Obsere Boy Scout Week Feb. 8 to 14

Boy Scouts, Air Scouts and the adult leaders of Plymouth district will join with other members of the movement throughout the United States in the celebration of Boy Scout Week which begins Tuesday, Feb. 8, and continues through Monday, Feb. 14.

Boy Scout Week marks the thirty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the movement in the United States. Some Feb. 8, 1910, more than 11,400,000 men and boys have been actively identified with Scouting. The present-day active enrollment is over 1,575,000 Scouts, Cubs and adult volunteer leaders.

The activity will be observed in every city and town in the nation and in hundreds of villages and hamlets as well.

Locally, the highlights of Boy Scout Week will include Court of Honor and Air Scout Investiture and installation of Victory Scouts scheduled for Thursday evening, Feb. 10; Theatre party, Friday evening, Feb. 11, when the group will be guests of Edward Ramsey; Scout Sunday, Feb. 13, with invitations for both morning and evening services.

Court of Honor Feb. 10. The public is cordially invited to attend the Shelby District Court of Honor at the Plymouth School House. The hour is announced for 7:30 o'clock. This is a special event of Boy Scout Week and it is expected that regional executive Perle Whitehead of Cincinnati and Area Executives Ed Gamble, Jr. and E. J. Kendrick of Mansfield and district representatives Willard Boyles, Bill Parnell of Shelby, will be present.

The local Scout organization is sponsored by the Methodist Laymen and the Air Scouts, the most recent formed branch of the organization, is under the supervision of Harry Kemp as Squadron Leader, and Messrs. L. Brown, Elton Robertson and George Herisher as troop committee men.

Scouts from Troop One to recognize the Junior Class play this evening in the school auditorium. The curtain is scheduled to rise at 8:00 p. m. promptly. Members of the class have been busy selling tickets and if you failed to get yours, it may be purchased at the door for 30c adults, and 15c for children.

The play, "Peck's Bad Boy," chosen by the class, is an hilarious comedy and has had years of successful presentations behind it. The characters are as follows: Henry Peck, Sr., Ray Bevan; Henry Peck, Jr., the bad boy, Tom Cunningham; Mrs. Hanna Peck, the bad boy's stepmother, Mae Rebo; Jimmy Duffy, the bad boy's pal, Paul Scott; Minnie, the bad boy's girl friend, Genevieve Jacobs; Lucilla Thorne, the bad boy's step-sister, Pat Betta; Clifford Jennings, in love with Lucilla, Jim Moore; Melville Goodale, an aged financier, Clifford Steele; Lizzie, maid at Peck's; Viola Keszler; Dahlia, the colored cook at Peck's; Audrey Daron, Schultz, the grocer, Gordon Sealhorn.

Scouts Mark 34th Anniversary

BOY SCOUT WEEK FEBRUARY 8-14

More than 1,600,000 Boy Scouts, Cubs and their adult volunteer leaders will observe Boy Scout Week, Feb. 8 to 14, marking the 34th anniversary of the founding of Scouting in the United States. Since 1910, more than 11,400,000 American boys and men have "creed that—It's Great to be a Scout!"

THE WEATHER

According to Jno. A. Root, official weather observer for Plymouth and vicinity, January was another very dry month, with total precipitation of only 78 hundredths of an inch, or about 25 percent of normal. For the months of November, December and January the total was only 2.81 inches—a deficiency of 5.83 inches. Snow fall for the three months was only 1.88 inches—three inches up to February 1, compared with 22.6 inches for the same period a year ago.

This a result of this drought, wheat is still in a critical condition, although it does look greener and healthier—three inches up to January than it did at the end of December. With favorable conditions during February and March, it still may come through with a good crop, so essential to the nation and our allies during this critical year.

January was also a very mild month, almost Spring-like the last few days. The summary follows:

Temperatures
Highest for the month 64,	date 26
Lowest one year ago 59,	date 15
Lowest for the month 8,	date 13

O. E. S. Church Sunday To Be Held On Feb. 6

All members of Plymouth chapter, O. E. S., are to attend services on Sunday, Feb. 6th, at the Presbyterian church at 11:00 a. m. They are requested to go directly to the church and seats will be reserved for them.

