MASTODON DISCOVERED

An article in a recent issue of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette is of double interest to the people in our community. The story is based on a discovery at Mayview, the home of Mrs. Gladys Willet Bouffard.

"The skull of a prehistoric mastodon buried for centuries in Charters Creek was unearthed at Mayview. The skull which is 38 inches long was discovered by Louis Holbeck, a patient who has a victory garden near the creek, and was dipping water for his garden when he found it. He summoned Mrs. Nell Weeks, medical librarian, who assisted in recovering it from the river bed.

It caused much excitement and nearly everyone went to see it.

Dr. Stanley Truman Brooks of Carnegie Museum, said the skull weighing nearly 100 pounds, probably was 100,000 years old. He called it a Mastodon Americanus, and was the first of its kind to be discovered in Western Pennsylvania. The skull weighs about 75 pounds. The last mastodon skull was found in Ohio four years ago.

The mastodon's teeth are six inches high."

SGT. BOB O'HERON AWARDED DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS

Sgt. Robert J. O'Heron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. O'Heron of Crestline, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for extra-ordinary service in the North African theatre of operation. The citation was awarded Sgt. O'Heron in Africa and was sent to the home of his parents here. After the usual preliminary, the citation reads as follows: "Robert J. O'Heron, (ASN 254-401690) Staff Sergeant, Crestline, Ohio. For extra-ordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight over enemy targets in the North African theatre of operations. He has completed a large number of high altitude combat missions. His ability as an aerial gunner has been proved in that he has one confirmed enemy fighter to his credit and two others damaged. On the bombing mission over Palermo, Sicily, April 18, 1943, Sergeant O'Heron received wounds from both flak and cannon fire from an enemy fighter but continued on his assigned task as waist gunner also administering first aid to another member of the crew before submitting himself to treatment. Sergeant O'Heron's great skill and courage reflect great credit on himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

By command of Lieutenant General Spaatz: E. P. Curtis, Colonel, USAAF, Chief of Staff. William W. Dick, Colonel A. G. D. Air Adjutant General. A true Extract: Joseph T. Donovan, Capt., Air Corps Operations Officer. The following letter has just been received from Sgt. O'Heron by his parents and other members of the family in Crestline. He speaks modestly of his accomplishments; and it is understood that the young Crestline soldier has now returned to his command and is again busy in the African area. The letter:

June 9, 1943 Dear Mother, Dad and All: Am having a wonderful ten-day vacation, living in a villa at rest camp. There is just eleven of us, all from my squad, staying in this villa. It's a regular summer resort and is warm during the day with a nice fresh breeze at night right off the Med. It isn't over 300 feet from us and we can sit in the back yard full of flowers, date and palm trees and look right out across and watch the waves splash. I'm afraid the food is going to spoil us. We have been eating steak,veal, ham, mashed potatoes and gravy. For recreation, there is swimming, tennis, volleyball ball, long deep sea fishing, shows, bicycles and dances. We don't even as much as have to make our own beds. Champagne is 80 francs a quart and about the only thing there is to buy out here. Everything else is free, even cigars, cigarettes, candy and gum. May be I shouldn't say free, as we have well earned it. I have six ribbons coming now. One for each of the following: African campaign, Atlantic patrol, Air medal, purple heart, one year good conduct and best of all, the Distinguished Flying Cross. I also have five oak leaf clusters to the air medal. You remember I told you I met a cousin of Mary and Charles Betz from Detroit. He was killed a record the last of April. Now that the African campaign is over, there are new mailing rules again. We can now tell of our past experiences. Mine have been plenty but at times, right from the start. We were jumped by enemy planes and shot at with 88 millimeter guns before we ever got in action. That was the day we ran out of gas and was forced to bail out. Thank heaven we were only prisoners for one night until we were able to identify and return to a French Lt. From then on we were treated like kings. We were the first Americans ever to be in this town. We stayed at a hotel and was escorted about town with the manager. We had tea in the Chapel with the mayor. It only took us five days to get to our base. From then on it was once again plenty rugged. We were bombed the second and third night we were there, but suffered very little losses. They were the first and last two raids I was ever in from the ground. I've taken part in twenty-five from the air now. They were all hard ones where the flak and fighters were both heavy and concentrated. The famous Tunis and Deserta that you read so much about were a couple of our favorite targets. We also took part in Suez, Sfax, Gabes and many more. And now that the African campaign is over, don't mean that we are through fighting. We are still driving but I can't mention targets or places outside of Africa. Hope we lick them soon. Well, I'll be here a few more days and then back to work. When I get use, I expect to find about 80 there. Don't want much do I? Must sign off now. Love, BOB. EDITOR'S NOTE—The above article was taken from the Crestline Advocate, July 8 issue. We reprint it for the benefit of Plymouth relatives and friends. He is a nephew of Ed Curpen, GH Curpen and Mrs. Minnie Watson.

