centers and railroad facilities to build ammunition and war plants?

Don't be deceived any longer! Everything was carefully planned for collective farming by district plan when the war ends. These immense buildings, centrally located in these large tracts of land were for this very purpose.

The big pity at this time is the fact that only a few United States citizens have awakened to the blunders into which the New Deal has led us. The loss of our valiant sons in foreign countries; our business; our homes; and our farms confiscated; taxation beyond endurance; liberty and freedom gone—all of this to satisfy the New Deal collector.

The few who know the score are forced to suffer with the majority who have been led astray.

In the May edition of "America Preferred," Carl H. Mote, editor and publisher, Indianapolis, the New Deal collector:

"If it were possible to segregate that portion of the population that has been led astray by unwarranted optimism so that only such portion would suffer the consequences of intellectual stupidity, it might be said that the law of compensation still operates with equal and exact justice. But such is not the case. Those who have been deceived have involved the welfare and happiness of those who have not been deceived. The strong and the alert have been made helpless by blunders of the weak and misguided whose only distinction is that of numbers. Now that every official agency of propaganda is polluted at the source, ethical conduct is in process of disappearing from the American scene. When men actually elect to act the part of a live sheep rather than to risk the part of a dead lion, a return to barbarism is not far away."

and farm is now paying the penalty for the New Deal handout—WPA, AAA checks, etc. Our sons are giving their lives each day in this New Deal promoted war. More people are awakening each day to the fact that we are in a planned war. Planned, several years before "Pearl Harbor."

A meeting of AAA Committee and County Agents met in Columbus, Ohio, the latter part of April and discussed plans relative to collective farming in the United States (Russia) plan. In areas where small farms predominated, line fences would be pulled, whereby thousands of acres would be maintained if we conscientiously combine rationed and non-rationed foods.

Did it ever occur to you just why the New Deal took over so many tracts of land, consisting of thousands of acres of fine black productive soil in purely rural areas, away from labor centers and railroad facilities to build ammunition and war plants?

Don't be deceived any longer! Everything was carefully planned for collective farming by district plan when the war ends. These immense buildings, centrally located in these large tracts of land were for this very purpose.

The big pity at this time is the fact that only a few United States citizens have awakened to the blunders into which the New Deal has led us. The loss of our valiant sons in foreign countries; our business; our homes; and our farms confiscated; taxation beyond endurance; liberty and freedom gone—all of this to satisfy the New Deal collector.

The few who know the score are forced to suffer with the majority who have been led astray.