This custom, which is statewide, should have a special significance to all Eastern Stars in these troubled times, and every member should plan to attend church next Sunday.

Regular meeting of the regular meeting for Plymouth Chapter, O. E. S., will be held next Tuesday evening in the chapter rooms.

WORK AT DEPOT
Miss Stella Amburge and Mrs. Glendora West Langrage are among the new workers at the Parcel Air Depot.

NEW TENANTS
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Loo have rented the Van Loo property on Park avenue, now occupied by Mrs. Mabel McFadden, to Mr. Witt, who will move to that property on that street.

Mrs. Charles Curran was removed Saturday afternoon in the Miller-McQuate ambulance from the Mansfield City hospital to her home on Plymouth street.

Bert S. Ford Dies Suddenly

SERVICES HELD ON TUESDAY AFTERNOON FOR WELL-KNOWN RESIDENT.

Although in failing health for several years, death came quickly and unexpectedly to Bert S. Ford at the family home on West Broadway, Saturday evening at 10:45 o'clock. Mr. Ford, for the past week had felt better than usual and only Saturday afternoon had been next door talking to the neighbors.

Coming here from Adario more than ten years ago, Mr. Ford won for himself many friends and acquaintances who will greatly miss him.

The deceased was born in Adario, Oct. 1, 1885, the son of Elias and Mary Ford and was 78 years, 3 months and 10 days of age at the time of death.

Surviving with his widow, Sarah, are a daughter, Mrs. Carl Paine of Shelby, and four sons, Donald of Plymouth, Paul of Nassik, Kenneth of Shelby, and Robert of Colorado Springs, Colo. Also two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Hart of Wooster, and Mrs. Lula Redstrom of Berlin Santa Rosa, Calif., as well as 14 grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at the Adario church by Rev. E. R. Haines, pastor of the local church, officiating, assisted by Rev. E. G. Corwin of Mansfield. Burial was made in Adario cemetery.

Sister Dies

MRS. GEORGE DAWSON DIES SUDDENLY AT HER HOME.

Mrs. Minerva Post Dawson, 77, widow of Post Dawson and a life-long resident of Huron county, died suddenly at her home west of Willard, Monday.

Survivors include five daughters, Miss Alta Dawson at home, Mrs. Guy Curney New Haven, Mrs. Jesse Boncutter, Shelby, and Mrs. Ralph Hitchco, Tuson, Ariz. Two brothers, Clayton and Emory Post, both of Collins; 13 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday afternoon at the Willard United Brethren Church, the Rev. Floyd Brainerd officiating. Burial will be made in the New Haven cemetery.

FOURTH WAR BOND DRIVE IS NOW ON

If you are waiting for the committee to call on you, you are going to be fooled, for this time, Plymouth and New Haven are going to be going for it on their own and put this 4th War Loan Drive across without any need for solicitation by a War Bond Committee.

We all know about the necessity of this campaign, so let everyone do our duty and march up to the Bank or Post office nearest you. We don't have to be solicited—we can do it ourselves.

J. E. Nimmons, Chairman.

IF THE Russians keep up their speed, a second invasion won't be necessary.

TO VOTE or not to vote—that is the question the Service boys are worried about, and also Congress.

VON SMITH'S theme song should be "I'm Neither Old nor Young." Von came down with a severe case of old-fashioned measles the past week, and for all the world he looked as though he had been spotted with that good old Silver King Tractor Red Paint!

COUNCIL had a short session on Tuesday night—not nothing important, but they met again Monday evening to take up matters pertaining to the town's welfare.

THE LOCAL SCOUTS face a serious situation. They will have to soon vacate their Scout rooms. It seems that the Park Board may grant them the privilege of constructing a permanent Scout cabin on the Park grounds.

IT seems that there are 20 men in Plymouth who will chip in $10 each for the building of such a cabin.

SCOUTING in Plymouth has meant more to the local boys than any other organization. It has been a great movement and it is earnestly hoped that we will be civic-minded enough to raise $200 for a suitable building. Think it over, and if you are interested, stop in and let me know how you feel about it.