A MEMO FOR HITLER LEWIS

I wonder what the doughboy thinks As he sprawls in the bloody grass Where the screaming shell, from Stuka fell, As they fought for the Kasserine pass. Thank God, he didn't go out on a strike, When the lead began to whine. Because his hours were more than eight, And he didn't draw overtime. Would he be proud of a "walk-out" That leave the assembly row; When the going's tough and there's not enough Of our bombers to cover the show? And thank God again, he didn't quit. Till the Nazi advance was checked; I'm sure he'd be proud, of a "walk-out crowd, That he lost his life to protect. Contributed by Dr. G. J. Searle

A "thank you" from the whole band via Bob Hunter in North Africa was received this week by L. Z. Davis. Learning through Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hunter that the band of which their son Bob is a member had absolutely no music and nowhere to purchase any. Mr. Davis gathered up twelve marches and forwarded them at various times to Bob. Included in the group were also a number of musicals written by Maurice Davis of Crestline, all of which were greatly appreciated not only by Bob but the entire band. Now the band "can go to town". Fred Nimmons has a bunch of exceptionally good snaphots taken in the land of camels and pyramids from his son Bob. Recently Bob needed some more films, which are exceptionally hard to get, but with the help of his two sisters and father, they finally managed to get the film to him, only to learn that the soldier who had the camera had moved on. Bob is now looking around for another soldier with the same make of camera. Bob is in the Weather Squadron and we hope that as soon as he masters a few more of the intricate details, he will have a little more control of the weather over Ohio. At least enough to hold off any more rain until the "taters" sprout enough to hold their own against washouts.

"VICTORY" WAR WORKERS HOME ERECTED IN RECORD TIME

Start of prefabricated home assembling job by inexperienced crew at 10:15 a.m.

At 11:10 a.m. the workmen had constructed the home, as shown above.

Complete installation consisting of a double-unit "Victory" War Workers Home and a single-unit "Victory" Home, ready for inspection.

BUSS Washington took time recently to witness the breaking of a home construction record with the erection in 95 minutes of a prefabricated "Victory" home by an inexperienced crew of 3 carpenters and 6 laborers under the guidance of W. E. Senkel, plant superintendent of Texas Pre-Fabricated House & Tent Co. of Dallas. Erection of the home, which is located on a lot adjacent to the Army and Navy Club on I Street, N.W., was witnessed by many government officials and other interested spectators. Later the same day, two additional units were constructed and furnished in place in the home ready for inspection by Federal housing officials, builders and the public. The complete installation consists of a double-unit "Victory" War Workers Home and a single-unit "Victory" Home. The construction crew first laid two sections of flooring on foundation blocks and fastened them together with self-interlocking wood joists. The four wall panels were quickly placed in position and secured together with bolts. The wall panels were then joined to the floor panels with lag screws set in pre-drilled holes. Next the crew placed the four roof panels in position and fastened them together by means of heavy bent strap clips angles drawn together by bolts. The wall panels also were secured to the roof panels by heavy metal bent straps. To the peak of the four roof panels they then attached a square metal collar. Finally, the ventilator was set in place on the peak and the job was finished. A complete "Victory" home suit which measures 16' x 16' for a small family includes a living room, bedroom, bath and dining. There are 14 windows in the home suit, six in the rear, four in front and two on each side.

SIX INCH SERMON

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

Lesson for July 18: Exodus 3:1-16; 4:10-17.

Golden Text: Exodus 3:12. Moses greatly needed encouragement. As long as to how his people would receive him, he asked the Lord what he should say when he was asked the name of the God who had sent him. And he was told to say I AM had sent him.

This name is very significant of God. The personal pronoun I shows that God is a person—the Supreme Person—and AM indicates his eternity. So the Eternal God was back of Moses, and this should have encouraged him to meet him and would welcome him and that, together, instructed of God, they could do the work of the Lord here.

Thus encouraged, with assurance of God's presence and power, and formed the impression that a human viewpoint was impossible, with only a trail rod to sustain the might of an ancient kingdom.

In the midst of our own difficulties in this world, the Lord's word let us hear his voice saying unto us, even as Moses heard it of his rod, that we should be obedient to what it is reader, at your command, that you can use it if he consecrated unto God?

HOPE . . . Bureaucrats

Maybe this country isn't going to the dogs after all.

That was the opinion after hearing two congressmen, one a Republican and the other a Democrat, tell about the job they are trying to do to preserve the economic system which made America great and the form of government which is being attacked all over the world.

From what I have been reading in the papers since the war started, and formed the impression that congress was so busy playing politics that the people couldn't expect something about it to project them against the growing threat of a government of the bureaucrats and the department for the bureaucrats. Congress seemed to have traded in its backbone for the votes of pressure groups.

But I have new hopes for congress now that according to Representatives Charles Halleck and Lyle Critch give new life to those rallying cries.

They are for the entrepreneur, business competition, free speech and the need for preserving our Constitution. My hopes are based on the gravity of these congressmen—but on the fact that they are actually doing something about it.

HALLECK

One of the impressive things about Mr. Halleck and Mr. Critch is that, although one is a leading Republican and the other a leading Democrat (the fact that Mr. Critch comes from Oklahoma is evidence enough that he is not a mere way on matters which are vital to the preservation of our form of government).

Mr. Halleck introduced a resolution in the house asking for an investigation of activities by war agencies and the department to be passed. Mr. Critch was named to head the committee to carry on the investigation.

Both of them wanted this investigation made—not because it would be good for them politically—but because it could help to throw back those forces which are working to substitute regimentation for freedom.

Just because two congressmen, one of the 435 in the house, happen to put their country above their political party, it is much reason to renew our faith in the national legislature. But when you listen to the words of Mr. Critch, you can't help but feel that they may herald the rebirth of a congress which will be more than the champion of the people's rights.

BACKBONE . . . Opposition

Come to think of it, there have been other signs recently to indicate that congress might be shaking off its political trachea.

It must have taken some backbone to vote for the anti-trust bill when they knew that millions of union members opposed it.

And, as I recall reports on speeches made in congress recently, the fact that the growing tide of "fed-upness" with all plans which are over-lavished with politics or for more reasons and expenditures of more billions for non-war purposes.

It may be the weather that is giving me this feeling of hopefulness about future events in congress. But I am sure the growing presidential election of 1944 intensifies too much. I think it is possible that the war with a fighting congress.

SPECIALISTS

One barrier to having harmony and understanding between all types of people in our country is the fact that we are all specialists and don't give much thought to the specialties of others.

The farmer, for example, is vitally interested in legislation and regulation which affect farming, but he is not greatly concerned over what the government is doing to help solve the problems of the laboring man or of the business man. The laborer, on the other hand, doesn't care too much what is done about the farmer so long as it doesn't raise the price of the food he buys.

This business man is interested in the problems of the farmer and the laborer to the extent that solutions to their problems affect his prices and his supplies, but in most cases he doesn't bother to analyze their difficulties from their standpoint.

All of us have our own type of problems and can't expect too much sympathy from other groups who don't understand them. But we would have a higher standard of living in this country if each of us would make a real effort to try to see the other fellow's problems through his eyes as well as our own.

THE ALLIES' NEWEST WEAPON

The fact that a radio wave "bounces" may have a lot to do with our winning the war.

That's why we are hearing so much these days about our remarkable new weapon known as Radar.

Actually Radar isn't a new discovery, but it has been perfected and put to practical use since the war started. It was first worked out, according to the Navy department, back in 1932 by an engineer named L. A. Hyland, who is now with the Bendix Aviation corporation.

Before the ill-fated dirigible Akron was lost, Mr. Hyland parked a truck-load of experimental apparatus on a Virginia farm and tested out his theory about bouncing radio waves. He shot radio waves out at the Akron, which was at sea miles away, and the waves came back to him.