BONDS are on sale at the local post office and at the Peoples National Bank. If you want to take a crack at a pop stop in the Peoples National Bank for a bond—it's just like shootin' a gun—but there's no danger of your getting hit by return fire!

SOME people worry over nothing and some people just worry.

SAW some boys shootin' marbles the other day. Another reminder of Spring—even with a little flurry of snow falling!

Battle Courage

Capt. De Foney, U.S.N.

(WNU Feature—Through special arrangement with The American Magazine.)

One of the first things to understand about military courage is that you cannot apply a yardstick to it in advance of action. Human fortitude cannot be measured like the tensile strength of a bar of steel. Only battle can write the answers. Often as not, a lion turns out to be a lamb in combat, or a lamb a lion.

For several months I served on one of the biggest aircraft carriers in the Pacific. On this ship was a downy-faced, year-old kid whom we called Babe. He was a timid, introspective sort of boy who read books in his bunk at night, stammered when you spoke to him, and while he was a member of a 50-caliber gun crew, he appeared to be just about everything a fighting man shouldn't be.

Then, one auring morning, we were attacked by enemy dive-bombers. Down they came, peeling off one by one and lancing straight at the carrier. We had fighters up, and our heavy antiaircraft slammed at the Japs like a hundred doors, but the kids back of the long file of 50-calibers just waited. During long, desperate seconds they simply had to stand and take it.

I was watching Babe anxiously. He looked sick with fear. I wouldn't have been surprised to see him collapse at this point.

But he didn't collapse. As the bombers screamed into range and the 50-calibers blazed into action, the scared kid suddenly became a man—a cool, efficient, and entirely dead-by man. He never faltered for an instant in the performance of his duties.

Wartime Emotions.
When the attack was beaten off, Babe was transformed. His face was flushed, his eyes bright, and he carried up and down on deck in a kind of unholly ecstasy. "We got one of 'em," he shouted jubilantly.

That illustrates a point which many strengtheners do not understand about war. It was largely discipline and training, of course, which enabled Babe and his comrades to stand during the terrible seconds when the Japs dove straight at them, but, once they were able to strike back, they were momentarily strengthened by an emotion which old-time writers used to refer to as "the fierce joy of battle."

There comes a time, however, when the mental and nervous fatigue which results from constant risk-taking can, if continued long enough, sap the fortitude of the bravest.

The case of Johnny Allen was like that. Rator-keen, spunky, a blue-eyed kid with a triangle of ginger hair on his forehead, Johnny had everything a fighter pilot needs. There wasn't anything in the air he was afraid of, and on the ground he was invariably good-natured, happy-go-lucky, always up to some amusing deviltry.

After his arrival in the Solomons, Johnny went on hazardous operational missions day after day. Often he would be in combat two or three times in 24 hours.

After a few weeks of this, Johnny's personality underwent a marked change. In an airplane he seemed just as daring as ever, but he stopped enjoying life. Instead of horsing around with fellow pilots after a flight he would go off in a corner and read. He grouched a lot. One night he flew into a rage and took a poke at his best friend merely because he scattered some equipment on his cot.

Rest Cure.
The squadron's flight surgeon had a quiet talk with Johnny. He broke down and bawled in the middle of it. The flight surgeon knew the symptoms. What really ailed Johnny was fatigue. He wouldn't admit it even to himself, but his nerve was gone. The surgeon sent him back to a hospital for rest, followed by leave.

When he returned to the squadron he was himself again, as brave and cheerful as ever, but if the doctor had not acted promptly Johnny might have suffered a nervous crack-up which would have cost his life, and possibly those of some of the men who flew with him.

Modern Improvements.
In the amphibious warfare of the Pacific, one of the chief dangers to a flier is that of running out of gasoline and being forced down at sea or over jungle, and, in the first months after Pearl Harbor, many a kid lay awake at night thinking about these hazards. Today they worry less about them. They have been taught how to survive in the jungle, and they know that they have out of 10 chances of being rescued if they are forced down at sea in the vicinity of the group of islands where fighting is now going on.