Going on from there, equipment was worked out by which our navy and coast guard can now detect any airplane while it is still miles away and know the speed at which the plane is flying and the direction it is going.

Because of Radar there can be no sneak attacks on our coast or on our ships. We have the invisible weapon of radio waves working on our side, searching the skies for enemy planes and sending instant reports to our forces. Because of Radar we know that, when any kind of attack comes from the air, we can shoot first.

ADOLE the HILABALOO

By LYTLE HULL Dictatorship

In any group of people, whether it be national, political, industrial or social, where the majority is ruled without its consent by a minority—the status is that of "Dictatorship." We may call it any name we like—it is still Dictatorship. If any minority group should seize control of our government, abolish the elections and run the country without the voluntary consent of the people—that would constitute a Dictatorship. Germany is a Dictatorship because a small group called the National Socialist party runs the country and orders the lives of the majority without their spoken consent. The same applies to Italy and Russia—under different names groups—and to a number of other nations on both sides of the ocean.

Many theorists believe this to be the best and sanest form of government, on their assumption that the majority is unfit intellectually to govern itself and should therefore be taken care of by a "wise" few. But to argue this is to assume that there exists upon this earth angels of extraordinary intellect and of a strength of character sufficient to render them impervious to the deteriorating effects of too much power. No such man or woman has existed in the short period of known history and if such a person should fly down here, he could never satisfy all the people and would eventually be compelled to use the firing squad to restrain the dissatisfied and to retain his job.

The theory of government by Dictatorship has not worked out satisfactorily and that is why the world, after so many centuries, has been breaking away from it during the last few hundred years, and struggling toward government of, for and by the people.

There are many in our country who are beginning to fear that sinister forces which would like to gain dictatorial power over our lives may be able to accomplish their purpose while we are engaged in this world struggle. We went through this same fear complex during the First World War and during the Civil War; but nothing serious developed. This does not signify, however, that we should sneer at such fears or that we should ever become negligent, for we will be sure to lose our free government at some time unless we guard it at all times.

It is during periods of great stress such as war, famine, pestilence and the like, that those sleepless neurotics, who are never satisfied with any status quo, get in their ticks. Like the germs in a sick body, or the parasites on a weakened tree—these warped creatures breed and thrive at accelerated pace while the solid citizenry is occupied with the defense of the land and the home front is of necessity neglected. When the wars or famines are over the citizenry fumigates the land; but scars are left and they heal slowly. Sometimes they never heal at all and during the next convulsion the infection gains such headway that the body politic is almost destroyed, and it often takes years to bring it back to full health again.

You can find some of the results of this scheming almost anywhere you look carefully for it: it is often very subtle, it is often very insidious, it is always destructive—and by this last one can usually spot it. It may not appear to be dangerous but it is just as well to watch it, even in times of peace and contentment. It never sleeps; it is always waiting; its aim is servitude—and its name is "Dictatorship."

HERE'S ONE LETTER THAT PASSED CENSOR

Richmond, Ind.—Dale Allen Hawley, a naval aviation machinist's mate, wrote a letter describing minutely his unit's action overseas—but the censor didn't mind. His parents received a letter which said: "I'll describe our place and how we got here. After leaving where we were before we left for here, not knowing we were coming here, from there, we couldn't tell whether we had arrived here or not. Nevertheless, we now are here and not there. The weather here is just as it always is at this season. The people here are just like they look. "I had better close now, before I give you too much valuable military information." The censor added: "Amen."

JUDGE DIES

Funeral services were held at Wauson Monday for Fred H. Wolfe, 73, Fulton-co. common pleas judge since 1915, who died Friday. A native of Bluffton, Ind., he attended school in Shelby, O., became an Ohio Supreme Court stenographer in 1909 and was admitted to the bar in 1900.

NO RULE FOR THE AMOUNT OF SLEEP WE NEED

I have a letter from a young man in Indianapolis saying that he feels he is handicapped because he is able to sleep only four or five hours a night. He fears this will lower his vitality and slow him down in the race for financial rewards.

Professor Kleitman of the University of Chicago, and one of our recognized authorities on sleep, says that the amount of sleep is not so important as the quality of the sleep. In other words, it's better to sleep four hours, deep and peacefully, than eight lightly.

Two things are necessary to keep in mind. One is that sleep is much a matter of habit. Second, it depends on the person. It cools right down to this: some people need more sleep than others.

Toscanini, considered by many to be the most brilliant living conductor of orchestras, has slept on short rations all his life. He considers five hours of sleep a good night's repose. He gets up at six o'clock in the morning; twenty minutes later, he is at his piano. He has been doing this for years; in fact, he is 73 years old, and his vitality is a source of astonishment to his friends.

Charles Edison, acting secretary of the navy, who is a probable candidate for governor of New Jersey, is another hard-working man who gets along on astonishingly little sleep. Five hours is a good night's rest for him. But his father was famous for that; his father was Thomas A. Edison, the inventor.

The secret of Thomas A. Edison's ability to get along with so little sleep, was that he rested and cat-napped in the daytime. Sometimes for only a minute or two; but it was enough to relieve the strain.

Our ambassador to France, William C. Bullitt, bears a tremendous responsibility, but he is able to do it on only four hours of sleep at night. He gets up at half-past four; breakfasts at five; an hour later he is plowing into his day's work. And he is not only doing it now, while there is a war, but he has been doing it all his life. Yet he is rarely sick; and rarely complains of being tired.

"So, young-man-who-wrote-me-the-letter, don't worry if you sleep only a few hours a night.

In conclusion: if nature inclined you for a five-hours-a-night sleeper, take your quota and don't worry?

MILEAGE FOR AIR RAID WARDENS

Air raid wardens, while not eligible for "C" ration books, may continue to get "B" books, according to OPA. Volunteers regularly performing work contributing to the war effort or public welfare who need supplemental mileage should have applications certified by some authorized representative of the agency for which the work is being performed.

FUEL FOR INCUBATORS

Fuel oil for incubators, brooders, and other equipment used in raising poultry, livestock or other animals, can now be obtained regardless of the age of the equipment. OPA has recently removed these items from the list of equipment for which no fuel oil rations were previously allowed.

COAL PRODUCTION

Coal production for the first half of 1943 was an estimated 1,729,000 tons less than for the same period in 1942. Solid Fuel Administrator Harold L. Ickes has reported that the gravity of this loss of production is emphasized by the fact that the Nation will need an estimated 25,000,000 tons of coal more this year than last," he said.

MORE FERTILIZER TO BE AVAILABLE

From 5 to 10% more chemical fertilizer will be available in the year ahead according to WFA officials. It is estimated that U. S. farmers used about 10 million tons of chemical fertilizer during the 12 months beginning July 1, 1942. Although the supply of nitrogen and phosphates will be greater, potash is expected to be less plentiful.

MATERNITY CARE FOR SERVICEMEN'S WIVES

More than three-fourths of the states have received approval by the Children's Bureau, Department of Labor, of programs for medical and hospital maternity care for wives of men in the four lowest pay grades of the armed services. The programs also include medical care for babies. A serviceman's wife may also apply for complete medical care for her babies, either during pregnancy and childbirth, and for six weeks after childbirth. She may also apply for medical care for her child to extend throughout the child's first year of life. To get such care, all that the wife needs to do is to fill out simple forms, which, if her own doctor is unable to furnish copies, she can get from the State health department.

NO GAS TO GO TO GARDENS

Special rations of gasoline for travel to Victory gardens were discontinued July 15, although rations already issued for this purpose may be used as long as valid.

This action was taken by OPA upon advice of the Department of Agriculture that gardens planted after that date would be unable to produce enough food to warrant extra use of tires and gasoline in cultivating them.

CO-OPS CAN REPLACE STOCKS

Farmers' cooperatives and any other dealers who sell farm supplies at cost or at a markup of not more than three percent, are permitted to replenish stocks on farmers' certificates on a dollar-for-dollar basis, under a recent amendment of Priorities Regulation No. 19. Previously, the dealer could use the farmer's certificate to get supplies only up to 75 percent of his sales. The amendment enables farmers' cooperatives which sell approximately at cost to make full replacement of their stock.

CANT SEND RECORDINGS OVERSEAS

Dies or recordings containing personal messages cannot be sent to soldiers stationed outside the continental limits of the U. S., the War Department has announced. There is no objection to sending dies of personal messages within the continental U. S.