PATTERNS SEWING CIRCLE

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1918 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22 and 24. Corresponding bust measurements 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 12 requires 2 1/2 yards of material. Size 24 requires, with short sleeves, 4 1/2 yards 28-inch material.

Due to an unusually large demand and current war conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers.

If you, too, are disappointed with pills and purgatives, be sure to read this uncollected letter!

"For several years I was afflicted with chronic constipation. I tried various cathartics, but got only temporary relief. Finally, I started eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN each morning. Drinking water freely throughout the day, I have now never had the slightest trouble with constipation. I attribute this to KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Dr. H. M. Miller, B. S., has written me that he is a Scientist says KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really "get at" a common cause of constipation—lack of sufficient "cellulosic" elements in the diet—because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elemental! They work by helping the friendly colonic flora to pull up and prepare the colon's wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. Doesn't "weep you out!" It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food.

If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you, too, don't cheer it welcome relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

ILLNESS CAUSES SCHOOL TO CLOSE

The community is experiencing its greatest flu, grip and measles epidemic since World War I.

Several serious cases of measles have been reported. Forty per cent of the pupils in the first six grades were absent on Monday morning, and twenty per cent in the six higher grades. Due to the high rate of absenteeism the school was dismissed on Monday for the week.

The two basketball games that were scheduled this week with Greenwich and New Haven have been postponed.

Teachers returning to their homes were Mrs. Edith Huston to Belmont, Misses Ava Pettit and Ruby Smith, Trio, and Miss Jean Mayne to Westerville.

HEALTH IMPROVING
Mrs. E. C. Renner was taken to the home last week at the Willard hospital, and she is now improving nicely.

PREACHING SERVICE
Supt. W. H. Milley conducted the services at the Grove church of the Brethren, near Ashland, on Sunday.

PURCHASED LOT
Walter Stirling has purchased a lot of Mrs. Ethel Smith near his feed mill.

ATTEND FUNERAL
Mr. and Mrs. I. L. McQuate attended the funeral services of Albert Pearce at Wellington Sunday. Mr. Pearce was the father of Mrs. E. L. Sharp.

WILL CHANGE HOMES
Mr. and Mrs. John Swartz are preparing to move into the family home, and George and his family will move from town to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Swartz.

SEEK INSTRUCTION
H. B. Paine and Stanley Huston attended a meeting of the Ashland County Jersey Cattle Club held Thursday evening at the Marshall Whittington homes in New London.

A MONTH OF SUCCESS
Rev. and Mrs. Thomas C. Henderson closed a successful series of meetings at the Ganges church last Sunday evening.

The Ganges community appreciated the work of these two worthy people, and their personal contact added new interest for the church.

AT FARMERS INSTITUTE
W. H. Koenderfer attended the Farmers Institute at Weller High school on Sunday.

AMBULANCE TRIPS
Mrs. Eldon Fair and baby were removed from the Mansfield hospital to their home at Adario in the McQuate ambulance Saturday.

The mother of Roy Baird was taken to his home some two towns from the ambulance from the Willard hospital, Saturday.

NEW BUSINESS PLACE
Frank Seaman, who has operated the East Side Meat Market in Shelby many years, is moving his market to this place this week.

We welcome Mr. Seaman and wish him the best in his new home. He will make his home here as soon as he can find a suitable property.

EARLY SPRING SIGNS
Reports of early Spring surprises, in flowers and trees, have often been given, but this year a pathetic story surpasses many previous ones. A farmer says that last week while working in the woods home he saw a yellow-crowned night heron, a new bird to the newly cut wood. Large yellow butterflies and the summer caterpillars were out to see if summer was here, or had they overslept. According to a tradition the ground hog will be the deciding factor.

Boy Scout News

Sid Thomas has completed the necessary requirements to qualify as an Eagle Scout. This is the highest rank in Scouting and we are proud of his accomplishment. Sid has been a member of Troop One for over five years and he received his First Class badge at the last Area Court. He was commissioned as a Junior Assistant Scoutmaster in June of 1942 and has served in that capacity since. His main duties consist of the instruction and interpretation of First Aid, H. O. on the Board of Review. He is a member of the Explorer Patrol having qualified for First Honor, and holds the specialization awards for Scout Citizen and Scout Woodsman.