GROWER PRICES FOR BERRIES

Grower prices for frozen types of berries canned or frozen in 1943 have been announced by WFA. Processors will pay growers the following prices (cents per pound): red raspberries, 15; black raspberries, 18; youngberries, 18; strawberries, 18; blackberries, 12; gooseberries, 8; Celling prices for frozen strawberries have been established on the basis of a grower price of 12 cents per pound for steamed berries. For all other berries each processor will pay 3 cents per pound more than the average price he paid under the OPA price regulations for the 1942 pack. The highest processors may pay for red sour pitted cherries is 8 1/2 cents per pound.

VACATION TRIP-FOR MOTORISTS

Motorists in the Northeastern gasoline restricted area may use their "A" rations, beginning July 15, for one round trip to a summer home or other vacation place, in the absence of adequate alternative transportation. Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown has announced. Before making a trip, motorists must apply to their ration board for written authorization stating the starting point and destination of the trip and dates on which it will be made. Authorization does not give the motorist an extra ration of gasoline.

RATIONS FOR SICK

Although the need to conserve rationed foods is great, no hospital patient's health need suffer. The OPA has announced. Local rationing boards have been given authority to provide supplementary allotments to meet the dietary requirements of patients in hospitals—whether or not such patients are on special diets.

AGRICULTURAL JOBS FILLED

During May, the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission filled 1,055,499 jobs in industry and agriculture.

"western" area, rationed since December 1, 1942, has settled down to less than two-thirds of pre-war normal.

WINTER COVER CROP SEED

Large supplies of winter cover crop seeds, acquired by the government in stabilizing prices for the 1942 crop, will be released for planting this summer and fall. AAA will release about 20 million pounds of Austrian winter pea seed for sale by the CCC to dealers at $5.65 per hundredweight, F.O.B. Oregon points. Cover crops which are a soil conservation measure, increase the nitrogen in the soil when plowed under and thereby reduce the amount of fertilizer required and release nitrates needed for munitions.

MANY SHIPS LAUNCHED

The nation's shipyards delivered 168 cargo vessels totaling 1,676,500 deadweight tons in June, the Maritime Commission has announced. This may be compared with the record total of 175 for May and 157 in April. The June figures brought production for the first half of 1943 to 879 ships totaling 8,816,222 deadweight tons. In the entire year 1942 the yards produced 746 vessels totaling 8,089,732 deadweight tons.

LOCAL POULTRY PRICES

Regional Administrators of the OPA now can adjust local processors' prices for dressed poultry. Regional Administrators also have the power to change definitions of sellers and types of sales. They are not empowered to change the farmers' selling price for live poultry, however, and may not increase the selling price of poultry at retail, or to any ultimate consumer.

BANDAGE CLOTH SUPPLY ASSURED

Adequate supplies of bandage cloth, both for civilian and military use, will be available. Looms making cotton cloth suitable for bandages and other specified uses will continue to do so, by a recent WPB order.

Prices of Cabbage, Lettuce To Tumble

A roll back of 50 per cent in the price of cabbage and 25 per cent in lettuce has been ordered by the OPA to take effect July 20th. No subsidies are involved. A gang of the boys went down to Bucyrus the other evening to see Elmer Markley, who is in the hospital there. They found him in excellent spirit, and Elmer is still looking forward to a little fishing.

That Master of the Lathe, Mr. A. Hasey, thinks a lot, but not out loud. At any rate, he wishes to suggest to Van Wagner and Starkey that they may bring their boat to New Haven, where Van could do a real ferry business if it continues to rain.

Mears, Fred Buzard and Starkey were in Flat Rock, Mich the past few days doing a little experimental work on a de-airing machine.

And speaking of DE-AIRING, one of our foremost engineers in the clay division states that it may be a good thing if Congress were to purchase one to use in Washington. It would DE-AIR those Jones-Wallace arguments.

According to the boys over in the patternshop, Dominic Dorian is seriously thinking about taking up designing of men's clothes. Dominic claims to have a new idea of holding up men's trousers - kinda a three-point suspension plan.

Rumors have it that the Tractor line may go into action a little later in the year - it is hoped that we can build a fair number of Silver Kings for 1944. This is not only good news to farmers, but to the boys who make them.