Kenneth Echeberry has qualified for his badge at the district Court of Honor, Feb. 10.

Many people were puzzled by the manner in which our paper pick-up was conducted last Saturday. A word of explanation.

We are suffering from the same disease that every other organization in this county is suffering from. We have only one Scout available on Saturdays to cover the entire county. He is picked up by the counties. This month, on Saturday, Feb. 18th, we will cover Richland county and Plymouth. In March, we will again call at homes in Huron county.

It is hoped that local citizens realize the seriousness of this paper shortage and make every effort to save all paper, magazines and newspapers. We will do our part in picking it up and disposing of it through the proper channels.

Scouts attending the Troop Committee meeting Sunday included L. E. Brown, L. H. Moffat, George Hersher, H. J. Root, W. C. Ross and D. W. Eisel, Jr.

Board members were Brown, Moffat, Wirth and Thomas.

Miss Adriana Jane Fransens daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Fransens of Plymouth Hurk, was one of the twenty-five nurses of the Mansfield General hospital, who received their "cap" on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 30.

Miss Fransens is a graduate of Plymouth High school, class of 43.

ESCAPES INJURY
Leon Lash of Tiro, escaped injuries in an auto accident which occurred last Wednesday afternoon as he was returning home from the J. C. Johnston sale a few miles south-west of Plymouth. His car collided with one driven by Mrs. Frank Kenestrick near Plymouth. Mr. Lash was alone.

FREE SPEECH HOLDS US TOGETHER
THROUGHOUT our more than 150 years as a nation we Americans have constituted an ever-growing family. Not always a happy family but always with a family spirit that would brook no outside interference in our inner family quarrels. We fight among ourselves, get into each other's hair, kick each other on the shins, until a third party attempts to step into the picture on the side of either contending faction, when, as a family, we forget our petty disagreements and unitedly turn on the intruder.

The keynote in our structure of government is our right of free speech. With that right we lambast, to our heart's content, the acts of those who have failed to govern us. We divide into family factions of those who approve and those who disapprove. We exercise our family rights of criticism and our differences are represented by parties between which we divide. Our arguments and fights are a family privilege. They are a family right. They will continue so long as our Bill of Rights continues.

So long as these internal arguments and lambasting criticisms represent what each faction believes to be for the best interest of the family as a whole, the family will continue to live and the nation will prosper. If either major faction forgets the interests of the whole and centers on the advancement of a minority in the family, when the other is a farmer, or the worker, or the representatives of wealth, or any other minor faction of the family, is produced at the expense of the family as a whole, the family will disintegrate and die.

It was such disintegration caused by the promotion of the interests of minority factions at the expense of the whole that so weakened France and caused the French family to fall an easy prey to the Germans. The French family has not yet united against the common enemy. In the face of peril to the whole it insists on continuing its family quarrels. Each faction of the family persists in putting its petty interests above the interests of the whole. Should that continue it will mean the end of the French family. Should the same thing happen in America, should any one, or more, of the minority factions of the family persist in putting their family interests above the interests of the whole, the American family will disintegrate and die. We can not compare ourselves over ways and means of promoting the common good but, if we are to live, we cannot promote the selfish interests of minorities in the American family at the expense of the whole.

STOP SPENDING LEAKS RIGHT AWAY

ALONG IN 1917 and '18 we walked at the terrific cost of war and wondered how we could pay the war bills. We sent our money to the waste and after the fighting was over congress investigated. That investigation demonstrated that, to the extent, our money was not justified. There had been waste, inexcusable waste.

World War I, from the time we entered it until June 30, 1921, 2 1/2 years after the fighting ceased, cost us now seemingly insignificant sum of $25,729,000,000. That, in reality, was but a bit of pocket change.

In the present conflict we are spending real folding money. We have been engaged in it for about two years, and have expended as reported by the treasury department, up to August 1 of 1943, the enormous sum of $110,653,000,000, with an additional $40 billion paid out by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which we also pay. To all of that congress has added appropriations of well over 100 billion more that is now in the hands of the spending agencies.

In the expenditure of such vast sums, there is bound to be some waste. It would be well to find the leaks now, and stop them, rather than wait until it is all over, as in World War I. Waiting until it is all over, a 10 per cent leak would mean a loss of a sum equal to the increased taxes the treasury asked. It would take less effort to find and stop the leaks than to induce John Q. Public to dig down into his pockets for another 10 or more billions of taxes. It would also be more appreciated by the voters at the elections of 1944. That was an inducement to congress.

BUYING WAR BONDS DEMONSTRATES OUR FAITH IN THE FUTURE OF AMERICA.

WAR CONDITIONS have stopped much of the winter migrations of the Pas and Mas of the northern states to favorite vacation spots in the South and West. The armed services or war industries have taken the Johns and Wills of the farms, and the Pas, regardless of the hard labor of the summer and fall, must keep the farm fires burning and the livestock fed through the winter months. Willingly they lay their vacations on the nation's altar of sacrifice that the Pas and the Wills may be satisfied.

SPORTS SHORTS

WEVE Ferrell, former big league pitcher, won starts of both first and second places in the pro-amateur golf tourney at Pinehurst, N. C. He paired with one pro to win the first and had teamed very closely to take second.

Baltimore has 400 amateur baseball teams this winter.

News from Cleveland says my main regret is that I was forced by circumstances to quit the ring before I reached the peak of my boxing career.

Meat and Sugar

Many newcomers will be included among postwar fishermen and hunters. Millions of servicemen have learned to live out of doors and, despite the horrors of war, a large percentage of them have learned more about nature than they would have during peacetime. When they return they will give more attention to activities which take them outdoors. That means hunting and fishing, camping, hiking and canoeing.

For the most part, state conservation groups will do everything possible to take care of existing natural resources, but these officials need the active cooperation of every man interested in wild life.

True cooperation can come only with an increased appreciation for our resources and less wholesale despoiling of them.

Kaffir Grain is Substitute For Corn or Barley Feed

Kaffir grain or milo is another energy food belonging to the sorghum family, which can be used to replace either corn or barley in the dairy ration. Kaffir grain contains more fat than barley and more protein than corn.

Butterfat can be used to a limited extent. Although it is high in starch and somewhat unpalatable to dairy cattle, it is a valuable top-dressing and a good source of energy.

SMALL SOYBEAN MILLS INCREASE IN MIDWEST
Local Plants Save Long Freight Haul

Small Soybean Mills Increase in Midwest

Local Plants Save Long Freight Haul

Small soybean processing mills, big enough to handle the beans grown within a radius of five to ten miles, are being built in many parts of the Middle West. Many are owned by farmer-cooperatives.

In Iowa a recent survey showed that mills are being constructed in 16 communities with several more in the planning stage. Some will be operated in conjunction with country elevators, others as independent enterprises. Eight of these sixteen will be cooperatively owned.

A new solvent process, simple, safe and cheap, has been developed by Dr. O. R. Sweeney, Iowa State college chemist, which he says is suited to small processing.

The solvent process, which uses a dangerously explosive, so only large factories that can employ the most skilled operators now use it. The hydraulic press method, used by most plants, requires heavy capital outlay.

Small Mills Can Succeed.

But the small local mills, extracting oil by the new process and employing the neighboring farmers during the off-season in the fall and winter, can compete with the big mills by their lower costs, and saving in handling. Another advantage during this war period when feed is scarce is that farmers can get soybean meal easily from their local mill. As it is now, many stock raisers find it difficult to get back even the meal from their own beans because of freight congestion. It is reported that soybean mills in the northern states are sent to cottonseed plants in the south, or other distant point, from which it is difficult to get any meal back.