You've seen Chat rushing all over the foundry in blue work shirt and pants, but you've never seen him milk a cow wearing a pair of overalls. Well, and you have missed something. Chat is Mildred Barber is down in Norfolk, Va., where she is training on the seashore. She's been spending a few days with her husband there. Incidentally, her husband is Johnny Andrews, and from what we hear he's coming to look like an "ole sail."

For every employee who has been on the pay roll of P-R-H for 25 consecutive years, I will hand out a ten cent cigar if he will report his name to this column. You twenty-five yearers have something coming, if you only knew it!

Why Hais Root isn't a railroad is more than I can understand. He reads the Railroad Magazine each month, and while I have never caught him in the act, I suspect that he stops at a crossing to see if a train is coming, and then watch it go by! Don't blame him a bit. I've often wished I could be just a flagman!

Sorry to report that our friend Coy, who has worked in the car-

VICTORY GARDEN HARVEST SHOW

At a meeting of the Richland county Victory Garden Committee on Monday, June 14, it was decided by those committed to hold a Victory Garden Harvest Show at the Mansfield farm, Saturday afternoon and evening, Sept. 11 and 12. The proceeds of the show are to be turned over to the National War Fund. In order to make this fund as large as possible, it was decided to raise the necessary funds through local firms, clubs and other voluntary organizations. The inevitable costs of running this show will include funds for prize money and various expenditures for the purpose of staging.

Everyone is eligible to enter this show and unique displays including landscaping, aquariums, models, etc. are especially invited to participate in the show. Any organization, boy or girl, scouts, clubs, church or individual, if interested in this project, are invited to contact Mrs. A. W. Bartholomew, president of the Garden club who was interviewed the past week as to the possibilities in Plymouth.

RETURNING TO THE U. S. A. - MAYBE!
After twenty-five consecutive raids during thirty-nine days of flying, Capt. Don C. Bader thinks he may soon return to the States.

Capt. Bader now pilots a Great Annihilator since his former bomber was shot down. He has received three medals, Oak Leaf Cluster, Purple Heart and the Flying Cross during the past year. He has been stationed at an unknown point in England.

Capt. Bader is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Bader of Edison, Ohio, and a nephew of Mrs. Marie Ruler Bader of Mansfield. Several years ago he resided in Plymouth and worked on the A. C. & Y. Railroad, making his home with the Ruler family.

painter shop for some time, has resigned. Too much to do on the farm, we suppose.

We regret to report that Shern Burckett had the misfortune of fracturing the thumb on his left hand on July 8. A fellow-worker, operating the hoist over in the foundry, was handling Burckett move the hooks when the hooks let go and crashed against the thumb, fracturing it.

When a side frame on a car tipped over, Pearl Soulin had the misfortune of having his right hand in the wrong place. The injury necessitated the amputation of the little finger. Soulin works on the night side in the foundry. He resides on Route 2, Norwalk.

Many of the boys were glad to see Jimmy Cline, who paid them a visit a few days ago. Jimmy is looking good, and reports everything is going along fine in Uncle Sam's army.

If those boys who are eligible and who are in the Service will take a tip, they won't be going on a "bum steer" when they get nerve enough to write Mary Forter.

This is the second of our interviews with the new girls who are now at P-R-H, and there are so many of them, I am afraid we'll have to double up in order to get them acquainted with you.

For weeks I've been rubbing my eyes and scratching my head (like an absent-minded professor) and the reason is simply this - every time I see Mary Forter, I can't make up my mind whether she's French or Irish. But since talking to her, I am right in both opinions. She has Irish, French Scotch and English in her blood.

Well, anyway, from the Irish viewpoint, she is just like what you imagine all Irish lassies to be - and the French - so charming, pleasant, and always a smile. After that description, you're on your own.

Mary went to school at Fitchville (grade), and finished up in New London High. She worked at a music and jewelry shop before coming to her present job.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Willard F. Porter of New London, and she's - old. Her birthday is Dec. 21, 1942. As for a hobby, Mary likes dancing. And when I asked if she could cook: "Why, of course, a farmer's daughter, with year's of experience in pie and cake baking, frying chicken and then watch it go by! Don't blame him a bit. I've often wished I could be just a flagman!"

Her duties at FRH are mostly in the cost department where she works on filling, checking invoices and operating the billing machine. Mary actually likes her work, and she just loves those long rows of figures.

After spending a few days in the James Root home, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Jorgenson, returned to Lakewood, Tuesday.