Postwar prospects for soybean products are giving rise to much anxious debate. Such questions as "What will happen to soybean acreage, now reaching nearly 12 million acres, after the war? How will trade with Manchuria, a surplus soybean growing area, affect the price in the U. S.?" How will soybean stockpiles compete with cheap palm oil and coconut oil from the East Indies and the Philippines? Will there be too many little and big mills built in the U. S. to handle the "refuge volume"? These questions are bothering both soybean growers and mill operators.

Different Opinions.

Edward J. Dies, president of the National Soybean Processors Association, Chicago, is quoted as saying that the big processors can operate more economically, and that the fellows will be squeezed out when the going gets tough. But down in the country, there are different opinions.

W. E. Simonson and his family have a country soybean processing mill at Quincy, Iowa, where they grind and make 30 to 40 tons of soybean oilmeal and 10,000 pounds of oil a day. Ever since 1937 the mill has made a profit. Farmers come with their beans and take back the pressed-out bean meal. The oil is shipped to the big terminal refineries.

Simonson admits that too many small mills may be built—just as creameries were overbuilt a few years ago.

"But," he added, "the small mills that survive will be able to outbid the big outfits. Why? Because our advantage is in saving freight, in lower buying and selling costs, in lower taxes, in lower labor costs. As the price of oil goes down, these savings will become more important, not less."

NO! You can't see Inoculating Bacteria

You can't see legume bacteria without a powerful microscope. If you could, you wouldn't know whether they were good bacteria or bad. There is one sure way to get plenty of effective inoculation... just ask for NITRAGIN when you buy. NITRAGIN is the oldest most widely used inoculant. For 45 years farmers have used it to get bigger yields of alfalfa, clover, soybeans, and to build soil fertility. It costs only a few cents an acre; but frequently boosts yields up to 50% and more. It pays to inoculate every planting of legumes. Get NITRAGIN where you buy your seed. Look for the yellow can.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

A Wisconsin truck driver recently received a tribute from the Office of the Rubber Director because he risked his life to save the tires on the trailer of a tractor-trailer unit he was driving. The trailer caught fire, but the driver jacked it up and removed the tires while it was ablaze.

The far-reaching influence of the rubber situation will be appreciated when it is known that close to 40% of the motor vehicles were made in this country were still in service in December, 1941. More than half of them were owned by families with incomes of less than $30 a week.

Receives Citation
The first intimation that their son had been cited for bravery during the Battle of Midway was the grouping taken from a San Diego (Calif) newspaper by their daughter-in-law and sent to Mr. and Mrs. Ross Failor, of West High street.

In addition to the article a very splendid picture showed Aviation Chief of Machinery, Mate L. O. Failor receiving the Presidential Unit citation ribbon from Rear Admiral A. A. Minkler, for service in a Torpedo Squadron that was virtually wiped out in helping to turn back the Japanese in the Battle of Midway.

Exercises for the presentation of the award to Chief Failor along with other members, was held at the Navy Chapel, San Diego, Calif., the week of Jan. 16. Chief Failor has eighteen years of service in the Navy and during the present war has seen plenty of action at Guadalcanal, the Coral Sea, Tulagi and Midway. Besides these engagements he was a member of the crew of the aircraft carrier U. S. Hornet from which Maj. Gen. "Jimmy" Doolittle and his fliers took off to bomb Tokyo.

He and his wife reside at 3810 Forty-third St., San Diego, and visited the former patients in Plymouth over a year ago.

THREE'S A CROWD - SO HE LEFT BEHIND HIS SIAMSE.
TWIN BRIDE
Read in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (February 6) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times... how the Siamese twins shared poverty, wealth, grief and happiness, but they ran up against trouble when it came to romance. Although one twin has been happily married for 8 years, her sister never got beyond the honeymoon stage. Get Sunday's Detroit Times.

NORTHERN OHIO PHONE CO. GIVEN NEW TARIFFS
The State Public Utilities Commission has authorized the Northern Ohio Telephone Co. to file new tariffs for Willard, Adia, Greenwich, New Washington and Plymouth "to modernize and standardize" local tariffs.
The chief effect of the ruling, the BUC said, would be to permit the company to establish five party instead of four-party lines at the same rates because of wartime material shortages.
